

Chapter 1236

"Yes young master. Ezra Ladenberg is not a nice person and the Third Young Mistress Cabello is really beautiful. It so happens that Ezra is an extremely lecherous person and I'm afraid that something bad will happen later!" The subordinate looked anxious as he thought about it. He immediately said, "Young master, this won't work. We need to rush over and remind Young Master Ladenberg or they will definitely get into a fight!"

However, Young Master Murphy stopped him. "Remind? Why should we remind him? The Ladenberg family had been suppressing our Murphy family all this while and that Young Master Ladenberg is wildly arrogant. This is a great chance to get rid of the Ladenberg family. Those two almost died because they offended that woman. Do you think that they would still be alive if they took advantage of Third Young Mistress Cabello?"

The subordinate's eyes lit up when he heard this. "That's right, why didn't I think about this. I was only thinking about how our tables and chairs would be destroyed if they get into a brawl later. With the protective nature of Master Ladenberg, he would definitely avenge his son without finding out the reason if Young Master Ladenberg was killed. If that's the case..."

Young Master Murphy nodded. "There are many guests upstairs and who knows how the news is going to reach the Ladenberg family later?"

A smile appeared on the corners of Young Master Murphy's mouth when they arrived at that point of the conversation. He said to his subordinate, "Immediately go and send the message to the Ladenberg family if they get into a fight later. Do you understand?"

"I understand!" The subordinate smiled with his face filled with anticipation.

Jack and Daniella sat at the space next to the window after they went upstairs.

The view from the second floor was extremely beautiful.

However, as what Young Master Murphy and the others had expected, Young Master Ladenberg and several others also saw the two over there.

"Psst psst, what a scene. Why haven't I seen such a beauty before?" Young Master Ladenberg could not help but swallow his saliva and exclaimed after he looked around for a while.

The guy opposite him said with a smile, "It looks like these two are casual trainers who passed by this area and are here for a meal."

"Casual trainers?" Young Master Ladenberg had a smirk on his face and said, "Then we can't let them leave so easily. Since they are not people from our town, it would be difficult for others to find them if anything happens to them. If we let such a beauty leave, it would be difficult to meet one the next time even if we want to!"

"Haha... Young master, don't worry about it! Leave this in my hands!" The subordinate opposite the young master directly stood up after he smiled and walked toward Daniella.

"Young lady, you are really gorgeous! Your beauty will make the moon and flowers shy!" The man said flirtatiously as soon as he arrived in front of Daniella.

Daniella frowned and glanced at him as her facial expression darkened. "I don't know who you are, how can I help you?"

The man smirked as he glanced toward where Young master Ladenberg was and said, "Young lady, our Young Master Ladenberg would like to invite you over for a chat. I hope that you will give him face!"

Daniella looked over and a fatty was sitting there with beautiful women on each side of his arms. He had oil stains on the corners of his mouth and was smiling at her like a lecherous fool.

She directly glanced at the man in front of her with a cold expression on her face. "F*ck off! I'm not interested in such rubbish!"

"Haha... Young lady, you don't need to be in a hurry to reject us!" The man in front of her did not seem to be angry. He flipped his hand and came up with a middlegrade spirited stone. He placed it on the table. "This is a middlegrade spirited stone and it has an equal worth to one hundred lowgrade spirited stones. Casual trainers like you have never seen spirited stones like this right? Haha... How about that?"

"You're giving it to me?" Daniella glanced at the spirited stone on the table in despise.

The man nodded with a smile. "Of course. Young lady, we're all smart people. You only need to keep our young master company tonight. As long as our young master enjoys himself tonight, this middle-grade spirited stone is yours! Not any person can meet with such a good opportunity!"

Chapter 1237

"Haha... Is this a joke? You expect me to accompany that fat-ass with one piece of useless spirited stone?" Daniella laughed.

Jack also could not help but stand up. "Didn't you hear when she asked you to f*ck off?"

This was the first time he purposely brought Daniella out for a meal and it started off with an unhappy incident. Jack was also unhappy as they were suddenly disturbed hence he did not want to be nice to the other party.

Daniella was secretly happy and touched when she saw how Jack was slightly angry. In her opinion, Jack proactively stood forward and got mad meant that he had some affection toward her. Why was Jack so angry if he did not like her?

"Who are you? How dare you speak to me this way?" The man was one of the butlers in Young Master Ladenberg's family and he was considered a highly positioned person in the Ladenberg family.

However, he never liked to take action under normal circumstances. In his opinion, most of the situations could be resolved by using spirited stones. There was no need to take action if the issues could be resolved by using spirited stones.

"Who am I?" Jack humphed coldly and directly punched the other party's head.

Bang!

Jack did not use much strength but this butler of the Ladenberg family flew directly several meters backward before landing on the floor with blood trickling down his nose.

"What the f*ck?!" Young Master Ladenberg directly slammed his hand on the table and stood up when he saw that his subordinate was hit. "Attack them and kill the guy. Capture the woman and bring her over. F*ck, they need to submit to pressure after turning down my nice request."

"Attack!" Several of Young Master Ladenberg's subordinate immediately rushed toward Jack.

"Don't blame me since you guys are the suicidal ones!" Jack flipped his hand and took the black sword out when he saw the group of people daringly rush forward.

Whoosh! Whoosh! Whoosh!

With several swipes of his sword, the people who rushed forward were killed.

Many guests on the second floor were frightened and hid directly by the side when they saw that there was a fight

"Who are these two? How dare they kill the Ladenberg family's people!" Some of them could not help but started discussing what happened. Everything was moving so quickly and they only realized what happened when the Ladenberg family's subordinates were killed by that young man.

Jack directly went in front of the Ladenberg family's butler after he killed all those people and looked at him coldly.

"Young man, do you know who our young master is? I think you ..." The Ladenberg family's butler wanted to threaten Jack. However, he was killed by Jack before he had the chance to finish speaking.

Bang!

The butler fell onto the ground, dead.

Chapter 1238

"Ah!" Both women in Young Master Ladenberg's arms were so frightened that they turned pale. They immediately ran away and hid at a corner.

"Young...young man, I'm the young master of the Ladenberg family. You will be going against the Ladenberg family if you dare kill me!" Young Master Ladenberg stood up and pointed at Jack. His voice and his finger, however, were trembling and he was obviously afraid.

Whoosh!

Jack did not pay much attention to him and carried out his attack.

He then turned around and walked toward Daniella while putting his sword away.

Bang!

Young Master Ladenberg fell onto the ground in disbelief as he covered his neck with both his hands.

"This... This..." Several subordinates of the Murphy family were surprised when they ran over to take a look. They immediately ran downstairs.

One of them went toward Young Master Murphy. "Young master, this is great! That guy really killed Young Master Ladenberg! Haha... Even heaven is helping us!"

"Is that true? Why haven't you guys send the message to the Ladenbergs yet? Go change your clothes as it's bad if the Third Young Mistress Cabello and the others learned that we were the ones who sent the message!" Young Master Murphy reminded his subordinate with a smile after he thought about it.

"Haha... Alright, young master! I'm on my way now!" The subordinate then went to change his clothes happily.

After Jack killed those people, he went back to where Daniella was and sat down. "What an annoyance. Who knew that we would meet such annoying people the first time officially treating the third Young Mistress Cabello to a meal. I hope this has not affected your mood for food."

How could Daniella blame Jack when she felt as sweet as if she had taken honey. She felt that Jack had killed those people because he was unhappy with them bullying her.

Apart from that, she was extremely happy as Jack acted in such a decisive and unhesitating manner just now.

"Don't worry, such a small issue would not affect my mood!" Daniella placed her arms on the table and placed her head in between her hands as she looked at Jack happily. Her beautiful eyes were filled with love for Jack.

Jack's heart stopped for a moment when he saw how Daniella looked at him with the infatuated smile at the corners of her mouth.

He was not dumb so he had already realized that Daniella had feelings toward him and he had no idea how to respond to her feelings.

Luckily the waiter served their food at that moment. All the dishes that were served smelled extremely good.

"It smells so good! We can start eating!" Jack smiled and said to the waiter. "By the way, please serve us some of your best wine here!"

"It's coming, it's coming!"

Chapter 1239

At this moment, Young Master Maack walked over with a smile on his face and placed two bottles of wine on the table.

"Third Young Mistress Cabello and Young Master White, I present to you the legendary monkey wine, a wine whose sweetness is unparalleled, and its aroma thick and flavorful. It's extremely beneficial for those who are training to become chi masters!"

Young Master Maack introduced the wine to Jack, grinning. "My father stores it here, and I usually don't dare to drink it. I only take a few sips when he's around. Best of all, a wine like this is extremely hard to procure!"

Jack noticed the other man's bootlicking demeanor and frowned. "If this wine is truly as rare and as good as you say it is, why would you bring it out for us?"

Daniella's brows creased together when she heard Jack's words. Her gaze toward Young Master Maack sharpened. "Don't tell me that you've spiked this drink, Young Master Maack. We're not as gullible as you think we are!"

Young Master Maack nearly collapsed after he heard that. "I would never dare to do something like that even if you gave me a billion bucks," he replied hastily.

How could I do that? I have no right to even touch either of you, being the powerful heir and heiress you two are. Why would I harbor ill intentions toward you!"

Here, Young Master Maack paused for a while, his eyes skittering toward the body of Young Master Ladenberg, "To be honest with you, that dead fatty is the young master of the Ladenberg family," he finally said, huffing. "The Ladenberg family is the most powerful family in our city, and that fatty regularly bullied us. I was so glad when you killed him, so of course, I had to thank you in some way. Besides, it's just two bottles of wine. It's nothing compared to what you did!"

"Good. I knew you didn't have the guts!"

Daniella swiped for one of the bottles and uncorked it. Its thick, heavenly scent hit her nostrils, and she felt as though she could get drunk from its smell alone.

"My God. That's the smell of monkey wine. I want some too!"

A few guests sitting at the surrounding tables caught a whiff of the wine. All of them gulped and stared at Jack and Daniella in admiration.

No one thought that the Maack family had such a prized possession-and that it would be taken out just for the two of them.

"My God. This... this is beautiful!"

Jack's eyes brightened once he smelled the wine. He liked alcohol and had a high tolerance for it, so naturally, a wine like that would make him excited.

"Then I'll go for it!"

Jack smiled and opened the other bottle, gulping it down straight from the bottle.

He only reluctantly set the bottle down after taking a few gulps." This is fantastic. It doesn't burn at all, and its aroma is so strong. This is one amazing wine."

Daniella and Young Master Maack stared at him, boggle-eyed. He had downed the alcohol a little too fast, had he not?

"Eat something, Jack!"

Daniella smiled and heaped a piece of monster meat onto Jack's plate. Then she poured the wine out into a glass and took a sip out of it. "This is really good!"

"You'd better eat up too, Daniella!"

After all, she was of a significant position, and she had taken a piece of meat for him. Jack felt slightly embarrassed, so he did the same for her as well.

