

When His Eyes Opened by Simple Silence Chapter 1803

Chapter 1803

Mike tried to chase Avery, but didn't catch up.

She runs too fast.

When Mike ran to the door of the hotel, he saw Avery getting into an ambulance!

The bodyguard stood behind Mike and asked, "Should we chase her?"

"How? Chase four wheels with two legs, you can't figure it out." Mike turned around and walked towards the breakfast shop and said, "In the ambulance, There are doctors and police, so she will be fine. When she is done, she will come back naturally."

The bodyguard: "Oh, the boss is getting more and more self-willed."

Mike said, "Avery thinks Haze is still alive. So she wants to find this child quickly. Do you think this child is still alive?"

The bodyguard said firmly, "Of course not. But this is not ruled out. The child may still be alive. If I can imagine things like God, I will be a bodyguard. I will go directly to be the big boss."

Mike: "Actually, I also really hope that this child is still alive. If this child is still alive, it must be Layla 2.0. , when the time comes, there are four children, two on each side, so it will be fair."

The bodyguard: "You think this is dividing pork! What is fair and unfair, whoever raises the child should give the child to whomever. Obviously, Layla should be raised by our boss. Elliot is completely bullying others!"

Mike looked at him: "You can say that, why don't you go to Elliot to reason?"

The bodyguard confessed: "I don't dare."

The hospital.

After Avery followed the ambulance into the emergency room, she quickly learned from the police who the arsonist was.

After a series of rescues, the killer was sent to the ward.

About two hours later, the killer woke up.

Avery entered the ward with the attending doctor.

“Miss Tate, if you have anything to ask, ask quickly. Otherwise, it won’t be easy if the police come in later.” The attending doctor said to Avery.

“Thank you.” Avery said thanks, walked to the hospital bed, and looked at the woman with gauze on her face, “Hello, my name is Avery. I am a doctor and a mother. About three years ago, Jobin’s family was destroyed, but Rebecca’s daughter was taken away by the driver and escaped. But the driver later sold the child to a gang... That child, not Rebecca’s daughter, She is my daughter.”

The woman on the hospital bed listened to her words, her eyes remained cold, until she said the last sentence, the expression in the woman’s eyes changed slightly.

“I only recently learned that the child is actually my child. I missed that child for three years, and now the child may be long gone, but as a mother, I have to go to her, what if she is still alive? Avery said here, her eyes were wet, and she choked, “Can you tell me where The child was sold?”

“I know. But If I tell you, what benefits can I get?” The woman’s voice on the hospital bed was weak.

“What benefits do you want?” Avery heard that she knew Haze’s whereabouts, and her eyes lit up instantly, “As long as I can do it, I will satisfy you.”

“Come closer.”

Avery immediately put her head close past.

The attending doctor watched them beside them, curious about what they said. But pricked up his ears, he couldn’t hear what they were saying.

But it can be guessed that this arsonist must have asked Avery for money, or asked Avery to find a way to bail her and send her out of Yonroeville.

After listening to the woman’s request, Avery looked embarrassed.

But in order to find out Haze’s whereabouts, Avery nodded after thinking for a while.

“What you want, I will bring it to you before dark today.” Avery promised her, “But now you must tell me, where is my daughter Haze sold? If you know more details information, it would be better.”

"I don't know more detailed information." The woman answered quickly, "I just heard them talk about this child being Elliot's daughter...it should be the child you're talking about?"

"Yes! That's the child." Avery leaned over to her and asked, "Where has she been sold to?"

The woman told Avery the answer.

Avery seemed relieved after getting the answer. She turned around and walked towards the attending doctor.

The two came out of the ward.

Before waiting for the doctor in charge to ask, Avery said first: "Is euthanasia legal on your side?"

The doctor in charge was stunned for a moment: "Why do you ask this all of a sudden? That arsonist wants to be euthanized?"

Avery nodded: "She doesn't want to go to jail, She just want to die without pain. In our country, euthanasia is illegal. I don't know your side."

"Our side is not legal at the moment. Only conscious and critically ill patients can apply for euthanasia. This arsonist definitely does not meet the application requirements." The attending doctor said, "If she tells you the answer you want to know, then you should leave her alone."

Avery was very entangled in her heart.

But since it is illegal, she will definitely not do illegal things.

"Inject her with a small dose of sleeping pills and let her get a good night's sleep!" Avery quickly made a decision, "Thank you very much for helping me. If you go to Bridgedale in the future, I will invite you to dinner."

The attending doctor: "You are going to leave. already?"

Avery nodded: "I hope you can keep it a secret about my visit to the hospital. I don't want too many people to know about it until the child is found."

"Okay. Then we will have a chance to see you later."

