

When His Eyes Opened by Simple Silence Chapter 1743

Chapter 1743

“Stop reading.” Avery stretched out her hand and took back all the paper, “I’ll read it myself later.”

“Well. You can also wait for your eyes to look better.” Mike gave the paper to Avery and said, “Elliot brought this to you to let you know about the child’s situation! Why is he so kind?”

“I don’t know.” Avery really couldn’t guess what Elliot was thinking. She also wondered how Elliot could be so kind.

Avery didn’t take a nap at noon today, she was a little dizzy, so she took Layla’s diary and went back to her room.

Mike picked up the phone and saw that the call didn’t hang up, so he put it in his ear: “Did you hear it just now?”

“Well.” On the other side of the phone, Chad’s heart was a little heavy, “How’s Avery’s eyes?”

Mike said, “It can be seen clearly within one meter, and gradually blurred beyond one meter.”

Chad: “Oh...it’s okay. It should be able to recover slowly next time?”

Mike: “Well.”

“When her eyes recover, will she go back to Aryadelle to see Layla and Robert?” Chad asked.

Chad was very distressed when he heard Layla’s diary just now. Usually, he occasionally visited Layla and Robert. The two children looked fine, but Layla was so sad inside.

Mike: “Does Elliot allow Avery to see the child?”

Chad took a breath: “I don’t know. I really don’t know. I haven’t heard the boss mention this at all, and I don’t dare to ask. He looks very unhappy every day, who Dare to ask!”

“Wait for Avery, let’s see how she decides! I rarely talk to her about the future.” Mike didn’t dare to talk at all, for fear that she would cry.

Before her eyesight was restored, Mike just wanted her to rest in peace and recover from her injury.

In the bedroom.

Avery walked to the desk and put her daughter's diary under the lamp. She desperately wanted to know what was in her daughter's heart.

After she struggled to read all the diaries, her mood was not as depressed as at the beginning.

The diary that Mike read just now was the first one written by her daughter after she left, so that diary was the saddest.

In the following diary, her daughter kept cheering herself up, doing psychological construction, and making herself braver.

Avery was very pleased that her daughter was so strong, and at the same time felt sorry for her.

If there was no change in the family, the daughter did not need to be so strong.

Avery lifted her head up to keep the tears from falling.

She needs to recover quickly, and when her eyes recover, whether she returns to Aryadelle to find her child or picks up her child to meet in Bridgedale, it will be better than thinking so hard.

In the living room, Mike and Chad finished talking on the phone. Mike's mouth was dry. When he was looking for a water glass, the phone rang suddenly.

He picked up the phone and saw Elliot's call. At this moment, he was stunned. He didn't expect Elliot to call. After Avery and Elliot divorced, Elliot never called him.

Mike took a deep breath and answered the phone.

Elliot: "The security guard told me that you are home."

When Elliot handed the document to the security guard, he left his number and asked the security guard to give Avery the document and call him back.

The security just called Elliot back. So Elliot dialed Avery's number again, but still couldn't get through.

He resisted the unhappiness in his heart, and the awkwardness in his heart, and dialed Mike's number.

“What are you doing here with Layla’s diary? Does Layla know you secretly photographed her diary?” Mike took the phone and went back to his room.

Elliot didn’t answer the question, but instead asked: “What kind of illness did Avery have two months ago? He actually needs to hire a nurse.”

When His Eyes Opened by Simple Silence Chapter 1744

Chapter 1744

Mike was turned over by him on this question!

How dare Elliot ask this question?

–Avery’s eyes are almost healed. Doesn’t Elliot feel uncomfortable when he comes back to pretend to care about Avery? Or that Elliot had already found out that Avery’s eyes were getting better, so he came here?

–Before Elliot heard Avery say that her eyes were blind, did Elliot think that if he was blind, he could not be cured, so he treated her so ruthlessly?

Various thoughts appeared in Mike’s mind.

“Are you caring about her? It’s ridiculous.” Mike said sarcastically. “If you really care about her, then you give her the custody of Layla and Robert! Give her back her Tate Industries! If you can do When it’s over, call me again!”

Elliot was irritated by his rude demands. And said, “Mike, I didn’t expect you to be so ignorant.”

“Who are you scolding! Did I beg you to call me? Did I beg you to come to Avery’s house?” Mike laughed mercilessly, “You are so old. Can you take care of yourself? After you divorced Avery, has Avery contacted you? Is it not? What’s the matter?”

