

Chapter 1786

How long has it been since he last saw Sabrina? It seemed like it had been a century. He originally thought that pregnant women should be all weak and clumsy, and all that he pictured in his mind was a kind ugly appearance.

However, Sabrina was not like that. She wore a pink casual suit jacket and both the sleeves of the suit jacket had patterns on them. The slightly rolled up sleeves highlighted her professional look. She wore a pair of slightly fitted tapered pants and also a pair of high-quality leather flats. This outfit not only accentuated the fact that she was pregnant and not only accepted the fact that she was pregnant and cumbersome, but it also gave her a kind of elegance and calmness that was exclusive to a pregnant woman. The way she walked was calm, steady, and unhurried.

Her face could even be clearly seen through the faraway high-powered binoculars. Her face appeared slightly pale, but she had some light makeup on. Those faint red lips and her little freckles accentuated a kind of gentle and playful kind of beauty. She was still so beautiful, even if she was pregnant and carrying a pregnant belly. The little girl that she was holding hands with was also very stylishly dressed. The little girl wore a that she was holding hands with was also very stylishly dressed. The little girl wore a pink dress, light gray cardigan, little light gray leather shoes, and a pink hairband on her head. The hairband was covered with tiny flowers. The little girl was very lively when she held her mother's hand and skipped as she walked. The way the mother and daughter duo walked down the long hallway in the hospital unexpectedly looked like extremely beautiful scenery.

The man behind the high-powered binoculars was stunned by what he saw. He was reluctant to look away from Sabrina and her daughter even for a moment. He missed them too much. Both the from Sabrina, her daughter even for a moment. He missed them too much. Both the mother and daughter duo had an energetic, lively, as well as a kind of incomparably mundane air of life. That was what he had desperately been yearning for all his life. The man was trembling behind the high-powered binoculars.

He muttered to himself, "Sabrina, are you tired? You're already so heavily pregnant and you're struggling so hard to walk, and he's not even following you by your side? Not only do you have to take care of yourself, but you even have to take care of your child! Why? Why is it that he is always not by your side at every crucial moment? It was like this when

Why is it that he is always not by your side at every crucial moment? It was like this when you're pregnant with Aino, it was even more so when you're giving birth to Aino. It was also like this when you went to Star Island. You're already almost eight months pregnant now, but he is still like this? Why do you love him so much? Is it worth it to you like this?"

The man's tone already became incomparably resentful towards the end of his words. Right at that moment, Sabrina received a phone call. The man could clearly see Sabrina shaking her head and smiling nonstop through the high-powered binoculars and from viewing her mouth shape, she seemed to be saying, "No need powered binoculars and from viewing her mouth shape, she seemed to be saying, "No need, no need..."

Sabrina only hung up the call after some time later. The man immediately dialed a group of phone numbers. "What was she saying?"

At the other end of the call, the person who answered the call trembled. "The phone call that madam answered seemed to be from...Master Sebastian. It seemed like Master Sebastian asked her why she went to the hospital and asked if she needed him to come and accompany her. After that, the madam said no need and she asked him if he was busy. It seemed like Master Sebastian asked him if he was busy. It seemed like Master Sebastian was extremely busy. He was so busy that he couldn't come to accompany madam and the young lady to have lunch at noon. Madam then said on the phone, 'No need, no need.' She will take the little princess to lunch herself..."

The man behind the high-powered binoculars cursed "D*mn it! J*rk! B*stard!"

The other man on the other end of the call was speechless.

"Do you have enough men?" asked the man.

The other man replied, "Everything is all prepared, it's just..."

“Do you have enough men?”
asked the man.

The other man replied, “ Everything is all prepared, it’s just...”

The man scolded. “Master,
Master Sebastian’s assistant, Kingston, has been following behind madam and the little princess at all times. Kingston i s very agile. If we were to get into a fight, I don’t know...”

“Get more than half of the men over immediately! We’ll take action in half an hour!”

The man on the other end was speechless.

Chapter 1787

“Carry it out immediately!”

“Yes!”

Right after the man hung up the call, he saw through the high-powered binoculars that Sabrina made a call again. The man immediately dialed the number again, and the call was answered quickly on the other end of the line. “Master, do you have any other orders?”

“Quick! Transfer the wiretap to my end!”

The man on the other end of the call said, “Master, it might not be very clear this way...”

“I’m asking you to transfer it to me immediately!”

"I'm asking you to transfer it to me immediately!"

"Yes, Master!"

Very quickly, the sound of Sabrina making the call could be heard in the man's ears. She was talking to Sebastian on the phone. "Sebastian, I have something that I forgot to remind you just now."

On the other end of the line, Sebastian's tone was incomparably gentle. "What's the matter? A pregnant lady's memory is better than mine? You even know to give me a reminder?"

Sabrina smiled embarrassingly. "If the doctor hadn't told me, I wouldn't have known that you have gotten sick from holding yourself back for me recently."

have gotten sick from holding yourself back for me recently. Hubby, it's always me, a pregnant woman, who teased you every time and I thought it was not a big deal. However, the doctor told me that you have been holding yourself back so badly that you have a slight inflammation. Hubby, I have secretly put the medications in your briefcase, so remember to eat them. Also, remember to drink more water. Your inflammation will also recover faster if you drink more water.”

On the other end of the line, Sebastian said even more gently, “I was wondering why you were so well behaved these few days and have not been pestering me anymore to give it to you a little, just a little. It turned out it's because you knew that I got sick anymore to give it to you a little, just a little. It turned out it's because you knew that I got sick from holding myself back?"

"Well...that's not it as well. Hubby, I know I am wrong. I won't pester you anymore in the future. After I have given birth, you have to properly reward me!" Sabrina teased.

Sebastian smiled. "Mm-hmm, I have to properly reward the most commendable person in our family!"

"Hubby, Aino and I will not eat with you at noon. Have a better lunch by yourself."

"Alright," said Sebastian gently. "Take good care of yourself. I am at the Smith Group helping Zayn to review the costs. I will have at the Smith G... helping Zayn to review the costs. I will have lunch together with this brother-in-law of mine at noon.”

Hearing Sebastian call Zayn his brother-in-law, Sabrina instantly said gratefully, “Sebastian, you truly have been putting in a lot of effort for the sake of my brother recently. I know that if it wasn’t because of me, it wouldn’t be possible for you to help my brother like this. Thank you, hubby. You’ve worked very hard.”

Sebastian smiled. “Aren’t you silly? The person I have to help the most in this life is Zayn. If it weren’t for him, how could you have Aino survive those six years? You’re right, I am helping him all for the sake of you and Aino. Because he is family to you

him all for the sake of you and Aino. Because he is family to you man smiled.

"Hubby, I'll wait for you to come home tonight," Sabrina said.

"Mm-hmm. I will go back earlier tonight. I will wash and massage your feet for you, and then hug you to sleep."

"Bye-bye, hubby."

"Bye."

"Don't forget to take your medication, hubby!"

"Alright."

"Bye-bye!"

"Bye-bye!"

“Bye-bye!”

“Bye-bye!”

Sabrina and Sebastian had been speaking affectionately on the phone for a few minutes outside of Jane’s ward. At the same time when Sabrina hung up the call, the man behind the high-powered binoculars instantly collapsed and sat on the floor.

She loved him so much. They were still so sweet. He did not ignore her, and he surprisingly would even wash her feet when he get home at night? They were so heartwarming that the man suddenly hesitated.

At that moment, the voice at the other end of the call asked for instructions, “Master, when do we take action?”

instructions, “Master, when do we take action?”

At this end, the disheveled man behind the high-powered binoculars said miserably, “Retreat...just retreat!”

“What?”

“Retreat! I’m asking you to retreat! Never ever come back again in the future!” The man suddenly lashed out!

“Alright, alright, Master. I’ll retreat immediately!”

“Hang up the call,” said the man again in a disheveled manner.

After he hung up the call, the man also put away his high-powered binoculars weakly. Just as he turned around, a woman suddenly appeared behind him.

“Hang up the call,” said the man again in a disheveled manner.

After he hung up the call, the man also put away his high-powered binoculars weakly. Just as he turned around, a woman suddenly appeared behind him. The woman stood in front of the man and said sarcastically, “Holden Payne, don’t you like Sabrina? How come you’re not snatching her away anymore?”

Chapter 1788

Holden raised his head and looked at the woman in front of them, and then he shouted! “Ghost of a woman! Get the hell out of my sight! If you don’t get lost, I will give you the most severe punishment and turn you into a pig-like monster!”

The woman sneered. “Ha!”

