Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 201

Chapter 201 Prosecution

Angela was stanked at Gloria's words Even Claude and Martha raised their heads. They wanted to interrupt Gloria while she was speaking, but didn't get the opportunity

Now Martha blurted out. "What did she say?"

Gloria looked at Angela and curled her lips, 'Grandma fold me her opinion about you. She likes you in many aspects except that you're too scheming and always plotting something if you're not that calculating, she's willing to accept you as her granddaughter However, you can always deny your wrongdoings. Even if you can prove your innocence, it doesn't mean that others are convinced

Angela changed color!

Gloria, this bitch!

She's playing a trick on me!

She knows I'm recording, so she threatens me with Grandma. But I'm not scared at all!

When Angela wanted to send the recording over the Internet, Gloria spat out Jordy gave Granma and me a vide yesterday, so there should be a dashboard camera footage of our conversation You're on good terms with jordy. If you don't believe me, you can ask him for a copy of the footage Angela's face changed slightly Did Grandma really say so?

Gloria glanced at Angela and a sneer flickered across her eyes Actually, she had a recording, so she could play it now, but she was worried that it would make Angela gel prepared

Martha looked unnatural. The next moment, she chuckled 'Let's eat. We should not discuss such a topic in the early morning. You'll go 10 work after you eat breakfast, right?

Angela replied, "Yes, I have a lot of things to do at work

With that, she seemed to remember something and shifted her gaze to Gloria. "Gloria, have you considered what my father told you yesterday? Do you want to work in the company?"

The family of three looked at Gloria,

Angela sneered inside. When she thought Gloria would say no, Gloria nodded suddenly and said with a determined voice, "I've thought for a night. The company represents my father's years of effort. He asked me to inherit the family business. Of course, I cannot let him down. No matter how difficult it is, I'll insist."

Angela was lost for words.

Well, she won't give up until she encounters setbacks.

Claude burst into laughter. "Great! I'm so proud of you Gloria, it's rare that you have determination, but you should know you'll encounter a lot of difficulties in the future when you go to the company, I'll tell the director clearly that you're privileged at work and even need to face more challenges. Can you accept that?"

Gloria nodded, "No problem,

She would insist however difficult it was.

It was easy for her to take back the company. Since there were some loopholes in the contract that Claude signed with her, she could get back her shares of the company, but it only formed a small share. After her father passed away, 35 percent of the shares that he held had to be divided into several parts and inherited by his family.

What Gloria wanted was all the shares of her father instead of the small part.

To achieve her goal, her first step was to work in the White Group.

"Great! You can make concerted efforts to develop the company! Gloria, you're a White, so naturally you need to make contributions to the White family. You're Norma. When the company is prosecuted, you know what you should do."

Claude said those words to imply something.

Chapter 202 | AJN So Regretful

Gloria nodded "I know it. I won't let the White family be in crisis. But, we can't earn filthy money."

Claude laughed, "Of course, we won't. Our business is legal, and you don't have to worry!"

Gloria nodded She was not skeptical of it because she believed that Claude was not that bold

He was jailed before because of doing some illegitimate business. So he scared being jailed again

"OK, I'll wait for you in the company"

Claude suddenly felt it was the right decision to let Gloria work in the company. Gloria would be convinced that the White family was promising and would help the White family wholeheartedly

Besides, whatever difficulty the White family encountered in the future would be very easy to solve

With Norma in charge, no one dared to sue the White family

No one could win the lawsuit against Norma!

That realization also hit Angela

At that moment, Gloria seemed pleasing to the eyes. After all, Gloria could bring plenty of fortunes to the White family

But!

Thinking of how embarrassed she was at old Mrs. Collins' birthday party, Angela couldn't help but clutch her left hand under the table. Do I have to let her off the hook after she screwed over me?

I am unwilling!

"How about I take you to the company today?" Claude asked tentatively.

Gloria shook her head. "I'll go to the company next week since I have some business to deal with these days."

Claude nodded, smiling. "Okay, do what you got to do."

Gloria observed Claude. "Claude, though I agree to work in the company, I might have my own business to take care of and I won't let it affect my work. It is not a big problem, is it?"

"No. Employees can ask for leaves to take care of their business, not to mention you. You won't miss your work even if you have to deal with your own business, which proves you're very capable."

Gloria nodded without more questions.

She raised all of her questions and recorded their conversation to avoid trouble.

Later, they had some chitchat.

After breakfast, Gloria left.

But.. she didn't go to the law firm..

