Chapter 181

Chapter 181 This Is Not Gloria

In the meanwhile, Angela dressed herself up and set off.

She had tried to think about an appropriate way of greeting the old lady last night And she kept rerunning her speech on the way for fear that she would mess it up.

However...

After her arrival at the Collins residence, she didn't see the old lady anywhere. She was confused.

'Is Granny Karen not home, Mr. Wilson?' she asked the Butler.

"I'm afraid not," he shook his head.

"Where has she gone? It's still so early!" Angela was a bit surprised.

"Young Mr Collins came early this morning. They're now on the way to Temple Lucius with Miss Gloria White."

"Temple Lucius?' Angela was dumbfounded Why would they go to that place all of a sudden?

Besides!

What would Jordy have come to pick Karen? Why would that bitch Gloria have gone with them?

The Butler nodded without a word.

Angela took a deep breath and tried to calm herself down, "Then...when do you think they would be back?" she looked at the Butler with a smile.

"That...I don't know, I'm sorry."

Angela held the bag and gift in her hands tight. She had selected a special gift on purpose in order to make the old lady happy, because of what had happened yesterday. She had not gained the full support of the Collins now. What she should do now was to get it from Kaien first.

If she accepted her, soon would Jordy's father do too.

The thing was, if Karen was still in good daily contact with Gloria, her acceptance from Karen would just be impossible!

Damn!

Angela was extremely irritated, but there seemed to be nothing else she could say now. Thank you."

Just as she was thinking about what to do next, there came steps from upstairs. Angela looked up and saw Olivia coming down. She instantly found it an opportunity, and opened her mouth in an aggrieved voice, "Mrs. Collins..."

She said nothing but that, and Olivia was a smart woman.

"Poor child, I'm sorry." Olivia sighed,

"No, Mis Collins. Don't feel sorry for me." Angela shook her head hurriedly, I'm just here to visit Granny today I didn't expect her to have plans"

"It was Gloria!" anger crossed Olivia's eyes
Angela opened her mouth, pretending to say something for Gloria, but was stopped by Olivia's grim voice, "You don't need to look for an excuse for her Follow me to my room Your mom called yesterday. There's something we need to talk through,
Something flickered in Angela's eyes but still, she nodded her head, "as you wish, Mrs. Collins."
Olivia gave her a satisfied nod and went upstairs with her.
Having made sure they were upstairs, the Butler pulled out his phone and texted a message after a second thought
Dale Wilson (Mr. Jordy, Miss White is here. Mrs. White called last now and they're discussing something)
Meanwhile, Jordy arrived at the Temple Lucius. He got off the car and received the message
Jordy put his phone away and took the two of them into the temple.
The Abbot had known their second visit and sent someone waiting on them. The little monk came up as soon as he saw them and put his palm before his chest with his thumb slightly bent. 'Namaste. The Abbot has been waiting for you Please follow me The old lady was elated 'We're sorry for the trouble. After you,' she nodded in appreciation.

Chapter 182 Do You Really See It

So, they followed behind.

Inside the temple was similar to any other one, but once they found themselves in the backyard, the layout became different.

The Abbot lived technically not in the temple, but in a separate space. They were on a gravel path for half an hour before finally there.

Gloria had helped Karen with her steps all the way, for fear that she would become tired. But on the contrary, she was in a great mood and in a great state. Her steps were even faster than these of young men.

The little monk didn't say anything until they were in the wing-room, 'Namaste. Please come in.'

They nodded at him and went in together.

The Abbot was on a chair. He stood up at once when he saw them and bowed, "Namaste."

Karen put her palms together immediately and bowed at Master Void in respect

Gloria followed Karen and did the same. Jordy frowned a little but he didn't want to spoil it for Karen, so he did it too

Jordy's displeased face pleased Gloria very well A smile broke off her lips.

When he turned his head and found her dancing face, his eyes became cold immediately.

“I know the very purpose of your visit today. I hope you could understand that nothing could be forced Everything is written.’

‘Seasons will change and nature will take its course. That’s all I can tell you. Let it go and that’s the way.’”

Karen listened carefully to his every single word, and her eyes were instantly lighted brighter!

So, her son had reincarnated himself into the family again! And she had been there with his grandson every day!

Gloria had been telling her the truth!

