

When His Eyes Opened by Simple Silence Chapter 1792

Chapter 1792

Wesley had to call Mike.

Mike's phone got through as soon as he called.

"Mike, why can't I get through to Avery's phone?" Wesley asked.

"I can't get through either. I took Avery to the airport at noon, and I haven't contacted her yet. She was quite normal when she was at the airport. There's no reason to get off the plane and never turn it on!" Mike was bald for most of the day.

He planned to fly to the country to find Avery where she traveled, if he couldn't contact her after tonight.

"Avery received an email from Xander today. Didn't she tell you?" Wesley told Mike that Maddox had called him just now.

"No! Isn't Xander dead? He sent her emails? This is too strange! Is it possible that someone faked Xander's account and sent her emails?!" Mike started the conspiracy theory, "Should she not be deceived?"

Wesley: "..."

Wesley didn't think like Mike. He thought that Xander might still be alive...

"Stop talking! Avery called me back!" After Mike exclaimed, he hung up Wesley's phone.

Avery got off the plane now and found a hotel to stay first. After turning it on, she saw Mike's serial deadly calls. She immediately called him back.

Mike was in a hurry, if he didn't make it clear to him. He may fry the pot in a hurry.

"Avery!" Mike shouted anxiously after getting on the phone, "Did you receive an email from Xander today? Where are you now? Tell me clearly! Send me the location!"

"I'm now in Yonroeville." Avery sat by the bed, exhausted physically and mentally, but couldn't close her eyes.

Mike: "What are you doing in Yonroeville? Is Xander still alive? Isn't the ashes sent back to Bridgedale? Avery, you..."

“Haze is my daughter.” When Avery said this, her emotions broke down again, “Mike, Haze is my daughter. Do you still have a picture of Haze in your phone? Can you send me the picture? “

Mike was stunned.

“Xander sent me a timed e-mail three years ago. Neti’s mailbox went bankrupt, so he sent me the timed e-mail he sent me in advance.” Avery choked out the matter, “Mike, I hate it! When I saw Haze’s photo at the time, I clearly thought she and Layla were carved out of the same mold, but I didn’t dare to think that she was my daughter at the time! Obviously Layla was like me! Not like Elliot! Why did I then Why don’t you come to Yonroeville to find Haze?”

“Avery, don’t cry!” Mike’s mind was a little confused, “Isn’t Haze already dead? What can you do when you go to Yonroeville now?”

“Who said Haze died? Has this matter been confirmed? Haze’s body has been found?” Avery had never heard of this incident, so she was stunned.

The news she heard at the time was that Haze’s body could not be found, and Haze was missing.

Mike was also stunned, “I haven’t heard the exact news either. After you divorced Elliot, we both came to Bridgedale...”

“So Haze may not be dead.” Avery emotionally said, “I want to find Haze. I will definitely find her!”

“Avery, don’t be stubborn! If Haze was really still alive, she would have been found by Elliot! Even Elliot couldn’t find her, think you can find it?” Mike decided to go to Yonroeville to find her now.

Avery’s tone indicated that she was extremely unstable now.

Mike was worried that something would happen to her impulse.

“You subconsciously think that he is better than me, why do you look down on me? Why can’t he find it, so I can’t find it? I have to find Haze!” Avery said angrily and hung up the phone.

Mike was speechless. He knew he was wrong.

In his eyes, Elliot was a very powerful character. But Avery was equally powerful.

Just when Mike was struggling to call her to apologize, Avery called Mike again.

Mike picked up the phone immediately.

“Mike, Haze is my daughter, don’t tell me first.” Avery confessed, “If I can find Haze, I will definitely raise her myself.”

Chapter 1793

The reason why Avery called Mike to remind him was because she was afraid that Elliot would follow her to grab her daughter after knowing it.

Avery hadn’t seen Robert for three years. She doesn’t know if she will be able to meet Robert successfully when she returns to Aryadelle. She couldn’t give him custody of Haze because she was worried that it would be difficult to see Haze in the future.

Although Haze may not be alive, it is better to have hope than to directly sentence the child to death.

Mike understood what was on Avery’s mind. The reason for her divorce from Elliot was Haze.

If it was known early on that Haze was the child of the two of them, there would not have been so many incidents in the future.

Now they know that Haze is their child, but their relationship has long since broken.

After hanging up, Mike went to the bathroom to wash his face with cold water.

Suddenly, Avery wanted a photo of Haze in his mind. He had saved Haze’s photos in his phone before, but he didn’t deliberately delete the photos, so he should still have them in his phone.

