

When His Eyes Opened by Simple Silence Chapter 1941

Chapter 1941

"Layla, what's wrong?" Mike's voice came.

"Uncle Mike, the bodyguard uncle called me and said that my parents couldn't get through on the phone. No one opened the door when they rang the doorbell." Layla told Mike, "Will something happen to them?"

Mike looked puzzled, took Layla's phone and asked, "What's going on?"

The bodyguard told Mike everything.

"Avery's bodyguard and I haven't been able to contact them since last night. Today we went to the corpse pit, and the people there said they didn't go to the corpse pit yesterday. But they both went out very early yesterday. I can still get in touch, but I couldn't get in touch at all in the afternoon. I don't know where the two of them went yesterday? I can't help but wonder if they are in the room at all..."

Mike: "Hanging at the door of the room The sign?"

"Yeah! If it wasn't for the sign, we would have panicked!"

Mike thought for a few seconds, then said, "If they were in the room, they would definitely order a meal. Go to the hotel manager and check order information out."

"Oh, what else?"

"You can also check the monitoring of their return to the room yesterday. See if they really returned to the room." Mike continued, "Actually, the easiest way is to find the hotel manager. Open the door of their room and go in to see if they are inside."

After Mike told the bodyguard the method, he was confused.

After hanging up, Mike found his mobile phone and called Avery.

The phone really can't get through.

He sent another message to Avery.

"Uncle Mike, will something happen to my parents?" Layla felt anxious, "Why don't we go find them?"

"Even if you want to go, you and Robert can't go." Mike said, "I've asked your dad's bodyguards to check it out. We'll know what happened to them soon."

Layla pursed her mouth and looked at outside the door, her eyes are wide open: "Why hasn't my brother come back yet?"

"Layla, don't be afraid. Even if something happens to your parents, it won't be a big deal. Your father has many friends over there, and they'll definitely take care of you." Mike reassured Layla, but he was really not sure.

This thing was so weird.

Avery went to Yonroeville to find Haze, she has no reason to stay in the room with Elliot and not go out!

Yonroeville.

The two bodyguards went to the housekeeping manager, hoping that the other party would open the presidential suite.

The manager was a little embarrassed: "Generally, guests hang a 'do not disturb' sign on the door of the room, indicating that the guests are in the room. Because the sign is placed in the room. If the guests are not in the room, what happens outside their room? Is there such a sign?"

The manager's answer left the two bodyguards not knowing how to answer.

"But we really can't get in touch with them. Go and check their order information for us today? See if they have ordered. It won't violate their privacy, right?" Avery's bodyguard said.

"This is also an invasion of guests' privacy. But since what you said is so serious, then I will go to the food and beverage department to check. However, they may not necessarily order food in our food and beverage department. There are also many restaurants outside our hotel, which also provide door-to-door service." The manager replied.

"Then don't check their order information today. You can go directly to check the surveillance of their return to the room yesterday! We want to know when they returned to the room yesterday." Elliot's bodyguard said, "We need to determine now whether they are there or not in the room."

"Okay, I'll send someone to check."

"You can take us directly to your monitoring room, and we can check it ourselves." Elliot's bodyguard said, "Just show us the monitoring device at the door of their room."

"Yes."

The manager took two bodyguards to the monitoring room.

About two hours later, Layla's number called again on the bodyguard's phone.

Chapter 1942

The bodyguard's eyes were almost bloodshot when he looked at the surveillance camera. He heard the phone ring and answered the phone immediately.

"Did you find it?" On the other side of the phone, it was Mike's voice.

Bodyguard: "We asked the manager to open their door, but the manager refused. Now we are in the monitoring room to check when they returned to the room yesterday. I have watched the monitoring for two hours, but I still haven't seen them come back."

Mike said in his heart Even more disturbed: "Doesn't your boss have an acquaintance in Yonroeville? You might as well find that acquaintance, ask that person to come forward, and go directly to their room to see."

The bodyguard did not have Nick's phone number, but knew where Nick's house was.

It takes about an hour to go to Nick's house from here.

