

Chapter 2431

In under a minute, all thirty-four gold level personnel stayed.

As for whether they yearned for Dragon Palace's status and salary, or they actually thought that Yoana Mendoza was not going to remain in position for long, was still unknown.

Yoana squinted at those people before issuing a new rule for the branch, indifferently.

According to law, insurgents would be killed without warning.

In Yoana's eyes, there would be no attachments between people here. Next, she would improve the rules and regulations in Dragon Palace's Hong Kong and Las Vegas branches. Anyone who crossed the line would be looking for their deaths.

The gold level personnel felt immense pressure then. In their eyes, Yoana was really hard to deal with...

But they still believed that without all of Dragon Palace's support, the branch would not survive for long on its own.

They figured that Yoana would probably beg Dragon Palace to reclaim the place back in a month's time...

Yoana wasted no time transferring the human resources she had to specific important positions, disrupting the original power structure.

Then, she started to refine and sort out the rules and regulations of the branch, ensuring a smooth operation under any circumstance.

From ten o'clock in the morning to eight o'clock at night, Yoana was finally done with everything in Dragon Palace's branch.

One of her subordinates brought two bowls of Hong Kong's special pork chop rice as an invitation for Harvey York to join for dinner.

"What a waste for you to stay as some second-in-command for a small police station previously, Helm Mendoza!"

Harvey showed admiration as he picked up his utensils.

He was impressed by what Yoana could do, and he was pretty glad about how things turned out at that moment. With Yoana, Harvey could use the opportunity to take control of the entirety of Dragon Palace and make a dent in Vince York's plans.

Since Vince wanted Harvey dead, Harvey did not mind to set the ball rolling to screw with him first.

Harvey wasted no time and calmly spoke while staring at the back of Taiping Mountain.

“You should know what to do after reforming the Dragon Palace’s branch, right?”

Yoana’s eyes lit up slightly.

“Keep an eye on the Yorks from Hong Kong, especially Vince. As for how we shall proceed, I’ll leave that up to you,” replied Yoana quietly.

Harvey chuckled.

“You don’t need me to tell you that. If there’s a chance, deal with Vince once and for all.”

Yoana’s pupils shrunk after hearing those words before shaking her head.

“It’s not as straightforward as you think, Sir York.

“Not only is Vince the new God of War of Dragon

Palace, but he's also the invincible Chief Instructor of Sword Camp, who has never lost a single battle ever.

"There are even rumors saying that he'll be appointed as the Chief Instructor of the nine strongest military forces in Country H!

"It shouldn't be a problem for a small organization like the Dragon Palace's branch to keep an eye on him, but there's almost no chance for us even to take action against him.

"Right now, he has almost all of the top talents of the younger generation in Hong Kong and Las Vegas under his wing. He's also the young lord of the Yorks. It would be easy for him to mobilize things with his family's influence.

"If you're planning to do anything toward Vince with just the Dragon Palace's branch, you're being a little too optimistic, Sir York."

Harvey chuckled.

“Just do as I say. You’ll find a chance soon enough.

“Besides, if Vince doesn’t die, you won’t be able to keep your position for long.

“After all, we stole a piece of meat from his plate and a very important piece at that.”

<https://t.me/HarveyYorkEnglish>

Chapter 2432

Harvey York's indifferent reply made Yoana Mendoza take a deep breath.

She knew full well of the consequences of her taking position.

Other than offending the whole of Dragon Palace, she basically declared war against the number one top talent of Hong Kong and Las Vegas.

She would have to pay a great price if she planned to keep her position.

Without this opportunity, Yoana would have kept going down her original path...

If that were the case, she would have no chance to rise as a distinguished character in the upper social circle in Hong Kong and Las Vegas. The Mendoza family would have stayed as an ordinary first-rate family.

When a person or a family wants something, there will always be a price to pay...

After seeing a slight change in Yoana's expression, Harvey thought about the situation and said, "Of course, the Dragon Palace's branch and the Mendoza family alone wouldn't be enough to topple the foundations of Hong Kong and Las Vegas.

"I'll figure out a way to get the King of Gambling on my side..."

Yoana froze slightly in place. She was utterly shocked by Harvey's plan. She hesitated a little and then quietly replied, "The King of Gambling is a scheming man. He's unpredictable, and he's also pretty well-known for being a sly fox...

"You'd be fooled if you even believe a single word he says.

“It’s best that you be careful being around him.

“I heard of the incident of you and the King of Gambling attacked by the Three Demon Monks this morning.

“But in my eyes, this doesn’t look like a coincidence at all to me.

