Chapter 1356

Rebecca deduced from Avery's behavior of chasing love for thousands of miles and running to Yonroeville to find Elliot that Elliot might like active women.

And Rebecca had been too passive before. So tonight she has to take the initiative. Unexpectedly, Elliot lifted her hand away.

"Rebecca, I forgot to tell you something." Elliot quickly put on the nightgown and fastened his belt, "I have a problem with that."

Rebecca was stunned. She suspected that she had heard it wrong, and she frowned.

He discussed this issue with the nanny before, and the nanny said that he could have three children with Avery, and after that there must be problem in that respect.

Rebecca blushed in embarrassment, and withdrew her little hand at a loss: "Then you used to..."

"It used to be before, and now is now. Once a man turns 30, his physical strength will not be as good as before." Elliot Seriously admitting that he has a problem, "My problem is more serious than that of ordinary men. I can't tell the world about this kind of thing, and I hope you don't say it. You can have children with other men. I will put yours at that time. The child treats it as if it were her own."

Rebecca was completely stunned. She shook her head instinctively after being stunned for a moment.

"If you don't want to find it yourself, I can help you find it." Elliot looked down at her and discussed with her, "How about my bodyguard? Although he is your father's bodyguard. He is very smart. If you find him, he will save a lot of trouble, and your father won't bother us again and again about having children."

Rebecca was stunned. She looked pale and said unwillingly: "But didn't you have a relationship with Avery not long ago? Why can't you?"

Elliot retorted coldly, "Who told you that I had a relationship with her? you saw it?"

Rebecca shook her head with tears in his eyes: "I didn't see it...but I always thought you were normal, after all, you and Avery had three children..."

"That was the past. When I saw a beautiful woman like you now, my body would not react." His fingers brushed against her pretty cheeks.

Rebecca looked down at his private part which was completely down and not responded.

Elliot suddenly retracted his finger and asked her to make a choice, "Go confess to your father, or have a baby with a bodyguard."

Rebecca was in a particularly messy mood, and she didn't want to choose either.

"Can I accompany you to the hospital for treatment? What if it can be cured?" she begged.

"Healing? Are you afraid that others won't know that I have a problem?" Elliot raised his lips and retorted.

"No...I want you to be healthy..."

"I'm healthy, except for that." Elliot confessed again that he couldn't satisfy her.

A man wouldn't say such a thing if it wasn't really bad.

Rebecca's face turned ashen and her body went cold.

Elliot sat down beside the bed, and said, "If you want to divorce me, after a while, you can talk to your father. Now that your eldest brother just left and your father is depressed. Don't bother him with our affairs. "

Rebecca sat down beside him, expressing her attitude, "I won't divorce you. Even if you can't do that, I won't divorce you. Elliot, let's go to bed tonight, please let me think about it again."

"Yes." Elliot raised his hand and turned off the light.

Today in the hotel during the day, Elliot saw Avery when he was sending Cristian to the funeral.

Nick told him that Avery was here. Nick also told Elliot that Avery was wearing a blue skirt today. So he glanced at the crowd and found her figure.

Although Elliot only glanced at her from a distance, he saw the tears streaming down her face.

That picture has always existed in his mind, lingering. Elliot always believed in his inner feelings. Now he understands Whoever loves him and who is using him will give correct guidance in his heart.

He already has three children and he doesn't want any more. If he can't take the responsibility of a father for his child, why give birth to a child?

So he would rather admit that he can't than give Rebecca a chance.

In the hotel.

Avery opened her eyes and looked at the ceiling in a daze.

Chapter 1357

After returning to the room from dinner, she has been in this state until now. She kept asking herself in her heart, did she really reach a dead end? Is it really desperate?

No inner voice responded to her.

Because Avery knows better than anyone that in the current situation. she is not only unable to protect herself, let alone save her and Elliot's love.

Even if Elliot recovered his memory now and called her to say that the woman he loved the most in his life was her, it would not help.

In the face of life and death, everything seems so insignificant.