“Yes, I’m a jerk!” Elliot gritted his teeth, his face was ashen, and he hung up the phone. Indeed he was rude.

–Elliot and Avery parted ways long ago and drew a clear line.

–Elliot said that he would not show her Layla and Robert in the future unless she came to beg him.

–It is estimated that Avery was furious to death after listening to him. So it is even more impossible to bow to him.

–As for Avery’s illness, she didn’t tell Elliot, and she doesn’t need his extra care.

Elliot put down his phone, walked to the refrigerator, and took out a bottle of ice water. He needed to calm down now.

He drank half a bottle of ice water, and the dry heat in his body finally subsided. Not long after, there was a convulsion in his stomach, and he immediately leaned on the bed and bent down.

After Elliot came to Bridgedale, he hadn't eaten yet. Originally, his stomach was not very good. He just drank the ice water, which was like killing him.

He didn't bring a bodyguard or stomach medicine. Now he can't move because of the pain, so he can only endure it and wait for the pain to pass.

At 7:00 p.m.

Avery really couldn't hold back her thoughts about her child. She called Layla for the video call.

Layla saw her mother's call and took it immediately.

Avery: "Layla!"

Avery saw her daughter lying on the bed, with loose hair and a small face. Compared with before, her facial features were more three-dimensional, and her daughter seemed to have grown up a lot.

Avery couldn't hide her excitement, she was happy, but also full of guilt.

Layla: "Mom!"

Layla saw her mother's familiar face and stood up from the bed excitedly, "Mom, is it really you? I didn't dream?"

"Layla, you didn't dream. Mom saw what you wrote's diary was brought by your father to show me." Avery tried hard to calm down, "Mom feels sorry for you. So your mom made a video for you and wanted to say sorry to you."

Layla's face was originally With a smile, after listening to her mother's words, her tears burst out instantly.

Feelings of grievance took over her sanity.

"Mom, I miss you so much! I want to live with you, but I don't want to be with my father." Layla rubbed her eyes and pursed her mouth, "Why haven't you called me for so long? I really I'm so angry! But if you call me now, I'll forgive you."

When His Eyes Opened by Simple Silence Chapter 1745

Chapter 1745

Avery wanted to find a reason to answer her daughter, but couldn't find a suitable reason.

Her daughter was no longer a child of two or three years old, and the reason was too false to deceive her.

"Layla, your mother was sick before, and the doctor told her not to play with her phone, so she made you a video call now but now she is also sick too." Avery answered her daughter half-truth, "Mom's illness is not serious, and it is now healed. Originally, your mother wanted to go back to Aryadelle to find you and your brother, but your father won't let me find you."

"Woohoo! Bad dad. He won't let you come to me and Robert, so I'll take Robert to you." Layla frowned. She said fiercely, "I'm not afraid of him!"

Avery said, "Layla, your studies are more important now. When you have winter vacation, you can come to Bridgedale to find your mother, okay? When the time comes I'll ask Hayden to pick you up, or you can ask your uncle Eric to bring you here. You can study hard now. Robert is too young to take him abroad. Can we discuss it when you are on winter vacation?"

Layla stretched her hands to wipe her tears: "Okay mom, can you make video call me every day in the future? If you can't every day, you can call me every two days!"

Avery thought for a while and replied: "If it's convenient for you in the future, you can call mom. Mom's phone will be turned on in the future."

Layla: "You don't want dad to see our video call, right?"

"Well. I don't want to quarrel with him." Avery explained the reason, "Because you and Robert are still living by his side, Mom doesn't want to conflict with him."

Layla: "Mom, what can I do?"

Layla really wanted to do something to change the current situation.

"As long as you are healthy, study hard, unite with Robert, and grow up obediently, that's fine." Avery knew that her daughter wanted to leave Elliot and come to her side, but there was no way to do that at the moment.

Layla pursed her mouth and felt uncomfortable for a while, and asked, "Mom, do you want to see Robert?"

Avery didn't think about it: "Well, your mother misses him too."

"Wait!" Layla took the phone, got out of bed quickly, and ran towards her brother's room.

Robert was still sleeping.

Layla climbed onto Robert's bed and pointed the camera at Robert.

"Look Mom, Robert is still sleeping." Layla straightened Robert's little face on the side, "Look at him, has he grown up too?"

