Chapter 171 Do You Think I'm A Toyboy

When the ladies saw Gavin, they thought that he was here to propose a toast to Marlon. :

But for some reason, Gavin seemed hesitant to come in. Seeing this, Estrella waved at him and kindly reminded him, “Mr. Smith, Marlon is here.” A confused look flashed across Gavin’s face. “Marlon? Who is he? What does he have to do with me?”

Estrella was taken aback. “Mr. Smith, aren’t you here for Marlon?”

“Again, who the fuck is he?” Is he important that I have to come to him? Anyway, where are the others?”

Confusion was written all over Estrella’s face. But then, she shook her head and answered, “Just us —oh, a poor loser named Trevor. We drove him away just now because he was a coward. He’s with a girl named Luisa, but she followed him when he left. How ungrateful.”

Gavin’s hackles rose upon hearing this. “How dare you drive away Mr.—”

He abruptly stopped mid-sentence as he suddenly remembered that Trevor had asked him not to expose his identity.

At the thought of this, he bit his tongue and instead said, “How dare you say that Luisa is ungrateful?!”

It did not take a genius to figure out that Luisa must be Trevor’s only friend among the people who had attended the dinner party.

They might be even more than friends.

And these people in front of Gavin must have offended Trevor.

Since that seemed to be the matter, Gavin thought that there was no need for him to save their face. It was at that moment that the ladies realized that it was not Marlon who had settled the matter. It seemed that Gavin only cared about Luisa. Everyone looked at Marlon with contempt and ridicule.

As all eyes were on him, his face turned red with shame. 2

He had thought that his friend was powerful. However, it turned out that it was only wishful thinking.

Before the ladies could figure out how Luisa was powerful enough to be worthy of Gavin's attention, he opened his mouth to speak. "Kendal, they broke the vase, didn't they? You must make them compensate for it based on its market price. Whatever happens, you must hold them accountable. ;

Oh, one more thing: Make them pay for their meal. The vase alone cost four hundred thousand dollars. What was more, the dishes on their table cost at least tens of thousands of dollars.

A sinking feeling emerged in their stomach upon hearing Gavin's words.

"What?! Didn't you send us these dishes for free?" "Yeah! The thing that broke the vase was Trevor's. You should ask him to pay for it, not us."

The girls tried to talk their way out, but Gavin ignored them. Without another word, he left the private room.

The manager called the security department. A few moments later, the captain of the security guards returned with an even ferocious expression. Marlon and the ladies felt like weeping, but no tears streamed down their faces.

Meanwhile, Trevor was marching out of the Hilton Hotel, furious by what had happened. Luisa jogged to catch up with him.

“I’m sorry, Trevor. I didn’t expect them to go that far.”

Her apologetic voice extinguished most of the anger in Trevor’s heart.

He tried his best to calm down. Then, as a response, he shook his head and replied, “Luisa, it’s not your fault.”

All of a sudden, something occurred to him as the scene where Estrella and the others pointed their fingers at him crossed his mind.

“Do you think that I’m a toyboy and that I’m being used by rich women?” he nervously asked.

To his surprise, Luisa smiled and shook her head.

“Trevor, with your ambition and dignity, I believe that you’re not that kind of person.”

Trevor breathed a sigh of relief and exclaimed in his heart, ‘I knew it!’

It was uplifting to know that someone trusted him. After pondering for a moment, he finally decided to be open to Luisa.

“Luisa, how about I ask Selma and Wendy to meet you?”

In this way, he would not be worried that someone would gossip in front of her about his relationship with other girls.

Chapter 172 We Are Good Friends

Not refusing his offer, Luisa gave Trevor a smile and said, “Well, I’m also looking forward to meeting your friends.”

After ending the phone call, Trevor found an open -air café on the roadside and chatted casually with Luisa.

While talking, Gavin called to apologize, but Trevor reassured him that it wasn’t his fault and that he didn’t blame him.

About twenty minutes later, well-dressed Selma and Wendy arrived at the place.

Selma was wearing a red dress which made her charming and hot.

On the other hand, Wendy’s black boots made her look arrogant and cool.

As soon as the four of them met, Selma looked at Luisa up and down for a while and showed her kindness to her as she greeted, “Hello, I’m Selma. Trevor is...

Umm...Trevor is a good friend of mine.”

Then, Wendy also greeted Luisa like Selma did. After a brief introduction, they began to talk about the problem.

When Selma found out the whole story, her face bulged with anger.

Gritting her teeth, Selma said angrily, “Trevor, which bitch dares to spread the rumor about you being my toy boy? I will definitely tear her mouth apart right now!” s

How dare those people say those kind of things to Mr. Sanderson? How on earth could she keep a top rich man like Trevor as her toy boy?

Of course, Wendy had the same thought with Selma. Both of them turned to look at each other and they were speechless.

