Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 121

Chapter 121 Do you really want it?

Bryson disapproved, "I will be the one to post it."

Gloria retracted her hand and asked with a smile, "Haven I ever done something I was not sure about?"

Jennifer's eyes darkened a little bit. Bryson was worried about her but not much as he was right now.

Even with the risk of offending the Turner family, he wanted to post it for Gloria's sake. He must like Gloria a lot, sighed Jennifer secretly

Bryson insisted and said, "You have made a mistake by marrying him before."

Gloria's eyelids quivered and the next moment she gave a wry smile "It won't happen again. This time, you won't have to worry about me."

Jennifer hesitate and said, "Gloria, don't tweel it. It is an irresistible rend We don't need this."

Gloria smiled. "Don't worry

She had logged into her another account on Twitter, edited the photo and captioned it before lweeting it

'Done"

Gloria put her phone on the table. All of them enjoyed a moment of quietness.

Nydia was the first to break the awkward silence, "Come on, come on, anyway, it is a success today. Let's drink to that!"

Gloria picked up the goblet with a smile. Jennifer did the same hurriedly although she still felt somewhat embarrassed

Bryson let out a helpless sigh and sipped at the wine Suddenly, Nydia's phone rang

Her face darkened as she saw the number!

Jennifer asked doubtfully, "Who is it?"

"The most annoying person in the world! Nydia was a bit frustrated But she put it through anyway. After all he took her to the court the other day.

"What do you want?!" Nydia asked bluntly

"How dare you! Talk to me with that attitude and tone!" George sounded displeased.

Nydia burst out laughing. "I know exactly what you are thinking right now! Whatever you do, I won't give it to you!"

George choked with anger.

Damn woman!

With a pretence of helplessness, he said, "Told you I am not gonna compete against you for it. After all, I am kind of your brother."

"Fu*k off, will you? I don't have a brother like you!" Nydia was full of disdain.

George persisted, "Damn! Do you have time tonight? Let's hang out together? I'll show you around in the club!"

"Yo, you have changed, haven't you? But, sorry, I am kind of busy with my friends right now!”

With that, she snapped up on him.

She threw the cell phone on the table and cursed, “Asthole!”

Realizing the other three were scrutinizing her face, she held the goblet and said,

“Come on. Let’s drink!”

Inside the Connaught Bar.

George flew into a fury. “This woman is stubborn like a donkey!” he said.

Carlos smirked and said, “Isn’t it nice?”

“Nice? Definitely. I have never seen a woman as stubborn as she was!”

Carlos cast a disapproving glance at him and asked, “Do you really wanna take it from her? There is a reason why your mother left it to her.”

“It belonged to my mother, and of course, I’m going to get it back! How can I leave it to an outsider!”

Carlos frowned. “But at the end of the day, Nydia was the one who stayed by the side of your mother’s death bed when she passed away.”

“I don’t care! It was my mother’s belonging, which means it is mine now! George was a bit irritated.

“There’s a way you can get it back. “Carlos laughed

George’s eyes lit up. “Really?! Why didn’t you tell me?”

“If you marry her, it would be jointly owned by you two. That would also be what your mother wishes to see in heaven.”

“Holy shit! That tomboy? You want me to marry her? Are you kidding! That’s my life and my future we are walking about.’ The suggestion gave George creeps.

Carlos ignored him but took out his cell phone to check on the latest entertainment news.

He raised up his eyes to take a look at Jordy and jested. Your ex-wife, tut.’

That was all he said,

As curious as he was, George turned to him and asked, “What happened to his ex-wife? What’s the big news?!”

In order to get a better look, George was almost on top of Carlos, who was then forced to step aside with disgust in his eyes and said, “Don’t touch me

George pursed his lips and complained, “Don’t act like a little girl.”

Jordy gave him a look of displeasure. George laughed, “Okay, you both are.”

At this point, George also fixed his eyes at Carlos's phone, and even... Jordy looked over.

Because Carlos was sitting between them.

Carlos zoomed in on the photo to get a better look at the four.