“Maybe the King of Gambling has been trying to test your skills. On the other hand, he’s trying to find a chance to bury the hatchet with you.”

“I figured as much,” replied Harvey calmly.

“Then why...?”

Yoana was confused.

Harvey smiled.

“He’s the King of Gambling, after all. If he wants to stand on my side, he’d at least get a better excuse, right?

“Now that I’ve given him an excuse and shown him the way out, it’s solely up to him what he does next.”

Yoana pondered about the situation and asked, “So, about the Hamilton Residence...”

“That’s most probably real. There’s no way it’s fake.”

Harvey cut Yoana off immediately.

“If Fabian Hamilton can’t make up his mind within three days, the entire residence will fall!”

Yoana slightly nodded before squinting at Harvey.

“Sir York, please be careful when you come in contact with Fabian! Please don’t let anything happen to yourself!

“If you’re forced to leave Hong Kong and Las Vegas, my family will be doomed without your support!”

“You know quite a lot. You’re also a lot smarter than I imagined.”

Harvey chuckled.

“Don’t worry. I’ll do my best to stay here.

“Another thing. Tell your father to offer Edwin Mendoza your previous position. That position’s really important as well.”

Bang!

Right when Harvey and Yoana were having a fun time chatting, someone barged into the room with a frightened look on her face.

“How dare you?!”

Yoana stood up furiously with a cold expression on her face.

“If you can’t give me a proper explanation about this, you'll be the first to disobey the rules!"

"You know full well of the consequences."

Yoana's tone was as cold as ice, frantically changing the expression of the woman who just barged in.

"Something's wrong, Helm!" replied the woman swiftly.

"Purple Sparrow was working undercover as a bunny girl in one of our bars. She was trailing some Islanders, but she ended up taken hostage!

"You have to save her, Helm!"

Chapter 2433

Harvey York squinted slightly after hearing the name. He felt that it might be someone's scheme.

Yoana Mendoza coldly replied, "Why'd you even look for me for such a small matter?"

"There are so many people in Dragon Palace's branch. There's gold level personnel in charge of this sort of thing. Just get them to do the job!"

The woman was anxious.

"I can't, Helm Mendoza! Those Islanders have extraordinary status. They're from the Shinkage Way..."

"Shinkage Way is one of the Six Schools of Martial Arts in the Island Nations. They're equally renowned compared to the Shindan Way!"

“With our current strength, we’re no match for the Shinkage Way!

“We can’t afford to offend them. That’s why we need your help to see if they’re willing to pay us some respect, Helm Mendoza.”

The woman observed Yoana’s actions as she frantically spoke, as if she wanted to see Yoana’s reactions.

Harvey chuckled wordlessly. He wanted to see how Yoana would deal with the situation.

If he guessed correctly, this was the first trap those gold level personnel laid for Yoana.

If she couldn’t even fix something this trivial, her position as helm would be swiftly taken away.

“Let the patrol team do their job. If anything happens, I’ll take responsibility.”

“There’s something you don’t know, Helm Mendoza. Just tonight, the eight experts have already resigned along with White Horse!

“Only bronze and iron level personnel are left. They’re pretty commendable, but there’s no way they could face the Shinkage Way alone!

“The patrol team felt completely helpless. That’s why they asked me to see you! Please, Helm Mendoza!”

The woman kneeled immediately after, out of fear of Yoana lashing out at her.

“So, this is my first test...”

Yoana coldly chuckled before standing up.

“Well then, I do want to see how hard of a test this is...”

After seeing Yoana walk outside, Harvey followed close behind.

Even though Yoana had a dozen bodyguards from the Mendoza family with her, the Shinkage Way name was enough to make Harvey cautious.

He felt that things were not as straightforward as they seemed...

Nine o'clock at night, at the Lan Kwai Fong's Fuji Bar.

When Harvey and Yoana arrived, the bar's Kyoto Box entrance was surrounded by some staff.

The boss of the bar was also a spy planted by the Dragon Palace's branch. He was an iron level personnel, one with the lowest status.

He was showing a horrible expression while looking at some Islanders blocking the entrance of the Kyoto Box.

“No! Let go of me!

“This is Hong Kong! There are laws here! You can’t do this!

“We’ll call the cops if you continue!”

A woman’s cry could constantly be heard from inside the box, with some Islander men chuckling and singing.

Sounds of slapping and clothes tearing could also be heard. Anyone could guess what happened there...

But the boss of the bar or the foreign bodyguards he hired would not even dare help the woman at that very moment...

Other than the Islander swordsmen blocking the path, the people from Shinkage Way were not to be trifled with.

