

Remarriage His Billionaire Ex-Wife By H.D. Cynthia

Chapter 245 - 247

Chapter 245

Chapter 245

Jessica was not completely absent-minded. When Terry looked at her just now, she could feel his eyes getting more and more affectionate. She didn't dare to look up at him.

Watching Terry walk further away, Jessica suddenly remembered something. "Terry!"

She stood up from the sofa. When she looked up, she saw the lipstick mark on Terry's face.

The mark didn't have a lip shape and was just a touch of red. Yet anyone who saw it would know what was going on.

Jessica raised her hand, and it trembled slightly. "There's something on your face."

Terry's eyes flickered as he reached out to wipe his face. When he saw the lipstick mark on his finger, he immediately understood what Jessica meant. "Can I use your bathroom?"

Jessica nodded. "Of course, as you please." Jessica felt awkward staying any longer and turned back to her room.

The door was gently closed. Terry left, leaving Jessica alone in the room.

After a while, Jessica slowly opened her eyes.

She looked at the wall in front of her in a daze.

Jessica hurriedly withdrew her hand. How could Terry... How could he say this?

How could he use the incident five years ago to test her? When she knew the person on her bed five years ago might not be Lucas, she was about to throw up.

When Jessica got annoyed, Hannah called her.

The phone in the living room kept ringing.

Jessica closed her eyes for a while and finally went out to answer the call. "What's up?"

“Hey, why do you sound unhappy?”

famous all over the country this time. Or shall I say, embarrassed themselves in front of the whole country? When Justin wakes up and knows about it will he get furious? I can't control my excitement!”

Jessica was a little absent-minded. “I see. If there's nothing else, I'll hang up now.”

Hannah felt that something was wrong. “What's wrong with you? Did you and Mr. Davison have a fight? You...

Before Hannah finished her words, Jessica hung up the phone.

She didn't want to hear anything about Terry right now, not even his name.

Hannah found it strange and hurriedly called back. But this time, Jessica simply turned off her phone.

Hearing the voice reminder, Hannah couldn't help but snort, “My goodness, such a big temper. It seems that they indeed had a fight!”

,

Terry's question made Jessica unable to sleep. She finally fell asleep at two in the morning.

At 2 am in the morning, some people were fast asleep and others stayed up. The news of the Thomas family's wedding quickly spread out. In less than ten minutes, it became the hottest hashtag.

None of the Thomas family expected that the bride was not Jessica but Luna. At that time, there were thousands of guests present. All the famous people in LA had come. They thought the wedding would bring glory to the Thomas family. None expected that the Thomas family would become a laughing stock because of this wedding.

Before the wedding. Justin was the happiest and proudest person.

The marriage between the Hall and the Thomas family would thrive the Thomas family.

However, Justin's wish evaporated. Justin was so angry that he fainted on the spot. He was sent to the hospital and went out of danger after more than half an hour.

This time, Justin was indeed sent to the hospital for rescue. After the incident, all the Thomas family went to the hospital. Lucas asked Vincent to stay behind and deal with the aftermath.

0.00%

Chapter 245

In the VIP ward, Lucas, Rebecca, and even Louis, who had moved out of the house, were there.

The ward was quite big. There was a sofa for three, the main bed, and another bed for anyone staying with the patient. With Lucas, Dwayne, and Lucas' parents inside, the ward was still spacious.

Louis thought that Justin was going to die and return for his will announcement. Unexpectedly, after waiting for more than half an hour outside the emergency room, Louis only saw Justin's life was saved.

Lucas and Olivia never liked Louis, nor did Louis want to see Rebecca. Seeing Justin wake up, Louis snorted and left the ward.

Chapter 246

Justin woke up on the bed. He rolled his eyes and finally fixed them on Lucas. "Lucas, stay here." He had just been rescued but he still remembered everything that had happened at the wedding.

Rebecca pursed her lips. She had expected this to happen. She crossed her arms and left the ward. Dwayne closed the door and left the ward. Soon, only Lucas and Justin were left in the ward.

Jessica did it on purpose."

Justin's tone was firm. It wasn't a question.

Lucas did not speak. He sat on the sofa with his head slightly lowered. He was holding a phone in his hand.

That dumbphone was produced more than ten years ago. It even had buttons.

Seeing Lucas keep silent and look down at the phone, Justin became even more furious. "What's the use of looking at that damn phone? Our family became a laughing stock because of you!"

This time, Lucas stood up from the sofa. He looked at Justin, who was still using an oxygen mask, and said, "No, Grandpa. That was your fault."

—

“How dare you! What nonsense are you talking about!” Justin was so angry that he wanted to sit up and throw something at Lucas. However, he barely had any strength shortly after the rescue. He raised his arm but had to put it down soon. However, he still glared at Lucas.

