

After Avery got this information, her mood was indescribably complicated.

“Miss Tate, Margaret is here to win an award, and Travis is here to cheat money. Neither of them is to save people.” When Calvin said this, he basically said everything he wanted to say.

“Mr. Emond, since you know that Travis is trying to cheat money, why do you want to join his team?” Avery felt regretful.

Calvin blushed: “Our family is not very well-off. After my wife resigned, I was the only one in the family to earn money. My son and my daughter are still in school, and I have to pay the family’s elderly alimony every month...”

“Take this money.” Avery forced the card to Calvin, “I suggest you still find a way to get away from Travis or you can just do nothing and just wait.”

Calvin: “What are you waiting for?”

Avery: “Waiting for Travis’s retribution.”

Calvin understood: “Miss Tate, I’ll go first. If there is anything else, we will call.”

Avery: “Okay.”

After Calvin left, Avery took out her mobile phone, originally wanted to call Hayden, but she thought about it and called Eric first.

Eric answered the phone quickly.

“Avery, are you done? I’m with Mike Hayden and the others now. In the front row.” Eric said.

“Aren’t you going on a blind date tonight? I met your blind date just now.”

Avery couldn’t help laughing, “Eric, I can tell you with certainty that Maggie is a girl, and she is very beautiful. She looks even more beautiful than in the photo.”

Eric: “???”

“Maggie is not only beautiful, but also looks quiet and gentle. Also, her Whatsapp profile picture is a photo of her own younger brother.” Avery told Eric everything she knew, “Eric, are you right? Haven’t seen her yet? She seemed to say that her brother was also here, she and her brother got separated, and said she was looking for her brother.”

“I’ve made it clear to her. I won’t have to meet her again in the future.” Eric was unmoved.

“Oh, if that’s the case, then forget it. I even added her on Whatsapp to see if it was her. It turned out to be her.” Avery said, “She’s really smart. It’s no wonder your mother likes her so much.”

“Avery, don’t talk about Maggie. Where are you now? Come and find us!” As long as Eric didn’t talk about the blind date, his tone became lighter.

“Okay.” Avery didn’t really want to go there, she wanted to go back to Aryadelle now.

But she didn’t want to spoil the fun when she thought that everyone was rarely there tonight.

Calvin’s words and the guesses made by Avery team made her want to take a risk.

But she didn’t be in a hurry for the night.

Even if she wants to go home, she has to wait until tomorrow.

She came to the music festival scene, walked towards the front, and soon saw Mike and the others in the crowd in the front row.

She walked over and sat down beside Hayden.

“Where’s Eric? He called me just now to say that he was with you.”

Mike replied, “A singer friend of his took him away and said he would come on stage to sing later.”

Avery nodded.

“How did you talk to that person?” Mike leaned into her ear and asked, “You don’t seem to be so happy, don’t you get any useful clues?”

“No. I have to go back to Aryadelle tomorrow. Hayden will leave it to you.” Avery explained to Mike.

“Oh... OK! Go back if you want to! We are doing very well here, you don’t have to worry about it.” Mike responded with a sigh.

Avery finished talking to Mike, then turned to look at Hayden: “Hayden, I’m going back to Aryadelle tomorrow. Do you want to go back with me? Of course, if your studies are heavy, you can go back when you are on vacation.”

Hayden: “Mom, What are you doing back home?”

Avery: “Go back to see your father.”

“Then go back.” Hayden didn’t want to go back to Aryadelle for the time being. He didn’t help much when he returned home.

Chad heard their chat, so he interjected: “Avery, let me go back to Aryadelle with you! It just so happens that I’m almost busy with things here, and I plan to return to Aryadelle.”

WHEN HIS EYES OPENED

Chapter 2205

Avery: “Okay! Then you have an early rest tonight. I plan to book a flight back tomorrow at noon.”

Chad: "Okay."

At this point, a loud melody sounded on the stage.

Everyone's attention was immediately drawn to the stage.

Frank met Ian after he separated from Eric.

At that time, Ian had just separated from his sister.

Probably by special fate, the two of them met soon.

After meeting, Ian took Frank and took him to play games.

Frank actually didn't want to take him, but he said 'brother' one by one, and he shouted very affectionately. Frank thought that the boss didn't really want to see him, so he could only reluctantly take him to play games.

Time passed minute by minute, and suddenly, a familiar singing sound came from the back of Frank's head!

"F*ck! My boss!" Frank immediately looked towards the stage.

On the stage, Eric was holding a microphone and was singing!

Really his boss!

"What's the situation!" Frank immediately ran towards the stage.

Ian also saw the dazzling man on the stage.

The promotion of the music festival did not say that Eric's annual meeting was coming!

"Ian, you little ba*tard where did you hide just now! I've been looking for you for a long time and can't find you. I'm going to call the police in a hurry!"

Maggie rudely said.

“Sister, save me some face! There are so many people outside!” Ian pushed his sister’s hand away, covered his ears, and wouldn’t let him pull, “I met Brother Eric just now, and I asked him to take me to play games!”

“Eric? He is playing games with you?” Maggie frowned, “You two have been playing games together?”

“Yeah! It’s been half an hour. It’s a pity that Eric just now Singing.” Ian looked towards the stage.

“Eric, Eric...” Maggie read aloud and looked at the stage.

Ian said firmly, “Brother Eric’s mobile phone background picture is also him.”

“Oh...I have nothing to do with Eric. Don’t bother him in the future.”

“The two of you broke up, it won’t affect my game with Eric, right?” Ian was sullen, “I don’t play games every day. Old lady, you don’t have to be so strict with me, right?”

Go back! Dad is waiting for us outside.” Maggie said, pulling her brother to leave.

At this moment, her cell phone rang.

She picked up her phone and saw a video call from her mother.

She took over the video call, and her mother’s voice immediately came –

Maxine: “Maggie, have you seen Eric?”

Maggie: “No...”

Maxine: “Ah! I seem to hear Eric’s voice? Is it Eric singing at the stage?”

Maggie: “Yeah! Mom, when did you fall in love with him?”

Maggie said, pointing the camera at the stage.

Because all the people at the scene stood up and took their mobile phones to take pictures on the stage wildly, even if Maggie raised her mobile phone, she couldn't capture the picture on the stage.

Ian chuckled lightly, took the phone from his sister's hand, raised it easily, and showed his mother the picture on the stage.

"Ah! Isn't that Eric?! Ah ah ah! That is Eric!" Maxine saw the clothes and hat Eric was wearing on the stage, the same outfit she wore last time she met.