Waving his hand dismissively, Trevor tried to change the subject as he said, “Forget about it. The reason why I asked you out this time is because I want you to explain it to Luisa clearly. Other things are not that important.”

As today was Luisa’s birthday, he didn’t want to make things difficult to her and put her in a difficult situation.

Noticing that Trevor was taking it seriously, Selma turned to look at him and asked nervously, “Oh? If you don’t mind me asking, what’s the relationship between our beautiful Luisa and Trevor?”

Selma’s question caught Luisa off-guard. Her face turned a little red as she bit her lip and explained in a hurry, “Well...we are also friends... Yeah, we are good friends!”

The reason she invited Trevor to her birthday party today was because she had something important to talk to him.

The truth was, she intended to tell him about her true feelings towards him!

During the short amount of time they spent together, Luisa found out that she felt very comfortable around him and she even developed a crush on him!

Unfortunately, she found herself difficult to say those kind of words after everything that happened today.

Only after hearing her words, Selma could breathe a sigh of relief.

Her current goal was to pursue Trevor and even her father, who was the business tycoon, agreed with her move.

Even though Luisa was as beautiful as Selma and seemed to be closer to Trevor, Selma could compete with her fairly as they were not in a relationship.

After thinking for a while, Selma made up her mind about her next action.

“Luisa, are you thinking of going back after all these? Since today is your birthday, how about all of us find another place to have dinner together to celebrate your birthday?”

Of course, Trevor was oblivious to the thoughts of the two beauties as he was thinking happily about how Luisa said she was a good friend of his. Wendy, who didn't speak the whole time, couldn't help but snicker while covering her mouth.

Now, she could see it clearly that Trevor was really simple and cute.

Both Luisa and Selma looked at each other and laughed helplessly.

As all the three girls were laughing, Trevor became confused. Frowning his eyebrows, he asked, “What is wrong? Are you guys going or not?”

All the girls thought that Trevor was really stupid and innocent.

Thinking of the incident that happened in the Hilton Hotel, Luisa didn't want to go back. Nodding her head, she agreed, “Okay, let's go and celebrate together.”

Chapter 173 Kneel Down And Apologize

More than ten minutes later, Trevor arrived at the Scarlet Restaurant with three beautiful girls.

In an instant, the waiter respectfully led them towards the VIP seats.

This restaurant was one of the properties that Evie gave to Trevor a long time ago.

The moment they arrived at the restaurant, they got attention from everyone. Seeing the scene in front of them, many males felt that the food here wasn't delicious anymore. All of their envious eyes were fixed on Trevor. 1

After all, Trevor was sitting in the VIP seats with three top beauties.
What a lucky guy!

Every guy looked at Trevor as if they wanted to know how this ordinary boy was able to win the favor of such beautiful girls.

Being under the limelight, Trevor, who was sitting in his seat, felt a little uncomfortable. He didn't expect that their appearance would cause such kind of sensation.

Looking around, Trevor thought to himself, 'I have to inform the manager to design several private rooms and put into action quickly!'

Fortunately, as they were seated in VIP seats, no one else had approached them until now. Nonetheless, everything had an exception!

At that moment, a young man, who was wearing a floral shirt with toad sunglasses on his head, walked over to them with splayed legs.

There were five or six muscular bodyguards in black suits behind him.

Immediately, Wendy's face turned livid. Before the other girls could react, Wendy said in a cold voice, "Arjun Wright, why are you in Jork?"

The man named Arjun Wright said in a flirtatious voice, "Of course, I'm here for you, my sweetheart! Why else?"

While talking, he glanced at Wendy with lustful eyes before looking at the other two beauties as he licked the corners of his mouth. 2

Obviously, he didn't look like a friendly man. With a frown on his face, Trevor asked, "Do you know this person, Wendy?"

Rubbing her temples, Wendy explained, "Yes, he is a rich young man from the neighboring city, Yeim. His family is involved in illegal business. I met him in the past when I was travelling there and I was targeted by him. He had been pestering me since then."

Seeing Arjun here, Wendy felt as if she was starting to have a headache.

As the man's family background was similar to hers, she couldn't do anything to get rid of him. At that time, Arjun had already got to their VIP seats. When he saw Trevor dressed in ordinary clothes, a look of disdain immediately appeared on his face.

Turning to look at Wendy, Arjun said, "The reason you have been refusing me is because of this poor man?" 2

Arjun guessed that the meal they were having was either Wendy's treat or Selma's as Selma also looked rich and noble.

Because of the cheap clothes Trevor was wearing, Arjun didn't think he would be the one who was treating.

Once Wendy heard Arjun's insults towards Trevor, she snapped at him angrily, "Arjun, you better watch your mouth!

The things I do have nothing to do with you! Who I am willing to contact isn't your business either! However, Arjun didn't take her warning seriously. Instead, he became even more arrogant.