“Do you think I wouldn’t dare?” Holden sneered. “I can beat you, a pregnant woman, up so badly that you had a miscarriage, have someone remove your womb after that, and then lock you up. How far do you think I am away from turning you into a pig-like monster? I don’t have any patience for you at all! I only feel disgusted by you! I, Holden patience for you at all! I only feel disgusted by you! I, Holden Payne, have never shown any mercy to a woman that I despise!”

The woman immediately smiled sarcastically again. “I believe it! Of course, I believe it! However, Holden, didn’t you notice that I am a person with great vigor? You had already harmed me to that extent and locked me up, but I still was able to escape your clutches. Do you think I, Lily Parker, am someone that is easy to mess with? I’m telling you that I am an evil ghost who came crawling up from the deepest ends of hell! I am already neither a human nor a ghost, so what do I still have to be afraid of?”

Holden shouted, “Do you hate me?”

I still have to take care of!

Holden shouted, "Do you hate me?"

"What do you think?" Lily sneered.

"Parker! You can't hate me!"

Holden said coldly. "I have never harmed the innocent! I have never had any grudges with you in the past and in the present! We don't even know each other! You cursed me the first time you saw me! You cursed the woman I like! It was only natural for me to beat you up! It was over after I had beaten you up. We're even and don't owe each other anything! However, such a b*tch like you have no f*cking shame and you actually had intercourse with me! Don't you know how dirty you are? It was just one night! To be honest, it wasn't dirty you are? It was just one night! To be honest, it wasn't even a night. It was only a brief half an hour! We were standing the whole time! You actually f*cking dare to say that you're pregnant with my child! Lily Parker! Do you have a grudge against me? You actually wanted to take advantage of me and let me be the father to the child in your belly? The reason your pregnancy was terminated and your womb was removed were all because of your own doing! You can't blame anyone else!"

Lily was left speechless by what he said. "I know! Yes! You're right! It's not your fault to have treated me like that in the past, but I have also never blamed you! Holden, if I truly were to blame you and truly hate you, you! Holden, if you truly were to blame you and truly hate you, then will I still help you? I am working with you now! Working with you, do you understand? If it weren't for me, could you be stealthily hidden in this building and observe Aino every day?"

Lily got more annoyed as she spoke. She was radiating vicious rays from her gaze. Two months ago, she took advantage of the time when Holden was drunk and she finally escaped from that small pitch-black room. She used to be so conceited and insufferably arrogant, but that moment when she escaped from the room, she was just as filthy and humble. Although her womb was removed, she still had other functions. On top of that, she no longer needed to worry about getting pregnant anymore. She functions. On that, she no longer needed to worry about getting pregnant anymore. She then slept her way from janitors to fugitives, and finally, she escaped that small island after it took her half a month. After that, she went all the way back to Kidon City. 2

When she got back to her house in Kidon City, her parents could barely recognize her. After hearing Lily recount everything she had been through, she and her parents first hugged each other and bawled their eyes out. After they were done crying and were calmed down, Lily's father violently beat her up.

"You unworthy lowlife! There hasn't been anyone like you in our Parker family! I might as well just beat you to death! I will our Parker family. I might as well just beat you to death! I will beat you to death! After all, you're already an invalid person, so you should just behave yourself and follow me to practice medicine and do good deeds from now on, and then live out your remaining life! I just hope you can be a good person in the future!"

Be a good person in the future? That was not possible! Lily sneered. Unless her father beat her to death, otherwise, she certainly will not be a good person! She wanted to turn Kidon City and South City upside down.

Chapter 1789

When she was escaping, Lily had recalled all of her past sufferings and had thought it through. The reason why she was harmed by Holden to that extent was indeed not his fault. It was Jane's fault! If Lily were to think one step deeper, it was Sabrina's fault. It was Sabrina who had awakened Jane's awareness to fight back. If Sabrina had not been such a big help to Jane, Jane could have already died the moment she left Alex's house!

The core of these women in the entire South City and Kidon City were on Sabrina. Jane had married Alex! Even Ruth had married Ryan! All of them were lowlives from small families in the city. Jane, in particular, had once been married and was sold lowlives from all families in the city. Jane, in particular, had once been married and was sold off like an animal! Such a woman like her actually could marry Alex. Sabrina was actually the manipulator behind the scenes for all of this! It was Sabrina who manipulated all this and it was Sabrina who disturbed the peace of the entire South City and Kidon City. It was Sabrina who pulled her lowly female friends into high society one by one! That d*mned b*tch! Lily must make Sabrina pay a heavy price! She had to mainly focus on Sabrina, and get rid of Sabrina's entire gang and let them suffer a bad end! ①

Of course, Lily certainly also has to seek revenge against Holden! Did Lily spend all those years

o seek revenge against Holden! Did Lily spend all those years abroad for nothing? It was not impossible if she wanted to destroy Holden. However, at that moment, she could still use Holden. Therefore, she said gently to Holden, "Of course I can't settle scores with you for what I've become. I know it very well, Master Holden. I am now standing with you because I sincerely want to work with you.

"Think about it. No matter in South City or Kidon City, you can't show your face. I, on the other hand, could give you a lot of help in both South City and Kidon City. Also, how much help can my best friend's family give you in terms of weapons? I know you have advanced technologies. However, no matter how you have advanced technologies.

However, no matter how advanced your technologies are, you also need actual weapons. Only then can you truly take down Sebastian, isn't it? Master Holden, it's not easy to take down Sebastian. You need help."

"I don't want to take him down anymore now. I just want to go back to my small island and live out the rest of my life peacefully! I will never come to South City again from now on! Therefore, Parker, get the hell out of my way!" Holden's temper was as bad as it could be.

Lily shrugged. "I'm sorry, Master Hold. I'm afraid that won't do. Your small island already has been fully surrounded by Sebastian."

already has been fully surrounded by Sebastian.”

Holden cursed. “B*stard!”

“A huge ship is parked twenty kilometers away from your island. Master Holden, you don’t naively think that the ship is full of supplies sent by Sebastian, right?”

In fact, Lily had already gotten information that that large ship was indeed filled with supplies that Sebastian had planned to send to Holden, and it was parked right outside the small island. When Lily learned about that information, she was stunned. She had only heard others say that Sebastian was born vicious and heartless. Lily truly did not expect that Sebastian would actually care so

Sebastian would actually care so much for Holden. It was very obvious that Sebastian cared about his younger twin brother very much. However, the more Sebastian was so, the more it frightened Lily, as well as Axel and Emma, who were far away in Kidon City. They even went all-out and blocked that information from Holden. ①

“Master Holden, that ship is about a kilometer long and a hundred meters wide. If that ship fires all of its cannons all together, your small island would be flattened to the ground by Sebastian in less than half a day. When the time comes, you truly will be homeless, Master Holden. When the time comes, if Sebastian wanted to crush you to death, it definitely would be even

Holden was speechless. After a few seconds, he called that same number again. “Get ready to move!”

Chapter 1790

Lily immediately smiled when she heard Holden say those words. Holden was going to snatch Sabrina and Aino away to a deserted place where human civilization had regressed for fifty years. Haha! Just the thought of it made her excited. It was the first step of Lily's plan to let Sabrina and Aino leave South City and Sebastian. As long as Sabrina and Aino had left Sebastian, then the mother and daughter duo would not be able to return again. They would never be able to return again in this life. Then, the next person left would be Jane and it would be much easier to deal with her. Haha! Lily quietly left from behind Holden. At this end, Haha! Lily quietly left from behind Holden. At this end, Holden was still ordering his men, "Have you doubled the manpower and are they here already?"

At the other end, his man immediately replied, "Yes, Master Sebastian. We're just waiting for your orders!"

"Snatch! I must snatch them away! I must snatch away the woman and child that belonged to me! One day, I will chop off that son of a b*tch, Sebastian's head," Holden said coldly.

Holden began to tear up as he said that. He originally had a melancholic appearance. At that moment when he teared up, it made him look even more like he had suffered a lot of grievances.

made him look even more like he had suffered a lot of grievances. Holden had felt that he was very aggrieved in his mind. Without a doubt, he loved Sabrina. Not only did he love Sabrina, but he also loved Aino and treated Aino as his own biological daughter. However, even though he loved them, when she saw and heard Sabrina had been wholeheartedly thinking about Sebastian, he still hesitated. After all, that was his biological brother. Even though everything was already ready, Holden still could not do it.