“Grandfather, I’m just telling the truth,” Lucas said lightly.

Lucas hadn’t completely recovered from the shock at the wedding. He didn’t want to disguise himself as the grandson Justin adored before.

“Don’t think I don’t know what you’re thinking,” Justin said after taking a few deep breaths. “Do you want to let it go?”

“Or else? Grandpa,” Lucas looked up at Justin and said, “Do you still want Jessica to remarry me?”

“Jessica made our Thomas family a joke in front of the whole world! I have been in the business world for so many years. How can I stand being tricked by a child before I die?” Justin gritted his teeth and said, “Since the Hall family doesn’t want to ally with our family, then we can fight with them to the death.”

Justin was too angry to think about the consequences of gambling with the entire Thomas family.

But he was indeed angry at Jessica. At this time, he gritted his teeth in hatred.

“Grandpa, have you ever thought about why Jessica did that?” Lucas frowned slightly.

“What did you say?” Justin snorted and glanced at Lucas.

He felt somewhat dissatisfied with Lucas’ overly calm attitude.

“Do you think Jessica didn’t know what you had done before? If you hadn’t gone too far, she wouldn’t have designed this farce.”

Lucas’ heart sank slightly as he said that.

He had carefully prepared for the wedding to make up for the past.

However, the wedding turned out to be a farce.

Seeing Lucas make a fool of himself and the Thomas family become a laughing stock was probably what Jessica wanted.

He had previously asked Jessica why she wanted to remarry him. Jessica said she wanted revenge.

It turned out that she wasn't lying. Lucas was overconfident.

"Are you a member of the Thomas family or not? If you want to forsake the surname Thomas, you can get out of the family and the Thomas Group. Do you think no one except you can inherit the Thomas family? I told you earlier that you are not the only choice," Justin slammed the table and shouted, "I want to take down the Hall family. Even if I can't take them down. I have to at least show them that the Thomas family can't be offended!"

"I won't do that, Grandpa" Lucas looked at Justin indifferently. "If you think I am not qualified to be in charge of the Thomas Group. you can find someone to replace me."

Then Lucas left the ward.

The blood pressure detector beside Justin suddenly rang and Dwayne rushed in. "Mr. Thomas, what's up? You just left the emergency room. You can't be angry anymore!"

Justin still cherished his life. He closed his eyes, gritted his teeth, and tried hard to calm down.

After a while, he opened his eyes and looked at the wall in front of him. "Why did Jessica do this?"an

He couldn't understand. Even if Jessica knew what he had done, why didn't she care about the past bond at all? Why would she embarrass the Thomas family on such a public occasion?

Justin just couldn't figure it out. That was way too difficult for someone who only knew about scheming and plotting.

Remarriage His Billionaire Ex-Wife By H.D. Cynthia Chapter 246

Chapter 246

Justin woke up on the bed. He rolled his eyes and finally fixed them on Lucas. "Lucas, stay here." He had just been rescued but he still remembered everything that had happened at the wedding.

Rebecca pursed her lips. She had expected this to happen. She crossed her arms and left the ward. Dwayne closed the door and left the ward. Soon, only Lucas and Justin were left in the ward.

Jessica did it on purpose."

Justin's tone was firm. It wasn't a question.

Lucas did not speak. He sat on the sofa with his head slightly lowered. He was holding a phone in his hand.

That dumbphone was produced more than ten years ago. It even had buttons.

Seeing Lucas keep silent and look down at the phone, Justin became even more furious. "What's the use of looking at that damn phone? Our family became a laughing stock because of you!"

This time, Lucas stood up from the sofa. He looked at Justin, who was still using an oxygen mask, and said, "No, Grandpa. That was your fault."

—

"How dare you! What nonsense are you talking about!" Justin was so angry that he wanted to sit up and throw something at Lucas. However, he barely had any strength shortly after the rescue. He raised his arm but had to put it down soon. However, he still glared at Lucas.

"Grandfather, I'm just telling the truth," Lucas said lightly.

Lucas hadn't completely recovered from the shock at the wedding. He didn't want to disguise himself as the grandson Justin adored before.

"Don't think I don't know what you're thinking," Justin said after taking a few deep breaths. "Do you want to let it go?"

"Or else? Grandpa," Lucas looked up at Justin and said, "Do you still want Jessica to remarry me?"

"Jessica made our Thomas family a joke in front of the whole world! I have been in the business world for so many years. How can I stand being tricked by a child before I die?" Justin gritted his teeth and said, "Since the Hall family doesn't want to ally with our family, then we can fight with them to the death."

Justin was too angry to think about the consequences of gambling with the entire Thomas family.