Avery looked at Robert's chubby little face and endured it. She could n't stop smiling: "Layla, let Robert sleep! It's time for you to get up and go to school."

"Mom, I can't bear to hang up." Layla reluctantly parted.

Avery was reluctant to hang up, but after watching the screen for a while, her eyes began to swell. She can't look at her phone anymore.

"Mom has a stomachache and has to go to the bathroom." After making an excuse, Avery hung up the video.

After she finished the video, Mike pushed open her door. Just now Avery was speaking, and Mike heard it outside.

"I made a video call for Layla." Avery saw him come in and said frankly, "I finished reading Layla's diary, and I couldn't hold back."

"It's okay. I'm worried about your eyes." Mike could understand her videotaping Layla.

It was because his eyes were sick that he couldn't help but start playing with his mobile phone long ago.

Avery: "My eyes are a little swollen. I'm going to rest."

"Then go to sleep. I'll come in and see, it's all right." Mike stood at the door and didn't come in, "By the way, Elliot called me today. I know where I heard the news, and know that our family hired a nurse. He called me to ask me what was wrong with you, and you asked for a nurse. I scolded him. "

Avery was shocked.

"Don't you think I shouldn't scold him?" Mike scratched his head, "I couldn't be mad at the time! While he was going to ruin your career, he pretended to care about your health. I've never seen such a bad man."

When His Eyes Opened by Simple Silence Chapter 1746

Chapter 1746

“Mike, now Layla and Robert are still living by his side, I want to avoid conflict with him as much as possible.” Avery expressed his thoughts, “If he can really ruin my career, then I admit it. You don’t have to curse him for that.”

“You are so cowardly!” Mike complained, “Don’t underestimate Layla! If Elliot makes Layla anxious, Layla will resist. Don’t think Elliot will treat the child badly because of your grievances and grievances with you, and that’s his child too!”

Mike’s words made Avery wake up a bit. In fact, Avery knew in her heart, she just didn’t want to gamble.

It’s like Avery didn’t expect Elliot to be so unfeeling towards her, and she was bent on ruining her career. She was worried that Elliot would go crazy and lose his mind.

“You have a good rest! Don’t think too much about it. If he really treats Layla and Robert badly in the future, I will find a way to grab the two children. You can rest assured that I am here.” Mike saw her hesitant expression , so comfort.

“Mike, thanks to you for this period of time.” Avery thanked him and continued, “it was very difficult, because with you by my side, I’m always full of hope.”

Mike: “What’s there to thank. If I get sick? Now, you will also take care of me.”

Avery: “Well.”

“That’s okay, don’t say thank you to me in the future. If Elliot finds you again, you don’t have to be polite to him. Even if AN Technology goes bankrupt, we don’t need to look at his face. I am so much the way to make money, I will support you.” Mike gave her confidence.

She couldn’t help laughing: “I’ll be able to support myself when my eyes are healed. I won’t be so miserable.”

Mike: “I know. I Just wanted to know what you have in mind.”

Bridgedale.

At 1:00 a.m.

Elliot was rushed to the hospital closest to the hotel. He had a stomach attack in the afternoon and fainted in the room. Because he came alone, no one knew his situation in time.

After Chad found out through Mike that he was going to Bridgedale, he called him, but he didn't get through. Chad then called his bodyguard. Knowing that Elliot went to Bridgedale alone, he inevitably began to worry about his life in Bridgedale.

In the evening, Chad called him again, but he still couldn't get through.

Thinking that Norah Jones was on a business trip in Bridgedale, Chad called Norah Jones and asked Norah Jones to find him.

Norah Jones immediately went to the hotel where Elliot was staying. Because he couldn't get through to Elliot's phone number. Norah Jones found the manager of the housekeeping department and hoped that the manager could open Elliot's door.

Of course, the room manager did not agree to Norah Jones's request.

Elliot was the VIP of the hotel. Without his permission, the manager would not dare to open the door of his room casually.

Norah Jones grinded with the manager of the housekeeping department for several hours, and finally Norah Jones got angry and said that if something happened to Elliot, the manager should be fully blamed.

The manager turned pale with fright, and then opened Elliot's room.

Unexpectedly, Elliot really had an accident.

The manager called an ambulance, and Elliot was quickly taken to the hospital.

After Elliot was sent to the emergency room, Norah Jones had time to call Chad back.

