The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 1661 - 1670

Each of Jade's men fought in the north and south inside the ancient boundary. They were experts with a murderous aura who sniped demonic beasts.

The person who said that was Pedro. His personality matched his name. His temper was fiercer than a leopard.

Just now, it was he who wanted to make a move on Alex.

At this moment, he had the momentum. These famous doctors were breathless as if carnage from hell appeared before them. There was even a female doctor who glanced at Pedro and immediately stiffened. The next second, her bladder was loose, and she leaked urine

Pitter patter!

The sound of urine flowing to the ground was clearly audible throughout the conference room.

Damian wiped a handful of sweat from his head, "My lord, don't be angry, the amputation is just..."

"How dare you talk about amputation?"

"Ah... I dare not. I dare not. No amputation, absolutely no amputation!" Damian also almost pissed himself in fear. He was now starting to regret allowing Jade to come to his hospital for treatment. It was only because he managed to get it by all means and with a lot of connections.

But now, he suddenly found that this errand was not good. He was afraid it was easy to invite god in but harder to send him away.

A group of well-known and famous doctors began to discuss Jade's situation. The examination reports were available and were very detailed. They had also seen the current state of her leg. The results of the discussion were that there was no other way besides amputation. However, the other party had clearly said that there would not be any amputation.

This was difficult for a large group of doctors.

"This wound is too deep. I'm afraid it has damaged the neurovascular tissue. The blood vessels at the wound are gone. It's bizarre. At this stage, how can one still walk?"

"The skin around there is all dead, right?"

"This poison is so venomous. It should have flowed all over the body. We should be right to change the blood in the whole body, right?"

Half an hour has passed, an hour has passed.

In the end, there was no decision made.

Boom!

"A bunch of losers!"

Pedro slammed his palm on the conference table. Immediately, the entire conference table was broken into pieces.

At that moment, all the doctors screamed in fear. More than two dozen doctors were so frightened that they urinated on the spot. Another two others fainted, and their stool escaped.

The entire conference room was stinky.

Jade angrily glanced at Pedro. "Pedro, what are you doing? I'll here to seek medical help. Since the doctors have no solution, are you planning to kill all the doctors here?"

Thump!

Pedro knelt before Jade. With tears streaming down his face, he cried and howled, "Commander, I am anxious! What can we do about this? You were bitten by that beast to save me. I am just a nobody, so I can die. But you, Commander, are the guardian god of America. You are in this situation because of me. I can't redeem myself. I can't redeem myself!"

His voice shook the heavens.

Kneeling on the ground, his tears poured down his face. After saying that, he slapped his face hard.

He slapped really hard. Instantly, his face was bloodied!

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 1662

"Stop!" Jade reached out and pinned Pedro to the ground. She said coldly, "I saved you at the cost of a leg. Are you repaying me with death? Then, wouldn't my leg be wasted?"

"Even if I did have my leg amputated, so what? I can still go into battle and kill the enemy! The Flying Eagles Academy needs people like you! No combat power should be sacrificed in vain, do you understand?"

Pedro fell to the ground and cried out, "Yes, I understand!"

At this moment. Another one of Jade's officers was a woman.

She said to Damian, "Honestly, my sister didn't even think that you so-called famous doctors could cure her leg! The reason why she came here is just to go through the motions. President Yoke, your old father-in-law has made a lot of effort for you and has put your medical skills forward. Unfortunately, you didn't grab the opportunity."

Damian's father-in-law, who was in the American system, had a high and mighty position.

This was also the reason why Wallace gave way to him. At this time, he couldn't care less despite being mocked by Jade's officer. This was because he knew Jade's personality.

The woman said, "I heard that the South California medical community had a Triangle River Delta medical exchange before this. There was an Immortal Doctor present. You are also from the South Californian medical community, so you should know where that Immortal Doctor is, right?"

After that...

Damian's face became a little embarrassed, "This, I really don't know."

The woman glared at him coldly, "How could you not know? You are at least considered a senior in the medical field in South California. Do you not want my sister's leg to recover? What is your intention?"

Damian almost fell to his knees when the woman asked him.

"Your Excellency, I am really not too sure because I am a bit at odds with Wallace, and Wallace hosted the Triangle River Delta Medical Exchange, so I did not go there."

