

The Charismatic Charlie Wade Chapter 4037

Seeing that Travis Lane's emotions had been soothed, charlie said to him: "Okay, Mr. Travis, you can rest here first, and you can leave when the auction is over. You can pay more attention to what I just said, and I will also I will say hello to Doris Young from Emgrand Group and let her communicate with you in time if she has any progress."

Travis Lane was so grateful, he hurriedly bowed and said, "Thank you, Master Wade, for taking care of him, Travis will never forget it!"

After he finished speaking, he said without hesitation: "I will go back to Haicheng tonight and convene all my subordinates for a meeting to discuss how to transfer the business of the group to Aurous Hill as soon as possible! If Master Wade has anything in the future, use it for me. , or what I need to do, despite the instructions, Travis will do his best!"

charlie nodded and said with a smile: "Okay, you stay here and adjust your mentality, I'll go first."

Travis Lane hurriedly said, "Okay, Master Wade, I will definitely adjust and reflect on it!"

charlie hummed and walked out of the lounge.

After charlie left, Travis Lane's body softened, and he slumped to the ground in an instant. Immediately, he let out a sigh of relief, and his whole body was relieved.

He knew that charlie was right, that he really didn't need rejuvenation pills right now, but just because he didn't need it now didn't mean he wouldn't need it in decades.

Now, after doing this, not only did he not get the Huichundan, but he also ruined his eligibility to participate in the auction in the future.

Fortunately, charlie also left other opportunities for himself, otherwise he would really regret it.

At the auction site at this time, after the successful auction of several ordinary commodities, Jasmine moore said with a smile, "Thank you for your support to our auction, and it will be a highly anticipated moment, because the next lot will be today's auction. The second rejuvenation pill in the evening, interested friends, please prepare to bid."

As soon as Jasmine moore said these words, everyone at the scene immediately sat up straight.

Since they witnessed the amazing changes of the black rich people taking Huichundan with their own eyes, everyone can't wait for the second Huichundan to appear.

At this moment, everyone on the scene no longer questioned the efficacy of Huichundan, and everyone was extremely eager for Huichundan.

The difference is that some people have passed the level of economic strength, so they are already gearing up and eager to try.

And there are some people who know in their hearts that they can't afford it at all, so they can only give up the competition very unwillingly.

At this time, Jasmine moore continued: "Next, please ask our staff to present the second rejuvenation pill to the stage!"

A lady of etiquette came up again with a delicate silver plate, and on top of this silver plate was the second rejuvenation pill that everyone was looking forward to.

After the hostess carefully placed the silver plate on the display table, Jasmine moore said with a smile, "The starting price of the second Huichun Pill is still 100 million US dollars, and the price increase rule is still the minimum price increase of 10 million US dollars each time. Now, interested buyers can start bidding!"

As soon as he finished speaking, the rich man in the Middle East raised his hand without thinking and shouted, "I'll give you two billion!"

The second bid for the first time immediately increased the starting price by 20 times, which is probably impossible in any auction.

But at this moment, no one on the scene felt that the price was unexpected.
