Chapter 1201 Nathan Cross Is Really The General Of The...

Tyler who was tall and thin, and Chris, who was wearing the outfit of Major General, led a team of subordinates and an army of soldiers in.

Walking up to Mr. Ziegler with his subordinates, Tyler smiled and said, "Mr. Ziegler, I heard from Major General Chris that today is your birthday. I've brought everyone here to drink to your health. We're welcome too, are we?"

Todd, with his family behind him, beamed and replied, "Of course, you're all welcome! It's a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity for you to grace us with your presence, Governor Hall!"

At this moment, Chris had also arrived with his army.

Chris was the subordinate of Lucas Ziegler, the commander-in-chief of the West Army. He was also the man's confidant.

Right now, he was smiling at Mr. Ziegler and saying, "Old Master, as ordered by the Hearing this, Todd immediately replied, "Haha, it's our honor to have the General here to celebrate my birthday with me. We wouldn't dare to neglect him. However, someone is pretending to be the General before he is even here. Major General, what do you think his punishment should be?"

Chris and Tyler were shocked by his words. How dare someone pass himself off as the General?

Chris was a military soldier. What he despised the most were fraudsters passing themselves off as soldiers and ruining the reputation of the military.

Now that someone was pretending to be the God of War, naturally, Chris was furious

He immediately growled, "Where's the fraudster?"

Todd pointed at Nathan who was sitting on a chair to the side and scoffed, "He's sitting there. This fraudster is truly obnoxious!"

Robbie too sneered and mocked, "Major General Gore, hurry up and execute him with a bullet to his head!"

Tyler and Chris both looked toward the direction Todd was pointing at. All they saw was a nonchalant-looking Nathan with a slight smirk playing at the corner of his lips.

When Tyler saw him, he felt as if he was hit by a truck. His eyes widened the size of golf balls as his mouth fell open in astonishment.

Chris too got the shock of his life when he saw Nathan.

The gloating smiles vanished from the faces of all the Ziegler family members and were replaced by utter shock.

What?

Nathan Cross is really the General of the North?

Old Master Ziegler and the others looked stunned as the bombshell was dropped upon them, especially the former who looked like he was about to throw up blood.

He stared at Nathan and stammered, "M-Major General Gore, are you sure you're not mistaken? He's Nathan Cross, a businessman from the South. How could he be the General of the North?"

Chris hadn't expected that the Zieglers would treat the real General as a fraud. He couldn't help but feel nervous for them.

Smiling bitterly, he told Todd and the others, "Haha, Mr. Cross really is the General of the North and the God of War.

Recently, the Western military district has even conducted a military practice with the General and his army, so we are definitely aware of who he is."

The Zieglers stared at Nathan with a terrified expression. For a moment, they couldn't accept the truth.

The enemy that they had recently announced they would beat up turned out to be the General of the North!

At this moment, Tyler too hurriedly came over to greet Nathan. “General, it really is you! I’ve just met you recently during the birthday celebrations of the First Lady, and now we meet again. I’m truly honored!”

Tyler’s words were the last straw for Todd, who immediately sank into despair.

Since Governor Hall and Major General Gore had both recognized Nathan as the General, surely it was the truth.

Nathan greeted Tyler and Chris, then smiled and said, “Thankfully you’re both here in time to attest to my identity, otherwise, I’ll probably be arrested for deception.”

Hearing that, Tyler and Chris felt rather awkward.

Todd, Robbie, Russell and the others were red with embarrassment.

They had treated Nathan as a fraud, threatened to beat him up and even tried to lowball him when they asked to buy out

Oh God!

Thinking about their foolish actions for the past few days, the entire family wished they could dig a hole and hide in it forever.

They had thought that Nathan was a crazy guy who was just trying to pass himself off as the General of the North.

Only now did they realize that Nathan was indeed the General and they were the foolish ones!

The Old Master's face reddened like a tomato as he looked at Nathan. Regret, humiliation and awe flashed past his face in sequence as he thought about how to apologize to the General.

Suddenly, footsteps were heard at the door and the voice of the boy at the door rang out, "The patriarch of the nation's top noble family, Max Artoria, and the patriarch of the nation's second noble family, Pirk Lance, have arrived!"