At that moment, Gloria got out of the car, with a bouquet of lilies in her arms.

In a black outfit, she walked slowly inside in frustration, her back looking slim and sad.

Gloria was extremely sorrowful She walked to a gravestone and stopped there

On the gravestone was her father's photo, in which her father wore a gentle smile and seemingly waited for his daughter's arrival Gloria's face almost betrayed her emotions.

She put down the flowers and showed a smile to her father in the picture. "Dad, it's my bad. I haven't come to visit you until now."

She tried to suppress her sadness

But...

Her voice couldn't help but shiver and tears streamed down her cheeks uncontrollably.

Gloria sat on the stone steps beside the gravestone and her head leaned against it.

"Dad, please forgive my selfishness. I'm dreading going here to visit you. I don't dare go home, as I'm afraid I'll be too sad."

Tears rolled down her face but she didn't care about it. She breathed slightly and said in a trembling voice, "Dad, you know what? I regret most not knowing your illness or seeing you when you passed away. Dad, I'm so regretful..."

Gloria closed her eyes gradually and her sadness seemed to reign over the cemetery.

One could sense her sadness even at a distance.

Not far from her stood a man in a black suit. With pressed lips, he stared at Gloria.

He frowned slightly with mixed feelings on his face. Gloria who sat in front of the gravestone could not see Jordy, but Jordy could hear her words very clearly.

Gloria raised her hand and stroked gently the man's face in the picture, her heart pounding, "Dad, I should have listened to you. I shouldn't have married him."

Jordy's face darkened, his eyes turning sharp. But he didn't shoot daggers at her, for fear that she might get startled. Besides, he wanted to know what she was going to say next.

Gloria sighed "You once told me I should marry the right man in my life. If I can't, I'd better be single. But I liked him so much. Dad, do you know my feelings for him? I can't remember how many years it has been since I fell for him. But I can no longer get him out of my mind since the first time I saw him."

Jordy was shocked and looked at her in disbelief. The next second, he sneezed inside. So what if she liked me for many years? She's standing against me now, isn't she?

Gloria pursed her lips, "Angela's appearance made me realize I was a big clown and Jordy hated me that much. In that case, why should I love him devotedly? I was his wife, but he made me feel I was the mistress. In his eyes, I was that woman who used all kinds of dirty tricks."

With that, she chuckled. "Dad, I am sorry I didn't live up to your expectations. I let you down. Now I've got over him. Since he doesn't love me, I'll stay away from him and take him as a stranger."

TAS SI

Jordy gritted his teeth and looked sullen

A touch of sadness flitted across Gloria's eyes. "I used to worry he would abandon me. That was the last thing I wanted to happen. What should I do if he doesn't want me anymore? I would lose sleep every time I thought of it. But that still happened. I thought I would get hurt very much. But you know what? When I signed my name on the divorce paper, I felt relieved. It seemed that I could live without him. Perhaps, he was not my Mr. Right and he was not as important as I thought. At that moment I realized my obsession for him died down with his hatred for me.

Jordy's face blanched.

"Dad, I should have obeyed you. He was the best of the best, but he never belongs to me."

With that, Gloria chuckled and looked relieved.

Jordy clenched his fists and the veins on his forehead bulged.

"Dad, please forgive me for being late to see you. Don't worry. I'll come here often since I get some free time and no one can restrict me."

"Dad, actually, I'm not that aggrieved, so you don't have to worry. When I lived in the Collins family, Grandma and Jordy's father were nice to me and doted on me like I was their real family.

After you passed away, they gave me a sense of intimacy that I got from you. When I was sad about your death, it was Grandma that comforted me all the time."

Gloria cast down her eyes, tears running out of them.

Jordy who stood behind her could not see her tears, but he saw her trembling. He was stunned slightly. Is she crying?

When they were a couple, he had never seen her crying, so he strode over subconsciously.

Chapter 204

Chapter 204 Please Trust Me

But he came to a halt after taking a step forward with complicated emotions on his face. How could he be so impulsive?

Maybe that was a part of Gloria's plan!

She had learned from someone that he would be here, so she deliberately came here to visit her father and pretended to meet him accidentally and let him get touched.

Jordy sneered. What a tricky woman!

"Dad, you don't have to worry about me though I am living alone I don't think I can't live without men I quite enjoy my current life. During those three years, I put aside my career and my liking in order to be qualified Mrs. Collins Now I am no longer Mrs. Collins, so I can do whatever I like now. Dad, I'll listen to instructions, be myself, and live a happy life."