About 2:00 in the morning, when Avery was about to turn off the lights to sleep, the screen of her mobile phone suddenly lit up, and a text message came in.

Seeing the message was sent from Elliot, her heart beat violently, as if she was resurrected from a dying state.

Elliot replied to the message she sent the day before yesterday: [Wait a minute.]

After reading these words over and over several times, 10 minutes passed.

She hesitated whether to reply to him, and 10 minutes passed. Just when she made up her mind to send him a message and ask him about his next plan, half an hour passed.

–It’s already 3:00 in the morning, Elliot must be asleep, right?

–Message him now, it’s too late.

–Everything is too late.

–If she had told him the truth earlier, he would not have come to Yonroeville in a hurry.

–If he doesn’t come to Yonroeville, he won’t become Kyrie’s pawn.

This chapter is provided by . Visit for daily update.

–Or, if she listened to him at first and left Yonroeville earlier, Hayden wouldn’t sneak up to kill Cristian, and Elliot wouldn’t be bound here for the rest of his life.

–Really I did a lots of wrong steps?

Her head suddenly throbbed violently. After taking a deep breath, she opened the drawer, found the painkiller and quickly put the tablet into her mouth.

Elliot asked her to wait, not knowing how long it would take.

Perhaps, Avery can do the operation here first. Regardless of whether Elliot can return to Aryadelle in the future, she will live well and raise their three children.

Painkillers work quickly. When the pain in her head subsided, she turned off the bedside light.

A few hours later, it was dawn.

At breakfast, Avery told Xander that she could have surgery first.

Xander was very excited.

“But I didn’t fall asleep last night. I have to go back to my room to catch up after having breakfast.” Avery didn’t fall asleep for a minute last night.

She was very sleepy now.

Xander said sympathetically, “Well, don’t worry. As long as you agree to the operation, you’ll be fine in a few days. I’ll go to the hospital to book a ward and an operating room for you.”

Avery: “Xander, thank you.”

"It's not too late for you to thank me when the operation is successful." Xander brought her a glass of warm milk and continued, "Drink the milk first, then sleep well."

"Well."

After breakfast, Xander went to the hospital.

Entering the hospital, he was suddenly attracted by a familiar shadow.

Why did Rebecca come to the hospital?

Xander couldn't help but follow in Rebecca's footsteps and followed her.

It was mainly because Avery was not in a hurry to be hospitalized, so he let himself gossip like this.

When he saw Rebecca walking towards the male department, Xander strode forward and stopped her: "Miss Jobin, why are you coming to the male department?"

Chapter 1358

A woman, coming to see andrology, is quite puzzling.

Rebecca winked at the accompanying bodyguard and asked the bodyguard to step back first.

Rebecca asked Xander, "Why are you in the hospital? Are you coming to see the male department?"

Xander scratched his head awkwardly: "No, I came with you."

"You followed me?" Rebecca frowned warily.

"No, you misunderstood me. I came to the hospital today for something. Didn't I tell you before that Avery and I are classmates? I'm also a doctor. I also eat dinner with the vice president of this hospital, ."

After getting his explanation, Rebecca let go of his vigilance.

“I’m not here to see a doctor, I’m here to ask some questions.” Rebecca woke up this morning and found that Elliot was no longer around.

The nanny said Elliot left early.

Elliot didn’t say where he was going or when he would come back.

Rebecca felt uncomfortable, so she came to the andrology department of the hospital to ask about the men’s problems, whether they could be treated well, and the impact on having children.

Rebecca’s actually quite shy. Her family education is very strict. Before marrying Elliot, she had no close contact with the male person.

If she wasn’t forced to, she would never come to the male department.

“Consulting questions about andrology?” Xander’s mouth raised a smile, “You see there are quite a few patients today, why don’t you ask me first, in case I can answer your questions?”

Rebecca glanced at the male department. If she went over, there was need to line up. It’s just that there were a lot of male patients queuing outside, which made her a little embarrassed.