In the photo, the other three were staring at Jennifer.

Jordy's eyes were burning with anger! Like a laser light, his gaze was about to see through Gloria and Bryson.

In the most ordinary photo of friends getting together, Jordy saw something else.

It was taken from the right side of them. Bryson sat right next to Gloria with his right hand holding the goblet.

In order to clink the glass with the others, Gloria, who sat on the right side of Bryson, would have to lean against Bryson's chest. Bryson's left hand reached out to hold the arm of the chair

From the angle of view, it looked like Bryson was hugging Gloria!!

"Yo, Gloria has already found a replacement while you two just got the divorce? What a woman!" George said, smacking his lips.

When he sensed Jordy's coldness, he corrected himself immediately and said, "She is not worthy. No need to be mad at her. At least she did not cheat on you while you were still a couple. Just live your own life. Got to admit she is impressive."

George let out a heartfelt sigh.

Jordy looked even more livid.

Carlos cast him a meaningful look and said, "There is one even more shocking photo."

Jordy's brow furrowed deeply. George took out his cell phone and asked, "Show me!"

Chapter 123 Regret

Soon, he saw the latest Tweet of Jennifer. It included both a photo and a caption.

In the photo, Bryson looked at Gloria fondly and worriedly. He held her wrist, while she smiled back at him in a seemingly intimate way.

George giggled, "Are they gonna work out?"

Carlo turned to Jordy, who was in a towering rage and asked, "Mad, aren't you?"

Jordy jerked his head to the other side and snorted, "I have nothing to be mad about."

George laughed evilly and asked, "Not at all? I see you're purple in the face But you're divorced. She has moved, so should you! Look how generous I have been. My exes could do whatever they wanted, I did not mind at all."

Carlos sniffed, "You are the biggest jerk of this age, aren't you?"

"Humph." George continued mocking, "I am just sticking to the fact here. You have divorced, so just leave her be Don't be mad."

Carlos turned his eyes to Jordy, who remained cold and silent. "You are mad because you still care about her," he added tactically.

George asked with surprise, "No way, Jordy! Serious? You still care about her? I thought you fell out?"

Jordy picked up the goblet and did not engage in the talk. Impatiently, he said, "Can we drop the topic of Gloria White?"

Carlos went on after casting him a glance, "If you still care about her, you should forget about what happened and get her back. I am afraid you might regret it in the future."

Jordy chuckled, "Regret? Are you kidding me? She is worse than the puppy I raise."

Carlos shook his head ruefully, but said nothing.

George laughed, "That's the Jordy Collins I've known. Damn, I thought you fall in love with that woman."

George despised those who got stuck in a romance relationship. He had no idea that one day who would become one of those guys.

Jordy stopped talking but gulped down one glass of wine after another.

Anger was simmering in his chest. Well done! Gloria White!

He found himself unstable to sit still there and do nothing for one more second.

LE na katerem

"Ah... Where are you going?"

"Going home."

Jordy walked off without looking back.

"Sooner or later, he'll regret it," Carlos sighed,

"How is that even possible! Jordy used to hate Gloria. If not for the scheme of Gloria and her father, Jordy wouldn't have been trapped in this relationship for so long. They never should have been together. It was the right thing to do. It wouldn't be fair to Gloria, otherwise."

Carlos knew there was nothing he could say to change Jordy's mind, so he didn't bother.

While they were still chatting leisurely, discussions online exploded.

It didn't take long for the photo of Gloria and Bryson holding hands to hit number one on the trending list.

No one else was able to compete with her popularity!

When she was still Mrs. Collins, whatever she did caused a sensation online!

But now, they had got divorced. Why would her name keep topping the headline?

Other celebrities could not help gossiping with their agents.

Find out where Gloria White usually goes for me now.

Chapter 124 She Had Butterflies in Her Stomach

"Best think of a way to establish a good relationship with Gloria!"

"You must often hang out with her!"

