Chapter 1945

Nick yawned, "Not yet. I only found out that the two of them came to Yonroeville last night. The corpse pit is in the far suburbs, and there are always staff working there. Their bodyguards I spent a day at the corpse pit yesterday, and I didn't say that Elliot and Avery had been there."

Chad felt sad: "Boss Nick, who do you think will attack my boss and Avery?"

"I can't guess. I thought about it all night last night and couldn't sleep. I called my second and fourth brothers and they were shocked. Elliot and I have the best personal relationship, but the relationship between them is the best. It's not bad! The two of them are not in Yonroeville at the moment, but after hearing about Elliot's incident, if there is anything they can help, feel free to speak up."

Nick said this to tell Chad –

if anyone dares to come here This land attacked Elliot, and all he could think of was the second and fourth.

But in fact, the two of them had no motive to attack Elliot.

"I heard that there is also a female prisoner who disappeared together. Has the female prisoner not been found yet?" Chad got off the plane and turned it on, and saw the detailed information that Mike sent him.

He always found this to be rather odd.

If it wasn't Elliot and Avery who were missing, Chad would definitely think it was a kidnapping case.

But how could a female prisoner kidnap Elliot and Avery?

Nick said, "No. There must be a conspiracy behind this. Elliot and Avery are together, and there may be a force on the female prisoner's side. If not, how could the three of them have an accident? The car they rented was found at the train station. But the console of the car was damaged. This can't be done by Elliot and Avery?"

After the news, his face turned pale.

If it weren't for sitting on the sofa, he would definitely be unsteady now.

After chatting with Nick, Chad called Mike back.

“Chad, what’s the situation over there now?” Mike didn’t sleep a night.

If it wasn’t for Layla and Robert by his side, Mike would definitely go to Yonroeville with Chad.

“The console of the car they rented at the hotel was damaged. Although there was no blood on the car, they must have been kidnapped! The kidnappers didn’t contact us, which means that the kidnappers were not for money... .. Nick suspects that they were killed.” Chad said here, couldn’t help choking, “I don’t know what to do now! There is no clue, no one can find them...”

On the other side of the phone, After Mike answered Chad’s call, Mike’s cell phone was snatched by Hayden.

After Hayden heard Chad’s words, his face was ashen and his expression was gloomy!

He returned the phone to Mike.

“You are watching my sister and brother at home, I will go to Yonroeville to find my mother!” After Hayden finished speaking, he immediately returned to his room to pack his things.

Not long after, Hayden came out of the room with a backpack on his back.

“Hayden, didn’t you implant a positioning chip in your mother’s mobile phone?” Mike suddenly remembered this, “Have you searched her mobile phone for positioning?”

“There is no signal in Yonroeville. We have to go there and build a special one. Only the base station can find my mother’s signal.” After Hayden finished speaking, he left without looking back.

The reason why he didn’t go with Chad last night was because he needed to arrange everything in advance.

Now that he has fully deployed, he will be able to find his mother’s mobile phone in Yonroeville within three days at most.

As long as you find the mother’s mobile phone, you can see all the whereabouts of the mother in the past few days.

Even if my mother is no longer with her mobile phone, she can find out what happened to her through her whereabouts.

After Hayden went out, Mike called Chad.

“Hayden is leaving for Yonroeville now.”

Chad frowned: "What is Hayden doing here? Isn't he going to school? He can't help if he comes, you can't let his temper come."

"You don't have to worry about snacks. Come on! He's going, who can stop him?" Mike said lightly, "Besides, he passed and didn't look for you again."

Avoid other websites because I am the only one who worked hard. I'm providing the tra

"If Hayden doesn't come to me, who will he look for? Even if he doesn't come to me, I'll find him! I can't let him go his own way... In case something happens to him again, what should I do?" Chad thought of this, his head was big.

"You'll know when you see Hayden." Mike said, "Go to the hotel to rest first! If Nick can't find out, it's useless for you to worry."