"He only took my three years but didn't take everything from me. Dad, please watch me in heaven I'll shine like the brightest star and live up to your expectations!"

Gloria leaned against the gravestone. Jordy stood behind her and stared after her. It seemed that Gloria was still crying. The toughness and great restraint in not crying that Gloria showed made Jordy's face look colder and his eyes sharper.

He was the only one that mattered to the old Gloria.

After they divorced, she cared about everything except him.

If love could disappear without a trace so easily, then I shouldn't be considered love.

Jordy set his lips into a grimace, staring at Gloria's back.

In the past, Gloria was a gentle, virtuous, and qualified wise, but now Gloria was a strong-minded woman that lived a fascinating life.

Gloria was still mumbling with her father, but she no longer talked about Jordy.

Besides, she didn't mention Claude since she didn't want her father to know the true face of the person he valued. She was afraid the fact would make her father feel sad.

Gloria sighed when it was almost time. "Dad, I have something else, so I have to say goodbye to you now. I'll often come here to visit you."

With that, she rose to her feet, bowed her head to the gravestone, and left.

When she disappeared, Jordy showed up and strode over. When he was watching the bouquet of lilies before the gravestone, mixed emotions crept over his cold eyes.

In Lloyd Group

Bryson was in his father Patrick's office.

Patrick sat in the office chair and looked like he was 40 though he had been 50 years old. He got a slight beer belly and looked sophisticated

Watching Bryson's calm look, Patrick frowned slightly, "Did you handle things about the automobile race?"

Bryson nodded. "Everything's okay. Don't worry."

Patrick was confused

He looked at Bryson incredulously, "Everything's okay?"

Why did he feel his son was lying?

Bryson nodded. Patrick frowned. "The race is unfavorable to us judging by the current situation. The shareholders give you a hard time on purpose. If you want to take over the Lloyd Group, you have to make it through first. But as for your ability, I doubt it."

Bryson smiled and said casually, "Dad, please trust me."

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 205

Chapter 205 Did He Want Bryson to Be His Son?

Patrick was puzzled.

He knew his son very well

Patrick looked at Bryson's confident look. A hint of disbelief slashed across his eyes. "Well, who did you invite?"

He stared at Bryson and didn't want to miss out on the slightest change in Bryson's face.

But Bryson only smiled without betraying his emotions. Looking at his father's expectant and unfathomable eyes, Bryson smiled "Dad, I'm not sure if we can reach project cooperation with the other party, but in terms of the automobile race, we won't lose"

IT

Patrick sneered, "You won't lose? What nastier did you ask for help to make you so confident? Do you know that Collins Group and Brown Group are striving to have Hannah on their sides? The payment Ubat Uiey offer is sky-high if Hannah joined one of them, we would stand no chance to win"

Bryson only smiled. "It doesn't matter to us. You keep watching. I promise I'll give you a big surprise.

Patrick's eyelid twitched

Though he didn't trust Bryson, he believed Bryson would not lie to him. If he did invite a master, then..

At that moment, Patrick was excited but he didn't show his excitement He didn't think further, worried that expectations would bring disappointment.

Bryson laughed. "Dad, it's a huge surprise. Just wait and see."

Then, Bryson stood up and excused himself, "I have something else to handle, so I'll leave first."

Patrick seemed convinced and started to expect the automobile race. Though he knew that they didn't stand a chance, he couldn't suppress his excitement

Bryson walked out and took his phone. Thinking about Gloria, he took a breath and dialed her number.

Gloria who walked out of the cemetery got to her car. Perceiving the vibration of her phone, she didn't hasten to get in the car but pick up the phone.

“Bryson?”

Jordy who followed behind heard Gloria’s calling. His face got colder.

The next instant, Gloria let out a chuckle, “I’ve promised you, so I won’t go back on my words. I’m already prepared.”

Jordy stared coldly at Gloria. What did she promise to Bryson?

I didn’t even know Gloria had such a inale friend when we were still married!

Men know their fellows.

I can see through Bryson easily.

Jordy who was suming with anger had already forgotten that Bryson once confessed his love to Gloria with a bouquet of roses in his arms.

“Well, not today. I just came out of the cemetery after visiting my father. Later I need to go to my law firm and hand over some business to my fellows.”

Jordy stared coldly at her, with his fists clenched.

“Um? You want to come here?” Gloria smiled. “Maybe some other day. When you have time, I can bring you over. By the way, my father liked you very much at that time.”