But he was indeed angry at Jessica. At this time, he gritted his teeth in hatred.

"Grandpa, have you ever thought about why Jessica did that?" Lucas frowned slightly.

"What did you say?" Justin snorted and glanced at Lucas.

He felt somewhat dissatisfied with Lucas' overly calm attitude.

"Do you think Jessica didn't know what you had done before? If you hadn't gone too far, she wouldn't have designed this farce."

Lucas' heart sank slightly as he said that.

He had carefully prepared for the wedding to make up for the past.

However, the wedding turned out to be a farce.

Seeing Lucas make a fool of himself and the Thomas family become a laughing stock was probably what Jessica wanted.

He had previously asked Jessica why she wanted to remarry him. Jessica said she wanted revenge.

It turned out that she wasn't lying. Lucas was overconfident.

"Are you a member of the Thomas family or not? If you want to forsake the surname Thomas, you can get out of the family and the Thomas Group. Do you think no one except you can inherit the Thomas family? I told you earlier that you are not the only choice," Justin slammed the table and shouted, "I want to take down the Hall family. Even if I can't take them down. I have to at least show them that the Thomas family can't be offended!"

"I won't do that, Grandpa" Lucas looked at Justin indifferently. "If you think I am not qualified to be in charge of the Thomas Group. you can find someone to replace me."

Then Lucas left the ward.

The blood pressure detector beside Justin suddenly rang and Dwayne rushed in. "Mr. Thomas, what's up? You just left the emergency room. You can't be angry anymore!"

Justin still cherished his life. He closed his eyes, gritted his teeth, and tried hard to calm down.

After a while, he opened his eyes and looked at the wall in front of him. "Why did Jessica do this?"

He couldn't understand. Even if Jessica knew what he had done, why didn't she care about the past bond at all? Why would she embarrass the Thomas family on such a public occasion?

Justin just couldn't figure it out. That was way too difficult for someone who only knew about scheming and plotting.

Remarriage His Billionaire Ex-Wife By H.D. Cynthia

Chapter 247

Chapter 247

Lucas came out of the ward with a grim face. Rebecca wanted to ask him what this was all about, but in the end, she didn't. She didn't want to annoy Lucas when he was already in a bad mood.

Having noticed that Lucas had walked out of the ward, Louis walked over.

Louis looked at Lucas and snorted. "Jessica must have plotted the whole thing."

With that, Lucas turned to stare at Louis.

Louis' face turned pale when he saw the coldness in Lucas' golden eyes. He couldn't help but step back. Louis tried to say something, yet he didn't dare to.

Lucas then walked away and disappeared at the corner. Louis only moved slightly when Lucas was out of his sight.

Louis' face then recovered, yet his blazer was drenched with sweat.

Lucas looked like a cruel beast as though he would dash over and tear Louis apart if he dared to say one more word.

Lucas looked so scary.

Ever since Louis had started a new family with another woman outside, he didn't go back to the Thomas villa often. And the three kids he had with Rebecca all changed their attitudes towards him.

As the eldest brother, Max used to pay great attention to etiquette, so he had been still polite to Louis.

Olivia was most hostile against him, but Louis didn't care about her attitude at all.

Lucas always looked cold and reserved. Yet every time Lucas glanced at Louis, Louis felt terrified.

Thus, Louis had no guts to preach to Lucas.

Louis turned to look at Justin in the ward, then at Rebecca, who was standing outside the ward. He impatiently said to Rebecca, "My dad is awake now. You may head back."

Louis dared to mess up with neither Lucas nor Justin.

Louis knew that clearly.

Rebecca frowned. "Lucas must be very sad."

Louis didn't comment on that. He had no idea how Lucas felt, but Louis did know things would be tricky for the Thomas family

Besides, whether Lucas was sad was not his concern. Louis only cared about his mistress and their kid.

Louis wanted to leave the hospital, but he suddenly thought of something and walked into the ward.

"Dad, how are you holding up?" Louis walked into the ward and saw the medical apparatus beside Justin Justin frowned at Louis' obsequious look.

"I'm not dead yet." Justin coughed heavily.

Louis forced a smile and said, "Dad, don't talk like that. I wish you good health."

"If I hadn't had a son like you, I could have been much healthier. Now both you and your son are useless. I'll still have to support the family." Justin couldn't help but roll his eyes.

Justin wasn't just speaking out of anger. If Louis was capable enough, Justin wouldn't have had to go out of his way to teach Lucas himself and gotten sick because of Lucas' rebellion.

Yet Louis read between Justin's lines. He quickly said, "Lucas is indeed being too insensible now. But I still have another son. If you would like to teach Oscar, he may be of help in the future."

"Are you trying to exhaust me?" Justin raised his eyebrows when he heard that. He glanced at Louis and snapped, "Get out of here!"