Chad: "D*mn it! I can't sleep!"

Mike: "Go to bed if you can't sleep! I'll call you when Hayden arrives."

Chad: "Okay!"

After Chad contacted Elliot's bodyguard, he came to the hotel where they stayed.

Chad took a look at the presidential suite with a depressed expression.

"Chad, why don't you come and live in this suite with us!" The bodyguard invited, "Boss Nick said he would find out, we'll just wait here for the result."

Chad glared at the bodyguard: "I...I really don't want to scold people, but what stupid things did you two do?! I'll hire a f*cking dog to watch them, so I won't lose sight of them!"

The two bodyguards bowed their heads in shame.

"Chad, there is definitely someone behind this matter!" Elliot's bodyguard said indignantly after being silent for a while, "We both come to check on the door of their room every day. There is a 'do not disturb' sign on the door of their room. This sign They didn't let them go."

"Have you checked the surveillance?" Chad roared.

"I checked. It was hung by a person in a cleaner's uniform. The hotel went to check all the cleaners, but no one recognized them."

With the bodyguard, the mood is even heavier.

He went to rest in the last spare room in the suite. A few hours later, the phone rang and he sat up in shock.

"Hayden is here." Mike said, "You can call him!"

"Got it." Chad had a severe headache.

After hanging up, he dialed Hayden's number.

The phone can get through, but Hayden didn't answer.

Hayden was at Nick's house. Nick looked at Hayden and looked at it for three minutes before he recovered.

"You are so big now?" Nick exclaimed, "You and your father are really carved out of the same mold."

"Uncle Nick, I want to build a base station in the city center. After I find my mother, I will put The base station is torn down." Hayden made his request to Nick.

"What base station? Is it a base station that our Yonroeville doesn't have?"

"Well. My mother has a chip in her cell phone. I can only find her signal by building a base station here." Hayden explained the situation to Nick, "If you go through the formal application channels of your country, you should not be allowed."

Nick: "You are here to open the back door for me!"

Hayden: "I want to find my mother."

"you want to find them too." Nick was worried, "Are you sure? If you build a base station, you can find your mother's whereabouts?"

"Sure." Hayden said firmly.

Nick looked at him differently: "How to build a base station? You are a child..."

"I brought someone here." Hayden said, "The corresponding equipment has also been shipped."

Chapter 1947

Nick was shocked: "Take me to see it."

"You promise me first and let me build a base station." Hayden stood there and didn't move.

"I'm afraid it won't work in the center of the city. It's too ostentatious, and it may disturb people I can't figure out. Uncle Nick, although I have some ability, I can't do whatever I want." Nick said, "Is it okay to be in a slightly remote place? "

"Alright." Hayden finished and walked out.

Nick followed behind him.

Obviously Hayden is a ten-year-old child, but Nick feels that he has become Hayden's old follower.

Nick let Hayden get into his car and planned to take him to find a place.

Nick: "Hayden, what kind of chip is the chip in your mother's phone?"

Hayden: "Location chip."

"Oh, did you buy it? Was it something developed by Bridgedale? I've heard that mobile phones have a positioning system. But if the phone is turned off, it will not be able to locate." Nick is very interested in this positioning chip.

"I didn't buy it. The chip in my mother's phone can be located even if the phone is turned off. The premise is that there is a corresponding base station. Bridgedale has such a base station, but you don't have one here." Hayden's answer made Nick confused.

Hayden: "It's equal to this positioning system, which is different from the positioning systems on the market here."

"Well." Hayden didn't want to continue to answer this question, so he took out his mobile phone and answered Chad's call.

"Hayden! I called you several times, but you didn't answer. " Chad sighed heavily, "Where are you now? I'll pick you up!"

"I'm with Uncle Nick, You don't have to worry." Hayden replied slowly.