"Okay! I'll let Avery's security guard check and monitor, and I'll go to Nick." After Elliot's bodyguard hung up the phone, he immediately went to Nick.

40 minutes later, the bodyguard came to Nick's house.

Nick was a little surprised to hear that Elliot and Avery came to Yonroeville.

"The two of them came over and didn't even tell me." Nick immediately went out with the bodyguard, "How could they both disappear... But it's a bit strange that they both shut down together."

Nick followed. The bodyguard came to the hotel where they were staying.

The hotel manager immediately swiped the door of the presidential suite open.

The room was pitch black.

The bodyguard reached out and pressed the switch, but the light didn't respond at all.

Their room card was not inserted into the power card slot.

They...not in the room!

The manager was a little panicked and immediately inserted his own card into the power card slot.

After turning on the light in the room, they could see the huge living room, without Elliot and Avery.

The two bodyguards immediately went to the suite to look for it.

There were five rooms in total, and they were quickly checked out.

The faces of the two bodyguards were ashen, as if they were greatly stimulated.

“They’re not in the room! Where did they go?!”

Nick asked with a gloomy face, “Did you contact them yesterday morning? Did they say where they were on the phone?”

“My boss said they didn’t go. It’s very far away, so he didn’t call me.” Avery guarded back.

Elliot’s bodyguard said: “My boss didn’t tell me anything. He just said that he will call me when he needs me.”

“Do you remember when they were on their way back last night, they said they were going to see the person who exposed the corpse pit the next day?!”

“F*ck! I remembered it! It seems so!”

They immediately walk out of the suite.

“Boss Nick, where are you going?!” Elliot’s bodyguard strode after him.

“Go to the detention center where the prisoner is being held, and check if Elliot really went there yesterday.” Nick glared at the bodyguard, “The two of you haven’t been able to contact them since yesterday, so why didn’t you tell me tonight?”

“It’s all his fault!” Elliot’s bodyguard threw the blame at Avery’s bodyguard, “We went to the corpse pit in the morning to watch the fun, and he insisted on agreeing to move the bones of others... We are over the corpse pit today. It’s been a day...”

“Outrageous!” Nick glared at both of them, “What are the responsibilities of the bodyguard, I don’t think you two have any idea at all! If something happens to the two of them, you two will follow Burial!”

Chapter 1943

The two bodyguards shivered with fright.

They thought Elliot and Avery were happy in the room, but who knew they were missing!

If they had known that the two of them were missing, the two bodyguards would have already exploded the pot, and they would not have the intention to see any corpse pits, let alone go there to be free porters for a day.

After a while, Mike's phone called again.

The bodyguard told him about the disappearance of Elliot and Avery.

"We're going to find their whereabouts with Boss Nick now. If I can't find my boss and Avery, I won't dare to go back."

Mike hung up the phone after hearing the news.

Avery is missing!

She just went to Yonroeville and disappeared! It was absurd that he disappeared together with Elliot!

"What's the situation?" Chad saw Mike's pale face, and immediately pulled him aside.

"The two of them are missing! Elliot's bodyguard said it." Mike took a deep breath, "No, I have to go there!"

"My boss and Avery disappeared together?" "What the h-e-l-l is going on?! It's only been two days since the two of them? Two days, right?"

"Two and a half days." Mike gritted his teeth, "I'm going to Yonroeville now, and you stay here and watch the children."

"What nonsense are you talking about! You stay at home and watch the child, I'll go to Yonroeville." Chad retorted him, "The child is more familiar with you, and besides, I can talk to Nick and the others."

"Then you go now." Mike was very worried about whether the two of them had encountered an accident considering that it happened more suddenly and unexpectedly.

“Okay.” Chad took out his mobile phone and wanted to book a flight.

“We have very few flights to Yonroeville here! I’ll charter a special plane for you to fly there.” Mike opened the address book and found a number to dial.

After booking a special plane, Mike planned to send Chad out.

Hayden has returned, and Layla and Robert have been staring at them.

Several children already knew what was going on from their faces and from the words just now.