He was not that vicious. However, what about Sebastian? That man was a son of a b*tch! D*mned man! He actually had the island that Holden lived on fully surrounded from all directions! H island that Holden lived on fully surrounded from all directions! He actually sent such a large ship and was prepared to blow up and flatten Holden once again. It looked like because Sebastian had not captured Holden on Star Island the last time, so Sebastian had never given up! It looked like when Sebastian personally told Holden that he would flatten his island to the ground in half a day or two hours, he was speaking the truth. D*mned! B*stard! Sebastian was still so vicious and heartless! Since that was the case, then what was Holden still waiting for? What was he waiting for?

“Take action! If Kingston resisted, beat him to death on the spot!” said Holden incomparably calmly.

the spot!" said Holden incomparably calmly.

"Yes, Master!"

"In the future, call me Master Holden!" said Holden.

"Yes, Master Holden!"

"Go ahead!"

After he hung up the call, Holden quietly looked at the activities in the hospital through the high-powered binoculars. The whole hospital was quiet and still.

Occasionally, there was some childish laughter from children which appeared to be so clear and pure. Occasionally, there were family members, who came to visit the patients, passing through the hospital. Everything looked so normal, but nobody realized that there may be a Occasionally, there were family members, who came to visit the patients, passing through the hospital. Everything looked so normal, but nobody realized that there may be a storm in the next moment. Even Kingston, who had been a professional bodyguard for more than a decade, looked so relaxed and seemed to be unprepared and unguarded.

Chapter 1791

Not far away, those fearless men, who were ready to sacrifice their lives for their mission, slowly approached Sabrina and Aino, and could not help but scoff at each other. "Our leader said that Kingston is very difficult to deal with, but he seemed to be just so-so to me. Look at that careless look of his. I reckon he will certainly be caught off guard when we go up to them in one fell swoop in a moment."

Following that, another man immediately said, "Haha! In the next second, before he can react in time, he would have already been decapitated."

"He will be able to see with his own eyes when his own head

“He will be able to see with his own eyes when his own head separates from his body.”

“I guess that nobody will visit this hospital again for treatment in the future. What a pity for this hospital.”

“We’re going to do something earth-shattering!”

All the fearless men then moved a little closer to the unknowing Sabrina and Aino. Right at that moment, a middle-aged woman holding a little boy’s hand suddenly walked past Sabrina and Aino. That middle-aged woman even had about five men following behind her. Some of them were carrying fruit baskets and some were holding flowers. Without a doubt, that was a and some were holding flowers. Without a doubt, that was a group of relatives who came together to visit their family, who was a patient there. Those fearless men became even more relaxed. That was the most appropriate time to snatch someone away because they could take advantage of the chaos. However, before they could take another step forward, that boy, who was holding hands with the middle-aged woman, actually mischievously touched Aino's head. The little boy also said frivolously, "Little miss, you look so pretty. I like you..."

However, before the little boy could finish his words, he was put into a headlock by the agile Kingston, and he was then suddenly thrown backwards. The Kingston, and as then suddenly thrown backwards. The boy then fell right on the man behind them. The boy was forced to leave Aino, and he was also left unharmed. Not only that, but Kingston's actions were so quick that nobody clearly saw how he did it. Even Holden, who was looking through the high-powered binoculars, did not see it clearly. After the boy was thrown into one of the men's arms, he was first stunned, and then he bawled like a spoiled child.

The group of people saw that they were greater in number, so three men among them started to roll up their sleeves and pants and approached Kingston.

However, Kingston subdued all five men one by one in the next second. All of these men fell on However, Kingston subdued all five men one by one in the next second. All of those men fell on the ground. They just saw that Kingston was already shielding Sabrina and Aino behind him. Kingston looked at them calmly. "Madam and little princes, don't be afraid. As long as I am here, even if we were surrounded by a hundred men, I will beat them up into a pulp! I certainly will protect madam and little princess and leave you unharmed!"

Sabrina and Aino were calm being behind Kingston. Of course, they trusted Kingston.

At that moment, those fearless men were all dumbfounded. They finally saw Kingston's skills with their own eyes. With Kingston's skills, they were men were all dumbfounded.

They finally saw Kingston's skills with their own eyes. With Kingston's skills, they were simply irrelevant. Even Holden, who was behind the high-powered binoculars, was dumbfounded. Holden knew Kingston was Sebastian's bodyguard and he knew that Kingston was skilled in combat. However, he did not know that Kingston was that skilled in combat. He was so skilled that he stunned Holden.

Holden immediately made another phone call. "Cancel the mission first!"

The person on the other end of the call sighed. "Master Holden, that Kingston is too skilled. Although we have increased our manpower, we...still can't be Although we have increased our manpower, we...still can't be sure of winning.”

“I know. I have already seen it, so retreat first!” said Holden resentfully. He punched the wall with the back of his hand, and he was so annoyed that he almost wanted to tear down that building. He could not help but cursed furiously. “F*cking balls! What can I do to let Kingston die! I have to first have Kingston killed!”

At that moment, Lily stealthily came to Holden's side. “Master Holden, I told you Sebastian is not easy to deal with. You've seen it clearly now, right? Do you think you'll have a chance when Sebastian is by Sabrina and Aino's side? Actually, it's you think you have a chance when Sebastian is by Sabrina and Aino's side? Actually, it's not like that! Since Sebastian dares to let Sabrina and Aino out of his sight, that means he has absolute certainty that could protect the mother and daughter duo. Also, Kingston is not ordinary. Let's put it this way, you have raised this group of fearless men who were deadly loyal to you. However, Kingston's loyalty to Sebastian is way more than these fearless men of yours. He will use his life to protect the mother and daughter duo, do you understand? Therefore, Holden, you can't get your way!"

"Parker, shut up, you cursed crow!" said Holden angrily.

Lily smiled nonchalantly. "I to protect the mother and daughter duo, do you understand? Therefore, Holden, you can't get your way!"

Lily smiled nonchalantly. "I came to tell you that I have a good solution."

Holden turned and looked at Lily. "What solution?"

Lily smiled wickedly, and then she leaned into Holden's ear and whispered to him. After Holden heard it, he instantly flew into a rage. He suddenly threw Lily to the ground and pinned her head down. He raised his foot and aggressively stepped on Lily's chest. Lily could not stop coughing from being stepped on.

Holden scolded fiercely. "Woman, listen to me carefully. Don't think I don't know what you're thinking! You wanted to kill Sabrina with a stroke, didn't you? I'm telling you, don't even wishfully think of killing Sabrina at a stroke! From now on, whenever Sabrina is in slight at a stroke! From now on, whenever Sabrina is in slight danger, I will slice you up alive piece by piece! You have gotten a taste of how I abuse and punish you, haven't you?"

Hearing Holden say that, Lily instantly shuddered. That process where she was forced to have her baby and womb removed were still vivid in her mind till date. She shuddered at the thought of it. However, what made her have a twisted fury and jealousy was the love Holden had for Sabrina. Why? That woman had stirred up the entire high society of South City, and even had snatched away her fiance in passing! How could Lily not hate her? She hated her to the bones!

Lily endured the pain adn

her? She hated her to the bones!

Lily endured the pain and smiled. "It won't happen, Master Holden. Think about it, what kind of person is Sabrina? In those six years back then when she was on the run, she had fallen off a cliff, chased and hunted numerous times, practically went through hell, but she still gave birth to Aino. This shows that she is a strong-willed woman! Wasn't it because she is so incomparably strong-willed that you liked her so much? She is such a strong-willed woman that even the child in her belly would not be harmed easily. Don't worry. Besides, I am a woman from a family who had been practicing medicine for generations. I can find the best doctor for her and let her have generations. I will find the best doctor for her and let her have the best medical equipment.

Even if she were to suffer any shock, I will make sure that she is unharmed.”

Holden could not help but to ask, “Why do you want to help me so much?”

“Two reasons!” Lily immediately said viciously. “

Firstly, because if anything bad were to happen to Sabrina, you will certainly kill me. I believe it! I’m afraid! Secondly, I hate Sabrina! I know Sabrina loves Sebastian very much, so I just want to tear them apart! I want to make sure that Sabrina never ever returns to South City again!

Are these two reasons sufficient?”

Are these two reasons sufficient?"

Holden laughed. He took his foot off her chest. "Very sufficient! I believe you now! Get up!"

Only then did Lily endure the pain and got up. Holden grabbed her chin. "You don't have a womb anymore. You just wanted to marry Alex! It's nothing. I will help you!"

"You...you won't torture me anymore?" Lily asked.

"You are so sincere to me, so what for do I still torture you? I'll give you a pointer. Although you are infertile, Jane had just given birth to a child. Do you understand?" Holden replied.