"I didn't say that your Uncle Nick is bad, but it's better for you to stay with me." Chad was worried about Hayden, and always felt that Hayden was not safe anywhere. "Also, you should call him Uncle Nick. He is good at your dad."

"Uncle Chad, I have something to do right now. I'll contact you when I'm done." Hayden said politely, and hung up the phone before Chad could respond.

Nick watched him finish talking on the phone, and smiled: "Chad came to me."

"I'll build the base station first." Hayden thought clearly and spoke in an orderly manner, took out an iPad from his bag, and opened the map of the capital of Yonroeville, "I've selected a few locations that can cover the whole city, you can see which one is available."

Nick took his iPad and glanced at the locations marked with red circles.

"It should be fine here. This piece of land belongs to a friend of mine, I just need to tell him." Nick pointed to a place and said.

"Okay. That's it." Hayden took the iPad back and told the people who came together and waited at the airport about the location.

Hayden's resolute work efficiency made Nick very emotional.

"You are so much like your father. If your father sees you like this, he will be very relieved."

"I'm not as stupid as him." Hayden retorted Nick, "If I came here with my mother, I would I will never let my mother go missing."

Nick: "..."

"If something happens to my mother, I will never forgive Elliot." Hayden clenched his fists and said coldly.

"If something happened to your mother, then something happened to your father, too. There's no such thing as you didn't forgive him." Nick said, "I hope they were kidnapped now, if the other party just For the sake of money, that's the best outcome."

"By the way, how many days will you need to build this base station?" Nick asked, "I want to discuss it with my friend."

Hayden: "About three days."

"Okay. Will you stay at my house tonight? My house is more secure. You may not be safe if you stay in a hotel." Nick invited, "If something like this happened to your parents, I'm afraid that someone will be watching you secretly. With you by my side, I can at least guarantee your safety."

"Uncle Nick, I have bodyguards." Hayden glanced in the rear mirror.

Chapter 1948

Behind this car, a car has been following.

Nick looked back and saw a black car.

Nick praised, "It's rare for you to be so comprehensive at such a young age. If you need any help from me, let me know at any time. I sent someone to the corpse pit to check it out today. The people on the side said that your parents haven't been there for the past two days."

"Well."

After Nick sent Hayden to the location where the base station was built, he stared at it for a while.

Hayden brought a lot of people, and these people transported various equipment and materials from the car from the car, and then began to build the base station.

Everything was in order and orderly.

And Hayden is beside... the supervisor.

After Nick realized that he underestimated Hayden, he didn't dare to talk to him at all.

After all, what Nick wants to say is probably all nonsense to Hayden.

Hayden is now focused on building the base station and finding Avery's whereabouts.

Nick was sweating profusely outside, returned to the car, and asked the driver to drive the car home.

On the way back, Nick couldn't hold back and called Chad.

"Boss Nick, I called Hayden just now, and he said that he was with you... I really caused you trouble..." Chad said apologetically, "I'll pick him up later."

"Why are you picking him up? He won't go with you." Nick chuckled softly, "He brought a lot of people here, do you know what he's doing now?"

“Ah? Did he bring a lot of people?” Chad didn’t know anything about it. Mike didn’t tell him anything.

“I’ll send you an address, go and see for yourself.” Nick hung up the phone and sent Chad the address of the base station.

After Chad received the address, he immediately brought his bodyguards and went over together.

After arriving at the destination, Chad met Hayden.

Chad pushed the glasses on the bridge of his nose, instead of looking for Hayden, he took out his mobile phone, took a picture of the scene in front of him, and sent it to Mike.

Before Mike could reply, he placed a video call to Mike.

“Did you hide something from me?” Chad looked at the scene in front of him and couldn’t imagine what Hayden was doing.

Mike didn’t sleep well and was very haggard: “Hayden is building a base station! Avery has a positioning chip in his mobile phone, and Yonroeville has no base station, so the positioning of the chip cannot be found. Now as long as the base station is built, he can search for Avery’s whereabouts.”

