After recovering from the shock a few moments later, Victor went ballistic. He grabbed Gideon and Leonard by their collars and lashed out, “How dare you trick me?”

With his face as pale as ashes, Gideon shuddered and pleaded, “Mr. Black, I would never in a million years dare to trick you or the Blacks. I have tried many times to annul the marriage between Nathan Cross and Penny Smith in the system, but to no avail.”

Leonard, who was also close to tears, started panicking and gasped, “Yes, I tried every possible means to remove Nathan Cross from the household registration system, but I couldn’t. This is the first time I’ve encountered such an issue!”

What? Victor Black stared at Nathan!

If these two men were not lying, it could only mean that Nathan was behind all this.

He glared at Nathan and hissed, “What have you done, you brat?”

Penny and the Smiths looked at Nathan with sheer curiosity.

They wanted to know how he could prevent the Civil Affairs Bureau and Household Registration Office from tampering with his records.

Nathan smiled back at Victor. "Trust me, you wouldn't want to know!"

Agitated, Victor Black snapped, "Hah! How arrogant. There's nothing I wouldn't want to know. Quit trying to intimidate me!"

Almost immediately, they heard footsteps coming from the outside, marching toward the room. A stern voice pierced through the air. "Move aside, everyone!"

Upon hearing the commotion outside, Nathan smiled at an alarmed Victor and uttered, "Here comes your answer!"

A major in his military uniform barged into the room with a dozen armed soldiers behind him.

The major saluted Nathan. "I'm Major Clarke from the South's military force. I've just been informed that someone has attempted to interfere with a military marriage. I'm here to take care of this matter."

Interfering with a military marriage?

Everyone was taken aback when they heard this. It suddenly struck them that Nathan was an ex-serviceman!

He grinned and quipped, "Much appreciated, Major Clarke!"

Major Clarke nodded. Then, he pointed at Gideon and Leonard and ordered his men to arrest them.

Several heavily armed military men acted on his command immediately.

Gideon yelled, "How dare you touch me? I'm the Director of the Civil Affairs Bureau!"

Following that, Leonard screamed as well, "Yes, I'm from the Household Registration

Major Clarke snorted, "You tried to disrupt a military marriage. Of all people, both of you should know very well that it is illegal to do so. So tell me, why can't we arrest you? As a military officer, I have every right to arrest you for attempting to disrupt a military marriage. Get them out of here now!"

In just seconds, both men were taken away.

Major Clarke pointed at Victor. "Arrest this man too!"

The latter shrieked, "Don't you dare lay a finger on me!"

"It's ok, Major. Leave him to me," Nathan Cross said.

"Yes, sir!" The major retreated from the room with his men right away.

They came and left like the wind.

Never had Victor thought that his conspiracy to ruin a military marriage would be discovered by the military so soon.

He felt relieved, thinking that the military could not do anything to him because he was from the Blacks.

However, much to his surprise, after Major Clarke left with his men, Thomas came dashing into the room with over two hundred men.

“Who has been messing around with my master?” he roared as he entered the room.

The sight of Thomas put a smile on Nathan’s face. “You are right on time, Thomas. Please get rid of these people here. Meanwhile, get a casket and send it to the Blacks. This will serve as a warning to Peyton Black. Tell him that if he wishes to live longer, he should stay out of trouble.”

“Yes, Master!” Thomas replied.

A shudder ran through Victor. Feeling terrified, he forced himself to appear infuriated and blurted out, "Oh, no you don't!"

Thomas sniggered, "Jack, you can start breaking their limbs now."

Without delay, Jack pounced on Victor and his men.

The latter was the first to be knocked down to the ground!

Holding an iron bar in his hand, Jack wasted no time with his task.

"Argh!" Victor screamed in excruciating pain.

The stench of blood filled the air.

In a blink of an eye, Victor was paralyzed.

His men were also brutally beaten up and thrown out of the room.

As instructed by Nathan, Thomas bought a black casket and dumped Victor in it before nailing the casket shut.

Then, he got his men to deliver the casket as quickly as possible to the Blacks in Northania, right into the hands of Mr. Black.