"Humph! Short sighted and narrow minded!" the woman said mercilessly. "Just now, you have deliberately used words to force Wallace away, right? You were afraid that the credit for curing my sister would fall on Wallace, and your relationship with your in-laws would fall through, right?"

Damian fell to his knees under pressure released by the woman.

He was now so sorry that his intestines had turned blue. If he could have a chance to start over in life, he must tell his father-in-law that he must not invite this group of fierce and evil people and get that Five-star Warlord, Jade, poisoned to death.

"In that case, does Wallace know the whereabouts of the Immortal Doctor?" The woman scanned around coldly. "Do you know where the Immortal Doctor is?"

None of the doctors present knew.

Only after asking did they understand that these doctors were all following Damian's lead. Since Damian and Wallace did not deal with each other, they did not belong to the same camp as Wallace. If it were not for the instruction from the upper management to get Wallace to come over, they would not have welcomed Wallace at all.

"Oh, it is said that the medical world has no borders, and every doctor is benevolent. But, I see you people. Each one of you has a lot of schemes. Benevolence I have not seen. Greed is written on your face!"

"Dean Damian, please, quickly, immediately, invite Wallace back."

Damian dared not say a word.

He called out to Wallace on the spot. "Old Yoke, where have you been? How dare you run away from Commander Benmore's consultation? Come back to me immediately. Commander Benmore has something to ask you."

Wallace was still angry, and he heard Damian's aggressive words, he was not willing to go over. So, he said, "President Damian, I am a mediocre doctor compared to you because of my lack of knowledge. You'd better hire someone else!"

After saying that, the call ended.

Damian looked at Jade's sister and said, "He won't come."

"Slap!"

The woman slapped him on the face. "I asked you to invite Wallace back. Did you say you did just that? At moments like this, you are still giving me that sloppiness. Do you think I don't dare to kill you?"

In the end, Damian could only call Wallace again. This time, it was in a low voice.

He knew that he could not afford to piss off these people in front of him. Even his father-in-law had to be respectful in front of Jade. If his father-in-law knew what happened today, he would reprimand him!

Half an hour later. Wallace arrived. He had no choice but to come. He couldn't afford to mess with a five-star warlord.

In America, she was considered the top figure, even the American Grand Chief had to be polite whenever he saw her.

Wallace arrived and saw the wreckage in the conference room. Everyone was trembling. There were piles of urine and feces on the ground. The stench was puffy, and he was stunned. He did not expect to see such a scene.

"Benmore... Commander!"

Pedro, an impatient man, immediately asked, "Wallace, quickly tell me. Where is the Immortal Doctor who appeared at the Triangle River Delta Medical Exchange?"

"..."

Wallace was a bit stunned. He thought that he was called here to attend the consultation. Unexpectedly, they were looking for Alex.

However, earlier, Alex had been beaten up. What was this then?

The man who picked the stone had smashed his own feet.

From what he knew about Alex, he was not a person who was easy to deal with. He had just been beaten up badly until he was bleeding, and they wanted him to rush here to treat someone? Unless he were brain dead, this would never happen.

Wallace said, "What do you want from him?"

Pedro said, "Are you talking nonsense? Why else would you look for the Immortal Doctor? Of course, it is to cure the disease! The Commander's condition cannot be delayed. All the doctors here are wine bags, simply helpless."

Wallace shook his head, "He won't agree to come over."

"Why? How dare he! The health of the commander-in-chief is more important than anything. If he does not come, it's treason! Tell me quickly. Where is the Immortal Doctor? I'll personally invite him. I'll see if he dares to put up a show."

Wallace replied, "He came and left."

The crowd was stunned.

Jade's sister asked, "When did he come? How could we not know?"

Wallace let out a laugh, "Didn't you just beat him up and chased him away? How could you not know that he was bleeding?"

"What? That kid, that's the Immortal Doctor?" Pedro jumped up.

Everyone else's jaw dropped.

How could the Immortal Doctor be so young?

Impossible!

"Wallace, are you talking in your sleep? Those two people, they were clearly your apprentices, and now you are saying that he is the Immortal Doctor! Are you trying to use such a move to humiliate Commander Bemnore? Do you know that this way of yours, if in ancient times, is equivalent to the crime of deceiving the king?" Damian loudly scolded.

"Believe it or not, it's up to you."

Pedro asked, "Where is he now?"