Karen rejoiced. She nodded in appreciation, ‘Thank you, Master Void. I won’t try to force anything!’”

Master Void nodded with a smile, intending to say no more.

However, Karen couldn’t help but take a glance at Gloria and Jordy. “I... I still have something to ask you, alone. Will it be convenient, Master Void?’ she opened her mouth after a second of hesitation.

“Go ahead, Ma’am. But what I can tell is limited.”

Karen hurried to nod with a smile She looked over her shoulder at the two of them, you two wait for me outside. I’ll be back soon.’

Apprehension suddenly took over Gloria’s face. “But Granny..

Jordy said nothing He took Gloria by the arm and headed out.

Gloria’s face changed slightly, while Karen smiled at her, “Go’

So, Gloria was dragged out by Jordy just like that “You shouldn’t have done that. What if she asks something and finds something more? All we’ve done would be in vain. She’s going to be sadder!”

Jordy gave her a cold stare, “Master Void has promised to help, so he would be careful with his words!”

Gloria found it true, so..

She didn’t say anything more

Meanwhile, in the wing room, Karen looked at Master Void with reverence in her eyes, “Master Void, actually, my visit today has more to do with something else. I just want to ask that, the young couple today here with me, is there any chance for them to get back together?”

Seeing the old lady’s reverent eyes, Master Void heaved a helpless sigh, “if it’s meant to be, it will be. Things couldn’t be forced. Let it be!”

The hidden meaning being, that he had no say in that too. The story had an open ending. Karen was a little upset, but still nodded, “I see. Thank you for your guidance!”

Master Void looked at her with a calm face, “Do you really see it?”

Chapter 183 She Just Couldn't Help It

Karen took an unconscious look at Master Void with surprised eyes, "You..."

"You must understand this. The forced never lasts," Master Void was concise with his words, but it got right to the point.

Karen's face was stunned for a second, "I."

To bring them back together, she had tried to create every opportunity for them to meet as much as possible, was that., not right?

The old lady couldn't help but heave a sigh Of course not. If it had been right, how could the relationship between Jordy and Gloria have never grown better but worse?

She seemed to have suddenly realized her mistake and the harm it had done But in another word, if she just let them alone and let them be, wouldn't the chance become slimmer?

For one moment, she was totally lost.

Master Void knew where she was stuck and said again, "Let it be, Ma'am Let nature take its course

Namaste"

Gloria and Jordy were still waiting at the door Jordy looked at ease, but Gloria carried apprehension with her. She was afraid that Karen would notice something.

In their anxious waiting, Karen opened the door and walked out, and Master Void walked with her Karen bowed at Master Void in respect and said reverently. Thank you for your guidance I'll bear that in mind."

The Master smiled, "Namaste."

Then, Jordy took the two trouble-minded women and left.

On their way back, Karen was obviously frustrated. Gloria was concerned and took Karen by her hands "Granny, what did you and Master Void talk about in there?"

The old lady blinked. She sighed after a short while of hesitation, "I asked him about the two of you, and he told me not to force it"

Gloria's face changed Jordy frowned too, but he focused on driving the car without saying anything.

Both of them said nothing, while Karen took a heavy sigh, 'Sometimes I just wondered that, you two hadn't been a happy couple during your three years of marriage. I've tried my way of bringing you two together, but..."

She couldn't help taking another sigh. "Maybe I had forced things and turned the two of you against each other! In another word, maybe you guys have divorced because of me!"

Gloria took the woman's hands and smiled, 'I know Jordy and I are divorced, but we're still both here with you. I'll be here whenever you need me. And I've always thought of you as my real grandma."

Jordy compressed his lips and kept silent, his face grim.

But what Gloria said next made his face grimmer.
“But still...” There were obvious torn-up feelings in the old lady’s eyes. She knew Master Void was right, but she was human. She just couldn’t help it...
Gloria said with a laugh, ‘Granny, we would have divorced anyway. Maybe it would have been even earlier. We just made it look like we were in love. You knew what it was. In other words, I wouldn’t be able to warm his heart if I became the sun.’
Jordy tightened his grip on the steering wheel.

Chapter 184 Bring Her Into The Gutter

Karen looked like she wanted to say something, but Gloria laughed, “Granny. People get tired, and change. And it just doesn’t work between the two of us. And now, look at us, don’t you think we get along better now than before?”