Peyton had a few friends over at his place when suddenly, his butler, Don, came running in with a horrified look on his face.

Displeased, Peyton chided, "What happened? Why are you behaving so frantically?"

Don whispered nervously, "You have a delivery, sir!"

Peyton sneered, "My dear Don, it's just a delivery. Why are you so antsy? People send me things for so many reasons.

Some of them want to build a rapport with me, while some of them need my help. There's no need to make a fuss over this."

With a strange look on his face, Don lowered his head meekly. "It's a delivery from Nathan Cross!"

Frowning at what he'd just heard, Peyton Black scorned, "Isn't Victor working on getting rid of him? Why would there be a delivery from Cross?"

Don could not hold back any longer and exclaimed, "Sir, it's a casket!"

With their eyes and jaws wide open, Peyton and his friends, together with all his subordinates, were startled by what they'd just heard.

Bam!

Enraged, Peyton slammed his hand on the coffee table. "This is downright outrageous!" he thundered.

Equally furious, his friends and

They were shaken by yet another bombshell!

Then, Peyton Black replied without any hesitation, "Let's go out now to see what's going on."

Soon, they came to the front yard where a casket was.

Over a hundred men dressed in leather suits stood around the casket, whispering to one another, wondering what was in there.

Peyton came to the entrance with his subordinates. He asked gravely, "What is inside the casket?"

His eldest son, Adam, greeted him respectfully, "Dad, the bodyguards have just run an explosive detector test on the

With a solemn voice, Peyton Black said, "Open the casket now!"

"Yes, sir!"

Without asking the bodyguards for help, Adam opened the casket himself.

He lifted his hand and struck the casket with a blow.

Boom!

The impact was so great that in a split second, the nails came right off from the casket.

Everyone cheered in awe, "Bravo, Mr. Black!"

Peyton was pleased with his eldest son. Adam had always demonstrated excellent martial arts skills, even when he was just a young boy. He spent all of his school years including his university years in Eagleland. After he graduated, he joined the mercenaries in Eagleland.

In just three years, he rose to be a Colonel of Eagleland's mercenaries.

Over the last two years, Peyton had aged a lot. Adam was summoned home to take over his position and head the business of the Blacks.

After all the nails came off the casket, he lifted the cover.

Almost immediately, everyone came toward to take a peek at what was inside it.

Much to their horror, they saw Victor, who was sent by Peyton to teach Nathan and Penny a lesson.

Due to his broken limbs and after being dehydrated for a long period of time, Victor's lips were parched and cracked. He was barely alive.

When he saw Peyton and the others, he spoke in a frail voice, "Godfather... Nathan Cross broke my limbs, and sent me back here stuffed in this casket. He did this to warn you. He said if this happens again, you'll be the next person lying in the casket."

Boom!

Peyton and the others flew into a rage.

How dare this lowlife scoundrel from the Cross family challenge the Blacks? He needs to be taught a lesson!

After a moment, Adam squinted his eyes and voluntarily offered his help. "Dad, if Victor couldn't handle both Nathan and Penny, please allow me to complete his task!"

Upon hearing that, Peyton lightened up.

“All right, I’ll leave this in your good hands!”

Riverside, Channing.

Sean, together with his two sons, Samuel and Paul, came to visit Nathan.

Unable to contain his curiosity, Sean looked at Nathan and asked, “Nathan, why couldn’t the Civil Affairs Bureau annul your marriage with Penny in the system? And why couldn’t the Household Registration Office remove you from their database?”

Penny and the entire family looked at Nathan with much curiosity too!

Nathan Cross grinned. “For many years, I was a military man serving the North. Back then, I was just a platoon leader. During a mission, I rescued the commanding officer which was considered a meritorious deed. This is why they couldn’t delete my data from the system.”

Sean and the rest of them finally got to know the reason behind it.

They did not know that Nathan had two different records in the database.

A normal Household Registration Officer could only have access to Nathan's brief record. However, his actual records were hidden in a highly confidential folder. The folder contained Nathan's true identity and his journey throughout his military years, including details of his acquaintances, and all the awards and recognitions he had received.

