

Chapter 1805

"Mm-hmm, Uncle Holden, here you go. My mom wants to speak to you." Aino handed the phone to Holden.

Holden took over the phone. "Sabrina." He even felt choked up when he called out her name. There was not a single day in more than half a year in the past that he had not been missing Sabrina and had not wanted to listen to her voice. At that moment, he had finally heard her voice. Perhaps in the near future, he would be able to see her. This wish of his was finally coming true, even if he had to pay the price of giving up that entire small island of his, even if he had to let his nine hundred million dollars go his, even if he had to let his nine hundred million dollars go to waste! As long as he could live together with Sabrina in the future and could watch Aino grow up day by day. Also, Sabrina was going to give birth soon. They would have an additional child? It was not Holden's child? He did not mind at all. What would be the difference if the child was his o r Sebastian's? The child would still be his niece or nephew! He would love them with his love.

Nobody knew that Holden had never cared for money, fame, and glory growing up. He did not want anything! He just wanted a warm and small family! In this family, the members were the parents and the children, and they all live members were the parents and the children, and they all live happily and harmoniously together. That was all. That was all!

“Sabrina...” Holden’s voice was so gentle as if he was reciting a poem. He did not sound like a pervert at all in Sabrina’s ears, but Holden first said it himself instead. “Don’t think of me as a pervert, alright? I am not a pervert. I have a healthy mind. Before I left, I even gave a million dollars to another niece of mine, Minerva. I just wanted to let her study hard. I am not a pervert. I just...did not have familial affections. I have been abandoned since birth. I had never known why my parents treated me so badly when I was

be a better looking than never known why my parents treated me so badly when I was clearly better looking than my three older brothers. I only understood the reason when you conquered Star Island. I don't understand why I was left behind on Star Island after I was born. Has anybody asked me for my opinion before leaving me behind? Nobody knew that I would rather die together with my mother and older brother than being left alone on Star Island. Do you know how much I have yearned for a family? A warm family?"

He continued. "Sabrina, come with me. I know you love Sebastian very much, but he can't give you his everything. He has his blood brothers to take can't give you everything. He has his blood brothers to take care of. He has his large Ford Group as well. You're already eight months pregnant, but he still leaves the house at five in the morning every day, and he only returns home at eleven at night. He is not a good husband. I am! From now on, come with me instead. I will take care of you until you give birth. I will hold you for every single step you take. Come with me. I will take you and Aino, and we will go to that small island. We will plant flowers and grass for the rest of our lives. Come with me, alright?"

He spoke with great sincerity towards the end.

Sabrina was biting her lips to Sabrina was biting her lips to the point that they were already bleeding. Trembling, she replied, "Alright. Alright, Holden. I will go with you. Where are you? I promise to leave with you."

"Really?" Holden was in slight disbelief.

"Of course, it's true. I know you certainly won't believe that I don't love you. I truly don't love you. However, Aino is with you, so I certainly have to go with you. Wherever my Aino is, I will be there," said Sabrina.

There was instantly a catch in Holden's throat. "Sabrina, I know that I was right. You are a good woman. You're worthy for me to treat you well with my

Sabrina was biting her lips to the point that they were already bleeding. Trembling, she replied, "Alright. Alright, Holden. I will go with you. Where are you? I promise to leave with you."

"Really?" Holden was in slight disbelief.

"Of course, it's true. I know you certainly won't believe that I don't love you. I truly don't love you. However, Aino is with you, so I certainly have to go with you. Wherever my Aino is, I will be there," said Sabrina.

There was instantly a catch in Holden's throat. "Sabrina, I know that I was right. You are a good woman. You're worthy for me to treat you well with me know that I was right. You are a good woman. You're worthy for me to treat you well with my life. I just knew it. You're not a woman who will abandon her own child."

"Tell me, where are you?" said Sabrina,

"Is Sebastian beside you?"

Holden asked in return.

Sabrina was speechless. She glanced at Sebastian. Sebastian then immediately took over the phone. "Holden, the entire Ford Group is yours. I will leave without taking anything."

Chapter 1806

On the other end of the call, Holden asked calmly, "And then, what's next?"

"Aino is my daughter and Sabrina is my wife," said Sebastian.

"Bullsh*t! Bullsh*t! Bullsh*t!" Holden suddenly got angry.

Sebastian was speechless. At that moment, he suddenly felt something that tasted metallic and sweet come up to his throat. He knew that it was blood. He then forced himself to swallow that metallic and sweet taste. He had been decisive with killings and had witnessed countless deaths in his life, but at that moment, he witnessed countless deaths in his life, but at that moment, he truly was unable to hold up anymore. He felt that there was clearly a knife slicing his heart up one stroke at a time. The pain was so intense that his whole body was convulsing. However, he just could not. His wife in front of him was going to give birth soon. His precious daughter was still in Holden's hands. He could not do anything. He could only stay calm. The only thing he could do was to be calm. He calmly listened to Holden lashing out.

"Sebastian Ford! Do you think I care about money? I have never been short of money since I was a child! I am not good at many things, but I am not was a child! I am not good at many things, but I am not worse when it comes to making money! I am not short of money! I won't want your bullsh*t Ford Group! Do you understand what I want? You don't understand! Because you're a cold-blooded, vicious, and heartless being! You've lived for over thirty f*cking years. Are you a man? Your eldest daughter is only six years old! She is just a six-year-old child, and yet, you don't even personally pick her up from kindergarten! If you had personally sent her to school and picked her up from school, I wouldn't have had it my way even if I had all the capabilities in the world! Also, Sabrina! Sebastian Ford, you b*stard!

n the world! All right, Sabrina!

Sebastian Ford, you b*stard!
Son of a b*tch! You had been so cruel to her seven years ago. Do you think I don't know that?
She had just gotten out of prison. All the times you have picked on her! All those insults!
Because Sabrina loves you, she could forget it all, but I won't forget them! Sebastian Ford!
You're not worthy to be with Sabrina at all! You're not worthy!"

Holden sounded increasingly angry. "She was already pregnant with your child! She had been very nice to you since the very beginning! She had been very nice to Mom since the very beginning! However, what did she get from you? She got six years' worth being the very beginning! However, what did she get from you? She got six years' worth being chased and hunted! Six years! Sebastian Ford, you're not human at all! Are you worthy of Sabrina's love? Are you worthy to let her give birth to two children for you?"

Holden scolded Sebastian furiously on the other end of the phone. Sebastian listened to him incomparably calmly on this end of the phone. He did not refute Holden. It was not because he forced himself to stay calm, but it was because what Holden said was the truth.

Back then, when Sabrina was still in prison seven years ago, if she had not saved Sebastian's life, if it were not for Sabrina, f she had not saved Sebastian's life, if it were not for Sabrina, Sebastian may have been dead a long time ago. However, once Sabrina got out of prison and she walked off the gate, she was already controlled by him.

She was destitute. She was forced into a tight spot with no way out. She did not even have money to have a prenatal checkup at the hospital. She humbly asked him for a loan, but he had never truly loaned her once. She was so poor that she could only sit in the flower bed through the night which led to her having a fever the following day. At that time, Sabrina was already pregnant with Sebastian's child. She endured the pain from the with Sebastian's child. She endured the pain from the fever and did not take antibiotics for the sake of the child in her belly.

She fought against the entire high society all by herself. She was prepared to die, but at the most crucial moment, she still fought for the child in her belly to have a father. In the end, she still had to be on the run for six years. Six whole years. She went through all sorts of hardships and was a hair's breadth away from death. Of course, Sebastian knew about all that. Every incident was still vivid in his mind.

Chapter 1807

Otherwise, would Sebastian have used the entire Ford Group, which he had gotten after he fought for it with his life, to trade for Aino and Sabrina? However, Sebastian did not say anything at that moment. He only waited for Holden to be done with yelling at the other end of the call.

“Sebastian Ford! You’re not worthy at all! Sabrina was already eight months pregnant! What were you doing? What exactly were you doing? Have you ever spent a day with her? You were not around every day. Do you even f*cking deserves to have her?”

Sebastian still did not talk back around every corner. Do you even know if she *cking deserves to have her?”

Sebastian still did not talk back after being angrily scolded by Holden like that. That was because everything Holden said was right.

He waited for Holden to finish his scolding, then he asked, “ What do you want?”

“I want Sabrina!”

“Impossible!” said Sebastian.

“That’s not up to you! Aino is now with me. It’s up to Sabrina whether she will be coming or not.”

