

When His Eyes Opened by Simple Silence Chapter 1967

“Sister, what’s the matter?” Robert saw her sister crying, and immediately grabbed her sister’s hand and shook it.

“Daddy’s gone! Daddy may be dead!” Layla cried, throwing Robert’s hand away and running towards the house.

Robert screamed and cried with a ‘wow’.

Mike immediately picked Robert up and said to Hayden, “Go and coax Layla.”

Hayden strode into the room.

Chad pushed Avery to follow Hayden.

After entering the living room, the two children were quickly soothed.

Hayden told Layla that his mother almost died, and she was rescued after a long time. She hoped that Layla would be more sensible and not cry in front of her mother.

Layla held back her tears.

When Robert saw that his sister was not crying, he naturally stopped crying. But the little guy’s mouth twitched, looking very pitiful.

Mrs. Cooper endured the heartache and greeted everyone to have dinner in the dining room.

Avery had no appetite. But she didn’t want to affect other people’s meals.

“Avery, I cooked porridge specially for you.” Mrs. Cooper asked Mike about Avery’s experience a few days ago.

Avery’s current body was not suitable for major supplementation.

She could only start with liquid food, and gradually returned to normal state a little bit. After returning to normal, she can take supplements.

“Thank you.” Avery picked up the small spoon, lowered her eyes, and ate porridge bit by bit.

“Mom, can’t you eat meat?” Layla took a closer look at her mother and found that her mother had lost a lot of weight, and she must have suffered a lot.

“Layla, your mother can’t eat meat right now.” Mike explained, “She can only eat some porridge and noodles, and she can eat meat after a while.”

Layla listened, and two lines of tears rolled down. She reached out quickly and wiped away the tears.

“Layla, mom is all right.” Avery saw that her daughter felt sorry for her, and her heart was particularly heavy, “when mom is healed, mom will go and find dad.”

“Mom, my brother told me that now a lot of people are sent to find Dad...You stay at home and don’t go anywhere...I don’t want you to get hurt again.” Layla choked, her chest heaving quickly, “I don’t have a dad anymore and now I can’t be without my mother anymore.”

The daughter’s cry made Avery put down the spoon.

“Mom, let me feed you!” When Hayden saw her put down the spoon, he immediately opened his mouth.

“Mom can eat it by herself.” Avery looked at her son, “Hayden, your mother hasn’t said thank you to you yet. But if it wasn’t for you, your mother wouldn’t be able to come back alive now.”

“Mom, this is what I should do. Don’t follow me to say thank you.” Hayden said guiltily, “I’m going to be late, if I had gone earlier, maybe Elliot would still be inside...”

Hayden saw her mother heartbroken and heartbroken over Elliot’s affairs these days, his attitude changed subtly.

Instead of watching her mother suffer so much, it’s better to find Elliot.

No matter how much they quarrel, it’s better than now that his mother has no desire to survive at all.

Hayden completely believed that if it wasn’t for their children, his mother would probably die with Elliot.

“Woooooo...I want my dad! I want my dad back!” Robert suddenly burst into tears after listening to their words.

When His Eyes Opened by Simple Silence Chapter 1968

Mrs. Cooper immediately carried Robert and left the dining room.

Avery drank the porridge in the bowl with difficulty, and the moment she put down the bowl and chopsticks, another servant came over.

“Avery, let me take you back to your room!”

Although Hayden is very filial, it is not convenient for Hayden to take care of Avery when she takes a shower.

A week later.

Katalina came to her cousin Norah’s house for dinner.

It was Norah who took the initiative to invite Katalina over.

Last time Katalina accidentally overheard her talking on the phone. Although Katalina said she forgot to hear something, Norah still felt guilty about it.

“Katalina, are you still getting used to this week of school?” Norah ordered a meal early in the restaurant and delivered it to her home.

“The first week was fine. The main thing is to build a good relationship with the students.” Katalina looked at the table full of delicious food and said in surprise, “Cousin, if you ordered so many dishes, the two of us will definitely not be able to finish it.”

Norah: “You eat more. Just throw it away if you can’t finish eating it.”

“It’s too wasteful.” Katalina picked up the chopsticks and ate, “I thought I would not get along with Layla, but I didn’t expect things to go smoothly than I thought.”

Norah raised her eyebrows and listened to her carefully.

“Isn’t she bad grades? I leave her to tutor for a while after school every day. Not only did she not reject my proposal, but she also came to my office every day after school to tutor.” Katalina said, “But she doesn’t seem to be very happy. I asked her, but she didn’t say anything.”