"Understand! I understand! I understand it very well!" There “Understand! I understand! I understand it very well!” There was a pause before she swore viciously. “Jane Sheen! I certainly snatch back everything that I have lost! Alex can only be mine! Mine!”

She turned around and said to Holden, “We can start taking action now.”

“Good!” Holden smiled with satisfaction.

Nobody knew about these secret plans that the two of them had conspired in a hidden corner. At that moment, Sabrina was hugging Aino with both her arms, and was dumbstruck as looked at that little child, who was shocked silly, as the little child’s family. Those family members were most probably hugging Aino with both her arms, and was dumbstruck as looked at that little child, who was shocked silly, as the little child's family. They were praising the little boy as he was only almost eight years old, but he already knew how to flirt with girls. However, they were only halfway through their praises before they were stunned on the spot by Kingston's series of actions.

Kingston told the group of people in an incomparably cold and stern manner, "No matter how young your child is, please properly look after your child! Don't let him be turned into ashes within seconds before his bones are fully developed!"

After saying that, he crushed the pendant on his car keys that he had in his hand in front of so many people and turned it into a pendant on his belt and the keys that he had in his hand in front of so many people and turned it into a pile of powder. Not only were those people stunned when the powder flew up in the air, but they were so frightened that their hearts almost pounded out of their chest. After he was done saying that, Kingston then respectfully told Sabrina and Aino. "Madam and little princess, let's go in."

Sabrina, who was heavily pregnant, nodded. "Alright."

Aino turned around and childishly taunted at the little boy, who had already peed his pants in fear, with his eyes. "Well! How would I know Uncle Kingston would move so quickly? I originally wanted to punch out two of your front Kingston would have so quickly? I originally wanted to punch out two of your front teeth. Do you know that your front teeth are too ugly and yellow? How many days have you not brushed your teeth, you fool!”

The little boy was speechless. Right at that moment, more than ten men in suits rushed out of Jane’s ward, and they surrounded Sabrina, Aino, and Kingston. “Madam! Little miss! Assistant Yates! What happened? It’s our fault for noticing it so late.”

Sabrina shook her head. “It’s nothing. You may retreat. You should prioritize protecting Missus Poole well.”

“Yes, Madam!” said the leader.

“Yes, Madam!” said the leader. All the people behind them were speechless. They were only stunned just now and just could not wrap their heads around the fact that there were actually still such experts hidden in the big city. At that moment, only did they truly realize that they had met people that they could not afford to offend that day. One of the people behind them instantly said, “John! You better f*cking behave in the future! You’re still so young and yet, you keep flirting with girls all day! You must have been spoiled by your mother! If you were to do this again in the future, you won’t even know how you ended up dead!”

The little boy named John had already peed on the floor. At that

The little boy named John had already peed on the floor. At that moment when he heard his father reprimanding him like that, he immediately held back his tears and nodded his head with all his might. However, the few aunts and uncles of his were not having it. His uncle shouted the fiercest, "Tarrence Cunningham! How could you say that? What do you mean his mother had spoiled him? Why don't you say that you're the one who spoiled him? What does it have to do with his mother when it's your son who learned the bad things? It's clearly because you, as his father, did not set a good example, that's why he did not behave well."

"Dale Woods! Do you want to not behave we

“Dale Woods! Do you want to die?”

“Terrence Cunningham, you deserved a beating!”

“Dale Woods! Do you think that because your elder sister is my wife, I wouldn’t dare to hit you?”

The group of people actually began to argue in the lobby of the hospital. Kingston, who had already followed Sabrina and Aino to the door of the ward, suddenly stopped in his tracks. He turned around and in a tossing motion, he threw out a bunch of things that seemed like keys and it landed directly on the hair of the man named Tarrence.

Tarrence was speechless.

Tarrence was speechless.

Holden, who was looking through the high-powered binoculars, was also stunned. He knew that Kingston, who had been by Sebastian's side, was able to fight 100 men by himself. However, he had never seen it himself. I thought that it was an exaggeration. However, Holden had truly witnessed Kingston's skills in combat at that time. Holden took a deep breath in.

Kingston, on the other hand, had already come to the front of Tarrence. At the same time when he raised his hand and took the keys off, he ordered the people. "This is the hospital! It's filled with patients who are staying here everywhere! How could all of you be making trouble here? If here everywhere. How could all of you be making trouble here? If you want to educate your child, then do it at home! Otherwise, these keys would be stuck in your eyes the next time!”

“Yes, yes, we...will get lost immediately.” Tarrence said.

The group of people then ran away within a minute. Only then did Kingston turn his head around to look at Sabrina. “

Madam, this way, they won't be disturbing Missus Poole anymore. You may enter.”

Sabrina nodded. After that, she entered the ward and called out, “Jane...”

Chapter 1794

Jane was feeding her child inside the ward. At the same time, Alex was also feeding the child. In the past few days, Alex had not left the ward. During the day, he had been a super responsible father. He was already an expert at changing diapers and clothes for the child. At that moment, when he saw that Jane was not holding the bottle in the right position when feeding the child, Alex would even criticize Jane, "Look at you. You're holding the bottle too high with such a position. You will choke the child."

Jane replied, "I know, dear!"

Alex continued, "Also, when you prepare the formula powder for the child in the future, you have t prepare the formula powder for the child in the future, you have to make sure the temperature is just right. You have to test it with the skin on the inner part of your wrist and it has to be slightly warmer than that, then it will be just right when the child drinks it!”

Jane smiled and said again. “I know. You’re being a nag!”

Alex was speechless.

He was Alex Poole, the person with the highest power in the entire Kidon City that was feared by everyone, and he actually became a nag. However, he was willing to. He felt that no matter how great the power he had in his hand, he would not be as happy as being a father in this hospital. Just when Alex was happy as being a father in this hospital. Just when Alex was immersed in happiness and was personally teaching Jane how to feed the child, and right when he looked at Jane and his son with incomparable happiness, Sabrina entered the ward. Both Alex and Jane did not expect that Sabrina, who was carrying a pregnant belly, would come to the hospital to visit Jane. The sudden arrival of this guest made Jane extremely happy. She immediately handed the child to Alex, and he very skillfully took over the child. Jane, on the other hand, hurriedly wanted to get out of bed, but she was stopped by Aino, who quickly ran in. ①

“Aunt Jane, don’t get out of bed. Don’t move, Aunt Jane.” The little girl was being very serious.

“Aunt Jane, don’t get out of bed. Don’t move, Aunt Jane.” The little girl was being very serious. She ran to the front of Jane and carefully raised both her hands to support Jane. She then slowly helped Jane back onto the bed little by little.

“Aunt Jane, you have exhausted a lot of your strength when you gave birth to your child and you have lost a lot of blood. You are still very weak now. Don’t move. My mom would walk over by herself. Although my mom is pregnant, she still has a lot of strength.” All these were what Aino’s mother had usually taught her. Her mother had been saying to Aino, “Aino, although I am pregnant now, the more I am pregnant, the stronger I am. This is because I have to protect pregnant, the stronger I am.

This is because I have to protect two children from now on and I must be strong!”

Aino remembered what her mother said. Her mother was the strongest when she was pregnant. Jane teared up slightly when she heard Aino say that. Although the little girl's child words were incoherent, Jane understood it. She understood the true meaning of what Sabrina told her child. Sabrina simply wanted to tell her child that a mother could protect her own children. A mother could become infinitely stronger for the sake of her children.

Jane was very relieved. Her heart was greatly inspired. She tilted her head and happily looked at the imposing pregnant woman, her head and happily looked at the imposing pregnant woman, who was walking towards her one step at a time. "Sabrina, you've finally come to see me! You have no idea. When I had just given birth, I thought I was going to die because I had lost a lot of blood. I was thinking I can not see anyone else, but I had to see you. Because if anything bad were to happen to me, the only person that I can trust my child with is you! However, when I came out of the delivery room at that time, I saw everyone I knew, but I didn't see you. At that time, I instantly felt a lot less secure."

At that moment, Sabrina had already come to the front of Jane. She smiled very cheerfully.

"Oh, am I that important?"

"Of course!" Jane replied.

I instantly felt a lot less secure.”

At that moment, Sabrina had already come to the front of Jane. She smiled very cheerfully.

“Of course!” Jane replied.

“Haha! Say, you’re already a mother of a child, but you can’t slack off. Since you’ve already given birth to the child, you have to raise him. Nobody can replace you, who is his biological mother, especially me. I already have two children and I still haven’t had enough. I still want more children in the future. How do I have the time to take care of your child?”

