

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 1006 | Simple Silence

Chapter 1006

After Elliot came over, the person in charge immediately invited him to the office to sit down.

“Mr. Foster, do you have any needs for coming here today?” The person in charge asked cautiously and politely while pouring tea for him.

Elliot said, “Are you familiar with my fiancée?”

The person in charge was startled: “Who is your fiancée?”

Elliot whispered, “Avery. Didn’t you send him a courier not long ago? I saw it at the time.”

The person in charge’s eyes suddenly lit up: “You said Ms. Tate! I know her. She is very good, and I’m very honored to know her. I didn’t expect you two to be engaged! It’s such a big happy event! The wedding date...”

Elliot said, “The wedding date is scheduled for June 1st, if you are free then, you can come to participate.”

“Then I must be free!”

“What business did she do when she came to you last time?” Elliot couldn’t hold back and asked this question.

At that time, when Avery answered him, he felt that her eyes were a little dodgy and unnatural.

Moreover, she talked to him about the topic of his current identity if it was not his current status, it was after she got the courier sent to her here.

The person in charge was stunned for a moment, then wondered: “Mr. Foster, according to the rules, we cannot disclose the privacy of our guests. Aren’t you and Ms. Tate getting married soon? Why don’t you just ask Ms. Tate directly?”

Elliot said, “She did tell me, but I’m not sure if what she told me is true.”

“Why don’t you believe her?”

Elliot said firmly, “There are good and bad lies. Since I’m going to marry her, Of course I believe her.”

The person in charge was relieved: “Then let me tell you briefly, Ms. Tate sent a blood sample from her patient, let us...”

Elliot interrupted him immediately: “Okay, I got it. You don’t need to say it.”

Since she really sent blood samples from her patient, it means that she didn’t lie to him.

At that time, he felt that her eyes were dodging and her expression was unnatural, and he was over-interpreting it.

But the person in charge couldn’t stop: “Mr. Foster, this is a very interesting thing, you listen to me...”

Elliot’s temple jumped: “Are you trying to tell me about the gorilla?”

Oh! It seems that Ms. Tate really told you.” The person in charge picked up the teacup and took a sip, “By the way, you are here today, is there anything we can help you with? You are Ms. Tate's fiancé. We will definitely give you the best service."

"If I wasn't Avery's fiancé, wouldn't I be able to get the best service from you?" Elliot asked with a smile.

The person in charge also laughed: "Of course you can. It's just that you and Ms. Tate are so close, we don't dare to neglect."

Elliot took a box from the bodyguard, opened it, and took out two bottles of blood samples from it. "I need to do a paternity test. How soon can you get the results here?"

The person in charge: "Usually a week. However, preliminary results can be obtained within 24 hours. Therefore, we usually confirm the results repeatedly before sending the accurate results to the guests in hand."

Elliot said, "At this time tomorrow, I hope to get the preliminary results."

The person in charge nodded: "No problem."

Elliot said, "Also, don't tell Avery about my visit to you. Who is the sample of this paternity test, and what the results are, we must not reveal half a word. Otherwise, I will raze your place to the ground."

The person in charge broke out in a cold sweat: "Don't worry, Ms. Tate won't come to ask, I would never say it."

"She came to ask, I couldn't say it either."

“If you don’t tell Ms. Tate in private that you have been here with us, Ms. Tate won’t come to me to ask, right?” The person in charge said cautiously.

Elliot couldn’t pick out any faults from his words.

Avery took Robert to Tammy’s house as a guest.

Tammy was on her period today, and her mood is a little down, so Avery brought Robert over to accompany her.

Besides, Avery also wanted to find out who the friend who was drinking with Elliot last night was.

“Brother Elliot was drunk? Is it impossible? I haven’t seen Brother Elliot drunk before!” Jun reacted a little violently after hearing what Avery said, “I basically heard of Brother Elliot’s friends. Well, I didn’t hear that he had friends over to play last night!”

Tammy teased Robert and interjected: “Avery, either Elliot lied to you, or Jun and Elliot are in a brotherly relationship.”

