

Remarriage His Billionaire Ex-Wife By H. D. Cynthia Chapter 153

Chapter 153

When Jessica woke up the next day, she felt much better. Although there was still mild pain, it was endurable.

Jessica had a meeting early in the morning, so she woke up a little earlier than usual. She thus arrived at the company early

Wendy came in as soon as Jessica sat in her chair. “Good morning, Miss Hall.”

“Good morning, Wendy.”

“Miss Hall, do you want to suppress the gossip online?”

Although Jessica didn’t do or say anything, as the “female lead”, she naturally drew a lot of attention. People commented on her.

In fact, most of the people were not judging. They were just discussing which guy Jessica should choose.

Some buzzkills did mention Jessica’s three-year marriage with Lucas, though.

But most of them were just idle beholders looking for juicy gossip.

Jessica wasn’t bothered. “Leave it be.”

Wendy nodded. “I see, Miss Hall.”

Most of the netizens were partial to Terry and Wendy saw no harm in that.

It didn’t mean that Wendy thought Terry was trustworthy as Jessica’s husband.

Jessica wasn’t bothered, someone in the Thomas family was.

In the statement Terry posted yesterday afternoon, he not only belittled the Thomas family but also suggested that Justin and Olivia had ill intentions against Jessica.

Justin was so angry that he didn’t sleep well last night. The news should have been suppressed, yet some progress in the whole thing was exposed and drew more attention.

Olivia knew about the progress. When they were having breakfast, she could not help but say, “Grandpa, I think Jessica does not want to get back together with Lucas at all. She is already with Terry!”

“Nonsense, how come? Didn’t he just have a rumored girlfriend?”

Olivia pouted and said, “Who knows?”

Justin thought that Olivia was spouting nonsense again, so his face darkened. “Mind your tongue!”

“I’m telling the truth! If you don’t believe me, look at these photos, grandpa. My friend sent them to me!”

Justin took Olivia’s phone and saw photos of Terry walking out of Jessica’s apartment.

Justin’s face turned grim at once. He could no longer have the oatmeal. He got up and went straight back to his study.

Justin returned to the study and called Lucas. “Didn’t you go to find Jessica last night? Why was Terry there as well?”

“Grandpa, Jessica won’t marry me again.” Lucas hung up the phone.

Lucas had also seen those photos. Hari sent them to him.

Lucas knew it must have been Terry who posted those photos shamelessly. But what Jessica was like last night made Lucas realize that Jessica was indeed no longer in love with him.

In that case, Lucas didn’t think it was wise to ask Jessica to get back with him anymore.

When Justin heard what Lucas said, he was so angry that he smashed his phone.

However, even though Justin was angry, he knew that Lucas must have felt frustrated to have said that.

Justin decided that he had to do something to stop Jessica from marrying Terry Davison.

Justin then suddenly thought of something and said, “Dwayne, ask Rebecca to come over.”

Dwayne nodded. “Yes, Mr. Thomas.”

When Dwayne found Rebecca, she was listening to Olivia complaining about what had happened on the Internet.

Rebecca never enjoyed making any fuss. The comments on the Internet were just discussions from strangers she did not know, so Rebecca didn't take them seriously at all.

Rebecca felt relieved when Olivia finally stopped talking. "Dwayne, why does Mr. Thomas want to see me?"

Dwayne shook his head. "Mr. Thomas didn't say anything. He just told you to go to the study."

Rebecca nodded and said, "I got it."

Rebecca got up and went up to the third floor.

Right after Dwayne knocked on the door, Justin let them in.

Dwayne pushed the door of the study open.

Rebecca was a little scared of Justin and walked into the study uneasily.

"Father."

Justin glanced at Rebecca and nodded. "Sit."

Seeing her sit down, Justin said, "You are Lucas' mother, and I think you also want Lucas to live well in the future. I like Jessica as my granddaughter-in-law, and you used to have a good relationship with her. As Lucas' mother, you have to do something for him now."

Rebecca was still confused. "Dad, what do you mean?"