Sabrina’s eager voice could be heard coming from this end. “ I’ll come! I’ll come to you, Holden! I just want Aino to be I'll come! I'll come to you, Holden! I just want Aino to be well. I just don't want anything to happen to Aino." Sabrina tried her best to force herself to smile as she spoke. However, that voice was harsh and miserable when Sebastian heard it.

"Holden, I just want Aino to be well, alright?"

On the other end of the call, Holden said very gently, "Alright, Sabrina. I will do as you say."

"Alright! When do you want me to go over and where?" asked Sabrina again.

"Hand the phone to Sebastian," Holden said.

“Hand the phone to Sebastian,” Holden said.

Sabrina immediately handed the phone to Sebastian. “Go on. I’m listening.”

“Don’t attempt to find me. You won’t be able to find me. Don’t forget that I have advanced technology. Also, Aino is in my hands...”

Sebastian felt waves of dull pain in his heart. “I know. I won’t look for you.”

“Also! Withdraw all those weapons you had surrounded my island with! Get that large ship away! Get it further away until those huge cannons on your ship can’t flatten my island! It’s best to have it as far your ship can flatten my island! It's best to have it as far away as possible!"

Sebastian was speechless. That large ship was filled with supplies. All of it! However, Holden thought that it was filled with huge canons that could flatten his island. Was that the unspoken understanding between two twin brothers? How ironic.

"Alright." Sebastian still agreed.

"Make an unobstructed route for me to go to my island from South City," said Holden. Before Sebastian could say anything, Holden said again, "I, Holden Payne, don't value my life. You knew that. I have never asked for anything my

I, Holden Payne, don't value my life. You knew that. I have never asked for anything my whole life, but I just want Sabrina, Aino, and also Sabrina's child. I just want to live a good life together with them. I just want to enjoy that warmth of being with my family and the children's laughter. After that, I will have a few more children with Sabrina. As for the others, I had already given up my island and those nine hundred million dollars of mine, let alone your Ford Group? I don't even want a single penny of your properties and trillion dollars' worth of family fortune. Let me take Sabrina and Aino away. Maybe you'll find a better young lady from an eminent young lady from an eminent family who matches your Ford family's backgrounds in the future. Maybe you'll have children with her in the future. We will be even in the future."

Holden sounded calm, but his every single word seemed to be punching a bloody hole on Sebastian's chest. However, Sebastian could not lash out and could not fly into a rage. He could not even take any action. His Aino, the apple of his eye, was still in Holden's hands, so he could not do anything at all. He could only go against his will and said, "Alright. When?"

Holden finally revealed a victorious smile. "You actually have a conscience! You still victorious smile. "You actually have a conscience! You still know how to protect your daughter's safety! Don't worry. I will take great care of Aino. However, if you were to come and capture me alive, then I can only take Aino and die with me. I repeat I don't value my life. I just want to be together with Aino and Sabrina. As long as I could be together with them, what does it matter to be alive or to die?"

"I will give you an unobstructed route," Sebastian said.

"Perfect!" said Holden as he laughed. "Let Sabrina rest for the night first. She is tired already. I will call you tomorrow."

unobstructed route," Sebastian said.

"Perfect!" said Holden as he laughed. "Let Sabrina rest for the night first. She is tired already. I will call you tomorrow."

After saying that, Holden hung up the call.

On this end, Sabrina burst out bawling. "No, don't hang up. My Aino..."

Chapter 1808

Sabrina's bawls could only be heard by Sebastian. At that moment, Sabrina, who had hung up the call, looked at her husband in an incomparably miserable, weak, pitiful manner. She cried so inconsolably that she was whimpering. "Sebastian, I want Aino. I want my Aino. I want Aino..."

Sebastian was speechless. He was also bleeding inside from being heartbroken. At that moment, he wanted to tell his wife, "I told you not to get close to Sean Ford. Don't get close to Sean Ford..."

However, Sebastian did not say close to Sean I ..."

However, Sebastian did not say anything at all. His wife and daughter were both kind to their bones. Sean Ford, on the other hand, was his biological father. Who would have expected that they would actually use this method to trick Aino and take her away? That was his biological father! Who would have expected it? He had guarded against so many things in the world and had ensured that nobody in the entire South City dared to lay a finger on Aino. Sebastian even made Kington follow the child closely every step of the way. However, he still did not guard against his own father. What was he doing that day? Even he became softhearted that day.

against his own father. What was he doing that day? Even he became softhearted that day, let alone Sarina and Aino. That was because he saw that Henry was already on his deathbed.

He had been busy at the hospital in the morning, and he came to the hospital again in the afternoon. In the end, what he got out of it was his own daughter being abducted by Holden. What in the world was that? Was Sebastian truly supposed to have a bloodbath in the entire South City and then have another bloodbath on that small island? If he was forced to that extent, he would do it.

He hugged his wife and gently patted her back. He could not

He hugged his wife and gently patted her back. He could not speak for a very long time. That was because once he speaks, that metallic and sweet blood in his throat would spurt out of his mouth. He did not want to let Sabrina see him spurting blood. However, Sabrina still saw it. Because that metallic and sweet fluid in his throat increased in volume and it got more and more dense. It then involuntarily leaked out the corner of his lips.

Sabrina, who had tears streaming down her face, asked in a panic, "Sebastian! Are you...are you bleeding from the corner of your lips?"

Although she felt heartbroken for Aino, she still had a little bit

Although she was heartbroken for Aino, she still had a little bit of sensibility. She still had her husband, and the child in her belly was already eight months old. At that moment, she could not collapse. If she collapsed and died, then the child in her belly would be the most pitiful. Also, Aino would no longer be able to see her mother anymore. Moreover, how was Sebastian going to live in the future? The family would then truly be broken. Therefore, Sabrina could not collapse. She carried her large pregnant belly and supported her husband's body. At that point, there was no stopping for her husband anymore. He could no longer suppress it any further. He opened his mouth and a big suppress it any further. He opened his mouth and a big mouthful of blood splattered on the door. ❁

Sabrina screamed. "Sebastian! Sebastian!"

Aunt Lewis and Aunt Tianna came running out. They saw Sebastian swaying and was unable to stand on his own, and Sabrina, who was using her whole body to support Sebastian. Aunt Lewis was instantly stunned. "Master Sebastian, Madam, you guys... what happened?"

Both Aunt Lewis and Aunt Tianna then helped Sebastian into the living room.

Chapter 1809

After that, the two of them immediately poured a cup of hot water each. One for Sebastian to rinse his mouth, and the other for Sabrina to soothe her shocked self. Only then did Aunt Lewis ask, “Madam, what exactly happened? Tell us quickly. We’ll put our heads together to think of a solution.”

Sebastian did not speak and his gaze was motionless.

“Aino. Aino had been... abducted by Holden Payne,” Sabrina said with a hoarse voice.

Aunt Tianna, who was behind them, dropped the cup in her Aunt Tianna, who was behind them, dropped the cup in her hand on the floor. Aunt Lewis was stunned and unable to speak for a long while. After a long pause, she got up and made some phone calls without hesitation. "Is this Master Zayn? Quickly come over. The little princess had been abducted."

"Is this Miss Yvonne? Aino, she ..."

"Hello, Master Shaw..."

"Master Alex, quickly come over. Something big has happened in our house."

Within ten minutes, Aunt Lewis had notified everyone, but she was smart enough not t

Lewis had notified everyone, but she was smart enough not to notify Gloria. After all, Gloria was quite old and her health was not good. If she were to tell Gloria that Aino was missing at that time, Gloria certainly would fall sick, so it was better not to tell her.

One and a half hours later, all the people that Aunt Lewis had notified came one after another and were all present. Even Nigel and Minerva, who was not notified by Aunt Lewis, had also come. Nigel did not know initially. Minerva did not have a class that day, so he took Minerva along with him and went to the hospital to visit Hana after he got off work. After all, Zayn used to be his Hana after he got off work. After all, Zayn used to be his best friend, and the two of them had been playboys for so many years in the past. In Nigel's heart, he still considered Zayn as his best friend. Just as Nigel and Minerva arrived at Hana's ward, they heard the phone call from Aunt Lewis even before they said a single word.

Zayn, who received the call, instantly cursed. "F*cking tw*t! If he dared to lay a finger on Aino, I would strap a bomb to myself. I will not be called Zayn Smith if I don't blow him up into ashes!"

Only then did Nigel know that something had happened at Only then did Nigel know that something had happened at Sebastian and Sabrina's end. Both Nigel and Minerva then followed Zayn to Sebastian's house, and they saw Sebastian was completely dumbfounded. Sabrina, on the other hand, was slightly calmer than Sebastian. She still knew to take care of him.

