

When His Eyes Opened by Simple Silence Chapter 1776

Chapter 1776

Lynch Family.

After the car stopped in the yard, Jun got off with Kara in his arms.

Kara woke up suddenly. She woke up without saying a word, opened her mouth and cry.

In the villa, Mary heard her granddaughter's cry, and ran out quickly and took Kara away.

In the past, Mary often traveled with three or five best friends on beauty and card trips. Since she had a granddaughter, she never went out to play.

Tammy looked at the way her mother spoiled her daughter, and shook her head helplessly.

After Jun took out all the things in the trunk, the two entered the room and walked straight to the dining room.

"I starved to death. In fact, I really wanted to eat at Elliot's house, but Elliot is so annoying!" Tammy sat down on the dining chair.

Jun served her a meal and handed it to her.

"Wife, don't be angry. Brother Elliot doesn't seem to know about Avery's illness at all." Jun carefully observed Elliot's expression today.

There was no need for Elliot to know and pretend not to know.

"But Avery said Elliot knew!" Tammy wondered.

Jun said firmly, "There must be a misunderstanding between them. Tammy, tell Avery! Let's just say we went to see Elliot today. Elliot said he didn't know about her illness."

"I don't want to help him speak. Who knows if he really doesn't know about Avery's illness! I still believe Avery more." Tammy was reluctant to help.

Jun didn't force her: "Then I'll tell Avery. Sweetie, have you ever thought about it, if there is really a misunderstanding between them? After all, they still have three children, no matter what, they really don't need to make trouble. It's the same as the enemy but not good for children."

"Whatever you want. If you want to tell Avery, you go. But it's late at night in Bridgedale. You can tell her when it's dawn over there." Tammy reminded.

Jun: "Good."

...

Sterling Group.

Because of insomnia last night and not enough sleep in the morning, Elliot was not in a good mood all afternoon.

Until the end of get off work, a new email pops up on the computer screen.

The subject of the email: 'Please check the call recording'.

A gleam of light flashed in his eyes. He opens the email and downloads the attachment.

Before hitting play, he glanced at the office door.

Afraid that someone would break in suddenly, he strode to the door, locked the door, then returned to the desk and pressed the play button.

—Avery, I am going to Yonroeville.

This was his voice! He took a deep breath, clenched his fists, and listened carefully to her tone.

Avery: Why?

Elliot: Avery, I'm sorry. I promised you that I would never go to Yonroeville in my life. I have never forgotten my promise to you. But this time, there was a reason...

His voice stopped here, and Avery's restrained cry came.

At this time, listening to her original cry, Elliot eyes were also wet.

Avery: Did Rebecca threaten you with the child? I already knew this would happen...
Elliot, your promise is worthless!

Elliot: Avery, I'm sorry, I broke my promise. But I have to go to Yonroeville now. Rebecca died, and her children and I were gone. I have to check it out.

A suffocating silence, so familiar.

He remembered well that after Avery said 'your promise is worthless', she never spoke again.

The same is true!

Next, is his apology: Avery, I'm sorry. Haze's life and death are uncertain now, and I can't leave her alone. I have already bought a ticket to Yonroeville and I will be boarding soon. When I go over there and get things done over there, I'll go back to Aryadelle immediately.

The apology was settled, and the sound of the broadcast reminding to check the ticket came.

Hearing this, Elliot glanced at the time left in the audio.

58 seconds left.

When His Eyes Opened by Simple Silence Chapter 1777

Chapter 1777

But he remembered that there was nothing substantial after the call.

—Avery, give me some time. I'll be back in a week at the latest. I'll apologize to you when I get back.

After Elliot finished saying these words, there were the noisy voices of the airport, and the voices of him and Ben Schaffer talking in a low voice.

Ben Schaffer asked him if Avery didn't let him go to Yonroeville.

Ben Schaffer said that he could go to Yonroeville by himself.

Elliot said that Haze was his daughter and he had to go there. If he just listened to this recording of the phone call, he would still make such a choice.

Avery didn't say on the phone that she couldn't see! absolutely not!

He really wanted to play this recording to Ben Schaffer. He didn't blame Avery at all. If there was a misunderstanding, it was not his fault.

Why do they all blame him for being ruthless and ruthless?

Elliot put his hands on his forehead, and the heaven and man were fighting in his mind.
Bridgedale.

Avery got up according to Hayden's schedule.