After seeing the newly appointed helm show up with Harvey and the others, the boss of the bar walked forward and bowed.

“Helm Mendoza.”

<https://t.me/HarveyYorkEnglish>

Chapter 2434

“Filth!”

Yoana Mendoza let out a cold scoff before pulling out an exquisite firearm from her long boots and walking inside the Kyoto Box.

“Fool!

“Who’s there?! How dare you come close?!”

“Don’t you know that our master’s playing with a beautiful young woman?!”

“Well, this woman’s quite the beauty too. Wanna play with us?”

The Island swordsmen raised their heads to look at Yoana. They were filled with rage at first, but glee took over soon after, as if Yoana’s beautiful face enchanted them.

Bang bang bang!

Yoana could not be bothered to talk any longer and immediately pulled the trigger. The Islander swordsmen, who were showing wretched smiles on their faces, fell flat on the ground while covering the wounds on their legs.

The crowd was frantically twitching their eyes.

People from the Dragon Palace's branch, the Yorks from Hong Kong, the Briewood Gang, and even Hong Kong and Las Vegas Police Station.

All of them showed up here to see how Yoana would handle the situation.

But nobody expected that Yoana would be this fierce and bloodthirsty. She came here without showing a sliver of respect toward anyone at all.

Bang!

Yoana took action and kicked down the elegant door. Under the sight of the frightened crowd, she walked toward the Islander who was pressing Purple Sparrow down and kicked him down before swinging her palm.

Slap!

The Islander did not have time to defend himself and was immediately sent flying.

Yoana was indifferent and took her jacket off, then covered up Purple Sparrow's exposed body, whose clothes were ripped entirely to shreds. Then, she wiped her palm with some tissue and said, "Get your boss out here."

The crowd was utterly shocked. Everyone became sluggish.

Countless eyes were focused on Yoana.

Nobody thought that she would take action this way without the slightest hesitation.

The injured Islanders were proof enough that she was fearless...

But seeing that the Islander, who clearly had an extraordinary identity, was also sent flying by her. It was enough to prove that she had a domineering and reckless way of doing things.

The inspectors lurking around every corner all had the same conclusion. They would not even dare to provoke this woman, no matter what.

‘This woman is big trouble!’

Even people from Dragon Palace’s branch wanted to show their strength in front of Yoana, but they were all completely dumfounded by what they saw.

They were completely impressed by this woman’s actions.

Harvey York could not help but show admiration at the moment.

‘This woman’s pretty decisive. She knows exactly what to do and when.’

If she were to give in on such a crucial moment, her hard-fought reputation would have crumbled in a second.

Only by dominating her first obstacle would Yoana be able to establish her authority.

Clap clap clap!

“Interesting. Interesting...”

The box doors slid open before audible claps could be heard from outside.

Someone with an Islander accent could be heard at the same time.

“What’s that saying in your country?”

“Women are not inferior to any man. It sure seems that way right now.

“Helm Mendoza seems more manly than any man.

“She’d even dare butt in my business and hurt my men...

“You truly are fearless, Helm Mendoza!”

The crowd was gradually getting used to the surroundings after the lights were turned on. A man wearing a kimono was seen sitting in the middle of the box while holding a glass of sake.

Chapter 2435

Even though words of approval came out of his mouth, the look on his face was filled with disdain and disgust as he mentioned the name of the helm.

After all, the Dragon Palace's branch without any support from Dragon Palace itself seemed extremely impractical and unrealistic to the eyes of many people. They felt that the branch might collapse at any second.

The so-called helm also did not have much authority.

Harvey York squinted at the Islander indifferently.

An old man was standing not far behind the Islander. The old man seemed like an extremely plain skinny person who was showing male pattern baldness...

But when Harvey saw him, his eyes could not help but squint.

“It’s you, Aki Kitagawa.”

Yoana Mendoza squinted after she saw the Islander’s face.

“I wondered who’s making a fuss in the territory of Dragon Palace’s branch, taking advantage of some kind woman like that.

“It was you all along, young lord of the Kitagawa Clan, disciple of the Shinkage Way...

“But if I remember correctly, the government of Hong Kong and Las Vegas had already issued you a deportation order. You heinous people from the Kitagawa Clan should’ve been gone by now.

“Why are you still staying in Hong Kong then? Do you have a death wish?”

The Island Nations was an extraordinary country. For instance, organizations from the underworld were able to be registered publicly in the country.

The Kitagawa Clan was considered a medium-sized organization. The clan itself had turned into their pawns because Aki was taken under the Shinkage Way's wing throughout those years.