Max and Pirk were invited by the Zieglers as well.

On the surface, they were here to attend a birthday celebration.

But in reality, both knew that the real purpose of their presence was to witness Nathan's punishment.

The Zieglers were terribly embarrassed.

Now that Nathan was the real General, they were unable to punish him and even had to apologize to him.

What was even more awkward was that Pirk and Max were here to watch the Zieglers make a fool of themselves.

Tyler knew Max and Pirk quite well and had a good relationship with them.

When he saw them arriving, he immediately asked curiously, "Mr. Artoria and Mr. Lance, are you both here to join in Mr. Ziegler's birthday celebrations too?"

Only now did they realize that the matter between Nathan and the Zieglers were not so simple after all.

Todd couldn’t bear it anymore. He hurriedly came up to Nathan with Robbie and Russell following behind him.

His face flushed red as he apologized, “General, the Zieglers are in the wrong. We were ignorant and didn’t realize that you’re the General. Please, forgive us for Lucas’ sake!”

Robbie and Russell quickly added, “Yeah. General, we were wrong about you. Please forgive us!”

The Zieglers were truly terrified this time round.

Nathan was actually of a higher rank than Lucas, and even had the title of 'The Nation's Top Warrior'. Even Lucas had to be respectful toward him.

If word got out to Lucas about how his family had treated Nathan, even he would be apoplectic with rage.

Nathan and Lucas were both responsible for defending their respective regions of the nation. Besides, they had a good relationship, so naturally, Nathan didn't intend to pick a fight with the Zieglers.

He smiled and told Todd, "Mr. Ziegler, I'm colleagues with Commander-in-chief Ziegler, and we're also friends. It was just a simple misunderstanding between you and me, so just forget about it!"

Hearing this, Todd looked relieved as if he had been pardoned from certain death. He replied agitatedly, "Yes, yes. As you say, General!"

The Zieglers anxiously welcomed and entertained Nathan, treating him as a VIP throughout the whole celebration. They were terrified of him being even the slightest bit unhappy.

Not long later, the commander-in-chief of the West Army, Lucas Ziegler, returned with most of his subordinates.

Previously, Lucas had refused to acknowledge Nathan's strength, but after competing with him once, he realized that the latter's abilities were way stronger than his. From then on, he had started to admire Nathan.

Seeing that Nathan was here to celebrate his father's birthday, Lucas was especially happy and invited Nathan to drink with him.

They drank to the hearts' content with the Major General and Governor accompanying them.

In the end many of the guests were wasted.

Intimidated by him, Lucas waved a hand and said, "I concede! General, not only do you fight well, but you also have such amazing drinking prowess! I, Lucas Ziegler, concede this time."

Nathan grinned. "This is nothing. Lucas, being the invincible and fearsome leader that you are, you defend the West well. This is a much more useful skill I that I need to learn from you."

Lucas laughed. "This is a joke, right? What you've praised me for are your strengths. Telling me that you need to learn from me must be a joke."

Hearing this, the crowd around them couldn't help but start laughing.

Nathan left with Colin and the Elite Eight. They boarded a plane and headed back to Channing.

After the guests had all left, the servants brought Lucas a towel and warm water for him to wash his face.

Only after washing his face did Lucas feel his mind clear somewhat.

Actually, he had noticed his father and brothers' strange expressions during the banquet just now and realized that something bad must have happened before his arrival. However, he had patiently waited for the other guests to leave first.

Now that everyone had left, he sat down for tea with his father and brothers.

Sipping the tea, he casually asked, "Dad, today is your 60th birthday. But why do I feel that all of you have something on your minds? Please tell me what happened."

In the end, Robbie spoke up with his head lowered. “Lucas, we didn’t know about the General’s identity before. So there was some conflict between us...”

Lucas didn’t expect for the matter to have something to do with Nathan. His mind immediately cleared as he ordered with a serious expression, “Tell me the details.”

Robbie had no choice but to tell him everything without hiding a single detail.

Chapter 1204 Wolfson Pierce

Mr. Ziegler and the others turned pale with fright. They nervously said, "We didn't know Nathan's identity then. If we knew he is the General of the North, we wouldn't have dared to offend him!"

