Chapter 1181

"Isn't it scary enough to take my brother and me to find my brother without taking my father?" Layla looked sad, "Are you two going to divorce?"

"No. I haven't gotten the certificate with your dad yet. If we separate, it's just a breakup, not a divorce." Avery took a tissue to wipe her daughter's tears and said.

"Oh... isn't that the same thing? Woohoo!" Layla listened to her explanation and the tears flowed more fiercely.

Avery said softly, "Layla, don't cry yet. Listen to your mother. No matter what your mother and father are, we will always love you as well as your brothers and sisters. Your mother will always be with you."

"I don't like the two of you arguing. But you two always quarrel." Layla's eyes filled with tears of grievance, and roared.

Avery didn't know how to answer, so she fell silent.

After about a minute or two, Layla looked at Mom's face and suddenly softened: "I'm sorry Mom. I shouldn't be talking to you so loudly."

"It's okay. Mom and Dad aren't good enough."

"Mom, you have to stay with me, Robert and my brother, Hayden." Layla hugged her mother and choked out the request.

In the evening, after coaxing the child to sleep, Avery dragged her tired body out of the child's room. She strode towards the master bedroom, and after entering the room, she closed the door.

It can't go on like this. Even if Shea and Adrian were not considered, Elliot's leaving like this would have a great impact on the children.

She found Chad's phone and dialed it.

"Chad, where is Elliot now? I want to see him." Avery said calmly.

Chad said helplessly, "Avery, I'm sorry. I went to look for him today, but I couldn't find him. I also asked Brother Ben, and Brother Ben didn't know where Elliot was."

Avery: "Elliot didn't contact you and didn't care about the company?"

Chad frowned, "No. He's never been like this before."

Avery called out again. "Did he plan to keep running away like this? I already know that I was wrong. Even if he wanted to break up, I could cooperate with him."

Chad said, "Don't talk about it. It's easier said than done when you two break up. Just wait patiently. I have a hunch it's going to come out next week."

Avery: "The result?"

Chad said firmly. "Yeah. He's not the kind of guy who likes to procrastinate. No matter how serious the problem is between the two of you, he's not going to keep procrastinating. Yes."

"Hopefully." Avery only asked him to give him a good time.

The next day.

Cole was woken up by the phone ringing. He picked up the phone in a daze and saw the unfamiliar number, so he hung up immediately and put down the phone. As a result, a few seconds after hanging up, his phone rang again.

He frowned and answered the phone angrily.

"Hello Mr. Cole, I'm Jeremiah Gordon. I was in charge of your grandmother's inheritance before." The Lawyer Gordon said.

Cole jumped and sat up.

"I remembered you. You and my uncle... have a good relationship with Elliot."

Lawyer Gordon said, "I'm calling you today because it was indeed entrusted by Mr. Elliot. You see when it's convenient, let's meet and talk."

Cole was excited and nervous, "I'm free now. Lawyer Gordon, can you tell me, what is the reason for Elliot to ask you to come to me?"

Lawyer Gordon hesitated for a moment, said bluntly: "Elliot asked me to talk to you about the transfer of his shares."

Cole's legs softened with excitement. He didn't expect Avery to be so powerful.

How could Elliot lower his noble head so easily!

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 1182

Chapter 1182

Foster family.

Layla cried last night, and today her eyes were red and swollen, and she didn't look very good. So Avery planned to take the two children out to play.

"Layla, didn't you say you wanted to go to the amusement park? Should we go to the amusement park?" Avery wanted to make her daughter happy.

Layla shook her head said, "I don't want to go to the amusement park. My brother doesn't need to go either. He is so young and can't play anything."

"Where do you want to go?" Avery took a sweat towel and put it on her back.

Layla lay on the sofa and said angrily: "I don't want to go anywhere. It's not fun anywhere."

"Then let's go outside. Or if you want to buy something, mom will take you to supermarket." Avery squatted on her daughter Beside her, she coaxed, "Didn't you say you wanted new stickers last time?"

"I already have them. My classmates gave them."

"Then let's go buy some small gifts, and then you can take them to your classmates."

Layla said shyly, "No need for mom. If you want to go out, I can go out with you. If you don't want to go out, then we can stay at home."

Avery gently stroked her daughter's head with her palm: "Do you miss your father?"

"Hmph, I don't miss him. I miss my brother." Layla was duplicitous. She will not admit that she really misses her father.

Over the past few weekends, her father has played with her. Now that her father has suddenly withdrawn from her life, she feels that she is not used to it, and at the same time, thinking that she may not be accompanied by her father in the future, she can't help crying. But she also knew that if she cried, her mother would be sad, so she could only endure it.

Avery obediently said, "Layla, since you don't want to go out, then we won't go out. The weather is fine today, we can play in the yard."

"What are you playing?" Layla asked.

"Why don't Mom buy some saplings, let's plant trees."

"Mom, let's buy some flowers and put them in a vase, okay?" Layla suddenly became interested.

"Okay. Let's go buy it together." Avery immediately relaxed when she saw that her daughter was interested in something.

Layla nodded quickly: "Then don't bring my brother? Anyway, we'll be back soon."

"Alright." Avery said, and went to get the bag.

After a while, the bodyguard drove the mother and daughter out. After they went out, after a while, Elliot came back.

Mrs. Cooper was stunned when she saw him coming back. It seemed that he came back specially after Avery went out.

Mrs. Cooper said, "Sir, can you stay at home a little longer today? Layla cried hard yesterday because you didn't come back. She is not in a good mood today. Avery persuaded her all morning, I just took her out."

Elliot was silent for a moment, then asked, "Where is Robert?"

Mrs. Cooper said, "Robert was sleeping in the room. Yesterday he slept in the living room for a while, and was bitten by a mosquito and A little red spot appeared on his forehead."

Elliot immediately walked towards the room and Robert has woken up this time.

The little guy opened his eyes, grabbed the quilt in his hand and stuffed it into his mouth.

Seeing Dad come in, Robert paused when he bit the quilt. Elliot walked to the bed and saw the mosquito bites on his son's forehead, and felt very distressed.