In fact, there are few people in the nation that have the access to his actual records.

When the Household Registration Officer, Leonard, attempted to remove Nathan's data from the system, it triggered the alert to both the Military Force and the National Security Force.

This was why the military unit arrived at the scene in such a short period of time to arrest Leonard and Gideon!

Chapter 1003 Causing More Trouble Will Only Inflict...

It had never crossed everyone's mind that the whole incident was so complex. They always thought Nathan was given the privileges because he used to be a serviceman!

Holding on to her husband's hands tightly, Penny exclaimed with joy, "I'm so grateful for the country for taking such good care of their ex-servicemen. They even took care of military marriage. If it hadn't been for their protection, we would be in the hot soup now."

Benson and Leah agreed wholeheartedly. They were glad that there was a ruling in place where nobody could disrupt the military marriage.

Still feeling distressed, Sean commented, "But the head of the Blacks is adamant to marry Penny. The Blacks are one of the eight most revered families that hold great powers in the business scene, the military, as well as the political arena. I'm just afraid that they might not let us off the hook so easily!"

Everyone fell into silence, feeling worried again.

It did not affect Nathan at all. He smiled and comforted, "They can be rich and powerful, but justice still prevails."

"There's a saying, 'When you're in the right, justice will always prevail. But when you're in the wrong, you can never triumph over justice'."

He continued, "The Blacks were in the wrong in the very first place. Causing more trouble would only inflict humiliations upon themselves."

Chapter 1004 Adam Black Is Here

Although Sean agreed with what Nathan said, he still felt that Nathan was still too young. The Black Clan is rich and powerful, so why would they bother negotiating with you?

When Nathan saw the worried expression on the faces of Sean and the others, he reassured them again, saying that they didn't need to worry as long as he was around.

Although Sean was still concerned, he knew that it was useless to dwell on it. All he could do was hope that the Black Clan would show them some mercy and let them off the hook.

Unbeknownst to him, Adam Black was already headed for Channing with a group of his most capable men.

They were sitting in first class on a flight from Northania.

Everyone else who bought first-class tickets had been herded away to economy class.

The passengers made a fuss in the beginning. But when they realized that it was Adam who was hogging the first-class cabin, they acquiesced.

Obviously, no one dared to offend the Black Clan.

At that very moment, Adam was sitting in one of the first-class seats. On his lap was a pretty flight attendant in a disheveled uniform, and she was moaning.

An hour later, she left the first-class cabin, hardly able to walk properly.

Meanwhile, Adam summoned his subordinates. He only had a shirt on, and it was unbuttoned, exposing his chest and abs, which made him look even more dashing and imposing.

He ordered, "Once we land in Channing, I will get rid of Thomas Dunn first. He will be the first to pay for injuring the Black Clan's men."

His followers replied in unison, "Yes,

Today was the annual dinner of Thomas Dunn’s company. Therefore, the Cloud Palace was reserved for company employees and closed to outside guests.

All the minority shareholders of the company and management personnel were invited to the dinner as well.

At that moment, there were hundreds of guests inside who were seated according to their positions.

After a short speech by Thomas, the dinner began.

He then sat down with Jack Green and his other men, feasting together.

Thomas and his guests were enjoying themselves when they suddenly heard a loud crash.

The restaurant's glass door was shattered, and glass shards were strewn all over the floor.

All the guests were stunned as they looked towards the main door.

Thomas was now the de-facto leader of Channing's underworld. Both sides of the law in Channing feared him. Therefore, who was so brazen to crash his party like that?

As the guests were still trying to figure out what was going on, they saw a well-built man entering with a bunch of followers behind him.

That man was Adam Black.

He had two of his best men on each side, Cobra on his left and Tigre on his right.

Cobra was a black man who was more than two meters tall. With a lanky figure, his gaze was as sharp as a venomous snake.

Meanwhile, Tigre was from Northania. Although he was only five foot nine, he was built like a tank with bulging muscles. He looked like a fearsome beast, just standing there.