This chapter is provided by . Visit for daily update.

Rebecca struggled again and again, walked out of the male department, and decided to ask Xander first. If Xander didn’t understand, she would come and ask the doctor.

The two sat down in a breakfast restaurant outside the hospital.

Xander had breakfast, so he ordered a drink and Rebecca didn’t order anything.

“Doctor Xander, is it true that a man can’t do it after he is 30 years old?” Rebecca asked in a low voice.

Xander choked abruptly: “No, isn’t it? Why do you ask that? Who in your family is not good?”

Rebecca frowned: “Keep your voice down. Who do you think is not good in my family? Could it be my father? Even if my dad is dead, he won’t tell me.”

“Oh...then you mean...Elliot?” Xander didn’t think about him because he should be fine.

Otherwise, Avery wouldn't be pregnant again so soon.

"Don't say it. Otherwise he will be angry." Rebecca took a deep breath, "Last night my dad asked us to have a baby quickly, so when I got home, I wanted to make out with Elliot, but he didn't have no interest on me. He said he couldn't do that."

Poof!

Xander wiped his mouth with a tissue.

–This Elliot is very interesting.

–There is absolutely no problem with him, and he was able to refuse Rebecca.

–Rebecca looks sweet and cute, and has a good figure. Most men can't hold her when they see her.

–But when Elliot faced her, his heart was still in the water which could only show that he had other women in his heart.

Rebecca frowned, "Doctor Xander, isn't this disease incurable? Of course, no matter if it is cured or not, he doesn't intend to cure it. But my dad asked me to give him a baby."

Xander said, "Elliot won't let you touch it? Even if it's not very good in that respect, as long as it's not a problem with sperm quality, it won't affect fertility."

Chapter 1359

"He won't let me touch." Rebecca lowered her eyes, "Avery can touch him, but I can't."

"Then why don't you find a way to send us away?"

Whether you go to Aryadelle or Bridgedale, it is better than staying here.

Rebecca sneered: "Doctor Xander, I didn't expect you to follow me to beg me to help you."

“You also know that Elliot has Avery in his heart. Only by letting Avery leave here can your relationship with Elliot heat up. I’m really trying to help you find a way.”

Rebecca was in pain, “Hehe, if I have a way to send you away, can I help? I hate Avery more than anyone else. If I can’t give birth Child, my father will definitely blame me. Do I really want to have a child with another man?”

Xander’s heart skipped a beat: “You want to have a child with another man, pretending to be you and Elliot?”

“It was his idea. I think this idea is terrible. I don’t want other men to touch me.” Rebecca said in disgust.

“Then you can choose IVF.” Xander helped her find a way.

Rebecca said sadly, “He won’t give me his sperm. He doesn’t love me at all.”

“Oh...” Xander reconciled, a bold thought suddenly appeared in his mind, “Miss Jobin, if you can conceive Elliot’s child, but the mother is not you, would you like it?”

Rebecca: “.....”

How can she conceive Elliot’s child, and the child’s mother is not herself?

She didn’t change her mind, so she felt that it all seemed like a fantasy.

“Miss Jobin, did you hear what I said?” Xander reached out and shook his hand in front of her.

This chapter is provided by . Visit for daily update.

Rebecca’s eyelashes trembled slightly, and she came back to her senses: “Doctor Xander, what you said just now is true? You can let me conceive Elliot’s child?”

Xander said, “To be precise, it’s not that you can conceive his child, but it is to transplant his child into your womb. If you are willing, we will continue to chat, if you are not willing, then treat me as saying nothing.”

“I do.” In order to show sincerity, Rebecca immediately promised, “As long as you can make me pregnant with Elliot’s child, I can promise to send you all out of here.”

Xander didn’t expect the matter to be resolved at once.

At least for him, all the problems were solved.

He wanted to perform surgery on Avery immediately, and Avery agreed.

The child that Avery had to destroy in her body and transferred to Rebecca could be regarded as saving the little baby's life.