Attending doctor watched Avery. After Avery left, He went and prepared sleeping pills.

Avery came out of the hospital and took a taxi to the hotel. She came out in a hurry in the morning and did not bring her mobile phone.

Mike and the bodyguard were waiting for her in the lobby on the first floor of the hotel.

Seeing the two of them, Avery immediately grabbed her phone from Mike and went to pay for the taxi.

"I'm done? What's the result? Did you find any news?" Mike followed behind her and asked.

"Well. That person told me that the child should have been sold to Aryadelle." Avery paid the bill and looked at Mike, "We will go back to Aryadelle now."

Mike reacted and went to the lobby to pick up his luggage.

Mike: "I've packed your luggage for you. I don't know if you missed anything. Would you like to go back to your room?"

"No need. Except for my mobile phone and documents, nothing else matters." Avery checked herself that the documents were all there, so she went to check out immediately.

"Why do I feel so smooth? It's really easy to come by! Avery, you are too good!" Mike was beside her, blowing rainbow farts, "I thought Elliot was so good! Looking at it this way, he can't compare to you! He didn't bother to find Haze at all!"

Avery whispered, "Don't worry about others. Just do your own thing. I also think it's a little too smooth. I feel a little bit that it's not true."

"Yeah! It's really going well! We just came over and found out Haze's whereabouts." Mike said proudly, and said doubtfully, "Hey, if Haze is in Aryadelle, then what will we do? Definitely can't hide it from Elliot."

Chapter 1805

"Mike, if anyone can bring Haze to me safely, but the custody must be given to Elliot, I have no complaints." Avery's first concern was Haze, not the followed-up child custody issue.

"Since you said that, then we can look for it together with Elliot! There are many people and great power." Mike put forward his own suggestion, "After all, Aryadelle is Elliot's territory."

"I think Elliot should have looked for it in Aryadelle. He cares about this child very much." Avery put the fee returned by the front desk into her bag, turned and walked towards the hotel door, "Let's go back to Aryadelle first. If there is something Elliot can help in the future, it's not too late to find Haze."

Hospital.

According to Avery's request, the doctor injected a small dose of sleeping pills into the arsonist.

The arsonist quickly fell asleep.

In the evening, the arsonist woke up and looked at everything in the ward, stunned!

—Am I not dead? How come am I alive again?

She wanted to move, but the burns on her body hurt badly.

She was not dreaming! She really didn't die!

Avery lied to her!

After a while, the nurse came in to check her temperature and blood pressure. When she saw the nurse, she immediately screamed, "Where is Avery?! Go and call her!"

"Don't scream, the police are outside!" The nurse voice was settled, and the policeman who was guarding the door of the ward walked in.

The arsonist immediately pursed her lips and did not dare to call out again.

"Miss Tate is not a doctor in our hospital. She has long since left." The nurse answered her question when she saw that she was quiet.

"Where's the doctor who came to see me at noon? Is she still in the hospital?" The arsonist wondered why she didn't die.

She was now desperate for death!

The fire left her devastated. When she was discharged from the hospital, she would not only be disfigured, but also face a terrible prison. She would rather die than face such a result.

"I'm going to see if the doctor is here. Don't call me again!" The nurse said, and went out.

About five minutes later, the attending doctor entered the ward.

When the arsonist saw the doctor in charge, her eyes suddenly burst into flames: "You lied to me with Avery! I want to die, why not let me die?!"

"We have no right to kill you. If we do, then we are breaking the law. I hope you can understand." The doctor explained, "Miss Tate has something to do, she has already left."

"Hahaha! I knew no one could believe it!" The arsonist laughed in despair, and said, "Fortunately, I'm not stupid. I didn't believe her nonsense at all. I'm just using her."

Although the use failed. Avery didn't know where Haze was sold. The arsonist told Avery that Haze was sold to Aryadelle, which she said casually.

She lied to Avery that she knew, but just wanted to die.

"What are you talking about?" The attending doctor could hear an overtone in her words.

"It's nothing... don't talk to me anymore! I don't believe anyone!" The arsonist gave the doctor a disgusted look, and then closed her mouth.

Aryadelle.

When Elliot came home from get off work, Robert hugged him warmly.

Children are like this, whoever spends more time with him will stick to him more.

Elliot: "Robert, did you have fun at home today?"

"Happy! Dad is home, I'm even happier!" Robert put his arms around Dad's neck and kissed Dad's cheek.

Elliot's heart was about to melt.

Robert and Hayden are both his sons, but Robert and Hayden have very different personalities.

Robert is very lively and warm. Since he can talk more and more, he often asks for kisses and hugs to his father, and he will also say nice things to coax his father.

This is also an important reason why Elliot couldn't bear to leave his son to go to Yonroeville.