“Oh...that’s it!” Chad breathed a sigh of relief, “Great! If the base station is built, we can know their whereabouts, then...the base station is built. How long will it take?”

“About three days!”

“It’s been so long... If you add more people and work around the clock, can you be faster?” Chad was afraid that the longer the delay, the more difficult it would be to undo things.

“This is already the time it takes to stop day and night.” Mike said, “You are responsible for keeping an eye on Hayden now, and you must ensure that he has time to rest every day. Don’t Avery fail to find him, he will exhaust himself first. “

“Got it.”

Hanging up the phone, Chad felt that he had seen a little light.

However, it is strange that Hayden should do such an important thing as building a base station.

Chapter 1949

Aryadelle.

Tate Industries.

Norah Jones has been paying close attention to the news of Yonroeville these days.

It's just that the Internet did not reveal what she wanted to know.

In fact, there is no suspense about this.

Elliot and Avery were blocked in the basement of the dilapidated house in the suburbs.

She sent someone to put a jammer there. It is conceivable that the two of them are in the basement, calling someone not to be, and to earth not working.

One exit is locked, the other is welded, and the two of them have no other way out but to die!

Counting the days, today is the fourth day that Elliot and Avery have been blocked in the basement.

Can a person live four days without eating or drinking?

The answer varies from person to person.

Elliot has a strong physique and may not be dead yet, but Avery's body looks much weaker.

Presumably Avery is dead.

Thinking of Avery's death, Norah Jones was in a good mood.

Soon, the Tate Industries will be able to change its name.

She was already thinking about what to change her name to.

At that time, the new name of the company was called 'Jones Industires'.

"Ms. Jones, what are you thinking, smiling so happily?" The assistant knocked on the door and walked in. Seeing Norah Jones's bright smile, he also laughed, "Vice-president Locklyn of Sterling Group said he would stop by, so I will give you the contract. I brought it."

Norah Jones immediately got up from the office chair.

"Invite him in!"

Vice President Locklyn stood outside the door. Hearing Norah's voice, he immediately pushed open the door and walked in.

“Norah Jones, I took the liberty to come here, didn’t I bother you?” Vice President Locklyn walked to the chair in front of her desk with the contract in his hand, “I happened to be passing by, so I brought the contract here.

” Even if I’m too busy right now, I’ll definitely have time to see you.” Norah Jones pushed the hair behind her ear, “Mr. Locklyn, would you like coffee or tea? If you’re not in a hurry, I want to talk to you about more.”

“Okay! I’m not too busy today.” Vice President Locklyn said, and said to Assistant, “What kind of tea do you have here?”

The assistant: “We have some kinds of tea here. But A good batch of green tea just arrived the day before yesterday. It’s the best tea ever.”

“Then drink that tea!” Vice President Locklyn retracted his gaze, glanced at the contract, and handed it to Norah Jones, “You are sure you want it well. “

I’m sure. It’s been more than a month since I first met Elliot to discuss this matter.” Norah Jones came out of the desk, “Mr. Locklyn, let’s come over here for a dip. Tea, talk while drinking tea.”

“Well. Have you contacted Elliot in the past two days? I’ve called him in the past two days, but I can’t get through.” Vice President Locklyn guessed, “I wonder if he is with Avery. he was too happy, so he turned off his phone. I was too embarrassed to keep contacting him.”

“I also called him, but he didn’t get through. I don’t know if the signal in Yonroeville is not good.” Norah Jones said and turned on the phone and glanced at it, “I sent him a message a few days ago, but he didn’t reply.”

“It’s okay, I have full authority to sign with you on his behalf. He told me before he went to Yonroeville. Vice President Locklyn said, “I have signed and stamped the contract.”

“Since you have signed and stamped, do you regret asking me?” Norah Jones picked up the contract with a smile and glanced at it.