Wallace said, "He's been seriously injured and can't be treated in this hospital, so naturally, he's looking for a place where he can be cured! He came a long way to attend the consultation and ended up being beaten and bleeding. Do you think he will come back?"

"This..." Pedro was speechless for a while.

In front of everyone, Wallace made a call to Alex, but it didn't get through at all. The other party had switched off his phone.

Wallace said, "The phone can't be reached. I can't help."

Pedro said, "I'll go find him, capture him, and bring him back."

"Pedro, don't mess things up!" one of Jade's men said.

Jade was shocked. She didn't expect that the person she was looking for was actually that kid! She had just beaten someone up to the point of bleeding, and now she was begging for that person to cure her. It seemed a little embarrassing. Most importantly, she had a bad impression of Alex.

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 1664

With that kind of relationship with Luna, he had another girlfriend!

Wasn't this a relationship scam?

Due to some of her experiences, this was the kind of person she hated the most.

"It's better for me to invite him!" Jade's sister stepped forward and said.

Her name was Nora. She was not Jade's blood sister but Jade's officer. The two had a good relationship and had formed a strong bond, so she addressed Jade as her sister.

Jade nodded.

***

On the other hand, Alex was at Phoebe's home. His injuries were actually not serious. Jade did not take his life, plus the Mystic Armor blocked it. So, its remaining power was limited.

Cheryl was still angry.

When she came back, she told Phoebe everything, adding salt and pepper to it while scolding Jade a lot.

Phoebe said in surprise, "I didn't know America has a five-star warlord! This is a time of peace. There is no war anymore. Where did this five-star warlord come from? Humph, it must be another person who has risen to the top by relying on her father's grace."

Alex shook his head, "I know a bit about this person. Cheryl, don't look at her as if she is almost as old as us. In fact, she is ancient, at least thirty years ago, she is nearly as old as us now."

"What? So, she's fifty or sixty years old?"

"For people who have cultivated, the higher the cultivation level, the more long-live they would be. People with as high a cultivation level as her can live at least several hundred years. Fifty or sixty years is nothing."

"This... This is too crazy," Phoebe said in surprise.

At this time, Cheryl ran to Phoebe's room to change clothes. Just now, she was dressed quite formally but also stained with a bit of blood.

It was the moment Cheryl closed the door of the room. Phoebe jumped up and sat in Alex's arms.

"It's been so long, but you haven't called me. You're so cruel! After using me, you turn your back on me!"

She was unhappy and wanted to settle the score. It made sense.

She was nearly thirsty like a tiger. Having consumed bone marrows for years, she knew the taste of men. Alex suddenly disappeared without a trace, leaving her alone for more than a month, or even nearly two months. Anyone would not have been able to bear it. Earlier, the legs of the two were tangled together under the table.

"The situation was special as I went to a place without a communication signal, in which I stayed for a month, plus there were a lot of things to do..."

Phoebe blocked his words with her mouth. Everything, all in one kiss.

However, the two were behaving inconspicuously for fear that Cheryl would come out at any time. They were afraid of being discovered by her and could only have a shallow taste of each other before they had to stop.

Phoebe said, "Come to my room at night. I want to see you."

At this moment. Alex felt that someone was staring at him.

Lifting his head, he saw a woman outside the glass window.

"It's her!"

Alex immediately recognized that the woman was the same person who stood next to Commander Jade. She was also an expert and unfathomable.

Alex stared at the woman.

The woman also stared at him through the window. After a while.

Nora was the first to speak, "Do you want to stare at me like this until it gets dark? It's windy outside. Shouldn't you invite me in to have a seat?"

"Huh?" Phoebe exclaimed.

Her house was a high-rise residence on the fifteenth floor, and the window was slippery outside, without any handles. So, how was she standing there?

Alex asked, "When did you get here?"

Nora blinked and said, "Oh, I can come here whenever you want me to."

Alex understood. The woman's words amounted to a condition... But she must not have come here to hang out or to kill him, but to ask for his help.

"It seems that it is Commander Benmore's illness that is a bit troublesome.

"For a woman with such high cultivation, ordinary sickness will not hurt her body. For her to withdraw from the battlefield to seek medical treatment, I think the injury is not light. How could ordinary doctors know how to cure her?"

"But the horrifying aspect is that even though the woman is seriously injured, her force is still so strong, which is a bit unbelievable."