At this point, Angela was at home. She waited all day without receiving Jordy's invitation to dinner

The pictures of Gloria and Bryson occupied the trending topic. Anger was boiling up inside her.

The old her would wish Gloria to be a fickle woman. But when she found Jordy was furious at the news, she realized that was a trick played by Gloria.

Gloria used this trick to win back Jordy's heart and she made it!

Angela gnashed her teeth, wondering what she should do.

If she called to comfort him and explain for Gloria as before, it would be counterproductive.

At this time, it struck Angela suddenly that she was used by Gloria. She became the major driver in Jordy's flames of fury.

Angela wished to slap herself for making such a stupid mistake.

She had been a vegetable for so long. When she woke up, she played victim with Jordy and picked him and Gloria against each other. She was making a real effort but got nothing and even achieved Gloria's aim.

She was unwilling to admit defeat.

When the alarm went off, Gloria got out of bed quickly.

After she handled things about Jennifer, she decided to go back to work.

She grabbed a bite to eat breakfast and hurried to the law firm.

It was late when she arrived at the office. It was a car accident on her way that kept her for about half an hour.

Six lawyers had arrived and dealt with their business respectively. When they saw Gloria, their faces changed subtly.

Since the case was resolved, Gloria had been absent from work. It was the first time they'd seen her after they knew what she was.

Scarlett blushed with embarrassment. She criticized Gloria for trading sex for some benefits.

But now she was proved wrong...

Though the law firm was in the charge of Irene, Norma was one of the shareholders. In other words, they were working for Norma but spoke ill of her in front of her. It was her.

Scarlett's sheer luck that Norma didn't fire

Scarlett had butterflies in her stomach these days.

Sammy's eyes brightened up when he saw Gloria. "Morning, Miss White!"

Gloria smiled and nodded at him as usual. "Morning"

She had no airs and graces with her subordinates, leaving a favorable impression on them. Only Scarlett lowered her head awkwardly as if she was dealing with something important and could not be distracted.

Kaylee nudged her. "Scarlett, why not go to apologize to her? You did do something wrong. To keep your job, you can't conflict with her."

Her face went an ugly green. "I..."

She wanted to defend herself. But what she said at that time all proved wrong. She was speechless.

Sammy cast a glance at her and said helplessly. "No need to feel embarrassed. It's not a big deal that you don't apologize. I don't think she has taken it personally. But I hope you don't act so recklessly as before."

Scarlett's eyes lit up, "Really?"

Kaylee frowned, "Nevertheless... Scarlett, we've known each other for years. I won't criticize you for no reason. You should make an apology since you did do something wrong. It's a matter of virtue. You can't deny it because you're afraid of unwilling."

Scarlett's eyes flashed and shifted to Sammy instinctively. She thought Sammy would defend her, but he didn't. She assumed a sulky air. "Apologize? So easy. I'll do it!"

With that, she stood up and walked to Gloria's office.

Though nervous, she knocked on the door.

Scarlett appeared flustered, but she tried to collect herself, pushed the door, and walked in Gloria was the only one in the office She sat before the computer and handled her business. Upon Scarlett's arrival, she said with a calm expression "What is it?"

Her voice sounded peaceful, and she didn't give Scarlett cold shoulders because of what happened before.

That was her style. She could remain indifferent on any occasion

Scarlett felt relieved inside. She stuttered out, "I-I am here to apologize."

Gloria raised her eyebrows without saying a word. Scarlett continued awkwardly, "I was out of line to speak ill of you. Please don't bother yourself arguing with the likes of me."

Gloria sized her up and down and said calmly, "I didn't take it personally. I won't pursue that matter as long as you focus on your work."

Scarlett looked at her with a surprised look "Really?"

"Sure." Gloria looked calm. "Anything else?"

Scarlett was stunned She thought Gloria would reproach her but Gloria even didn't mention it.

She came back to her senses as it was strangely silent in the office. Then she shook her head awkwardly.

"No. No."

Gloria nodded, didn't say another word but continued working.

