Chapter 1912

After finishing speaking, Robert rode a scooter and slipped out.

The female teacher came down from the gazebo and limped.

“Are you lame?” Seeing the female teacher walking like this, The bodyguard asked curiously.

The female teacher had never seen anyone speak so flatly, so she was shocked.

Concerned that he is the bodyguard of the Foster family, the teacher did not dare to attack.

The teacher: “I just accidentally slashed my foot, but I’m not lame.”

“Really dedicated. You still have to go to work with your slashed foot.” The bodyguard sighed in a low voice.

The female teacher didn’t know whether to laugh or cry: “You misunderstood. I came here this morning with a swollen foot.”

“Oh...” After learning about the situation, the bodyguard grabbed the female teacher’s arm and put it on his shoulders, and pulled her. The weight of her entire body rests on the bodyguard.

The female teacher was at a loss, panicked, and was speechless. She opened her mouth wide in shock, but was speechless.

Her feet are injured now, and it hurts to walk, but before the bodyguard helps her, why not ask her if she wants to help?

Doesn’t he understand that men and women are not kissing?

“Why are you looking at me like this? Aren’t you a teacher? Why don’t you know how to be polite?” The bodyguard glared at the teacher, “The last person who stared at me like that has already been beaten by me.”

The female teacher was so frightened that she shivered. Immediately looked away.

“I, I’ll go by myself... I don’t need your help...” The female teacher couldn’t stand the dark and rough aura emanating from the bodyguard.

The bodyguard saw that she didn’t know what to do, so he let go of her quickly.

Robert, who was running far away on a scooter, suddenly stopped and turned to look back at them.

“Hurry up! Why are you so slow...” Robert pouted and urged.

The little guy can't wait to go home to see if his sister wakes up.

The bodyguard listened to the urging of the little ancestor, and without thinking, picked up the teacher by the waist, and strode ahead to chase.

The teacher: “My whole body is stiff and I dare not move.”

Although she looked a little embarrassed, being carried forward was much more comfortable than walking on his own.

The group returned to Foster's house.

The bodyguard immediately put the teacher down.

“You have a sprained foot, won't you tell Robert on the phone?” The bodyguard was sweating profusely, so he complained.

The teacher blushed embarrassedly: “Did I ask you to drive to pick me up? How embarrassing.”

The bodyguard: “You're embarrassed to be carried by me?”

The teacher: “I didn't let you carry it, I can go by myself.”

“But you walk like a turtle crawling.” The bodyguard said in disgust, “It's fine for you to bask in such a big sun, what should we do if our young master gets tanned?”

Mrs. Cooper came over with a glass of water and brought it to the teacher before.

Mrs. Cooper said to the Bodyguard, “Please be polite to the teacher.” Looking at the teacher's appearance, Mrs. Cooper continued to ask: “It's not too long after graduation, right?” Mrs. Cooper asked the teacher to sit down with a smile.

“Well, I'm studying abroad for graduate school, and I just graduated and returned to Aryadelle this year.” The female teacher took the cup and took a sip. “Before I came here, I really didn't expect this community to be so big. I walked around for half an hour and couldn't find the way.”

Mrs. Cooper: “You're abroad, so you probably don't know much about the domestic situation. This community is indeed quite large, and it's very difficult to get in without driving.”

“Hmm, is Layla still sleeping?” The female teacher asked.

“I’ll go up and have a look.” Mrs. Cooper went upstairs, entered Layla’s room, and woke Layla.

“Layla, your homeroom teacher is visiting. It’s like a new teacher.” Layla stretched his hands and rubbed his eyes: “What home visit? Why didn’t you notify me?”

“The new teacher said he didn’t get in touch with your father. Your father’s mobile phone may have been turned off and not turned on.” Mrs. Cooper reminded, “You first come downstairs!”

Chapter 1913

“The teacher has never had a home visit before, why does she want a home visit now?” Layla whispered, got out of bed quickly, and went to the bathroom to simply clean up.