For the past three years, Gloria had felt suffocated. Olivia had looked down upon her and kept giving her a hard time. Her husband had hated her, to the very core. The pressure she had been under was so heavy.

But now everything was different. She felt at ease and had no longer to be bossed around and told what to do. She had only to protect the ones she cared about. As for Granny, she wouldn’t have to put in so much effort and energy.

The old lady couldn’t help taking another sigh, ‘Okay.. I give up. I’ll leave the two of you be.’

Gloria’s grappled nerves suddenly relaxed at the moment.

She felt she had become even happier. As long as Granny stopped forcing them together, she found it bearable being in the same room with the man.

Every time she saw him, her mood would possibly be affected. She could be the best of herself in his absence.

Jordy compressed his thin lips. He stepped on the gas and drove faster.

While Gloria took Karen’s hands and comforted her, ‘Granny, your own happiness is the most important now. I’ll visit you as long as I got the opportunity. And you can see me at my place if you like.’

“All right,’ Karen repeated, but her sadness couldn’t be concealed.

On the way, Gloria tried to keep the old lady in high spirits with her conversations, but she could feel that Karen’s hope was not as high as before.

But she had never brought her problem forward again, because as long as it was kept off her mind, everything would become easier.

Jordy didn’t have any questions for Gloria and drove all the way to the old residence.

Gloria helped the old lady off the car. Karen didn’t force Jordy to do anything. She ignored his grandson and went into with Gloria.

Irritation flashed in Jordy’s eyes. He left in his car.

It was already lunchtime when they got back. Karen took Gloria by the hand and said, "why don't you have lunch here at home, Gloria?"

Here at home.

Karen only said that on purpose, meaning that it was still her home.

Gloria didn't want to let her granny down and only nodded, "Sure, Granny."

However, there came two figures down the stairs. Gloria and Karen looked up together in the same direction.

With her hand more than light on the stair rail, Angela saw Gloria and immediately hated her to the core! If it had been for this bitch, she would have become the butt of the joke yesterday!

Her heart was racing, but she had to bite her tongue.

Bitch!

She would bring Gloria into the gutter sooner or later! She would leave her no chance to come back, and make Gloria her inferior forever!

Olivia walked up with a smile on her lips, "You're back, Mother. How was your visit?"

Karen nodded as a reply. Angela stole a glance behind her and found no one there.

Where was Jordy?

Angela dared not to ask questions, so she greeted as she walked downstairs, "Granny."

Karen only nodded, 'Here you are, Miss White.'

Angela's face changed at the alienation, and Olivia felt the strangeness too obviously, so she smiled and said, "Mother, Angela is one of us too, just the same as Gloria. Just call her Angela."

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 185

Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 185

Chapter 185 He'll Get Lonely

To have Angela accepted by the whole Collins members, Olivia had but to put down the disgust deep down and was willing to admit Gloria was a Collins as well.

But there was something very subtle and smart in her recognition. Both Gloria and Angela were Collins members now

Gloria was now old Mrs. Collins' real granddaughter, and Angela was not accepted by her, while Olivia had not taken her as a daughter, which was her way of telling Karen that, Angela would be Jordy's future wite.

This time, the old lady didn't refuse but only said coldly, "Let's wait until the marriage.'

Olivia looked in surprise at the old lady She hadn't refuted this time!

she

She would have been outspoken and proclaimed Gloria to be her only granddaughter-in-law, but now had changed her mind?

Did that mean there was a chance?

Angela 100 was looking at Karen in surprise So this visit to the temple had changed her mind?

Olivia and Angela looked in Gloria's direction at the same ime All of a sudden, she seemed 10 have become a more agreeable person 10 them

Where's Jordy? Why are there only the two of you?" Olivia smiled and asked when she had found Jordy was not with them

Angela hurriedly directed her eyes at Karen 100.

'He left," Karen replied dryly.

Angela was crestfallen.

She clenched her hands and felt sorry about another missed chance to see his Jordy again Maybe he had left on purpose because Gloria was here to spoil his appetite!

With no time left for her grievance, Olivia's voice interrupted her thoughts, "OK. Let's wash our hands and have lunch then.'

Karen said nothing, while a smiling Gloria helped her to the toilet. 'I like the way it is now, Granny. I think of you as my real grandmother. And nothing comes bothering me anymore. You're the only family I have in the world."