Patting on Trevor's shoulder playfully, he threatened, "You asshole. I'm going to take your seat now! Do you understand? Move now!" 1
Glancing at him coldly, Trevor slapped off Arjun's hand from his shoulder and said in a cold voice, "Fuck off!" 4

Trevor's words only made Arjun angry even more. In Yeim, no one dared to go against his words because of his family background. Therefore, he was used to being treated with respect.

Gritting his teeth, Arjun warned, “Hey, poor loser, I am being kind by giving you a chance. You should obey my order before I do something!”

All he wanted to do was to grab Trevor’s collar and punch him. However, before he could do anything, a glass of water was poured on him.

Immediately, Arjun was drenched in cold water. After wiping his face, he stared at the four people in the VIP seats as he gritted his teeth and said, “Fuck! Did you do this to me just for this poor guy, Wendy? Do you think that I don’t dare to hurt you? Kneel down and apologize to me right now! And the other two beauties will have to drink with me as an apology for your behavior!” s

My Sudden Rich Life by Rickie Appiah Chapter 174

Chapter 174 An Arrogant Rich Young Man

The arrogant look on the other party’s face made Trevor feel irritated. With a cold face, Trevor said, “What if I don’t agree with what you said?”

With a playful expression on his face, Arjun said, “You are just a fool. Look at yourself in a mirror. Who do you think you are?”

After that, he did something that made Trevor really angry. He spat at Trevor’s feet!

The sound of the slap echoed in the restaurant. The man was so arrogant that even Trevor who had a good temper couldn’t help but slap him hard across the face.

Arjun had looked down upon Trevor. He had never thought that Trevor would slap him like that. Immediately, his face turned red as he shouted, “Fucking hell! How dare you hit me like that? You are dead!

I’m definitely going to kill you!”

Waving his hand, Arjun called the bodyguards behind him, as if he was really going to make a scene here openly.

Seeing the movements from the bodyguards, Trevor was about to call the security guards of the restaurant to come over.

At that time, a middle-aged man, who seemed to look like the leader of the bodyguards, came forward and persuaded, “Mr. Wright, your father told us not to make trouble, especially in the Scarlet Restaurant. The owner of this place is very powerful and I also heard that the entire commercial street in Jork belongs to him. Even your father can’t protect you if you provoke that mysterious boss!”

Hearing it, the expression on Arjun’s face changed constantly. In the end, he snorted angrily and pointed at Trevor and the others as he shouted, “You can’t hide here for the rest of your life! Once you step out of this restaurant, all of you will have to deal with me, especially you, poor loser!”

After saying that, he turned around and left the place angrily.

For a moment, all the diners in the Scarlet Restaurant talked about the incident.

“Damn! Where did that rich man come from? He is so scary!”

“Oh, I know him. He is Arjun, the son of Jaxxon Wright, an underworld tycoon in Yeim. I heard that he is really out of control! That handsome man is unfortunate to meet him. Poor him.”

“In my eyes, he looks like a poor loser. How can he protect so many beautiful women? Do you think Arjun will dare to act so arrogant if Mr. Smith of Jork is here?”

Of course, Luisa heard everything they said and she became worried about Trevor’s safety as she asked, “What should we do? Should we ask the manager of the restaurant if we can sneak out from somewhere like the back door?”

With a confident look on his face, Trevor said calmly, “Don’t worry about it, Luisa. He is just bluffing. You don’t have to worry about him at all!” If Trevor was really beaten up on his own territory, all the security guards in the Scarlet Restaurant could be fired.

Obviously, Selma and Wendy weren’t worried about it at all. They knew very well that the Sanderson family could handle everything. It wasn’t some family that could be trifled with. Holding Luisa’s hand, Selma gave her a smile and said, “It’s okay. Arjun isn’t that powerful to act recklessly in Jork! Don’t forget that my family also has some influence. If something happens, I can always call some helpers over.

Even if he is extremely powerful, he still has to think whether he can defeat the local big shot, not to mention that Arjun is just a bluff!”

While comforting Luisa, Selma secretly winked at Trevor.

She only said those words to comfort Luisa. After all, with Trevor’s wealth and power, Selma didn’t need to do anything.

After hearing comforting words from the other girls, Luisa felt a little relieved.

Raising the corners of his mouth, Trevor also teased, “Let’s just celebrate your birthday slowly today. Let Arjun wait outside in the cold weather! Maybe he will leave once he gets tired of waiting!”

My Sudden Rich Life by Rickie Appiah Chapter 175

Chapter 175 Stop, Or You’ll Die!

The birthday party continued as Trevor requested. At first, the four of them were awkward around each other.

But when the three beauties finally got to know each other, they began to chat about almost everything. Trevor, however, did not speak much. With a faint smile, he gazed outside the window of the Scarlet Restaurant. While the three ladies were busy chatting, he excused himself to go to the bathroom and left.

At that moment, Trevor approached a waiter and crooked his finger at him. “Go outside and see if Arjun and his men are still there.”

