

The Charismatic Charlie Wade Chapter 4024

Just when many people were still a little astonished, Travis Lane raised his hand without hesitation and said, "I'll give $100 million!"

In the monitoring room, Charlie said with a smile: "Travis Lane is really smart. He knows that he has to fight for the first part. With his financial resources, if he can't earn the first part, it will be even more difficult later."

"Yeah." Isaac Cameron switched one of the pictures to a close-up of Travis Lane's face, and said with a smile, "Look, young master, although Travis Lane's price is very crisp, his expression still seems to be very painful."

Charlie glanced at it, and couldn't help laughing, nodded and said, "Actually, at least half of the two hundred people who came today decided to give up when the starting price was announced. Seeing and seeing how powerful Huichundan is, and even if they are willing to follow the bid, with their strength, it is estimated that they will not be able to call it after a few rounds."

In fact, even Travis Lane himself was a little surprised by the starting price of 100 million US dollars.

According to the current exchange rate, 100 million US dollars is more than 600 million yuan.

The last time he took a whole rejuvenation pill, he only spent 2 billion yuan, and now the starting price of a quarter of the price is actually one-third of the price of the whole last time!

However, Travis Lane couldn't help thinking: "The first one is definitely the cheapest of the four unpacked Huichundan tonight, because most people here still don't know how amazing the Huichundan is, but once the first one is the cheapest. After the share is taken away and taken in public, it will definitely drive these people crazy! The price will definitely go up! So this first share, I am determined to get it!"

Seeing Travis Lane's bid, Jasmine Moore nodded and said with a smile, "Okay, No. 055 offered $100 million. Anyone willing to offer $110 million? If you have, please raise your hand."

As soon as the voice fell, a white-haired old man in the crowd raised his hand and said, "I will give 110 million!"

Travis Lane continued to raise his hand without hesitation: "I will give 120 million!"

Just as Jasmine Moore was about to speak, an old man with a Middle Eastern face raised his hand and said, "I will pay 200 million!"

Travis Lane was instantly stunned by the sudden attack of a old man, and thought to himself: "This guy directly called from 120 million to 200 million as soon as he opened his mouth, I don't know if he is really rich, or deliberately wants to play. A psychological tactic to scare other competitors away with a sharp price increase in an instant!"

Before Travis Lane came back to his senses, he saw the old Nordic queen sitting on the VIP seat in the front row and said, "I will pay 250 million!"

The old queen's worth is not too much, the entire Iliad family, the assets together are just enough to register for this auction.

However, for the old queen who has already walked through the gate of hell, money is not even a fart in front of life.

To say two or three billion dollars, she really can't come up with it, but two or three billion or even three or five billion dollars, she can still get it out through gritted teeth.

Her current thinking is similar to that of Travis Lane. After all, she is not strong enough and has limited ammunition, so she must fight quickly and catch everyone by surprise.

So, as soon as she opened her mouth, she directly put the price too high by $50 million, in order to show her determination to win, and to scare off bidders who were trying to fight her a little bit.

Travis Lane didn't expect that he would meet two competitors who raised their prices by a large margin. At this moment, he even had the urge to directly call for $300 million to see who could scare the other.

However, after thinking about it, there are already two opponents who play like this. If you play like this, it may not work.

So, he raised his hand casually and said casually, "I'll give you 260 million!"
