Returning from the Dead: His Secret Lover Chapter 1023

Huh?

Devin was not the only one who was surprised when Sebastian said that.

Sasha, who was lying on Sebastian's chest, was equally baffled.

Is Solomon not in Yaleview? How did Sebastian know? Did he receive news after sending someone to search for him last night?

Sasha became even more restless.

Devin asked, "Where is he?"

"You don't have to worry about this. Just bring Sabrina back and make sure that she's safe," Sebastian answered and hung up.

Sasha kept watching him. When he finally put down his phone, she could not contain her curiosity anymore. "Sebby, have you found Solomon? Where is he?"

Sebastian sneered when he saw how concerned Sasha was. He grabbed her by her arms to drag her off his chest.

Sasha was rendered speechless.

I've enough! Why did I never notice that he's easily jealous?

Sasha clung to him tightly and said, "Why are you angry? Sebby, why did I never notice that you're the jealous type?"

"What did you say?" Sebastian narrowed his eyes dangerously.

Sasha cowered and did not dare to continue.

However, she did not release him and continued to hold him tightly.

"Let go!" Sebastian said angrily.

"No!" Sasha insisted.

"Do you want to be punished?" Sebastian said.

Sasha took a deep breath and finally looked up from Sebastian's chest. "I'll let go when you're not angry with me. Sebby, I didn't mean anything when I asked about Solomon. I'm worried that something might have happened to him. He saved my life when I was badly injured after falling off a cliff. Now that he's in trouble, we should help him, right?"

Sasha looked at Sebastian pleadingly and proceeded to tell him what she knew.

She had received some information about Solomon.

Luke said that after Solomon disappeared, Jamie disappeared too. She was Solomon's secretary.

Sasha knew that Jamie was a Jetroinian and Ken's sister. In the past, Jamie had approached Sasha with this name.

Therefore, she wondered why she had disappeared after Solomon went missing.

Once Sasha knew about Jamie's disappearance, she had asked her people to stop investigating Solomon and investigate Jamie instead.

It was then she discovered that Jamie had been acting strange recently.

"Before we came back, Jamie had booked a room at Palace Hotel. I asked someone to keep watch at the hotel and found out that there was also a Jetroinian there," Sasha said.

"Who?" Sebastian asked.

"Haruto!" Sasha immediately mentioned a Jetroinian name.

Sebastian was stunned.

Haruto? Isn't he the doctor who saved Sasha in Jetroina? A Jetroinian came to Avenport and stayed in Jamie's room. What does this mean?

Sebastian frowned and loosened his hold on her arms. Then he caressed her fluffy hair with his warm hands. "I didn't find out where Solomon is, but I know he planned his disappearance."

"Huh?" Sasha had a bad feeling. "Why… What makes you say that?"

"Solomon has trained a few top executives over the past year. When I went to the company, I saw that they still had some projects in hand. So, even if Solomon was not around, it would not disturb the workings of the company," Sebastian explained.

He paused for a moment and continued, "Furthermore, all the files on his computer are neatly organized. Even the instructions and data are clearer than those that I gave him."

Sebastian's expression darkened when he thought that Solomon might have tricked him into playing a part in his plan. Veins throbbed on his forehead.

What the heck? How dare he involve me in his plan?

Sasha had nothing to say. Her heart turned cold after she listened to Sebastian.

What is that son of a b*tch planning?

"Sebby, if we investigate Haruto, I'm sure we'll find Solomon," she suggested urgently.

It seemed that Sebastian was no longer angry with Sasha about this matter.

He nodded and made a call.

A few minutes later, the personnel at SteelFort began to take action. They went to Jetroina to investigate Haruto and Jamie.

Sasha felt relieved after knowing that SteelFort was carrying out an investigation.

"All right, Sebby, we should get out of bed. There really is a teacher coming to give our children a lesson."

Now that they settled the matter concerning Solomon, Sasha was tired of staying in bed and got up from it.

However, she had just moved when Sebastian pressed her back onto the bed.

"Hmm, are you abandoning me now that you got what you wanted?" Sebastian said.

Sasha instantly broke out in a cold sweat. "That's not true. I was going to wake the children up."

"Why do you need to do that? Don't we have servants? Let them do their job. You should lie down properly and let me do what I want," Sebastian replied.