Chapter 1795

Jane smiled at Sabrina. "You're sharp-tongued but you're actually soft-hearted."

Sabrina had already come to the front of Jane. She felt sorry for Jane as she looked at her. "Jane, you're so pale and you've lost volume in your face."

Jane nodded. "I have struggled free from the grips of the Grim Reaper."

"Jane, you must live!" said Sabrina as she gritted her teeth.

Jane nodded again. "Yes, I must live! Not only must I live, but I also have to live very strongly. I must be like you and protect my child for life. Not only that, but I also have to defend my must be like you and protect my child for life. Not only that, but I also have to defend my marriage,” said Jane, and then she looked at Alex who was holding the child.

“Mister Poole,” Sabrina called out. She never expected that Mister Poole would be natural at taking care of the little baby. He was like an extremely decent full-time father. At that moment, he had just finished feeding the child and was burping him. Also, the posture and technique he used to make the child burp were so accurate. Within a few minutes, the little baby burped. Only then did Alex feel at ease and put the child back into the stroller.

Alex raised his head and looked at Sabrina after he put the child stroller.

Alex raised his head and looked at Sabrina after he put the child down properly. “Sabrina, do you feel that I seemed more of a family man than your Sebastian now?”

Sabrina nodded her head. “Mm-hmm. Yes, particularly so. Mister Poole, you really have changed a lot.”

Alex chuckled. “Yes. Before I had my child and found Jane, I just couldn’t wrap my head around why Sebastian actually changed so drastically within the past couple of years. It turns out this was it. A man who became a father and has a family is truly different. All of his vicious hostility would naturally be replaced by the family air, his hostility would naturally be replaced by the family air, his child, and his wife. People said that life is as simple and happy as sitting by the fire with one's wife and children. Say, how true is this saying from the people of the past."

Hearing Alex explaining it like this, Sabrina immediately smiled and looked at Jane. "Jane, your sufferings have finally ended and you've gotten such a good husband who cares for his family. You have to hold on to him tighter."

Sabrina originally thought that Jane would be shy, but unexpectedly, Jane immediately said, "Of course! If anyone dares to snatch my husband from me in the future, I will chop that person up into pieces and throw n the future, I will chop that person up into pieces and throw them into the stinky sewers!”

Sabrina was very satisfied when she saw Jane like this. It was only best when a person’s bravery spilt over from the bottom of their heart. In the future, nobody could ever influence Jane’s fate anymore.

Jane and Sabrina chatted for quite a while in the ward. After that, Sabrina held the little baby for a while and after she watched the little baby getting a bath, she got a little tired. Only then did she get up and say goodbye to Jane and Alex.

“Sabrina, you have had it hard these days,” Alex said from the bottom of his heart.

... immediately teased bottom of his heart.

Sabrina immediately teased Alex, "Hey, Mister Poole, what do I have to be having it hard. I only came to see Jane once after so long."

Alex sighed. "I have been accompanying my child and Jane in the ward these few days. I didn't even have time to handle my own matters that I had on hand. Now, I have fully authorized and entrusted everything to Sebastian and have him handle it on my behalf. I heard that he was so busy these few days that he didn't even have time to go home. Therefore, it must have been hard on you." Alex was sincerely apologetic.

Sabrina immediately changed apologetic.

Sabrina immediately changed her tone to comfort him. "It's fine, Mister Poole. As long as Jane and the child are fine, it would be worth it no matter how much Sebastian and I dedicated ourselves. Alright, Mister Poole, I have to go now." She was a little tired and wanted to go home earlier.

"Alright!" Alex immediately agreed.

Sabrina brought Aino out of the ward, and just when she was about to go to Hana's ward, her phone rang. She immediately answered the call. "Hello?"

However, when she heard the voice of the other party, she was stunned for a moment.

Chapter 1796

The phone call was unexpectedly coming from Sean Ford. What was even more expected for Sabrina was that Sean's voice was very gentle. Although Sean was afraid of Sebastian, and he had no relations with the Ford Group since a long time ago, Sean was still usually very mighty, especially in the Ford Residence. He was also a very mighty person in Sabrina and Aino's eyes. However, this time, Sean's tone was clearly very weak.

"Sabrina, I...I am your father-in-law," said Sean.

Father? This term was very unfamiliar to Sabrina. She only had a father and he had already Father? This term was very unfamiliar to Sabrina. She only had a father and he had already passed away when she was twelve years old. Later on, she learned that Lincoln was her biological father, but Lincoln had never given her a tiny bit of fatherly love. He even pushed her into prison with his own hands. Therefore, father was a word that made Sabrina feel ironic and amused every time she heard it. Later on, she married Sebastian. Just like her, Sebastian also rarely addressed his father. Sebastian even rarely had interactions with Sean. Sabrina, on the other hand, would take the initiative to acknowledge and greet Sean every time she saw him. However, every time Sabrina acknowledge a meet Sean every time she saw him.

However, every time Sabrina respectfully addressed Sean, he would ignore Sabrina, so much so that Sabrina had only been courteous to this father-in-law of hers and did not go beyond that.

Ever since Sabrina was pregnant, she had hardly seen Sean. She was not willing to meet these people who would upset her. For example, Lincoln Lynn, Old Master Shaw, and also Sean Ford. Her husband, Sebastian, had never forced her to meet with these people, especially those from the Ford Residence. That place was basically a place of humiliation for Sabrina.

Therefore, ever since Sabrina was pregnant, Sebastian never took Sabrina back to the Ford Residence anymore. Sabrina also Therefore, ever since Sabrina was pregnant, Sebastian never took Sabrina back to the Ford Residence anymore. Sabrina also had never asked about anything regarding the Ford Residence. Therefore, at that moment, Sabrina never would have expected that her father-in-law would actually take the initiative to call her and submit to her.

Sean's voice sounded old. "Sabrina...I am already more than seventy years old this year."

Sabrina's tone was a little low and a little dry. "Mister Ford, do you want something?"

"I..." Sean wanted to say something but he stopped himself. There was a pause before he said, "I am already getting older, and grandfather-in himself. There was a pause before he said, "I am already getting older, and grandfather-in-law was sick again a few days ago. He is already one hundred and one years old. The doctor had also given us the final notice that the old man will only have a month to live at most."

Sabrina was speechless. That made her feel overwhelmingly shocked. Old Master Ford, Henry Ford, had been used to being authoritative and domineering. His children and grandchildren were very respectful to him and had meticulously taken care of his health, so much so that Old Master Ford was actually able to live to the age of a hundred and one. The life of a a hundred and one-year-old was about to disappear soon?

one-year-old was about to disappear soon?

Henry was the person that Sabrina hated the most in the Ford Residence. Once the old man was mentioned, Sabrina would be reminded of all those humiliations Henry had imposed on her seven years ago.

However, the old man's life was already coming to end at that point, so what else was there to care about?

Sabrina softened her tone and said, "Mister Ford...I got it. Sebastian...he is truly very busy these few days because the wife of Mister Alex Poole had just given birth to their child, Sebastian had to help Alex handle his matters. He had been working from dawn to dusk these few days because the wife of Mister Alex Poole had just given birth to their child, Sebastian had to help Alex handle his matters. He had been working from dawn to dusk every day, so don't blame him. I will tell Sebastian tonight when he comes home. Tomorrow, we will find time to go back and visit ...” Sabrina truly did not want to address Henry as grandpa. However, she gritted her teeth and endured it.

Chapter 1797

“Sebastian and I will bring Aino to visit Grandpa...” she said calmly.

“Sabrina,” Sean called out Sabrina’s name affectionately again. It seemed intimate, apologetic, and submissive.

“Mister Ford, you...is there anything else?” Sabrina asked.

“Sabrina, will you...forgive me?” asked Sean.

Sabrina was speechless.

“I had never known my mistakes in the past. I used to be very arrogant, but since I saw the old man dying soon, I suddenly felt that I am already old. I am in my seventies. Why am I still making that I am already old. I am in my seventies. Why am I still making such a fuss? You already got pregnant twice for the Ford family. Aino is already so big and she is so likable. As her grandpa, what do I still have that I'm not satisfied with? I had gone overboard in the past! I have particularly gone too far! Sabrina, I am already old, perhaps...perhaps right after your grandfather-in-law has passed away, I will..."

"Mister Ford!" Sabrina interrupted Sean. "Don't say that, Mister Ford. I...I forgive you. I...I have never held a grudge against you, Mister Ford."

