

The Charismatic Charlie Wade Chapter 3889

“Send Charlie?” Elaine was even more puzzled when he heard this: “Jacob, what do you mean by this?”

Jacob hurriedly said: “That’s right, my son-in-law, didn’t you show Ms. Zhan Shui this morning? Ms. Zhan came to the Calligraphy and Painting Association this afternoon and said that I am very grateful to you for seeing the Feng Shui of the villa for her. I am very recognized for his professional level. Originally I wanted to give you a generous reward, but you insisted on not accepting it. Ms. Zhan was overwhelmed, so I bought such a car, named me, and delivered it directly with a scooter. When I arrived at the Calligraphy and Painting Association, I said it was her kindness, so I will definitely accept it!”

When Claire heard this, he couldn’t help but blame: “Dad, how can you be the master and accept such an expensive gift for Charlie?”

Jacob said with an innocent look: “In the beginning, I don’t want to take it, but when people buy this car, it’s directly under my name. Even if I don’t take it, this car is also mine in the legal sense. That’s right, I’m too hard to get off the ground...”

As he said, he hurriedly said to Charlie: “Good son-in-law, Dad really doesn’t want to be the master for you. The point is that this Miss Zhan is really too clever. When they see you don’t charge money, they just leave the car in my name. I sent it down, and they also said that the least favorite thing in this life is to owe favors. If I don’t want to accept this car, then they won’t sponsor us for cultural exhibitions... So President Pei also tried his best. Persuade me to accept this car...”

Claire said angrily: “Dad, even if Miss Zhan left the car in your name, you should at least call Charlie and ask for his opinion! He didn’t nod, why are you? Can you make good opinions?”

Jacob was criticized by Claire, and his face was a little bit uncontrollable, and he said: “Hey...I...I’m afraid I will betray the kindness of Ms. Zhan... You know, Ms. Zhan is not only It is Charlie’s client, and also a distinguished person of our Calligraphy and Painting Association...”

Charlie smiled slightly at this time, and said: "After all, Dad accepts this car, it is also helpless, so don't blame him."

As soon as Jacob heard this, he was immediately pardoned, and said excitedly: "Oh! My good son-in-law! You are still the most fair and objective!"

After speaking, he asked cautiously: "My son-in-law, you said this car...what should I do with it?"

When he said this, Jacob was very nervous.

He was afraid that Charlie would let him return the car.

After all, he is also a face-conscious person, and he likes this Rolls Royce Cullinan from the bottom of his heart.

He drove this car back on the road just now and found that almost everyone on the street would stare at this car for a long time.

And when he drove this car on the street, no one dared to add his plug! No one dared to honk the horn behind him!

Unlike before, when he drove his BMW 530, he was often blocked by people maliciously, especially those cars that were more expensive than him. He was even more merciless when added to his car. Many times he almost hit his car. In the end, he took the initiative to admit counsel and braked to make way for others.

Moreover, Jacob's temperament itself is awkward, so he drove slowly, not fast at all. Many times when he met those more impatient drivers who thought he was driving slowly, he would keep honking his horn behind to urge him, even Constantly flashing high beams.

What's more, when dripping and flashing, and finally driving past him, he would roll down the window and yell at him for a stupid fool.

This makes Jacob feel that all drivers in this world are road rage patients.

However, when he drove this Rolls-Royce Cullinan just now, on the way back to Tomson Yipin from the Calligraphy and Painting Association, he found that all drivers in the world had symptoms of road rage that seemed to healed all at once!