Alex stood up and opened the window. However, he did not intend to let her in.

Looking at Nora at this time, suspended in mid-air, Alex was shocked. To reach this level, this woman must be at the cultivation stage of Nascent Soul.

'What kind of realm had Jade reached?'

Inside the ancient boundary, it must be extraordinary. At this moment, he suddenly had a strong desire to go inside and take a look.

"Are you not going to let me in?" Nora said with a smile.

Alex said, "Climbing through a window and entering a house is not what a noblewoman would do. You are here to talk to me about your family's Commander Benmore's illness, right? Let's talk about it somewhere else."

"Up to you!"

Nora grabbed Alex like a chick and flew to the rooftop.

Alex did not resist. It was useless to resist anyway.

Even if he could now fight off Nora, Jade had numerous experts under her. She was simply not at the same level as him. With just a command, the entire Rockefeller family would be destroyed.

"Strength is the hard truth!"

Alex was now incomparably eager to get strong and absolute strength. He initially thought that he had reached the top in America, but now he realized that he was simply a frog at the bottom of the well. A small soldier of the ancient battlefield had this kind of strength, so how much was there inside?

Nora put Alex down. Looking at him, she felt a little disappointed, "I thought you would be scared. I didn't think you would be so calm."

Alex rolled his eyes. 'Is your taste that bad?'

No wonder she swung him around just now. If he didn't also know how to fly with the sword, he would indeed be terrified at this moment.

"Senior, how old are you?"

Alex's question stiffened Nora, who then slapped him on the head, "Little brat, how can you casually ask a woman's age? This is taboo, understand?"

Alex decided to show his skills, more specifically, skills to flatter a woman.

When the enemy was too strong, one had to fight in another way.

"Sister, I actually admire you guys quite a bit, fighting to the death for America. Every one of you is a hero of America!"

"There is no such thing as a quiet year in the world. It is because there are you people who are carrying the weight!"

"So, when I heard that Commander Benmore was injured, I volunteered to come and do my small part. I didn't expect..."

Nora said, "Kid, although you know how to flatter, your flattering was quite acceptable! I accept it! Let me ask you, did you do something to Luna? How dare you touch that woman? Do you know who her mother is?"

Alex's back started to sweat a little.

He saw scorn in Nora's eyes.

A woman that even she was afraid of. That Old Moon Devil couldn't really be that scary, right?

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 1666

"But, I want to see what kind of angry expression that woman will make after finding out her daughter has lost her virginity!"

"It must be exhilarating!"

Alex trembled. "Is Luna's mother that terrifying?"

Nora Stewart said, "She's more than terrifying. She's simply a nightmare. To be frank with you, Luna has a husband, and that guy is terrifying too."

"It can't be, right? " Alex was stressed out. "During the time she's with me, she was still a virgin!"

Nora said, "That's the crux of the problem. She's his fiancée who has yet to be married, but you've made a move on her first. How angry do you think her fiancé will be? Old Moon Devil is very fond of that son-in-law. He's waiting for his growth and has even given him great help. Now..."

Alex stared at Nora. "Is everything you've just said true?"

"Why do I have to deceive you?"

He saw through her mind with the Divine Eyes. Alex realized that she was not lying.

Luna Flores was really an encumbrance!

"So, this load of yours came with quite a high price!" Nora Stewart said with a smile, delighting in his misfortune.

Dejected, Alex said, "She didn't tell me either. The key point is, I'm the one who's got conned."

Recalling Luna's reaction at the time, she said, "Come on, go for it. If you don't dare to go for it, then you're not a man."

Was that even a resistance? There was resistance too, but to Alex, that kind of resistance was more like temptation. Luna was the one who took the initiative in the hot spring as well.

After associating her smutty nature, Alex felt that he had been conned for real.

Nora's expression lit up. "What? I didn't hear wrongly, right? Do you mean that Luna was the one who forced herself on you? You were coerced to do it?"

As soon as Alex thought about Luna's demonic Chi, he nodded his head.

"Hahahaha..."

The woman burst into laughter, with her bosom faltering. Alex was terrified that something might fall out of it.

Alex glanced at her twice and said, "You came to me just to tell me about this matter?"

