

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2209

Chapter 2209

Avery's body shivered slightly, she couldn't say anything else now.

"I'll go back to Aryadelle right away." Avery wanted to go back right away.

"Okay, I'll wait for you." Wesley said.

After hanging up, Avery was helped by Mike to sit on the sofa.

"You want to go home now, right? I'll book a ticket for you. You sit down and calm down. I see your face is pale." Mike said.

"I'll book a ticket!" Hayden said, "If there is no suitable flight tonight, Then charter a plane to go back."

"Okay." Mike knew that Avery wanted to go back to Elliot immediately regardless of the cost.

Twelve hours later, they arrived in Aryadelle together.

After coming out of the airport, the bodyguards took them to the hospital immediately.

It was late at night in Aryadelle now.

Wesley and Shea are both in the hospital.

"Avery, brother Elliot's condition is relatively stable now." Wesley told Avery about Elliot's situation.

But Avery no longer believed Wesley so much. Besides, she really wanted to see Elliot with her own eyes.

"Take Shea back to rest! I know you were forced to hide it from me, and I don't blame you." Avery knew how embarrassing Wesley was in the middle, "Even if he leaves me because of this, I will not blame you."

"Avery, I'm sorry." Wesley knew that Avery's heart was hurting now.

Not only because Wesley was hiding from her, but also because Elliot made such a decision.

"Wesley, I'm sorry for Avery." Shea grabbed Wesley's big hand, not wanting to see him humbly, "I asked Wesley to help my brother. My brother was in too much pain."

“Shea, I don’t blame you. You and Wesley are both very kind people. Even if I do, I will only blame your brother.” Avery’s mood calmed down a little, “Did Wesley not rest for a few days? Shea, take him back! I’m watching over the hospital, so you don’t have to worry.”

“Avery, thank you for not blaming Wesley. But can you also not blame my brother?” Shea held Avery’s arm pleaded softly, “Brother is really in pain. If he wakes up, you blame him, how sad he will be!”

Avery: “Shea, you don’t have to worry. Even if I blame him, I won’t talk to him again. He’s separated.”

“When my brother wakes up, you’ll marry him again, right?” Shea was looking forward to it.

Avery: “Yes. I will marry him.”

Shea: “Can you stop getting divorced?”

“Not leaving. In the future, the only thing that can separate us is death.” Avery said this, her eyes were flushed, and tears rolled down from the corners of her eyes.

For the lost youth, for the ups and downs that their immature behaviors brought to their relationship, and for Elliot, who was now lying in the ICU.

Shea said several times that Elliot was in pain.

Shea could still take his pain to heart, but after Elliot’s accident, she had been selectively ignoring his feelings.

She put his life first, not his feelings.

Elliot would definitely prefer her to respect his wishes like Shea, rather than forcing him to live.

“Avery, don’t cry.” Shea hugged her and patted her back with her palm, her voice soft as the wind, “My brother will wake up. The doctor said he was just too tired, so he didn’t Wake up. When he sleeps enough, he will definitely wake up.”

“Well.” Avery wanted to hold back her tears, but she couldn’t.

It was probably because she had been working too hard during this period of time, and now she can finally put down her disguise and let herself cry happily.

“Wesley, take Shea back to rest first!” Mike said to Wesley.

Avery let go and said to Mike, "Mike, you and Hayden also go back. I'll stay in the hospital."

"Oh...I'll send you daily necessities when I go back!" Mike replied, "You wait and send me a list."

Avery: "Well. Just wait for the bodyguard to deliver it. I'm done."

"Okay. Let's go first!" Mike didn't help much by staying here. He doesn't make trouble for her now, just help.

After they left, Avery went to disinfect, put on an isolation gown, and prepared to enter the ICU.

Elliot's chief surgeon accompanied Avery in.

"Miss Tate, you don't have to worry too much. We estimate that Mr. Foster should be able to wake up in the next few days." The chief surgeon saw Avery in a depressed mood, so he comforted her.

"How many days are these days?" Avery asked seriously.

She didn't know anything about Elliot's situation, and the chief surgeon knew the most.

"I guess it will be within three days!" said the chief surgeon. "If he doesn't wake up in another three days, it will be a little dangerous."

Avery relaxed a little and suddenly became nervous.

"Miss Tate, I said that he will wake up these days because his vital signs are improving little by little. So there is still great hope." The doctor in charge continued, "Margaret boasted. The resurrection technique is a proper deception! It's a lie she created by taking advantage of people's fear of death!"

If Elliot woke up now and was out of danger, Avery would dare to take the words of the chief surgeon.

As long as Elliot hadn't woken up, she couldn't be completely at ease.

"I've been chatting with Wesley these days, and I think Margaret chose to commit suicide immediately after winning the March Medical Prize. It's also for this reason. Because she can't get this prize at all! Once her lies are discovered, the trophy and honor will be taken back.” The chief surgeon said with certainty, “Margaret chose to commit suicide in order to keep this honor. In this way, even if her honor was taken back after her death, she would not know. She was not only good at deceiving others, but also good at self-deception.”

