Let me go, Mr. Hill Author: Shallow South Chapter 2801

Chapter 2801

"Didn't you want me to marry Eliza to get benefits from her?"

Monte was slightly wistful.

Men enjoyed conquering clever and brilliant women.

In the past, he was fed up with Eliza. Nevertheless, ever since Eliza humiliated him, he had been so dissatisfied that he felt the need to win her heart.

Toby glared at him. "Of course, I hope so. But do you have the capability and charm to do that?"

"Now, it finally hit me that Eliza is an albatross. If you don't marry her, you'll have to do away with her."

Toby's eyes flashed with cruelty. "This woman isn't simple. Although I've warned her many times, she's still not afraid and can even counterattack so quickly. Apart from Huxley, I still need to get a helper." 1

"Who?"

"Chester." Toby snorted. "Considering that Eliza sent Chester to jail, I believe he hates her."

After some thought, Monte said with concern, "Dad, that might be true, but Chester has gotten out of jail for some time and Eliza is still fine."

Toby glowered at him. "It's precisely because he just got out of jail that he can't act against her yet. If something happens to Eliza at this point, everyone will know that it's Chester's doing. Now that Jewell Corporation's image has been ruined, Chester can't act in a high-key manner."

Monte kept quiet. Perhaps that was the case.

At noon, Ruby's father recorded a video of him crying and making accusations. "My daughter was only 22 years old when she was killed by that sc*mbag. At that time, we called the police, but when the police went to the hotel to check the surveillance cameras, the footage of the surveillance camera in the corridor was missing. I'd like to ask the five-star hotel why the footage was removed. Who else could've done that except for the internal staff? Also, that sc*mbag is the president of Walden, a listed company. He was staying in the presidential suite of Janee Hotel. I suspect that the people in the hotel were trying to cover up for him.

"Besides that, I wanted to have reporters expose this issue recently, but I keep being threatened. The hotel also refuses to pick up my calls. You guys need to give an explanation for my daughter's death." 1

After the victim's father appeared, the netizens were astounded.

Many women had grouped together and kicked up a fuss at the main entrance of Janee Hotel. Some even hurled things at the entrance.

The Patterson family's reputation had plunged into an abyss overnight.

In Neeson Corporation's office, charity received Mr. Vernon's call as he sobbed. "Miss Robbins, thank you very much. The police have formed a task force to investigate this matter. If it hadn't been for your help, the murderer of my daughter might continue to be on the loose."

"Will he be sentenced?" Charity asked.

"The police said there's a 90 percent chance." Mr. Vernon said agitatedly,
"Previously, the key video was missing, and that was why Huxley insisted that my daughter seduced him and entered the room with him of her own accord." 1

"That's good." After charity ended the call, she sighed internally.

All she wanted to do was teach the Patterson family a lesson, but she never expected to uncover such an outrageous incident.

This time, Chester finally did something moral.

In the evening.

The sports car entered the car park of the Jewell family's villa.

When Chester got out of the car, he took a glimpse of the Maybach beside him before he strode into the house. 1

In the reception room in front of the French window, Hunter and Toby sat facing each other. The two of them were drinking coffee while chatting. The room was filled with the aroma of coffee.

"You're back, Chester." It had been some time since Madam Jewell last saw her son. A smile flashed across her face. "Toby came here to look for you."

Chester raised his brows and said with a deep voice, " You let him in just because he wanted to look for me. Are you and Dad senile? Didn't you see how serious the news regarding Janee Hotel is?"

Chapter 2802

Chapter 2802

Madam Jewell's expression stiffened. "Your dad used to have a good relationship with Toby. We can't possibly steer clear of them the moment they get into trouble. He came to visit US back when you were in prison too. The Jewell family can't do that kind of thing."

"You two are so merciful," Chester mocked. "Look at what he did. You're a woman too, Mom."

"But Toby wasn't the one who did this," Madam Jewell said resignedly.

Chester could not be bothered to care about her. He started walking toward the reception room in long strides.

"It's been a while, Chester." Toby stood up and held out his hand to Chester.

Chester did not even look at his hand, not to mention shake his hand.

Chester went to a sofa and sat down, "why are you here, Uncle Toby? The Patterson family is detested by many now. There's a crowd surrounding the hotel's entrance, wanting the hotel to provide an explanation, but here you are at my home. Dad, you must be muddled too. You actually dared to open the door for him. what if the reporters find out? Aren't you afraid they'll think that the Jewell family are accomplices of the Patterson family?"

Toby went stiff despite having already heard about Chester having a venomous mouth despite his handsome looks.

He finally experienced it first-hand.

"Watch your words," Hunter scolded angrily. "Your Uncle Toby and I have known each other for over 10 years."

Chester scoffed. "That was more than 10 years ago. I didn't see him helping US when Jewell Corporation was in a dire situation."

"I wanted to help, but I didn't know anything about hospitals. I'm just someone who runs a hotel."

Toby quickly explained, "I came looking for you today because I think we have a common enemy."

"Oh." Chester's brows moved.

Toby said hastily upon seeing that. "It's Eliza."

Hunter's expression turned cold once that name was uttered. "So it's that woman."

"Yes." Toby sighed. "I won't hide anything from you guys anymore. The whole community knows my son has HIV. This is all caused by that woman alone."

Speaking of her, she's an ungrateful person. Could she have entered the entertainment industry and owned everything she has today if it weren't for Monte's recommendation? A guy and a girl can date if they suit each other. If they're not a good match, it's normal for them to break up. However, she exacted revenge on my son just because they broke up." 1

After pausing, he looked toward Chester sheepishly. “ Weren’t you one of the people she got revenge on as well? How could Jewell Corporation’s value have decreased so much if it weren’t for her? she even ruined your reputation.”

Hunter let out a hmph. “Eliza is indeed a scheming woman. I’ve been finding her unpleasant to the eye for a long time. However, that woman isn’t simple...”

“That’s why we have to work together.” Toby suddenly lowered his voice. “I’m not scared to tell you all this. If we want to get revenge on Eliza, this is our chance, when the time comes, we can push all the responsibility to Huxley.”

Chester placed a cigarette between his lips and lit it. 1

He finally understood everything. The Patterson family thought the reason he never got revenge on Eliza was that the public would suspect him first if something happened to Eliza.

“Chester, this is an opportunity,” Hunter said. “The Jewell family’s shares can’t be in her hands forever. It’ll be troublesome if she joins hands with those directors and has them change sides.”

Toby added, “Actually, you don’t need to worry.

Huxley will surely make a move first. After something happens to Eliza, we can give her another fatal strike.

I believe that even if she’s on good terms with Freya and Catherine, killing her will be as easy as killing an ant.” 1