Hong Kong was their first step in invading Country H, but because the government of Hong Kong found them out through various reasons, they were immediately forced out.

What shocked Yoana was not only that Aki did not leave after being deported; he even dared to flaunt his power in the territory of Dragon Palace's branch.

He was utterly disrespecting her!

“Fool!

“How dare you make fun of our young lord?!

“Damn b*tch! We’ll rip your clothes off and thoroughly play with you before killing you!

“You think you’re invincible just because you’re armed?! Our young lord is backed by the Elder of the Shinkage Way! He’ll cut your bullets in half!”

A dozen people with Island Nations clothing frantically stood up before glaring at Yoana, exuding murderous intent.

The women crossed their arms while showing gleeful looks.

They were quite petite, and their looks were ordinary.

When they saw the tall and alluring women from Country H, they could not help but get jealous.

Those women were trembling, full of excitement, when they imagined the sight of Yoana being taken advantage of by Aki's men.

“Shut up!

“You bunch of social butterflies don't have a right to speak with me!”

Yoana completely ignored the crowd and walked forward, squinting at Aki.

“I don't care what happened before. I also don't care who's right or wrong,” said Yoana calmly.

“But this bar is the property of Dragon Palace's branch!

“If you're planning to hit my people and take advantage of another one in my territory...

“How are you planning to give me a fair statement, Lord Kitagawa?”

Yoana's expression was as cold as ice when she showed her imposing manner. Even though Purple Sparrow was already fired in the morning, in the eyes of the outsiders, she was still Yoana's subordinate.

Along with the fact that this was the territory of Dragon Palace's branch, she had to step up her game. She had no other choice.

Chapter 2436

Bang!

Aki Kitagawa stood up after hearing those words and kicked down the low table in front of him. Then, he picked up a cup of sake and casually took a sip.

“A fair statement?” he asked with interest.

“Helm Mendoza, how are you supposed to give us a fair statement?”

“I am the young lord of the Kitagawa Clan and the disciple of the Shinkage Way. I’m having fun with women from Country H because I respect you people.

“Are you braindead? How dare you even ask for a fair statement?!”

“Besides, the Dragon Palace’s branch is just water without a source. Do you really think you're still the same invincible Dragon Palace from outside the borders?

"A mere Dragon Palace's branch dares to demand me for a fair statement?"

"Who gave you the courage to do so?"

"The gun in your hand?"

"Or your first-rate family? The government of Las Vegas' first-in-command?"

"Shoot me if you dare!"

Aki pointed at his forehead while showing an extremely arrogant look on his face.

All his friends burst out laughing after hearing those words.

In their eyes, Yoana only had the right to kneel in front of Aki. She had no right to talk to him like equals.

“That’s why this pretty lady’s mine to toy with!

“Not only will I toy with her, but the Islanders here also will since they’re very respectful people!”

Aki then pointed at Purple Sparrow, who showed a pitiful look on her face while being covered in a jacket.

“Helm Mendoza, if you really know what’s best for everyone, you should convince this woman to accept her fate.

“If not, I’ll come for you after this! After all, you shot a few of my subordinates. I can report this to the government of Las Vegas at any minute to demand your statement!”

Aki was filled with craze and ego. The title of young lord of his clan and the disciple of the Shinkage Way were basically trump cards hung around his neck, enabling him to do whatever he pleased in Las Vegas.

Yoana glared at Aki coldly.

“Are you just here to cause trouble for everyone, Aki?” said Yoana slowly.

“Do you really think I wouldn’t dare touch you because you have so-called diplomatic immunity?”

Aki flicked his cup away after finishing his sake. The cup shattered without a sound when it landed right in front of Yoana.

He then showed a faint smile after seeing the sight.

“What, Lady Mendoza? You don’t like what I’m doing?”

“If that’s the case, call someone here to scare me off!”

“I’ll even call you Madame if you manage to do that!

“And when I see you next time, I’ll stay as far away as possible! How’s that sound?”

“But if you can’t do that, you’ll be my plaything from today onward!”

Aki waved his hand in the middle of his speech before someone set a couch right behind him. Aki sat down with his legs crossed, then casually lit a thin yet long cigarette, as if he was the boss of the territory.

Then, the so-called Elder of the Shinkage Way stepped beside Aki while coldly glaring at Yoana.

Clearly, if Yoana did anything, the Elder would not hesitate to cut her in half.

“Just because you’re some young lord and the disciple of the Shinkage Way, you’re doing whatever you please in my territory?” exclaimed Yoana coldly.

“Are you treating me like some weak girl?”

<https://t.me/HarveyYorkEnglish>