"I will fight him to death! Holden Payne is such a big person. I just don't believe that we can't find him! This son of a b*tch! Don't let me find him! Once I find him, I will bite him to death!" said Ruth through her gritted teeth while crying and holding Sabrina.

Yvonne and Marcus were also so worried that they gritted their Yvonne and Marcus were also so worried that they gritted their teeth.

“Sebastian, if you are lacking money or manpower, I can mobilize all that. From now on, the few thousand people from my company as well as the few Shaw family’s old subordinates in South City are all in our command. Even if we have to turn the entire South City upside down, we still have to find Aino,” Marcus asked.

Nigel spoke up. “Sebastian, you also have me! I also have quite a number of people in the Conor Group. I can give the order to them now and have all of them go out to search!” He turned around and looked at turned around and looked at Minerva. "You know your Uncle Holden's temper. Where do you feel he would be hiding?"

Minerva cared for her Uncle Holden very much. However, at this moment, she also could not care for him anymore.

After all, it was truly an unforgivable mistake to abduct him. Minerva bit her lips. "I...I only know that my uncle has always been into communications. I know that since he bravely dared to have such a long phone call with Mister and Missus Ford. He must be certain that you won't be able to search him out. His signal must have been unfamiliar with. Also, the place quite reasonable. Just when Alex was about to make a phone call and order his men to check each and every high-end hotel one by one, Kingston had returned. He walked through the door and said to Sebastian, "Master Sebastian, I have already given the orders to every staff member of the Ford Group. From now on, we will be able to comb through the entire South City by morning tomorrow."

Just then, Kingston heard Sebastian's hoarse voice. "Withdraw the search and let Holden pass without obstruction."

Chapter 1810

Alex looked at Sebastian in disbelief. "Sebastian, what did you say?"

"Withdraw all the search parties and leave an unobstructed route for Holden to go back," Sebastian said weakly.

"Why are you doing that, Sebastian? Do you not believe that we can turn the whole South City upside down and flatten if you and I join forces? Or you...." Alex asked.

He wanted to ask Sebastian how could he be so unconcerned about Aino's life and death? However, before unconcerned about Aino's life and death? However, before Alex could open his mouth, he was interrupted by Zayn.

Zayn suddenly bellowed. "Sebastian Ford! Are you human? Aino is your daughter! Your daughter! You're just going to let that pervert, Holden Payne, take her away like that?"

"My Uncle Holden is not a pervert," Minerva mumbled softly.

"Minerva, don't say anything." Nigel immediately stopped her. Minerva bit her lips.

Zayn was still shouting. "Sebastian Ford! You can choose not to save Aino! I'll do it! I will exhaust all of the Smith not to save Aino. I'll do it! I will exhaust all of the Smith Group's assets and all my efforts in searching and rescuing Aino! I won't even use a single penny of your money! You're a beast! Cold-blooded! You don't deserve to be a father!" After saying that, Zayn suddenly bellowed at Sabrina, "Sabrina! Come with me!"

Sabrina was speechless.

"Did you not understand what I said? Why must you insist on living your life with this man? Are all the men in the world dead and extinct? Come with me," Zayn scolded in exasperation. ①

"Zayn!" Alex could not help but to speak out. "At this “Zayn!” Alex could not help but to speak out. “At this critical moment, you shouldn’t be fanning the flames. If there are any matters, we can resolve them properly. Sabrina is the most upset now. Can she just go because you asked her to go with you? Look at her, can she still walk?”

Marcus consoled and persuaded him. “Yes, Zayn. Don’t get angry yet. Aino is Sebastian’s biological daughter. Since he said such words, he must have a certain reason. Let’s first find out the situation and then we’ll see what’s next.”

Marcus then asked Sebastian again. “Sebastian, with just the Marcus then looked at Sebastian again. "Sebastian, with just the Ford Group and Mister Poole's power alone, it's more than enough to turn the whole South City upside down. There is also my family, the Shaw family. There are also Zayn and Nigel as well. If all of the people under us can stop what they are doing and search for Aino altogether, we still have a very large certainty to be able to find her. Sebastian, what are you worried about? If you're troubled by something, you can tell us and we'll figure something out together."

Marcus' tone was very gentle and sensible.

Sebastian stared directly at Marcus. After he stared at him for a long while, only then he Sebastian stared directly at Marcus. After he stared at him for a long while, only then he said, "Seven years ago, I was also all alone." ❁

Marcus, Zayn and Nigel were all speechless.

"At that time, I was not an existence that was recognized by the Ford family. My mother was in prison and I can't be sure if she will end up alive or dead. On the other end, I was locked up in an abandoned house at the top of the mountain by my few older half-brothers and some of my collateral relatives from the Ford family. At that time, it was much easier for my eldest half-brother to crush me to death than if I wanted to crush much easier for my eldest half-brother to crush me to death than if I wanted to crush Holden to death now. However, what was the reality? The reality was that I turned the tide and won. I purged those brothers of mine, and I took charge of the Ford Group overnight. Do you know what was one of my winning formulas?"

Sebastian asked everyone present with a faint tone. Just like Sabrina, his voice also became hoarse. Nobody said a single word. However, most of them already knew what Sebastian's winning formula was.

Sebastian continued. "It's not valuing my life. I already don't was.

Sebastian continued. "It's not valuing my life. I already don't care if I lose my life. I don't know if my mother was alive or dead in prison. I had no way out anymore. I only had two paths to choose from. Either to die with my mother or to win. It did not matter to me either way. Therefore, I ended up winning in the end. Holden is my twin brother. Although we've never communicated peacefully, I just knew him like I knew myself. When I don't care if I lose my life, I can be invincible. It's the same for him when he doesn't value his life."

Everyone sighed after they heard Sebastian explained it did not matter to me either way. Therefore, I ended up winning in the end. Holden is my twin brother. Although we've never communicated peacefully, I just knew him like I knew myself. When I don't care if I lose my life, I can be invincible. It's the same for him when he doesn't value his life."

Everyone sighed after they heard Sebastian explained it like that. Zayn hung his head.

Chapter 1811

Zayn knew that in terms of loving Aino, nobody loved her more than Sebastian. The reason Sebastian let Holden go was because he had thought it through from all aspects and wanted to give Aino the best chance to survive.

Speaking of that, Sebastian cleared his throat and his voice sounded even more miserable than before. "At the very least, Holden cares for Aino. I only bank on this love he has for Aino and try my best not to anger him." There was a pause before Sebastian raised his hands and covered his face. "I hope...I hope that my Aino...

could come back alive." Then hands and covered his face. "I hope...I hope that my Aino... could come back alive." There was a lump in his throat as he said that.

He was a man, the person with the highest authority in the Ford Group, and a man who had reigned South City for almost eight years. He had never cried growing up, but at this moment, Sebastian's voice was choked up. Sabrina was heartbroken when she saw her man like that. She leaned on Sebastian's shoulders and cried inconsolably. To a family, if their child was abducted that the family would have collapsed, even if the head of the family was Sebastian.

"All of you just go home." said

collapsed, even if the head of the family was Sebastian.

"All of you, just go home," said Sebastian weakly.

"Sebastian, we'll stay here to take care of you and Sabrina," said Zayn.

Alex nodded. "Yes, Sebastian. Now is the time when you and Sabrina needed to be taken care of the most. How could we just go home?"

The rest of them agreed and none of them was willing to leave.

However, Sebastian shook his head firmly. "Everyone has a phone. We'll keep in contact through the phone. All of you just go home first. Let us be

phone. We'll keep in contact through the phone. All of you just go home first. Let us be alone."

"Okay. If there is anything, we'll stay in touch through the phone. We'll take our leave first," Alex finally said.

They left Sebastian's house, but all of them actually never left the neighborhood. That night, all of them sat in their cars downstairs at Sebastian's house and did not even sleep a wink through the night.

That night, Sebastian and Sabrina sat in their living room and hugged each other. They did not say anything.

"Sabrina," Sabrina said with a hoarse voice. "Do you still did not say anything.

"Sabrina," Sabrina said with a hoarse voice. "Do you still remember a few nights ago, the night before Jane had given birth, I kept pestering you and asking you to make love to me? I was panicking very much in my heart that day. I kept feeling like something was about to happen and was feeling extremely sad that day. I had never expected that our Aino would be truly snatched away by Holden. Sebastian... say, do you think this is fate?"

Sebastian did not say anything. The lights in the living room were not on. However, the lights from outside were still able to shine in. As the lights landed on Sebastian's strong able to shine. As the lights landed on Sebastian's strong and masculine face, tears could be seen streaming down from it.

