Chapter 1374

“Of course! I will treat the child as my own child.” Rebecca replied without hesitation.

“If the child finds out about his life and wants to return to Avery in the future, can you promise to respect the child’s wishes?”

Xander continued to ask.

Rebecca hesitated.

“Miss Jobin, if you limit your child’s freedom, the child will only be further away from you. We can actually manage only ourselves. What do you think?” Seeing that Rebecca didn’t speak, Xander reasoned with her.

“According to what you said, do you think Elliot will also be farther away from me?” Rebecca didn’t like what he said.

Xander: “We are talking about the child now. I don’t want to express my opinion about you and Elliot, and I don’t care.”

Rebecca was afraid that she would regret it, and immediately followed his words: “I promise you. If In the future, if the child knows his life experience and wants to go back to Avery, it means that I’m not doing well enough, and I will respect his wishes and let him choose his own life.”

After receiving Rebecca’s answer, Xander was considered to have a consolation.

Because if the child is not transplanted, it will only be destroyed.

He didn’t want to kill the child.

Now transplant the child out to save the child’s life, and the child will have a chance to return to Avery in the future.

Besides, Xander also needs Rebecca to help them leave Yonroeville now.

Xander has been in love with his girlfriend for three years, and promised to meet his parents at the end of this year and get married next year. Now he is trapped here and must leave as soon as possible.

Elliot came out of the hospital and did not go home to rest. Last night, he was accompanying Kyrie in the ward. In fact, he could rest, but couldn’t sleep.

Avery’s condition made him worry.

He was thinking about why he was so afraid of her leaving because of illness.

He had never been so eager to restore his memory. Last night, he had been trying to think back, hoping to remember bits and pieces of their past.

The more he remember, the more blank his brain becomes.

He called and asked the second brother and the fourth brother to go to Nick's house to meet.

The bodyguard drove the car to Nick's house. At this time, several luxury cars were parked in the front yard of the villa.

Elliot got out of the car and strode into the living room of the villa.

"Elliot, what's up with Kyrie?"

The second brother, Nick, and the fourth brother were all there.

The three were sitting in the living room making tea and drinking.

"Drinking tea early in the morning is not good for the stomach." Elliot sat down on the sofa, looking at the tea in front of him.

"You haven't had breakfast yet?" Nick said, and gave the servant next to him a wink.

The servant immediately brought a breakfast and put it in front of Elliot.

"Kyrie's fall is not serious. He can be discharged after staying in the hospital for a few days." Elliot took a bite of breakfast and said, "Cristian's death hit him hard."

"Hahaha! Can it be big?" The second brother laughed, "I'm afraid he will tie you tighter in the future."

"I have to find a way to get rid of him." Elliot thought for a night and came to this decision.

"Get rid of him? You put it simply." Nick took a sip of tea, and continued, "He's not dead. Don't try to get rid of him."

"Yes, I called you here today to discuss this matter." Elliot looked at them and continued, "The property of the sixth and the youngest that Kyrie swallowed up will give you all the time. Except for the Jobin Industries, which he founded by himself, you can take everything else you want."

The three ma stared at him blankly, "Are you sure?"

“I’m sure. Jobin Industries is owned by Kyrie, and it will be left to Rebecca.”

Elliot picked up a cup of tea and drank it, and continued, “When the matter is settled then I will go back to Aryadelle.”

“Elliot, do you really think about it?” Nick patted him on the shoulder,

“Although you did a good job in Aryadelle, but Kyrie has a good reputation in Yonroeville. Wealth is no less than that of your Aryadelle. As long as you live with Rebecca, everything in Kyrie will be yours in the future. Your second and fourth brothers only want to return to the property of the sixth and youngest, and the rest of them I didn’t want to touch it.”

“Second brother, since Elliot wants to go back to Aryadelle, why should we stop him?” The second brother said.

“I also think we should respect Elliot’s thoughts. Since Elliot wants to go back to Aryadelle, we should help him.” The fourth brother said.

Nick glared at them both: “You two want to divide up Kyrie’s industry after Elliot leaves, right?”

“What you said is really ugly. Elliot said that Jobin Industries will leave it to Rebecca. Then we definitely won’t touch it. Although I hate Kyrie, an old thing that eats people and doesn’t spit out bones.

Rebecca is still very young. How can we leave nothing for Rebecca?” The second brother smiled explain.

“Yes, we won’t touch the Jobin Industries. But after Elliot left, how could Rebecca manage Jobin Industries by herself? Maybe someone else will be watching. If Rebecca left, let us take care of the company, and we give her a sum of money every year.”

Elliot said, “Second brother and fourth brother, don’t worry, Lorenzo will take care of Rebecca. As soon as Kyrie dies, Rebecca will gradually grow up. Give her some time.”

The second brother said, “Elliot, since you are having said that, we will definitely not mess around for the time being. It’s not that easy to just want Kyrie to die. This matter needs to be discussed in the long run.”

Elliot: “I called you here today just to talk to you guys. A consensus is reached.”

The second brother looked at him, “Of course we have no opinion. Just why did you decide so suddenly? Have you regained your memory?”

Elliot shook his head: “I have also three children in Aryadelle.”

“Just for the sake of three A child? Rebecca is so young, she can give birth to as many children as you want.”

Elliot: “That’s different.”

“What’s the difference? You are not for the children at all. Are you for Avery? Nick pierced his lie, “You are in love with Avery again.”

Elliot was silent.

“I didn’t expect that among our brothers, there was actually an infatuation seed. Hahaha!” The second brother laughed, and continued, “Why did we form an alliance in the first place? To make money! Elliot, no wonder you were the first to quit. Because you don’t love money that much at all.”

Elliot: “Don’t laugh at me. I have my hometown in a country, and I will definitely go back.”

“Whatever hometown is not hometown, where you have money is hometown. If you want to go back, we won’t stop you. But in a short time, it’s definitely not easy to start. At least you have to get some rights to Kyrie first.”

Elliot: “I know. I’m ready for the long run.”

Nick said, “Then you Go back to sleep first. Look at the red blood in your eyes, it’s scary. Furthermore, we have to find a way to send Avery away first.”

“After Kyrie’s discharge from the hospital, I will have a good talk with him. He should agree to let Avery go.” Elliot said. He finished breakfast and got up.

Nick said, “Well, after all, Kyrie goal is to keep you.”

In the evening.

Elliot came to the hospital. He went to neurosurgery first to see Avery.

Avery lay on the bed, closed her eyes, and slept peacefully.

When the bodyguard saw Elliot’s coming, he immediately explained, “My boss had a general anesthesia this afternoon, but she’s still not awake yet.”

Elliot was puzzled, “Why does she need a general anesthesia? Didn’t she have surgery yet?”