As it was his boss’s order, the waiter ran out to do as told, no questions asked. A few seconds later, he returned and reported to Trevor the situation outside.

“Sir, they’re still waiting outside. Do you want me to call the security to drive them away?”

“No need. Since he dares to court death, I will do as he wishes.”

Trevor would let off the other party if they had just left voluntarily.

However, Arjun decided to stay at the gate of the restaurant and wait for Trevor. How arrogant and audacious Arjun was doing this in Jork. So when Trevor finally dealt with Arjun and his men, he knew to himself that he would not at all feel sorry for them. The brutes deserved it.

With a sneer on the corner of his mouth, Trevor dialed his sister's number.

He intended to deal with the Wright family once and for all. He had grown tired of them bothering him.

Once Trevor was through with the arrangements, he returned to his seat at the table.

The birthday party was about to come to an end. After paying the bill in private, he left the restaurant with his three companions.

But just as they took a few steps forward, Arjun and several of his men walked up to them.

“How bold of you to come out, you poor loser. I thought you were gonna stay for a few days. You're a coward, after all,” Arjun remarked with a sneer.

“Of course, I'll go home after dinner. Do you think I'm stupid enough to spend hours standing outside and enjoying the cold weather just to wait for someone?”

Trevor cast an indifferent look at Arjun as he spoke.

“Fuck you! You know what? I'll teach you a lesson. Let's see if you'll still be able to speak after I cut your tongue off!”

As Arjun spoke, he clenched his fists. Infuriated, he asked his men to besiege Trevor and his companions.

But in the blink of an eye, the security guards, who had been standing by the entrance of the Scarlet Restaurant, ran out and surrounded Arjun and his men.

Arjun looked at the security guards and saw that they were bigger and stronger than his bodyguards. Even he became afraid. “Aren’t— aren’t you the security guards of Scarlet Restaurant? Why are you surrounding us instead of doing your job?” he asked, frightened.

The security guards exchanged a glance and then furtively looked at Trevor, their boss.

The captain of the security guards got the hint right away. He laughed sardonically and said in a deep and hoarse voice, “Scarlet Restaurant aims to provide perfect service to our guests, including their personal safety.” 5

Cold sweat broke out of Arjun’s forehead as he looked at the strong men surrounding them with black batons in their hands. His body tensed up upon realizing the predicament he was in. “Wait! I dined in there—”

But before he could finish his words, the security guards took a step towards him.

‘Are you fucking kidding me? How could this loser be of any match to our boss?’ they mused.

The security guards of the Scarlet Restaurant were ex-servicemen from the special arms and were hired at a high price.

To them, defeating Arjun's men was a piece of cake.

Some of the security guards escorted Trevor and the others to the exit, while the remaining ones dealt with Arjun and his men. While Trevor and his companions were walking away, they heard Arjun's screams behind them. "Ouch! Stop it! Stop, or you'll die!"

My Sudden Rich Life by Rickie Appiah Chapter 176

Chapter 176 Who Do You Want To Beat Up

Being surrounded by the security guards, Arjun let out a scream. At that time, his left eye was punched and his front teeth were broken.

With his red eyes, he said angrily, "You bastards! Do you know who I called to come here? It's none other than Maison and he has several hundred killers in Jork. I suggest you go away if you don't want to die!"

Hearing it, the security guards looked at each other and took a few steps back. All of them looked surprised and confused.

In fact, they were obviously familiar with Maison's name.

After all, if they wanted to become a security guard in Jork, the most important thing was to figure out who they shouldn't offend.

Of course, Maison was one of those powerful people who shouldn't be offended.

He was known to be the fierce person of the local gangs in Jork and he did the lending business.

At that time, there was a huge roar of the car engine coming from the distance.

All of a sudden, eight off-road vehicles came from the side of the street.

Then, dozens of people pushed open the car doors and rushed out while holding pry bars, iron pipes and other tools in their hands.

The one who was leading was a middle-aged man with tattoos on his arms.

The cigarette in his mouth made him look fierce. Under his lead, a large number of armed gangsters were heading towards the Scarlet Restaurant. Instantly, the atmosphere in front of the Scarlet Restaurant became tense.

The people who were watching the fun earlier had already run away as they were so scared.

Even the security guards, who were in special troops before, felt the pressure.

After all, there were too many people in the group and all of them were carrying weapons in their hands.

Once Arjun saw the man who was leading the group, he wasn't shocked. Instead, he was pleased to see him. Moving forward quickly, he said in a flattering voice, "Maison, finally you are here. Help me teach these bastards a lesson! They are the ones who were offending me just now!" Immediately, he replied, "Okay." The whole time, he was playing the mobile game without even raising his head. He didn't show any respect towards Arjun. In a cold voice, he asked, "Tell me, who do you want me to deal with?"