In the living room, the teacher took a look at Foster’s living room.

The decoration style was simple and luxurious, and children’s toys or daily necessities could be seen everywhere, but they were not messy.

Layla came downstairs and saw that the new teacher was a young and beautiful woman, her bright eyes suddenly glowed.

“Hello Layla, I’m your new head teacher for the new semester. My name is Katalina Larson, you can just call me Teacher Larson.” Katalina walked up to Layla and introduced herself, “By the way, I’m your future foreign language teacher.”

“Oh...Teacher Larson, where is my former head teacher?” Layla asked.

“She’s been promoted.” Katalina laughed, “Have you finished your summer homework?”

Layla was dizzy for a while, and replied, “It’s finished. Do you want to check?”

“I’ll ask. But if you want to give it to me Take a look, you can.” Katalina smiled sweetly, “Aren’t your parents at home? I called your father, and his phone was turned off.”

“My parents are away. Do you have to see them?” Layla knew what the new teacher’s home visit was going to do, so she asked cautiously.

“Since they’re not at home, I’ll just have a chat with you.” Katalina sat down on the sofa and asked Layla to sit beside her, “I heard your former head teacher talk about your home situation, your previous grades are very good, but after your parents divorced, your grades have dropped significantly.”

Layla listened to the teacher’s nagging, and suddenly showed a loveless expression, as if she hadn’t woken up yet.

Mrs. Cooper saw Layla like this, sighed in her heart, and went to the kitchen to bring her breakfast.

The teacher: “Layla, learning is for yourself, not for your parents. You are responsible for your own learning.”

The teacher: “I know your family is rich. Even if you don’t study well, you won’t worry about food and drink in the future, but the teacher still wants you to be a useful person to society, not a lazy waste.”

The teacher: “By the way, I also heard about you. Every winter and summer vacation will be filming. Being beautiful is indeed a kind of capital, but being beautiful may not make you successful in the end. You see your mother is also very beautiful, but how good she studies. You treat your mother as A role model, isn’t it?”

Layla looked at the new teacher with mixed feelings.

The previous head teacher also talked to her, but the last head teacher spoke very softly and implicitly, and would never directly say about her parents’ divorce, nor about her entry into the entertainment industry, nor would she say anything to her. Words like ‘delicious and lazy waste’.

After all, she is Elliot’s daughter, even if she is really lazy, she can’t stand being told that in person.

“Teacher Larson, you have some misunderstandings about our Layla. Layla usually study very hard, and her filming did not delay her study.” After listening to the teacher’s words, Mrs. Cooper felt that the teacher’s words were too harsh, so she quickly spoke for Layla.

“Are you Layla’s grandmother?” Teacher Larson asked.

Mrs. Cooper’s face was flushed: “No, I’m just a servant at home.”

“Oh... I’ll have a good chat with Layla’s parents when they come back. Layla is about to take the entrance exam. You may not know that students with good grades will participate in the internal assessment of key middle schools half a year in advance...” Teacher Larson said.

“Even if Layla doesn’t do well, her father can send Layla to the best middle school.” Mrs. Cooper explained.

“The meaning is different! Don’t you want Layla to go to the best school by her own strength?” Teacher Larson asked rhetorically.

Mrs. Cooper was speechless.

Layla couldn’t bear it anymore and stopped being silent: “Teacher Larson, my dad didn’t say anything about me. You care so much, it’s very annoying.”

When His Eyes Opened by Simple Silence Chapter 1914

Chapter 1914

Katalina was stunned for a moment. When she saw Mrs. Cooper, the bodyguard, and Robert all looking at her with hostile eyes, she was immediately embarrassed.

“Layla, maybe I’m too straight, but I really hope you study hard, because I had the same experience as you when I was a kid. When I was in elementary school, my parents divorced, and I lived with my dad. You should know Norah Jones, right?” Katalina’s sudden change of words caught everyone off guard.