Jun immediately Said: “then it’s me and Elliot brother plastic love! I’d rather I be with Elliot brother plastic love, I don’t want to see the two of you quarreling again!”

Avery smiled: “I won’t quarrel with him. I’m just a little worried about him. Because he said last night that he wanted to come to see Robert, but he didn’t come because of something. At night, Mrs. Scarlet called again to say that he was very drunk... Absolutely, or you Ask Ben Schaffer to see if Ben Schaffer knows who he was drinking with last night.”

“Oh, I’ll ask right away.”

“Don’t say I asked.”

“Understood. You just want to care about him silently.” After Jun finished speaking, he dialed Ben Schaffer’s number.

Call was quickly connected.

“Didn’t he leave a bunch of executives to go home to see his son last night?” Ben Schaffer wondered after hearing Jun’s question, “Where did you hear that he drank with his friends last night? Why haven’t I heard of it at all?”

Jun opened hands-free.

Ben Schaffer’s reaction basically concluded that Elliot lied last night.

Tammy looked at Avery and couldn’t help telling the truth: “This man lied to you again.”

Avery smiled, “He probably doesn’t want me to worry! I talked to him last night on the phone. I can tell that he was not in a good mood.”

“Then why don’t you go and ask him about it? I’m just here for my aunt. I come every month, so you don’t have to accompany me.” Tammy was reluctant to bear Robert. “Baby Robert is so good, you must never lie like your father in the future!”

“Brother Elliot must have encountered something when he was drunk.” Jun said, “Avery, you go to him first.”

When Avery heard the words, she picked Robert up from Tammy's side."Then I'll go first."

After leaving Tammy's house, Avery first called Elliot and asked him where he was.

"I'm in the company, what's wrong?" Elliot voice has returned to his usual calm and composure.

As if the drunk Elliot last night was another person.

"Didn't you get drunk last night? Didn't you have a headache today?" Avery said incredulously.

Elliot said lightly, "It hurts a bit, but I can bear it. I was drunk last night, didn't I tell you any nonsense?"

"You mean, you don't remember what happened last night?" Avery took a deep breath.

"I don't remember much. I only remember that I talked to you on the phone and asked you to accompany me but you didn't agree..." Elliot narrowed his deep eyes, trying to use a light topic to allay her concerns.

Avery frowned, "Others are talking nonsense when they are drunk. How can you beat me when you are drunk? Last night, I clearly said that I wanted to come over to accompany you, but you refused to let me go..."

"Really?" Elliot blamed himself, "it's my fault. Then come and accompany me tonight!"

Chapter 1008

Avery finished talking to him on the phone, and returned to Tammy's house with Robert in her arms.

"Why are you smiling? Are you okay?" Tammy asked.

"Well. I called him just now, and he said that he doesn't remember what happened last night. I don't bother to ask, I'm going to marry him, if I don't have the most basic trust in him, let alone a lifetime?"

Avery's words made Jun heave a sigh of relief.

"Avery, I was talking to Tammy just now, would you run to Brother Elliot with Robert to quarrel? Tammy said no, she said you would send Robert home first, and then run away. Quarrel with Brother Elliot." Jun couldn't help laughing and crying.

Unexpectedly, both of them predicted wrong.

Avery couldn't help laughing.

If it was before, she might really have guessed like the two of them and caught Elliot's handle and went to him immediately!

Avery reflected, "I can give enough tolerance and understanding to others, but only when I face him, it always burns a little bit. After we talked about it last time, I found that he was hiding everything about me. So he concealed me, not because he didn't trust me, but because letting me know would not help, but would increase my psychological burden."

Jun said, "Avery, it's really good for you to think this way. I believe that your decision to remarry this time must have been carefully considered, and you will cherish this relationship even more in the future."

Tammy said, "You still haven't gone to work?"

“I’ll go right now.” Before Jun left, his fingers lightly pinched Robert’s little face, “Uncle is going to work! He will come and play with you another day!”

Avery said, “Most people will like children when they reach a certain age.”

“He has a box that contains figures he collected before. He won’t let me touch it. I opened the box yesterday and found a love letter in it.” Tammy said with a bad face, “he gave it to a girl. In the love letter, he fantasized about having a child with that girl.”