The hidden meaning being, that the Whites were not her real family,

The old lady blinked, and patted the back of her hand at last, "Good girl."

So the four of them sat at the same table, each up to her own wishful thinking.

Gloria was the freest one. Because she didn't care anymore, she simply ignored Olivia and Angela. "Granny you should eat more vegetables. It's good for your health, she put some food on the old lady's plate and smiled, "Master Void has told you not to think too much, so you should live a healthy life. You have all the blessing in the world!"

"You're so sweet, Gloria," the old lady nodded with a smile.

"Yes, Granny. You have all of us with you. You'll just have to enjoy your life"

The old lady replied with a polite nod, with no intention of more words with her.

Although her problem had been solved, what had happened yesterday would still be on her mind. The old lady had always found Angela a pretentious phony. And after what had happened last night, she liked Angela so much less.

The smile on Angela's face stiffened, and she could do nothing but bear with it.

Olivia put some food on the old lady's plate and said, "Angela was right, Mother. You need to worry about nothing now but only enjoy your life."

The old lady gave Olivia a cold glance, "as long as you stop the constant disobedience to me

Olivia didn't know what to say.

She gave a stiff smile and looked at Gloria, "You Granny listens to nobody else but you now, Gloria. Why don't you talk to her"?

Jesus! Olivia was talking to her in a kindly manner.

Gloria only smiled and said to the old lady, 'Why don't you come and live with me for a few days! It's not that a comfy place as here, but I'll cook for you!"

The old lady smiled but still refused, Ta love to, but your grandpa is coming back tonight. I don't want to leave him alone here He'll get lonely"

Chapter 186 He Will Never Forget

"Then next time when Grandpa goes on a business trip, I'll pick you up." Gloria smiled "You're so thoughtful, Gloria," the old lady was happy from deep down, and her smile was very real. Gloria kept the old lady in a warm and sweet conversation throughout the mealtime.

While Angela and Olivia, seated across from them, more looked like some guests. Even though Angela tried repeatedly to explain what had happened last night, Karen kept her full attention on Gloria and never looked at her once. At the thought of the words of his parents telling her not to mention it anymore and to be generous, she held it back after a moment of hesitation.

It was not an enjoyable meal.

But Gloria enjoyed her conversation with Granny and was really full

She had other things to do later, so she smiled at the old lady, 'I need to go to work now, Granny. I'll come to visit you as long as I got the time.'

The old lady nodded with a smile. "You go, sweetheart You don't need to come too often when you're occupied I know you're young and busy with your work. A word or two with me on WhatsApp is enough when you're free"

Gloria felt a little guilty. Granny was old and company was what she needed the most. But all the Collins men were busy, and Olivia was not a filial one and constantly contradicted Granny, so how could she enjoy her life?

OK," Gloria answered And without saying anything 10 Angela and Olivia, she just walked out.

Angela at the moment had got a lot 10 say 10 Gloria. She looked at Olivia and Karen

"Granny, Mrs. Collins, I should be going with Gloria together.'

The old lady gave a cold nod, while Olivia smiled, "Get home safe.'

Olivia had hidden meaning in her eyes for Angela. Obviously, she was warning her of the discussion they had just had earlier

Angela stiffened at it, but still, she nodded her head and left. Soon she walked out and saw Gloria was already in her car. So she quickened her steps and opened the passenger side door.

Gloria looked over with a calm face.

"You don't mind giving me a ride, do you?" Angela smiled.

Gloria said nothing, but Angela had already got in.

Seeing both Karen and Olivia stand at the door, Gloria smiled at Karen and started the engine.

Angela's face fell long when neither Karen nor Olivia could see them now. Seeing the dashcam was on, she reached out and turned it off.

You must have something to say to me," Gloria frowned a little

"Why would you do that, Gloria!" Angela glared over.

Gloria smiled. She pulled the car over by the side of the road and smiled at Angela, 'Then why would you do this?"

Angela gritted her teeth, "You've done it on purpose, Gloria! You set me up! Do you think this way Jordy will get back together with you and remarry you?"

Gloria narrowed her eyes and said nothing, as if willing to hear her.

But actually...

She just didn't want to have anything to do with this woman. Karen and Olivia had been looking at them just now at the old residence, so she couldn't have kicked Angela off the car.

But now she had lost her patience.