Sabrina was very soft-hearted. She could firmly fight to the end with a person who had harmed

Sabrina was very soft-hearted. She could firmly fight to the end with a person who had harmed her, but she was not very good at continuing the argument with someone who showed her their weakness. She would not do that.

“Mister Ford, actually, you had not made things difficult for me, so I certainly would not hold a grudge against you. Perhaps because Sebastian is a man of few words and is not so close to you, so you may have some misunderstanding. However, you also knew that Sebastian had been very bothered by the death of his mother, who is also my mother-in-law. That was why he had a grudge against the Ford Residence. Don't worry. I will do my best and I will find a way to Residence. Don't worry. I will do my best and I will find a way to persuade Sebastian. We will go visit Old Master Ford in the hospital as a family of three."

Sean's tone eased up a lot. "That's good. That's good. Hahaha!" He laughed humbly.

Sabrina's heart was filled with mixed feelings. At night, after Sebastian had returned home and got to bed after washing up, only then did Sabrina say to him, "Sebastian, your father...called me today."

Sebastian answered without hesitation, "You're going to give birth soon. It's already hard enough on you, so I don't want you to go through any other unpleasant experiences. If he is asking us to go back to the Ford unpleasant experiences. If he is asking us to go back to the Ford Residence, then you just directly refuse it!”

Sabrina was speechless. There was a pause before she persuaded him, “Sebastian, he...is your biological father, after all. He is the man that your late mother had loved her whole life!

Sebastian looked at Sabrina and sighed. “Did he submit to you today?”

“He is already so old...”

“You’re just too soft-hearted.”

Sebastian wrapped his arm around the Sabrina’s shoulders.

She leaned against her man. “

Sebastian, if I am a truly heartless and extremely vicious woman like Emma Poole, Lily Parker, and Selene Lynn. Would you...would you still want me? Of course, not. He is...your biological father, after all, and he is the man your mother loved the most in her life.”

Sebastian kissed Sabrina on her forehead. “I know. I know Old Master Ford is sick. He called me today. I will find time to visit him tomorrow. Don’t worry. Just sleep.”

“Mm-hmm.” Sabrina slept without worries.

The following day, Sebastian left the house again before the daybreak. He was indeed too occupied with matters at the company, but he had to visit Old occupied with _____ers at the company, but he had to visit Old Master Ford, so he had no choice but to find time and go over earlier.

When Sabrina woke up, Sebastian had left the house a long time ago. Even Aino had already gotten dressed by herself and was about to leave the house after having breakfast.

“Bye-bye, Mom,” Aino said.

“Bye-bye, Aino. Come home earlier after school. I will make crab ravioli for you today.”

“Alright, Mom.” Aino skipped out of the door.

Before Aino got into the elevator and before Sabrina closed the door, Sabrina heard Aino’s shout. “Mom, look!”

“Bye-bye, Mom,” Aino said.

“Alright, Mom.” Aino skipped out of the door.

Before Aino got into the elevator and before Sabrina closed the door, Sabrina heard Aino’s shout. “Mom, look!”

Sabrina was startled. “What’s wrong, Aino?”

Chapter 1798

“Mom, look, it’s Grandpa!” Aino shouted again.

At that same time, Sabrina also walked out the door clumsily. In an instant, she saw Sean standing in front of the elevator and was even holding two bags in his hands. He looked a little tired, but his expression was very pleasing. “Sabrina, you... you don’t have to make crab ravioli for Aino anymore. This is ...what I bought last night from the oldest ravioli-making shop on one of the oldest streets in the city. I specifically watched them prepare the crab meat and wrap it up, and then I watched them as they put them into the freezer to freeze them.”

Sabrina and Aino were freeze them.”

Sabrina and Aino were speechless.

“If the timing to freeze the crab meat was messed up, then they wouldn’t freeze. If they were frozen for too long, even if it was just a second longer, they would not achieve that freshness.

Therefore, it was cooked at four in the morning and it was done in half an hour. When I arrive at your door, it’s just in time... It’s just in time...” Sean mumbled.

Sabrina knew what Sean wanted to say. He must have seen Sebastian just in time at that time.

“Did Sebastian ignore you?”

Sabrina asked in slight disbelief. She felt that Sebastian would not Sabrina asked with a slight disbelief. She felt that Sebastian would not do such a thing.

Sean stuttered. "No, no. I...he was busy. I saw him collecting his car alone and his driver was not by his side. I...I was afraid that he would not be happy when he saw me and then he would not be able to drive safely, so I...I didn't let him see me."

At that point, it was impossible for Sabrina not to be touched. She immediately said, "Mister Ford, did you...stay up for the whole night?"

Sean smiled. "I...I wanted to let my granddaughter have a bite of the freshly made crab ravioli." He held the bags wrapped in a cotton cloth and stuttered while looking at Aino, "Aino, have a cotton cloth and stuttered while looking at Aino, "Aino, have a bite? The ravioli I brought over for you is certainly more delicious than the ones made by your mother. If you don't want to see me, then I'll turn around and leave once you take these bags from me."

Aino was speechless. She had always been a strong little girl, and she had always been very accepting of coaxing but not coercion. In the past, her grandpa had not treated her with much enthusiasm, and she had never wanted to have any affection with her grandpa.

Sometimes, Aino even thought that even if she were to starve or freeze to death, she absolutely would not seek help from her grandpa. However, it was would not seek help from her grandpa. However, it was different at that moment. Her grandpa was very weak. He seemed like an incapable old man. The old man had a head full of white hair and his back was a little hunched. The way he looked at Aino was so affectionate like he was her grandpa.

“Are you my real grandpa?”

Tears began to well up in Aino’s eyes.

“Of course! I am your father’s biological father. Your relationship with your father is just the same as your father’s relationship with me.” Sean was also tearing up.

Aino burst into tears. She rushed into Sean’s arms and hugged his Aino burst into tears. She rushed into Sean's arms and hugged his legs. "Grandpa, I don't want the ravioli. I just want you. There are many children in my class who were loved by their grandpas. Many of them would be protected by their grandpas when they were punished by their parents. However, I never had one..."

Sean was speechless. At that moment, there were changes to his facial expressions. He was stunned at first, then he suddenly frowned. His expression clearly showed that he was heartbroken. He handed the bags to Sabrina, and then squatted to hug Aino. "Aino, when your dad punishes you in the future, I'll punish your dad, alright?"

when your dad punishes you in the future, I'll punish your dad, alright?"

Aino instantly laughed. "Not alright!"

Sean smiled. "You little thing, you still know to care for your dad."

"Haha. Grandpa..." Aino tilted her head and looked at Sean as if that was the first time she met Sean.

"Hey, you're my good granddaughter," said Sean.

"Grandpa, hurry up and come into my house." Aino then led Sean into the house.

was waiting for Aino by the car downstairs, was getting more and more anxious. Just when he was about to go upstairs to check why the little princess still had not come down, Kingston received a call from Aino. He immediately answered the call. “Little princess, why haven’t you come down yet?”

Aino’s voice sounded very happy. “Uncle Kingston, wait a few more minutes for me. I will be right down after I finish my ravioli. I will also bring some to you later.”

Kingston smiled. “Thank you, little princess.”

“Gee, Grandpa, you’re so slow at walking down the stairs,” said Aino with a smile.

“You little thing, you’ve truly set me up badly. You told me that it’s fun for the two of us to walk down the stairs while holding hands, and I believed you.

However, you’ve already gone quite a few steps down, but I still couldn’t get down.”

“Grandpa, I’ll support you.”

Aino went up the steps again to hold her grandpa’s hand. “Be careful, Grandpa.”

Grandpa? Kingston was confused for a moment. Was it Sean? It sounded like him, but why was Aino so friendly with him? Just a sounded like but why was Aino so friendly with him? Just as Kingston wanted to go upstairs to see for himself, Aino had already led Sean down the stairs. Indeed, it was Sean. However, Kingston was also stunned. He never expected that Aino would be so friendly with the old man. She was not distant with him at all, and was very close to him. Kingston also felt touched for a moment for some reasons. After all, he was her grandpa, so there was no reason for them not to be close.

“Morning, Old Director Ford.”
Kingston bowed to Sean respectfully.

“Uncle Kingston, this is the ravioli that my grandpa gave you.” Aino handed the bag over to Kingston.

Kingston was flattered. “Thank you, little princes. Thank you, Old Director Ford.”

Sean looked at Kingston. “Kingston, you have worked hard taking care of my granddaughter every day. When Sebastian brings Sabrina and Aino to the Ford Residence one day, you should also come in and eat with us. You're the Ford family's guardian angel.”

“Thank you...thank you, Old Director Ford,” Kingston said.