Nora said, "Naturally, it's because of my sister's injury. I heard that you're known as the Immortal Doctor, so I've especially come to find you! Luna's matter was just casually mentioned, but I might as well show you a clear direction. No matter who had made the first move between you and Luna, you've taken away Luna's virginity in Old Moon Devil's eyes. The same goes for the family of Luna's fiancé. You're the one who has stolen his fiancée. Once the news is exposed, you will be in a perilous situation. You'll be found even if you've escaped to the edge of the world! The only way of survival is to rely on my sister."

"My sister is the only Five-star Warlord in America. You understand the power within it, right? As long as you hang on my sister's coattails by joining Flying Eagles, then you will be my sister's member. If Old Moon Devil and that guy want to deal with you, they even have to consider my sister! And, if your medical skills are really as powerful as the rumors, you'll definitely have a promising prospect in Flying Eagles. You'll receive my sister's appreciation for sure. She's not willing to let go of talent like you."

Alex understood it.

"After making such a big roundabout way, it turns out that you want me to join Flying Eagles and dedicate my life to you people?"

Nora was suddenly enraged and grabbed the clothes in front of his chest. "Who was the one saying such nice words like there are no so-called peaceful times because someone else is bearing the cross earlier! Were you talking nonsense? Since you've screwed Luna, you must have known about some situations. Let me tell you the truth, the ancient force field is getting weaker, and it'll be at its limit soon. If there's no strong support, it'll collapse in half a year at most. When the time comes, where are you going to look for a peaceful life?"

"Just five days ago, our three bases had been destroyed one after another. Five hundred brothers and sisters were killed in the wilderness. For whom do you think we're dedicating our lives to?"

When the woman was talking, her eyes reddened with a n overwhelming murderous intent.

Alex bore the brunt by clearly feeling the spirit that had walked out of the mountain of corpses and the bloody sea.

"I'll treat Commander Benmore's injury, but I need to consider the matter of joining Flying Eagles."

"Alright! Then, I want to test your medical skills to see if your Immortal Doctor title is fake. Check my pulse and tell me my condition."

Alex checked her pulse. After ten seconds, he let go of her hand and said, "Sis, you're forty eight years old and have no man yet."

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 1668

He had finally understood the feeling that keeping the king company in ancient times was as dangerous as living with a tiger.

Alex had pondered for a full fifteen minutes. During the period, Jade just looked at him like that, and Alex did not even speak a word.

Until a certain moment, his eyes lit up as he said, "I do have a way. It depends on whether you dare to try it!"

Jade Benmore laughed and said, "I, Jade Benmore, have been running rampant for decades. Since when have I ever been afraid? Just tell me."

Alex said two words, "Leg replacement!"

"What do you mean?"

This time, Jade was shocked.

Alex said, "Literally, find someone with a leg that looks like yours. Whether it's a man's leg or a woman's leg, it'd be fine either way! Remove your leg and then replace it with someone else's leg! Of course, it'd be best if it's from a woman because some differences still exist between the legs of a man and woman."

Jade said coldly, "If you replace my leg with a good leg, wouldn't that person lose his or her leg?"

Alex said, "So, someone has to be a volunteer! It'd be the best if it's someone with a decent cultivation base."

Jade slapped him down. "Absolutely not!"

Then, Jade stared at his leg. "If you insist on such a plan, I'll use your leg."

Alex would undoubtedly be reluctant to do it!

"If you can't get a living person's leg, then... The leg of someone who has just died is fine too."

Jade said, "To be frank with you, my body is extraordinary. Someone else's leg may not be able to be attached to my body! I just want my leg. You have to find a way for me. If you can't figure it out, I'll gouge your eyes."

Alex trembled. 'F*ck, how can there be such an unreasonable woman?'

In the end, he thought of a way again. "There's a way!"

Jade smiled. "Look at you. All the methods have been forced out of you. Brat, a knife has to be held by your neck to force a good method out of you. Tell me, what's the method this time?"

"Amputation!"

The hands that Jade was putting on her pants paused. Her expression sank.

She had made a big fuss by going out to seek a doctor just because she did not want an amputation! If she had really wanted to amputate her limb, she would have done it ages ago and did not even need help from others.

"I haven't finished talking yet. After the amputation, I'll take away your leg and use a special method to remove the toxins on the leg. Then, I'll put it back for you."