“There was an accident at her house.” Norah said lightly, “Her father is gone. It’s been half a month since the accident, and no one has been found yet.”

“Ah?” Katalina was taken aback, “When such a big thing happened, why wasn’t it reported in the news?”

“Her father had an accident in Yonroeville.” Norah picked up the red wine glass and took a sip. “Also, the news that ordinary people can see is what others want us to see. Even if this incident happened in Aryadelle, As long as the people around Elliot don’t want to expose this incident, the media will not dare to report it.”

“Oh...that’s it! No wonder his bodyguards are getting more and more mourned. Such a thing.” Katalina suddenly lost her appetite.

Norah: “You eat! Don’t be polite to me.”

“Cousin, if something happened to Elliot, will it have any effect on you?” Katalina looked at Norah’s appearance and asked with concern, “Will it affect your work? After all, you are Elliot recruited...”

“I was indeed recruited by Elliot. But everything I did after taking office was my achievement. No one dared to deny my credit.” Norah said indifferently, “And I have signed a gambling agreement with Sterling Group, even if Elliot dies, the agreement will still take effect.”

“Cousin, are you sad?” Katalina unscrewed the mineral water at hand and took a sip, “I heard from my aunt that you like Elliot very much.”

“Whether I liked him or not in the past, he never liked me. As a person, once I recognize the reality, I will cut through the mess and cut off the irrational side. Only in this way I can avoid harm myself.” Norah said slightly drunk, “You are still young, you may not be able to be as decisive as I am. You will understand when you have been hurt a few times.”

“Cousin, I think you are very good. You only know your goals and live a clear life.” Katalina poured herself a glass of wine and toasted Norah, “Cousin, I think you will be very successful in the future.”

Norah: “Are you more successful than Elliot?”

Katalina was stunned for a moment, then Embarrassed: “Cousin, I don’t know how successful Elliot is...”

“Why don’t you know? Haven’t you seen the house he lives in? I can’t afford the mansion he lives in now. I’m afraid I can’t even afford his toilet.” Norah laughed at himself, “But I will definitely be able to afford it in the future.”

Katalina: “Well. Cousin, I’m sure you can.”

After lunch, Katalina left.

Norah drank some wine and felt a little dizzy.

She leaned on the sofa, propped her head in one hand, held her mobile phone in the other, and dialed the assistant: “I told you about my cousin last time, and I found that she likes to pretend to be confused.”

When His Eyes Opened by Simple Silence Chapter 1969

The assistant answered immediately: "Ms. Jones, what do you mean?"

"She overheard me on the phone before... Obviously she overheard at the door of my room on purpose, but she said she was listening accidentally." After that, Norah turned on the music on her mobile phone in the bedroom, and she couldn't hear the sound when she walked to the living room.

Only standing outside her bedroom door could she hear a single sound.

"Maybe she is more curious!" The assistant said, "she is your cousin, not Avery's cousin. I believe she is on your side."

"I'm uncomfortable, but her mouth is sweet." Norah felt that she might be thinking too much, "It's mainly because I didn't know her well before, but she was even less familiar with Avery."

The assistant: "Anyway, you are relatives. The previous generation, your parents are familiar!"

Norah: "Yeah."

"Ms. Jones, did she overhear something very important?" The assistant asked.

Norah became more awake and said lazily, "It's not too important, but I pay more attention to privacy."

The assistant: "That's fine."

"Well." Norah hung up the phone and walked towards the room.

Elliot hasn't heard from him for so long, most likely he's dead.

Although Avery is not dead, there has been no news of her recently.

Losing her beloved, she is more uncomfortable living now than dying.

Thinking of this, Norah's mouth raised a smug smile.

Foster family.

After a week of recuperation, Avery was no longer in a wheelchair.

Hayden saw that his mother was almost recovering, so he was ready to leave for Bridgedale.

“Mom, you are resting at home, I will go to the airport by myself.” Hayden put on his schoolbag and was ready to go out.

“I’ll take you to the airport!” Avery was reluctant to part with his son, but Hayden’s studies and the dream maker group are both in Bridgedale, and Hayden must go back.

“Mom, when I go back to Bridgedale, I will send someone to find Elliot in Bridgedale.” Hayden promised his mother.

“Well.”

“Mom, stay at home and don’t run around, okay?” Hayden was afraid that Avery would run around to find Elliot.

Her body is just recovering now, and if something happens again, her body will definitely not be able to bear it.

