

Apex Chapter 494

Chapter 494 I Hate You So Much Javier was only saying that.

He did not do it. He passed the glass of warm water to Audrey after pouring it for her. Audrey's reflex was to get up and accept the water, but her stomach was still in pain. Javier told her, looking at her pained expression, "I asked the doctor earlier. He said you'll still be in pain for three to five hours after waking up. No definite duration as it differs for different people, but it's not anything to worry about. You don't have to fret over it."

Javier's explanation reassured Audrey. She thanked him again after helping her drink some water.

The man did not care about that. He was more concerned about what Audrey had done to have eaten her way to the hospital, to which the latter replied embarrassedly, "The weather's hot, and I got greedy. I had a lot of cold things, so..."

Javier made an "oh" sound and said no more. As both of them chatted, and it being at night, they managed to bring their conversation to the bed, and that was that. This part felt abrupt because a large chunk of it was edited out... Audrey's years of perseverance ultimately lost against Javier. For nearly two hours, she was thoroughly wrecked by Javier, but she enjoyed the process. What should not be happening had happened anyway, so what was stopping her from enjoying it? Hence, Audrey forgave Javier again and mentioned ending it once more. "This is really the last time. If you do that to me again, I'll call the police and have you arrested!"

*That serious? Okay then, no more next time."

Javier looked scared, and that slightly reassured Audrey. After lunch, however, he f*cked her

Audrey was on the verge of tears. "You shameless jerk, can you keep your words!?"

"Noga!* Javier's answer was crisp

Audrey considered that a word of truth from Javier She had complete reasoning to believe that what he said was absolutely credible

The following days passed by Javier finding time to bully Audrey every day Despite that, Audrey looked more and more radiant day by day with the love and care of a man, the world's standard transformed it was smooth and supple and felt great to touch

Javier had a thorough enjoyment of Audrey's alluring charm as well. Although they did not like each other, the temporary friends with benefits worked well for the

It was a month later when Javier got busy with work again

With the potent of the variapproved u m a Turing permit obtained, Javier's side began to work the advertisement to ask Doug to prepare was already out, and many patients were waiting in line for the need to be solved

There was a psoriasis patient who came from a village in the hospital. He was nervous with his hand gripping his right pocket. There, some 150 dollars that he had saved from selling wheat sat. If his son was not about to bring his daughter-in-law back home recently, he would honestly be reluctant to spend this sum on treating his skin condition. The condition was just making him ugly. It was not life threatening

Nonetheless, he was worried that he was too ugly and would scare his future daughter-in-law away. As such, he had to seek treatment with the money, no matter how reluctant he was. It was just that he was not too sure if 150 dollars would be enough. He had heard that effective targeting drugs were super expensive, and a similar medicine overseas cost 6-8 thousand dollars per shot!