Moreover, in order to keep Elliot, Rebecca will definitely regard this child as his own.

More importantly, they can get out of here.

"Doctor Xander, can you tell me who and Elliot's child are to be transplanted to me?" Rebecca smiled bitterly, "Could it be that Avery is pregnant?"

"Well." Xander didn't want to say more.

Rebecca didn't ask any more questions.

Because Rebecca was so sad.

"Elliot refuted me last night, saying that he had never done anything with Avery. In order to avoid having a child with me, he would rather admit that he was not good at that aspect, and would rather be looked down upon by me than have a relationship with me. I'm so sad." Rebecca said, tears pouring down like rain.

Xander took out a few tissues and handed them to her.

"Miss Jobin, feelings need to be accumulated over time. You have a short time with him. If you wait for a long time, maybe his attitude towards you will change."

"Thank you for comforting me. Doctor Xander, when can you transplant Avery's child to me?" Rebecca couldn't wait to speak, "As long as it is successful, I will immediately ask my father to let him go."

Xander frowned, "Wait for me. Let me know. The transplant operation has certain risks and may not be successful."

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 1360 by

Chapter 1360

Although Xander said so, Rebecca was still full of confidence. If she can succeed, then she can keep Elliot.

As long as Elliot never knows that the child's biological mother is Avery, then the child is hers.

After Xander completed the hospitalization procedures, he did not immediately return to the hotel to find Avery.

Because he privately decided to give Avery's child to Rebecca, if Avery knew, she would definitely be angry. But if Avery doesn't, the baby in her womb will die.

Between life and death, Xander prefers to let the child live.

—Hayden's face kept appearing in his mind. What if the baby in her belly is as smart and capable as Hayden after birth?

—Moreover, even if the child did not grow up by her side, as long as she told the child the truth about her life in the future, she could let the child choose where to live.

The more he thought about it, the more determined the plan was.

They are now trapped here and cannot leave, but as long as the child is transplanted to Rebecca, they can successfully leave here.

Now operating on Avery and leaving here are the most important things.

Back at the hotel, Xander entered his room. Although he has firmed up his inner plan. He is inevitably uneasy. After all, it was the first time to do such a thing.

Xander walked to the desk and opened the notebook. He opened Avery's surgical plan and checked it carefully. After confirming that it was correct, he frowned and opened the mailbox.

He was sure that he didn't have the courage to tell Avery about this in person in the future, so he planned to write an email to Avery.

Of course, this email will not be sent immediately.

He clicked the timer to send out. After turning on the timing function, he hesitated when choosing the time. After one year, three years, five years, or when that child is an adult?

This chapter is provided by . Visit for daily update.

After struggling for a while, he chose to send this email eighteen years later.

When the child is an adult and when Avery finds the child, he can let the child choose to live with the biological mother or the adoptive mother.

He picked up the water glass, took a sip, and then began to write the text of the email –

Avery:

[When you see this email, please think back to the scene when we were in Yonroeville 18 years ago. Because this email was written to you eighteen years ago by me sitting in my hotel room. Please be patient and read it before contacting me. Whether you resent me or understand me, I accept it.

About a week ago, you said that your period was delayed. I took you to the hospital for a check-up, but you fell asleep on the medical bed. The doctor gave me your ultrasound form, and I was speechless in shock.

You have a tumor in your brain, the tumor was pressing on the nerves in your brain, and the tumor was growing, you must had surgery as soon as possible. You also called me to help you in Yonroeville because of this. How can you get pregnant at a time like this?

Of course it is pointless to pursue this. I thought about telling you this, but your bodyguard told me that you like children very much, and you have a stubborn temper. After knowing the existence of this baby, you may risk your life to give birth to this baby. I feel desperate.

Between you and your baby, of course I choose to protect you. So I decided to secretly abort your child while you were under anesthesia.

As a result, an accident occurred.

You haven't forgotten that your son Hayden came to Yonroeville and killed Cristian with the help of the nanny, so we were trapped in Yonroeville and couldn't leave, right?
