Son-In-Law Madness Chapter 423

Chapter 423 The Meeting To Divide Pollerton Lilith shook her head. "Beats me. We don't know where the radiation is coming from." "Alright.

Top brass has ordered for us to place Chiliad Avion on lockdown.

There are only seven or eight people who know about Lord Campbell, so they must be contained in the laboratory!" Ryan said as he walked off.

Meanwhile, things started getting chaotic over at Pollerton. With the official listing and sale of the reclamation area, numerous real estate tycoons and organizations have flocked over to Pollerton in hopes of getting a piece of the pie. Charles reduced the scope of his business and didn't dare make any moves until Tristan returned. The Yund family, the Wheeler family, the Freedman clan, the Campbell clan, the Winston family, the Wilson family, Silas, and Akio had all entered Pollerton and set their sights on the reclamation area. As if that wasn't bad enough, the three Lords of Underground in Terrandya had also entered Pollerton. Silas, Arnaldo, and Holton were all gathered in a hotel near the ocean to discuss how they would split Pollerton among themselves. While Pollerton wasn't the wealthiest among the sixteen municipal districts in Terrandya, it had the most potential due to the usage of Donald's controlled fusion technology in the land reclamation project. Standing behind Silas was a giant who was almost three meters tall.

Being the tallest human being in existence, his presence alone gave those around him a lot of pressure.

Arnaldo was seated at the table with an old man standing behind him.

The old man looked like he was asleep as he stood there with his eyes closed, but Silas felt a little nervous when he recognized the old man. That's the former top assassin! He's made it into the top hundred among the assassins overseas! The third guy at the table was Holton. Despite looking no more than thirty with his red suit and friendly smile, he was one of the three Lords of Underground. Standing behind him was a beautiful woman with exquisite makeup.

Her name was Yolanda Zuckerman. Yolanda was the one who helped Holton become one of the Lords of Underground. Not only was she able to handle things with great finesse, but she was also a skilled fighter capable of killing with a single blow.

She was once offered to join the Youngblood family, which was the most powerful and wealthy family in existence.

However, she turned them down because she liked Holton. Ethan, Tyson, and the others were seated at tables further away.

Despite being Lords of Underground themselves, they were nothing compared to the three main ones. "Arnaldo, your power seems to be the weakest among us.

Are you sure you're qualified to get a share?" Holton asked with a smile.

"Is that so? While Yolanda may be powerful, I doubt she's able to take Hansel on," Arnaldo replied calmly. He then shifted his gaze toward Silas and asked, "What about you, Silas? Who do you have backing you up?" Silas casually took a sip of his coffee and said, "Francesco." The looks on Arnaldo and Holton's faces changed the moment they heard that. What? Francesco has been idle for a long time! Would he really help Silas out? If what he says is true, then neither of us will get any of Pollerton's market shares! "Look outside," Silas added with a faint smile while pointing out the window. There was a calm, vast ocean as far as the eye could see. Suddenly, they saw a tiny black dot running across the ocean surface as it headed toward them at high speed. Someone behind Arnaldo passed him a pair of binoculars, and his face went pale the moment he saw what it was. A bald, middle-aged man was riding across the ocean surface on a reed that was faster than a speedboat, leaving huge waves in its wake. Holton's jaw dropped when he looked through the binoculars.

Son-In-Law Madness Chapter 424

Chapter 424 Francesco Arrives Holy sh*t! That's Francesco! Both Arnaldo and Holton exchanged terrified glances when they realized who it was. Silas took another sip of his coffee and said with a faint smile, "Sorry, but I believe I can claim all of Pollerton for myself.

That is unless you guys can find someone capable of beating Francesco."

As if anyone could possibly defeat a monster like Francesco! That guy went toe to toe against Nathan and lived to walk away! He even established Crimson Dust Order, one of the most powerful forces overseas! Hansel opened his eyes all of a sudden and glanced out the window with a solemn look on his face.

Yolanda, too, had a stern expression as she stared at Francesco.

As Francesco got closer to the hotel, everyone heard the sound of the waves and looked out their windows in response. Zayne and the others had depressed looks on their faces. These foreign forces have gotten unbelievably bold after Lord Campbell's death! As Francesco reached the shoreline, he jumped off the reed while it continued going forward at high speed.

The reed went crashing through the hotel window and speared into the wall.

Francesco then made his way into the room moments later, looking really sinister with the red lipstick and nine scars on his head. He had on a red robe and looked about forty or fifty. "Hello, Mr. Doyle," Francesco called out with a smile. Silas stood up and greeted him politely, "Thank you for coming, Francesco." Francesco then shifted his gaze toward Arnaldo and Holton as he said, "Mr.

Doyle and I will take over Pollerton's underground businesses, so you two can get lost!" The look in Arnaldo and Hansel's eyes turned icy-cold when they heard that.

The underground businesses of Pollerton include pubs, karaoke bars, hotels, and even the transportation industry! Those are all very profitable businesses, so Silas' power is bound to grow rapidly if we give up on them! It'll only be a matter of time before he becomes the sole Lord of Underground in Terrandya! Before Arnaldo could even say anything in response, Francesco turned toward Hansel and shouted, "How dare you even think of killing me, you old b*stard?" With a wave of his hand, Francesco sent a dark-colored reed flying toward Hansel. Being the former top assassin, Hansel possessed insane reflexes due to his many years of training in close-quarters martial arts.

His body glowed as he let out a loud yell, and he projected a wall of light to shield him from the incoming attack. A loud crack was heard as the reed shattered the wall of light, went through Hansel's forehead, and pinned him firmly against the wall. The look on Arnaldo's face changed instantly.

"Hey!" I can't believe it! Francesco has just killed Hansel, the former top assassin with a power level of five hundred thousand, with one blow using an ordinary strand of reed! "What? Do you have something to say?" Francesco asked calmly. Arnaldo fell silent and stared at Hansel's corpse with a gloomy expression. Holton held Yolanda's hand and shouted, "Shut up!" Francesco turned toward Yolanda and asked with a sneer, "What's the matter? Do you want to fight me?" Realizing that she was no match for someone as powerful as Francesco, Yolanda could only keep quiet. Then, Francesco shifted his gaze toward Zayne, Tyson, and the others as he asked, "You small fries have any objections?" Ethan quickly replied, "No! We wouldn't dare!" "If only you were here, Lord Campbell..." Zayne and the others muttered under their breaths. Donald would easily crush Silas and Francesco if he were here. Francesco gently tapped on the table as he scanned the room and said, "Mr. Doyle, I shall help you clear all your obstacles now that I am here in Pollerton."