The veins on Jordy’s forehead stood out, his sharp gaze was like a blade and he seemed to form a cold vibe around him.

Gloria’s father liked Bryson? For what? Did he want Bryson to be his son-in-law?

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 206

Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 206

Chapter 206 You Should Be Wise Enough!

I must be blind! How could I not know she is such a flippant woman!

She kept in contact with different men before she got married. Was she a good wife during our marriage!

So slutty!

I'm such a fool to think she's pitiful!

"Well, not today. When my mission is accomplished, you can take me to a nice dinner. I'm going to drive, so goodbye"

Jordy could guess what Bryson had said on the other end of the phone. Seeing that Gloria hung up the phone and curled her lips into a smile, he felt very annoyed suddenly!

Perhaps because his gaze was too sharp, Gloria turned her head and found Jordy was staring at her. Gloria was taken aback.

Jordy Collins? Why was he here?

Jordy sneered. "Gloria White, it never occurred to me that you were such a slutty woman. You've never lost contact with Bryson in the past few years, right?"

He could tell she cried just now judging by her red eyes. Jordy's face changed slightly. Suddenly, he regretted saying those harsh words.

Gloria's face turned gloomy instantly. Her body trembled with anger. That was how he thought of her!

Didn't he know how nice she had been to him in the past three years? How could he use such abusive words to insult her? He's as blind as before!

Gloria restrained her emotions and curled up her lips. "What? You can cheat on me, but I'm not allowed to do so?"

Jordy's guilt for her vanished all of a sudden. He said coldly through gritted teeth, "Gloria White, you're so cheap!"

Gloria sneered instantly. "We do the same. Mr. Collins, when you abuse me, think of yourself. Do not scold me but also curse yourself."

Jordy was vexed and amused. He used to think she was a gentle and good wife, now he thought she deserved to be a top lawyer with such a quick tongue.

She could cut him to the quick so easily!

"Good! Gloria, you impress me!" Jordy put on a sullen look

Gloria didn't understand why she could come across him. She scowled impatiently. "Mr. Collins, we've been divorced, so mind your own business. We know very well what we've done respectively during our marriage. Don't blame me even if I do have an affair. I'm leaving, and just pretend as if I'm a stranger to you the next time we meet."

With that, Gloria bypassed the car head and opened the driver's side door.

Jordy stepped forth, grabbed her arm, and raised it quickly.

Gloria could not break free and her arm was in mid-air. She looked rather bad. "Mr. Collins, what are you doing? Can you show an ounce of chivalry?"

Jordy sneered. "I don't have to show it to you."

Gloria's face changed slightly, the next second a sneer crept upon her face. "You're right."

Her indifferent tone implied that she didn't care about his attitude towards her at all. Jordy's pupils shrank. The next moment, he sneered. "Gloria, no matter what your purpose it is, you'd better not set foot on the Collins mansion. Grandma likes you, but others' feelings for you are not the same. You should be wise enough!"

Chapter 207 He Has Hopes for His Son

Looking at Jordy's cold look, Gloria felt as if her heart had been stabbed. The next second, she chuckled. "Actually, you know that Grandma will ask you to come over every time she calls me over. That's because she wants us to get back together. But don't worry. Grandma went to the temple and adopted the monk's advice. She wouldn't require our remarriage anymore."

Jordy felt a little pang of disappointment.

Gloria's mouth twitched "Mr. Collins, you don't have to be so wary of me. I know Grandma is very nice to me, so I won't do anything to hurt her. Besides, Grandma won't force me to visit her. I won't go to the Collins mansion anymore unless that's the only option."

Jordy clenched his other hand into a fist. A nerve was twitching in his forehead. Then he swung Gloria's arm. "You'd better keep your word!"

Gloria smiled without another word. She walked around the car head and got into the car.

Without throwing another glance at Jordy, she fastened the safety belt, started the engine, and put down the hand brake smoothly. Under Jordy's gaze, the car sped away.

Jordy stood still and could no longer control his anger. He had withdrawn her gaze. Seeing Harold striding over, Jordy closed his eyes, seemingly covering his emotions.

"Mr. Collins, I'm done, and we can leave." Harold didn't notice Jordy's bad mood but briefed his work as usual.

Jordy nodded and strode to leave.

Time passed quickly.

As the famous racing driver, Hannah, Gloria received a lot of phone calls.

She had promised Bryson, so she wouldn't work with anyone else. What was more, she wouldn't agree to attend that automobile race if not for Bryson.