"Sebastian, do you believe in me?" asked Sabrina.

Sebastian did not say anything. He just hugged Sabrina tightly.

"I can take care of Aino and I can deliver my second child smoothly. I can weather the storm. Do you believe in me, Sebastian?" asked Sabrina.

Sebastian still did not say a single word. He just hugged Sabrina tightly in his arms and shook his head aggressively.

"I can't live without Aino, Sebastian."

“I can’t live without Aino, Sebastian.”

“I can’t live without Aino too.”

“I will bring Aino, myself, as well as our child, back. Believe in me, Sebastian,” said Sabrina as she cried. Sebastian shook his head and still did not say a word.

“I don’t do things that I’m uncertain of. You know that. Six years ago, I was also in a dangerous position, but I still fought the rights for the child in my belly. No matter when, even if at the worst times, I will still consider my own safety. I had never given up on the hope to survive at all. Sebastian, I have a very strong will to live.

uncertain of. You know that. Six years ago, I was also in a dangerous position, but I still fought the rights for the child in my belly. No matter when, even if at the worst times, I will still consider my own safety. I had never given up on the hope to survive at all. Sebastian, I have a very strong will to live.

Right at that moment, the ringing tone of a phone sounded in the empty and quiet room. Without even thinking twice, Sabrina answered the call. "Hello! Is it Holden?"

Chapter 1812

Holden's satisfied voice could be heard coming from the other end of the call. "Sabrina, My route is now unobstructed. When are you coming over?"

"Where's Aino?" Sabrina asked.

Holden immediately called out cheerfully. "Aino, come over quick. Your mom's on the phone."

Sabrina then heard the sound of Aino running over to the phone. After Aino answered the call, Sabrina could hear the little girl panting.

"Mom, what are you doing?"

Aino's voice was extremely cheerful. It sounded like she

she still believed it and always
was very happy.

Sabrina suppressed her overwhelming emotions and decided to cry. She asked Aino calmly, "Tell me, are you having fun being with your uncle?"

"Uncle Holden is even nicer to me than Dad is. He bought me a fighting robot that is twice as tall as me, Mom. I can't even climb on it. I like this robot too much," Aino immediately said.

Sabrina felt slightly relieved. "That's great."

"Mom, you don't have to worry about me. I want to stay with my uncle Holden and play for a few more days. When I am

y Uncle Holden and play for a few more days. When I am missing you and Dad, I will give you a call. Both of you don't have to worry about me. I am having fun and very happy being here with Uncle Holden. Mom, I'm going to hang up. I want to go play with that robot." Aino hung up the call without waiting for her mother to say anything else. She seemed indifferent, and she ran back to the side of that robot in her onesie.

The robot that Holden bought for her was very big. It was two meters tall, and it was truly very spectacular. Aino liked it very much. She sat in front of that robot, raised her head and looked at Holden. "Uncle

Holden, can you not call me

that robot, raised her head and looked at Holden. "Uncle Holden, can you not call my mom in the future? My mom is becoming more and more of a nag now. I want to play with you here for a while, and I don't want my mom to bother me. Is that alright, Uncle Holden?"

In order to not frighten Aino, Holden did not tell Aino that he was using her to blackmail her parents. In fact, Holden indeed cared for Aino, and he loved her like his own child. When he heard Aino begging him like that, Holden instantly became softhearted. "Aino, if I don't call your mother, I'm afraid that your mother will worry about you. Your mother is now that your mother will worry about you. Your mother is now eight months pregnant, and she can't afford to have any mishaps."

Aino pouted. "Oh, I know that, Uncle Holden."

"However, I can make it up to you in other ways. Tell me, what else do you want?" asked Holden.

Aino tilted her head innocently. "Uncle Holden, is what you said true?"

"Of course!"

"Haha! I want my dad!" Aino said with an extremely innocent smile.

Holden was speechless. For a moment there, he wanted to

Holden was speechless. For a moment there, he wanted to crush this child! He treated her so well, bought her everything, and spent more time with her than her father, but she still missed her father! D*mned! What an abomination!

However, Aino did not see the evil that flashed by Holden's face. On the contrary, she put her little head in Holden's arms. That made Holden suddenly feel a kind of unexpected flattery and his heart was instantly melted.

"Uncle Holden, do you know? My dad is truly annoying! I haven't seen my dad for almost a month. Every day when I woke up, he was no longer at home and I didn't see him

haven't seen my dad for almost a month. Every day when I woke up, he was no longer at home, and I didn't see him coming back every night before I fell asleep as well. I truly miss my dad very much, Uncle Holden..." The little girl actually cried while saying that.

Holden was slightly caught off guard. He did not know how to comfort Aino who was crying. Aino laid in her uncle's arms. "Uncle Holden, you and my dad are twins, but why are you so nice and why is my dad so annoying? I hate my dad. I hate him!"

Chapter 1813

Holden suddenly smiled. He understood why the little girl said she wanted to see her father when he said he would grant her a wish just now. That was because she had not seen her father for a very long time. She missed her father but she was also annoyed at him. She even hated her father. Holden felt very happy. It was great that Aino hated her father. As long as Aino was willing to hate her father, then Holden would be able to walk into Aino's heart easily. That was the best opportunity for him at that moment. The more her father was distant from Aino, the nicer Holden had to treat her.

was distant from Aino, the nicer Holden had to treat her. Besides, being nice to Aino was originally the most important thing to Holden.

“Don’t cry, Aino. Don’t cry, baby. Alright? Your father and I are twins, so I can make it up to you for all his mistakes, alright? Don’t hold it against your father as well, alright? Your father can’t accompany you, so let me accompany you in his place. Alright?”

Aino instantly stopped crying and smiled. “Uncle Holden, is what you said true?”

“Of course! I am a man of my words.”

Aino immediately smiled. “

Aino immediately smiled. “Then can I not want my dad anymore? I just want you, Uncle Holden!”

“Of course!” Holden was incredibly happy. He thought that he had finally succeeded. “Aino, tell me, what do you want?”

Aino thought about it for a moment. “I have all my toys at home. My stinky bum dad didn’t really accompany me, so he bought me toys every day. However, he also had never taken me out to play. I knew very little of the streets and alleys of South City...”

Hearing Aino saying that, Holden could not help but

Hearing Aino saying that, Holden could not help but ponder. He had to take Aino out no matter what. He had to bring Aino up and never ever let her meet Sebastian again. Since he was already going to take Aino away, then he should just let her take another look at this city. In the future, he would be Aino's guardian, the person who loves her the most, and he would be her father figure. Therefore, it was only natural for him to fulfill his daughter's wish. He swore that he has to treat Aino and Sabrina better than Sebastian. He swore!

Holden hugged Aino. "Baby, I can fulfill everything that your father could not do. I will take

can fulfill everything that your father could not do. I will take you to the amusement park tomorrow and take you through all the streets and alleys in South City.”

“Really, Uncle Holden?” Aino was incredibly surprised.

Holden nodded. “Of course it’s real! I will never lie to you.”

“Uncle Holden, you’re really nice. You’re a hundred times nicer than my dad. I want to give you a thumbs up and a heart reaction,” said Aino. 🍀

Holden did not understand. “What is a heart reaction?”

“Hahaha, Uncle Holden, you’re so outdated. Squat, Uncle Holden, squat. Squat a little

so outdated. Squat, Uncle Holden, squat. Squat a little lower,” requested Aino.

Holden then squatted next to her. Aino gently pecked Uncle Holden’s forehead, and then said smugly, “This is a heart reaction.”

Holden’s heart melted in an instant. He took a look at the time. “Good girl. Go to sleep. Little children shouldn’t stay up late. If you stay up late, you will not grow taller.”

Aino said good night to Holden. “Good night, Uncle Holden.” After that, she went to the nursery that Holden had prepared for her at the last minute.

“Good night, my baby Aino.”

prepared for him at the last minute.

“Good night, my baby Aino.”

“Good night, Uncle Holden.”

Aino instantly switched off the lights of the nursery right at the moment she closed the door. She quickly climbed into bed and curled herself up. The tears started to gush down her face. She hugged her knees with both her arms and muttered in a voice so soft that only no one could hear it. “Dad and Mom, don’t worry about me! I have a way to escape. Dad and Mom, I am very brave. I miss you so much.” Aino sobbed softly in the nursery.

Chapter 1811

Zayn knew that in terms of loving Aino, nobody loved her more than Sebastian. The reason Sebastian let Holden go was because he had thought it through from all aspects and wanted to give Aino the best chance to survive.

