

Chapter 2847

“You...”

Cory York was boiling with anger before abruptly leaving while coldly glaring at Harvey York.

Harvey chuckled. Cory had lost his reputation within the company.

It would only be a matter of time before Queenie York took over his place.

“That b*stard!”

Inside the office building at Victoria Harbor, Cory still could not manage to calm himself down.

The teacup in his hand trembled vigorously. Apparently, he was still enraged.

His gaze then shifted toward Vince York before he coldly exclaimed , “I told you so many times already, Vince! Don’t go for Fourth Brother’s people willy-nilly, especially Selena Judd!

“Fourth Brother treasures that woman the most!

“Whatever you do, don’t ever go against her!

“But what happened? Not only did you provoke her , you even got Fourth Brother angry ! Now he’s releasing her exceptional daughter just to fight you!

“What are you planning to do?!

“It’s only five days before the damn birthday banquet!

“I can’t believe you got into this big mess...

“One wrong step, and the Loxus Consortium will be under that girl's control!

“I don't even know why the Ishikawa Corporation's being this dumb! Why would they surrender their contract under such humiliating conditions?!”

“Since Queenie signed the contract, it's only a matter of time before she rises to power within the company!”

Other than utter disbelief, Cory could only feel fear after thinking about what had happened.

He did not expect that Harvey and Queenie could break through his well-laid trap so easily...

They even managed to get huge benefits out of the company!

If this were to continue, Cory's authority would probably be overshadowed by that girl!

Cory would never accept such a thing!

After seeing Vince put to utter shame, Lexie York put on a slight frown.

“Don’t get mad, Big Brother. Both Vince and I are responsible for this.

“But we didn’t know that the b*stard, Harvey, could actually strike a deal with the Ishikawa Corporation that easily!

“Logically speaking, the Islanders would be doing their best to kill off that b*stard! Why did they turn out this respectful toward him?! I can’t believe this!”

Cory coldly scoffed.

“They’re not as respectful as you think. They’re using him to deal with the Yorks of Hong Kong, causing major casualties to both sides.

“But the Islanders didn’t expect that Harvey would take such drastic measures and let Queenie sign the contract instead!

“Not only would he leave good impressions to the people who have no sides within the family, but he’d also be able to siphon benefits out of Queenie!

“You people are underestimating this b*stard!

“In your documents, he’s just some kid that knows how to fight!

“But in reality, his business acumen outmatches even some of the most experienced people!”

While Cory was still enraged, he had to acknowledge Harvey’s strengths.

Harvey seemed extremely casual about his moves, but every single step of his plan had been well - thought, fooling the Islanders to the point where they almost had no way to remedy the situation.

Cory felt utterly inferior after realizing this fact.

Chapter 2848

After coldly looking at Cory York, Lexie York then spoke, "You're saying Vince York and I are responsible for your loss?"

"Because we didn't provide you the right info, so you suffered as a result?"

"That's not what I mean," Cory coldly replied.

"I'm only saying that if we had the right info, we might have the upper hand this time.

"At this point, it's useless blaming anyone.

"We can only blame that b*stard for being so calculating and that b*tch for conspiring with the enemy!"

"This is my fault, Father."

Vince , who had been dead silent the entire time, finally spoke up. He walked toward Cory and bowed slightly.

“I underestimated both Harvey and Queenie.

“I thought that a woman who only knew how to kill could be ordered around only after being in the Loxus Consortium...

“But this isn't what I expected to happen .

“Both Harvey and Queenie are challenging to deal with after all!

“I know there's still rage in your heart, but you and Auntie shouldn't be arguing right now.

“This is all Harvey and Queenie's fault.

“This is also my fault.

“But putting the blame on someone isn't the priority right now. We should be looking for a way to deal with Queenie.

“If her reputation and authority keep rising, I’m afraid everything will change during Grandma York’s birthday.”

Cory and Lexie’s gazes turned cold immediately after hearing Vince’s words.

For them, nothing else mattered other than Vince’s rise to power during Grandma York’s birthday.

But because of Queenie’s sudden rise, Vince’s position was threatened.

This was the most disturbing fact.

Cory squinted at his outstanding and unparalleled son for a long while before he asked, “Do you have an idea, Vince?”

“Why don’t you enlighten us? We’ll see if it’ll work.”

Vince smiled.

“Because of the Leo family, that young master’s been wandering in The Empire of the Sun that Never Sets for so many years...

“But I heard he’s been doing pretty well for himself lately. Not only did he bring up a huge family business, he even received a knighthood and was respected by the royalty there.

“Say, if he knew that his fiance was hanging out with some random man from Country H ...

“Would he make a strong comeback here?!”

“Are you talking about Jason Leo?”

Lexie showed a profound look on her face after pondering over the situation.

“That’s right. The previous head of the Four Masters of Hong Kong, the current baron of The Empire of the Sun that Never Sets, and the deputy commander of the Knights Templar!

“If he comes back to marry his past fiancée...

“How would my dear sister, Queenie, have the right to rise to power?

“After all, a married woman is forever lost!”

Chapter 2849

While Vince York was telling everyone his master plan, a call from Las Vegas got Harvey York up from his afternoon nap.