After she mentioned Norah Jones, the expressions on everyone’s faces suddenly changed from cold hostility to shock and curiosity.

“I know!” Layla asked curiously, “Do you know her too?”

Katalina smiled shyly: “She is my cousin.”

Everyone: “....”

Katalina’s home visit ended, She called Norah and went to Norah’s house.

“I told you not to be a teacher, you have to go.” Norah Jones saw Katalina and poured her a glass of water, “I forgot to tell you that my relationship with Elliot’s family is not good. It’s stupid for his family to mention my name.”

Katalina was stunned: “I thought that when I mentioned your name, Layla would listen to me.”

“Layla felt that I would influence her parents to get back together, so she was very kind to me. Great hostility. They don’t even let me into her house.” Norah Jones said indifferently, “I used to flatter this little girl in order to show off in front of Elliot, but she didn’t expect her mother to treat me as an enemy when she returned to Aryadelle. “

"I can see it clearly now. Only when I am strong, I will not be despised by others." Norah Jones added.

"That's it!" Katalina and Norah didn't have anything to do with each other before, but now it's because Katalina returned to work in Aryadelle and their parents asked them to take care of each other, so they contacted each other, "Sister Norah, you are so good, you can definitely find a good man. For those who are married and divorced with children, forget it!"

"Well. I've figured it out. In the future, I'll have to rely on myself." Norah looked at Katalina, "You went to the house today and suffered a lot of grievances, right? That Layla is very rude."

Katalina: "Maybe she lacks the company of her parents. It's about it! Her parents are going away again."

Norah's eyes narrowed: "Did you go away? Where did you go?"

"I don't know. I called Elliot, and his phone was turned off." Katalina said. At the time, the phone rang.

It was Elliot who called.

Katalina immediately picked up the phone: "Hello, Layla's father, I'm the head teacher of Layla's new semester, just call me Katalina."

Elliot: "I'm sorry, I just got off the plane."

Norah Jones took Katalina right away grabbed her phone and pressed the speakerphone.

"I visited your home just now and had a brief chat with Layla. I have some questions. I want to talk to you or Layla's mother. When are you free?" Katalina asked, taking her phone back.

Avery heard a little sound, so she asked Elliot in a low voice: "Is Layla's teacher? What did she say?"

"Home visit... Said to talk to us." Elliot whispered back to Avery's words.

The whispered conversation between the two of them clearly fell into the ears of Norah Jones and Katalina.

"Hello Ms. Larson, I'm in Yonroeville with Layla's mother, and I won't return to Aryadelle for the time being. If you have any questions, you can tell us directly on the phone." Elliot said.

When Norah Jones heard his answer, Elliot immediately stepped aside and started planning in his heart.

When His Eyes Opened by Simple Silence Chapter 1915

Chapter 1915

Yonroeville airport.

Half an hour had passed after Elliot and Katalina finished talking on the phone.

Katalina expressed on the phone that she wanted to help Layla adjust her learning attitude, and hoped to get their support.

As parents, of course, they hope that their children can have a positive learning attitude, so the two of them agreed to Katalina's proposal.

After the call, Katalina told them about her relationship with Norah Jones. And truthfully explained that she and Norah Jones were not familiar with each other.

After Elliot heard the news, he seemed to be petrified by someone's acupuncture point, so Avery brought the phone over to Katalina and said it was okay.

Avery said to Elliot, "Isn't there surveillance everywhere in the school? She said that she could use her breaks to help Layla with tutoring and ideological work, and then it would be good for the bodyguards to watch. I heard her tone is very sincere. And even if she is Norah Jones's cousin and has a good relationship with Norah Jones, she won't necessarily do anything bad to our daughter, right? You can hand over the Tate Industries to Norah Jones, and take your daughter to Norah Jones's sister, now?"

Elliot: "..."