Her father liked racing very much and she enjoyed watching her father compete with others in car races and thought her father was very awesome. She learned to race cars and even won the championships. Later she got married and her father passed away.

She felt so sad about her father's death that she no longer wanted to drive a race car.

She wouldn't have had a chance to ride a race car if Nydia hadn't asked her for help last time.

The day of the racing competition arrived.

Gloria dressed up to disguise her true identity.

She got a lot of attention as Mrs. Collins and her identity as Norma was exposed for some reasons.

However, she wanted to cover up her identity as Hannah. She believed that was a good idea.

Bryson and the high-level members of many groups had arrived because that was an important event.

Patrick was also present since he had high hopes for Bryson, who also gave Patrick some expectations.

Patrick wanted to see what master Bryson could invite.

At this point, Nydia and Jennifer had been there. They stood bedside Bryson and chitchatted, Patrick was an easy-going person. Besides, considering Nydia and Jennifer are from privileged families, Patrick would not mind them being friends with his son.

More friends meant that they could get more help when they were in need. When the three of them were waiting, a figure suddenly appeared.

Nydia noticed that and her eyes brightened up. She waved her hand at Gloria excitedly. "Babe, here!"

Knowing that Gloria was hiding her identity, Nydia didn't call her name.

But her exclamation attracted a lot of attention. The crowd looked where Nydia was staring and saw a beautiful figure.

Gloria looked nonchalant without glancing around. Seeing Nydia, she walked over.

Patrick looked over subconsciously and found another girl walking toward his son. He was okay with the fact that his son had a lot of female friends, but he couldn't accept that at Bryson's side were all girls.

Didn't Bryson have a male friend?

How could it be?

Patrick's face darkened. He had been involved in the business circle for several decades, so he easily controlled his emotions.

Gloria came over and smiled at the three of them. "You came so early."

Bryson was surprised that Gloria looked completely different now. But he had to admit that her temperament didn't change at all. She was as elegant and noble as before, making others swoon.

Bryson smiled, looked at Gloria, and said, "This is my father."

Gloria immediately shifted her gaze to Patrick, nodding and smiling at him, "Hello, Mr. Lloyd."

Patrick smiled and nodded. "Hi."

With that, he looked at Bryson. "What family is this girl from?"

How could he have never seen her before?

Never seen

He could tell she was not an ordinary girl from her temperament.

Bryson smiled. "Dad, she's the racing driver I invite."

"What?"

No matter how sophisticated Patrick was, he changed color instantly at Bryson's words. He looked at Bryson incredulously. His good manners kept him from scolding his son in public but his eyes showed his dissatisfaction. It seemed that he wanted to ask whether Bryson was joking.

Bryson knew what Patrick was thinking, but he didn't explain. He parted his lips. "Yes, she's the racing master. Dad, just wait and see how we win the game."

"You...!"

This was a swing!

Patrick looked terrible. He thought his son was well prepared, so he came over with expectations. But what was his son doing? His son invited a weak woman to join the competition.

Some women couldn't even drive the car properly, not to mention race cars. How did Bryson find a female professional in racing?"

Was he crazy?

Patrick could no longer control himself. He grabbed Bryson's arm and pulled him somewhere else.

Nydia couldn't help but burst into laughter. "Babe, guess what Mr. Lloyd is trying to do."

Jennifer also laughed. "It looked like Bryson didn't tell the truth to Mr. Lloyd, so Mr. Lloyd is very angry now."

Gloria only smiled without speaking. The audience was waiting. Some people had sat down while some were standing. Gloria sat down and smiled to say, "Let's wait patiently. There is some time before the beginning of the official competition."

Nydia sat beside Gloria and laughed. "OK. We came too early. I really want to know how Mr. Lloyd feels now. Hahaha. He got up early and came over to see what master his son brought over, but the result greatly disappointed him. Hahaha... Would he think his efforts are in vain?"

Chapter 209 You'll See

Jennifer also sat down. Watching their receding figures, she chuckled, "He might be scolded by his father."

"Hah, definitely."

At this point, Patrick had taken Bryson to a place where there were only two of them. His face was very sullen and he blurted out, "Are you crazy? Do you know what you're doing? I make so much effort to make you take over the Lloyd Group. I understand you can't find a capable race driver. But I don't understand why you assign a woman to join the race willfully! That's the surprise you prepare for me?"

It was not a surprise but a big slap on his face. He would completely lose face today!

Bryson seemed to expect his father's reaction, so he smiled. "Dad, why don't you trust me?"

