

The Substitute Wife My Poor Husband is a Billionaire
Chapter 494: Find Her

The Mountaintop Parachute Club had been thrown into chaos, and everyone was panicking. It had been run for over a decade, and not once had something like this happened. Ethan demanded to speak to the manager of the club and asked him what had happened.

The manager was sweating buckets, visibly in shock, and all he could do was to blame the employees of the club.

“What on earth happened here? I’ve only been away from the club of two days, but you’ve already caused someone’s life to be in danger!” The manager was enraged, pointing and cussing at the employees.

“Get to the point,” Ethan grunted.

“Yes, Mr. Larson.” The manager nodded and bowed to Ethan while wearing a flattering smile. Then, the smile on his face disappeared as he turned his attention to the employees.

“Have you found Mrs. Larson? Is she okay?” One of the employees replied hurriedly, “We’ve received calls from Mrs. Larson and the instructor. They said that they’re safe and sound now.”

Ethan breathed a sigh of relief when he heard that.

“We’ve already called the police and sent people to search and rescue them. Soon, we’ll be able to find them,” the employee said.

“I’m coming with you,” Ethan said with a nod.

The helicopter roved over the forest as the sound of its propeller resonated in the air. When Janet looked up, she saw a tall man going down the ladder, which was hanging from the helicopter.

Seconds later, she realized who it was. Ethan was wearing a sullen expression, and his eyes depicted a complicated emotion.

Bruises and wounds were all over Janet’s body. As she stood on the ground, she looked like she was barely able to keep herself standing. She pursed her lips and looked down, feeling remorseful.

“Honey.”

“Don’t you know how dangerous it is to go skydiving? Janet Larson!” Ethan shouted angrily. Janet didn’t dare to say anything.

“Turn around.” He lifted her arm and her the clothes on her back. Rage filled his eyes as his face turned grim.

“You almost died!” All the wounds on Janet’s body made Ethan feel so sorry for her. Janet just let him chastise her, and she didn’t bother to argue. Still, she was really scared.

Had she been unlucky, she might’ve actually died this time. While tugging at Ethan’s sleeve, she said timidly, “I’m sorry, honey.”

When he saw the tears in her eyes, his heart softened.

Truthfully, he still had things to say but he couldn’t get mad at her anymore.

“Let’s take you to the hospital first!” Ethan carried her to the helicopter and gently placed her on one of the seats.

Pretty soon, Janet and the coach were sent to the hospital. Beal and Johanna arrived soon after. They were so shocked by what happened. So many stuff had happened within just a few days.
