

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 1461 - 1465

Chapter 1461

Tammy really worked hard to prepare for pregnancy.

“Lend me your cell phone.” He put down his bag and asked the nanny to borrow his cell phone.

The nanny immediately went to get the phone and handed it to him.

He used the nanny’s mobile phone to dial Tammy’s number.

After a few seconds, the call was connected.

“Tammy, tell me clearly, How did I provoke you, and you want to cut ties with me?” Jun planned to have a good talk with her, but as soon as he called, his temper flared.

“Whose number did you use to call?”

“The nanny at home. You are so naive. Do you think you are still a little girl like Gwen? You can always play the blacklist, you can count it by yourself. After we are together, how many times have you blocked me in total.”

Tammy listened to his roar and wanted to laugh: “If I want to block, block me, you can control it? Go and have children with other women, you give What am I doing on the phone? Do you think I’m not enough to respond?”

Jun was silent, then looked up at the nanny and asked, “You said that when Tammy came, my parents had already left, so what my parents said, Did you tell Tammy?”

The nanny immediately lowered her head: “Yes, I just want to persuade Tammy.”

“Get out of here.” Jun was furious.

Dudu Dudu! On the other side of the phone, Tammy hung up.

With a ‘bang’, Jun smashed the phone in his hand to the ground.

Yonroeville.

Elliot frowned after taking a few mouthfuls of porridge.

Avery put the bowl aside and wiped his mouth with a tissue.

Doctors and nurses had left the ward.

Now, besides the two of them, there were Avery's bodyguards in the ward.

The bodyguard came to deliver food to Avery.

The bodyguards of the Jobin family who were guarding outside the ward before have already evacuated, so now the bodyguards can stay here without any scruples.

Avery unbuttoned two buttons of Elliot's hospital uniform, and planned to bring water to wipe his body.

"It's very late, you go back to rest." Avery said to the bodyguard.

"Drive me away so early?" The bodyguard was reluctant to get up, "Okay, I'll go, I won't disturb the world of the two of you."

The bodyguard took the garbage out and closed the door.

Avery walked to the bathroom, took a pot of hot water, and put it on the cabinet.

"Elliot, apart from the pain in your body, how is your head feeling now?" Avery asked because his head injury wasn't serious.

Although Lorenzo was ruthless, he was a bit measured.

"It's okay." After eating a few mouthfuls of porridge, he felt refreshed.

"That's good." Avery picked up the towel from the basin, wringed it dry, and wiped his face, "I want to ask you a question about the child in Rebecca's belly."

She saw his calm eyes, and suddenly There were waves.

"Is the child in her womb yours? I won't be angry if you confess to me now. But if you lie to me, I will definitely be angry." Avery wiped his face and threw the towel into the basin

Elliot looked at her sullen face, his voice was flat and hoarse: "It's not mine."

Avery didn't relax because of this: "That child was not conceived normally, it was a test tube. Did you provide her with your?"

“No.” Elliot interrupted her. “Why doubt me?”

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 1462

Chapter 1462

This was the longest sentence Elliot said after he was waking up.

Avery looked into his eyes, stunned for two seconds, and explained, “I originally believed in you, but Rebecca told me that the child in her womb belongs to you, so I asked you again.”

Elliot: “So?”

“Well, she didn’t tell me directly at first, she told Layla.” Avery rubbed the towel in the basin, wrung it dry, and wiped his body, “Layla was crying. Layla cared about you very much.”

Elliot’s emotions suddenly became agitated.

“Elliot, don’t be angry yet. I’ve explained it to Layla.” Avery held his face in her palm and stroked gently, “Rebecca lied to me, saying that you were determined to make a clean break with me, so I didn’t even listen to my phone. I suspected something was wrong, so I called Nick to confirm. I found out that she really lied.”

“Since you know Rebecca lied, why do you still ask about my child?” Elliot asked her back.

Avery froze for a moment: “Probably because of the child, there is no need to lie. After all, you can know the truth by doing a paternity test. I don’t think Rebecca is such a stupid person, how dare she use this to deceive me?”

After her voice was settled, the phone she put on the table rang.