Mike came out of the bathroom, found Haze’s photo on his mobile phone, sent it to Avery, and dialed Chad’s number. He wanted to inquire about Haze’s situation.

Mike calleed Chad, and after a while, Chad answered the phone.

Chad: “Mike, I’m very busy today...”

Mike had never called at this point before.

“Chad, I have something very important to ask you, you go to the bathroom to hide first!” Mike demanded.

“What’s wrong with you! Hurry up and say, what’s the important thing?” Chad listened to him and went to the bathroom.

“I want to ask about Haze. Would it be convenient for you to tell me directly?” Mike asked, “Didn’t Elliot go to Yonroeville to find Haze? What was the final result?”

Chad didn’t expect that he would ask this question.

“Why did you ask me this question during my time at the company? Who asked you this question?” Chad walked towards the bathroom.

In the past two years or so, Mike had not asked Haze any questions, but now he was suddenly anxious to ask this question.

“It just suddenly occurred to me that I don’t seem to know whether the child has been found or not. You can think that I am too busy.” Mike remembered Avery’s reminder to him.

If he can’t let Elliot know, then it’s best not to tell Chad.

After all, the two of them work together every day, even if Chad can’t stop telling Elliot when he’s sober, what if the two of them drink together one day and Chad misses the point?

“Are you joking? What does this have to do with you! You’re embarrassed to say it’s important!” Chad scolded and chattered out of the bathroom, “I’ll answer you now, I don’t know. Because I didn’t go to Yonroeville at that time, I didn’t ask them.”

Mike: “They?”

Chad: “Besides my boss, Brother Ben also went. If you really want to know the whereabouts of that child, go to Brother Ben and ask.”

Mike: “Humph! I wouldn’t ask Ben Schaffer directly! I’ll let Gwen ask.”

“You are so smart.” Chad boasted, “but I think my boss didn’t found Haze. I didn’t hear any news or anything at all. If there is news, I am not completely unheard of.”

“I remember that you didn’t seem to have told me the follow-up of this matter. I thought I had messed up!” Mike’s voice gradually decreased.

Now Avery ran to Yonroeville to find Haze. If she couldn't find the whereabouts of the child, she would definitely not stop.

If there is definite news that the child is dead, it's nothing, long pain is worse than short pain! I am afraid that there is no news, no whereabouts, and people have no direction, so they can only look for them like a headless fly.

Yonroeville.

After Avery rested overnight, the next morning, she took a taxi to the door of Nick's house. She didn't call Nick because the hotel she stayed in was not far from Nick's house.

When she came to the door of Nick's detached villa, she rang the doorbell.

Soon, the servant in the villa stuck his head out.

Seeing Avery, the servant strode to the gate of the courtyard.

"Who are you?" The servant looked at Avery's face and didn't recognize it for a while.

"I'm Avery. I've been here three years ago." Avery explained her purpose, "because it's too early, so I didn't call Nick. I don't know if he's at home or not."

The door opened to let her in: "you came by coincidence. Our master went on a business trip for a while and only came back yesterday. He hasn't got up yet, so go to the living room and wait for a while!"

Avery: "Okay, thank you."

The servant looked at her and asked, "Why did you come alone?"

Avery sighed, "I divorced Elliot."

"Oh, I know! I'm asking why you didn't bring a bodyguard?" After Avery entered the living room, The servant poured her a glass of water, "Have you eaten breakfast?"

Avery: "I've eaten, you can do your job, don't worry about me."

At 10:00 a.m., Nick came downstairs slowly.

Seeing Avery sitting on the sofa in the living room, Nick's eyes widened, thinking that he hadn't woken up from his dream.

"Third brother." Avery got up from the sofa and walked towards the stairs, "I take the liberty to come to disturb you, I have some questions to ask you."

Nick looked at her in shock: “No, are you looking for Wrong person? Didn’t you and Elliot never get along with each other? Elliot and I are still good brothers!”

Avery took Nick’s arm and whispered: “Third brother, let’s go to your study to talk “

But I haven’t eaten yet! I’m so hungry.” Nick let go of her hand, “If you have something to say, just tell me! My family is full of people I can trust, and I promise not to let our chats go to waste or leak it out.”

Nick said as he walked towards the dining room.

Avery followed him to the dining room.

Avery: “Third brother, I want to ask you about the Jobin family being destroyed three years ago.”

The two sat down in the dining room, and the servant immediately brought the food to the table, and then retired.