Jade exclaimed, "Is there even such a treatment? What's the method used to remove the toxins? This toxin is different from the common ones. It's from an extremely venomous snake that we call a Giant Coiled Dragon."

Alex said, "No problem, I'll handle it."

As for the method of detoxification, Alex felt that Jade should not be able to accept it.

Jade and Alex looked at each other for a long time. Finally, she said, "When will you start?"

"The sooner, the better! I'll do it now!"

"Alright!"

Then, Jade took off her pants again.

Half an hour later, Jade's leg had been amputated by Alex bare-handedly. To be more precise, it had been torn off. In fact, this process was quite painful, but surprisingly, Jade did not even let out a scream.

'She's amazing!'

Alex rarely admired a woman, but Jade was really a special case.

"I'll take my leave now!"

"When the leg is done, I'll contact you!"

While carrying Jade's leg, he opened the door and walked out right away.

Nora, who was waiting outside, jumped in shock. "This... Isn't this my sister's leg? I asked you to hang on to my sister's coattails. Why are you carrying her leg away?"

She hurriedly looked at Jade inside the room.

'Didn't she just lose a leg? How long has it been? You just amputated her leg without stirring up a commotion. You're really amazing!'

Soon after, Jade's subordinates all rushed over. They had been keeping an eye on Alex since he entered the room. Seeing Alex holding Jade's amputated leg, they were about to go out of their minds.

"Brat, I'll kill you!"

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 1669

Jade Benmore was the goddess in their minds. No one could bear having their goddess' leg amputated. Not only Jade's subordinates but the dean of the hospital, Damian Yoke, ran over with a group of specialists like dogs.

When Damian saw Alex had amputated Jade's leg, he was startled for a brief moment before he gloated over his misfortune.

He was relieved of anger at Jade's amputation. 'You have acted tyrannically in front of me. You'd still become a cripple in the end, right?'

As for Alex, he was less interested in him.

"He's still called the Immortal Doctor, huh? With this measly capability, didn't he just amputate his patient's leg in the end?" Damian sneered and looked at Wallace Yoke, who came along. "So, this is the Immortal Doctor that you flatter so much. From what I see, he's a quack whom you've found somewhere else, right? Commander Benmore already said that she doesn't want an amputation. As a result, he still amputated her leg. And, it was done in our hospital's ward instead of the operating room. What is this called? It's simply a disregard for human lives."

Wallace was stunned as well.

However, he believed that Alex had his reasons and said, "Dean Yoke, if Commander Benmore was unwilling, do you think that Master Rockefeller could have forcefully amputated her leg?"

"Uh..?"

What he said made sense too!

Jade's subordinates calmed down one after another as well.

Alex said, "Now, I'm going to take Commander Benmore's leg for detoxification treatment. You people are blocking my way. Do you not want to cure Commander Benmore?"

"But..." Pedro NacInnan's eyes widened.

A human's leg was not a machine that could be removed and repaired before putting it back. Was this not nonsense?

"Let him leave!" Jade stood in front of the room's entrance with one leg on the ground.

Even if she had one less leg, her presence was still majestic and overbearing.

When Alex had amputated her leg earlier, the technique used was very peculiar. She saw it for the first time in her life. Alex had used the Zharvakko talisman to draw a blood talisman. The amputation process was similar to dismantling a machine. The flesh-cutting technique was also very impressive, and not much blood had been shed.

Thus, Jade anticipated Alex's medical skills as well. Who would be willing to lose one leg?

"But, Commander, how can you let this brat take your leg away?" Pedro's expression twitched. He felt that this scene was ridiculous.

However, Alex had left the place quickly.

"Nora, hurry up and follow him. Don't let this brat ruin Commander's leg. This fellow won't use Commander's leg to do some nasty things, right?"

As soon as he said that, everyone's expression became strange.

Jade was slightly angry. "Pedro, it looks like your hobbies are a little unique. Tonight, I'll have you sleep while hugging a carbon rod."

Alex walked out, carrying the leg. The leg was really heavy. It was much heavier than an ordinary person's leg!

No one had stopped him along the way. No one would treat this leg to be a living person's leg.

They would think that it was a leg that had been removed from a wooden dummy.

Jade stood by the windowsill on the seventeenth floor. Seeing Alex carrying her fair leg and swaggering through the streets, she almost could not help making her subordinates bring him back.

‘Really, what a crazy brat.’