"Chad, it's fortunate that you called me, otherwise Elliot would be in trouble." Norah Jones had a lingering fear, "Elliot fainted in the hotel room. I don't know why he fainted. When I was in the ambulance, When I touched his hand, it was cold. But don't worry, he is still breathing."

Chad was frightened: "How could this be?! Why did he faint? Could it be hypoglycemia?"

When His Eyes Opened by Simple Silence Chapter 1747

Chapter 1747

"Why did Elliot come here alone? If you didn't call me and if I didn't open his room in time...I can't imagine the consequences." Norah Jones was frightened.

Chad's face was heavy, "He went to Bridgedale this time to find Avery, so he didn't let anyone follow him."

Norah: "No wonder! Then did he find Avery? I heard that Avery has disappeared for the past few months. ..."

Chad wanted to say that Avery was sick, but held back.

Now the whole company is spreading gossip about Elliot and Norah Jones. Although this is all nonsense, Chad thinks that Norah Jones may not have this heart.

So Chad didn't need to tell Norah Jones about Avery.

Chad: "I also heard that he was looking for Avery. I'm not sure if he really did. After he divorced Avery, he never mentioned Avery to me again."

"Oh... ..Do you think his fainting might have something to do with Avery?" Norah Jones guessed, "He seems to be in good health, why did he faint for no reason?"

Chad corrected her: "My boss is not as healthy as you think. He just looks strong, but he actually has a lot of hidden illnesses."

Chad said this deliberately, hoping to persuade Norah Jones to quit.

Although the boss and Avery have divorced, Chad can feel that the boss has no interest in women and will not marry any woman again.

"What hidden illness does he have?" Norah Jones asked.

"This is his privacy, and it is not convenient for me to disclose it." Chad made excuses to prevaricate.

"Okay! But he can have so many children with Avery, which shows that he is a normal man." Norah Jones was having fun, "this is already a good advantage."

"Ms. Jones, the man you have experienced before is a bad?" Chad teased.

"Maybe I'm out of luck! I've never met a normal man before." Norah Jones said here, and changed the subject, "I'm a little sleepy, I'm going to have a cigarette. I'll contact you when Elliot wakes up. "

"Okay, thank you for your hard work." Chad always felt that something was wrong, and when he was about to hang up, he recalled, "Ms. Jones, did my boss allow you to call him by his first name?"

Norah Jones was stunned for a moment: "I haven't discussed this issue with him. Because I think I'm the same age as him, so I called him Elliot directly, and he didn't correct me. What's the matter? Can't I call him that? It was he who told you in private Have you mentioned this?"

"Not really. It's just that recently our company has been spreading gossip about you and my boss. If these gossips get to the boss, he will definitely be angry. He hates gossip with female subordinates the most. I told you this because I was afraid that these little things would affect your future." Chad reminded her.

Norah Jones: "Chad, thank you for reminding me. But I think you think too much. It's their business to talk about the employees of your company. Is it possible to keep their mouths shut? Besides, didn't the former manager of the PR department of your company have been ambiguous with Elliot for many years?"

Chad's voice was a little cold: "Then do you know how she died?"

Norah Jones: "I would like to hear the details."

"It's better that you don't know. I'm afraid to scare you." Chad didn't want to tangle with her on this topic anymore, "No matter what. Thank you for taking my boss to the hospital so late."

Norah Jones teased: "He is not only your boss, but also my boss. If you have to thank me, it is he who is thanking me, not you."

This phone call was in an unpleasant atmosphere. end below.

Morning, six o'clock.

Elliot opened his eyes slowly, and a woman's face appeared in front of him.

When His Eyes Opened by Simple Silence Chapter 1748

Chapter 1748

"Mr. Foster, you're awake! I'll call the doctor." Norah Jones stayed up all night, guarding Elliot by the hospital bed.

The doctor said he had a stomach attack that caused him to faint.

The problem was not serious, but it needs special attention in daily life.

“Why are you here?” Elliot asked hoarsely. After asking the question, he glanced around.

–Is this in the hospital?

“Mr. Foster, you had a stomach ailment and fainted in your hotel room.” Norah Jones explained to him.

Elliot gradually regained his memory.

Yesterday he drank half a bottle of ice water and had a stomach attack. He thought he could get through the pain for a while, but he finally fainted.

“Who called you?” Elliot asked cautiously.