“It’s been three years since this matter, why did you suddenly care?” Nick looked at her in confusion, “Didn’t you divorce Elliot three years ago because of this matter? Logically, you shouldn’t want to the right thing to mention.”

“I mainly want to know Haze’s whereabouts.” Avery explained her purpose, “I have been having nightmares recently, dreaming that Haze begged me to save her in a dream, I felt that I had to come over. You can’t go, otherwise it will be very uncomfortable to have nightmares all the time.”

“Is there such a strange thing?” Nick’s appetite dropped sharply, “Haze didn’t give you dreams three years ago, but now she gives you dreams? Did she just die recently?”

Avery: “What do you mean? Have you never found Haze?”

“That’s right! Haze was taken away by the driver of the Jobin family at the time, and he managed to escape. But the driver was a gambler... After he rescued Haze, he sold Haze directly. After digging up this clue, Elliot took the entire criminal gang, but still couldn’t find Haze.” Nick told her the whereabouts of Haze.

Avery’s body became cold, and she held the chopsticks in her hand were nonstopable trembling.

When His Eyes Opened by Simple Silence Chapter 1795

Chapter 1795

—Sold!

-Her daughter was sold!

This made Avery more worried than hearing that her daughter was dead.

Haze was sold as soon as she was born, who was she sold to? No matter who it is sold to, She was afraid that the child would have to suffer a lot. She couldn't accept the result.

Nick was very puzzled when he saw her tears falling like a broken thread.

Nick: "Why are you crying? Isn't it good that this child is gone? You and Elliot divorced because of this child!"

Avery looks like Haze is someone very important to her.

She remembered that Elliot didn't cry in front of outsiders because of Haze.

"What? I divorced Elliot, not because of this child. This child is innocent." Avery said, choked up and asked, "Didn't you find out where this child was sold? Is it still there? Yonroeville, or was it sold to another country?"

"I think this child may have been sold to another country. Because we sent people to search across Yonroeville and couldn't find her. Either she died or went to another country." When Nick said this, he felt that Avery's mood was too wrong, "Why are you so sad? You came to me, does Elliot know?"

Avery said, "He doesn't know. I haven't contacted him for a long time. Don't tell him that I came to you."

"Oh..." Nick narrowed his eyes, "Avery, I think you are hiding something to me. Haze is not your Child, even if this child entrusts you with a dream, you can completely ignore it. How can you take the dream seriously?"

"Because Haze and my daughter Layla look very similar. You have seen Layla and Haze, you should know How similar they are." Avery replied.

Nick suddenly realized: "It's because of this reason. The two children are indeed a bit similar. But I can't remember what Haze looks like. It's been so long, even if Haze is still alive, I'm afraid ..."

When Nick said this, he couldn't bear it in his heart, and he didn't continue to say the next words.

Avery's eyes were wet, and she held back her tears: "I'm afraid what?"

“Avery, I heard that your parents divorced when you were very young, and your stepmother passed the door soon. You had a hard time when you were young, right?” Nick’s mouth curled into a smile, “You are still by your biological father’s side, no matter where Haze is sold, it will definitely not be as good as your childhood life.”

Avery’s heart sank one by one.

Avery: “Where do the criminal gangs usually sell their children?”

“What are you asking about?” Nick was puzzled, “Avery, don’t you want to find this child?”

“Didn’t Elliot continue to look for this child?” Avery didn’t answer and asked, “This is his own daughter, has he stopped looking for this child?!”

Avery’s eyes were sharp and her tone was stern, as if she was going to slap the desk in the next second.

Nick had no appetite to continue eating, so he put down the tableware.

“After Elliot returned to Aryadelle, I didn’t ask him this question. After all, I think most of this child will never be found. Wouldn’t asking him pierce his heart? If he finds the child, I can’t be without any news! “

Nick’s voice was settled, Avery got up from the chair with a ‘teng’.

“You haven’t told me where that criminal gang usually sells children!” Avery’s voice was cold and she seemed determined.

Nick picked up the water glass and took a sip: “It’s usually sold to neighboring big countries. In countries with a good economy, children can also sell at higher prices. Aryadelle is also a big country closer to us.”

“Thank you.” Avery took a breath and was ready to leave.

“You came here specifically to ask me this question?” Nick also stood up from his chair, “Don’t you think Haze is your daughter?”

Avery stopped, but did not look back: “I want to determine if she is my daughter, a paternity test is required. But I have never met her, so how can I be sure that she is my daughter?”

Avery: “Oh, I understand, you want to find this child and do a paternity test.”