There was an unreadable void in Jade’s eyes.

“Master Rockefeller! Master Rockefeller, wait for me! Wait for me!”

As soon as he walked out of the hospital’s entrance, he heard Wallace shouting from behind.

Alex stopped in his tracks. “Wallace, how many times have I told you? Don’t call me ‘Master’. In terms of seniority, I’m much younger than you. Just call me Alex.”

“No, no, no! You deserve the title ‘Master’!”

Seeing his stubbornness, he had no other choice but to say, “Wallace, you were so anxious to call out to me. Are you interested in this leg too?”

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 1670

Wallace said, “Master Rockefeller’s methods are unbelievable. I wonder if I can have a chance to join such an amazing treatment process? ”

Alex smiled. “It’s not a big deal. If you want to see it, just come with me then!”

When they were talking, he saw Nora had come out of the hospital to chase after him. Clearly, she was here for supervision.

Nora was a ticking bomb. It would be inconvenient for Alex to find Phoebe and Cheryl with her around. In other words, the appointment of the boudoir was going to fall through.

Nora asked, "How do you plan to cure my sister's leg? Don't you need to freeze the leg first?"

Alex raised Jade's leg and instantly slammed it into a tree next to him. With a crack sound, the leg did not break, but the tree snapped.

"Why would you need to freeze such a hard leg?"

Jade's eyebrows twitched violently as she witnessed the entire scene on the seventeenth floor. A person with such a high level of cultivation base would feel her body shake a little too.

'B*stard! What a b*stard!'

'If you can't cure my leg, I'll chop off your legs for sure!'

Meanwhile, Alex started to order Wallace and Nora around.

"Wallace, I'll write a prescription. Please help me to prepare some medicinal herbs."

"Nora, please help me to get twenty-two pounds of earthworms and 4.4 pounds of maggots."

Wallace's mission was straightforward.

Nora was shocked and turned pale with fright. "What are you going to do with earthworms? And, you even want maggots. Aren't you disgusting? I won't do it!"

Alex said, "Sis, do you want Commander's to be cured? Now the leg has already been removed, what follows next is a race against time. It isn't good to delay even a second. After a long time, this leg will really be ruined."

Nora was worried about Jade. Without any choice, she could only follow his instruction.

An hour later, Alex placed Jade's leg in a bathtub that had been filled with water in a certain room at the hotel.

Wallace was full of curiosity. "Master Rockefeller, the medicinal herbs that you asked me to prepare are all ordinary medicinal herbs. These medicinal herbs are completely incompatible with detoxification. What are their functions?"

Alex smiled. "They will work their wonders."

As he spoke, he turned around and looked at Nora. "Nora, the next scene will be a bit much. Would you like to avoid it?"

Nora stared at him as her expression changed abruptly. "Could it be that you're going to place all these earthworms and maggots into it? You d*mn brat, if my sister knows you treat her leg like this, she will kill you."

Alex said, "That is why, you can't tell her about it."

As he spoke, he poured the buckets of earthworms and maggots next to him into the bathtub right away. The cramped, disgusting little things wriggled over Jade's leg while crawling and drilling around.

Nora almost wanted to vomit.

Next, Alex ground the medicinal herbs brought by Wallace into powder bare-handedly before throwing them into the bathtub.

The worms inside wriggled even more vigorously.

Wallace suddenly slapped his forehead. "I've understood it. This is the legendary maggot treatment. It can devour the rotten tissues on the leg, and it's even more thorough than surgery! But, I don't really understand these earthworms..."

Alex said, "There are causes and effects as well as mutual promotions and restraints among the living things in the world. Everything has its own rules. Don't look down at these little earthworms. They're little experts in detoxification. It will depend on these meritorious earthworms whether Commander Benmore can be recovered to its original state."

As soon as he finished speaking, he drew a Zharvakko talisman in mid-air and slapped it into the bathtub.

In the next second, countless earthworms randomly crawled onto Jade's dark leg...

Bleugh!

Nora really could not bear it anymore. She hurriedly stepped backward.

She thought, 'If Sis were to witness this scene, she wouldn't want this leg for sure. It's too disgusting. She'll have a nightmare at night!'

However, Wallace watched it with relish. "Great! It's really great! It's too great!"

Bleugh!

This time, she could not hold it and vomited for real. She even vomited all over Alex.