Most of the time, he didn't do things by himself. He just ordered his men to take action.

However, since Arjun had given him five hundred thousand dollars, he had to make a move personally.

Not long after seeing Maison, a sinister smile appeared on Arjun's face. With cold eyes, he turned to look at Trevor who was not far away from them and said, "Maison, wait a moment. I want to say something to these people."

Because of the men who were standing behind him, Arjun regained his arrogance. With a sneer, he looked at Wendy and said, "Wendy, you are a bitch! How dare you go against me for the sake of a poor loser like him? Do you regret it now?"

Instead of replying, Wendy chose to remain silent. However, she couldn't hide the look of panic on her face.

In fact, she didn't expect for Arjun to be arrogant and reckless like this, even not in his territory. He even called a large group of violent men over!

It was needless to say that Luisa and the others were shocked, angry and scared.

Despite the burning anger in his eyes, Trevor looked calm as he said, "Regret? You have no right to ask such kind of question! You can ask Maison if he dares to hit me or not!"

In fact, Trevor recognized Maison who was none other than a subordinate of Evie.

However, when he noticed the girls trembling in fear, he got so furious.

Hearing Trevor's words, Arjun smiled wickedly and said, "Ha-ha, you poor loser. Who do you think you are? You really think of yourself as a big shot." As if he just heard the world's funniest joke, he laughed out loud.

Then his face darkened as he said gloomily, "How dare you threaten Maison? I'll see how you die tonight!"

With an arrogant look on his face, Arjun said respectfully, "Maison, this poor loser threatened you just now. I really can't stand him. I want this man's limbs to be broken and want him to be a disabled man for the rest of his life."

His words immediately caught Maison's attention as his eyes finally shifted from the phone. Gritting his teeth, he said, "What do you mean? How dare he threaten me?"

His face was dignified and cold and his eyes were filled with dangerous killing intent. Then, he looked at the direction Arjun was pointing. However, his pupils suddenly shrank and he shivered once he saw Trevor.

With wide eyes, he thought, "Oh my God! Isn't that Mr. Sanderson? Shit! He is the younger brother of my boss, Evie.

If I beat him up, she will tear me up and feed me to the sharks in the sea!

At that time, Trevor was looking at him with a playful look on his face. It was as if a tiger was staring at a little sheep.

Immediately, Maison's face stiffened and his legs became so weak that he almost knelt down. Then, he turned to look at Arjun.

At that moment, he hoped that the one Arjun wanted him to beat wasn't Mr. Sanderson.

After that, he asked in a trembling voice, "W-Who do you want me to beat up?"

My Sudden Rich Life by Rickie Appiah Chapter 177

Chapter 177 Went Bankrupt

Not noticing the difference in Maison's tone, Arjun pointed at Trevor, who was now protected by the security guards, as he laughed and said, "That poor student who is wearing shabby clothes. He is the one I want you to kill..." 2

However, before he could finish his words, he was suddenly slapped hard!

Slap!

To say he was dumbfounded would be an understatement.

Everyone who witnessed the scene was also surprised and looked at each other with their eyes filled with confusion.

Selma and Wendy shared a look before turning to look at Trevor next to them.

Seeing the calm look on Trevor's face, both of them were awed and thought that he deserved the title of being the son of a big family.

On the other hand, Maison stole a glance at Trevor as he swallowed hard and cursed Arjun in his heart, ‘Damn it. This idiot nearly put me in a dangerous situation.’

Covering his red cheek, Arjun said innocently, “Maison, you hit the wrong person. That poor loser is the one you should be hitting!”

Pretending as if he didn’t hear what Arjun just said, Maison cleared his ear and asked impatiently, “Wait, what did you say?”

Still not noticing the difference in Maison’s tone, Arjun repeated the previous words and continued, “Ha-ha, Maison. If you have a crush on any beautiful woman there, we can have fun with them tonight...”

Before he could finish his sentence, he was kicked hard on his ass by Maison and he literally fell flat on his face on the ground!

With wide eyes, Arjun asked in surprise, “M- Maison, why did you hit me again?”

Hearing it, Maison shouted angrily, “Bah! Why should I not? You bastard! You are immoral and filthy. We are going to get rid of you bad guys and teach you a lesson today!”

Frowning, Arjun asked in confusion, “What?” Even the ones who were working in the underworld were behaving well. Who was he trying to get rid of?

Moreover, he even spent five hundred thousand dollars just to hire Maison. Did that mean he spent money to hire someone to hit himself?

At that time, under Maison’s lead, all the armed men surrounded Arjun which made him scared. Immediately, he brought out his family as the last support and threatened, “Wait, you...you can’t do this! You have to let me go, or else the Wright family won’t let you off the hook!”

Hearing it, Trevor couldn’t help but sneer. It was too late for him to think about escaping at this point.