Louis was not very angry when he was kicked out of the ward. He believed that Justin seemed to be less stubborn about staying away from his bastard son.

In the past, Louis didn't even dare to mention Oscar. Now that he did, Justin didn't scold Louis harshly. He only said he would be too exhausted.

Did this mean that Justin also admitted that Oscar was a member of the Thomas family?

Louis decided to hurry back and tell his mistress and Oscar about that. It was good news.

As for what would happen to the Thomas family, he didn't care. In any case, everything would be fine as long as he could get a share of the property in the end.

Lucas rushed out of the hospital, stepped on the accelerator after getting into his car, and sped towards Jessica's apartment.

However, when the car stopped outside Jessica's apartment, he did not get off.

For the first time in his life, Lucas felt a sense of fear.

Lucas had always been fearless. He was not even afraid of death.

But now, facing the truth of tonight's wedding, he was afraid.

He recalled what Jessica had said more than half a month ago. "I want to take revenge on you." She said that twice. Lucas' hands trembled and he even dropped the cigarette he had just lit up.

Chapter 248

Lucas looked down but didn't reach out to pick it up.

A moment later, Lucas took out another cigarette.

In fact, he never liked cigarettes. He only cared for an occasional cigar. But he began to smoke cigarettes after a gathering with Hari and their friends after he divorced Jessica.

Harry told Lucas that Jessica seemed to have been with Terry.

After hearing that, Lucas felt upset and picked up a cigarette on the table.

The smell of nicotine was very strong. In fact, cigarettes didn't smell or taste good. Yet when the smoke entered one's mouth and lungs, it would numb his senses for a moment, shielding him from reality.

That was exactly what Lucas was doing now. He knew Jessica was the plotter. But the question remained whether Jessica was still in love with him or not.

Was she?

Lucas exhaled a mouthful of smoke and found that the question kept lingering.

He couldn't stop thinking about it even when he was smoking.

Lucas took out the dumbphone again and read two hundred odd text messages one by one.

Eight years.

It contained Jessica's love for him for more than eight years. The messages stopped when they got married.

If he counted their three-year marriage, it would be 11 years in total.

How many eleven years were there in a person's life?

Not many

One-tenth of Jessica's life was about loving him. How could she just stop loving him all of a sudden?

Lucas did not believe that Jessica was no longer in love with him.

Jessica didn't sleep well last night, either. It was very late when she finally fell asleep.

What Terry said last night made her recall what happened five years ago.

Not long after she divorced Lucas, Terry snatched a bracelet from her and said that it was his.

Jessica didn't know how the bracelet appeared in her hand. Perhaps she had met Terry before she entered Lucas' room?

That was the only explanation Jessica could have. Otherwise, how could Lucas be the one who was lying beside her, naked, the next morning?

That night she was drugged and lost consciousness, but when she woke up the next day, she was completely sober. The man beside her was indeed Lucas.

Obviously, Lucas did remember what happened that night. Otherwise, he wouldn't have got Jessica wrong.

Since Wendy didn't get a result, Jessica decided to let the whole thing go.

But what Terry said yesterday reminded her of the bracelet. She wondered what on earth had happened that night. How come she had Terry's bracelet when the man beside her was Lucas?

Jessica felt angry, but she didn't know what to be angry about. She grabbed a pillow and hammered it a few times.

After venting her frustration, Jessica calmed down.

Jessica wanted to know the answer, but she didn't want to see Terry for now.

She had already entered Terry's number on her phone, but she didn't dial it in the end.

Jessica didn't wake up until 10 a.m. What had happened at yesterday's wedding brewed.

Some reporters waited for Morgan at the hotel where he stayed. They finally got to speak to Morgan and May at the airport in the morning.

Several reporters rushed up to Morgan, asking him to give his comments on the wedding. The bride should have been Jessica. Why was she replaced in the end?

Morgan had been holding back his anger against Justin for a long time. Now that he had the chance, he vented it all bluntly. "I think you've all got something wrong. The wedding was for Mr. Thomas and Miss Cheek. That was the original plan."

"Then why did you appear at the wedding?"

"You should ask Mr. Justin Thomas why he sent me the invitation. Personally, I didn't want to come. I don't think it's proper for the groom's ex-parents-in-law to show up at the scene, yet Mr. Justin Thomas insisted."

The reporter got even more excited. "But before the wedding, the Thomas family clearly stated that Miss Hall and Mr. Thomas are preparing to get married again. If the wedding held yesterday was not for them, why hadn't you clarified it?"

"Is that so? I'm sorry. I was too busy to have noticed that. But the Hall family never made any statements. I think that's very telling. We have no idea what was really going on with the wedding."