Scarlett stared at Gloria for a while. Only when she made sure that Gloria didn't want to pursue that matter did she leave.

She breathed a sigh of relief when she walked to the door. Fortunately, Gloria forgave her.

Other lawyers looked at the smile on her lips, knowing that Gloria didn't pull Scarlett on the spot. Kaylee smiled, "You see, now you feel much more relaxed, right?" Scarlett nodded subconsciously. 'You're right!'"

Two peaceful days had passed. Jennifer's father broke off the business marriage with the Turner family and announced it on Twitter. The matter was now closed. Rebecca vanished after it was handled. Gloria was puzzled, but she decided to leave Rebecca in peace.

As the time sped by, it was about Karen's birthday. Gloria had prepared a gift and called Karen a day ahead of her birthday. Karen answered it instantly with a joyful voice, "Girl! I thought you'd forgotten me!" Gloria hastened to explain, "How could I forget you? I've been too busy lately, Grandma."

"Humph, busy forgetting me, right?"

"Grandma, no more joking. I'm going to visit you. Are you at home?"

"Sure. I'm waiting for you at home all the time. When will you get here?"

Gloria cracked a smile. "In an hour and a half."

"Alright, I'm waiting right here for you. Stay for lunch!"

Gloria hesitated for a moment, and said with a smile, "Okay."

Then She hung up the phone and went to the Collins mansion with the gift. Though...

She was reluctant to set foot in that place. Her only reason to go there was Grandma, who was considered her family by her, so she had to go.

As scheduled, she arrived there in an hour and a half.

Chapter 126 I Won't Spare Whoever Gives you a Hard Time

Gloria rang the doorbell. The butler hurried to open the door since he was told by Karen in advance. The butler smiled at Gloria. "Miss White, welcome."

Actually, the butler was not used to addressing Gloria that way because he used to call her Mrs. Collins.

Gloria thought it was a good address. She smiled and nodded. "Hello"

The butler stepped aside to let Gloria who took the gift come in.

Karen sat on the sofa, waiting for Gloria. Hearing the voice from the door, she said at once. "Gloria, come to sit here. You are too punctual. I thought you would come here early!"

Gloria changed the shoes and walked to Karen. 'I got caught up in a traffic jam.'

"Girl, come here to sit"

Gloria let Karen pull her to her side.

Karen sized Gloria up and down. Seeing Gloria look the same as before, she breathed a sigh of relief She was worried before that Gloria would have a dull appetite out of sadness

'Grandma, it's my bad. I haven't visited you lately. The worst thing is that I can't attend your birthday party tomorrow...'

"Why? You attended my birthday party every year Why can't you come tomorrow? You don't take me as your grandma anymore, do you?"

Gloria shook her head "It's not like that. Grandma, please don't misunderstand me. Given what happened recently, my presence at your birthday party would be embarrassing ..."

'What for? You don't have 10. You're always my granddaughter. I don't allow anyone to raise any objections!' Karen cut Gloria off before Gloria finished.

Gloria's words made Karen unhappy.

How could those people treat her granddaughter as nothing!

Gloria's eyelashes trembled. "Grandma..."

She didn't know how to explain it properly. She brought the gift over in advance because she didn't want to attend that party.

Evidently, Karen read Gloria's thoughts. She cast a glance at the gift box. When Gloria handed it over to her, Karen opened her mouth. "I won't take it. If you don't send this gift to me at my birthday party, I don't need it anymore. And you don't need to take me as your grandmother!"

"Grandma, how could I do that?" Astonishment entered Gloria's eyes. She wanted to explain.

Karen said in resignation. "Good girl, you're my only granddaughter. I only wish you can stay with me at my birthday party. Are you planning to be absent? If you don't attend it, then I won't hold the party this year."

Gloria would stay with her at her every birthday party. She had been used to it. But Gloria suddenly excused her from the party, which gave her a heavy blow.

She really liked Gloria,

Gloria took a breath. Karen had been so humble to ask for her attendance. It would be bad of her to refuse Karen.

After some hesitation, she nodded. "I'll come here tomorrow."