Both of them were loyal retainers of Adam. They had been following him since the day he joined the Eagleland mercenary group. They were natural-born killers and used to be lieutenant colonels as mercenaries.

Both of them were considered Adam's right-hand men.

When Thomas saw them approaching in such an intimidating manner, he frowned and asked, "Who are you?"

Adam replied with a smile, "You don't even know who I am and yet you dare challenge the Black Clan? Thomas Dunn, death awaits you!"

Chapter 1005 Let Him Come At Me

Just as he spoke, Adam pulled up a chair and sat down as if he was the host.

Then, he grabbed a bottle of red wine and poured himself a glass. Taking a sip, he squinted his eyes and commented, “The wine is good!”

Insolence!

Impudence!

Before Thomas even said anything, one of his followers, George, couldn’t stand it any longer.

Banging the table, he pointed at Adam and bellowed, “Who do you think you are to make a fuss in Thomas’ territory. Do you want to leave this place in a coffin?”

Swirling the wine in his glass, Adam smirked at George.

Peeved by his reaction, George shouted back, “What are you staring at? Are you looking for a fight?”

Chapter 1005 Let Him Come At Me

Adam called out casually, “Cobra!”

At his cue, the two-meter-tall Cobra sprang into action.

Swoosh!

All George could see was a shadowy figure flashing by. The next moment, he was stupefied to see Cobra standing right in front of him.

Without waiting for George to react, Cobra seized George’s head with his outstretched fingers as if it was a basketball.

As he tightened his grip, the crushing pressure caused George to struggle vehemently in pain.

Shocked to see what was unfolding before him, Thomas demanded, “Let go!”

However, Cobra let out a diabolical smile instead, exposing a mouthful of white teeth. Digging his nails into George’s head, Cobra gave it a final squeeze and crushed it like a watermelon. The next moment,

Some of Thomas' outraged subordinates roared as they charged at Cobra to avenge George.

Thomas called out immediately, "No, stop!"

However, it was too late.

Before his men could get close to Cobra, Tigre had sprung to action and pounced at them like a tiger.

could no longer stand. Instead, blood oozed out of every orifice in their body as they lay dead on the ground.

It was an extremely gruesome sight.

Everyone present, including Thomas' employees and henchmen, were shocked to their core.

No one dared to come forward again. Instead, they subconsciously retreated a few steps.

Holding the wine glass, Adam maintained his calm elegance as he smiled at Thomas.

However, Thomas was in anguish. These men were his blood brothers who went through thick and thin with him. Now that they were all killed en-masse, the sorrow he felt was overwhelming.

Clenching his fist, he glared at Adam and scowled, "Was it necessary to be so ruthless when they had no quarrel with you?"

Chapter 1005 Let Him Come At Me

Holding up his wine glass, Adam replied cheekily. “Don’t you know? Every time I kill, someone would ask me the same question in tears. In fact, they would be pleading for mercy on their knees while telling me there’s no need for me to be so ruthless.”

Just as he spoke, Adam took another sip of red wine. Smirking at Thomas, he continued, “What you don’t understand is that I’m doing this just to see the expression you currently have on your face. Hahaha.”

Widening his eyes in rage, Thomas roared, “Bastard, I will send you to hell today if it’s the last thing I do!”

With that, he picked up a chair and lunged towards Adam aggressively.

When Cobra, Tigre, and the rest of his bodyguards were about to step in, Adam stood up holding his wine glass.

Thrusting his chin forward, he squinted his eyes and sneered, “Let him come at me.”

Thomas' employees and underlings gasped in shock because Thomas had been beaten to a pulp.

As soon as Adam reached Thomas' side, he stepped on his injured chest, without holding back, as he mocked the man with a vicious smile, "Why don't you beg for mercy? Perhaps I'll let you off the hook if you're willing to beg for mercy!"

Adam had always resorted to such tricks, previously. He would always get his foes to beg him for mercy before finishing them off. The wicked man derived his pleasure from toying with others.

He would deny his foes and deal the decisive blow, the moment they attempted to beg him for mercy.