However, this simple gesture stirred Daniella's heart. Jack had actually given her food. Was he trying to hint at something else?

"Take your time here. I'll get out of your hair. Just inform me if you need anything!"

Young Master Maack, who was very observant, noticed the slight flush on Daniella's cheeks. He surmised that the two might be a couple, and he left with a grin on his face, not wanting to become the third wheel.

Chapter 1240

Daniella could not help but feel worried as she watched Jack practically inhaling the wine. She frowned and said, "Jack, I know this is a rare wine but don't down it like that. You'll get drunk!"

Jack gave a careless smile when he heard that. "Heh. Don't worry about me. I have a pretty good alcohol tolerance. No ordinary person can lure me into a drunken state. And do you know that martial artists have a far higher tolerance for alcohol than normal people? Martial artists have a far stronger body composition, so that's why normal people can't compare to us."

"That's true!"

Daniella flashed an awkward smile in return

The two drank for a while. Master Ladenberg then brought many fighters from the Ladenberg family over.

"F*ck. Who killed my son?"

Master Ladenberg rushed over and scanned the area, absolutely livid.

He quickly realized that many of the guests had their attention directed toward Jack.

"Were you the one who killed my son, you little sh*t? Do you have a death wish?"

Thomas Ladenberg flipped his palm and took out a sword, pointing it at Jack.

Jack stood up and flipped his palm as well, staring at the intruder impatiently. "I think you're the one who has a death wish here. Your son was stupid enough to want to have Miss Daniella Cabello, so of course, he had to die. And you're trying to avenge him?"

"Of course!"

Thomas was so furious that a vein throbbed at his forehead. He could not be bothered to talk to Jack anymore, so he gathered his chi in his palm and channeled it into his sword.

Then he slashed the blade toward Jack.

Whoosh!

A sudden sword aura infused with a lot of chi slashed toward Jack, arcing into a flash of light.

"Hmph!"

The master of the Ladenberg family was a pretty strong fighter.

However, Jack did not care for him. After he harrumphed coldly, he threw out his own sword aura.

Whoosh!

Another sword aura appeared. It was evident that it was much longer than Master Ladenberg's, and the amount of chi that the older man's attack contained could not be compared to Jack's.

Bang!

A frightening clash rang out. The next second, Master Ladenberg's sword aura had been destroyed by Jack's. He had been no match for Jack's power.

"What!"

Master Ladenberg was so shocked that he took a sharp intake of breath when he saw what happened. All color drained from his face.

"No!"

The remaining energy from Jack's sword aura was rushing toward him. Master Ladenberg released a cry and used the elder next to him as a shield without giving a second thought.

Bam!

A dull thud rang out. Blood sprayed, and the elder stared at the gaping hole in his chest in disbelief. He looked at Master Ladenberg. "You..."

After he said that, and as Master Ladenberg released his grip, the elder collapsed onto the ground, no longer breathing.

No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1241-1245

Chapter 1241

Large beads of perspiration dropped from Master Ladenberg's forehead. His face had gone white. He would have been the dead one if he had not reacted in time.

"Go for him! Attack him together!"

However, he saw the body of his son on the floor, and he saw the numbers he had on his side. Master Ladenberg gave the order.

"Heh. You think that you can beat me because you have more people?"

Jack chuckled and looked at Daniella. "Please continue to eat. Just leave these vermin to me!"

After he said that, he stamped his foot and rushed toward the men.

"Okay!"

A smile tinged Daniella's lips. Warmth filled her chest. Jack actually told her to stay put? It seemed that the man truly cared for her.

Bang bang bang!

Frightening sounds of fighting rang out. Many of those who were dining were terrified and jumped straight from the second floor in fear of being roped into the cacophony.

The men from the Ladenberg family were no match for Jack.

In a flash, they had all dropped onto the floor, chests no longer heaving.

"Young Master Jack, you-you're so strong!"

Young Master Maack had pretended to find out about the situation and leisurely came forward to check the scene out. He was wickedly delighted when he saw the bodies on the floor, yet still, he pulled a mask of bewilderment. "You're so strong. The master of the Ladenberg family is the strongest fighter in our city. I never thought that you would beat him so fast!"

Jack gave him an impassive look and kept his sword. "Can I trouble you to clean the corpses up around here?"

"Not a problem at all. I am at your service, Young Master White!"

Young Master Maack immediately ordered his subordinates to clear the bodies up. He had been waiting that very day for a long time, but never had the opportunity to do so until then.

"That felt good!"

Jack walked over and sat beside Daniella. "I don't think anyone will be disturbing us now."

After he said that, Jack took huge swigs out of the wine bottle.

Daniella was internally speechless when she saw him drinking as though there was no tomorrow. "You can't just drink like that, Jack," she hurriedly reminded him. "It's monkey wine. It's not regular alcohol. You can't drink it that way even if you have a high alcohol tolerance. It's extremely potent, and even martial artists can easily get drunk on it!"

Here, Daniella paused before she continued, "Besides, only people who have drunk this twice or thrice before will be able to drink more as their bodies have adjusted to it. But even then, they can't just gulp it down. You'll definitely get drunk if you've never drunk it before!"

"No way. Is-is it that strong?"

Jack was internally speechless.

He did not feel anything at all and had only thought that it was good wine. He had not cared much when Daniella had advised him to drink it slowly, but he never thought that this wine would make even martial artists, drunk.

Still, he suspected Daniella's words. Others might have gotten drunk because their alcohol tolerance was lower. His was naturally high.

He smiled and replied, "Don't worry. I know my own limit. I won't drink anymore once I get dizzy!"

"Oh, okay then. I just wanted to tell you because you were gulping it down!"

Daniella offered a wan smile and scooped some vegetables for Jack. "Eat up. This hotel's restaurant has pretty good food!"

Young Master Maack, who was arranging for the bodies to be cleared up and the area to be tidied, noticed her gesture toward Jack. What a lucky guy, to be able to be served by such a beautiful woman.

Chapter 1242

The two continued to savor the wine; Jack felt his muscles relaxing as he drank from the bottle.

After a while, the area had been cleaned up. The broken tables and chairs had all been carted away.

However, there was no way to fix the gaping slashes along the walls and the floor for the time being.

Fortunately, Jack had been controlling his strength during the fight. The hotel might have been completely destroyed otherwise.

After drinking for a while, Jack felt his head growing heavy. "This is some wine. I didn't feel anything just now, but now I'm getting dizzy."

Jack's face had gone all red. He blearily stared at Daniella's perfect features, as if he was being pulled toward them

He had to admit that the longer he looked at her, the prettier she seemed. No wonder many young masters of the reclusive families wanted to court her.

"Slow-slow down. I told you just now, didn't I? People who are drinking this for the first time can't take too much. And you didn't believe me..."

Daniella felt extremely embarrassed with Jack staring at her. She dipped her chin slightly, her heart pounding.

She had never experienced a feeling like this before.

By the time she raised her head, she saw that Jack was already slumped over the table. It seemed that the alcohol had finally worked its way into his system.

"Jeez. He's completely drunk!"

Daniella did not know whether to laugh or cry at Jack's drunken state. She walked over with a rueful smile on her face, lifting him up.

"Let's go, Jack. You're drunk!"

She supported Jack down the stairs.

"I'm not drunk. I can take some more of that delicious wine!"

Jack's speech was slurred.

"Never mind. I'll just carry you!"

At the staircase, Daniella hefted Jack onto her back and strode downward.

He was heavy, but he was easy enough to carry for Daniella, who was at the peak of the semi-god status.

She only put Jack down when they were at the concierge. "Give me two rooms please!" she told the staff.

The beautiful woman at the concierge looked at the two of them. "My apologies, Miss, but only one room is left since it's late," she replied, smiling.

"One?"

When she heard this, Daniella drew her brows together. It was evident that she was in a dilemma.

However, she took one look at Jack beside her and said, "Fine. I'll take the room!"

After she paid, Daniella supported Jack and went up the building.

Chapter 1243

Master Maack also quickly arrived at his family's hotel. He headed for the concierge to look for his monkey wine.

However, he got angry after searching for a while. He immediately called his son over. "Where's my wine? There were three bottles of it. Why is only one left?"

Young Master Maack proffered a smile when he heard that. "I gave two bottles of wine to two of our customers!"

Master Maack was so furious that he nearly spewed blood when he heard this. That wine was so precious that he could not even bring himself to drink it, yet his son just gave it away to customers. Even if he had allowed customers to drink it, they should have at least paid a considerable sum of money for it instead, it was given away just like that.

"Are you getting a kick out of seeing me angry? Those are my treasured possessions, which I had kept for so many years. And you just gave it to someone else?"

Master Maack was livid. He shot his son a stormy look. "You ungrateful pig!"

Young Master Maack gave a bitter smile. "You can't just accuse me of that, Father," he explained helplessly. "You would praise me if you knew the circumstances, and you would think that giving those two bottles of wine away was worth it!"

"Worth it?"

Master Maack was so angry that he was speechless. "Fine. Explain everything to me," he huffed. "Let's see how 'worth it' it can possibly be. If I think otherwise, I will give you two hard slaps. Don't think that I'll spare your dignity!"

Young Master Maack was internally speechless. "We had two extremely important figures who visited us over dinner, Father," he explained. "One of them was the third daughter of the Cabello family. The other the young master of the White family. Heh. They helped us kill the fighters of the Ladenberg family, and now the Ladenberg family's territory is ours. I've already ordered our men to handle the takeover. Do you think that it's worth giving the two bottles of wine to them now?"

"What!"

Master Maack took a sharp intake of breath after he heard this. "Are you serious? So you're saying that Master Ladenberg and his men are all dead?" he said excitedly. "If that's the case, giving away those two bottles of wine was the best possible exchange to make!"

"Oh, are Young Miss Cabello and Young Master White still around? I need to drink with them just to see their faces for a bit."

Master Maack was extremely excited. The fury on his expression had long dissipated, and in its place, there was pure delight.

"They've gone! You don't have the chance to drink with them anymore!"

Young Master Maack smiled. "We were fortunate. It so happened that Young Master Ladenberg was drinking upstairs when he spotted the third daughter of the Cabello family, and he could not help but have dirty intentions toward her. That fellow sentenced the entire Ladenberg family to death!"

"That's fantastic. This way, nobody will dare to bully the Maack family in this city anymore!"

Longing suddenly flashed across Master Maack's features. "It's a pity though. Third Young Mistress Cabello is famed for her beauty. Not many can hope to compete against her. It would have been nice if I could even catch a glimpse of her. I've never gotten the chance to see her myself."

He did not know that Daniella had carried Jack into the room. She nudged the door close with her foot and supported Jack onto the bed.

Yet just as she heaved a sigh of relief when they were at the foot of the bed, Jack hurtled straight onto the mattress. She was unsteady on her feet, so she fell along with him and landed atop his body.