He seemed to hear the unhappiness in her tone.

Elliot: "Work is work, daughter is daughter, how can the two be confused?"

"The Tate Industries is also like my child." Avery felt that the two could be confused.

Elliot: "Then I'll give it back to you?"

Avery: "Didn't you already give it to Norah Jones?"

"I signed a gambling agreement with her. To be precise, she has not signed the agreement yet and is still considering it. Because I set her an almost impossible goal. Even if the Tate Industries is not yours, it is mine. How could I easily give it to outsiders?" Elliot expressed his attitude, "Don't listen to other people's rumors, Don't watch the news and talk nonsense."

Avery glanced at him.

Elliot thought Avery was moved and had something to say to herself but Avery yawned unexpectedly.

"Go to the hotel first! I'm so sleepy." After Avery finished speaking, she strode out of the airport.

On the plane, Avery never fell asleep.

Usually on such a long-distance plane, Avery can usually fall asleep on the plane.

But this time, because Elliot was sitting beside her, she felt awkward everywhere and couldn't sleep.

The group came to a five-star hotel in the city center and checked in.

"Let's live in one room!" Elliot discussed with Avery in a low voice, "It's safer this way."

Avery raised her eyebrows: "It's safer to live with you? Do you think you are better than my bodyguard? With you Stay, I might as well live with my bodyguard."

The bodyguard standing on Avery was flattered, and the corners of his mouth rose unconsciously.

The boss thinks highly of him so much and wants to live with him. I'm really happy.

Elliot's face was gloomy and he glanced at her bodyguard.

The joy on the bodyguard's face suddenly disappeared without a trace.

"We live in the presidential suite." Elliot retracted his gaze and looked at Avery again, "It's more convenient to make videos for the children every day. You choose which room you live in first, and which room I live in is up to you."

He had a very good attitude, It makes Avery a little uncomfortable to refuse.

Generally, a larger presidential suite has at least several rooms, and the distance between rooms may be farther than the distance between single rooms.

"How many rooms are there in your hotel's presidential suite?" Avery asked the receptionist.

After checking it on the computer, the lady at the front desk replied, "One has five rooms, and the other has nine rooms. There are only two presidential suites left in our hotel."

Avery thought for a bit and said, "Then book five rooms! The four of us live together."

Elliot: "..."

When His Eyes Opened by Simple Silence Chapter 1916

Chapter 1916

Two bodyguards: "....."

"How is it?" Avery asked the three of them.

In Avery's opinion, it is not safe to live in the presidential suite alone with Elliot. Only two bodyguards must be added in to be considered truly safe.

But Elliot didn't even think about it, and directly rejected her proposal.

Elliot said, "I don't like so many people living together. The two of us live in one room, and the two of them live in one room, that's all."

Avery: "???"

What does it mean like this?

After Elliot's voice was settled, Elliot's bodyguard wisely handed the ID cards of himself and Avery's bodyguard to the front desk.

"Open a double room."

Soon, the lady at the front desk opened a double room for them and handed them the room card.

Elliot's bodyguard gave Avery a fierce look and told him to go with him immediately.

"Boss...then I'll go first...Call me if you have anything!" The bodyguard greeted Avery reluctantly, put down Avery's suitcase, and ran after him On the bodyguard of Elliot.

After the two light bulbs left, Elliot looked at Avery: "Didn't you just say you were sleepy? Let's go to sleep after opening the room, and then go to the corpse pit tomorrow to see."

Elliot wanted to prove that he lived with her, Definitely not to mess with her, really just to take care of each other.

Avery was also really tired, and her eyelids kept fighting, so she reluctantly agreed.

After opening the room, Elliot picked up her suitcase, and the two went to the elevator together.

Elliot booked the presidential suite with five rooms.

After the two entered the room, Avery first chose a room, and then chose a room for him that was farthest from her own.

“Do you have an opinion?” Avery asked.