Avery put down the towel, picked up the phone, saw that it was Layla calling, and took it immediately.

Avery couldn’t wait for her daughter to see that Elliot had woken up.

“Layla, your father is awake.” Avery turned the camera to Elliot.

When Layla saw her father, she immediately said excitedly: “Dad, you finally woke up, I’m so worried about you.”

Elliot looked at her daughter’s smiling face and listened to her tender voice, with a smile in her eyes: “Dad is fine.”

“Dad, why are you being beaten? Who beat you? You tell me his name, and when I grow up, I’ll teach that person a lesson.” Layla said angrily.

Layla has a notepad. It remembered who and so had asked her to borrow money, and who had made her angry.

If she didn’t remember it in a notebook, it would be easy to forget. Because she is not too vengeful, and she doesn’t want to suffer, so she uses a small book to remember.

Elliot couldn’t help laughing: “Layla, Dad is all right.”

“Oh...then when are you coming back?” Layla’s words were sharper than the last, “I don’t like your new wife, you must talk to that The woman breaks up. Otherwise, I won’t let you go back to our house. I won’t let you see your brother.”

Avery sweated on her back. She didn’t expect her daughter to say this.

She turned the camera to herself: “Layla, mom and dad will take care of it. Don’t worry.”

Layla: “Then I’m going to do my homework. There’s a lot of homework today.”

Avery: “Well, baby has worked hard.”

After the video call hung up, Avery put the phone on the table.

In order to ease the awkward atmosphere, she asked, “Lorenzo beat you, didn’t you fight back?”

Avery remembered that Elliot’s skills were not bad. If he fought back, he wouldn’t be beaten like this.

“Lorenzo is out of anger, so I can leave here smoothly.” Elliot said hoarsely, “If I don’t come here, nothing will happen. The consequences are my own.”

“Don’t say that. Everything has been done. It’s over.” Avery pulled the quilt up to him and continued, “You are recovering well now, don’t think about anything. When your body recovers, let Rebecca do a paternity test to see if her child is yours or not.”

“If the child is mine, there is only one possibility.” Elliot saw that Avery cared so much about this matter, so he said the only possibility, “After I came here, I underwent a brain operation. After the operation, I was in a coma for three days. What happened in those three days, I don’t know.”

Avery nodded.

“I haven’t touched her since I woke up from surgery.” Elliot reiterated.

Chapter 1463

“Elliot, I feel very relieved that you are willing to explain this to me.” Avery raised her eyebrows and asked his choice according to the worst outcome, “If the child in Rebecca’s womb is really yours, What would you do?”

“I don’t want her child, and I can’t be responsible for her and her child.” Elliot knew exactly what he wanted.

“It’s enough to have your answer. This time is a painful lesson. No matter what happens in the future, I will not hide it from you again. I will tell you as soon as possible.” In her tone, it was hard to hide the guilt, “Elliot, I love you very much, and I know that you love me very much. I have always known.”

Elliot replied, “I am also at fault.”

“You are right. It is my fault.” Avery looked at him, officially confessing to him, “If I were you, I might do something more impulsive than you.”

Elliot didn’t want to continue this heavy topic.

“Can I get out of bed?” Elliot changed the subject.

“What are you thinking? You’ve broken a leg.” Avery patted his left leg, which was splinted, “but you can roll over slightly. I’ll help you.”

“My leg should be alright?” He tried to move his leg, but he didn’t feel as serious as he said, “My right leg is fine.”

“I want to get out of bed, I’ll talk about it in two days. In addition to your leg injury, your arm is also broken.” Avery took the pillow on the escort bed and put it against his back, so that his body was slightly to the right.

“Is my arm broken too?” Elliot was a little surprised.

“Are you numb from pain? Don’t your left arm hurt?” Avery looked at him in confusion.

“It doesn’t hurt very much.” Elliot felt his body carefully. It didn’t hurt too much anywhere. Otherwise he wouldn’t even want to get out of bed.

“Your arm is not as bad as your leg. When you leave the hospital, you will have to buy a wheelchair.” Avery said, her hand resting on her thigh, rubbing him moderately, “It’s uncomfortable to lie down for a few days, right?”