If she can successfully apply for a Ph.D., then she will go to school with Hayden next.

During breakfast, Mike's phone calls.

Mike: "Avery, I'm in Bridgedale. Everything is fine."

Avery: "Well. My house hasn't lived in for a long time, so it's probably quite dirty. If Chad doesn't dislike you, you can go and live with Chad."

Mike: "I don't. It's not bad to dislike him as a lackey by Elliot's side, but where does he have the face to dislike me?"

Avery: "You speak so nasty, be careful to be beaten."

"He's right next to me. He didn't beat me." Mike smiled smugly.

Avery asked, "How are you going to meet Layla?"

Mike: "I will meet Layla outside on the weekend."

"Isn't it possible that you won't be able to see Robert?" Avery asked.

"I don't know! I'll think of a way when the time comes! It really doesn't work, I'll ask Chad to bring Layla and Robert out to play."

"Then you can try it when the time comes. If Elliot doesn't let you see the child, then forget it. Don't be hard on him." Avery considered it for a while, and spoke cautiously.

Mike: "Got it! I'll be home soon, so I won't talk."

After the call, Avery put down the phone.

After Hayden finished breakfast, he looked at his mother: "Mom, are you really planning to study for a Ph.D.? You might as well rest at home!" Such words. You will get sick again."

Seeing that his son was serious, Avery smiled and said, "Mom will take good care of her body in the future. She will definitely not get sick. It's just a way to mediate life. Mom won't be too tired."

Hayden: "Well. Then I'll go to school first."

"Come back early in the evening." Avery sent him out.

After Hayden left, Avery returned to the villa and heard the phone ringing. She strode towards the dining room, picked up her phone, and was a little puzzled when she saw Jun's call.

—It's late at night in Aryadelle. Jun called at this point. Did he quarrel with Tammy?

Avery answered the phone: "Yes, what happened?"

"Avery, I have something to tell you. Tammy and I bought a toy sports car for Robert during the day today, and happened to meet Brother Elliot at home. Then we chatted. For a moment... He doesn't seem to know about your eye conjunctivitis at the beginning. Also, did your eye conjunctivitis cause blindness? He heard from Brother Ben that you were blind at the time, so he asked us."

Avery was shocked and took a deep breath: "Elliot said he didn't know?"

"He didn't say he didn't know, but he looked like he didn't know. Otherwise, why would he ask us specifically? This thing?" Jun replied.

When His Eyes Opened by Simple Silence Chapter 1778

Chapter 1778

How did Avery know that Elliot wanted to ask them about it.

Avery only knew that she was on the phone and told him clearly, she said that she couldn't see, but Elliot didn't respond.

—He never responded.

Now he pretended not to know, and went to ask their mutual friend, not knowing what he was thinking.

But none of that matters anymore.

Her eyes are already healed.

So there was no need to investigate whether Elliot even knew about it.

–Besides, if Elliot really cares about her illness, why doesn't he come and ask her directly?

Last time, because of Layla's deliberately low score, Avery pulled him out of the blacklist in order to call him.

If Elliot called her now, Avery could see it.

But Elliot didn't call her.

"Jun, he and I have been divorced for almost half a year. Whether we misunderstood or not, everything has changed now. We can't go back. Now it's very late, you should rest early!" After thinking carefully, Avery said to Jun.

Although Jun felt very sorry, after thinking about it carefully, he felt that what Avery said made sense.

They have been divorced for so long, and now the troubled Avery has even sold the company. It is indeed difficult to reconcile.

In the first snow of this year, the daughter of Wesley and Shea was born. This kid looked very much like Wesley.

Nolan and Sandra were very excited because the child was born safely.

They all knew that this would be Wesley and Shea's only child and their only granddaughter.

"Shea, give your child a name!" Wesley said.

Shea said, "It's up to you to choose! I'm afraid the name I'll give her will not sound good."

"As long as it's your name, it will sound good." Wesley encouraged, "Don't worry about getting your child's birth certificate today, you can think about it."

"Yeah, Shea, it's up to you to name the child. This is the child you are trying to conceive, so you should name the child." Nolan thought of Shea's insistence, I have to protect this child, and I have suffered a lot of grievances.

Shea blushed slightly: "Maria Brooks, how is it?"

She thought the word 'Maria' is very cute.

Nolan and Sandra couldn't react in time, and Wesley immediately said: "It sounds so nice. Then call it Maria!"