Suddenly a smile lit up Karen's face. Her sadness dissipated. Then she pulled Gloria's hand and her happy voice said, "I know you're the best girl in the world! Don't worry. I won't spare whoever tries to stir up trouble for you!"

Gloria felt touched. Grandma was always kind to her.

But...

She was in an awkward position and worried that her arrival would give Grandma an unpeaceful birthday party. When she was lost in thoughts, the door was pulled open.

Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 127

Chapter 127 How Do You Have the Nerve?

Gloria and Karen raised their eyes and watched over. At the same time, the person who came in caught sight of Gloria and looked terrible at once.

“How do you have the nerve to come here!” said Olivia’s snappish voice.

Gloominess gathered in Gloria’s eyes, but she didn’t relort. Anyway, Olivia was the elder. If she talked back, it would only bring shame on Grandma

She had scruples because of Grandma She didn’t want others to see her and Grandma’s daughter-in-law conflict with each other. Though Grandma would side with her if she got in a fight with Olivia, it would also intensify tensions between Grandma and Olivia

Karen’s face darkened instantly. “Olivia Scoli!”

Olivia felt a bit disappointed “Mom, you know whai Gloria has done to the Collins family, don’t you? She put the Collins family into crises several times and even conspired with our foes. Do you still take her as your dear granddaughter? She doesn’t deserve it!”

Gloria looked up at Olivia, with mockery in her eyes

If they hadn’t pushed her to the edge, she wouldn’t have done such things to be against the Collins family

If not for the sake of Grandma and old Mr Collins, she would have been more ruthless. After they got divorced, she could choose to announce to the public the hidden secrets of her divorce and how she suffered in the Collins family. In that way, she was sure the Collins Group could never sign that contract!

In court, she kept a lot of proof from the judge If she hadn’t given some mercy, she would have asked for 10 billion and even more But they had no idea and thought that was her last resort.

Karen sneered “Deserve? Do you think you deserve to be my daughter-in-law? Over the years, have you ever shown any respect to me? Gloria has sacrificed so much for me and the Collins family. You can’t compare with her!

“Mom, you’Olivia could not make a rejoinder. But the next moment she let out a short of laughter. ‘She was just pretending to be nice. I’m different. My sacrifice for this family is unnoticeable

Karen laughed disdainfully. “Tell me one of your deeds.”

Olivia’s face was scarlet. She couldn’t say a word

After she married into the Collins family, she only cared about her own interests and never showed any respect to Karen. Karen was a nice person and never haggled over such a small matter with Olivia. Over time, Olivia had forgotten Karen was her elder.

Gloria pulled Karen with a smile on her lips. “Grandma, no need to defend me. I do everything with a clear conscience. I only care about you and old Mr. Collins. As for others, I won’t pay any attention to them.”

Olivia was furious. When she heard Gloria’s words that were full of mockery, flames of fury were boiling inside her

“Gloria, get off your high horse! You used all means to target Collins Group and all the netizens are scolding you. Don’t you admit you are wrong?”

Gloria chuckled. “If you think of me that way, then keep it going.”

She didn’t refute Olivia but expressed her real thoughts. She really didn’t care about how others thought of her.

Karen looked at Gloria astonishedly since she didn’t expect Gloria would be broad-minded.

She thought Gloria was tolerant of Olivia for the sake of Jordy, but it turned out that Gloria was not concerned about Olivia at all.

She instantly pulled Gloria’s hand. “Good girl, you’ve never disappointed me!”

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 128

Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 128

Chapter 128 Pay Him 50 Million If I Lose

Olivia was speechless.

She was pissed off and couldn’t help but roar, “Mom, when she embarrassed me so much, you still speak up for her, an outsider!”

Gloria threw a glance at Olivia. Though hot-tempered, Olivia, who was from a rich family and well-educated, had never used swear words.

But that didn’t mean that Olivia was a person of integrity. A good example was that Olivia often picked on her and barely looked at her. She used to be Olivia’s daughter-in-law, so she had to respect Olivia. Now they had no relationship, she didn’t have to show respect or make an apology.