In short, Adam was a psychopath. He enjoyed watching people dying, in despair.

However, Thomas had always been a stubborn man. He was sweating profusely due to the excruciating sensation he had felt.

Adam frowned in response to his words. He could not get to the better of Thomas, as he had always had with many others. The common trick he had always resorted to, had failed, for the very first time.

Adam was unwilling to let Thomas off the hook just yet because he enjoyed crushing his foes, both psychologically and physically.

He cast a stern gaze at Thomas and stepped on him with a great amount of strength. Once again, the sound of Thomas’ bones cracking could be heard.

Adam warned Thomas in a callous tone, “You should hurry up and beg for mercy. Otherwise, I’ll let you die a miserable death by crushing your heart bit-by-bit.”

Adam's eyes glinted angrily because he had been infuriated by Thomas' words.

He was about to deal the decisive blow, sending Thomas over to hell, but he soon had a brand new idea.

In the meantime, Sean and his family had been living in fear lately because they were afraid that those from the Black Clan would come after them, taking things out on them since Nathan and Penny had offended them.

Therefore, they were praying for the Black Clan to stay away from them. Nonetheless, those from the Black Clan showed up at their doorstep.

Cobra showed up with twenty elites and barged into The Smith Family's place. She instructed Sean in a callous tone, "Mr. Black's eldest son, Adam, has sent me to retrieve you. The moment Adam caught sight of Sean, he greeted him with a bright smile, "Hello, Mr. Smith! Please take a seat!"

There were a few corpses lying around in the restaurant.

Thomas, Channing's King of the Underground, had his clothes drenched in blood. The man could barely catch his breath, as he was on the brink of death.

Sean and his family member's faces paled, the moment they had come across the horrifying scene. They were trembling in fear.

“Mr. Black, may I know why you have gotten your subordinates to get us here?” Sean asked anxiously.

Adam assured Sean with a smile on his face. “Oh? What do you mean, Mr. Smith? Mr. Smith, you’re Penny’s grandfather and the patriarch of the Smith Family. Why don’t you tell me this? Do I have your consent to carry out the wedding ceremony between Penny and my father? Suddenly, those from the Black Clan, including Cobra, cast a stern gaze at Sean in an intimidating manner.

Sean could not make up his mind either. Ultimately, he decided to play along with the wicked man for the time being. “We have always respected the junior’s decisions when it comes to affairs regarding their relationship. If Penny is willing to get married to your father, I won’t Obviously, it was a double entendre. Adam could barely hold back his anger due to the cunning man’s indirect response.

The cunning old man had passed the baton to his granddaughter. He would allow Penny to get married to Adam’s father, should Penny give him her consent.

Similarly, Adam paid no heed to Sean’s words. He scoffed in return, “Sure! I have already sent my subordinates to get Penny and her family to join us. I’ll get her to give her consent to the wedding once she shows up. Soon, the Smith Family will be the in-laws of the Black Clan! All of you should be proud of yourselves!”

Sean and his family members smiled embarrassedly because they dared not to defy the wicked man’s words.

As soon as he finished his sentence, he departed with the Elite Eight to get everything ready.

Meanwhile, Tigre laughed arrogantly since Nathan had ordered his subordinates to get ready. “It seems that you aren’t a fool either, huh? I guess you know what would be in store for you if you have the guts to defy our master’s demand.

Congratulations! You have made a wise choice. Otherwise, you would have had turned into a corpse by now.”

When Penny and the rest heard the fierce-looking man’s warning, their expressions turned gloomy all of a sudden.

However, Nathan replied with a smile, “Huh? I guess you must’ve misunderstood me. I told them to get our rides ready because I’ll head over to rescue Thomas.

Chapter 1008 A Move Is All It Takes

The moment I run into Adam, I'll send your master to hell."

What?

Tigre and the rest, including Penny and her family, were shocked due to the arrogant remarks coming from Nathan.

It turned out Nathan was not afraid of Adam at all. He had intended to head over to Cloud Palace Restaurant because he wanted to destroy Adam.