“Chad called you, but couldn’t get through. So he called me and let me come to you.” Norah Jones continued, “He told me the hotel you stayed in. The hotel manager didn’t want to open your room without authorization but because I couldn’t get through to your phone, I was worried that you had an accident, so I forced the manager to open the door.”

“Thank you.” After saying these two words, Elliot closed his eyes.

Norah Jones said, “I’m going to call the doctor” and left the ward.

After a while, the doctor came over to check his condition.

“Mr. Foster, your stomach problem was a little serious. It shouldn’t be after you came to Bridgedale. In your case, you should take long-term medication. Did you not take medication yesterday?” The doctor asked, “You must eat on time, small and frequent meals. Take medicine on time, so that you can gradually recover.”

Elliot listened to the doctor’s words, his face was very cold: “Prescribe me some medicine.”

“You are hospitalized first. When you are discharged, I will prescribe medicine for you. “

Hospital?” Elliot frowned.

“Mr. Foster, you need to be hospitalized for at least a week. You have acute gastritis, gastric ulcer, duodenal ulcer...”

“Stop talking.” Elliot didn’t want to hear it.

Norah Jones stood beside him and saw his impatient face, so she comforted him: “Mr. Foster, you should listen to the doctor! You fainted yesterday...”

"I'm already awake and I am feeling very good now. OK." He wanted to leave the hospital.

Doctor: "That's because you lost the medicine all night. Your lady friend took care of you all night."

Elliot didn't refute any more. He came here alone. If he was forcibly discharged from the hospital and something happened later, it would only be more troublesome.

...

After Avery made a video call with her daughter last night, her whole mental state was turned on.

When eating breakfast in the morning, Mike saw the corners of his mouth rise and couldn't help teasing her: "Layla doesn't blame you, right?"

"Well. My daughter is obedient, sensible, and considerate." Avery was particularly moved.

"What does it have to do with you. If Elliot hadn't relied on his power in Aryadelle to occupy Layla and Robert, how could you have given up on them?" Mike comforted her, "By the way, Eric called me last night and said he had a job to come here."

Avery: "That's good! But why did he call you?"

"Haha, because he didn't know you started using your cell phone. He called me just to let me tell you." Mike held up the milk cup, and continued, "He said he had a cooperation with Gwen. I don't know the specifics. You can ask him when he comes."

"Gwen has a cooperation?" Avery was surprised. The two of them were people in two fields, and she never thought that the two of them would cooperate.

When His Eyes Opened by Simple Silence Chapter 1749

Chapter 1749

Mike guesses: "It must be Eric who wants to help Gwen. You can think of it with your toes. Eric is very popular in Bridgedale. Gwen is just a newcomer model who has just debuted for half a year. Now Eric has come to work with her and can help her improve several grades. "

Avery nodded.

"Did Elliot call you?" Mike asked.

“No.” She said, then changed her words, “He called yesterday morning, when my phone was off.”

Mike: “Don’t call him back. I scolded him yesterday, and he was so angry that he hung up. If you take the initiative Go and contact him, he will definitely not give you a good attitude.”

Avery: “Well.”

In the afternoon, Eric arrived in Bridgedale.

He carried his luggage directly and checked into Avery’s house.

He was more worried about Avery’s eyes.

“I’m much better. I made a video call for Layla yesterday.” Avery gave him a point of concern, “Look, I can take care of myself now.”

“Don’t listen to Avery so good. She can only watch to you now. she can’t see me clearly.” Mike sat far away from Avery, so he joked with Eric.

“Mike, is it time for you to go to work?” Avery said.

Mike sighed and got up from the sofa: “As soon as Eric comes, you think I’m superfluous. I’ll go, I’ll go.”

Mike went to the door to change his shoes, and then shouted: “Let’s go out to eat later in the evening. It’s been a long time since I ate out, so I’ll book a seat. Avery, how are you?”

Avery is fine, but it depends on Eric’s inconvenience.

After all, Mike said that he is very popular in Bridgedale. If he doesn’t want to go out to eat, he must respect his intentions.

“I’m fine.” Eric saw Avery’s eyes on him, and immediately said, “You haven’t been out for a long time, haven’t you? Go out to eat that night.”

“Okay.”

After discussing it, Mike went out.

Eric walked to where Mike was sitting and asked, “I’m sitting here, can not you really see me?”

"I can. It's just not so clear." Avery changed the subject, "You come here this time to cooperate with Gwen, did you deliberately want to help Gwen?"