Elliot: “Well. When did you come?”

“Arrived yesterday. The escort bed is very comfortable, and I live here very well.” Seeing his frown slightly, Avery didn’t know what he was thinking, “What do you think? want to watch TV? Or, you can rest.”

“Let’s watch TV.” Elliot had been lethargic for a few days, but now he is really sleepy.

“It’s not convenient for you to watch TV on your side like this. I’ll show it to you on my phone.” Avery picked up the phone. “What do you want to watch? Domestic news or local news?”

Elliot: “It’s okay.”

“Then I’ll show you. Watch local news.” Avery turned on her phone, found a video showing local news, opened it, put it on the cabinet next to it, adjusted the angle, and asked him, “Will this be too high? I’ll put a bed for you. Raise your head a little bit?”

Elliot: “Well.”

After Avery adjusted the head of the hospital bed to a suitable position, she walked towards the escort bed.

Avery: “Watch TV for a while, I’ll take a shower.”

Elliot: “Okay.”

Avery took the clean clothes and walked to the bathroom.

Elliot looked at the news playing on the screen of her mobile phone, absent-mindedly.

He’s not interested in local news. Because there was no local person he cared about. He would rather see the news of Aryadelle.

His broken left hand was temporarily inflexible, but his right hand was fine. He tried to stretch out his right hand and took the phone from the table. The moment he picked up the phone, a call came in. He accidentally touched the screen and pressed the answer button.

Chapter 1464

The call was from Hayden. After he accidentally pressed the answer button, Hayden's voice immediately came: "Mom, I heard that Elliot woke up."

Elliot was very moved when he heard his son's voice.

The son cared about him, so he called to inquire about his situation.

"Mom, ask him who he chooses. If he can't bear his new wife, don't want him and go back to Aryadelle." Hayden thought that his mother was on the phone, so he spoke freely.

Elliot's emotion for the last second came to an abrupt end. It turned out that his son didn't care about him, but worried that Avery would be wronged.

It's better for a son to know that he feels sorry for his mother than to have no conscience.

"Mom, why didn't you speak? Did Elliot make you angry again?" Hayden asked in a gloomy voice.

Elliot couldn't keep silent any longer, "It's me. Your mother went to take a bath."

Hayden was silent for a while.

Elliot: "your question, I have already answered your mother."

Hayden didn't want to talk to him about his love story at all. He wanted to ask how his body was, but was ashamed to speak.

Because Hayden didn't speak, Elliot decided to take the initiative: "Hayden, are you busy with your studies now?"

After the question was asked, Hayden didn't answer.

Also, the relationship between their father and son, although not as tense as before, is not good enough to chat about everyday life.

Just when Elliot thought Hayden was going to hang up at any time, a female voice came.

“Elliot?” Gwen’s voice came.

Elliot was stunned.

The voice was...

“Where’s Hayden?” Elliot asked.

“Hayden gave me the phone and let me talk to you.” Gwen scratched her head embarrassingly, “That...I heard that you were sick and hospitalized, are you feeling better?”

“Well.” Elliot said nothing. the desire to continue.

“Do you know who I am?” Gwen asked.

–It was the first time the siblings spoke on the phone.

Elliot was completely unfamiliar with her voice, but he knew that she lived with Hayden.

“Gwen.” She said her name.

“It’s me.” Gwen heard her name being pronounced by her, her heart pounding, “Avery told me that you are not as cold as you have shown, no matter if what she said is true or not, I hope you can be well Cherish Avery. Don’t be fooled by your new wife in Yonroeville...”

Elliot frowned.

Avery finished the bath as quickly as possible and came out of the bathroom.

When Elliot saw her coming out, he handed the phone to her: “Hayden’s phone.”

Avery strode over and took the phone.

As a result, the call has been dropped.

“What did you say?” Avery asked.

“Hayden gave Gwen the phone when he heard my voice.”

Avery raised the corner of his mouth: “What did you say to Gwen?”

“She talked a lot, I didn’t remember what she said.” Elliot was a little tired .

His body has not recovered yet, and his energy is obviously unable to keep up.