“Maria’s born was very smooth we should thank to Avery. If Avery hadn’t come up with this good way, maybe Maria would have been knocked out long ago.” Sandra sighed.

“Wesley, you called Avery and said that you are young and one year old. I hope she can come back.” Nolan said to his son, “It seems that she never came back after her divorce. If she doesn’t want to come back, don’t force her.”

“Well. I’m going to call her now.” Wesley said and walked to the balcony.

He found Avery’s number and dialed it.

At this time, it was daytime in Bridgedale, and Avery quickly answered the phone.

Avery was very happy to hear that their child was born smoothly, “Let’s switch to video call! I want to see your child.”

“The child is taken to care.” Wesley said, “Avery, about this month, Can you come back when I have a birthday banquet for my child?”

Avery hesitated for a while.

“If you don’t want to come back, then you don’t come. When the child is brought back, I’ll show you the video.” Wesley is always like this, and will never force her to do something she doesn’t want to do.

“Brother Wesley, I told you that I plan to study for a Ph.D. I submitted the application materials a few days ago, and I received a reply today. The tutor I applied for agreed with me to study for a Ph.D.” Avery explained the reason.

“Congratulations, Avery! It’s good to have a job you want to do.”

“Well. It’s just a pity that I can’t see your child in person.” Avery regretted, “Have you given your child a name? “

When His Eyes Opened by Simple Silence Chapter 1779

Chapter 1779

“It’s taken. The child’s name is Maria Brooks. The size is small. It’s chanting.”

Avery: “It’s so nice. Who does Maria look like?”

“Like me. My mother said that she looks the same as when I was a child.” Wesley said and was taken aback, “She look a lot like me.”

When Wesley said this, happy laughter came from the ward.

“Brother, my daughter is very cute. I gave her a cute name, Maria. Do you think it sounds good?” Shea held Elliot’s arm and said happily.

Hearing Shea’s voice in his ears, Wesley said awkwardly to Avery on the phone: “Elliot is here. It’s better if you don’t come back, otherwise you will definitely meet him.”

“Look at Maria.”

The call hung up.

Wesley entered the ward from the balcony.

Nolan didn’t know how to avoid it, so he asked his son directly, “Can Avery come back?”

Wesley shook his head.

Nolan asked, “Is she busy? What is she doing abroad?”

Sandra saw that her husband had no eyesight, and immediately said, “Since Avery can’t come back, it must be something! You have something to ask. That’s someone’s privacy.”

Elliot listened to their words and answered, “Doesn’t Avery want to come back to see me?”

Isn’t this a knowing question?

Nolan and Sandra directly became dumb.

Wesley also felt that the reason why Avery refused to come back was one of the reasons for her PhD, and the main factor was that she didn’t want to come back to see Elliot.

The atmosphere in the ward froze.

Fortunately, the director of pediatrics came in with Maria in his arms.

“Mr. Brooks, Mrs. Brooks, congratulations! Your granddaughter is very healthy.” The director handed Maria to Nolan, then looked at Wesley, “Wesley, congratulations on becoming a father! The child will still be kept in the hospital for a week of observation. After a week, there will be no problem, you can take it home.”

“Well, thank you for your hard work.”

The director smiled and shook his head, then put a red envelope into Shea's hand: "Shea, this is a red envelope for your child. Take care of the child. It's very hard work, but you can leave these things to Wesley and your mother-in-law. They are all doctors and very professional."

"Well, thank you!" Shea accepted the red envelope.

The director wanted to say something, but when he saw Elliot standing on the side, he forgot the words.

"When the child is crying, you can give the child some milk." The director walked to the door of the ward and remembered, "Let's drink less. She has a small stomach now, so she can't eat much. There is a dosage table on the milk powder can, you'll give it to the child."

"Yeah! Go get busy!" Wesley sent the director out.

In the ward, there was an awkward atmosphere again.

"Brother, look at my daughter." Shea took Elliot and walked to her father-in-law.

Nolan immediately handed Maria to Elliot.

Elliot didn't dare to hug because she was too small.

"You hold it! I'm not very good at holding children." Elliot explained.

Nolan continued to hold Maria, and for some reason, Haze suddenly came to his mind.

Nolan remembered that Elliot and Rebecca had a child named Haze. Later, the Jobin family was destroyed, and he heard that Haze's body was not found.

He didn't hear it after that.

"Elliot, don't you have a daughter named Haze? Did you find her later?" Nolan asked.