Speaking of that, Sebastian cleared his throat and his voice sounded even more miserable than before. "At the very least, Holden cares for Aino. I only bank on this love he has for Aino and try my best not to anger him." There was a pause before Sebastian raised his hands and covered his face. "I hope...I hope that my Aino...

could come back alive." Then

Chapter 1811

Zayn knew that in terms of loving Aino, nobody loved her more than Sebastian. The reason Sebastian let Holden go was because he had thought it through from all aspects and wanted to give Aino the best chance to survive.

Speaking of that, Sebastian cleared his throat and his voice sounded even more miserable than before. "At the very least, Holden cares for Aino. I only bank on this love he has for Aino and try my best not to anger him." There was a pause before Sebastian raised his hands and covered his face. "I hope...I hope that my Aino...

could come back alive." Then

hands and covered his face. "I hope...I hope that my Aino... could come back alive." There was a lump in his throat as he said that.

He was a man, the person with the highest authority in the Ford Group, and a man who had reigned South City for almost eight years. He had never cried growing up, but at this moment, Sebastian's voice was choked up. Sabrina was heartbroken when she saw her man like that. She leaned on Sebastian's shoulders and cried inconsolably. To a family, if their child was abducted that the family would have collapsed, even if the head of the family was Sebastian.

"All of you just go home." said

collapsed, even if the head of the family was Sebastian.

"All of you, just go home," said Sebastian weakly.

"Sebastian, we'll stay here to take care of you and Sabrina," said Zayn.

Alex nodded. "Yes, Sebastian. Now is the time when you and Sabrina needed to be taken care of the most. How could we just go home?"

The rest of them agreed and none of them was willing to leave.

However, Sebastian shook his head firmly. "Everyone has a phone. We'll keep in contact through the phone. All of you just go home first. Let us be

phone. We'll keep in contact through the phone. All of you just go home first. Let us be alone."

"Okay. If there is anything, we'll stay in touch through the phone. We'll take our leave first," Alex finally said.

They left Sebastian's house, but all of them actually never left the neighborhood. That night, all of them sat in their cars downstairs at Sebastian's house and did not even sleep a wink through the night.

That night, Sebastian and Sabrina sat in their living room and hugged each other. They did not say anything.

"Sabrina," Sabrina said with a hoarse voice. "Do you still did not say anything.

"Sabrina," Sabrina said with a hoarse voice. "Do you still remember a few nights ago, the night before Jane had given birth, I kept pestering you and asking you to make love to me? I was panicking very much in my heart that day. I kept feeling like something was about to happen and was feeling extremely sad that day. I had never expected that our Aino would be truly snatched away by Holden. Sebastian... say, do you think this is fate?"

Sebastian did not say anything. The lights in the living room were not on. However, the lights from outside were still able to shine in. As the light landed on Sebastian's strong able to shine. As the lights landed on Sebastian's strong and masculine face, tears could be seen streaming down from it.

"Sebastian, do you believe in me?" asked Sabrina.

Sebastian did not say anything. He just hugged Sabrina tightly.

"I can take care of Aino and I can deliver my second child smoothly. I can weather the storm. Do you believe in me, Sebastian?" asked Sabrina.

Sebastian still did not say a single word. He just hugged Sabrina tightly in his arms and shook his head aggressively.

"I can't live without Aino, Sebastian."

“I can’t live without Aino, Sebastian.”

“I can’t live without Aino too.”

“I will bring Aino, myself, as well as our child, back. Believe in me, Sebastian,” said Sabrina as she cried. Sebastian shook his head and still did not say a word.

“I don’t do things that I’m uncertain of. You know that. Six years ago, I was also in a dangerous position, but I still fought the rights for the child in my belly. No matter when, even if at the worst times, I will still consider my own safety. I had never given up on the hope to survive at all. Sebastian, I have a very strong will to live.

uncertain of. You know that. Six years ago, I was also in a dangerous position, but I still fought the rights for the child in my belly. No matter when, even if at the worst times, I will still consider my own safety. I had never given up on the hope to survive at all. Sebastian, I have a very strong will to live.

Right at that moment, the ringing tone of a phone sounded in the empty and quiet room. Without even thinking twice, Sabrina answered the call. "Hello! Is it Holden?"

Chapter 1812

Holden's satisfied voice could be heard coming from the other end of the call. "Sabrina, My route is now unobstructed. When are you coming over?"

"Where's Aino?" Sabrina asked.

Holden immediately called out cheerfully. "Aino, come over quick. Your mom's on the phone."

Sabrina then heard the sound of Aino running over to the phone. After Aino answered the call, Sabrina could hear the little girl panting.

"Mom, what are you doing?"

Aino's voice was extremely cheerful. It sounded like she

she still believed it and always
was very happy.

Sabrina suppressed her overwhelming emotions and decided to cry. She asked Aino
calmly, "Tell me, are you having fun being with your uncle?"

"Uncle Holden is even nicer to me than Dad is. He bought me a fighting robot that is twice as tall as me. Mom, I can't even climb on it. I like this robot too much." Aino immediately said,

Sabrina felt slightly relieved. "That's great."

"Mom, you don't have to worry about me. I want to stay with my uncle Holden and play for a few more days. When I am

y Uncle Holden and play for a few more days. When I am missing you and Dad, I will give you a call. Both of you don't have to worry about me. I am having fun and very happy being here with Uncle Holden. Mom, I'm going to hang up. I want to go play with that robot." Aino hung up the call without waiting for her mother to say anything else. She seemed indifferent, and she ran back to the side of that robot in her onesie.

The robot that Holden bought for her was very big. It was two meters tall, and it was truly very spectacular. Aino liked it very much. She sat in front of that robot, raised her head and looked at Holden. "Uncle

Holden, can you not call me

that robot, raised her head and looked at Holden. "Uncle Holden, can you not call my mom in the future? My mom is becoming more and more of a nag now. I want to play with you here for a while, and I don't want my mom to bother me. Is that alright, Uncle Holden?"

In order to not frighten Aino, Holden did not tell Aino that he was using her to blackmail her parents. In fact, Holden indeed cared for Aino, and he loved her like his own child. When he heard Aino begging him like that, Holden instantly became softhearted. "Aino, if I don't call your mother, I'm afraid that your mother will worry about you. Your mother is now that your mother will worry about you. Your mother is now eight months pregnant, and she can't afford to have any mishaps."

Aino pouted. "Oh, I know that, Uncle Holden."

"However, I can make it up to you in other ways. Tell me, what else do you want?" asked Holden.

Aino tilted her head innocently. "Uncle Holden, is what you said true?"

"Of course!"

"Haha! I want my dad!" Aino said with an extremely innocent smile.

Holden was speechless. For a moment there, he wanted to

Holden was speechless. For a moment there, he wanted to crush this child! He treated her so well, bought her everything, and spent more time with her than her father, but she still missed her father! D*mned! What an abomination!

However, Aino did not see the evil that flashed by Holden's face. On the contrary, she put her little head in Holden's arms. That made Holden suddenly feel a kind of unexpected flattery and his heart was instantly melted.

"Uncle Holden, do you know? My dad is truly annoying! I haven't seen my dad for almost a month. Every day when I woke up, he was no longer at home and I didn't see him

haven't seen my dad for almost a month. Every day when I woke up, he was no longer at home, and I didn't see him coming back every night before I fell asleep as well. I truly miss my dad very much, Uncle Holden..." The little girl actually cried while saying that.

Holden was slightly caught off guard. He did not know how to comfort Aino who was crying. Aino laid in her uncle's arms. "Uncle Holden, you and my dad are twins, but why are you so nice and why is my dad so annoying? I hate my dad. I hate him!"

Chapter 1813

Holden suddenly smiled. He understood why the little girl said she wanted to see her father when he said he would grant her a wish just now. That was because she had not seen her father for a very long time. She missed her father but she was also annoyed at him. She even hated her father. Holden felt very happy. It was great that Aino hated her father. As long as Aino was willing to hate her father, then Holden would be able to walk into Aino's heart easily. That was the best opportunity for him at that moment. The more her father was distant from Aino, the nicer Holden had to treat her.

was distant from Aino, the nicer Holden had to treat her. Besides, being nice to Aino was originally the most important thing to Holden.

“Don’t cry, Aino. Don’t cry, baby. Alright? Your father and I are twins, so I can make it up to you for all his mistakes, alright? Don’t hold it against your father as well, alright? Your father can’t accompany you, so let me accompany you in his place. Alright?”

Aino instantly stopped crying and smiled. “Uncle Holden, is what you said true?”

“Of course! I am a man of my words.”