Justin couldn't help but despise Rebecca since she didn't get what he meant at once. But he had to hold that back because he had to count on Rebecca. "You were her mother-in-law once. Perhaps you should catch up with her."

Rebecca frowned. "But I don't think Jessica wants to see me."

Rebecca was timid, but she was not stupid.

In the Thomas family, Rebecca was just like Jessica. But she didn't have Jessica's pride or her family background, so Rebecca never fought back.

Now that Jessica and Lucas were divorced, Rebecca believed that Jessica wanted to keep a distance from the Thomas family. If Rebecca were Jessica, that would be what she wanted.

"That depends on how you do it, Rebecca. You won't shut outside the door, will you?"

Justin was making it clear that Rebecca had to bond with Jessica.

Rebecca had never dared to go against her strict father-in-law. Although she was reluctant, she had to nod. "I see, father."

Rebecca went out of the study with a pale face. When she returned to her room, she thought of what Justin had entrusted her with

Although Jessica hadn't gotten over with Rebecca, they had never actually bonded before.

What should Rebecca do to complete the task that Justin had given her?

Rebecca fell into down spirals ever since Justin asked her to catch up with Rebecca.

Olivia could tell that Rebecca was troubled, so she asked, "Mom, what happened to you recently? Did Dad's mistress come to you again?"

Olivia had always looked down on Louis' mistress, but that woman just wouldn't stop visiting the Thomas' villa to make a fuss.

Olivia couldn't stand it when she heard Rebecca was bullied by that woman. So she said, "Mom, I'll teach that bitch a lesson!"

Rebecca quickly stopped her, "Olivia, don't act recklessly. That woman didn't come these days."

"Then what's troubling you?" ..

Gazing at Olivia, Rebecca finally told Olivia what Justin said.

Olivia felt a bit shocked as well. "Mom, are you saying that grandpa wanted you to help them patch things up?" Rebecca sighed and said, "Your grandpa said I had to make it." "Seriously? He likes Jessica that much?"

Rebecca did not speak, but the answer was quite obvious.

Olivia thought for a while and said, "But Jessica didn't even take Lucas seriously. How could she listen to you? Unless..."

"Unless what?" Rebecca looked at her daughter.

Unless they can't help but sleep again and get caught on the spot!" Olivia quickly said.

Rebecca seemed to be startled and quickly covered Olivia's mouth. "What nonsense are you talking about? Jessica and Lucas would never forgive you if you tricked them."

"Then what else can we do? It is a mission impossible." Olivia's eyes moved quickly. "Leave this to me. They won't know it's me. When you finally asked Jessica out, just let me know!"

Olivia said that and ran away,

Rebecca looked at Olivia's back and regretted telling her what Justin had said. Meanwhile, in Jessica's office.

"Miss Hall, Mrs. Thomas wanted to see you."

With that, Jessica couldn't help but raise her eyebrows. "I don't have time."

What was the Thomas family doing?

When Lucas and Olivia stopped causing trouble, it was Rebecca's turn now.

This was the second time Rebecca had asked Jessica out. Although Jessica had been her daughter-in-law for three years, they weren't close.

Now that Jessica had divorced Lucas, why would Jessica bother to see Rebecca?

Wendy nodded, but she didn't leave. Seeing that Wendy hadn't left, Jessica tightened her grip on the pen. "Is there anything else?"

"A lot of people are discussing how you got that land in north LA. Some voices say that it was Mr. Thomas who gave Mr. Fairbank a project, so Mr. Fairbank yielded that land to you."

Jessica clicked her tongue and said, "It's true. Don't worry."

Seeing that Jessica did not care, Wendy did not say anything more.

Wendy suspected that it was triggered by the Thomas family. After all, a few days ago, because of the fight and apology statements, more and more people believed that Jessica should choose Terry.

Yet when the land gossip was exposed, they all turned partial to Lucas now. Thus, the Thomas family must have been behind it.

Wendy knew that, and so did Jessica.
But Wendy didn't know what Jessica was thinking.