Lucas snorted. "It's all the Zieglers' fault for becoming so bold and overbearing over the years. You think that you're the best in the world and can make any trouble you please. Thankfully the one we offended was Nathan. He's a straightforward and just man, so he'll forgive us. But tomorrow we must send someone over to Channing and seek his forgiveness. Also, we have to discipline the youngsters of the Ziegler family strictly to avoid trouble like this in the future."

Mr. Ziegler and the others said in unison, "Of course!"

In the evening, at Cross Group in Channing.

Penny stood before the windows in the CEO office and stared out at the sunset. Furrowing her brows, the dejection on her face was evident.

She had heard some bad rumors today about Nathan offending the Zieglers from the West.

According to the news, the Zieglers had ordered Nathan to go over to their house to ask for forgiveness and receive his punishment.

Everyone was discussing how the eldest son, Lucas Ziegler, was the commander-in-chief of West Army that was made up of three hundred thousand soldiers. Now that Nathan had crossed the Zieglers, he was done for.

Hearing this news, Penny felt worried and distressed about it.

Chapter 1204 Wolfson Pierce

Nathan had indeed left Channing and headed for the West today. He told her that he was attending a banquet.

When she thought of Nathan going over to the Zieglers to ask for forgiveness and receive his punishment, she felt extremely anxious and couldn't sit still.

Right now, she couldn't help but fish out her phone and call Nathan.

She wanted to ask him whether he was really attending a banquet or going to receive punishment from the Zieglers.

However, the call did not reach Nathan because he had turned off his phone.

Is he in trouble?

The more Penny thought about it, the more panicked she was!

Just as the issue gnawed at her heart, her assistant Jenny knocked and entered the office. "President Smith, someone by the name of Wolfson Pierce is here to see you.”

Wolfson Pierce!

Penny frowned when she heard the name.

Wolfson Pierce was her senior during her university days. This man was from a wealthy family in Brimmopolis. As he was handsome and smart, he was very popular with his female classmates.

However, he did not have good character and had knocked up many of his female classmates.

In fact, one of those girls was raped by him after getting drunk. She committed suicide shortly after.

As the Pierces were wealthy and influential, they had settled this matter easily.

Wolfson even pursued Penny before, but she regarded him with contempt. Thus, even after they graduated from university, Wolfson had not managed to win her over.

But not long after, someone knocked and entered the office again.

Penny thought that it was Jenny who had returned, so she said with some displeasure, "Didn't I tell you to inform him that I'm in a meeting and I'm too busy to see him?"

At this moment, Jenny rushed in and anxiously said, "President Smith, I told him that you're in a meeting, yet this man forcefully escaped from our security guards and barged in here..."

Grinning, he replied, "I read the magazines and came to know that you've been selected as a role model for all workers in the nation. It was only then that I remember you used to be my dream girl! Naturally, I'm here to achieve what I've been unable to achieve in the past. Truth be told, I'm now even more interested in you."

Penny replied coldly, "Sorry, but I'm already married with kids. You may give up now."

Wolfson's mouth curved up in a smile. "Married? But I heard that your husband has offended the Zieglers from the West. They're intending to kill him, so I think you'll become a widow very soon."

Penny Smith paled. "Dream on you loser!"

"Fine by me. If you don't agree, you'll be widowed after your husband's death. I'll be able to officially court you by then!"
Wolfson Pierce smirked sinisterly.

Penny Smith's face was ashen.

But at this very moment, a tall man with bright eyes pushed the door and entered the office. In an icy voice, he said, "I won't die, and my wife won't become a widow. As for you, you're gonna get it now."

Chapter 1207 The Man Who Beat Up My Brother

Gehenna had a status equivalent to that of gods in the Eastern mercenary circle.

Of course, officially they were a security company in the nation. They would not admit to their mercenary status because the nation did not allow any legal mercenaries.

However, it was an undeniable fact that Gehenna was a mercenary organization and a powerful one at that.

There were two reasons why Elijah could set up such a huge mercenary organization in Brimmopolis. The first was that he had strong capabilities and possessed a team of outstanding subordinates. The second and more important reason was that he had excellent connections with a bunch of wealthy and powerful individuals of Brimmopolis.