Aino immediately smiled. “

Aino immediately smiled. “Then can I not want my dad anymore? I just want you, Uncle Holden!”

“Of course!” Holden was incredibly happy. He thought that he had finally succeeded. “Aino, tell me, what do you want?”

Aino thought about it for a moment. “I have all my toys at home. My stinky bum dad didn’t really accompany me, so he bought me toys every day. However, he also had never taken me out to play. I knew very little of the streets and alleys of South City...”

Hearing Aino saying that, Holden could not help but

Hearing Aino saying that, Holden could not help but ponder. He had to take Aino out no matter what. He had to bring Aino up and never ever let her meet Sebastian again. Since he was already going to take Aino away, then he should just let her take another look at this city. In the future, he would be Aino's guardian, the person who loves her the most, and he would be her father figure. Therefore, it was only natural for him to fulfill his daughter's wish. He swore that he has to treat Aino and Sabrina better than Sebastian. He swore!

Holden hugged Aino. "Baby, I can fulfill everything that your father could not do. I will take

can fulfill everything that your father could not do. I will take you to the amusement park tomorrow and take you through all the streets and alleys in South City.”

“Really, Uncle Holden?” Aino was incredibly surprised.

Holden nodded. “Of course it’s real! I will never lie to you.”

“Uncle Holden, you’re really nice. You’re a hundred times nicer than my dad. I want to give you a thumbs up and a heart reaction,” said Aino. 🍀

Holden did not understand. “What is a heart reaction?”

“Hahaha, Uncle Holden, you’re so outdated. Squat, Uncle Holden, squat. Squat a little

so outdated. Squat, Uncle Holden, squat. Squat a little lower,” requested Aino.

Holden then squatted next to her. Aino gently pecked Uncle Holden’s forehead, and then said smugly, “This is a heart reaction.”

Holden’s heart melted in an instant. He took a look at the time. “Good girl. Go to sleep. Little children shouldn’t stay up late. If you stay up late, you will not grow taller.”

Aino said good night to Holden. “Good night, Uncle Holden.” After that, she went to the nursery that Holden had prepared for her at the last minute.

“Good night, my baby Aino.”

prepared for him at the last minute.

“Good night, my baby Aino.”

“Good night, Uncle Holden.”

Aino instantly switched off the lights of the nursery right at the moment she closed the door. She quickly climbed into bed and curled herself up. The tears started to gush down her face. She hugged her knees with both her arms and muttered in a voice so soft that only no one could hear it. “Dad and Mom, don’t worry about me! I have a way to escape. Dad and Mom, I am very brave. I miss you so much.” Aino sobbed softly in the nursery.

Chapter 1814

In the middle of the night, Aino's little figure curled under the covers and was sobbing continuously. She kept trembling as well. She was very afraid. However, she also felt that she was brave for having succeeded in tricking her Uncle Holden. Just for a few seconds, she felt pity for Uncle Holden as well. However, the six-year-old Aino could not care so much anymore. She had to escape from the clutches of her uncle as soon as possible. She must escape. No, she could not let her Uncle Holden see that her eyes were swollen from crying when she woke up the following day. She could not cry any longer!

following day she could not cry any longer!

'Aino, don't cry! You can't be a coward. You have to be brave! Your mom is going to give birth soon. You still have to take care of your mom. Be brave!'

Aino wiped her tears away and forced herself to not cry.

Finally, she stopped crying. She tiptoed and went barefoot to the bathroom and washed her eyes and face with ice-cold water. After that, she returned to her bedroom and slept. She had to sleep well. Not long after that, the little girl fell asleep. She had many dreams throughout the night. She dreamed that her mother truly had given birth to her younger brother. She dreamed that she had given to her younger brother. She dreamed that she took great care of her mother. She had been an expert at taking care of her mother since she was very little. Aino woke up smiling. When she opened her eyes, she saw her uncle standing by her bed. He was holding an exquisite little white dress and was waving it in her face. "

"You're finally awake, baby," her Uncle Holden said gently.

Aino squinted. "Uncle Holden, how come you're in the room?"

"Our schedule is very tight today, so I wanted to push you and get you to wake earlier," Holden said. "I saw that you're still sleeping when I came to your bedside, and I couldn't still sleeping when I came to your bedside, and I couldn't bear to wake you up. So, I might as well prepare what you will wear today. I saw that you were smiling so sweetly in your dreams. Tell me, what were you dreaming about?"

Aino blinked her round eyes. "Hmph! I just want him to piss off to death!"

Holden stifled a laugh. There was a pause before he said, "He is your father. You can't piss him off to death. We'll just ignore him from now on. After all, you have my love for you! Ignore him!"

"Mm-hmm! Ignore Sebastian Ford from now on!" Aino said.

"Quickly get up and pick your

"Ain-huuu! Ignore Sebastian Ford from now on!" Aino said.

"Quickly get up and pick your clothes! After you've picked out your clothes, I will take you through all the streets and alleys in the entire South City today."

What he wanted to say but he did not was, 'Perhaps you will never set foot on this piece of land again when you grow up later, so I will take you to as many places here as I can today.'

Holden did not say any of that. He only turned around and helped Aino pick out her clothes. He was very serious and he had a good eye. The clothes that he picked out for and he had a good eye. The clothes that he picked out for Aino matched Aino's complexion and temperament very well. If an outsider who did not know anything saw them, the person would truly feel that they were a pair of father and daughter. This was because their facial features were vaguely similar, and also because he was too much like a father.

After Aino had changed her clothes, Holden took Aino along with him and had the driver drive them through all the streets and alleys in South City. He brought Aino to all the big amusement parks in South City. Aino kept squealing in excitement.

clothes, Holden took Aino along with him and had the driver drive them through all the streets and alleys in South City. He brought Aino to all the big amusement parks in South City. Aino kept squealing in excitement.

“Uncle Holden, I love you, just like a mouse loves cheese,” Aino shouted.

Holden sat in the car and felt a n unprecedented joy. That was a kind of happiness he wanted. Holden could feel that he was very close.

Chapter 1815

He was extremely close to being united with Sabrina, Aino, as well as the child in Sabrina's belly. They could then live a carefree and idyllic life. How great was that? While Holden was in a daze, his phone rang. He took his phone up and answered it. "Hello?"

"Master Holden, we've already done a thorough investigation. There are no men keeping watch all over South City. The route is also unobstructed. We can definitely return to the island." There was a pause. "Master Holden, it's just that..."

"If you have something to say, could you please be direct?" asked Holden.

could you please direct?"
asked Holden.

"Master Holden, are you truly going to give that piece of island freely to Malvolio Yeatman?"

Holden was silent for a moment.
"I don't care for that island and money. When I struck a deal with Malvolio back then, we already had an agreement. I can't go back on my words. I just want to live my life together with Sabrina and Aino. That's all."

"But..." The person wanted to continue but stopped himself.

Holden then said immediately, "I know. All of you have been fighting alongside me. All thirty of you can be assured that I have saved five million dollars in your bank accounts. I don't have more to offer. Take those five million bank accounts. I don't have more to offer. Take those five million dollars and pick a place to start a small business. As your leader, I'm sorry to have failed you. I...I just felt that fighting and killing doesn't suit the current times anymore. It's better for you to find yourself a wife, start a small business, and have a couple of children in the future." Holden's tone was sincere.

The other party was choked up after hearing that. "Master Holden, you've treated us the best. We don't want anything. We're willing to follow you for life and protect you. So, what if we're broke? We can earn the money together as brothers."

Holden felt emotional. "My good man! I understand. I know it all! However, we can't keep Holden felt emotional. "My good man! I understand. I know it all! However, we can't keep wandering around like this. I have already made up my mind. Dismiss everyone in our group and each of them will get five million dollars."

"Master Holden!"

"I have already made up my mind. Don't persuade me anymore. However, if any of you have any troubles in the future, you can come and find me. Do you hear me?" said Holden.

"Yes, Master Holden," said that person reluctantly.

"Alright."

After he hung up the call, Holden subconsciously turned his head

After he hung up the call, Holden subconsciously turned his head back and looked at Aino. Seeing that Aino was silent, he asked, “What’s the matter, baby?”

“Uncle Holden, who are you going to dismiss?” asked Aino.

“Well, I feel...everyone who is just like me should have a family. They should have a sensible wife and a big bunch of children. They should just get by with simple lives. They can’t be fighting and killing anymore.” Holden did not conceal his thoughts from Aino.