Chapter 155

When the matter was exposed, discussions about Jessica and Lucas started again,

When Hari learned about that, he thought Lucas had finally learned how to play tricks. Yet when he called Lucas, he realized that Lucas was not the mastermind.

After hanging up the phone, Lucas' face darkened. Vincent felt a bit overwhelmed by Lucas' grim face. He thus said, "Mr. Thomas?" Lucas glanced at Vincent and said, "I'll go back to the Thomas' villa now and come back soon."

Vincent did not dare to say anything else. He could only watch Lucas leave while holding the documents that needed to be handled immediately.

On the way back, Lucas' face remained stern. He knew it must be Justin. He must have asked Dwayne to release the news Lucas recalled what Jessica had said the other day and felt as if he was slapped by an invisible hand right in the face.

The traffic light turned green, but Lucas didn't notice it until the following cars started to honk. Lucas' golden eyes blinked a bit and he then started the car.

Twenty minutes later, the car stopped at the gate of the Thomas' villa. When the butler saw Lucas, he couldn't help but be surprised. He wondered why Lucas was back at this time. "Mr. Lucas?"

Lucas tossed a glance and then went straight into the villa with a sullen face,

Justin was surprised to see Lucas. "Lucas, why are you back at this time?"

"Grandpa."

Lucas walked up to Justin with a cold expression on his face. "You were the one who posted the news online?”

Justin’s darkened when he heard this. “You came back all of a sudden to question me about that?”

Lucas did not deny it. “Jessica and I can not get married again.”

“Can’t? Or you don’t want to?”

Lucas did not answer Justin’s question. “I hope you won’t do such a thing again.”

After saying that, Lucas turned to leave.

*Come back here!”

Justin was so angry that he directly threw his crutch at Lucas, but Lucas left without looking back.

Lucas went back with anger and when he left, he was still furious.

When the butler saw Lucas come down, he wanted to greet Lucas, but when he saw Lucas’ face, the butler did not dare to make a beep.

Everyone could tell Lucas was angry. Even the gardeners didn’t dare to face him. The servants were keeping away from Lucas, They didn’t want to get into trouble.

Lucas was indeed in a bad mood. What had happened recently seemed unimaginable at once.

When Jessica divorced him, Lucas was quite upset. And what happened in the past eight months was never pleasant.

What was worse, Lucas seemed to have feelings for Jessica now, Possessiveness was strange. At first, Lucas had no other feelings for Jessica. But now, he found that Jessica had been affecting his mood.

Lucas felt it unbearable to see Terry getting close to Jessica.

Lucas didn’t know why. Perhaps it was because, deep down, Lucas still saw Jessica as his wife. They had a marriage of three years after all.

Lucas, with a gloomy face, walked to the car parked at the gate.

Suddenly, a middle-aged maid ran out and looked at him timidly, “Mr. Lucas.”

Lucas paused for a moment and turned to look at her. His eyes were full of impatience. “What?”

The maid was startled by the coldness in his eyes. She quickly put the phone on his car and said, “Mr. Lucas, I found this when I cleaned up the potted plants left by Jessica a few days ago. It should be Jessica’s phone.”

After the maid finished speaking, she turned and left, not even daring to look at Lucas again.

Lucas glanced at the maid’s back and turned his gaze to the phone on his car. With a snort, he picked up the phone and threw it directly into the garden.

Forty minutes later, at the Thomas Group.

Vincent looked at Lucas who came out of the elevator and could not help but pause. “Mr. Thomas, your face.”

“Is there a problem?”

Lucas’ cold gaze swept over, and Vincent froze for a moment. He bit his words back and shook his head.

Vincent saw the dirt on Lucas face and couldn’t help but find it strange. After all, Lucas took his personal image seriously. Nobody dared to judge his look at the Thomas Group.

Vincent quickly found an excuse and walked back to his desk.

Lucas frowned slightly and walked into the office.

The desk remained untouched. He then started reading the unfinished documents. Ten minutes had passed, yet Lucas hadn’t finished a single page. Lucas loosened his collar and took the dumbphone out of his pocket.