Jack's handsome visage was right before her. Her heart thudded against her chest, and nervousness clenched her veins.

"Water. I want water!"

Jack felt extremely thirsty and spoke thickly.

"All right. I'll get water for you!"

Daniella shook herself to her senses and got up hurriedly, pouring water onto a cup for Jack.

She helped him drink the water before placing it on the bedside table. Then she noticed that Jack was dead asleep on the bed already.

"No way. He's already sleeping!"

Daniella could not explain why a pang of disappointment filled her chest at the sight of his sleeping figure.

Chapter 1244

Daniella took a shower after taking off Jack's shoes, then she settled herself on the bed beside him.

She grew even more nervous as she studied his face.

He was asleep, but this was the first time that she was lying next to a man in her entire life. Furthermore, he was a man she liked. How could she not be nervous?

"He won't realize it if I peck him, right?"

Quickly, a daring thought fled across Daniella's head.

Then she could not help herself anymore. She steadied herself on her palms and crawled over so that she was leaning over Jack, then she kissed him on the cheek.

She quickly laid back down after that kiss, her heart drumming erratically. She was so nervous she could die.

"Is-is this my first kiss!"

Daniella felt as though her heart was about to burst out of her ribcage. She had never been so daring in all her entire life before.

However, she quickly thought that this did not count as her first kiss. Only a direct kiss would count, so that kiss was not counted.

After she thought about it, Daniella leaned over Jack's body again, her gaze shifting toward his lips.

After much deliberation, she clenched her teeth, supported herself on her palms, and planted a kiss on his lips.

Warmth spread throughout her body after she kissed him. She had given her first kiss to someone she liked.

"My first kiss has been taken by you," she whispered as she looked at Jack. "You're responsible for me now!"

After she said that, she laid back down and finally closed her eyes contentedly. Slowly, she slipped into slumber as well. By the time she woke up, the sky was bright.

She had been awake for two or three minutes when Jack also cracked his eyes open. He slowly registered that he was in a strange room, and took a sharp intake of breath.

When he saw Daniella beside him, he was completely stupefied.

"I-I was sleeping on the same bed as you last night?"

Jack gulped when he saw Daniella, who was wearing a nightgown. He never thought that he would get drunk. Besides, he had no recollection of how he had arrived there.

"That's right. There was only one bed here, so of course, we shared."

Daniella quickly sat upright and ducked her head bashfully. Her cheeks flamed so redly they looked as though they were about to catch fire.

"No-no way. We-we didn't do that right?"

Jack was speechless. If he had bedded Daniella while he was drunk, it would be troublesom.

Chapter 1245

Daniella was stunned, and suddenly an evil thought popped up in her mind. Teasing might be a good idea under such circumstances, to see how Jack would react.

After plotting the evil idea, Daniella deliberately nodded her head and uttered in a diffident tone, "I'm your woman now. You... you have to be responsible for me!"

"What the...No way, really? Did we both..."

Jack was tongue-tied. For once he did not know what to do.

How was he supposed to explain to his wife this time?

"The bedsheet was even stained red last night, and I had to ask the housekeeper to change the sheet. You acted like a barbarian, didn't even know how to treat a lady tenderly..." Daniella informed in a more bashful voice.

Jack's mind went foggy.

His head was buzzing and spinning. He did not expect at all for himself to do such a thing with Daniella after he got drunk.

Jack took a while before he could react. "Why didn't you get an extra room? Besides, I was drunk, why didn't you push me away?" He looked at Daniella, helplessly.

Daniella's face sank immediately when she sensed a hint of malaise on Jack's face. "Now what? Jack, I didn't expect you to be such an irresponsible man! I've given you my precious first time, how could... How could you deny it!"

Daniella groaned; her face full of belligerence. "Do you know how tired I was to carry you back alone last night? I asked for two rooms but there was only one available!" She barked. "I was already exhausted and planned to get some rest after taking a shower. But at that time, you thought I was your wife, and you...you...you bully me!" She said in a sobbing tone.

Jack could not bear to see a girl crying. With the fear seeing Daniella cry, he immediately comforted her and his tone was full of panic. "Don't, please don't cry. I don't mean it that way. I just ...I just think that I'm a few years older than you, and you were not drunk at that time, so you can push me away!"

Daniella raised her head and faced Jack. She bit her alluring rosy pink lips and pouted, "But, I don't care about your age at all. I like you, that's all. Besides, I was exhausted after carrying you back to the room and I was a little tipsy at that time too. That's why I didn't push you away!"

"Sigh! What should we do now? I promised my wife that I would only love her. But now we two... Sigh! Moreover, you're still very young!"

Jack gazed at Daniella, who was six or seven years younger than him and felt bad about what had happened. This time he had stirred up big trouble. But, no matter how hard he tried to recall, he could not remember anything. Only images of him drinking, and more drinking ran across his mind. Then he felt dizzy and was eventually carried by someone on his or her back.

Daniella smiled sheepishly, looking at Jack's embarrassed face. "Don't worry about it. What's done is done, it can't be undone now. I'm now your girlfriend. But don't tell your wife about us first. Wait until we're closer with each other then we'll tell her." Daniella comforted him, trying her best not to laugh.

Jack cast Daniella a look and replied, "But, it won't be fair to you right now!"

Daniella kept her laughter in check, trying not to burst into laughter. "Hey, hey. It's okay. As long as you treat me well in the future, I won't feel unfair!" Daniella put on a solemn tone and patted Jack's shoulder to comfort him.

Jack went silent for a long time, before he finally said to Daniella, "Then...then later on when we return to the White family, you've to tell everyone that you're my friend, okay? Sigh! I haven't thought about how to tell Selena this..."

Jack was kicking himself for getting so drunk and making such a foolish mistake. Daniella even warned him not to drink the wine too quickly then.

However, he was full of himself at that time, thinking that his alcohol tolerance was good, so he disregarded Daniella's warning. Now he had to reap what he had sown.

"No problem!"

Looking at lines appearing between Jack's brows, Daniella smiled contentedly. She then got up and went to the bathroom to change.

Jack sat on the edge of the bed and smoked a cigarette, in hopes that it would calm his panicked soul. He waited until Daniella was.

one washing up only then did he went to wash up too.

When he stood before the mirror in the bathroom, Jack took a look at his cheeks, red lipstick marks imprinted on his cheek. "I'm so done for... It looks like last night we did really...What's more, Daniella is still a young girl. If I shove the responsibility away, the head of the Cabello family would kill me, right?" Jack sighed defeatedly.

No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1246

Jack was rendered speechless. There was nothing he could do right now, he could only shut himself down, trying not to think about it first, and hoped that he had the chance to explain to Selena soon.

After washing up, the two rode on the blood dragon horse and set off toward the direction of the main residence of the White family.

Nonetheless, this time the feeling of awkwardness left Jack when he was holding Daniella's waist from behind on the horseback. Perhaps, it was because of what happened last night that had made Jack at ease.

On the contrary, he felt that Daniella was stiff and awkward in front of him. Her cheeks were kissed pink, and her blush extended to the root of her ears.

Soon enough, the two arrived at the bottom of the mountain and both hopped off the horse.

"Young Master Jack!"

The two bodyguards at the gate were shocked at Jack's early return. Jack was supposed to visit plenty of White branch families by himself to select young geniuses to come over to the main White family. But how could he return in merely twenty days? Moreover, he brought back a beautiful woman!

What shocked them the most was that the two rode on a horse together.

"Cough, cough! This is the Third Young Mistress of the Cabello family. It just so happens that I coincidentally met her and saved her from the hands of brigands. She wanted to come over to visit the White family as well, that's why she's here with me!"

Jack let out dry coughs, trying to cover up his embarrassed face.

The two bodyguards were taken aback at this new piece of information. This beautiful woman before them was actually the legendary beauty queen of the Cabello family. The person in reality was much more stunning than in hearsays.

"May I trouble you to take this horse to rest and feed him well? I won't be riding him for a long time."

Daniella beamed and handed the horse to one of the bodyguards.

Jack eyed Daniella and introduced in a serious tone, "Miss Daniella, our residence is not as spacious and as large as your Cabello family. Let me bring you to meet my father first!"

"Hehe, it's okay. Let me look at this place. The scenery is breathlessly exquisite, not bad at all, and the spiritual energy surrounding your residence is dense too. No wonder the White family has developed so well and fast in recent years!"

Daniella chuckled. She followed Jack's pace, walking toward the top of the mountain.

Just after arriving at the square halfway up the mountain, Jack ran into Kylie who was playing with Lana and the others.

He felt a sudden surge of happiness at the scene before him.

"Kylie!" He beamed.

Kylie wheeled her head. Her bright and brilliant huge eyes were immediately lit up.

"Daddy!" She skipped toward Jack.

"Sigh! That fella has finally returned!"

Fiona smiled as she saw Jack at the square.

However, after she noticed the other person's existence standing beside Jack, an attractive and lovely woman, her brows immediately snapped together. "Who's that woman beside Jack? How come she came back with Jack? This woman looks like a vixen. Don't tell me Jack found himself a second wife!"

Lana immediately responded, "That's not possible. Jack is not a callous man. Besides, I've never seen this woman before, and since she came with Jack, I guess she should be one of the geniuses that Jack picks from the branch families. She just so happened to come with Jack."

"Oh, that makes sense!"

'Fiona nodded, then again she furrowed and said, "This woman is a natural beauty, isn't she?"

Lana could not help but look in the direction of Daniella after hearing Fiona's compliment for that woman. Not knowing why, Lana was feeling bitter, and perhaps jealous, in her heart. This woman looked younger than her, more good-looking than her and her skin was even more supple and smoother than hers. She was envious.

"Hehe! Kylie, do you miss Daddy?"

Chapter 1247

Jack picked up Kylie who ran to him and planted a kiss on her chubby cheek; his action was full of love and dote.

"Mmm!"

Kylie bobbed her head and said in a childish tone, "Mommy said she will ask you to take me to the town below the mountain to have fun when you return!"

"Haha, alright, alright! I'll take little Kylie and Mommy to go to the town and play together tonight!"

Jack chortled wholeheartedly.

"This is your daughter? She's cute and good-looking!"

Daniella, who was standing next to Jack, could not help but smile awkwardly at the affectionate exchange between the Father and the Daughter.

"Yup, her name is Kylie!"

Jack smiled. He held Kylie in his arms and paced in the direction of Lana, Fiona, and the others.

"Well. Needless to say, this beautiful woman, she is your wife, am I right? She really has a good figure!"

Before Jack could introduce the others to Daniella, she studied Lana and uttered with a smile plastered on her face.

Lana's spirits immediately brightened, and her cheeks turned red. "No, no. I'm not his wife, I'm his disciple! My name is Lana!" She quickly explained.

After the explanation, Lana looked at Jack and asked, "Master, and this girl is?"

Only then did Jack smile and introduced Daniella. "This is the Third Young Mistress of the Cabello family, Daniella Cabello!"