"Gloria, you did the wrong thing! When you put forward to divorce and helped Jonathan with his lawsuit, you were pushing him away forever!

"He had never really seen you even after all the efforts you had put in your three years of marriage. Now you want to make a splash after the divorce? Do you think you could win him back?"

"He doesn't love you and never did. He will never forget what you and your father have done!"

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 187

Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 187

Chapter 187 That Would Become Impossible

Gloria's face suddenly fell. Angela had shown her ugliest face, so obviously she was not recording.

But even if she had done it to lead her to speak, Gloria was not afraid of it. Even if the conversation became public and the whole Internet dissed her, so what? She was living for herself now. Nobody's bad words could affect her anymore!

She sneered at Angela, "You know exactly why that would happen that night!"

Angela's face changed but the next second, she gritted her teeth and said, "He's the one I care about the most. I wouldn't set you and him up!"

"Yes, you wouldn't, would you? You never set me and him up, it was just a mistake, right?"

At the sight of the anger on Angela's face, Gloria became more sure about her own presumption

She had set her up with some other man, to permanently exile her from the Collins family, but never had she thought that Jordy had been set up 100, and the two of them had ended up in the same room.

Having known that it had been Jordy who had done it with Gloria, Angela must have gone mad, but she had had to pretend, because her dad had still been alive then, and she had had little say in the Whites family. She had had to swallow it all

Angela restrained herself and sneered, "That had nothing to do with me, Gloria Don't you dare to pin it on me! Do you think people would believe that? Now everyone in the circle knows that you have done dirty things to get yourself on Jordy's bed

Rage exploded in Gloria's head!
She gave Angela the most dreadful glare and instantly, Angela was horrified. But the next second, Gloria held it back and only smiled, "So what?"
So what?
Angela was taken aback. It had been the least that Gloria wanted to admit, but now she didn't care about it anymore?
She had become scary to her.
Gloria looked at Angela, "What you have tried so hard repeatedly to say to me is, Jordy is yours, and I will never ever get back together with him, right?"
Angela was stunned. She had been in control of their conversation, but now it had changed.
Leaving her no time to reply, Gloria laughed, "Angela, you have made a great presentation of yourself, as graceful as a goddess. Everyone thinks you're an angel. But today, you switched off my dashcam and said all these mean words, do you think you're still any of that?"
Angela's face changed slightly. She hadn't wanted to become like this! It was Gloria! She closed her eyes and took a deep breath! Damn Gloria! She had driven her out of her image!
Gloria had a half-smile on her face. She was the deserted daughter of the Whites, but she was also a lawyer. So she knew every word could be important evidence. She had been carrying a recorder since forever. And she had no idea how many of those she had replaced!
But Angela had been clever. She hadn't admitted that it had been her who had set Gloria and Jordy up!
Angela took a deep breath, "You should stop competing with me if you know better, Gloria. Look what a miserable life you are living. As your cousin, I'll take care of you and make sure you live a good life. But if you're determined to go against me, that would become impossible!"

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 188

Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 188

Chapter 188 Her Mother Had Abandoned Her

Gloria's lips twitched. Actually, Angela was a strong-willed woman. If it hadn't been for what had happened last night, which had driven her into a dead-end street and destroyed the image she had created for herself all these years in a day, she wouldn't have become so mad.

Gloria only smiled, "I've no intention of getting back together with Jordy. But speaking that, Cousin Angela, I don't think Jordy's eye is ever on you. Being bedridden for a year has brought nothing in him but his pity for you. A marriage bound by gratitude. Is that any different from mine with him?"

"Of course there is!" Angela didn't hesitate to satirize, "I'm not you. And I will never bind him with your so-called gratitude. Just because he didn't love you doesn't mean he doesn't love me. You'll see, Gloria."

Gloria nodded with a smile. "Then I wish you nothing but success. I hope you can break the deadlock. Don't let anyone think of you as a clown. I'll be sorry for you."

"You!" Angela was maddened!

How dared she say that! If it hadn't been for her, her life would be so miserable!

Nobody had talked about it in public, but she was sure she had been everyone's secret butt of the joke!

All it had all been because of Gloria!

Angela took a deep breath. If she didn't get Gloria back today, she'd die! She would make sure Gloria's life will get more miserable!

And the next second, she suddenly whispered into Gloria's ear with a smile, "Do you think you are the winner now?"