Glancing at the phone, he said indifferently, “Judging by the fact that even Maison can’t stand it anymore, you are a real jerk. I think your family has done so many evil things and so they can’t protect you anymore.”

After calculating the time, Trevor thought that there should be a result by now since his sister had promised him that she would destroy the Wright family.

At that time, Arjun shouted angrily, “Poor loser, stop talking nonsense!”

Just as he finished shouting, his phone rang. When he found that the one who was calling him was his father, he felt as if he had grasped a life-saving straw. Immediately, he picked up and turned on the speaker as he cried, “Dad, someone is bullying me. Please help me now!”

To his surprise, instead of comforting him, the person on the other end of the phone roared angrily, “Little bastard, who the hell did you offend outside? Our family has gone bankrupt and your uncles are all arrested by the police!”

Even a faint sound of police siren could be heard from the other side of the phone as he talked. Then, the phone was hung up in a hurry.

Although the call was ended, Arjun was too weak to move. He could do nothing but to watch Maison and the others who were now approaching him with ferocious faces.

Seeing the scene, he got too scared that he even peed in his pants.

Taking a step back, Arjun said, “Don’t... Don’t come to me! Ahhh!”

Just like that a loud scream rang out in front of the door of the Scarlet Restaurant again!

My Sudden Rich Life by Rickie Appiah Chapter 178

Chapter 178 Pretend To Be Her Boyfriend

Now that Arjun got the punishment he deserved, Trevor breathed a sigh of relief as he was finally out of danger now.

During the chaos, he found an opportunity to send a message to Maison and asked him to deal with the rest properly.

After saying goodbye to Selma and Wendy, Trevor went back to school with Luisa, who was still in a state of shock.

After experiencing a dangerous night, the next few days were a little dull with no dramas.

That was until the weekend which was the day of the yacht auction event.

In the boys’ dormitory of the University, Trevor was washing his clothes on the balcony when he got a call from Evie.

From the other end of the phone, Evie said, “Trevor, last time I helped you in solving the Wright family problem. Now, it’s your turn to help me. There’s a yacht auction today and I can’t go there because I’m still on vacation abroad.

I know that you want to keep a low profile, but you can’t forget the fact that you are a rich man. You will have to face these things in the future whether you like it or not. Now, I will transfer two billion dollars to you. You have to buy the yacht for me with this money. Think of it as your first step to enter the upper class!” «

As usual, Evie hung up the phone before Trevor could say anything. A bitter chuckle escaped his lips.

Originally, he wanted to have a look at there as he was curious about this kind of auction.

However, it would be too extravagant and eye-catching if he bought a yacht which was worth 1.5 billion dollars.

If there were reporters around, buying the yacht would cause the sensation and he would no longer be able to have a peaceful life.

In the end, Trevor decided to call back his sister to refuse the task.

Before he could, he received a message.

When Trevor checked the phone, he found that his sister had already transferred him two billion dollars. 2

He couldn't do anything but sigh helplessly as it had reached this stage. Sighing, he thought to himself, ‘Well, Evie has helped me a lot. I should go there to help her this time.’ 4

At that time, he was about to contact Gavin and Selma when Selma called him.

Once he picked up the phone, he said, “Hello, Selma? I'm thinking of calling you about the yacht auction...”

Before Trevor could finish his words, he heard the girl's anxious voice from the other side of the phone, "Mr. Sanderson, please help me! My aunt is asking me to come to her house today. I'm sure she will take this as an opportunity to introduce a guy to me!

Please, pretend to be my boyfriend for today." After listening to Selma's pleading tone on the phone, Trevor was a little hesitant.

Then he asked, "Why did you choose me to pretend as your boyfriend? You are so beautiful. I'm sure there are many people who like you." 1 Hearing it, Selma blushed and said softly, "Those boys of my age are too naive. I can't trust them. What if they said something wrong in front of my aunt? If you don't help me, I really don't know what to do!"

Trevor hesitated for a while and finally agreed, "Okay."

After all, Selma had helped him a lot in the past. Now, she was just asking him a small favor and so he couldn't find a reason to refuse.

However, this was his first time to pretend to be someone's boyfriend.

Hearing that Trevor agreed, Selma said happily, "Thank you for your help, Trevor. I'll come to pick you up later. We can go to the yacht auction after dealing with my aunt." :

Trevor hung up the phone and went to wash his face. When he finished preparing, Selma had already arrived at the boys' dormitory, waiting for him to come down.

Without changing his casual clothes, Trevor went downstairs. ;

The moment he got into the car, he heard a young girl exclaim, “Cousin, is this your boyfriend? Why is he wearing those shabby clothes?”

Hearing the voice, Trevor turned his head and found a girl around seventeen or eighteen years old, sitting in the backseat.

Her delicate face was filled with contempt. 1

Although Trevor didn’t say anything, Selma felt a little embarrassed.

Forcing a smile, Selma introduced the girl to Trevor, “This is my cousin, Hilda Dixon. She is in the first year of senior high school.”