Aino immediately put her head on her Uncle Holden’s shoulder. “Uncle Holden, you’re truly great! You’re the best uncle I have. When I get back to kindergarten, I will tell all my friends that I

When I get back to kindergarten, I will tell all my friends that I, Aino Scott, have an uncle now! My uncle is very handsome. He is more handsome than my dad! He loves me more than my dad! He satisfies my every whim! May I know if you have an uncle just like mine? You surely don't! Hahaha!"

Holden was speechless. The smile on his face bloomed increasingly brighter. He truly did not expect that it was actually so much fun interacting with a child. He became more and more fond of Aino.

Right at that moment, Aino suddenly shouted. "Stop the car! Stop the car! Quickly stop the car! I saw that delicious cotton candy, which is that kind of most traditional kind of cotton candy!

car! I saw that delicious cotton candy, which is that kind of most traditional kind of cotton candy! I want to eat that! I want to eat that! Uncle Holden, buy me one. I'll make one for myself!"

Aino kept shouting, so Holden asked the driver to stop the car. He held Aino's hand and led her to the front of that artisan who made the traditional cotton candy. Aino then pretended to jabber about the patterns of the cotton candy.

"I want this one! This one! I also want this one! I want freshly made ones!" Aino shouted in excitement. Those cotton candies had bright and adorable colors and were liked by every child who saw them. Aino pointed at so many that Holden felt dazed. He could not help but pointed at so...y that Holden felt dazed. He could not help but tell the lady who owned the stall. "Wrap up all of those that she wanted!"

"Alright, Sir. That would be a total of eighty-six dollars," said the lady after calculating it.

Holden then took out his, paid the lady and waited for her to get him his change. After he was done with the payment, he took the few kinds of cotton candy that Aino wanted and turned around. Holden then realized that Aino was missing.

Where was Aino? Holden immediately shouted. "Aino! Aino..."

Chapter 1816

Holdent tried to turn around to see where else she could've gone. He was completely stunned at that moment. The cotton candies he held in his hand fell on the floor.

“Sir, sir? You still haven't paid,” shouted the lady.

“Get lost!” Holden raised his foot and kicked the lady violently. She vomited blood as she landed on the ground. She was shocked as she looked at the decently dressed man in front of her, who had a handsome appearance and seemed wise and virtuous. She could not believe that he was actually a devil.

The lady suddenly was reminded

The lady suddenly was reminded of a crime movie that she saw a very long time ago. There was a line in the movie. "Can you guarantee that his melon is ripe?" It was just one line. The customer who wanted to buy the melon in the movie asked the seller who sold the melons if he could guarantee that the melon was ripened and weighed enough. The melon seller then arrogantly pulled some tricks and fooled that customer. In the end, the customer killed the melon seller. In that scene, the melon seller was more or less a little unethical. However, the lady was just a person who sold cotton candies and she did not trick anyone. She was just an honest person doing a small business. Why would she still honest person running a small business. Why would she still suffer such a misfortune for no reason?

The lady felt aggrieved and scared. Just when she was thinking of a way to call the police, she saw that the young man who bought the cotton candies was panicking so much that his tone was also changed. “Aino, Aino, baby, where did you go? Don’t give me a scare. Quickly come out! You don’t want to go with me, right? Then just tell me honestly! I’d rather not take you away than put you in danger. Aino...” Speaking of that, the man unexpectedly choked up.

The lady was speechless. She had accepted that she was just unlucky. He was a man who had lost a child. Who would not have accepted that she was just unlucky. He was a man who had lost a child. Who would not have a little temper? The man walked further and further away. The more he shouted, the more anxious he got. However, where was the child? Nobody saw where the child had slipped into within those few minutes.

At that very moment, Aino was hiding behind a row of cages for doves. That row of cages was truly very smelly, but she could endure it. She tried her best to bite her lips and stop herself from crying. She knew that she would be found by Holden if she had a tiny movement. If she was found by Holden, then she would no longer be able to see her parents anymore. Aino did not want to be separated from her parents anymore. Aino did not want to be separated from her parents. She did not want that! Huge drops of tears streamed down Aino's face. Aino and those doves, which symbolized peace, looked at each other, but the doves did not understand the situation the six-year-old girl was in. The six-year-old child had boundless helplessness and horror flickering in her big round eyes.

Aino kept telling herself. "Aino, you have to be brave! You have to be brave and strong like your mom. Aino, you can't be softhearted in the future. You have to be heartless like your dad! Aino, it was because you're too softhearted this time, that's why you were tricked by your grandpa! Don't trust Grandpa why you were tricked by your grandpa! Don't trust Grandpa anymore in the future! Don't trust anymore!"

Nobody noticed that there was a child who was crying silently, hiding behind the cages of doves behind the crack in the walls.

Holden could not find her.

Sabrina and Sebastian had no idea about it. The little child, Aino, was still extremely vigilant. She knew that the street was probably filled with her Uncle Holden's men who were looking for her. She knew that even if those men stopped looking for her, she also would not borrow someone's phone halfway to call her parents. That was because she did not trust anybody. After being tricked by her grandpa, Aino no longer idea about it. The little child, Aino, was still extremely vigilant. She knew that the street was probably filled with her Uncle Holden's men who were looking for her. She knew that even if those men stopped looking for her, she also would not borrow someone's phone halfway to call her parents. That was because she did not trust anybody. After being tricked by her grandpa, Aino no longer trusted anybody.

Chapter 1817

Perhaps her parents could pick her up at the quickest possible time if Aino were to borrow a phone and call them. However, it was also possible for the bad people to notify her Uncle Holden during that time. Aino could not take that risk. She could only trust herself. She was a child who was very good at remembering routes. She was very clever. The reason she asked her Uncle Holden to stop here to buy cotton candy was not because the cotton candy was that delicious, but it was because she recognized this route. This was because lately, her Uncle Kingston had often driven her to the hospital right after he picked her up from kindergarten. This was the route to the hospital her up from kindergarten. This was the route to the hospital from the kindergarten. She could walk back to her kindergarten if she followed her memory and walked along this route. After that, she could walk back to her house from the kindergarten based on what she remembered. The six-year-old child planned to use the dumbest, which was also the safest, way to walk back home.

Throughout her journey, Aino was afraid that someone would ask her, "Child, where are your parents?" She was afraid that others would ask her that, so sometimes she would jog a few steps and then shouted, "Dad, Mom, wait for me."

However, after Aino had walked for a very far distance and for an

However, after she had walked for a very far distance and for an unknown amount of time, she still had not reached her school. She was tired and sleepy. She was also very hungry. When she saw a public restroom, the little child, Aino, hid herself in there. She did not dare to sleep for too long. She forced herself to only take a short nap. Just a short nap. She would continue to walk after she took a brief rest. Just like that, it was already mid-afternoon, but she still could not reach her kindergarten on foot. However, Aino knew that she was getting closer and closer to her kindergarten. The hope in her heart also got greater and greater.

Aino did not know that if she should give a call to her parents at that moment, they would not

...aino did not know that if she should give a call to her parents at that moment, they would not have to make their next decision. She was only a six-year-old child. How would she know the malice between adults? How would she know about the deals between the adults? She had already exhausted all the wisdom a six-year-old child could use. Aino, who had extraordinary wisdom, did not know that her dad and mom were bidding their last farewell to each other at that moment.

An hour ago, Sabrina and Sebastian had called Holden numerous times, but no matter how many times they tried, Holden just did not pick up. Both Sabrina and Sebastian, who always had an incomparably strong mind, broke down at the always had an incomparably strong mind, broke down at the same time. It was not until the final call that Holden finally picked up the call. Before waiting for Holden to say anything, Sabrina could not hold it in at this end of the phone call. “

Holden Payne! Don't you...don't you torture me anymore. I...I'll go along with whatever you say now! Where's my...Aino? My Aino is fine, right? Let me listen to her voice. I just want to listen to it.”

Holden sneered. “Sabrina! I had already let you listen to Aino's voice countless times! I have already boarded the ship now! It's not convenient for me to do so anymore. I'll just be waiting for you to come over!”

“I'll go! I'll go! I certainly will g

“I’ll go! I’ll go! I certainly will go!”

“Have you said your farewells to that sc*mbag?” Holden asked again.

Sabrina nodded. “Yes, I have.”

“That sc*mbag was not worthy of being with you at all! You don’t have to be sad! It hasn’t even been two years since you have gotten together with that sc*mbag. You had once been separated for six years. Weren’t you able to live your life just as well? Sabrina, don’t worry. Being together with me, I will not let you suffer any grievances. I will make you and your daughter, as well as your child in your belly, very happy. Believe me, Sabrina.”

Holden, who was on the other very happy. Be with me, Sabrina.”