“Hayden, you don’t have to worry about me so much.” Avery accompanies his son to the car, “I will be more careful in my work in the future, and I won’t let the bad guys take advantage of it again.”

Hayden heard the meaning of his mother’s words.

After sending Hayden to the airport, Avery returned home.

When she came back from Yonroeville, Chad said that he would check the special plane that stopped in Yonroeville on the days when the accident happened.

Today, Chad sent her the form.

Chad not only found out the model and flight number of the special plane, but also the owners of these private planes.

Avery looked at the form, and one of the special planes was from Bridgedale, but the special plane stayed in Yonroeville for a few days when they had an accident.

The owner of this private jet is the owner of a pharmaceutical group in Bridgedale.

Avery frowned.

This pharmaceutical group is well-known in Bridgedale, and Avery heard of its name a long time ago.

She seems to know someone who is related to this pharmaceutical group.

Sitting on the sofa, Avery thought about it for a while, and gradually remembered that when she was a graduate student, there was a classmate who was called Young Master because his father was the boss of that pharmaceutical group.

But Avery couldn't remember the male classmate's name and appearance, let alone the male classmate's contact information.

When His Eyes Opened by Simple Silence Chapter 1970

Avery found Wesley's mobile phone, clicked on his number, and dialed it.

Wesley quickly answered her call.

"Avery, I heard that Hayden returned to Bridgedale today. Has he left?"

"Well. Just left." Avery said, "Brother Wesley, when I was a graduate student, was there a classmate whose family was from MH Medicine?"

Wesley thought for a moment and replied, "Yes. At the beginning, Professor Hough didn't want to accept him, but his father came to see Professor Hough several times, and also asked Professor Hough's family. Professor Hough couldn't be bothered, so he accepted him."

"Brother Wesley, do you have his contact information? I have something to look for." Avery said eagerly.

"Why are you looking for him? If you insist on looking for him, I can help you find his contact information." Wesley asked in confusion.

Avery told Wesley her thoughts truthfully.

"I'm going to inquire about that classmate's contact information." Wesley felt that her suspicions were not unreasonable.

If Elliot was taken away by a private plane, no matter how hard they checked, it would be difficult to find out the news.

Bridgedale.

Wanda has been very happy recently. She was a guest on a local TV station a while ago. Because of her straightforward and bold way of speaking, she became popular after the show was broadcast.

The show invited her to be a resident guest, but Wanda was still thinking about it. In addition, the recent encounter between Elliot and Avery made her overjoyed, as if she had a second spring.

Elliot is dead, Avery has no backstage, and it is impossible to ride on her head again in the future.

Wanda no longer has to be afraid of anyone, she can do whatever she wants in the future, and she can say whatever she wants.

Even, it is not impossible for Wanda to return to Aryadelle to start a new business. However, after considering the energy and time needed to start a new business, she decided to agree to the invitation of the TV station to be a resident guest of the talk show.

Mainly because Wanda is not short of money now, even if she does not work in the future, she will be able to spend the rest of her life very nourishing and prosperous.

After Wanda replied to the TV station, the phone received a message. She had asked someone to go to Rishawaka to find out about Billy, but now, the information finally came.

The person who inquired about Billy's information collected all the people named Billy in Rishawaka, made a large document, and sent it over.

The moment Wanda opened the document, her eyes dazzled.

Angered, she dialed the phone.

"I spent so much money for you to inquire, and you gave me such a result?"

"Ms. Tate, we don't know which Billy is the boss of the Dream Makers Group! These data, but I got through the Rishawaka. The high-level officials here have obtained their internal data... All the Billys living in Rishawaka have been sent to you."

"Haha! I just glanced at it, and there are hundreds of Billys! How do you ask me to find it?"

"Hundreds are not too much." The other party quibble, "You watch dozens of them every day, and you can finish them in less than a week. Not all cats and dogs can meet the conditions, I believe you will soon find it."

Wanda took a deep breath and wanted to slap him, but felt that what he said was not unreasonable.

“By the way, there is a funny thing.” The other party suddenly smiled and said, “When we were looking for Billy, we found that Rishawaka also issued an ID card to a virtual person.”

“Virtual person?” Wanda looked surprised, “What virtual human?”

“It’s a robot! The funny thing is, this robot is also called Billy. Its full name is Billy Hadajette.”

“Billy Hadajette?” Wanda raised a doubt in her heart.

This Billy Hadajette...is a virtual person, but was issued an ID card by the government of Rishawaka!

What a ridiculous thing!

But...after thinking about it, Wanda feels creepy again.