Harvey was quite surprised after seeing the number.

The King of Gambling, Fabian Hamilton, said that he was going to put the casino license of Mordu's Casino Palace under Harvey's name, but it never happened...

And since Harvey's relationship with the Hamilton family improved, everyone was considered to be on the same side. The situation was left up in the air because of it...

But after getting Fabian's call, Harvey had a bad feeling about this...

After all, Fabian would never give Harvey a call for no reason.

When the phone rang the second time, Harvey then picked up the call.

A long sigh could be heard from the other side of the phone, as if Harvey was going to realize something. The sound abruptly stopped before Harvey listened to a hearty laugh.

“It’s been some time since you contacted me, Sir York!

“Did you have too much fun in Hong Kong? Las Vegas is your turf too, you know? You must’ve forgotten us or something!”

“Tell me what’s on your mind. Stop beating around the bush,” replied Harvey calmly.

On the other side of the phone, the corner of Fabian’s mouth seemed to be moving before he chuckled.

“Nothing much?”

Harvey burst out laughing.

“Why would the high and mighty King of Gambling even give me a call if there’s nothing much? I bet you’d rather have me stay away from Las Vegas for as long as possible, right?”

Fabian bitterly chuckled while mustering up his courage.

“It really isn’t a big deal! It’s just that we’re about to lose the casino license that was supposed to be under your name...

“But don’t you worry! I already got people working on it! They’ll deal with the customer immediately!

“After all, we run casino palaces! We’re not scared of people gambling here, right?"

Fabian was speaking casually, as if it was no big deal.

But Harvey knew that the old fox would not give him a call if he could deal with the problem on his own.

After showing a faint smile, Harvey then calmly replied, "Do you want my casino license?"

"You didn't forget about the arrangement, did you?"

"What? You're looking for me for help now that you can't deal with the problem yourself?"

Fabian forced a chuckle.

"Stop joking already, Sir York.

"I did want to hand the casino license to you nicely...

“But my ungrateful son split the damn shares too much!

“I’ve been trying to buy those shares so I can hand you the entire thing!

“But when I was buying the last ten percent, something happened...

“The person wasn’t interested in selling the shares...

“He wants to solve the situation by gambling.

“My family works in the industry, so we were obviously unafraid.

“But at this point, we’ve been losing for four days straight...

“We lost forty percent of the shares in just the past four days...

“Simply put, the shares we that fought so hard for ended up in their hands.

“He’ll be back again tonight to play with the same rules . If this keeps up , we’ll lose the entire casino license sooner or later.”

Chapter 2850

Fabian Hamilton's words were filled with helplessness, dreariness, and a lot of resentment...

"My family rose for many years. We were called the kings of Las Vegas, but I didn't expect I'd get beaten so badly at such an old age..."

"But don't worry. Even if we lose that casino license, I'll get another one to replace it for you."

"You deserve it after all."

Fabian tried to maintain his dignity within his words. He seemed like he needed help, but he still held onto the pride of his family with all his might.

Harvey York burst out laughing before showing a serious look on his face.

“Alright , Fabian . I’m done joking around .

“Be honest with me, is the person you’re gambling against a tough one?”

“He is, but we should be able to handle him ...”

Fabian went silent for a long while before saying those words.

But after he did not hear Harvey’s response, he bitterly chuckled.

“Right. I’ll be honest. He’s really tough.

“He came three times already. He only plays three rounds every time to determine the overall winner. The game is Blackjack.

“For four nights in a row, the Hamilton family kept losing!

“On the first few days, we only got some of the less skillful ones to play against him, so it's only natural that we lost.

“But in the next few days, we still lost after bringing out actual experts...”

Fabian felt speechless.

The King of Gambling's very own family lost four times in a row?

This was just too embarrassing!

In reality , the matter had been causing an uproar around Las Vegas for the past couple of days.

But since Harvey was so preoccupied with Hong Kong, he did not realize that Las Vegas had been in utter chaos.

Harvey fiddled with his phone and poured himself a cup of tea.

“Let's not talk about who the person is. Did he win every single match against your family? Those are some insane odds, don't you think?

“Even the legendary Gambling Saint doesn't have good odds like that, right?”

“Are there any signs of cheating?”

Harvey did not believe that someone would be this lucky unless they cheated.

“Probably not.”

Fabian felt helpless after saying those words.

“We've been in charge of casino palaces for many years. If someone's cheating, we'd see through the trick no matter what it is!

“In reality, we installed about a hundred surveillance cameras and got our professionals to verify every single frame of the footage, but nothing suspicious showed up.”

“What about the people who followed him?” Harvey questioned.

“He brought two men and two women, but they were clean as well,” replied Fabian miserably.

“We started checking them during the second match, but we found nothing.”

“What about the dealer?”

Harvey started to frown slightly.

“There’s no way. On such an important occasion, the experienced dealers are all from families without any bad records. We even thoroughly checked their entire family just to make sure.

“The dealers know full well about the consequences of cheating. We’ve also been keeping an eye on them. We still couldn’t see anything.”

Fabian sounded extremely worn out.

Just like Harvey , he knew something was amiss with the other person.

But he just could not find anything. Not the slightest mistake could be seen either.