"The Cabello family? One of the eight reclusive families?"

After hearing Jack's words, surprise dawned upon Lana's face. How could she have imagined that the Third Young Mistress Cabello knew Jack and followed him back to the White residence?

Moreover, they looked close. It seemed that the relationship between the two was good.

Yes! You're right!"

"I heard that Jack's wife is the queen of beauty. And when I looked at you, I thought you were his wife. I didn't expect that his disciple would be such a beauty too. Hehe. The White family has a lot of pretty women, I presume." Daniella chuckled and continued.

Lana could barely conceal her delight after hearing Daniella's sincere praise for her. "I'm nowhere near a beauty. I heard that the Cabello family has three beautiful daughters who are known as the Three Golden Flowers; they're all famous for their beauty. I think only those who live in the secular world would have not known your presence. Many reclusive families are keen to meet any of you!"

On the other hand, Jack smiled at the exchange and approached Fiona, "Ma, how're you guys doing? Everything fine here?"

Fiona laughed in return. "Of course, everything is fine! Although Andrew and I were a little too old to start practicing martial arts, I heard from our inlaws that this place is full of spiritual energy. So, if we live here all year round, we can live to very old age." She chuckled and then continued, "Oh ya, the Taylor family came here as well and everyone loves it, especially your Grandpa Taylor! He planned to retire here and not leave this place at all!"

Jack's heart stopped a few beats after listening to Fiona's words. An unsightly look scrawled up his face. Fiona and Andrew were his own parents-in-law, therefore it was still logical to bring them here. But it was strange to bring Old Master Taylor and the other Taylors here!

"And my father allows it?"

Jack frowned and asked.

Fiona bobbed her head. "Yes. He even asked his men to build a house over there for some of the Taylor family to live in. Your Father said that since there are not many of us, it won't be a big deal. Besides, if some of the young martial artists of the Taylor family want to improve their status, they would help to purify their bodies so that they can train better!"

"Auntie, do you and Uncle want to train too?"

Daniella's voice suddenly interrupted the conversation. After hearing the exchange, Daniella, without blinking her eyes, approached Fiona and popped the question. This was a golden opportunity to please her future parents-in-law! If they liked her and were happy with her, they would probably speak up for her in the future, then it would be more likely for Selena to accept her!

"Of course, we want to train! It'd be good even as elementary martial artists. At least our bodies will grow stronger and won't catch a cold or fall sick easily. After training, the overall being is certainly stronger than ordinary people!"

But, Fiona let out a bitter smile and said, "Unfortunately, Jack said that we have long passed the age of becoming a martial artist. When you're old, you can't train and become a martial artist. It's not only about the martial talent but also about our old body, it can't withstand the process of purification!"

However, to everyone's surprise, Daniella flashed them a smile. "Well. There's a way for both of you to train and become martial artists! And I know how!"

Jack could not help but gasp at the information. "That's impossible! What other ways do you have to be able to make them into martial artists?"

"Are you serious? That's amazing! Miss Cabello, do you really have a way? It'd be really great if we could train and become one!"

Andrew felt a ray of sunshine flooded his old soul when he heard Daniella's words. He asked with an excitement plastered over his face.

Daniella nodded again to affirm them, at the same time, rolled her eyes at Jack. "Tsk tsk. Jack, you've not experienced everything in this world, have you? There's a forbidden pool in the Cabello family. The water inside that forbidden pool is a real treasure! This treasure allows the old or people with incapability to train to become a martial artist!

This water is called the Bone Marrow Cleansing Water. The person only needs to drink a small sip of this water, and his body will be cleansed and purified! What's more amazing is that there are no side effects and pain at all!"

Excitement streaked through Jack like a comet. "Is that real? The Cabello family has such a treasure! It's really out of my expectation! So, does it mean that if my mother takes a sip of this water, she will be able to train and become a martial artist?"

"Your mother is also a commoner?"

A quiet joy spread through Daniella upon hearing. She was smiling inside. If that was the case, would not that mean that she would be able to please Jack's mother as well? After all, Jack's mother would be her future mother-in-law!

"Yes, my mother is a commoner now. I hope that she can train and become a martial artist or perhaps a grandmaster in the future. Then that will be wonderful!"

A bitter smile crept on Jack's face. "The Bone Marrow Cleansing Water, since it's a treasure of the Cabello Family and it's at the forbidden place, I'm afraid that you can't just take it, right? Besides, this water is too precious, there shouldn't be much of it, right?"

Daniella peeped at Jack and responded with a faint smile, "Don't worry. Indeed, this water is very precious, even if others want it, I won't hand it over. But since you've saved my life, and we're now considered good friends, I'll get it for you. Even if I have to steal it, I'll get it for you!"

"It's not a good idea for you to steal. Why don't you try asking your father if he's willing to spare you some? If it's not possible, just forget about it, I don't want you to be in a difficult situation!"

Jack gave some thoughts to the matter and uttered with a frown.

However, Fiona-who stood beside him-heard Jack's words and her face immediately turned unsightly. She went forward and shot Jack a deadly glare, "What nonsense are you spewing?"

After reprimanding Jack, she immediately approached Daniella with a wicked smile. "Miss Cabello, there's absolutely nothing wrong about it. This treasure belongs to your family, even if you took some of it when no one is looking, it's alright too. You're the Third Young Mistress Cabello, you're only taking something from your family, it won't be considered as stealing, right? Because that treasure is originally from your family!" Fiona held Daniella's hands in her palms and persuaded her in a sincere tone.

Fiona paused for a moment before she continued, "Also, even after you took it, your father and the others won't know that you're the one who took it, right? If they don't know about it, surely, they can't do anything about it, and they won't blame you either."

Jack and Lana exchange glances on the side, not knowing what to say. If a person took something when there was no one, was that not considered stealing? How could Fiona spew some unreasonable logic? Even though the treasure belonged to the Cabello family, it was not an ordinary thing. That water could be considered as one of the most precious and priceless treasures in this world. If that treasure were to be taken to an auction, it could be exchanged with a lot of high-grade spirited stones and materials!

"Yes, Auntie, you're absolutely right!"

Daniella smiled awkwardly, but she still reassured the audience. "Auntie, don't worry about it. I'll go get some for you guys no matter what. It's indeed not much of it, but it's definitely enough for a few people! Just think of this as a payback for Jack saving my life!"

"Hehehe! Yes, you're so right! You're such a good kid who knows how to show gratitude!"

Chapter 1249

Fiona's joy unfolded like a flower and her mouth curved into a smile. "Right, you and Jack are good friends, so whenever you have time, you should come to the White family to hang out together! Just treat it as your own home, do visit us more often!"

"Ma, what are you talking about? The Cabello family is actually not on a good term with the White family. I don't think such an offer is appropriate right now."

Jack was speechless at Fiona's behavior. He reminded her.

Daniella, on the other hand, rolled her eyes at Jack and pouted unhappily, "Can't I come to visit at any time too?"

Jack was tongue-tied once again. "Except for you, of course!" He smiled awkwardly.

Lana studied the scene before her, she could not help but frown slightly. Why did she feel that Jack was somehow afraid of Daniella? Was it her illusion or something else?

"Jack, you're back!"

At this time, Joan, who was strolling together with Nash, approached the group.

"Yes, Mom. I thought the competition would start soon, so I came back early for that!"

Jack responded, smilingly.

"This...isn't this the Third Young Mistress of the Cabello family? Daniella Cabello, right? May I know why you're here in the White' residence?"

Nash quickly recognized Daniella of the Cabello family. His eyes were full of surprise but soon a few lines formed between his brows. After all, the Cabello family was not on good terms with the White family. Why did Jack bring her here?

"Master White!"

Daniella looked at Nash and a hint of surprise flared in her eyes." Strange. I heard that Master White, you've gotten some strange disease and couldn't even get off the bed now, right? But I can see that you look healthy, and your spirit is good!"

Daniella had come out of the Cabello family for more than a month and apparently, she did not receive any news about the things that had happened in the White family, not to mention the incident about the mutiny of the Third Elder and Lily Lagorio. If she was to stay in the Cabello family all this while, she would have known of the news.

However, she was busy accompanying Jack in the selection of geniuses among the White branch families, hence she was not well-informed of the news. Nash smiled, "Hehe, thanks to my son who not only possess powerful combat prowess but also acquires excellent medical skills and knowledge! He studied my condition and made an antidote for me!"

Daniella turned to Jack and then wheeled back to Nash. "Wait, what ...what do you mean? Jack is your son? He..he is the son of Master White?" Daniella took a sharp intake of breath.

"Hahaha! Yes! He is my son, my best son and I'm so proud of him! He is also the heir to the family head of the White family!"

Nash exclaimed with his face full of pride and delight, as though his son was the king of the world.

Chapter 1250

"What's wrong? You didn't know Jack is my son?"

Nash lifted an eyebrow, confused about the current situation. Daniella followed his son back to the White family, but she did not know that Jack was his son? It seemed like this young woman had no evil thoughts.

Perhaps, Jack knew that she was kind-hearted and without wicked thoughts, only then he allowed her to follow him.

"I didn't know! He didn't tell me!"

Daniella rolled her eyes at Jack again. "Eh? Wait a minute! Don't you have only one son, called Lance White?"

"Miss Cabello, I'll explain it to you personally when I'm free later. As for why I didn't tell you that I'm the son of the family head, it's because you didn't ask about me either!"

Jack gave a wan smile and replied.

Daniella chortled, "I thought that you might be the son of some elder or Patronum. I didn't expect that your background is actually that noble!"

"By the way, Miss Cabello, may I know why you have come to visit the White family?"

Nash spoke out the doubts in his mind with a faint smile on his face.

"It just so happens that I encountered some strong b*stard in my journey; they captured me and Young Master Jack rescued me from their hands. Besides, I was curious about where the White family was, so I follow him to take a look!" Daniella chuckled in return.

Once the last word dropped, Daniella flipped her palm and two second-grade elementary spirited grass appeared in her grip. She then handed them to Nash and said, "Master White, this is my first visit to the White family and I didn't prepare any good gift. These are just some small gifts, hope you would like it!"

"Second-grade elementary spirited grass?"

The two elders who were standing beside Nash exclaimed aloud and their eyes lit up at the appearance of the spirited grass. They rubbed their eyes, wondering if they had seen it wrongly. First-grade premium spirited grass was already considered as a relatively high-level treasure and a rare one; it was suitable for artists who were at the semi-god level or perhaps those who were at the early stage of the true god level.

As for this second-grade elementary spirited grass, the chi energy inside was several times more than the first-grade premium spirited grass! Such treasure was absolutely incredible.

The elders gulped at the second-grade spirited grass. Was this Third Young Mistress Cabello a little bit too generous? She could simply give only one stalk of spirited grass, but she gave two!

"This, this is too generous of you! Miss Cabello, such treasure is too precious to take!"

Nash thought that the spirited grass was too precious and expensive to accept. He shook his hands, refusing to take them.