"It's just an effort." Eric took a fork from the fruit plate and ate the fruit, "Gwen's agent came to me and said that there is a car brand that wants to cooperate with Gwen, but she feels Gwen doesn't have enough influence, so it's best to find an influential male artist."

Avery said, "Eric, if you want to refuse..."

"I've already agreed. The spokesperson is Gwen, and I'm just shooting a film promotion with Gwen." Eric said in a relaxed tone, "I also hope that Gwen can become an international supermodel soon, so that she doesn't have to be angry with the old man anymore."

Avery couldn't help laughing: "You mean Ben Schaffer?"

"Well. The matter with Ben Schaffer is still fresh in my memory." Eric teased, "My first impression of Ben Schaffer is not good. He looks older and more shrewd than Elliot."

Avery: "You will also grow old in the future."

Eric: "At least I won't lie to women like them. What I despise the most is the kind of people who treat women as reproductive tools and don't respect women at all."

Avery said, "Eric, although I divorced Elliot and we were having trouble with child custody, he didn't force me to give birth to the child. He didn't use me as a reproductive tool."

Eric: "It's more clever. He made you have so many children, but he didn't make you feel that he forced you to have them."

Avery: "I only gave birth to a second child."

Eric said, "He forced you to give birth to your second child. I think you are habitually remembering his goodness and ignoring when he treats you badly."

When His Eyes Opened by Simple Silence Chapter 1750

Chapter 1750

Avery did not refute. There was no need to argue about this issue.

At five o'clock in the afternoon, Mike called Eric and asked him to take Avery to the restaurant he ordered.

After Eric finished talking on the phone, he took Avery out of the door.

Eric asked, "What about the nurse before? Can you really do without a nurse?"

"The nurse has something to do at home. Plus my eyes will get better and better in the future, so I gave a sum of money to her and let her go back to work at home."

Eric said, "You should be fine staying at home now, don't go out alone."

"Well."

The two came to the high-end restaurant that Mike ordered.

There were not many customers in the restaurant.

Mike chose the window seat.

Actually Mike wanted to choose a private room, but unfortunately the private room was already fully booked tonight.

"I used to eat at this restaurant with Mike often. Because this restaurant has more authentic national dishes." Avery explained to Eric.

"I've heard of this restaurant, but I haven't eaten here. If it's not with my good friends, I don't really like to eat out." Eric took off his hat and sunglasses at the same time.

Looking at his handsome face close at hand, Avery couldn't help sighing: "Eric, you don't seem to have changed much. You have always been so young and handsome."

Avery felt that she had been mentally tired in the past two years.

Especially after giving birth to the child in autumn, she felt that the physical function had decreased significantly.

"It's important to stay in a good mood." Eric told her the secret of staying in shape.

"I'll try my best not to worry so much." Avery said with a smile.

At this time, the waiter came over and asked if the food needed to be served immediately.

"Have you ordered all the dishes?" Avery asked.

"Yes. The gentleman who made the reservation ordered the dishes in advance." The waiter showed Avery the menu that Mike ordered.

“I’ll call and ask.” Avery took out her mobile phone and dialed Mike.

Mike answered the phone quickly: “Have you been to the restaurant? If you are, then you should eat first. I’m picking up Hayden. It may take a while.”

“Have you received Hayden?” Avery asked.

Mike: “Not yet. There’s a bit of traffic jam on the road today. You eat first. When Hayden and I arrive, we can order food.”

From Mike’s side, there was a constant whistle blowing. It seems to be really crowded there.

After talking on the phone, Avery asked the waiter to serve the food first.

Soon, the waiter came to serve the dish with a tray.

At this time, at the door of the restaurant, a group of people walked in and prepared to eat.

After they sat down in the window seat, a woman spotted Eric with sharp eyes.

Eric and Avery are sitting right in front of them.

Eric was facing them, while Avery was behind them.

So at a glance, The woman can clearly see Eric’s face.

His facial features are really outstanding! Like a prince in a comic book coming out of the book.

“Look, it seems to be Eric!” The woman whispered, reminding her companion, “He is actually dating a woman! Is that woman his girlfriend?!”

Everyone’s eyes turned to Eric.

They saw that Eric stood up from the sofa and walked towards the woman he was dating.

The two sat together.

Not only that, but Eric actually picked up chopsticks and served vegetables to the woman beside him, and even wanted to feed them to woman.