If Olivia really hit her and she had to kick back, she wouldn’t give any mercy.

Gloria didn’t bother to look at Olivia but stared at Karen. “Grandma, if you wish me to attend the birthday party, I will do as you wish. However, I don’t think it’s proper for me to stay here any longer. When Mis Collins is not at home, I’ll come to visit you.”

Olivia was stunned,

Gloria said those words to enrage her!

Was she taken as a jinx?

She looked at Gloria coldly. “Gloria, you’re no longer the daughter-in-law of the Collins family. If you’re wise enough, you should realize you’re not welcomed here.”

Gloria nodded with a smile. “Sure. When you’re here, I won’t drop by, since I don’t want you to upset Grandma.”

Olivia was so angry that her chest was rising and falling rapidly. She was about to bellow at Gloria, but Gloria continued, “Mrs. Collins, I’ll leave you alone. I’ll get out of your sight right away.”

With that, Gloria left with the gift.

She did it because Grandma wanted to receive her gift at the birthday party.

When she walked out and closed the door, she could still hear Olivia’s complaints about her. Karen ignored them completely and went upstairs. Though silence reigned the living room again, Gloria guessed Olivia was trying to repress her impulse to ruin everything. Gloria planned to go to the law firm, but Nydia called Gloria over to her own law firm. Gloria could only drive over there. Once she got in, she saw Nydia smashing the mouse non-stop with a sulky face. Gloria strode over and sat beside her. "My lady, what agitates you?" Nydia turned her head and saw Gloria, her face lightening up "Gloria, you're finally here." Gloria nodded and looked at Nydia's computer screen. Some information was displayed. Gloria was confused. "You are on this case?" "Yes. That scumbag defrauded me!" "What happened?" While Gloria was speaking, she was reading the information on the screen. Nydia said through gritted teeth, "When Justin Harris came to me, he told me his partner coaxed him into undertaking the project but later broke the rules, so I took the case. Later, he sent me the documents. When I read the contract carefully, I found it was him that hadn't found the defects in the contract. I told him I don't want that case anymore since I didn't stand a chance to win. But he insisted that I should take the case or I have to pay him 50 million dollars if I lose. Where the hell can I get so much money for him?"

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 129

Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 129

Chapter 129 You're My Savior!

Gloria scowled and looked at Nydia, saying, "So you signed the contract with him when you took this case?"

"L..."

Nydia gritted her teeth and said furiously. "It's because I'm so short of money recently. He kept telling me how terrible the other party was with a very sincere attitude. I think I can win the case. He said he would offer me double payment if I could win but I had to pay him 50 million if I lost. I... I didn't think it twice at that time."

Nydia was pissed off, lifted the mouse, and wanted to smash it.

Gloria stopped Nydia and poked Nydia's forehead with resignation. "Businessmen are cunning. How can you believe their words? As a lawyer, can't you detect the loopholes in his logic or words?"

..." Nydia said with the grievance, 'I just...'"

"Why do you lack money? What do you want to do? How much money do you want to raise?"

Nydia sighed and said in a light voice, "My father asked me to go home days ago and wanted me to get married, but I disagreed. Then he cut me off financially and canceled my bank cards. I can't withdraw the money from them"

Gloria knitted her brows, "He just wants you to go home. Matchmaking is an excuse."

"He has done wrong. He should ponder his mistakes and make them up to me instead of making difficulty for me! He will owe my mom and me a lot all his life!"

Gloria breathed an enormous sigh. Each family had their crosses to bear. Gloria would not stick her nose into other families' trouble. She took out a card from her bag, "There is one million in it. You can use it."

Seeing that Nydia didn't intend to take it, she opened her mouth. "I lend it to you. Remember to return it"

Nydia smiled and took it. "OK! I don't like to owe others"

Gloria shrugged her shoulders. It didn't matter whether Nydia returned it or not.