Tigre got worked up all of a sudden. He yelled, "You insolent fool! How dare you utter such words against our Master? You must have a death wish, huh? Let's finish him, boys!"

Since he had received the instructions from Mr. Black to kill Nathan prior to his departure to Channing, Tigre decided to send the egoistic man to hell immediately.

As soon as Tigre delivered his instructions, the bunch of elites that he had with him rushed over to Nathan's side, in an attempt to take him out.

Initially, Thunderstorm and Waves got in front of Nathan. They were about to intercept their foes.

However, Nathan instructed, "That won't be necessary. Instead, protect my family at all costs."

Once Nathan had finished his sentence, he marched forward towards the so-called elites of the Black Clan.

Nathan had been infuriated ever since he received word that Thomas and his men had been gravely injured. Finally, he could take his anger out on the so-called elites of the Black Clan.

Bam!

Nathan finally made a move and threw a punch at one of the elites.

Immediately, one of the vanguards of the bunch had been taken out, as soon as Nathan's punch had come into contact with his face. Consequently, blood spewed everywhere.

Soon, another one of the Black Clan's elites threw a punch at Nathan.

Nonetheless, Nathan managed to evade the elite's attack easily. He grabbed his foe's wrist and returned the favor. As a result, he had broken the man's arm, rendering him handicapped.

"Arghhh!"

As soon as the elite shrieked in pain, Nathan threw another punch towards his face.

Thump!

Similarly, blood spewed everywhere. The man stopped shrieking because he had passed on by then. He died a miserable death because his face had been disfigured.

Obviously, Nathan was unwilling to hold himself back against them at all. As time flew, he took out the men from the Black Clan, one after the other.

Within a few minutes, he had taken out the bunch of elites that Tigre had brought along with him. They were drenched in puddles of blood.

Their residency's security guards, as well as Penny and her family, were completely dumbfounded because Nathan had behaved as though he was the God of War.

Naturally, Tigre was shocked as well. He looked at Nathan in disbelief because he, himself, would have personally had a hard time, tackling twenty elites of the Black Clan. Nonetheless, that was not the case for Nathan.

Tigre knew that he had to take Nathan seriously. He stopped being arrogant and decided to exercise caution instead.

Once Nathan was done, he cast a stern gaze at Tigre and asked, "I have a question for you. Are you the one who has taken Thomas out? Are you the one who has killed his men?”

With a vicious smile, Tigre replied, “Yes! I was the one who had killed his men! It’s time to send you to hell as well!”

In return, Nathan nodded and warned him, “A hit is all it takes to take you out. I’ll let you off the hook if you’re able to survive the upcoming attack.”

Tigre and Adam used to be mercenaries back in the day. The former eventually got promoted to Lieutenant Colonel.

He was a famous person amongst the mercenaries because he had killed at least a hundred men on demand personally.

Nevertheless, he decided to exercise caution because Nathan had easily taken out twenty elites of the Black Clan.

Truthfully, he was shocked as well because Nathan had the audacity to utter such arrogant words against him.

“Undeniably, you’re a crazy one! Come on!”

Chapter 1009 Get Yourself Ready

“You should get yourself ready,” Nathan warned nonchalantly.

As soon as he finished his sentence, Nathan catapulted forward with all his might.

Suddenly, Tigre’s pupils constricted.

Oh, God! He’s insanely fast!

Nathan had already reached his side, the moment he detected a silhouette beside him.

Tigre’s eyes widened in disbelief as Nathan raised his leg in front of him. The man was going after his head. It seemed like he would not be holding back.

Although Tigre could detect Nathan’s motion, he could not react accordingly because Nathan was overly swift.

He failed to defend himself because he was not on par with Nathan in terms of speed. Ultimately, the image of Nathan’s foot could be seen enlarging, through the man's pupil.

Thump!

Nathan's kick hit Tigre in the head accurately.

Consequently, Tigre's mind stuttered. The beads of sweat on his forehead spouted everywhere.

Eventually, his vision was dyed red, as his eyes began to bleed.

Although Tigre's skull was fine, his brain had been completely crushed.