Angela's voice was too low even for the recorder.

Gloria frowned and looked over at her.

An evil smile broke on Angela's lips, "Do you know what the biggest failure of your life is?"

Gloria was silent. Angela could barely contain her thrill and went on with her satire, 'That you're destined to be disfavored! By your husband! By your families! You're never going to be accepted or recognized by any of them!"

Angela got more excited as she went on whispering, 'Your mother dumped your father and kicked you away because you were a daughter. She thought you as useless. Do you really think she died in childbirth?"

Gloria's face was stunned, she looked over at her, "What do you mean?"

"You drunk father told it to my father at a drink. He asked him not to tell anyone."

Gloria's eyes suddenly widened. She didn't think that was just made up by Angela. Dad had never talked about mom when she was little. Even mentioning her mom would trigger deep disappointment in his father's eyes. However, he had never said anything bad about her, but had only replaced the topic.

She had believed that his father was just too sad to mention it. But now, Angela might be right!

"Being the daughter of a great family, she had needed a son to reclaim her family fortune. Three years after the wedding, they finally had you. And for the next two years, she had never become pregnant again. So she abandon your father and you and left. Now you could see how abominable your birth was, Gloria?"

Gloria's whole world was rocked. She had always believed his father and that had never come to her mind. But now, she had found that she had a mother and had been abandoned by her!

But if her mother had been a woman like that, why had her father married her in the first place?

Chapter 189 Nothing But A Joker

Angela had an evil smile on her face, "As for your father, he died so young. Don't you think you're the curse to have got him dead?"

"He was a healthy man, but got sick all of a sudden. So sick that it triggered his MI. He had never had MI before, had he? Don't you think you were the curse?"

Gloria's heart was gripped Even her face went a little pale

She didn't believe she had been the curse for his father's death like what Angela had just said, but..

She hadn't known that Uncle Claude had such a viperous family. She had always trusted them.

In retrospect, her father had always been as sound as a bell, why had he become so sick all of a sudden? She hadn't even gotten to see him for the last time

Angela patted Gloria on the shoulder with a smile. "You're destined to be alone, Gloria Your families abandoned you, and your husband kicked you away You're a loser. If I were you, I would just kill myself, instead of lingering out here!

Gloria felt her heart was being wrenched

Why hadn't she found anything wrong before!

Claude must have had something to do with it!

After her father's death, Claude had taken over everything of the White family very quickly She had left herself in grief, in no mood to run the company A few words of Claude had persuaded her to sign everything away.

It seemed now that, it had all been their doing!

All of a sudden, hatred took over Gloria!

In the beginning. Uncle Claude had come to seek refuge Her dad hadn't hesitated a bit to accept them. He even brought him into the company and made him an important figure. But at the end of the day, what had Claude done?

They had murdered her father!

Gloria couldn't help but take a deep breath. Her face was as white as sheet

Angela thought Gloria had believed her words and become overwhelmed, so she sneered, "Gloria...'

"Get off:

Before Angela could finish, Gloria suddenly said the two words in a cold voice. "Gloria!" Angela's face changed.

'Before I get mad, you get off my car. I have nothing to lose now, but you have an image to care about."

Angela's face changed. Gloria glared at her, her eyes snapping fire, as if she was going mad at any minute!

Angela restrained her anger and said, "you mad woman!"

She got off the car directly but remembered something before closing the door, so she said in a deep voice, "My parents invite you to dinner."

"Invite me?" Gloria sneered out loud, "Nothing of the White family belongs to you. You take care."

That terrible look on Gloria's face had really worked off her anger. "You take care too, Cousin. I really hope you could conquer your demons and stand at the top of the pyramid," she smiled.

After that, she closed the door. Just as she was ready to see Gloria's defeated look, Gloria suddenly stepped on the gas and left!

Angela was startled and hurried to take two steps back. If she had been quick, her feet might very possibly get run over by the wheel!

Angela gritted her teeth! Gloria! She should never compete with her!

Gloria was nothing but a joker!

In the meanwhile, Gloria was still driving, but she just couldn't get Angela's words off her mind.

Her father, mother, and the whole White family.

All of a sudden, hatred took over Gloria!

In the beginning. Uncle Claude had come to seek refuge Her dad hadn't hesitated a bit to accept them. He even brought him into the company and made him an important figure. But at the end of the day, what had Claude done?