Elliot shook his head: “Avery, are you guarding against a pervert?”

“If I really treat you as a pervert, I will definitely not live with you.” Avery carried her suitcase, entered the room, and closed the door.

After a while, Elliot knocked on the door.

“Would you like to eat something before going to bed?” Elliot asked.

Avery had just taken a shower, and now she was wearing a light nightdress, so naturally she wouldn't open the door for him.

She wiped her wet hair with a dry towel, stood at the door, and turned back to him through a door: “I'm not hungry. You go and eat!”

“Then go to sleep. I plan to go to the corpse pit before I eat. When I come back, I will bring you food.” Elliot told her his plan.

After listening to what Elliot said, Avery opened the door without thinking about it: “Didn't you say you want to go to the corpse pit tomorrow?”

Avery's eyes were filled with impatient emotion, and she wanted to go with him.

“I'm not sleepy now. I'm bored in the room, so I'll take a look first.” Elliot said here, looking down and taking a look at her nightgown, “The style has indeed changed.”

Her previous nightgowns all white or powder white, with lace or bows on the neckline or cuffs.

And at this moment, the nightdress on her body was a rose red suspender dress. There was no decoration on the skirt, it looks very textured and mature.

“Just talk when you talk, what are you aiming at?” Avery glared at him, turned and walked to the suitcase, and took a set of clothes out of it. “Wait for me, and I’ll go to the corpse pit with you.”

Elliot stood at the door and didn’t enter: “Aren’t you very sleepy? Take a good rest. I’ll take a picture for you later. If you’re really curious and can’t sleep, I can make a video for you when I get there.”

Chapter 1917

Whether it’s a photo or a video, it’s definitely not as clear as the naked eye.

“How long does it take to get there from the hotel?” Avery turned and asked him.

“It will take an hour at the earliest.” Elliot replied.

“Why don’t you find a hotel near the corpse pit?” Avery felt that the past time was too long, and it took two hours to come and go.

Avery is jet-lagged and dizzy at the moment. If she takes another two hours in the car, her body may not be able to take it.

“The bones removed from the corpse pit were transported to the hospital in the city center for identification.” Elliot made inquiries before Avery came over, “The hospital is near the hotel.”

Avery took the clothes and stood up: “I’d better go and see with you!”

Seeing that Avery insisted on going, Elliot could only follow her.

Bridgedale.

Chad took Layla and Robert out of the airport in Bridgedale.

Mike picks up at the airport.

Seeing the two little guys, Mike first gave Layla a big hug, and then picked Robert up.

“Hayden won’t be back until the evening. I’ll take you to a big dinner first!” Mike got into the car with his two children and glanced at Chad, “Thank you for your hard work. I should have picked them up.”

“What the h-e-l-l are you doing? I’ve never seen you so busy before.” Chad sat down beside the child and complained, “Aren’t you doing something bad?”

Mike sneered, “What do you mean? I can only make money by doing bad things!”

“Who told you to keep secrets and refuse to talk about it!” Chad teased, “If I come here, will it affect your work?”

Mike: “It won’t affect me. I’ll just work from home.”

Chad: “Since you can work from home, why do you have to stay in Bridgedale? Can’t you go to Aryadelle?”

“Hayden is here. He’s alone, I’ll stay and take care of him.” Mike felt guilty and didn’t dare to look into Chad’s eyes.

Everyone knows that Hayden now not only does not need others to take care of him, but can take care of his family instead.

“Whatever you want! It’s fine if you don’t say anything. I’ll see how long you can bear it.” Chad took out his mobile phone, opened Avery’s dialog box, and sent her a message to report safety.

Mike: “Don’t worry, I won’t be able to bear it for long, and I will definitely tell you. You come here and have fun.”

“Can I have fun?” Chad glanced at the two children out of the corner of his eye, “If my boss knew about me that help him take care of the child, should you give me a few more days off? After all, taking care of the child is not as easy as going to work.”