After a long while, the fierce-looking man had finally collapsed before Nathan. Evidently, he had passed on.

The security guards gasped in shock because they had been beaten by Tigre and the bunch of elites he had brought with him, the moment they had barged into the residency area.

They knew how fearsome Tigre and the bunch of elites were. Hence, they could not believe that the fearsome bunch had been taken out by Nathan easily.

In fact, Tigre could not even withstand a move from Nathan. He had been taken out by Nathan almost instantly.

In the meantime, Colin and the Elite Eight finally showed up with several black SUVs.

Nathan and his subordinates boarded the car, about to make their way over to Cloud Palace Restaurant.

Although Penny and the rest had faith in Nathan and would allow him to make the trip on his own, they were worried about Sean and their cousins' wellbeing.

Hence, they refused to wait for him at home. They insisted on tagging along with Nathan, wanting to head over to Cloud Palace Restaurant together.

Meanwhile, Adam was enjoying himself in Cloud Palace Restaurant. He held on, to the glass of wine that he had served himself, enjoying it, while lounging on the couch.

Cobra and the elites of the Black Clan he had brought along with him stood by his side, emanating a menacing aura.

Sean and his family, along with hundreds of Thomas' employees and subordinates, were worried. They stood aside anxiously. As a matter of fact, some of them were trembling in fear.

Thomas, who was on the brink of death, and a few of his men's corpses could be found on the floor.

"Tigre should be back by now, right? Where the hell is he? I don't recall him being such an inefficient man!" Adam frowned as he looked at his watch on his wrist.

The moment he finished his sentence, a bunch of men showed up in front of the restaurant.

The tall man leading the crowd was none other than Nathan.

Chapter 1009 Get Yourself Ready

Colin, Penny, and the rest of the party casually made their way into the restaurant under Nathan's guidance.

"Nathan, you've finally arrived!" Adam scoffed with a vicious grin on his face upon seeing them.

However, he soon realized that something was wrong. Thus, he asked immediately, "Where are Tigre and the rest of my underlings?"

"Tigre? Do you mean this corpse over here?" Nathan replied with a polite smile.

Two of the Elite Eight dragged Tigre's body forward and showed Adam the corpse that they had brought with them once they had heard Nathan's words.

Thump!

They cast Tigre's body aside casually, as though he was a filthy dog.

What the heck? Tigre is dead?

Chapter 1009 Get Yourself Ready

Adam's eyes widened in disbelief as he stared at Tigre's corpse on the floor.

Similarly, Cobra and the elites from the Black Clan were utterly shocked as well.

Naturally, Sean and his family could not fathom what had happened either.

Thomas' subordinates and employees were equally as shocked because the arrogant man who had taken Thomas and a few of their colleagues out was now pronounced dead.

Tigre, who managed to take Thomas and a few of his subordinates out a few hours ago, had been killed by Nathan.

Clack!

Suddenly, someone smashed a glass of drink to the ground. It was none other than the infuriated Adam.

He glared at Nathan and yelled hysterically, "How dare you! I can't believe you had the guts to kill my most countable aide!"

In return, Nathan took a peek at Thomas and the few corpses on the floor.

He warned Adam, "You should ready yourself as well! After all, I'm here for you! Besides, he should be aware of what would've been in store for him the moment he'd made a move against my men."

Chapter 1010 I Shall Teach You A Lesson

In return, Adam guffawed. “Marvelous! No one has ever uttered such impudent words against me! Since you have killed my subordinates, I’m sure you’re ready for what’s in store for you as well, right?”

Nathan did not even bother to look at Adam in the eyes anymore. He walked towards Thomas and asked him gently, “Are you okay?”

Overwhelmed by Nathan’s appearance, Thomas almost broke down in tears. He gritted his teeth and tried his best to bear with the excruciating sensation he felt as he replied in a quivering voice, “Master, I’m fine, but I’m sorry to have failed you.”

As a matter of fact, Thomas was merely an ordinary guard amongst Nathan’s personal bodyguards. Evidently, he was no match for the Elite Eight in terms of combat skills, let alone Colin, the Chief Master Sergeant.