"Oh no. If you don't accept it, it means that you look down on the Cabello family. Or you secretly think that the gift is too petty?"

Daniella pouted and put on an angry expression on her face on purpose.

Nash sweated with awkwardness. This young little woman was a little too domineering, was not she? How could she actually use a provocative method on Nash?

Jack, on the other hand, chuckled aside. "Father, just accept it. It represents Daniella's sincerity too!"

"Alright then. I'll take it. Thank you!"

Nash gave a warm smile, and only then did he take the spirited grass.

Jack turned to Joan and said, "Mother, by the way, Daniella said that the Cabello family has a treasure that allows people to train and become a martial artist without any side effects after drinking it. And she will find a way to get it for you, and also for parents-in-law!"

"What? Are you serious? But is it okay to take it?"

The words elevated Joan's mood in an instant and she felt dizzy with excitement. She imagined such a treasure must be worth a lot. The White family did not even possess such a treasure, only the Cabello family had it. She truly did not know how to thank Daniella for such a treasure.

No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1251-1255

Chapter 1251

"Hey, it's nothing. Jack saved my life; he is like a brother to me now. We're good buddies! Just take it as a reward for Jack's deed. Don't take it to heart!"

Daniella chuckled while explaining, and put her hand on Jack's shoulder, with a wide grin on her face, as though they were brothers from the battlefield.

"You're referring to Bone Marrow Cleansing Water, right? This water is terrifically exorbitant! Although the people of the Cabello family started training young and don't really need this water, that precious pool of the Cabello family couldn't produce that much water in a year for us, right? Moreover, this kind of water is suitable for any martial practitioner too; whoever takes it will greatly improve their martial level!"

Nash was surprised at Daniella's offer to give them some of the water. With his eyebrows snapped together, he continued, "The Cabello family must have kept such a treasure very securely, and only reward those who have made significant contributions. Besides, the pool could only produce five to six portions per year, right? I'm afraid that your Father wouldn't approve of this idea so easily. Even worse, if he were to find out that you planned to give such treasure to us, he'd definitely say no."

"Heh!"

"If he doesn't agree to it, I'll just have to get it without him knowing. And by the time he finds out, it'd be too late. Anyway, if I don't mention that it's for the White family, how would he know then?" Daniella spewed out the words gently and nonchalantly.

"Miss Cabello, you're being too generous to us! I don't even know how to repay you!"

Joan chimed in; her tone uneasy.

"Hehe, Auntie, Jack and I are good buddies, and you're his mother, that makes you my mother too! So don't mull over it anymore! It's nothing at all!"

Daniella patted her chest and reassured Joan.

Jack, who stood aside, witnessed the whole exchange and felt speechless. What did she mean when she said his mother was her mother? Did she not fear what others might think of this sentence?

"I see, I see. That's good then!"

Joan was taken aback by Daniella's response as well. She returned Daniella an awkward smile and then went silent.

"Right, Jack, since the Third Young Mistress Cabello is here, please take her around when you're free! She's your responsibility now!"

Nash then smiled faintly at Jack and ordered.

"Don't worry, Father. I'll arrange a place for her to rest!"

Jack gave a bitter smile in return.

"Hey, there should still be empty rooms in your residence, right? You don't have to arrange a separate residence for me, just vacate a room for me in your residence. It'd be more convenient for me to find you this way, right?"

Daniella smiled sheepishly and proposed to Jack.

"Oh, okay, alright!"

Jack was rendered speechless but he could only agree with an awkward smile.

Only then a contented smile appeared on Daniella's pretty feature. She then turned to Nash and said, "Master White, the competition is about to start, and I guess you guys will leave in another five to six days, right? I think the Cabello family will definitely participate as well, so I think I'll stay here for a few days and depart with you guys then. You wouldn't mind that, right?"

"Mmm, don't worry. I don't mind it at all!"

Daniella Cabello was the apple of her father's eye, and since she has developed a good relationship with Jack, it would be a good opportunity to ease the tension between the two families.

After all, the current White family had experienced a great loss in their power after the Third Elder and Lily incident. The White family could not afford to have another huge clash with another great powerful family right now.

Chapter 1252

"Hehe, thank you so much! I'll go check out the place first!"

Daniella chortled happily as though she was a kid who got praises from her parents.

"Go ahead then. Jack, take Miss Cabello back to rest first, you guys must be tired from all the rushing to get back here!"

Nash nodded in satisfaction and instructed his son.

Jack then handed Kylie over to Joan and left with Daniella.

After the silhouette of the two disappeared from the group's sight, Joan laughed and commented, "Miss Cabello seems to be a generous and benevolent person. She had already given us these spirited grass as a reward for Jack's rescue. But she went the extra mile and promised to get us the Cabello's treasure! This lady is truly a warm-hearted person!"

Nonetheless, Nash thought otherwise. "Why do I feel like there 's something more than friendship between Jack and Miss Cabello? It's not as simple as good buddies. After all, the Bone Marrow Cleansing Water is not an ordinary treasure, and she is actually willing to steal it for us, moreover, three portions! Such an act has obviously gone beyond any kind of friendship, don't you think?" he explained with a bitter smile on his face.

Joan rolled her eyes at Nash. "You must be overthinking. Miss Cabello is a few years younger than Jack. Moreover, Jack is already married and has Kylie! Miss Cabello certainly does not like Jack in a romantic way!" She huffed.

Joan paused for a moment before continuing, "After all, Jack saved her life from the brigands, and that act itself is more valuable than the precious water! If she wanted to repay Jack in such a way, it's reasonable!"

"Maybe I am overthinking!"

Nash said with the corners of his mouth curled up.

Fiona, who was standing aside, had her eyes lit up brightly." Master White, I heard that the Cabello family is much more powerful than the White family. They are ranked in the top three of the eight reclusive families, right? So, if Jack could really get together with Miss Cabello, that'd be a great thing, isn't it? And that will be a so-called strong union, am I right?"

"Well, it's true that it'd be a great thing." Nash smiled awkwardly at Fiona's response. "But it's highly unlikely for it to happen because we are not on good terms with the Cabello family. It's considered a blessing for Jack to have a good relationship with Miss Cabello and ease the tension between the two families. But if you want Miss Cabello to marry Jack, it's almost impossible. The Cabello family will not agree to it!"

Nash halted for a few seconds before continuing, "What's more, Miss Cabello is young and there are plenty of powerful, wealthy, and talented young masters falling head over heels for her. Miss Cabello wouldn't choose a married man-Jack and be his second wife!"

There was one elder in the crowd who stepped up at this time and reminded everyone, "We shouldn't discuss this matter openly. We are merely relying on our own imagination and discussing excitedly, but what if Miss Cabello overheard us? She might not feel happy as she only sees Jack as a friend. If we talk about things like that without a basis and make her unhappy, that'd cause a problem!"

At this time, Jack and Daniella were pacing toward Jack's residence. Along the way, he recounted the incident about the Third Elder, Lance, and Lily to fill Daniella in.

Daniella sighed loudly after listening to the story. "So you're the illegitimate son of Master White. But you manage to reach the true god realm by yourself in the secular world! That's amazing! Although Lance and I, our talents are not on the top of the list among the younger generation, we're considered as talented geniuses too! I didn't expect that my talent is nothing in front of you. Hehe!"

Jack chortled embarrassingly. "Nah, that's not true. Your talent is excellent as well! After all, you're a few years younger than me!"

The two of them were so engaged in their conversation that they did not realize that they had arrived at Jack's residence.

Inside the residence, Elaine, Selena, Ben, and some others are chatting happily in the courtyard.

"Dear, you're back! I didn't expect you to be back so soon! I thought you might need a few more days!"

Selena shot up from the chair when she saw Jack and Daniella push the gate open and walked in. Selena's mood lightened and a broad wide smile hung on her face.

"Master!"

Chapter 1253

Ethan and Sam were flabbergasted with joy as well when they saw that their Master had returned. The corners of their mouth curled upward, showing their pearly white and even teeth.

"Brother-in-law, why did you bring a beautiful woman back with you? Tsk tsk, she is really good-looking! Don't tell me, you went out for a trip and came back with a little wife?"

Elaine noticed the presence of Daniella beside Jack and teased the two jokingly.

Nevertheless, Jack's face immediately sank to the bottom. "What nonsense are you spewing about? This is the Third Young Mistress of the Cabello family! It just so happened that I rescued her from a group of brigands during my journey. So, she decided to follow me to visit the White family and depart with us in a few days for the tournament. The Cabello family will attend the tournament too!"

"Hehe! Look at you, why are you all nervous? I'm just kidding. She' s truly good-looking and attractive!" Elaine chuckled at Jack's big response and said.

"This beautiful Miss is your wife?"

Daniella took two steps forward and studied Selena from head to toe, carefully She could feel that Selena, other than being good-looking and beautiful, was more mature than she was. Selena emitted a feminine sensation that she did not possess.

However, it was really hard to tell who was prettier and more good-looking between Selena and Daniella. Each of them had their own attractive points!

"Yes, and her name is Selena!"

Jack smiled on the surface, but in fact, he was sweating in worries inside his heart. He was afraid that Selena might have noticed something.

Jack was actually in a complete state of panic, as though he was sitting on pins and needles. He was kicking himself inside at the thought of that particular night. If he had not drunk the monkey wine, he would not get drunk; and he would not have done such a thing with Daniella!

He had violated a girl and took away her first time. If he pretended as if nothing happened and chose not to be responsible, that would be a d*ck move and he would be restless for the rest of his life, thinking that he had violated a young girl.

"Hello Sis Selena, my name is Daniella Cabello and I'm the Third Young Mistress of the Cabello family! You can call me Daniella!"

Daniella approached Selena and extended her hand graciously to shake Selena's hand.

Selena returned her with a faint smile and then extended her hand to hold Daniella's. "Nice to meet you, Daniella. My husband is a kind-hearted man. If he encounters an unjust incident, he will step up and intervene! It's fate that we can get to know each other. From now on, we're good friends!"

"Mm!"

Daniella bobbed her head happily.

After that, Jack introduced others to Daniella, and then he arranged a room for her to rest.

"Master, we haven't seen each other for so long, shouldn't we get together and have a few drinks?"

Yoseph walked over and said to Jack, smilingly.

"Hehe, that's a great idea! It just so happens that Kylie wants to visit the town at the bottom of the mountain, and Miss Cabello has never been there either. How about this, let's go to the town together tonight to eat and drink? We can also stroll around the night market there!"

Jack chortled brightly and agreed.

Chapter 1254

Soon, the evening came. Jack took everyone to the town for a hearty meal and good night's stroll.

The town was prosperous and well -developed; they even had a school in the town. Jack planned to let Kylie train in the White residence, and she could attend the school in the town to learn too. The plan sounded perfect.

The teachers in the school taught accordingly to a fixed syllabus and were keen to pass down the knowledge of the outside world to the kids.