Holden, who was on the other end of the call, was very incomparably sad. He was feeling very desolate. He could not find Aino anymore. How badly he wanted to take Aino away with him. However, he could not find Aino anymore. He was afraid that any further delay would bring about changes.

Holden was even prepared to fight Sebastian to death. In the end, several hours had passed, but Sebastian did not lay his hand on him at all. That could only mean one thing. Aino had escaped, but she had not given her parents a call. Sebastian and Sabrina still did not know that Aino had run away. Holden then decisively made the final decision, which was to take decisively made the final decision, which was to take Sabrina away. As for Aino, Holden could only endure the pain and let her stay by Sebastian's side. Aino running away made Holden grit his teeth in hate, but he did not hate Aino. He hated Sebastian. He simply wanted to let Sebastian live in pain for life! For life!

"I believe you! I believe you! I'll go immediately! I'll go now!" said Sabrina continuously.

"Alright, I'll wait for you!" Holden hung up the call after that.

Chapter 1818

After she hung up the call, Sabrina looked calmly at Sebastian. "Sebastian, take care of yourself, alright?"

Sebastian's eyebrows were tightly knitted. He actually had some white hairs on both of his sideburns.

"Believe in me, Sebastian. I will certainly be fine. I will bring Aino, as well as the child in my belly, back safely. All three of us will be fine. Believe in me. The six years I spent in exile is the best proof that I certainly will not let myself die. I definitely will not let any mishaps happen to our children. I am an incredibly strong mother."

to our children. I am an incredibly strong mother.”

Sebastian hugged Sabrina in his arms. He hugged her so tightly. He had never felt so disheartened like this moment before. He was so disheartened that he wanted to turn the whole city upside down. However, his daughter was still in the hands of the other party. He could not do anything. Even if Holden appeared in front of him at this moment and asked him, Sebastian Ford, to kneel and bark like a dog, Sebastian would do as he was told. Just like eight years ago, when his mother was in prison and when he was constrained by those few brothers of his, he also behaved as unobtrusively as this moment. However, his wife was already eight months pregnant at this s unobtrusively at this moment. However, his wife was already eight months pregnant at this moment! Eight months!

“Promise me,” said Sebastian with difficulty. “Promise me that you certainly will stay alive and protect our children. Also, please believe in me that I will think of a way to save you as fast as I can. Sabrina, you know, if...if Holden held just anybody as a hostage, I will not let you put yourself in danger. However, Aino is our child. She is our daughter. Even if Holden wanted all of Ford Group’s assets, I will not trade that with you. But Aino, she is only six years old...”

“I know. Don’t speak any further, Sebastian. I know. At this moment, we certainly have to work together. We have to have further, Sebastian. I know. At this moment, we certainly have to work together. We have to have mutual understanding. Nobody else could help us. No number of bodyguards will help. No one could! We only have the two of us, so we must have great focus and work together. We have to achieve the highest level of mutual understanding. Our family of three, no, our family of four certain can be reunited safely. We also have your mom!”

At that moment, Sabrina mentioned Grace. “Your mom will certainly protect us from the heavens. Sebastian, think about it. We have been through how many hardships since the moment we met, but we have gone through them all! All of them are in our past! Holden is gone through all! All of them are in our past! Holden is not the devil. He is your mom's other child. I certainly will have a way to negotiate with him. I certainly will bring our children back safely."

"Sebastian, I want to..." Sabrina stopped speaking mid sentence. She raised her head and looked at Sebastian with hopeful eyes.

"Go ahead with whatever you wanted to say," Sebastian immediately said. "I will do it for you even if I have to go through all sorts of perils."

"I was thinking, you weren't accompanying me by my side when I gave birth last time, so this time...this time, I want you to accompany me by my side. I... really want that very much.

o accompany me by my side. I... really want that very much.

Sebastian, do you know that I was particularly envious of Jane?
She had gone through so many hardships, but no matter how many hardships she went through, Alex was able to rush to her side in time when she gave birth. How nice.”

Sabrina’s voice was very soft. It was so soft that it sounded like a whisper. However, Sebastian heard her incomparably clearly.
He heard every single word from her. He knew that she had a lot o f things that she did not say out loud. What she truly wanted to say was why did God have to treat her like that, and why she still had to be separated from her husband like that when she only had one month before she gave still had to be separated from her husband like that when she only had one month before she gave birth to her child. Could she truly return? Would she truly be able to let her husband watch her as she gave birth to their child, or would Aino, herself, and the child in her belly, never be able to return? She did not say any of that. Sebastian did not say anything. He just hugged his wife, and both of them cried inconsolably.

Chapter 1819

He was a powerful man. He was the King of South City. However, at this moment, the masculine man shed a tear. Sabrina suddenly broke free from Sebastian's embrace. She took her bag, turned around and left.

"Sabrina..." Sebastian called out.

Sabrina went downstairs and the driver was waiting for Sabrina. She got in the car, but she did not say a single word. The driver also did not know where he should send her.

Sebastian leaned against the window and looked out of it. He also did not say anything, but he was saying it over and over again in his heart, 'Believe me, Sabrina. I will rescue you as fast a Sabrina. I will rescue you as fast as I can. You have to meet our daughter first thing when you get there. As long as you are together with our daughter, I can feel at ease. I will immediately commence rescuing all of you. I will exhaust everything of the Ford Group to rescue and get you and Aino back.'

Sabrina left. Sebastian collapsed onto the ground as if he was already dead. After an some time, Kingston came over. He gently called out. "Master Sebastian, madam has already been sent on the ship."

"Have you seen Aino?"

Sebastian asked with a hoarse voice.

Kingston shook his head. "No, Master Sebastian. However, I

Kingston shook his head. "No, Master Sebastian. However, I think that since Holden likes the little princess so much, he certainly would not do anything to the little princess. What he wanted the most in his life is to live together with Sabrina and the little princess. Also, madam is already eight months pregnant. Before she gave birth, Holden certainly would not approach her. I feel that madam and the little princess are the safest within this one month. Therefore ..." Kingston was interrupted by Sebastian before he finished his words.

"Within this one month, I have to think of a way to rescue and get Sabrina and Aino back! Even if I had to exhaust all the assets of the Ford Group. Go. Go and f I had to exhaust all the assets o f the Ford Group. Go. Go and conduct an inspection now. Not even a second could be delayed!”

“Master Sebastian...” Kingston called out again.

“What else?” Sebastian’s tone was still hoarse and was not angry at all.

“Your old man, Old Director Ford, his driver has...requested t o meet you. He said that the Old Director Ford is sick and is at the hospital...” Kingston said.

“Where’s the driver?” Sebastian asked.

“Downstairs,” said Kingston carefully.

“Finish him!” Sebastian only uttered two words. Kingston was “Finish him!” Sebastian only uttered two words. Kingston was speechless.

“Finish him!”

“Yes! Master Sebastian!” Kingston immediately said. He left immediately after. Two hours later, Kingston returned, and he said calmly to Sebastian, “Master, it’s done.”

Sebastian was expressionless. Right at that moment, Sebastian’s phone rang, and he immediately answered the call. “Holden...”

It was unexpectedly Sean’s voice that came from the other end of the call. Sean’s voice was incomparably old. “Sebastian, my son, I have failed you...”

“I have already killed your incomparably. "Sebastian, my son, I have failed you..."

"I have already killed your driver," said Sebastian nonchalantly. Sean was speechless.

"From this moment on, as long as a person comes over from the Ford Residence, I will finish the person, including you, Sean Ford! I, Sebastian Ford, am not afraid to bear the name of having murdered his own father. You could push my daughter into the abyss and never to be recovered, so what can't I murder my own father?" asked Sebastian coldly.

"I... I regretted it very much," Sebastian said. "I truly regretted it very much. I have failed you. Just kill me."

Just kill me.”

“That’ll happen sooner or later!” said Sebastian. Sean was speechless.

Just when Sebastian was about to hang up the call, there was a knock on his door. Who could it be? Who else could it be?

Sebastian turned to Kingston. “Kill whoever who came!”

Kingston immediately went to open the door. Right at the moment when he was about to make his move when he opened the door, Kingston was suddenly stunned. Immediately after that, he was so overwhelmed that he was at a loss for words.

Swiftly after that, a smelly little girl ran towards Sebastian, crying. “Dad, Dad...I am back, the door, Kingston was suddenly stunned. Immediately after that, he was so overwhelmed that he was at a loss for words.

Swiftly after that, a smelly little girl ran towards Sebastian, crying. "Dad, Dad...I am back, Dad. Where is my mom? Quickly tell my mom that I am back." Sebastian was speechless.