Let me go, Mr. Hill Author: Shallow South Chapter 2783

Chapter 2783

“Any normal person would think that way.” A hint of scorn that was difficult to notice flashed across Monte’s eyes. “Lizzie, we dated and lived together before. I know all too well how capable you are. To be honest, if it weren’t for your appearance being the same, I would’ve suspected that you aren’t the real Eliza.”

Charity’s long eyelashes drooped, blocking her gaze. “ Alright, so you think everything I have today was given to me by Chester? It seems that you can become pretty bold for the sake of luxury. Monte, your attitude is truly undeserving of that face of yours.”

“Lizzie, I really like you. I don’t care about other things,” Monte said unhurriedly.

Charity slowly stood up. “You like the things I have more. Let me guess your and your father’s plan. Right now, your father is acting as the bad person and bothering me continuously. He first headhunted my company’s employees, then had people tamper with my car’s brake pad and steal things from my villa. Everything he did was to scare me. Now, you’ll use soft methods to coax me into marrying you...”

Monte’s pupils constricted.

Charity said, “But you’re not truly thinking of marrying me. Instead, you and your father are scheming to snatch my assets. After I get married to you, you guys will slowly make plans again or make me give birth to a child. The child will have the last name Patterson, and my assets will belong to the Patterson family in the end as well.”

After speaking, she stared at Monte sharply.

Monte felt himself breaking out in a cold sweat.

His and Toby's plan was figured out by Eliza.

When did she become so sharp?

Was she still Eliza?

"Lizzie, you think too negatively of US," Monte said hoarsely.

"It's not negative. You guys have always been this way. Moreover, do you guys really think the public is clueless about Janee Group's current financial situation?" There was a mocking expression on Charity's face. "Monte, you're not as impressive as you look. Janee Hotel has been suffering losses every year for the past few years. If it weren't for those established companies working with Janee Group, who would want to stay in that hotel of yours? You're not willing to spend money to refurbish it, and its online reviews aren't good either." 1

Monte could not maintain the arrogance and gentleness on his face.

His face, which was initially quite good-looking, became twisted because of anger and humiliation.

Charity's expression was filled with disdain. "If you don't want to admit it, I can only say that I won't ever fancy people like you anymore. You're not good enough for me either. I'm busy. You can leave yourself, stop wasting our company's drinks."

Monte stood up furiously. "Eliza, I gave you a chance. Don't be ungrateful. Don't think we'll be scared of you just because you know Catherine and Freya. You're merely their friend. Do you think they'll protect you forever? I'm telling you this.

You're rich, but you don't have the right to be arrogant simply because you're rich in Canberra."

"So?" Charity turned her head back slowly.

"Get married to me or bear the consequences." Monte squinted his eyes. "This is a reminder. Things that happened previously were just appetizers."

"Oh. I'll wait and see, then." charity let out a tsk and said haughtily, "By the way, I forgot to tell you that I stopped liking you early on. I got revenge on you not because of hatred but because I want to see your reputation ruined and have you be hated by all women."

After speaking, she left by stepping on the bright and clean floor.

Monte never thought he would be humiliated like this by a woman he dumped.

He returned to his car with pent-up anger and made a call. "Dad, Eliza refused. It seems like she's aware of our aim." 1

Let me go, Mr. Hill Author: Shallow South Chapter 2784

Chapter 2784

“Doesn’t she like you? Is she still unwilling even after you suggested marrying her?” Toby was exasperated. “Did you apologize properly?”

“I did,” Monte said frustratedly. “I feel like Eliza has turned into a different person. She used to believe everything I say.”

Toby said coldly, “If she doesn’t believe you, so be it. Since she didn’t accept our goodwill, she shouldn’t blame me for being unkind.”

“What are you going to do, Dad?”

“You don’t need to care about this anymore. You can’t do anything right anyway.” Toby hung up the call.

Monte was utterly sullen as he stared at the phone.

4:00 p.m.

Canberra Airport.

A middle-aged foreign man over 40 years old walked out of the exit in a gentlemanly manner with a young assistant.

“Welcome to Australia once again, Mr. Sherman.”

Charity and her team got into the car. she shook the middle-aged man’s hand.

“Wow, President Robbins, you’re more charming and beautiful than I thought.” The man eyed the young woman with a slender figure in front of him. “You look so young.”

“Yes, I’m only 25 years old.” charity smiled and nodded. “We’ll have to count on you for Neeson Corporation’s new products.”

Sherman smiled. “If it weren’t for the antique you sent over, I wouldn’t have come. I heard you say you were good friends with charity during our call.”

“That’s right. We knew each other when we were young.”

“No wonder.” There was a look of regret on Sherman’s face, “she was the only one who knew that I’ve been fixated on that antique for years. To be honest, I found it very regretful after those unfortunate things happened to Charity and Director Neeson. However, after Thomas and Sarah took over Neeson Corporation...”

Sherman let out a tsk. “They’re fools. They never thought of managing Neeson Corporation properly and only wanted to rob it empty. I didn’t want to work under those people, so I brought my team and left Australia. Honestly speaking, I was utterly disappointed in Neeson Corporation.”

A hint of sadness flashed across charity’s eyes. “ Thomas was an idiot. That was why Director Neeson didn’t give his only son the company. However, fate toyed with them. Director Neeson and Charity passed away young, otherwise, Neeson Corporation wouldn’t have ended up in this state.” 1

“That’s right.” Sherman sighed. “I hope Neeson Corporation can rise again in your hands. I’ll develop new products for Neeson Corporation again. My disciples will stay here and help you if it’s successful.”

“I’m truly grateful.”

Charity brought Sherman and his disciple to have a meal using a designated car. At 8:00 p.m., she brought them to the bar to have fun.

Sherman and Mike had bold personalities and liked lively atmospheres.

Charity's arrangements suited their preferences. 1

"Wow. I like this bar's atmosphere" Sherman leaned on the railing on the second floor with a wine glass in his hand. He gazed at the dance floor downstairs and said loudly, "President Robbins, I realize you know me pretty well. We had my favorite food for dinner, and the wine we're having tonight is the Romanee- Conti that I like. You must've spent a lot of money."

"Charity told me about those things in the past." Charity raised her glass.

"Let's toast to Charity and hope she's doing well in the afterlife," Sherman said sincerely.

Charity smiled and finished her wine.

Just after she finished drinking, she saw a few men walking up the stairs.

The man surrounded in the middle had a tall figure. He was handsome, and a few buttons on his black shirt were left open. His dark hair was scattered on his forehead, making him look unruly.

With such looks and the lights shining on top of his head, anyone passing by would receive a critical blow by his good looks with just a glance.