“Your guess is well-founded. I hope Elliot can wake up within three days as you said.” Avery was more concerned about Elliot.

The two entered the ICU, and Avery saw Elliot lying on the hospital bed at a glance.

Elliot’s face was haggard and pale, and he laid motionless and lifeless on the hospital bed.

If it weren’t for the continuous pulsing of the curve on the instrument next to her, she would definitely not be able to stop thinking about it.

Because the chief surgeon was there, Avery could only restrain her excitement.

“Miss Tate, look at his statistics. It’s pretty stable now. You just came back from abroad, haven’t you recovered from the jet lag? I’m on duty tonight, so you can go back and have a good sleep first. Maybe he will wake up tomorrow.” The chief surgeon persuaded, “Do you know that you are important? Before you came back, Wesley was scared to death. He was guarded in the hospital every day and didn’t dare to go back. I was afraid that something happened to Elliot and he couldn’t explain it to you. Don’t you still have three children? Go back and see the children!”

The words of the chief surgeon made Avery’s nervous mood relax a lot.

Perhaps it was also because of seeing Elliot with his own eyes, and seeing that his current situation was indeed not as bad as he imagined.

Avery: “That’s hard work for you.”

“As long as Mr. Foster doesn’t have an accident, the hard work is worth it.” The chief surgeon said and sent Avery out of the ICU.

Foster family.

The villa was brightly lit.

After Mike and Hayden came back, they didn’t plan to wake up the family.

But when Mrs. Cooper saw them coming back, she couldn’t help saying a few words excitedly.

Layla was awakened and came out of the room in her nightdress with her hair down.

The moment her eyes met her brother's, her body felt like an electric shock, and her confused eyes suddenly lit up.

"Brother!" Layla screamed in shock, her sharp voice causing Robert, who was sleeping in the room, to shudder violently.

Mrs. Cooper was afraid that Robert would be frightened and cried, and immediately went back to the house to see Robert.

After a while, Mrs. Cooper walked out with Robert who was awakened.

Robert pursed his little mouth when he saw his sister hugging his brother.

"Layla, your voice just now almost woke up the living creatures in the entire villa." Mike looked for a glass of water to drink.

"Uuuuu...Why didn't you tell us in advance when you came back? No one told me you were coming back tonight before I went to bed!" Layla hugged her brother tightly and complained to Mike.

"We're in a hurry." Mike put down the water glass and glanced at the time, "It's almost 2:00 a.m. Are you going to school tomorrow?"

"I'll ask for leave tomorrow! My brother finally came back, so I don't want to go to school!" Layla made a decision without thinking.

Mike teased: "Have you kept up with your academic performance?"

"I want to do well in the exam, I can do it anytime!" Layla puffed out her cheeks in dissatisfaction.

"Layla, go to bed. I'll take you to school tomorrow." Hayden released his sister, "I'll leave after the weekend."

"Oh... well! You take me to school tomorrow, and I'm going to introduce you to my good friends!" Layla thought that she would be able to show off her brother to her classmates tomorrow, and her mood suddenly took off .

"Brother, it's very late, let's go to bed together!" Layla pulled her brother and wanted to take her to her room.

Hayden pulled his sister's hand away: "Layla, we are not children anymore. We can't sleep in the same room."

She thinks there is something wrong with her and her brother sleeping in the same room.

"Layla, look in the mirror, you're not a little girl anymore." Mike laughed while watching the play, "Look at your brother again. Although it is impossible for him to fall in love, he is faster than Your mother is tall. You even let him sleep in the same room with you. If it spreads out, people will laugh at him."

"Humph! I really don't like growing up!" Layla said.

"Sister!" Robert called out to her sister in a cute voice.

But Layla ignored him and went upstairs.

Seeing that his sister ignored him, Robert stared at Hayden.

"Robert, if you also want to sleep with your brother, that's absolutely fine! Your brother will definitely not refuse you." Mike teased the little guy.

"I don't want to sleep with Brother Smelly! Brother Smelly made my sister angry! Humph!" Robert snorted at Hayden's face and hugged Mrs. Cooper's neck tightly.

At this moment, a white light flashed outside the villa.

Mike immediately went to the door and glanced into the yard.

"Avery is back." Mike was a little surprised. He thought Avery would stay in the hospital until Elliot woke up.

"Mom!" Layla ran downstairs frantically when she saw Avery coming back upstairs.

Robert followed and exclaimed: "Mom!"

Mike shook his head and was dazed by the noise.

"It is estimated that Elliot's situation is not serious." Mike walked over to Hayden and whispered to him, "I'm sleepy, I'll go first."

"You go!" Hayden looked indifferent.

"Oh, you live with your father, don't you feel awkward?" Mike didn't forget to joke before he left, "You also saw your mother's feelings for your father. Of course, your father doesn't have to pick on your mother. You still Let go of the hatred!"