“My parents…” Layla’s eyes were already red, and she was crying.

“I don’t know what’s going on right now. I’ll take Chad to the airport first. Don’t rush to cry, I think they’ll be fine!” After Mike finished talking to the three children, he sent Chad away.

Layla immediately threw herself into Hayden’s arms.

Robert followed her sister and rushed to Hayden.

Hayden was protecting the other in one hand, and his heart was very heavy, but he couldn’t show panic in his younger brother and sister: “Don’t cry first. I’ll call my mother’s bodyguard to ask what’s going on.”

“Oh… Okay.” Layla let go of her brother and picked him up.

Hayden called Avery’s bodyguard.

After the bodyguard answered the phone, the tone of guilt came: “I’m sorry Hayden. I didn’t protect your mother. I can’t contact her now, and I don’t know where she went.”

“Where did she go before she disappeared? Who did she go to see?” Hayden asked.

The bodyguard replied, “We are going to the detention center now. I suspect that she and Elliot went to the detention center yesterday to see the accomplice who exposed the corpse pit! The evening before yesterday, they agreed to go to see the accomplice yesterday. We have just arrived at the detention center. The boss went to the director here. I’ll let you know as soon as there is any news later.”

“Why didn’t you follow when my mother went to see that accomplice at the detention center?” Hayden’s eyes were cold with anticipation.

“She got up very early yesterday morning. When I woke up, she had already gone out with Elliot. I didn’t ask her where she was, and she didn’t ask me to find her.” Hayden had a headache listening to his explanation.

His mom has been missing for over a day! If only they had found out that Mom was missing sooner!

When His Eyes Opened by Simple Silence Chapter 1944

Chapter 1944

Not long after, Nick came out of the director’s office with a gloomy face and a gloomy wind all over his body.

“Boss Nick, what did the director say?” The two bodyguards approached Nick and asked.

“Elliot and Avery did come here yesterday. They met the female prisoner in the morning. They took the female prisoner away in the afternoon.” Nick told them from the information from the director, “Yesterday afternoon, they took the female prisoner away. After that, they haven’t come back yet. The director can’t contact Elliot either.”

“It means that the three of them disappeared together?” Elliot’s bodyguard widened his eyes and said incredulously, “What the h-e-l-l is going on?”

Nick said, “I don’t know what happened after they left. I have asked the director to check the license plate number of the car they drove yesterday afternoon. Find that car first. You two go back to the hotel first.”

“We can’t do anything when we go back to the hotel... Boss Nick, let’s follow you!” Elliot’s bodyguard was heartbroken.

Nick said, “Go back to the hotel and wait for them! What if they go back to the hotel. You should wait in their presidential suite!”

“Oh, okay!”

The two bodyguards left the detention center.

About half an hour later, Nick got the license plate number of the car that Avery and Elliot drove yesterday afternoon.

The car was at the hotel where they are staying, and it is the car that the hotel rents to the guests.

After Nick found the car information, he immediately contacted the hotel and asked the hotel to verify whether the car was rented by Elliot and Avery.

After a while, the hotel gave feedback: "This car was indeed rented by Mr. Foster. It has not been returned yet."

"Is the car he rented installed with a GPS positioning system? I can't contact him now, so we need to be found by finding the car."

"Mr. Foster rented a vehicle with a GPS positioning system. I'll ask someone to check the current position of the car right away."

"When you find it, give me a reply immediately!"

Nick was thinking, who was Elliot and Avery being plotted by!

They lost contact together, something must have happened.

If nothing happened, the two of them would never disappear together.

But Elliot and Avery have no enemies here, who will deal with them?

Nick couldn't figure it out.

After an unknown amount of time, Nick's cell phone rang.

He answered the phone –

"Mr. Nick, we have found the location of the car that Mr. Elliot rented. The location of the car shows that it is near the train station. We have already sent someone to look for it near the train station."

After the hotel gave an answer, Nick immediately took people to the train station.

Elliot and Avery drove the female prisoner to the train station?

What are they doing at the train station?

It always feels like things are getting farther and farther away!