Avery didn’t expect that the main reason for Tammy’s emotional loss was not the period, but the love letter.

“That’s all in the past. Who didn’t do some childish things when they were young?” Avery explained.

“But I opened his whatsapp while he was asleep last night, and saw the girl’s name in his friend list.” The pain on Tammy’s face was undisguised, “I always thought that Jun had only one girl in his heart that is me but I didn’t expect it! Are men more attentive? Just like Elliot lied to you last night, you thought he lied to you for your own good. Is it possible that he was fooling around with other women last night? “

Avery’s face suddenly turned crimson.

“Avery, I’m sorry. My own feelings are not going well, and it affects you...” Tammy grabbed Avery’s cool finger, “I think you have a good relationship. Don't you say that things are like gathering people and dividing them into groups? "

"Then what are you going to do?" Avery held her hand back and asked.

"I'm going to observe first. There's nothing in the chat box between him and that woman. It's better if there's nothing, or I won't be able to swallow it when I find out." Tammy seemed to mutter to herself.

"Tammy, why don't you tell him directly?"

"I'm afraid he will say that I rummaged through his things." Tammy lowered her eyes, "He treats me very well now, and I'm afraid to break this beautiful appearance."

Avery knew that Tammy had not yet stepped out of the shadow of the kidnapping case, so her character became inferior and less confident.

"Tammy, let's stop thinking about these unhappy things." Avery changed the subject with a smile, "Robert called her mother, but she did not call her father."

Tammy quickly adjusted her mood, "Because Elliot took him less. When you two live together, Robert will soon learn to call Dad."

Avery nodded.

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 1009 | Simple Silence

Chapter 1009

At 4.30 p.m.

Avery asked Jun to come out to meet.

As soon as Jun received her call, he realized that this meeting was not easy.

“What’s wrong?” Jun was uncomfortable with her cold eyes, and cold sweat broke out on his back, “Did Tammy tell you something? Am I not doing well recently? It shouldn’t be! Gentle but patient, Brother Elliot explained to me. Let me give Tammy a little more time...”

“Did Elliot really tell you that?” Avery was a little surprised.

“Yes!” Jun asked again, “What did Tammy tell you about me? How can I change it if you don’t tell me?”

“Why do you keep the love letter you wrote to your female classmates in the box? Not only do you not destroy it? You also added the Whatsapp of the female classmate. When are you planning to continue the relationship?” Avery threw the question.

Tammy didn’t dare to ask Jun, so Elliot asked for Tammy.

“Ah! What are you talking about, why can’t I understand? Can you give me some hints?” Jun’s head got bigger.

“Why don’t you let Tammy touch the box you let go?” Avery changed her question.

“Oh, the things in that box are all fragile, touch it to Tammy, those old antiques will be scrapped soon!” Jun said, and suddenly understood the question she just said, “You mean me There’s a love letter in that box? D*mn it! When did I put that thing in the box!”

Avery looked at his reaction, not like acting.

“When was the last time you contacted that female classmate?”

Jun touched his chin and thought about it, “About a year or two ago! She was about to get married at that time, so she added countless old classmates’ Whatsapp messages. After she added me on Whatsapp, she invited me to the wedding... Doesn’t it make it clear that she asked me for some money? Do I look like such a stupid person?”

Avery was stunned for a moment, but she didn’t expect it to be like this.

“Although it’s small money for 10,000 dollars, but I don’t do it! If I spend this money, Tammy will know, and she will definitely be angry with her cautious temper.” Jun Speaking of this and smiled, “So after my female classmate invited me to the wedding, I backhandedly asked her to borrow money.”

Avery remained silent.

Jun sighed, “When I started a business at that time, I was really short of money. In the end, after she saw the news that I borrowed money, she never got back to me. I don’t know if she has deleted me now.”

Avery was dumbfounded.

“Tammy called you to interrogate me for this matter?” Jun said suddenly sternly.

“I want to come by myself. She doesn’t dare to ask you. I’m afraid you will say that she messes with your things. You go back and communicate with her, don’t blame her.”

“Oh, I see! Thank you Avery! If it weren’t for you, I really didn’t know she was so aggrieved!”