He usually got along well with these powerful youngsters of Brimmopolis. Through those connections, he was able to build a mighty organization in the city smoothly.

The reputation of Gehenna had spread all over the nation and even the world as the best mercenary organization.

Elijah's mother died when he was very young, so his father remarried. His stepmother abused him every day when he was growing up.

However, his stepmother's son, Wolfson, was very kind to him.

When his stepmother hit him and refused to give him any food, Wolfson would secretly smuggle some food to him.

Thus, after Elijah grew up, he was only fond of his brother and no one else.

Now that his brother had his limbs broken, Elijah was naturally enraged.

He sat by the bed and smoked as he gazed at his brother. After a long while, he slowly asked, "Who was it that had beaten up my brother?"

Chapter 1207 The Man Who Beat Up My Brother

A sturdy man with a short beard stood behind him and reported in a low voice, "Orcus, I heard that it was a certain Nathan Cross from Channing who had beaten your brother. Wolfson flirted with Nathan's wife, so Nathan..."

Elijah raised a hand and interrupted him.

"I only need to know who did it. As for why he did it, it's not my concern."

Hearing this, the man lowered his head and said, "As you say, Orcus!"

Elijah continued coldly, "How dare he beat up my brother like this? I'll make Nathan Cross regret he was ever born to this world!"

The sturdy man cautiously said, "Orcus, should we check Nathan Cross' background first? Since he dared to hurt Wolfson, I'm afraid that he's not that simple."

Elijah answered indifferently, "No need. Even if he is the King himself, he has to die for hurting my brother.”

Chapter 1207 The Man Who Beat Up My Brother

The sturdy man replied, “Very well.”

Elijah puffed away at his cigarette and blew a cloud of smoke out. His angular features appeared especially mysterious and creepy amid the smoke.

After a while, he ordered, “Gather the Ten Princes of Hell. I will personally go to Channing and avenge my brother.”

The sturdy man was shocked upon hearing that. He asked, “But Orcus, Nathan might just be an ordinary businessman from Channing. Do we really need to go to such lengths to take him down? Are you sure you want to personally deal with him and bring all Ten Princes of Hell? I think that it would be more than enough for us to choose one of the Ten Princes to take his life.”

Elijah refuted frostily, “That won’t do. Nathan hurt my brother so badly. I must kill his entire family to vent my anger!”

Although she has now recovered, the First Lady has already hired someone new, so she couldn't get her old job back anymore."

Nathan couldn't help asking, "Is she good enough to protect my wife?"

Colin answered, "Frida is actually very strong. Although she was injured once and is no longer at her peak, she can take out most enemies without any issues. Besides, her job is only to protect Madam up close. We're still around to guard Madam as well, so there won't be any problems."

Nathan nodded. "Okay, then we'll take her! I don't care how you do it, but you can't reveal my true identity. Just pretend to be ordinary people and hire her as my wife's personal bodyguard.”

Colin replied, “Very well!”

Nathan waved a hand. “Off you go, then!”

Colin hurriedly said, “General, there’s one more thing.”

Startled, Nathan asked, “What is it?”

Colin answered, “Remember that Wolfson Pierce you beat up before? His brother, Elijah Pierce is coming to avenge Wolfson.”

Nathan’s face darkened. “He doesn’t know his place, does he?”

Colin added, “Elijah is quite the man. He’s the founder of Gehenna, and he’s also known as Orcus. He has ten powerful subordinates collectively known as the Ten Princes of Hell. Besides, he’s on good terms with a bunch of youngsters from powerful families in Brimmopolis. This guy’s pretty formidable.”

Hearing this, Nathan said mildly, "Orcus. I've occasionally heard this name before. But he'd better not make trouble for me, otherwise, I'm fine with destroying Gehenna."

Colin reminded him, "Gehenna's very existence proves that it's a complicated business. It is highly connected with that bunch of youngsters from powerful families in Brimmopolis. Besides, a lot of important people of Brimmopolis lend their support to Gehenna, probably because it helps them to resolve many annoying organizations. Thus, Gehenna is their trusted aide. General, if you uproot and destroy Gehenna straight away, you might court trouble."