Avery: "Go to sleep if you're tired."

Elliot: "Yeah."

After Elliot closed his eyes, she walked to the bedside and sat down, turned on her phone, and saw the message from Gwen.

Gwen: [Avery, did you tell him that I live with Hayden? He actually knew who I was.]

Avery: [Well, I told him.]

Gwen: [He doesn't seem to be that scary. I just had an awkward chat with him and said a lot.]

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 1465

Chapter 1465

Avery: [Did he say anything?]

Gwen: [Uh...he didn't seem to say anything. It's embarrassing, he probably thinks I'm a talker.]

Avery: [He just woke up today and is not in a good mood. If he wasn't sick, he'd definitely talk to you.]

Gwen: [Oh, I thought he had always been so reticent to talk. Are you okay with him?]

Avery: [Well, we made up.]

Gwen breathed a sigh of relief: [That's good! I knew you two would definitely make up. If Elliot doesn't cherish such a good woman as you, then he is a fool]

Avery didn't want to talk about this topic, so she sent a message to ask: [how are you? Has Ben Schaffer looked for you?]

Gwen: [On the day I pulled him out of the blacklist, he called me and said to test to see if he was pulled out. He was so boring, not at all like a man of his age.]

Avery: [It's not interesting to be old-fashioned.]

After sending this message, her eyelids became heavier and heavier. She put down her phone, lay down on the bed, and fell asleep after a while.

...

A week later.

Jun felt that Tammy seemed to have completely disappeared from his world.

Tammy especially likes to play with mobile phones. She sends a circle of friends every day. But since the day they quarreled, she never posted on the circle of friends again.

Jun thought he was blocked by her, so he asked their mutual friend, but the friend said that he hadn't seen her post on Moments.

This chapter is provided . Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

This time the two of them quarreled, and he didn't think it was necessary to have a cold war for so long.

Because Jun had already explained to her that he was different from his parents, and he couldn't listen to his parents and do such absurd things.

Without waiting for get off work, he drove to the Lynch Group.

He entered the company and was about to walk towards the elevator.

The front desk immediately chased after him: "Ms. Lynch, haven't come to the company for two days."

"What's the matter?" Jun's temple jumped up.

The front desk said, "I don't know. You can call President Lynch and ask."

Jun came out of the Lynch Group and called his mother-in-law.

"Mom, what's wrong with Tammy? The front desk said Tammy hasn't come to the company for two days. Is she feeling unwell or what?" Jun asked anxiously.

Mary looked back at her daughter who was resting on the bed.

"Tammy, it's from Jun, why don't you tell him?"

Tammy snorted coldly, "I don't want to talk to him."

Tammy's voice was particularly loud.

Over the phone, Jun could hear the conversation between the mother and daughter clearly.

Jun's temper was much more restrained now than in previous years.

If it was put on hold, he would definitely hang up the phone as soon as possible.

She had the temper of the eldest young lady, and he had the temper of the eldest young master!

“Tammy, what are you doing with him? It’s not his bad idea. Besides, he called me.”
Mary persuaded her daughter with kind words.

“He’s only calling now, it’s been a week.” Tammy became angrier the more she thought about it, she simply hugged the quilt and covered her head.

“Tammy, don’t hold your breath. Pregnancy is prone to lack of oxygen.” Mary lowered the quilt that her daughter was holding.

On the other side of the phone, Jun froze when he heard the word ‘pregnant’.

“Mom! Mom! Sweetie is pregnant?”

The mobile phone in Mary’s hand made a super strong external voice.

Mary turned on the speakerphone: “Yes, come here.”

“Mom. If you let him come, I’ll leave.” Tammy sat up from the bed, “His parents are too much. I can’t being wronged like this.”

Jun understood her stubborn temper, and immediately said: “Mom, tell Tammy, I won’t go. Let her rest well and don’t get angry.”

After talking on the phone, Jun said Immediately call Avery for help, “Avery, Tammy is pregnant. But before she found out she was pregnant, she was very angry with my parents. I wanted to apologize to her but she refused to see me. Her stubborn temper didn’t listen to her mother at all. Now only you can help me...”