Obviously, Trevor didn’t want to stoop to the same level with the little girl, Therefore, he nodded and greeted with a smile, “Hello.”

However, Hilda didn’t show appreciation at all! Instead, she ignored Trevor as she kept talking to Selma, “Cousin, just take a look at him. The clothes on his body are less than one hundred dollars in total. Why do you like him anyway?”

Chapter 179 A Poor Guy

Hearing her cousin’s words, Selma couldn’t help but feel a little shocked. At that moment, she was afraid that Trevor would be offended by these words.

Licking her lips nervously, Selma stole a glance at Trevor.

When she found that Trevor looked calm as if he didn’t take her cousin’s words seriously, she felt relieved.

With a sullen look on her face, Selma scolded, “Hilda, be polite. If you keep acting so rude to him, I’ll tell your father about this.”

Obviously, Hilda was displeased, but she obeyed her cousin's order.

About half an hour later, the car arrived at the villa area. 1

In front of three hundred square meters villa, a well-dressed middle-aged beautiful woman was waiting for them. In fact, she was none other than Selma's aunt, Melba.

Once Melba saw Selma and the others, she quickly came up to them and smiled as she said, "Oh, Selma, you're here. I've been waiting for you for a long time."

Just as she finished greeting, Melba saw Trevor, who was sitting on the passenger seat. Once she saw that he was wearing a simple T-shirt with trousers and shoes without any accessories all over his body, her face darkened immediately.

In her eyes, her niece was so beautiful and she was born in a rich family. Therefore, the man she was going to marry should be a rich man worth hundreds of millions of dollars.

However, the young man in front of her looked like a poor student.

In a cold voice, Melba said, "Is this the boyfriend you have been talking about? Selma, did you forget the fact that you are from a rich family? You should know how to avoid people who have evil intentions."

Melba's words made Selma almost jump out of her seat. She was about to say something when Melba interrupted, "All right, all right. I know you young people will talk about love. When you have to suffer in the future, you will know that I'm right." 2

Opening the door indifferently, Melba said, “Come in and have a talk with me.”

At that time, Hilda, who was sitting on the backseat, got out of the car and closed the car door before entering the room.

Seeing the scene, Selma sighed and said to Trevor apologetically, “I’m sorry. I didn’t expect that my aunt would treat you this badly.”

Shaking his head, Trevor said, “It doesn’t matter. Let’s just go inside.”

Ever since he was a child, he had seen people more snobbish and arrogant than these two. After all, these two people were Selma’s family members. Therefore, he didn’t want to make things difficult for them.

After entering the room, Trevor sat on the sofa and saw that Melba was studying him carefully. In an indifferent voice, Melba asked, “You must be Trevor, right? What do your family members do for a living?”

Tilting his head, Trevor answered, “They do business abroad.”

Hearing Trevor’s words, Hilda scoffed and retorted, “If they work for the others, you can just tell us the truth. Don’t you feel shameful to lie to us like this?”

Nodding her head, Melba agreed with Hilda’s words. After all, Trevor looked so poor.

If his family members really did business like he said, how could he be dressing like this?

Little did they know that Trevor didn't need anything or anyone to prove that he was rich! Unlike others, he didn't need to show off his wealth to the others.

Therefore, he decided not to argue with Hilda. After that, Melba continued to ask, "Since your parents do business abroad, you might have at least a few million dollars right?"

Shaking his head, Trevor replied, "No." Technically, he didn't lie. After all, he had nearly one hundred million dollars in his account. Hence, a few million dollars was just like the tip of an iceberg of his wealth.

Well, Melba had no idea about it. When she heard his answer, she looked even more disdainful and asked, "Then, what kind of car do you drive now? Is it a luxurious car that is worth one million dollars?"

Shaking his head again, Trevor replied, "No."

The truth was, his car was the Bugatti supercar, which cost tens of millions of dollars. It was far more expensive than the cars that were worth one million dollars.

The more Melba asked, the more she became dissatisfied with Trevor. A few minutes later, Melba asked again, "Do you have a house? If you don't have a villa, you might at least have an apartment, right?"

Hearing her question, Trevor shrugged and replied awkwardly, "To be honest, I really don't have a house."

If it weren't for Melba, he would have forgotten that he still hadn't bought a house yet.

Thinking about it, Trevor decided to select a villa someday.

Of course, a villa might cost at most tens of millions of dollars. There was no villa in Jork that he couldn't afford.

On the other hand, after hearing Trevor's honest answers, Melba concluded that he was just a poor guy.

Melba spat coldly, "You have nothing. How dare you date our Selma? You are so shameless!"

At that time, Hilda also remarked in contempt, "Mother, Selma even has to go to the student dorm to pick him up. Obviously, he doesn't have a house or a car. I really don't know how he deceived my cousin to be loyal to him."