They had murdered her father!

Gloria couldn't help but take a deep breath. Her face was as white as sheet Angela thought Gloria had believed her words and become overwhelmed, so she sneered, "Gloria..."

"Get off:

Before Angela could finish, Gloria suddenly said the two words in a cold voice. "Gloria!" Angela's face changed.

'Before I get mad, you get off my car. I have nothing to lose now, but you have an image to care about."

Angela's face changed. Gloria glared at her, her eyes snapping fire, as if she was going mad at any minute!

Angela restrained her anger and said, "you mad woman!"

She got off the car directly but remembered something before closing the door, so she said in a deep voice, "My parents invite you to dinner."

"Invite me?" Gloria sneered out loud, "Nothing of the White family belongs to you. You take care."

That terrible look on Gloria's face had really worked off her anger. "You take care too, Cousin. I really hope you could conquer your demons and stand at the top of the pyramid," she smiled.

After that, she closed the door. Just as she was ready to see Gloria's defeated look, Gloria suddenly stepped on the gas and left!

Angela was startled and hurried to take two steps back. If she had been quick, her feet might very possibly get run over by the wheel!

Angela gritted her teeth! Gloria! She should never compete with her!

Gloria was nothing but a joker!

In the meanwhile, Gloria was still driving, but she just couldn't get Angela's words off her mind.

Her father, mother, and the whole White family.

Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 190

Chapter 190 Died Of MI

All she wanted before had been to live her own life and take back what belonged to the White family instead of giving her father's years of hard work away to someone else. But now, she had finally realized that, her father's death had not been because of a serious illness!

If it had really been Claude, she would definitely send him to jail by herself! She just would not tolerate it!

Gloria took a deep breath. It seemed that she would have to make a trip back to the White residence, but not today.

Gloria drove all the way to the law firm. A couple of lawyers in the hall saw her cold face and none of them greeted her. Even Sammy was extremely quiet.

At the sight of Gloria's face, Irene was a little confused, "What happened to you? Did something happen on your Temple Lucius trip?"

Irene was aware of Gloria's purpose of taking Karen to Temple Lucius in the morning.

"No," she shook her head.

"Then what happened?" Irene stood to pour a glass of water for her and handed it over

Gloria took it but didn't drink, her face still grim

Irene knew something was wrong with her, so she sat next to her and asked apprehensively. "What on earth has happened, Gloria?"

Coldness flashed in Gloria's eyes. "Could you help me with some information, Irene?"

The more detailed, the better."

"Go ahead," Irene replied

Gloria compressed her lips and opened her mouth directly. "The detailed information about the White family from June to August last year."

"From June to August?" Irene was a bit surprised

"Yes, one month earlier before and one month later after my father's death."

Her father's death had been on the first of July. She had been still married to Jordy but had not been in LA. She had been working a case and had not made it back home in time. God knew how regretful she was about that!

Since then, she had grown tired of law practice. However, she knew her father wouldn't have liked to see her so negative toward her life if he had been alive.

Irene's face became serious. She looked at Gloria and asked, "You have found something, haven't you, Gloria?"

"I think there is something weird with my father's sickness and his death." Gloria was direct, because Irene was no stranger

Irene was stunned for a second, but said immediately, "You rest assured. I'll have someone on it secretly."

Gloria compressed her lips and said no more. She held light to the cup in her hand, but the heat coming through the glass couldn't warm her cold heart. Instead, her hands started to shake.

Irene noticed it. She took the cup in her hand and put it on the table, "You've noticed something, haven't you? What on earth has happened today?"

Gloria took a breath, "Let's start with the information. I'm not sure about everything. But Irene, do keep it secret."

"You rest assured," Irene nodded, "The scouts you've lained, they are quite reliable." |

Gloria nodded and said no more.

Actually, lawyers were always in good connection with the scouts.

Scouts became important when the cases were unclear

They had been trained secretly by Gloria. Being Gloria's assistant, Irene had been responsible for it.

Sitting before her computer, Gloria tried to calm herself down.

However furious she was, she had her senses with her.
Her father had died of MI, as she had been told. And before that, he had been seriously ill. It had been too late when she finally made it back home.

Then...

“Knock, knock”

The knock on her door brought her back from her thoughts to reality.