It seems that someone is manipulating this matter, deliberately not letting them see the truth.

The next day.

Chad came to Yonroeville.

After coming to Yonroeville, he found Nick directly.

“Chad, the situation is more complicated now.” Nick didn’t sleep well all night, his eyes were full of bloodshot eyes, “The car that Elliot and Avery rented were found near the train station. But I think they definitely didn’t go.”

Chad: “Did you go to the corpse pit to find it? They came for this corpse pit.”

When His Eyes Opened by Simple Silence Chapter 1945

Chapter 1945

Nick yawned, “Not yet. I only found out that the two of them came to Yonroeville last night. The corpse pit is in the far suburbs, and there are always staff working there. Their bodyguards I spent a day at the corpse pit yesterday, and I didn’t say that Elliot and Avery had been there.”

Chad felt sad: “Boss Nick, who do you think will attack my boss and Avery?”

“I can’t guess. I thought about it all night last night and couldn’t sleep. I called my second and fourth brothers and they were shocked. Elliot and I have the best personal relationship, but the relationship between them is the best. It’s not bad! The two of them are not in Yonroeville at the moment, but after hearing about Elliot’s incident, if there is anything they can help, feel free to speak up.”

Nick said this to tell Chad –

if anyone dares to come here This land attacked Elliot, and all he could think of was the second and fourth.

But in fact, the two of them had no motive to attack Elliot.

“I heard that there is also a female prisoner who disappeared together. Has the female prisoner not been found yet?” Chad got off the plane and turned it on, and saw the detailed information that Mike sent him.

He always found this to be rather odd.

If it wasn’t Elliot and Avery who were missing, Chad would definitely think it was a kidnapping case.

But how could a female prisoner kidnap Elliot and Avery?

Nick said, “No. There must be a conspiracy behind this. Elliot and Avery are together, and there may be a force on the female prisoner’s side. If not, how could the three of them have an accident? The car they rented was found at the train station. But the console of the car was damaged. This can't be done by Elliot and Avery?

After the news, his face turned pale.

If it weren't for sitting on the sofa, he would definitely be unsteady now.

After chatting with Nick, Chad called Mike back.

"Chad, what's the situation over there now?" Mike didn't sleep a night.

If it wasn't for Layla and Robert by his side, Mike would definitely go to Yonroeville with Chad.

"The console of the car they rented at the hotel was damaged. Although there was no blood on the car, they must have been kidnapped! The kidnappers didn't contact us, which means that the kidnappers were not for money... .. Nick suspects that they were killed." Chad said here, couldn't help choking, "I don't know what to do now! There is no clue, no one can find them..."

On the other side of the phone, After Mike answered Chad's call, Mike's cell phone was snatched by Hayden.

After Hayden heard Chad's words, his face was ashen and his expression was gloomy!

He returned the phone to Mike.

"You are watching my sister and brother at home, I will go to Yonroeville to find my mother!" After Hayden finished speaking, he immediately returned to his room to pack his things.

Not long after, Hayden came out of the room with a backpack on his back.

"Hayden, didn't you implant a positioning chip in your mother's mobile phone?" Mike suddenly remembered this, "Have you searched her mobile phone for positioning?"

"There is no signal in Yonroeville. We have to go there and build a special one. Only the base station can find my mother's signal." After Hayden finished speaking, he left without looking back.

The reason why he didn't go with Chad last night was because he needed to arrange everything in advance.

Now that he has fully deployed, he will be able to find his mother's mobile phone in Yonroeville within three days at most.

As long as you find the mother's mobile phone, you can see all the whereabouts of the mother in the past few days.

Even if my mother is no longer with her mobile phone, she can find out what happened to her through her whereabouts.

After Hayden went out, Mike called Chad.

"Hayden is leaving for Yonroeville now."

Chad frowned: "What is Hayden doing here? Isn't he going to school? He can't help if he comes, you can't let his temper come."

"You don't have to worry about snacks. Come on! He's going, who can stop him?" Mike said lightly, "Besides, he passed and didn't look for you again."