Nathan sneered. "If they don't mess with me, I won't mess with them. But if they dare provoke me, you can bet I'll retaliate. I know what to do."

Colin answered, "Yes, sir!"

Nathan brought a packed lunch and came to Penny's office at Cross Group. Penny was often so busy that she would forget to eat lunch, so he wanted to help her out.

But before he could approach Penny's office, he was blocked by a tall woman with a ponytail.

The woman wore a black business suit and her eyes looked sensual yet commanding.

She stared at Nathan warily and asked in a serious manner, "Who are you? You're not wearing a Cross Group work tag. Who allowed you to come up to the CEO office to see Ms. Smith?"

Nathan was stunned.

He was Penny's husband, so he never needed to wear a work tag whenever he came to Cross Group.

Besides, where did this female bodyguard even come from?

Thinking of this, Nathan couldn't help glancing at the woman's chest where a name tag was pinned to. Sure enough, the name 'Frida Hampton' was printed on it.

Oh, so this is that female bodyguard Colin had mentioned!

Nathan glanced at Frida's chest to check the name tag.

But when the latter saw him staring at her chest, she immediately assumed that he was being indecent and flew into a rage.

After all, she had a voluptuous figure that many women envied.

All the other women hated how small their chests were, but she hated how big her chest was.

It was especially apparent during her morning runs when she was enlisted in the women's army. She had felt embarrassed and wished she had a flat chest instead.

At that time, her comrades had stared at her chest and joked about it. From then on, she despised it whenever someone stared at her chest.

So, when Nathan did such a thing, she exploded in fury.

She shouted angrily, "You b*stard, where are you looking? Are you itching for an ass-whooping?”

As she spoke, she reached out to hit Nathan, who was amused and tried to explain.

But before he could do so, the door to the CEO office opened.

Penny had heard the commotion and rushed out of her office. “Frida, you’ve misunderstood. He’s not a bad guy. He’s my husband Nathan Cross.”

Then, Penny turned to Nathan and said, “Hubby, she’s Frida Hampton. Didn’t you tell me to hire a female bodyguard? I just sent out the notice and she came to the interview right away. She was a soldier in the past, and her skills look very impressive. So, I hired her.”

Nathan laughed. “Oh, it’s your new female bodyguard. She’s quite responsible. But she’s rather fierce.”

Frida’s eyes widened. “What did you say?”

Penny hurriedly said, "Okay, it was just a misunderstanding. Just resolve it now."

Frida gazed at Nathan deeply. She was tasked by the military leader to come and protect Penny, so she felt that she was only responsible for Penny's safety and nothing else.

Besides, she was from Channing.

She had heard that Penny was raped by a drunken Nathan, causing the former to give birth to a child out of wedlock.

Moreover, she had heard that after Penny founded and built Cross Group from scratch, the scoundrel, Nathan, had looked for Penny and decided to live off her like a parasite.

Hence, Frida did not have a good first impression of Nathan. Coupled with that stare at her chest she got from him just now, she regarded him even more contemptuously than before.

Nathan suddenly noticed the disdain and contempt in Frida's eyes.

He didn't mind it and continued walking into Penny's office smilingly.

But at this moment, Jenny hurried in with a panicked expression. "Something bad is going on! A group has gathered outside the building. The leader said that he is from Gehenna and his name is Tyler Haden. He also said that he wishes to meet Mr. Cross and Ms. Smith!"

"Gehenna!"

Frida couldn't help but exclaim out loud.

Nathan and Penny stared at her. The latter asked, "Gehenna? Are they powerful?"

Frida laughed bitterly. "Of course. Gehenna is the most powerful mercenary organization in the world. Its founder is Orcus. He has ten formidable subordinates collectively known as the Ten Princes of Hell. Tyler Haden is one of them. Ms. Smith, how did you offend these terrifying people?"

Penny suspected that they were here because Nathan had beaten Wolfson up previously. But before she could say anything, Nathan asked Frida with a grin, "Since Tyler Haden is so powerful, are you his match, Ms. Hampton?"