“Go on, send Aino to kindergarten. Drive slower on the road,” said Sean.

“Yes!” said Kingston.

“Yes!” said Kingston.

“Haha, Uncle Kingston, my grandpa is nice, right?” asked Aino.

Kingston was speechless.

“I will be a child with a grandpa from now on,” said Aino proudly.

Kingston was speechless again. ‘Well, little princess. I have to correct you for a moment. You have always had a grandpa. Well, did you only realize today that you have a grandpa?’

The little princess had told Kingston several times on the way to school. “Uncle Kingston, I have grandpa now.”

Kingston knew that it was obvious that Sean treated the Kingston knew that it was obvious that Sean treated the little princess differently compared to the past. He was sincerely caring for the little princess. The little princess was a sentimental child, and she was particularly grateful and was very lacking in affection. She has her grandpa's love, and Sean finally understood that he was truly a fool in the past. If he did not love his granddaughter and who was he going to love?

When Aino got down the car and walked into the kindergarten, she even told her classmates, "My grandpa will come and pick me up later on."

Sure enough, Sean came to pick Aino up that afternoon. He arrived at the kindergarten half an hour earlier. Nobody would be arrived at the Kindergarten half an hour earlier. Nobody would be suspicious of Aino's grandpa, and Aino was very affectionate with Sean. Aino asked her grandpa in great concern, "Grandpa, did you walk a long way? Does your feet hurt, grandpa?"

Sean was speechless. His expression became increasingly sour. He just held Aino's hand, but he did not answer Aino's childish questions. He took out his phone and said to the other party breathlessly, "Let's just stop this matter! This ends here! I will send Aino home!"

"Grandpa?" Aino raised her head to look at her grandpa.

Chapter 1800

“Grandpa! Save me, Grandpa!” Aino shouted with all her might. However, she only managed to shout a couple of times before she was shoved into a car.

Sean, who was pushed over, pounded the ground with all his might. “B*stards! B*stards! Put my granddaughter down! Put her down!” His screams sounded incomparably old, frail, and weak. He watched with eyes widened as that black car with his granddaughter in it drove far away. Sean was bleeding out in his heart. He took out his phone, and crazily dialed a group of numbers with his trembling fingers. Once the call was connected, he instantly roared angrily. “B*stard! You group of i connected, he instantly roared angrily. "B*stard! You group of j*rks! Why did you change the plan! Didn't we agree that I will coax her properly and we won't disturb and frighten her? Why did you snatch her away on the streets? My granddaughter is freaking out! She is terrified!"

Rose's sneer could be heard coming from the other end of the call. "Sean! You're too indecisive! What's the matter? That little thing called you grandpa, so you've become softhearted?"

Sean was exasperated. "That is my granddaughter! My own granddaughter! The bloodline of my Ford family! Shouldn't I care for her? Where have you taken Aino to? Rose Quinton! If for her? When have you taken Aino to? Rose Quinton! If anything bad were to happen to Aino, I will divorce you! I will fight you to death!”

Rose's tone was very calm instead. There was a sense of earnestness in that calmness. “Sean, don't forget that Sebastian has always hated us. Sabrina had been pregnant for so long, but he had never brought his child back to the Ford Residence again. He hates us to the bones. Also, when has Aino ever called you grandpa? When did she not roll her eyes at you when she saw you? How can you be softened up just because she called you grandpa once now? Aren't you afraid that she will treat you more viciously than her father did when she grows up? What should the both of us do treat you more consciously than her father did when she grows up? What should the both of us do when the time comes?

“We’ve already given all of our properties to Holden. He will be our own son from now on. At least Sebastian is also our son. If Sabrina and Aino had left Sebastian’s side one day and if he were to marry another fine young lady from an eminent family who listened to us, you will have many more grandchildren in another six more years. By that time, the entire Ford family will be in harmony, Sean!”

Tears were streaming down Sean’s face. “But Aino is also my granddaughter! My own granddaughter!”

granddaughter, own granddaughter!”

He could still remember the way she hugged his legs that morning and the way she looked while covered in tears. How could a six-year-old fake all that? Could he blame her for being hard on him every time she saw him? How old was the child? All of the emotions she felt were passed onto her by the adults. All the good ones and the bad ones. If you were bad to her, of course, she would be hard on you. If you were nice to her, even if it was just a little or just once, she would happily announce to the whole world. “I, Aino Scott, have a grandpa now.” Such a response could not be bought by millions of golds.

At that moment, Sean deeply millions of go.

At that moment, Sean deeply realized that he had made a mistake. A grave mistake. He still did not know what kind of severe consequence it would have, but he already started to feel anxious. He did not know what his son, Sebastian, would turn into if he knew Aino had been taken away. The consequence was beyond imaginable! Why was every step Sean had taken a mistake? When he was young, it was a mistake for him to trick Grace in order to expand the Ford Group, which led Grace, who had given birth to two children, to conceal the existence of one of them. It was also a mistake to let Sebastian live in exile after he grew up. It led to him having a great counterattack and ending the also a mistake to let Sebastian live in exile after he grew up. It led to him having a great counterattack and ending the lives of his biological brothers. Later on, it was also a mistake to have met Holden. Since Sean had never acknowledged Holden since he was born and he never knew that this child existed, then why bother acknowledging him again? Since they had already given Holden nine hundred million dollars, why should they continue to help him? That was a sin! Definitely a sin! However, who could Sean blame? Was Holden not Sean's son?

It was wrong!

Chapter 1802

“Young Master Sebastian! Young Master Sebastian, what happened...to you? Young Master Sebastian?” In an instant, the housekeeper saw Sebastian’s expression become gloomy and the veins on his forehead popped.

The housekeeper called out again. “Young Master Sebastian?”

The way Sebastian looked was very frightening. The housekeeper carefully picked up the broken phone on the floor and he did not know if he should give it to Sebastian or not. He noticed Sebastian’s face turning incomparably ferocious. He turned around and came to the front of Old Master Ford’s bed turned around and came to the front of Old Master Ford's bed with big strides. He raised his hand and grabbed those cables that were connecting to all the medical equipment. He held them viciously in his hands. If he were to rip out all of those cables, then Sebastian would be suspected of killing his own grandfather.

The housekeeper called out. "Young Master Sebastian!" He was not completely feeling sorry for Old Master Ford, who was laying in the hospital bed. He was partially feeling sorry for Young Master Sebastian. The Young Master Sebastian had been miserable since he was a child and even the housekeeper could not bear to watch him. The housekeeper watched with his eyes widened as Young Master could not bear to watch him. The housekeeper watched with his eyes widened as Young Master Sebastian's hand was trembling and exerting force while grabbing those cables. Those veins on his wrist were bulging out one by one just like the veins on his forehead. That highlighted the fury Sebastian was feeling.

“Young Master Sebastian, as a servant of your family, I'll say something that should not be said by me. Old Master Ford is going to die soon, so why do you need to...” The housekeeper looked at Sebastian earnestly.

Sebastian was stunned for a moment. After that, he released those cables, turned around and walked out. His pace was very quick and very impatient. Before walked out. His pace was very quick and very impatient. Before the housekeeper could react in time, Sebastian had already rushed out. The housekeeper still did not know what had happened to Young Master Sebastian. It must be something huge. Although Sebastian did not say a single word at all, the housekeeper could feel that it certainly must be something huge. The housekeeper immediately chased after him. “Young Master Sebastian, Young Master Sebastian! Your phone.”

The housekeeper seemed to be able to hear someone shouting at the end of the line, but the screen was no longer visible. The person on the other end of the line was also very anxious. “Master Sebastian, Master

The housekeeper ran like a maniac towards the outside while holding the phone.
However, he saw that Sebastian, who had already run out far away, suddenly stumbled a little.
He held the wall as he was unsteady on his feet, and then he took two more steps forward with great difficulty.

“Young Master Sebastian, are you...are you not feeling well?”
asked the housekeeper, running a

Before he arrived in front of Sebastian, he suddenly saw

Sebastian, he suddenly saw blood crazily spurting out Sebastian's mouth. That blood forcefully gushed out like a fountain. "Pfft..." The blood in Sebastian's mouth sprayed onto the hospital floor.

"Young Master Sebastian..." The housekeeper held Sebastian as he felt incomparably heartbroken. "What exactly happened, Young Master Sebastian. You...what is going on with you? Young Master Sebastian, both the entire Ford Group and the Ford family are counting on you. What's going on with you?"