When His Eyes Opened by Simple Silence Chapter 1950

Chapter 1950

“I’m asking, but I know what kind of temperament you are. Outsiders can’t persuade you to decide.” Vice President Locklyn paused when he said this, “but you can try it. Anyway, even if it can’t be completed, it’s best to keep the status quo. Elliot can’t possibly dismiss you.”

Norah: "That's not good. The goal he set for me is actually to let me quit despite difficulties. He is more stubborn and likes to prove himself. Even if I fail in the end, I don't regret it."

Vice President Locklyn: "Norah, I especially appreciate your unyielding energy."

"Mr. Locklyn, I also admire you very much. In my opinion, your ability is definitely not inferior to Elliot."

"Don't say that! I can't compare with Elliot!" Mr. Locklyn was frightened and looked around, "Norah, don't mess with this kind of thing."

"Mr. Locklyn, this is my office, don't be afraid. Since I dare to say it, I'm not afraid of being spread out." Norah said.

The assistant came in with tea. Norah took the tea leaves and asked the assistant to go out.

When the office door was closed again, Vice President Locklyn looked at Norah Jones.

Vice President Locklyn: "Is it because Elliot and Avery are together again, so you have a lot of dissatisfaction with Elliot?"

Norah Jones stared at the teapot in his hand, brewing tea slowly.

"Mr. Locklyn, you underestimate me. Elliot has never had me in his heart. At most, I will be a little lost, but it will never make me dizzy." Norah calmly said, "There are many things in life that are more important than love and love. Marriage is more meaningful. If you can't find the right person to marry, but you can find like-minded allies, the meaning is the same."

Vice President Locklyn: "Oh?"

"Mr. Locklyn, I wonder if you have heard some gossip." Norah soaked up After the tea, the first cup was given to Vice President Locklyn.

"What gossip?" Vice President Locklyn asked.

"It's related to Elliot." Norah poured a cup of tea for Vice President Locklyn and handed it to him, "I heard that something happened to Elliot."

Vice President Locklyn shook his finger with the teacup, and the tea in the cup was full of tea was spill some.

"Norah Jones, this kind of thing can't be a joke! Where did you hear that?" Vice President Locklyn put down the teacup and was no longer in the mood to drink tea.

Norah Jones took out two pieces of paper and handed it to Vice President Locklyn to wipe his hands.

“My friend from Yonroeville told me. That friend of mine happened to be staying at the hotel where Elliot and the others were staying. They said that the police went to the hotel to investigate.” Norah Jones showed the matter, “Since I knew about this, there have been a few days. I still can’t get in touch with Elliot, I have a bad feeling in my heart.”

Vice President Locklyn looked gloomy and stood up from the sofa.

“Norah, I have something to do, let’s go first!” After speaking, Vice President Locklyn strode out of her office.

“Ms. Jones, why did Vice-President Locklyn leave? I see that his face is very bad, have you two quarreled?” The assistant was a little worried.

Norah sneered: “It seems that I think highly of him! I thought he would be very happy when Elliot died! He still doesn’t know enough about my abilities. If he joins forces with me, we will never be better than Elliot. “

The assistant’s face turned blue and white: “Ms. Jones, Elliot is dead?”

“Yes! Do you think it’s incredible?” Norah Jones took the contract and walked to the desk to sit down, “I think so too. It’s incredible, but that’s how life is. Sometimes things that you think are impossible happen, but they happen. Didn’t an internationally renowned actor die in a private plane crash last month?”

The assistant exhaled sharply: “It’s terrible! Elliot is dead, what will happen to his company?”

“There will be chaos next. People with ability and ambition will stare at this piece of fat, rack their brains, and find ways to swallow it. After all, his children are still young and have no ability to receive his inheritance.”

“Where’s Avery?” The assistant asked.

Norah Jones smiled frivolously, her red lips parted: “Also dead.”
