

The Charismatic Charlie Wade Chapter 4036

After he finished speaking, he hurriedly looked at charlie and choked: "Master Wade, please give me another chance because I made a mistake for the first time, I should not be eligible to participate in this year's auction, but In future auctions, please don't remove me!"

charlie said seriously: "Mr. Travis, I have set up such a big plate and brought so many high-end players here. The most important thing to ensure is the fairness of the game. If the fairness cannot be guaranteed, how will this game continue to be played in the future?"

"But I..." Travis Lane opened his mouth to explain something.

charlie stretched out his hand at this time and interrupted him: "Mr. Travis, everyone is an adult. If you break the rules, you must bear the consequences of breaking the rules."

Although Travis Lane was unwilling in his heart, he also knew very well that in front of charlie, he had no right to bargain.

Not to mention charlie's current status and strength, after this auction alone, charlie may have netted several hundred or even hundreds of billions of dollars, which is far beyond his own. What qualifies to chatter with him?

Thinking of this, he could only sigh in despair, and said respectfully: "Master Wade, you are right, there are thousands of mistakes, it is my own fault, my fault, I will bear it myself."

charlie nodded lightly and asked him, "Who came with you today? I didn't see anyone accompanying you."

"Yes..." Travis Lane said hurriedly, "I didn't bring me with me this time."

charlie asked him, "Why don't you bring Caleb?"

Caleb was charlie's best friend in the orphanage. When charlie introduced him to Travis Lane, Travis Lane really gave him face and made Caleb his driver and assistant, and the annual salary was 2 million. Let Caleb Xianyu turn over and realize the leap of class.

Travis Lane listened to Charlie's question about Caleb, and said even more ashamedly: "Master Wade... I originally wanted to bring Caleb together, but during this time, many people in Haicheng have been racking their brains to know. Why did I suddenly become so young some time ago, I really didn't want the Haicheng group to know this secret, so I was cautious and didn't bring Caleb here..."

Speaking of which, Travis Lane let out a long sigh and laughed at himself: "I'm still too small...too small..."

Charlie smiled slightly and said, "Mr. Travis, with your current physical condition, there is basically no problem with living happily for another fifty years, so let's look at the rejuvenation pill first, and focus on your career. Make some money and do more good deeds, and even if you can't participate in the Huichundan auction, there are other ways to get Huichundan."

When Travis Lane heard this, he asked excitedly, "Master Wade, is this true?!"

Charlie nodded and said seriously: "Aurous Hill has raised me for nearly 20 years. Now I have some abilities, and I want to make some contributions to this ancient city. Next, I will develop many high-end projects in Aurous Hill to promote Aurous Hill. Among the many development projects that have been identified, there is a high-end health care real estate project, if you can join in, you will also have the opportunity to get a rejuvenation pill."

Travis Lane said excitedly: "Master Wade, I am willing to join! Please give me a chance, I will move all my business to Aurous Hill, pay taxes every year for Aurous Hill, create jobs for Aurous Hill, and increase the construction of Aurous Hill. Add bricks to bricks!"

Charlie nodded and said: "If you have this idea, I naturally welcome it. When the time comes, these projects will be developed by the Emgrand Group, you can pay more attention."

Travis Lane had red eyes and choked up: "Thank you, Master Wade! Thank you, Master Wade!"