For example, the students were taught to recognize first or second -grade spirited grass, and basic knowledge of martial training, as well as characteristics of some demonic creatures in the wild.

After all, the kids who attended the school were generally from martial families, and when they are older, they would eventually train and practice as martial artists.

The group returned to the White residence in the late evening. Jack was exhausted from being busy the entire day that he laid down and fell asleep in no time.

The next morning, Jack woke up and asked Selena, "Dear, how's your martial training lately? I've been away for quite some time, and you only had to pick up Kylie from school, so it shouldn't take much time."

A cute smile formed on Selena's face, "Well, I didn't really have much time to train this time. After all, I had to accompany Mother and Father for walks to get familiar with the place. And I also had to spend time with Kylie, so I didn't have much time to train and there's no obvious improvement in my martial status. But, I would say my progress is not that bad at all. The morning before yesterday, I barely broke through to reach the firstgrade of grandmaster level!"

Jack was suffused with happiness that his eyes lit up upon hearing Selena's progress in martial training. "Wow, that's amazing! You're already at the grandmaster level! You have such talent, and such skills are considered excellent!"

"Thanks to you, Dear! I wouldn't have achieved this if it weren't for the Chi Congregation pill and spirited grass that you gave me. With the help of those miraculous resources, I can train and improve a lot faster!" A cute, bashful smile crawled onto Selena's face as she spoke.

Jack bobbed his head to show agreement. "I'll be leaving in a few days. Although I can't really train on the road, I'll make time at night to train. I can confidently say that I have already stabilized myself at the early stage of the true god realm. So, during the trip, I'll see if I could use some of the pills and spirited material to try to break through to the middle stage of the true god realm!"

"Middle stage of the true god realm?"

An envious look plastered on Selena's pretty feature when she heard Jack. "I'm so envious of you, for being able to break through to the middle stage of the true god realm. Your talent and combat prowess are extraordinary, if you really reach the middle stage of the true god realm, you can even fight against those who are at the late stage of the true god realm, right?"

Jack, however, felt a little guilty. He wrapped his arms around Selena's waist and said, "Sigh! It's just that I'll be busy training these days, so I'm afraid that I won't have time to accompany you and Kylie." Jack sighed. "Also, you have to inform this to your parents as well." He added.

Selena shot Jack an attentive look. "Don't worry about it. I told them a few days ago. My parents are understanding, they know that martial practitioners often require ample amounts of time to train and practice. And they're okay with it. It won't affect us!"

Jack stared at the beauty in his embrace. He could not help but plant a tender kiss on Selena's rosy, pink lips. "Dear, I have to follow them to attend the martial tournament in a few days. Please stay back with Kylie and enroll her into the school in town, meanwhile, please continue to train hard too. Thank you, dear!"

It was rare to experience a gentle Jack. Selena's cheeks immediately blushed and she felt a surge of sweetness and happiness. "You're welcome! We're a family. You don't have to say 'please' at all."

"Oh, I just thought that I didn't get to spend much time with you lately. So I felt a little guilty!"

Jack laughed off as he explained.

Chapter 1255

"It's nothing. Martial practitioners always had to train in isolation for months. It can't be helped, right?"

Selena smiled in return. "Alright, train well, dear. I'll stop bothering you now. Hehe!"

Selena soon left the adobe. Jack then flipped his palm and took out three pills-all three pills were first-grade intermediate training pills!

Jack smiled as he looked at the three pills in front of him. These three pills could help him break through to the middle stage of the true god realm. After all, he was not too far away from the middle stage now.

Jack then put one of the pills into his mouth and swallowed them. Thick and inexhaustible energy then dispersed from Jack's abdomen in an instant. The energy was immense, at the same time aggressive.

A gentle smile formed on Jack's face when he felt the energy within him. He closed his eyes and started to control the energy in his body, channeling chi energy and gathering it in his abdomen. The chi energy formed a whirl in his abdomen, as though there was a tiny tornado in his body. The small whirl had slowly become bigger and bigger; Jack's overall strength and power had increased as well.

The time passed by slowly, and soon the spirited energy inside the pills was fully absorbed by Jack, and the chi energy inside Jack obviously become stronger and more powerful than before!

He smiled faintly and threw the second pill into his mouth and swallowed. He repeated the training technique, absorbing the chi energy inside the pill.

It took almost two days for Jack to train and absorb all the energy from the three pills. Fortunately, his martial level had also broken through to the middle stage of the true god realm.

Jack steadily stood up, clenched his fists and his bone joints emitted a clear clicking sound. The robustness and strength of his body had obviously advanced a lot, and the inner power in his body was doubled or even tripled after the training; the mellowness of his chi energy had become richer and thicker two or three times than before.

"Hahaha! It feels really different to be in the middle stage of the true god realm. The feeling is too good, and my combat power is a lot greater than before!"

Jack smiled with satisfaction, and then he walked out of the room.

Selena-who was playing with Kylie outside the house-was surprised at the appearance of Jack at this time. "No way! How did you complete your training this quick? Have you succeeded yet? I've heard that it's not that easy to reach the middle stage of the true god realm! And for some people who failed to break through, they'd have to rest for a while before they can continue to try again! And if you're unfortunate, you might even be physically wounded!"

A ray of warm light surged in Jack 's heart when he saw Selena's concerned look. "Don't worry, dear. I've broken through to the middle stage of the true god realm!" He smiled and comforted.

"Wow! Wow! Daddy is definitely more powerful than before now!"

Kylie jumped for joy that her feet barely touched the ground.

"Hehe, my little Kylie, when you get a little bit older, you can start training, and in the future, you've to strive to be more powerful than daddy, okay?"

Jack picked up his daughter from the ground and gently pinched the little girl's cute nose. His eyes were full of warm fatherly love.

Chapter 1256-1260

Chapter 1256

"Middle stage of the true god realm?"

Daniella, who had just walked out of her room, overheard the conversation between the couple. She was shocked at what she heard and then exclaimed with joy, "You're truly talented! Your speed in training and absorbing the energy from the pills were too fast! Others might need at least a week or longer to break through to the middle stage of the true god realm! But you actually used only two days and succeeded!"

At this moment, the admiration toward Jack grew deeper and deeper within Daniella. She was even fantasizing that if she had the chance to introduce Jack as her boyfriend to her father, what would her father think?

"Oh, I'm just slightly luckier!"

Jack laughed it out and said modestly.

"That's awesome! That's truly awesome! With your current martial level and combat prowess, you might be able to win first place in the upcoming martial tournament! You can finally bring glory to the White family!"

Daniella looked at Jack, her eyes full of unexplainable beams. Even if you can't get the first place, surely you'll be placed in the top three!"

"Top three?"

Jack was slightly stunned at her words. "It seems like the White family didn't have good raking in this tournament in the past!"

After all, before he returned to the White family, Lance White-who was at the peak of the semi-god realm-was considered the first seed in the White family.

And now, since Jack had already hit the middle stage of the true god realm, he thought that taking the first place would not be a problem.

He did not expect that Daniella saw him as the top three but not the champion.

Daniella smiled and she explained, "The White family had always bottomed the list in the past tournaments. Although the White family was not the worst in the tournament, your family has just become one of the eight reclusive families not long ago, so the White family is definitely the last in the eight reclusive families!"

Jack bobbed his head. Indeed, the White family had only become one of the first-class eight reclusive families recently. Although the White family was more powerful and stronger than those second-class and thirdclass families, the gap between the White and the other seven reclusive families was still wide.

Daniella approached Jack and patted his shoulder gently. "You' re not bad at all. Think about it, the Cabello family and the other reclusive families, we've been first -class families for decades and some of them even have hundreds of years of heritage. And your family has just risen lately, it's not possible to compare with us." She comforted him.

Daniella was afraid that her words might have hurt Jack's confidence, hence she smiled and said, "But your martial level and combat prowess is considered high and strong. You'll certainly impress many first-class reclusive families this time around!"

"Oh, I'm not trying to impress, but I'll try my very best!"

"Oh ya, Jack, Father asked me to tell you that there are three days left before we leave, so you should prepare yourself."

Selena quickly thought of something and interrupted the conversation.

"Alright, I'll rest for these few days and try to maintain and stabilize my martial level, so that I can get used to the power!"

Jack nodded.

During the conversation, Selena noticed the bright and shining beam in Daniella's eyes when she was looking at Jack. She did not show the same when she was engaging with the others, only with Jack. And the beam emitted something attentive-it was full of love and affection.

Selena's brows snapped together as she thought of it. "Daniella, I won't be going this time. Please help to take care of Jack, will you? I entrust him to your care!" Selena said to Daniella after thinking for a moment.

Chapter 1257

Daniella did not expect such words would come out of Selena's mouth out of sudden. She stood frozen for a moment before peeking at Jack. "Don't worry. Jack and I are good friends, we'll definitely take care of each other! I'll also ask my sister to go a little easy on Jack during the tournament!" Daniella nodded.

"Is your sister very powerful?"

Jack frowned upon hearing it. According to Daniella's words and tone, it seemed that her sister was a strong martial practitioner; her martial level should be high.

"For this tournament, as long as you're from the martial families and you're below the age of thirty, you're eligible to participate. I'm still young, so it's normal for me to have a low martial level."

Daniella smiled softly before saying, "But, my second sister, she's at the early stage of the true god realm, and my elder sister, she is at the middle stage of the true god realm. Although she is similar to you, at the middle stage, she is only one step away from the late stage of the true god realm. She might break through to the late stage at any time. And her combat prowess and martial ability are among the top of those in the middle stage of the true god realm!"

Daniella shrugged as she spoke. "Hmmm. I'll say more about my second sister, but my elder sister, she is too strong for you. It's nearly impossible for you to defeat her." She added.

"I see. Thanks for the reminder. But I don't think your sisters will listen to you and go easy on me."

Jack gave a dry smile. Although the Lagorio family had not been finding fault with them lately, the affair that happened between the Lagorio family and the White family had seemed to spread out.

Therefore, this time round in the tournament, he felt that the Lagorio family and some of the forces would most likely target them. He was not confident to say that there would not be any issue during the tournament.

Especially, those forces and families-who were about the same level with the White family before the White became one of the eight families-would certainly be jealous of the White family. They could not wait to pull the White family down from the first-class reclusive families!

"Huh? Nah. My elder sister and second sister love me the most. If I talk to them personally, it shouldn't be a problem!"

Daniella pursed her rosy pink lips and said, "Sigh! I have to work hard too and strive to break through to the early stage of the true god realm. I can't always use my young age as an excuse to be lazy!" She sighed.

"Cough, cough! Looking at you, I guess you have been loafing on the job."

Jack teased Daniella after hearing what she said. The young girl before him sometimes emitted a youthful and cuteness in her words and behaviors that made Jack feel something different in him.

"Hehe! Yup, but just a little! Well. Sometimes, training is kind of boring!"

Daniella giggled.

Time flies by quickly and soon three days had passed.