Actually, Frida was thinking about how difficult it would be to handle Tyler. But when she heard Nathan's words, she certainly couldn't admit defeat in front of him. So, she replied, "Haha, although Tyler is formidable, I might just be his strongest opponent yet!"

Nathan wanted to witness the skills of his wife's new bodyguard, so he said, "Great. Let's go and meet him then. This way, we can also check out your skills, Ms. Hampton."

Chapter 1210 Ripping Her Clothes Off

Nathan and Penny brought Frida and came to the main hall of Cross Group.

A group of fearsome men had gathered there. The leader was a muscular bloke with a red face. He had thick lips and looked so ugly it was horrifying.

It was none other than Tyler Haden, one of Gehenna's Princes of Hell.

At Tyler's feet lay a few severely injured security guards of the company. More security guards huddled to the side in fear and dared not approach the group.

Tyler narrowed his slanted eyes and spoke coolly, "Tell Nathan Cross and Penny Smith to come out at once. Otherwise, I'll destroy Cross Group right here and now!"

When all the security guards and employees of Cross Group saw Nathan and Penny, they breathed a collective sigh of relief and let them pass, shouting respectfully, "Mr. Cross, President Smith!"

Seeing the crowd acting this way, Tyler guessed that Nathan and Penny had arrived.

He gazed at Nathan with a smirk, “You guys are finally here. I thought you’d hide in your shells like tortoises!”

Staring at Tyler, Nathan smiled and said, “You’re not worthy of that!”

What?

When Tyler heard this, a flash of anger crossed his eyes.

Even in a large city like Brimmopolis, anyone who heard the name Tyler Haden who was one of Gehenna’s Ten Princes of Hell would be shaking in their boots from fear.

How dared a nobody like Nathan Cross living in a small place like Channing look down upon him?

Such an ignorant man!

Tyler sneered, “You really don’t know what's good for you, do you? You hurt our founder's brother, so now the founder of Gehenna, Orcus, wants to see you. Do you and your wife want to follow me obediently, or do you want me to take you there by force?"

Gehenna!

Orcus!

Tyler's words caused some who knew about Gehenna to tremble like a leaf.

Even Frida who was standing beside Penny couldn't help but look distressed.

Only now did she realize that this job that the military leader had arranged for her to take was truly a nightmarish one!

Nathan laughed lightly. "If you want us to follow you, then you'll have to ask this female warrior that we just hired. Frida, do you think we have to go with him?"

At this, Penny and the others turned to look at Frida, who had no choice but to step forward.

She gazed Tyler and his men frostily before saying, “Tyler, Cross Group is not the right place for you guys to wreak havoc upon. As long as I’m here, don’t even think of touching Ms. Smith. I advise you to leave right now and save us all the trouble.”

As one of the Ten Princes of Hell, Tyler was used to people cowering in fear at his name.

Today in Channing, he was first looked down upon by Nathan, then threatened by a mere woman!

He was enraged by it all.

Glowing with fury, he said, “Haha, how dare a girly girl run her mouth before us? Come and show me what you’ve got!”

Frida came from a military background and was proud of it. When she heard Tyler calling her a ‘girly girl’, she grew incensed.

Her face was chilly as she stepped forward and stared at Tyler and the others coldly. "I've heard about Gehenna's Ten Princes of Hell since a long time ago. All of you are rumored to be highly skilled. I'll check it out for myself today."

Tyler gazed at Frida. Although she was wearing a black business suit, it did nothing to conceal her voluptuous figure.

A cruel smile played at his lips as he shouted, "Brothers, this woman looks tantalizing. Do you want to watch me rip off her clothes?"

When the dozen or so of his subordinates heard this, their eyes lit up with lust. Looking ravenous and greedy like a pack of wolves, they answered in unison, "Mr. Haden, do show us!"

Tyler laughed. "Haha, you guys are lucky today then!"

Frida bellowed in anger, "You're gonna get it!"

With that, she leaped into action.

Her movements were as speedy and agile as a jaguar. With a whoosh, she launched herself across the room at Tyler and gave his head a flying kick.

The powerful kick was truly at lightning-speed.

Even Nathan couldn't help but nod in approval.

Although Frida's skills were far behind the cream of the crop in the North Army, she was considered one of the best in the women's special forces.
