

Chapter 1757

“My Hana is more clean than anybody!” said Zayn coldly. “Hector, regarding your past with Hana, I had gone to the village you’ve once lived in to inquire about it a long time ago before I married Hana! When I made the inquiry back then, it was not even because I wanted to marry Hana! I initially did it because I wanted to be the mediator for Hana and Tessa! When I heard about your past, I was extremely disappointed. I felt that how could there be such a cruel husband in this world? A girl who had been together with you since she was still a minor! She was the biological mother to your daughter! You actually could do such a thing to her! Do was the biological mother to your daughter! You actually could do such a thing to her! Do you know you're worse than a murderer? Hector Caven, I'm warning you! Hana and I are not afraid of you disseminating those photos! Because a person who has done nothing wrong is not afraid of the shadows! However, you listen to me carefully! If you were to disseminate those photos, then you are going to prison for breaking the law! Also, the quicker you disseminate, the quicker I'll put them away! Although I am not like Sebastian Ford, who is the King of South City, I am Sebastian's brother-in-law! If you dare to tarnish my wife's reputation in South City! Do you think you can live your life peacefully?"

o you think you can live your life peacefully?"

"You...Master...Zayn, do you... love that woman...this much?"

Hector replied.

"Of course!" Zayn's tone was suddenly filled with happiness. "Hana is a good woman! It's you who is blind! You were already so old when you managed to pick up a girl who was willing to wholeheartedly live her life with you and was willing to give birth to your child. You, however, went fooling around out there! Therefore, it serves you right to have lost such a good woman! I have picked up a treasure! Hana is my wife from now on, and she will forever be my wife! From today on, not only will she be my wife, but she will be the mother of my child!"

today on, not... will she be my wife, but she will be the mother o f my child!"

Hector was startled. "You...what did you say? Aren't you...aren't you infertile just like me? How could she...get pregnant?"

Zayn sneered with contempt. "
How can I be the same as you? I have the balls. You are nothing! I am a real man with vigor! On the other hand, are you even a man?
You are a freeloading parasite at best!"

"No, this...this is impossible.
This can't be. So, Hana...will no longer care...about Hana anymore in the future?" Hector said.

At the moment, thana took over the phone. "Hector Cave, I had already covered the mother

At the moment, thana took over the phone. "Hector Cave, I had already severed the mother-daughter relationship I had with Tessa. She is your daughter alone. She has no relations with me from now on, so I will no longer give her a single penny. I don't have the obligation anymore. If you instigate Tessa to ask me for money again, I will say that you're blackmailing and extorting me!"

Hector was speechless. He was stunned. How could that be possible? She was with child again? It's the child of a noble man in South City? She truly would no longer care for Tessa anymore? Then would he not truly have anything to blackmail her with in the future anymore?

truly have anything to blackmail her with in the future anymore?

"Hana, you can't not care about Tessa. She is your daughter!" said Hector rascally.

"You've finally said that she is my daughter? Hector Caven! It's too late!" Hana said. Hana hung up the call without hesitation. From then on, the pair of father and daughter no longer have anything to do with her anymore.

Hector collapsed and sat on the floor and did not get up for a long while. He wanted to immediately call his daughter to find out what was going on. Before he managed to call her, he received a call from an unfamiliar number. He asked suspiciously, "Who is this?"

on the other end of the line.

"I am Hector Caven, and you are?"

"Your daughter was killed in a car accident!" the caller said calmly.