During these three days, Daniella would come over to talk to Jack and Selena whenever she was free and would even purposely please Selena by telling her some insights about martial training and technique.

Finally, after three days, the day had come. Together with Nash and Jack, there were many Elders of the White family, as well as some other White family members. They set off in the morning.

"Sigh! If the Third Elder hadn't thought about mutiny and had broken through to the peak of the true god realm, we would now have two strong people at the peak of the true god realm. And we can finally hold our heads up high in this tournament. Now, after the incident, not only did we not improve our family's overall strength and power, but we also regressed a lot!"

On the way to the tournament, the First Elder breathed a huge sigh and added, "And I'm afraid that this time the target will be on our backs. Many forces and families will target us."

Nash, however, put on a sanguine face. "It's alright, it's fine. I have faith in our family. We will be strong very soon!"

Chapter 1258

On the other side, the head of the Cabello family and others were worried about something. They paced around the hall and their faces looked concerned.

Daniella had been out for more than a month. When she left a letter announcing that she went out to search for treasures and resources in the forest, the group did not expect that she would not return for so long.

The Cabello family had sent out a lot of their men to search in the forest that they normally frequent for the treasure hunt, nonetheless, not a single trace of Daniella had been found. This made the Cabello family feel agonized and worried.

"Dad, don't worry about Daniella, she'll be alright. Let's go!"

At the square of the Cabello family, the First Young Mistress Cabello gazed at Alejandro Cabello--the head of the Cabello family--and said, smilingly, "Daniellita is a smart and quick-witted girl. She will not be in trouble; she'll be alright. Besides, who has that brave heart to offend the current Cabello family? Aren't they afraid of our revenge? So, I think Daniellita is just being playful and not wanting to come back so soon. She must be hanging and fooling around somewhere!"

"I do hope so. Sigh! That young lady is prideful and arrogant sometimes. What worries me is that she had never gone out of Cabello island before. Now that she is on her own, I'm worried that she is too simple-minded, and that others would dig a pit for her! That'd be really troublesome!"

Alejandro sighed aloud in his heart. The more time passed, the more concerned was his heart.

After all, his three daughters were good looking and considered as beauties of the island. Even though one of them, the elder daughter-was already twentynine years old, a lot of young masters still fell head over heels for her! Not to mention his youngest daughter, a playful, high-spirited yet gorgeous young lady, who would make any young men fall for her effortlessly. Her every gesturesmile, laugh, walk-was like a drug, injected into young men's veins and making them addicted to her.

Therefore, if such a beauty left the home and went on an adventure for more than a month, the father obviously would be worried.

The First Young Mistress Cabello's pallor went unsightly after hearing her father's words. She was worried but she could only force a smile and comfort his father, "She'll be okay. She's definitely alright. I have faith in her!"

"Sigh! Let's depart now. We can only try to be optimistic!"

Alejandro knew that his daughter was saying that to comfort herself too. He smiled and waved his hand. A flying carpet suddenly appeared in front of everyone.

The flying carpet rose in the wind, and soon it grew to a size that could accommodate nearly a thousand people.

"Let's go!"

Four to five hundred men hopped onto the flying carpet and sat on it. With a flicker of movement in Alejandro's mind, the flying carpet flew out and went straight in the direction of the mainland.

"Sigh! The White family doesn't have any flying treasure. Every time we have such an event, we have to go by land!"

Jack and the others were on their way to the tournament at this time. The First Elder -- who was at the front-sighed at the situation.

"Such treasure is rare. The higher-level treasures are known as spiritual tools. As for a treasure that can fly, heh, it's even rarer!"

Nash smiled bitterly and explained.

"Spiritual tool?"

Jack heard the words and a few lines form between his snapped brows. "I don't have much knowledge about spiritual tools, and I've never heard that there are different levels among spiritual tools!"

Chapter 1259

Guilt filled Nash's heart when he heard that. Jack had been training in the mortal realm for all this while, and it seemed like he did not have much knowledge about treasures.

He gave a small smile and explained to Jack in a patient tone, "There are two types of tools: normal tools, and spiritual tools. And the latter has several grades as well according to how much strength it gives you in battle and its fluctuations after absorbing chi: lower-grade, middlegrade, and upper-grade. And the most powerful of them all, ultimate-grade tools!"

Here, Nash paused for a while before continuing, "But most martial artists still stick to regular soldier weapons. It's pretty good if you have a lower-grade tool, and only a few people possess middle-grade tools-never mind upper and ultimate-grade tools!"

Jack thought about it for a while and flipped his palm, taking out an object that resembled a tortoiseshell. He thrust it toward Nash. "Dad, take a look at this. I think this is a spiritual tool. But I don't know what grade it is. This is a defensive weapon that grows bigger to fend off attacks!"

Nash's eyes brightened when he heard this. "Defensive tools are really rare too. It might save your life at a critical moment. I never thought that you'd get your hands on one!"

After he said that, Nash passed the treasure back to Jack and said, "Try channeling your chi into it!"

The treasure had already recognized Jack as its owner and had traces of his energy in it. Nash definitely had no way of making it move, and if others wanted to make that treasure theirs, they needed to completely wipe off every trace of Jack's chi from it.

As Jack injected his chi into it, the tortoiseshell shield slowly grew bigger, till it reached the height of a man. A warm yellow glow emanated from its surface.

"From-from its fluctuations, it should be a middle-grade tool. Not bad. Not bad at all. We only have a few of such weapons in the White family!"

Nash studied it for a while before a smile lit up his face. He was glad that Jack managed to get his hands on such a treasure.

"Oh, right. I have another word here. It's probably a spiritual tool!"

Jack kept the shield and smiled as he took out the black sword. He then poured some of his energy into it.

Suddenly, a black flash emitted from the dragon-shaped sword. A fierce, yet quiet ripple spread throughout the area.

Jack gave a smile. "This sword is a spiritual tool as well. But probably a lower or middle-grade, right?"

"Let me take a look!"

Nash took a step forward and observed it. Then excitement spread across his features. "There's a small hole on this sword. Here. Do you see it? So you can't just pour your energy in like that. You have to make it enter through this hole to make it release its full potential!"

Jack took a sharp intake of breath after he heard that. "So you're saying that I haven't been using this sword properly all this while? I've only been tapping into a fraction of its power?"

Nash bobbed his head. "But even so, I can already tell that it's a spiritual tool. You'll have to pour your chi through the hole for me to determine its grade!"

Jack nodded his head. He followed Nash's instructions and focus his energy into his palm, before threading it through that tiny hole.

Hum!

The sword, originally rather full, suddenly brightened and emitted a frightening hum. The fluctuations were even stronger this time around.

Chapter 1260

Jack never expected the sword to grow bigger as well. A different aura also seeped into his head.

After he received the message, he was extremely excited. His features showed extreme delight.

"This-this should be an ultimate-grade tool!"

The First Elder was so excited that his voice quivered. Only the very strongest of the reclusive families had such a treasure, and even then, they only possessed one of it.

It was evident that this was extremely precious. No one thought that Jack's sword was an ultimate-grade tool.

"That's right. I never thought that it would be an ultimate-grade tool. I never noticed anything extraordinary about it either when Jack had taken it out!"

Nash was excited as well. He never expected Jack's sword to be such a valuable treasure.

"Dada! I think-I think I received a message from the sword just now!"

Jack was excited. He waved his hand, and the sword flew upward, rapidly expanding in the sky until it looked like two or three thousand people could stand on it.

With an internal shove, Jack's sword shrunk again, till it could take about a thousand people.

"This-this is a tool that can fly? My god. You can use it to fight and fly. Such a treasure is so hard to come by!"

Many elders immediately understood what Jack had meant when they saw him remotely controlling it.

"This is great. If that's the case, we can sit on this sword to head for the competition!"

Daniella also jumped excitedly after witnessing all that. Even her father's flying carpet was not that high of a grade. It could only fly, and you could not use it to fight. It was her first time seeing such a treasure as well.

"Let's go!"

With a blink, Jack stood atop the sword and announced to everyone.

"Hah! All right!"

Nash laughed and flew up as well, landing softly on the surface of the sword.

"Let's go!"

Everyone also happily hopped on.

"I really never thought that such a sword would exist. Hah. Never imagined that I would be sitting on this!"

The First Elder laughed and sat cross legged. The sword flew out under Jack's control.

"Not only is this a flying sword, but it's also an ultimate-grade tool!"

Admiration spread across the Second Elder's face. "You're at the beginning stage of the true god realm now, but with this sword, you can head toe-to-toe with those from the intermediate stage. And you even might stand a chance of defeating them!"

Everyone nodded their heads when they heard that.

"It's a pity that Jack's level is not quite there yet," Nash chimed in. "If he were to be at the intermediate stage of the true god realm, we'd have another fighter at the advanced stage with the enhanced power this sword gives!"

"You're amazing, Young Master Jack," Lancelot said, smiling.

"You've surpassed us so quickly!"

Chapter 1261-1265

Chapter 1261

No one expected Daniella to speak up at this moment, a knowing smile on her face, "I see that you didn't know Jack is already at the intermediate stage of the true god realm. He underwent the breakthrough a few days ago. With this sword, he might have the fighting prowess of a fighter at the advanced stage!"

"What? He-he already broke through?"

Nash was stunned. He swiveled his head toward Jack in excitement. "Jack, is that true? You-you're already at the intermediate stage of the true god realm?"

"My God. He broke through so fast? You're a true genius, Young Master Jack! Young Master Lance cannot match up to you!"

Many elders could not help but exclaim. They were suspecting if they were dreaming.

After all, the shock of finding out that Jack had an ultimate-grade weapon had not completely subsided yet, and now they were saying that he had broken into the intermediate stage of the true god realm.

It was not easy to advance through the stages of the true god status. It required great ability from the practitioner.

More importantly, some would not succeed in breaking through even after trying a few times, and they'd have to rest for quite some time before attempting to break through once more.

That was why everyone knew how difficult it was to advance through the stages.

Jack nodded his head when he saw everyone's excitement. "I did breakthrough. I've also been growing accustomed to my chi over these past few days!"

"Heh. Like father, like son! How could we not envy a genius like you, Jack?"

Titus nodded his head in satisfaction, evidently excited as well.

At this moment, a flying sword appeared from another direction, heading toward where they were going.

"It's the Norman family!"

The First Elder frowned when he recognized them, their swords drawing closer to each other.

"The Norman family?"

Daniella frowned as well when she heard this. She was well aware that the Norman family was on par in terms of strength with the Cabello family.

However, the Norman family had pretty good relations with the Cabello family, and since the Cabello family was on bad terms with the White family, the Norman family was not close with the White family either.

Furthermore, plenty of young masters from the Norman family were interested in Daniella. That was why they frequently fought the White family members-all to gain recognition from her and her two sisters.

She never thought that they would run into this bunch not long after leaving for the competition.

"Eh!"

The people on the other flying sword also quickly recognized Jack and the others.