In the evening.

Star River Villa.

The black Rolls Royce slowly drove into the front yard.

“Mom, why is Dad here?” Layla looked at the familiar luxury car and wondered, “Didn’t you say he won’t come to our house today?”

Avery remembered that she made an appointment with him that she would go to his house tonight .

“Maybe your father has something to do here!” After answering her daughter’s question, she walked towards the yard.

At this moment, Elliot got out of the car and strode towards the trunk.

She don’t know what’s in his trunk.

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 1010 | Simple Silence

Chapter 1010

Avery strode up to him: “What did you buy?” After asking the question, she saw the situation in the trunk and was stunned.

His trunk is quite big, but it’s full now.

What’s inside, it’s hard to see at a glance.

Because most of them are packed in bags or boxes.

“Elliot, didn’t you say you wanted me to go to your place tonight?”

Elliot changed the topic, “I thought you wouldn’t come.”

“You go to my place, or I come to your place, isn’t it the same thing?”

Elliot took the things out of the trunk. “I went out in the afternoon and passed a street and saw some beautiful things. I felt that you and the children would like them, so I bought them for you.”

Avery was stunned for a moment, and then he responded and said,
“What?”

“You mean these things, you bought them all for me and the children this afternoon?!”

“Well.” Elliot continued to take the things out of the trunk.

Avery took her arm and asked with a serious face: “Elliot! Have you woken up from the drink that you drank last night?!”

He brought his face to her.

Her face turned crimson and pushed Elliot handsome face away: “What are you doing? My daughter is watching! Don’t be a hooligan!”

“I’ll let you smell the alcohol on me.” Elliot said in a hoarse voice,
Looking at her daughter, “Layla, come here, Dad bought you a gift!”

Layla heard that there was a gift, and immediately ran over like a bunny.

Avery felt that Elliot was behaving abnormally, so she took him to the side to chat alone: ”What festival is today? Or is it Anniversary?
Why did you buy so many gifts for me and the children?”

Avery said, suddenly thinking of Tammy talking to her today. what she said.

“Or...you did something wrong to me last night, so you bought a gift to compensate me today?!”

Elliot was shocked by her guess. He suddenly bought so many things because he was stimulated by Nathan. Nathan asked him for a monthly living allowance of 100 million, but he spent less than 100 million a year for Avery and the children!

Nathan said that he can't spend so much money, and since that's the case, he will spend more money for Avery and the children in the future!

Seeing that he was silent, Avery began to feel uneasy. She had already decided to trust him, but his current demeanor clearly concealed something from her.

"Who did you drink with last night?" Avery looked into his eyes and asked in a low voice, "Elliot, I don't want to doubt you or quarrel with you in front of the children, but you have to give me a reasonable excuse. Explanation! Otherwise, how can I receive your car of gifts?!"

Elliot glanced at the child.

Layla stood in front of the trunk, staring sternly at them.

Layla was worried about her mother being bullied, so she kept watching, but if Elliot dared to bully her mother, she would definitely be the first to rush over to teach him a lesson!

"Baby, I didn't quarrel with your mother." Elliot gave his daughter a loving smile.

Layla frowned in disbelief.

"Avery, I did lie to you last night." Elliot faced Avery and explained to her, "but I didn't do anything to be sorry to you. I lied to you to go drinking with my friends, but it wasn't. Last night, I was alone Drink."

Avery was puzzled: “Why did you lie to me? Why did you drink alone? Then you said last night that you were very happy, and it was false. You were not happy at all last night.”

“Well,” Elliot said Looking at her slightly wet apricot eyes, he took her into his arms, “I’m not happy because of us, but because of our wedding, but I don’t have any family to invite, so I’m a little sad.”

Avery hugged his body tightly with both hands: “it’s alright, we can invite some more friends.”

“Well, I’m fine now.” Elliot adjusted his mood and released her, “I’ll buy gifts for you and the child not only to make you happy, but also to give yourself more motivation to make money.”

“But you buy too much.” Avery took his big palm and walked towards her daughter, “If you come here every time I bought so many things, and my family couldn’t put them down.”