Sebastian's face was pale, but his eyebrows were tightly knitted. He seemed to be searching for something. After a few seconds, he spoke in a low and soft voice. "Phone. Phone searching for something. After a few seconds, he spoke in a low and soft voice. "Phone. Phone. Let me use your phone for a while."

The housekeeper immediately took out his phone and handed it to Sebastian. "Here."

Sebastian wanted to dial a group of numbers with his trembling fingers, but he just could not press the right keys no matter what. The housekeeper immediately took over the phone. "Young Master Sebastian, tell me the number. I'll help you make the call."

Sebastian then recited the group of phone numbers with a tone so faint that sounded like a ghost.

The call was picked up very quickly, and the other party's

The call was picked up very quickly, and the other party's tone was very fierce. "Who are you? Are you the person who had abducted Aino?"

The housekeeper was speechless.

Gosh! Aino! The little princess! The only descendent of the Ford family has been abducted? In an instant, the housekeeper knew why Young Master Sebastian would become like that and why he would vomit blood. He immediately said to the other party, "Assistant...Yates, you know me. I am the housekeeper. Young Master Sebastian's phone was broken after it fell onto the group. This call is made from my phone. I will put the phone next to Young Master Sebastian's ear immediately." ②

Only then did Sebastian speak.

Chapter 1803

His voice sounded like a bomb. “Kingston! Quick! Seal off the entire city, including the sewers!”

On the other end of the line, Kingston immediately said, “Yes, Master Sebastian!”

“Don’t even let a single fly leave the city!”

“Yes, Master Sebastian!”

“Hold on!” Sebastian called out to Kingston again.

“Master Sebastian?”

“Immediately give a call to all the staff of the entire Ford Group and get them to put down all of their work on hand immediately!

and get them put down all of their work on hand immediately! Dispatch everyone, every single person from the Ford Group, including the janitors, to search the entire city. Don't even spare an inch of a place!"

"Yes, Master Sebastian!"

"Tell them, the pay of the search for the entire day today is a hundred times of their usual pay! No, no, no, a thousand times, no, ten thousand times. It's ten thousand times their pay for everyone! Also, listen to me carefully, Kingston, whoever finds Aino will get half of the Ford Group's business!"

Kingston was speechless.

"Go, quickly!" Sebastian roared angrily with a trembling voice.

“Go, quickly!” Sebastian roared angrily with a trembling voice.

“Yes, Master Sebastian!”

After he hung up the call, Sebastian handed the phone back to the housekeeper in a disheveled manner. He could no longer walk properly. The housekeeper carefully held up and brought him to a bench for him to sit. Sebastian looked at the housekeeper with his face as white as a sheet.

“Young Master Sebastian, you... you have to be calm. The little princess is very clever, so it would be fine. The Heavens will protect such a good person like her.”

Sebastian looked at the housekeeper faintly. “Have you... seen my daughter?”

"My daughter is missing," said Sebastian.

The housekeeper began to tear u

"My daughter! Is! Missing!"

The housekeeper was speechless.

"Why aren't you going to look speechless. He was incomparably heartbroken as he looked at Sebastian. "Young Master Sebastian, you have to be calm. You must be calm. If you're not calm, then even if you sent a hundred thousand people or even if you sent a million people out, whose command were they going to listen to? Young Master Sebastian, for the sake of the little princess, you have to be calm!"

Sebastian was speechless. There was a long pause before he said faintly, "Thank you. You're right. Thank you."

After saying that, he got up, held the wall, and then looked at the housekeeper. "Drive. Send me home."

"Alright, Young Master

home.”

“Alright, Young Master Sebastian,” the housekeeper immediately said. The housekeeper then drove Sebastian all the way home. At this moment, he had to make a trip home. He still has his wife. He still did not know how his life was. He had to go home first to take a look. He went upstairs and the door opened. The person who greeted him was Sabrina.

Sabrina, who originally had a gentle and calm expression, became incomparably surprised when she saw Sebastian. “Sebastian! How come you’re home so early today? Was it because you’ve thought it through about the matter of visiting your father and grandparents, so you came home earlier to pick _____ and Aino up? However, Aino is still not home yet. I guessed she must have gone to the hospital right after school. This little child is very close to her Aunt Jane and Aunt Hana these days.”

Sebastian’s heart was bleeding out when he heard Sabrina say that. How should he tell her? The apple of her eyes, the precious baby whom she had gotten after being a hair’s breadth away from death, her child was being held hostage and her whereabouts was still unknown. How was he going to tell Sabrina?

Right at that moment, Sabrina’s phone rang, and she immediately answered it. “Hello, who is it?”

On the other end of the line,

Right at that moment, Sabrina's phone rang, and she immediately answered it. "Hello, who is it?"

On the other end of the line, Holden said with a calm tone, "Sabrina, how are you? Let's have a reunion, alright? Aino is here with me and she misses her mom."

"What did you...what did you say?"

Chapter 1804

Immediately after that, Sabrina's voice suddenly became hoarse and harsh like the voice of a crow. "What did you say? Holden Payne, you devil, what did you say?"

"Don't be upset, Sabrina. Don't be upset." Hearing Sabrina's voice suddenly became incomparably hopeless, and she felt so hopeless that her voice suddenly became hoarse and harsh, Holden sounded sad on the other end of the line. He had been very regretful that he had held Aino hostage and was regretful that he used Aino to blackmail Sabrina. He was afraid that Sabrina, who was eight months pregnant, would have another miscarriage. He was afraid that Sabrina would would have another miscarriage. He was afraid that Sabrina would die because of that.

At that moment, Holden consoled Sabrina. "Don't be afraid. Really don't be upset, Sabrina. Aino will be very well being here with me. You know that. Don't you know me? You know that I will use my life to take care of Aino. I will not let Aino experience the slightest bit of grievances. Sabrina, don't worry, don't be afraid!"

"Alright, alright. Alright, alright, alright!" Sabrina said continuously. "Alright, Holden. I'm not worried. I really am not worried. You...let me hear Aino's voice. Let me hear it!"

"Alright," Holden immediately said gently.

said gently.

Within a few seconds, Aino sound could be heard coming from the phone. "Mom."

The little girl sounded cheery as if nothing had happened. "Mom, I am with Uncle Holden. He is my true uncle. I told him that he has the same parents as my dad, and he is even my dad's twin."

Sabrina tried her best to suppress the catch in her throat. She tried her best to calm her voice down and called out, "Aino, tell me, you...are you alright now?"

"I'm doing very well, Mom."

Aino smiled. At that moment, even Holden could not tell that Aino actually had a catch in her throat. Aino did not even know if Aino actually had a catch in her throat. Aino did not even know if she could control herself from wanting to cry, but she truly managed to control it. She praised herself silently. 'Aino Scott, you're the best!'

At that very moment when she was abducted into the car, she realized that she had been tricked by her grandpa. After all, she was too silly and too young, which was why she was tricked by her grandpa, the old sly fox. She was even a fool to brag to everyone that she, Aino Scott, had a grandpa already. She had actually bragged about it!

She knew very well that had been abducted. She was very afraid, but she was most afraid for her pregnant mother, who was about to give birth already.

pregnant mother, who was about to give birth already. Originally, Aino did not know how difficult and how dangerous it was for a mother to give birth to a child. However, Aino had just seen her Aunt Jane give birth a few days ago, and her Aunt Jane had practically crawled out of the grasp of the Grim Reaper. Therefore, she knew that if her mother learned that she was abducted when her mother was so close to giving birth already, her mother would certainly die! Aino's fear was instantly replaced by an even greater fear, which was the possibility of her mother dying.

No! She was already six years old! She could remember many routes! She could not let her mother be worried for her!

routes! She could not let her mother be worried for her! Therefore, no matter how sad and how much Aino wanted to cry, she held it all in. She behaved in a cheerful manner in front of Holden, as if she was an ignorant little brat. Of course, this was partly due to Holden's efforts as well. Holden indeed treated her very well. In the big hotel, the whole room was filled with all sorts of toys. Her uncle treated her just as well as he did on Star Island. This made Aino feel much more at ease.

Therefore, at that moment, when Aino spoke to her mother on the phone, she was able to hide her fears and sadness even better.

“Mom, I had been dreaming about Uncle Holden every day. I n the phone, she was able to hide her fears and sadness even better.

“Mom, I had been dreaming about Uncle Holden every day. I finally was able to meet him today. Mom, I’ll stay and play with Uncle Holden for a while, then I will go back. Don’t worry about me, Mom.”

“Mm-hmm. I won’t worry about you, baby. Enjoy yourself. Hand the phone back to your Uncle Holden,” Sabrina told Aino.