"Look. There's a flying sword there! It must be another powerful family!"

A young woman spoke to the person beside her, smiling.

"It looks like the White family."

The elder standing at the forefront furrowed his brows together after observing them for a while.
"Strange. Since when did the White family have a flying sword like that? I thought they'd be walking there."

After they heard this, many people burst into laughter.

Although the White family was one of the eight reclusive families, their strength was nothing compared to the other seven. That was why they looked down upon them.

Chapter 1262

"Don't laugh. They probably picked up a lower-grade tool that so happened to fly toward somewhere, so they're using it!"

The First Elder of the Norman family spoke in a sardonic tone.

After all, Jack's sword looked dull and ordinary then, and only a tinge of black encased it. It flew at a leisurely pace, not too fast and not too slow.

That was why there was no way to tell the grade of the treasure.

The only thing they could be sure of was that a flying treasure was no doubt a spiritual tool. Some of the low-grade spiritual tools could also fly, but they could not go very fast.

"They picked it up?"

Their Second Elder was taken aback for a while. "Hah. Even a flying treasure is not worth picking up if it's a low grade one," he commented, smiling. "They must have spent quite a fortune to buy that secondhand item."

A young master from the Norman family rolled his eyes.

"Second Elder, how could you say that?" he said solemnly. "They're one of the eight reclusive families as well and are a first-class family. How could you just say that they bought a second-hand item?"

"Heh. That's true. I forgot about that!"

The Second Elder cleared his throat, making everyone laugh again.

The young man also grinned. It was evident that they were in cahoots with each other.

However, his smile quickly hardened, and his muscles stiffened.

"That-that woman. Why is Daniella Cabello there?"

The young man squinted at the flying sword, brows knitted. The more he studied the woman, the more she looked like Daniella.

However, he thought maybe he was wrong. The Cabello family and the White family were not on friendly terms. As the third daughter of the Cabello family, why would Daniella be mingling about with the White family? She was even on the same flying sword as them.

Many people also went goggle-eyed when they noticed this.

"You're right, it's her!"

A young woman exclaimed after she saw them.

"We'll know who it is once we get closer. No way that it's Daniella!"

Master Norman thought about it for a while before directing the sword toward Jack and the others, closing the distance between them.

"Why are the Norman family members coming our way? Are they trying to greet us?"

Chapter 1263

The First Elder could not help but frown when he saw them coming over. Worry clenched his chest.

"Who cares. We have nothing to be afraid of. Besides, we can't hide from them forever. We'll run into them at the competition venue anyway."

Nash gave a frosty smile and spoke languidly.

"It...it really is Third Young Mistress Cabello!"

After they closed some of the distance, an elder exclaimed and scrubbed his eyes.

"Daniella, why are you on the White family's flying sword?"

Master Norman's eldest son, Keith, was slightly taken aback. "Miss Daniella, were you kidnapped by the White family?" he asked. "If you were, blink. The Norman family will save you!"

The second son of Master Norman also stepped forward. "This beautiful young woman is the Third Young Mistress Cabello, White family members," he hollered. "I'll make sure to give you h*ll if you dare to touch a single hair on her head!"

A fatty, who was the third son, also spoke up in a blustering manner, "Upon my pride as a Norman son, I swear we won't be able to face the Cabello family if anyone bullies her!"

Daniella was internally speechless. "I wasn't forced into this," she replied. "I just wanted to go for the competition, and I so happened to bump into them. Since we were heading for the same place, I just hitched a ride from them!"

Daniella was well aware that the three young masters all displayed affection toward her-as well as her two older sisters. It was evident that they were out to gain attention from any of the three girls.

Keith immediately heaved a sigh of relief. "Really? I thought you were kidnapped. After all, the Cabello family isn't on good terms with the White family!"

Here, he felt that something was off. "Third Young Mistress Cabello, don't tell me that you've been forced to lie because they've blackmailed you or because you're afraid of them?"

The second son was also stunned. "That's right. Your families are not close with each other, Third Young Mistress Cabello. You have no obligation to sit on their flying sword even if they're going in the same direction. Come over and sit with us. It's more comfortable here. More importantly, we're faster. We'll arrive at Kobe Mountain in no time.

"I appreciate your concern, but there 's no need for that. I'll just sit on their flying sword!"

Daniella felt awkward. It would be taxing to sit on the same sword with those three fellows, who were likely to be sucking up to her all the way. She would rather be dead than listen to their groveling.

Master Norman suddenly felt embarrassed. All three of his sons tried to coax Daniella, but she unexpectedly did not reciprocate. She would rather sit with the White family than them.

Master Darryl Norman suddenly spoke with a frosty expression, "Ah, surely I've heard that wrong, Third Young Mistress. The relation between your family and theirs is sour, yet you'd rather go together with the White family instead of the Norman family. You're taking a jab at my reputation. Besides, aren't you afraid that I'll tell your father about this? He'll be angry."

Daniella did not expect that Darryl would get mad over something so trivial. She hated it when others threatened her.

"Master Norman, it just so happened that we're going the same way," she said, pitching her tone low. "It's such a small matter. And you're saying that I look down on the Norman family because of this? They're one of the right reclusive families too. It's not out of the ordinary for me to follow you or follow them. What do you mean that I'm jabbing at your reputation?"

Here, she spoke straightforwardly, "If you're really so petty that you would tell my father about this, please, go right ahead."

Chapter 1264

It appears that what Daniella uttered was extremely straight to the point and Master Norman was unable to refute it.

If he still continued to hold onto that matter and report to the Cabellos about how she was with the White, would he not appear as being petty? However, if he let it go at that moment, the Norman family would be extremely embarrassed. After all, they got into such a situation when they kindly asked Daniella if she was kidnapped and even invited her to travel with them instead.

He proactively changed the topic of their conversation after thinking about it. He glanced at Nash and smiled coldly. "Master White, I heard that something happened in the White family around one month ago? Tsk tsk... If such an interesting plot was written into a book, the book would surely be a hit!"

The corners of Nash's mouth slightly twitched. He knew that some people would bring up that matter and talk about it.

However, he did not expect it to be mentioned during their journey to Kobe Mountain.

He glanced at Darryl and smiled bitterly. "Haha... I had no idea that the Norman family was so well-informed and actually paid attention to the situation at the White family!"

Nash paused before continuing to speak, "Something did happen previously but it's our family's internal affairs and we've already resolved it!"

Nash obviously did not intend to continue the conversation with him.

Unfortunately, Darryl who was humiliated a moment ago, did not plan to let Nash go so easily.

He had a playful smile on his face as he said, "Have you really resolved it? Aren't you slightly too confident about it? In my opinion, this is not something that you can resolve so easily. Your wife was actually involved in an affair with the Third Elder. Sigh, who knew that Lily Lagorio is that sort of a person. I heard that she even poisoned you. Tsk, tsk... What a scary woman."

The First Elder of the Norman family also stood forward. "That's right. This did not only cost the Lagorios their honor, even the Whites have lost their faces. Apart from that, Master White, you had been really careless for letting them poison you."

Nash's facial expression darkened. Something like this was a disgrace to the White family. Who knew that these people would mention it on purpose without sparing him some dignity.

He could only smile bitterly. "Everything is in the past. We've killed those who deserved to be killed and punished those who deserved to be punished. Our White family will definitely have better development in the future!"

Darryl's son, Keith, then said with a smile, "Will you be able to have better development? I don't think so. Haha... You've worked so hard to become a first-class aristocratic family. You must have suffered quite a loss now that the Third Elder, several other elders, and patronyms have died. Haha... some of the families that once stood by your side might not even acknowledge your positions this time."

Nash smiled bitterly. "Eldest young master, you are right to say that we've suffered quite a huge loss. However, we've progressed nicely over the past two to three years. The position of Third Elder and the other elders have been taken over by the other branch family masters. We are also working hard to grow stronger. We'll need to observe our growth in the future!"

Although Nash was secretly unhappy, he knew clearly that it was best to not offend these seven families. Hence, he would try his best to give in under such circumstances and not get into a fight with the other party.

Hence, he remained a calm expression even though the other party had said such things about his family. He even maintained a smile on his face as he conversed nicely with them.

"Haha... I'm afraid that it would be hard for you people to get the recognition from others this time. As one of the eight reclusive families, you can't get low positions in this competition. It would be shameful if you did not enter the top ten and end up with a low placing in this competition!" Darryl Norman once again laughed loudly and said.

"Don't you worry, Master Norman. I believe that there's a possibility that the White ER family will surprise everybody this time!" Daniella, who was by the side, could not stand it anymore.

In the past, she would have ignored any comments the Norman family had about the White family. She might even gloat because she was a member of the Cabello family.

However, she felt uncomfortable and unconvinced for the White family when she heard others commenting on them now. She even stood forward and proactively speak on behalf of the White family.

Chapter 1265

Darryl did not expect Daniella to not only refuse to travel with the Norman family, she helped to speak on behalf of the White family.

He was slightly stunned before he spoke with a smile, "Really? Let's see how it goes?"

He thought about it after he spoke before asking Daniella again. "By the way, Daniellita, are you sure that you don't want to come with us? If you sit on this wasted flying sword with the White, it might take you some time. Isn't it better to reach the towns under Kobe Mountain earlier for a rest?"

"Uncle Darryl, why do I feel that sitting on their flying sword would be much faster than traveling with you?" Daniella smiled as she turned her head to ask Jack. "Jack, our flying sword would be faster than them, right?"

Jack kept quiet the entire time as he believed that the White family's development would be proven in time.

However, he still nodded as Daniella was doing so much talking on behalf of them.

"That's for sure!"

"Haha... Who knows where they got this wasted piece of junk from. It's a joke that they even think about comparing speed with our flying sword!" Keith smiled coldly. "Daniellita, it doesn't matter if the White have gone mad. Why have you decided to follow their footsteps? My father's flying sword is a middle-grade spiritual tool. How can your useless flying sword compete with his?"

"We'll know if we can compete with his flying sword after we try it out!" Jack was too lazy to explain to them. He changed his thoughts and with an increase in speed, the flying sword flew out with a whoosh.

"Such speed!" Darryl was stunned. He discovered that Jack 's flying sword was already a huge distance away from theirs.

"F*ck, I don't believe that I can' t catch up!" He immediately controlled the flying sword to increase its speed as he wanted to catch up with Jack and the others.

Whoosh! Whoosh! Whoosh!

However, Jack's flying sword was already speedy and he was still increasing its speed. After ten seconds, they had completely thrown the Normans behind and disappeared from their line of sight.

"How's that possible! We failed to catch up!" Darryl's eyes were wide open as he swallowed his saliva hard. He wondered if he had made a mistake. He had been increasing the speed of his flying sword without stop and it was at its limit. However, their distance with the White family's flying sword was getting further and further away until they were completely thrown behind.

This can only prove that the level of the White family's flying sword is higher than ours!" Darryl had raging emotions in his heart and slowly spoke after some time.