Truthfully, he had since retired quite some time ago due to his injuries. Naturally, he was no longer in his prime due to the exact same reason. Therefore, it would make sense that he had been outmatched by the elites of the Black Clan.

Nathan reassured his subordinate, "Not at all. You did a great job. Let me give you a hand."

Immediately, Colin rushed over, as he wanted to help Nathan bring Thomas up.

However, Cobra had already made her way over to them, as she wanted to get in Nathan and Colin's way before they could save Thomas.

She jeered as she rushed over, "I don't think my Master has given any one of you his consent to approach the man, has he?"

In return, Nathan turned around and cast a stern gaze at Cobra. He ordered indifferently, "Colin!"

It had been years since Colin joined the rank and became one of Nathan's personal bodyguards. Every time Nathan grew infuriated, he would instruct Colin in such a manner, getting him to teach their foes a lesson.

Since Colin knew what Nathan was up to, he replied, "Yes, Sir!"

He hesitated no further and sprinted forward towards Cobra's side immediately. Colin was about to throw a punch at Cobra the moment he reached her side.

Consequently, Cobra was taken by surprise. Before she could grasp the situation, Colin's fist could be seen, enlarging through the reflection of her pupils.

Bam!

Colin was going after Cobra's head. He threw a punch at her in the face, crushing her cheekbone.

Consequently, the woman was about to be sent flying again by Colin's punch, but Colin extended his arm and stopped her abruptly before she could catapult away.

He strangled the woman's neck and brought her to a halt, defying the law of physics.

Colin lifted Cobra and warned her indifferently, "Since you have the guts to defy our Master's words, you have to atone for your sins with death!"

Crack!

Immediately, Colin fastened his grip, snapping Cobra's neck without any hesitation.

Once he dealt with Cobra, he tossed her aside casually.

What? Cobra has been defeated by Nathan's subordinate as well!

Once again, Adam appeared intimidated. At long last, the arrogant man stopped getting ahead of himself.

There were a lot of onlookers at the scene who were cheering silently because someone had finally avenged Thomas, teaching Adam a lesson.

The arrogant man, who had been slaughtering innocents previously, had run into a strong foe. Adam and his underlings had been rendered defenseless by Nathan and his subordinates.

Adam was infuriated and shocked at the same time. “D*** it! How dare you kill another one of my countable aides! Go get him, boys!”

Once he finished his sentence, the bunch of elites of Black Clan moved out immediately.

Similarly, Thunderstorm, Waves, Elite Eight, and Colin, who had just wrapped up a fight, rushed over to deal with them.

In fact, Nathan’s party had gained the upper hand as soon as they had joined the battle. They were relatively swift and brutal as compared to those from the Black Clan.

Suddenly, the horrifying sounds of people fighting and screaming echoed throughout the restaurant.

The fight had been brought to an end the moment it had started.

Soon, the stench of blood permeated throughout the air.

Before long, Adam's underlings had been taken out. They were the ones who were drenched in blood this time because Nathan's party had made it out unscathed.

By then, Nathan had helped Thomas up. The latter looked at the dumbfounded Adam and derided him, "Ha! Jerk! I told you that you would be doomed the moment my Master would show up!"

Adam was terrified and enraged at the same time. He yelled hysterically and warned them, "I'm from the Black Clan! I'm warning you to stay away from me!"

As soon as he wrapped up his speech, Nathan showed up in front of him and told him, "Allow me to teach you a lesson!"

The moment Adam detected Nathan, he tried to kick him. “Go to hell!”

Undeniably, Adam was quite a capable man. He managed to deliver an accurate and powerful kick.

To be exact, an ordinary person would not be able to outmatch him at all.

Nonetheless, it seemed like luck was no longer on his side because his opponent was Nathan.

Nathan returned the favor with a smile on his face. He raised his leg and delivered an earth-shattering kick that held sheer power, flying faster than the one Adam had dealt him.

Crack!

He managed to break Adam’s leg easily.

Arghhhh!

Consequently, Adam groaned and got down on his knees in front of Nathan