Mike: “Then go back with them when they start school.”

Chad: “I think so too.”

“Then just do it.” Mike got into the driver’s seat, “In my opinion, Elliot is just looking for Haze. Under the guise, he actually took Avery to a tryst.”

Chad pushed the glasses on the bridge of his nose, “Finding Haze is a very serious matter, don’t make such a joke.”

Mike immediately closed his mouth.

When His Eyes Opened by Simple Silence Chapter 1918

Layla leaned in the seat and pouted to Mike: "Uncle Mike, I have a new head teacher. She is Norah Jones's cousin, I don't want her to be my head teacher."

"Norah Jones's cousin is going to be a teacher in elementary school?" Mike was shocked, "If you don't want her to be your head teacher, tell your father! Ask your father to change your head teacher."

Layla snorted: "My father is away, I haven't called him yet!"

"If you don't want to talk to your father, then you can talk to your mother!" Mike gave her advice, "they are together now, if you tell your mother, it's like you told your dad."

Layla: "I'll tell my mom later! I'm a little hungry."

"Well, let's go eat first."

The car arrived at the hotel and passed the hotel lobby. There was a large screen in the hall, and a talk show was playing on it.

Chad passed the big screen and seemed to hear a familiar voice. So he turned back and looked at the big screen –

there was a 'boom' in his brain, isn't this Wanda?

No wonder the voice is so familiar, this virtuous woman sitting on the stage is the vicious woman who has retreated from the Wonder Technologies!

This woman threw all the charges on Elliot's biological mother. If Elliot's biological mother was not too stupid and greedy, and Elliot had no relationship with her, how could Wanda hide in Bridgedale and be happy?

Chad didn't expect that Wanda would dare to appear in the public eye now.

He really didn't take Avery and Elliot into her eyes.

"Isn't this Wanda?" Mike stood beside him and followed his line of sight to see Wanda, "How did this old woman escape?"

"How do I know? Does she think everyone has forgotten her?" Chad sarcastically said, "I guess Wanda thinks that Avery has no power and no power to rely on now, so she has become more courageous."

"Haha!" Mike sneered. Then he pulled Chad and planned to go to the private room.

"Let's eat in the lobby. I'll see what she said on the show." Chad sat down closest to the big screen.

Mike can only go and tell the waiter to let the waiter bring the dishes here.

“I have done research on the Dream Makers Group. But the boss of this company is so mysterious! I only contacted their executives. And their executives said that they had never met the boss and all interviews were passed. Video calls, and the boss doesn't show his true face.”

“I was just a little curious, but after hearing about this, I became even more curious. I specially sent someone to Rishawaka to inquire, hoping to inquire about their boss Billy. If I find useful information, I should choose what I can say and share it with you on the show.”

“Everyone must not know that my ex-husband's wish during his lifetime was to build a car like the 'Dream Maker'. It's just that he is not in good health and his abilities are not as strong as the Dream Maker team, so he died of illness if the research and development was not successful. This is why I am so curious about the Dream Maker.”

“I don't know the owner of the Dream Maker, Billy. Will I see this program? If I can, that would be great! I want to tell him that I really admire and admire him. I wonder if I can have the honor to meet him?.

He expresses his admiration and admiration for the dream maker boss Billy.

Mike looked coldly at her laughing flower branches trembling, and only felt disgusted.

“Did Wanda get too many injections? Her face is so stiff when she smiles.” Chad took a sip of water and commented, “She looks like she is going to eat Billy. She even went to Rishawaka to ask. ....She did it secretly, and she even talked about it publicly. Could it be that the laws of your Bridgedale allow you to inquire about other people's privacy? What is the difference between her and a perverted stalker!”

“It's okay to inquire about information, but perverted Tracking won't work.” Mike wrapped Robert's bib and sneered, “Let her find out! If she can find out the real information, I'll chop off her head and give her a kick.”