The next moment, Nydia looked frustrated again. "Gloria, find some ways for me. You're Norma! I can't win the case, but I can't stand that I have to pay him 50 million!"

"You don't have to." Gloria used the scroll bar to read the contract terms carefully.

Nydia's eyes lit up. "Oh gosh! Babe, you've found ways? Really?"

While reading the contract, Gloria made a reply, "Ask Justin out for a dinner and tell him that you ask me for help."

Nydia was surprised. "Huh? Gloria, what do you plan to do?"

Gloria finished looking through the contract and put down the mouse, saying faintly.

"Justin's partner indeed swindled hundreds of millions from Justin, but Justin swindled you. Do you want to get him back?"

Nydia exclaimed immediately. "My dear Gloria, you have ways to get him back?"

Seeing Gloria raise her eyebrows, Nydia burst into laughter. "Ahh, Gloria, you're my savior and my goddess. What will you do?"

"You'll know that in the evening." Gloria looked inscrutable. Actually, she wanted to give Nydia a surprise.

Though curious, she didn't force Gloria because she knew Gloria's way of doing things very well.

She nodded, "OK, I'm going to call Justin! That bastard. He must have known that he can't get any compensation from his partner, so he hired a lot of lawyers and swindled money from them. I'm so pissed. Gloria, you must teach him a good lesson for my sake!"

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 130

Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 130

Chapter 130 Norma Can Make It!

Gloria was amused and nodded, smiling.

Nydia called Justin who answered it very soon, "Miss Nydia, do you find out a solution?"

Justin sounded polite. Nydia gnashed her teeth. I bet he actually wants to ask if I have prepared 50 million as compensation!

Nydia restrained her anger and said with a smile. "I have no way out, but my friend can help you resolve this case."

Justin was taken aback and said in a low voice, "Really? Your friend? Who is it?"

Nydia took a deep breath to suppress her rage. This bastard now must think he can swindle money from another lawyer!

She said without hesitation, "My friend is Norma!"

With that, she heard some things crash onto the floor and the chair wheels scratch the ground.

Nydia guessed Justin must have knocked something off and risen to his feet to dodge

Justin took no heed of the mess on the floor but said surprisedly, "Norma is willing to take my case?"

If Norma could take the case, he wouldn't have to find any lawyer to cover his losses.

Norma could definitely assure him of the winning of the case.

Nydia looked complacent. "Sure. Norma is on good terms with me. She's with me now!"

"Really?" Justin was pleasantly surprised. His tone changed into a respectful one.

"Well... Miss Nydia, could you hand the phone to Norma. Could I talk with her on the phone?"

Nydia looked at Gloria subconsciously, who stretched out her hand. Then Nydia parted her lips, 'OK, I'll put her on the phone.'

"Great."

Soon, Gloria held the phone to her ear and said naturally, "Hello, Mr. Harris."

Justin replied politely, "Hello, Miss Norma, I'm your huge fan. It's my pleasure to converse with you!"

Actually, Justin was happy not only because Norma would take the case, but because he could establish contacts with Norma through this case. Once he got on well with Norma, he could partner with Norma and didn't have to worry about the defects in those contracts. Besides, he could invent some loopholes and make the other party fall for his trick!

Many people may think that Norma was just a capable lawyer that had to resort to the law and they weren't impressed by her

But

They didn't know Norma was the best of the best in the business circle.

If she was willing to get involved, she could make her partner earn tens of billions easily.

Ordinary lawyers cooperated with their clients for mutual benefits.

But...

As the top-class lawyer, Norma would never be the one that initiated the collaboration. It was her clients that begged her for her help.

Therefore, Justin's voice was very ingratiating. He really wanted to curry favor with her.

Gloria smiled. "Mr. Harris, if you have free time, how about we pick a time to have dinner together? I want to talk about some details of the case with you. The other party is in the wrong and conscienceless. I can win."

Justin's eyes lit up.

If those words were from other lawyers' mouths, Justin would not believe them but still give it a shot. But Norma was different. Since she said so she could definitely make it!