Both of them kept making rude remarks in order to make Trevor and Selma break up.

Seeing the scene in front of her, Selma was shocked. Immediately, she prepared to put in a good word for Trevor.

At the moment, the doorbell rang.

Although Melba wanted to keep cursing Trevor, she had to stop as someone was coming. Giving a ferocious stare, she ran to open the door.

Chapter 180 I Want To Marry Mr. Sanderson

A handsome man who was wearing a decent white Armani suit was standing at the door.

When Melba saw the guest, she greeted in surprise, “Frey, you’re finally here. Come in. I’ll take you to see Selma.”

Frey Cruz gave Melba a fake smile out of politeness and said, “Mrs. Dixon, I have prepared some gifts for you and Hilda.”

Then, he took out two small exquisite looking gift boxes from his bag and handed them to Melba and Hilda respectively.

“Mrs. Dixon, I saw this necklace when I passed by a gold store last time and I thought this matches you very well. It looks elegant and beautiful, so I bought it for you. For Hilda, this is the latest LV wristwatch. This is the one that you were looking last time.” 4

It was needless to say that the gifts from Frey made Melba and Hilda extremely happy.

Then, the two of them turned to look at Trevor with more contempt.

Frey was dressed in expensive brands and he even remembered to bring the expensive gifts for them. On the other hand, Trevor was wearing ragged clothes and he came empty-handed.

There was a huge gap between the two of them. Once Frey got into the living room, Melba introduced him to Selma warmly, “Selma, this is the one that I’ve been wanting to introduce to you. His name is Frey Cruz and he is a top student of Boston University at such a young age.

His father and I went to the same college and he has two five star hotels in Jork commercial street. Also, he owns a logistics company which has a value of over one hundred million dollars.” 1 Hearing it, Frey said humbly, “I’m flattered, Mrs. Dixon. I’m planning to open another high-end luxury store in the commercial street within two months. I expect that we'll invest fifty million dollars in it. I hope you can frequent it in the future.”

When Frey finished talking, he looked at Selma. Instantly, his face showed ecstasy. He thought that Selma was so beautiful in the photo. However, he felt that the photo couldn't justify her beauty as she was more graceful and elegant in person. Walking towards Selma, Frey reached his hand out as he smiled and greeted, “You must be Selma. Nice to meet you.”

To his surprise, Selma didn't reach her hand out to greet him. Instead, she even held Trevor's arm tighter than before.

Only then did Frey notice Trevor. Then, he asked hesitantly, “Who is this?”

Leaning against Trevor intimately, Selma said with a smile, “I'm sorry. I think my aunt didn't tell you that I have a boyfriend.”

The moment Selma said those words, the living room became quiet and the atmosphere suddenly became awkward.

To soothe things out, Melba stepped forward quickly and said with a smile, “Oh, Selma really loves to joke. Love doesn't treat you a meal. Besides, you don't know who is the right one for you before walking down the aisle, right?”

Moreover, Frey is really ambitious, hardworking and he knows exactly how to share the family's burden at such a young age. He is complete opposite to someone who goes to a local university and idles in the dormitory all day long.”

While talking, she looked at Trevor with her eyes filled with disdain and disgust.

Not even bothering about what she said, Trevor let out a yawn.

After all, he was just pretending to be Selma's boyfriend. It wasn't like he would really be in a relationship with Selma.

For that reason, even though their insults made him feel a little uncomfortable, he didn't feel angry about it.

Trevor's ignorance towards her words made Melba even more disdainful. She snorted coldly and turned to look at Frey. Immediately, a smile appeared on her face as she said, "Frey, I heard that the boss behind the commercial street is a young man. Everyone called him Mr. Sanderson. Have you ever met him before?" 1

When Frey heard her words, he was stunned. The truth was he had never seen the legendary Mr. Sanderson. Even his father had never gotten a chance to visit the mysterious boss.

However, as he didn't want to lose his face, Frey cleared his throat and said, "Actually, I've not only met Mr. Sanderson, but also drunk with him. We're on good terms." 3

As soon as he finished saying, Hilda's face lit up immediately and she asked excitedly, "Really? Can you introduce him to me then? I really want to know that kind of top rich man!" 4

Hearing this, Frey was flustered. In an instant, he composed himself and prevaricated, "Mr. Sanderson is a really busy person. I'll introduce him to you next time if I get a chance."

Sighing in disappointment, Hilda said, "Alas, if only I could marry a top rich man like Mr. Sanderson..."

When they started talking about Mr. Sanderson, Trevor looked calm and he was drinking a glass of water. However, when he heard Hilda's words, his hands shook violently as he choked on water and coughed violently.

Everyone, except Selma, looked at Trevor with disgust.

In an instant, Hilda's face darkened as she snorted and said, "What's wrong with you? I only said that I want to marry Mr. Sanderson and you reacted this way. Do you have any problem with my words?" s