Patrick was stunned and didn't know what to say. He doubted that little girl's capability.

Car racing required the competitors to have strong mental health and excellent skills. Now he wasn't even sure if that girl could ride a car, let alone ride a race car.

Bryson sighed. "Dad, I told you that I would give you a huge surprise, and please trust me. You should not be biased about girls. Girls can ride race cars well. Dad, do you really think that she's just a common girl?"

Bryson sized Patrick up and down. Looking at his suspicious look, Bryson curved his lips, "Dad, you'll know how excellent she is very soon."

I'll let my father admire Glorja.

I'll try all means to pursue Gloria and marry her!

I don't want to miss out on the chance to be with such a good girl!

I've been regretful over the past three years. If I didn't seize the chance this time, I would be a big fool!

"You..."

Patrick was lost for words and looked at Bryson incredulously. But Patrick took a breath and said in a deep voice when seeing Bryson's confident look, "Well, I'll trust you this time, but...you have to know when to quit! If she's not qualified, you contact other racing drivers at once. In that case, it won't bring shame on you even if you lose, since you have tried. We still have time, and you can call a racing driver over here."

Patrick observed Bryson's reaction while saying tentatively.

Bryson shook his head, smiling. "No need, she's the most excellent racing driver."

"Who is she?"

"You'll know it soon."

He wouldn't tell others what Gloria was trying to hide, even when facing his father. Once his father knew it, his father might contact Gloria out of personal interest and create trouble for Gloria, which would make him regret it. The last thing he meant to do was bring trouble to Gloria.

"You... Jerk! I'm your father. How can you hide it from your father?"

Patrick was vexed.

Bryson smiled and said, "Dad, it's a surprise, so I can't tell you. The competition will start in about half an hour. You'll know it soon."

Patrick took a breath. Watching Gloria and the other two talking and laughing, he averted his gaze from them and said casually, "Dad, let's go back. You'll see!"

Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 210

Chapter 210 Two Tycoons Are Here

Patrick closed his eyes and repressed his mixed feelings. He should trust his son.

He nodded in resignation. "Let's go. I hope you are not lying."

There was helplessness in his father's voice. Bryson could tell his father got disappointed and lost confidence of winning.

Bryson smiled without explanation.

He walked with Patrick

When they got back, they seated themselves. Patrick was in a bad mood and speechless, though he looked calm on the outside.

Bryson didn't reveal other information to Patrick. He talked and laughed with Gloria, but he tried to control himself considering his father was also there.

The seconds ticked away. A black Rolls-Royce pulled over slowly. George got out of the car.

Seeing that there were so many people, he watched Jordy who got out from the other side, and smiled. "So many people today."

Jordy scowled with repulsion in his eyes. Evidently, he disliked such kind of occasion.

George insisted that Jordy must come with him.

Jordy could only come over.

He wasn't afraid of George's threat. He came here just because of his brotherly love for George.

When Gloria was chatting, she raised her head and saw that dazzling man at a distance. He wore a customized black suit and exuded coldness and nobility.

Gloria cast down her eyes. He is an excellent man. Otherwise, I wouldn't have loved him for so many years.

Jennifer grabbed Gloria's hand worriedly, "Honey."

Gloria smiled. "Don't worry about me. I'm not like a porcelain doll."

A porcelain doll was very fragile and easily broken.

She was different from a doll. She was tough. Besides, her heart had been killed by him and she would not have any expectations for Jordy. Now she only wanted to be a free self.

"Sure." Nydia smiled and said, "My sweetheart is the toughest girl!"

Gloria shook her head helplessly. It sounded like Nydia was coaxing a kid, but Gloria was very touched.

Bryson looked at Gloria with mixed feelings though he didn't say anything.

Patrick looked at them suspiciously. What happened? Were they comforting that racing driver? Both Jennifer and Nydia were very proud and would not appreciate others easily. But now they sat beside the racing driver and comforted her. Who was she?

Patrick was very curious.

But his son kept it from him, so he could only repress his curiosity.

A lot of people noticed Jordy's arrival, with surprise in their eyes. They were thinking about how to curry favor with Jordy.

But...

A blue Lamborghini pulled over at this time. When the crowd was astonished, Jonathan stepped out of the car and closed the car door. Then the driver drove the car away.

George and Jordy fixed their gazes on Jonathan, who curled his lips. "What a coincidence, Mr. Collins."

A touch of surprise flitted across the crowd's eyes. Someone exclaimed, "Two tycoons are here!"
