The Divorced Billionaire Heiress Boss

Chapter 1121

Floyd playfully turned the topic away while telling the butler to bring the good wine out.

Nicole followed and turned around to see Kai and Julie still standing there. It looked like they were discussing something.

They had to be separated for half a year, maybe more.

The two of them would definitely not make a decision too easily.

After the meal, Felicia proposed to go back to the hotel to rest.

Since they had known each other for so long, she did not stand on ceremony. Although it was just one night, she gave Kai time to think about it.

She had to fly to Denmark the next day and did not have time to wait long.

The family did not interfere with Kai's decision.

Kai and Julie discussed it. Julie insisted that Kai go with Felicia for the private training.

Her attitude was obvious.

Kai could not go on like this.

He should have a career he loves.

Kai was torn for a long time and finally agreed, but he was still worried about Julie.

Before leaving, he instructed Nicole several times to look after Julie on his behalf, so much so that Nicole was getting annoyed at him.

Julie and Nicole sent Kai off at the airport. He was fully equipped, and his whereabouts were strictly confidential.

Kai reluctantly said goodbye to Julie.

Julie was very calm and did not say anything much besides telling him to take care of himself.

Kai was a little disappointed. "Julie, I really want to marry you before I leave."

Julie was stunned and looked up at him. "We're still young. There's no rush."

"I'm scared you won't wait for me," Kai said bluntly.

Julie blinked. "Kai, the time we've been together isn't long nor short, but it's been longer than half a year. It'll pass by in the blink of an eye. We all look forward to your performance!"

Kai reached out to hug her and sighed again.

"If you need anything, remember to call me or send me a message. I'll reply as soon as I see it."

Julie nodded in acknowledgment. "Don't worry. Nicole is still here, isn't she? She's very capable!"

Kai smiled and stroked her head.

"I'll say a few words to Lil N. You wait here."

Julie nodded and had no intention of following him over. She sat there waiting for them.

Nicole watched Kai walk over and was a little surprised.

"Shouldn't you be using every second possible to say goodbye to Julie now?"

Kai's smile stiffened for a moment, then a willful smile curled on his lips.

"I won't say anything else since she's better than you. Do you know what to do if something happens?"

Nicole smiled. "Of course. She's my best friend. No matter what difficulties she has, I'll spare no effort to help her!"

Kai lowered his head and chuckled. His smile was slightly pale.

Nicole did not understand. "Why are you unhappy? Is being apart making you that sad? It's not like you can't call each other."

Kai pursed his lips and looked at Julie, who was sitting there playing with her phone.

His voice lowered slightly.

"I don't know why, but I feel like she doesn't like me as much as before."

Nicole frowned. "What makes you think that? She has always liked you."

Kai smiled but did not continue to speak. Nicole sighed.

"You're not a child anymore, Kai. Your relationship hasn't even completely settled yet. Why do you want a love that's like a moth to a flame? She experienced so much, so it's only natural that she subconsciously protects herself. You have to understand."

Kai paused and suddenly smiled. Nicole was right.

In the beginning, it was him who went to great lengths to make Julie change her mind.

What did it matter if she loved him a little less?

The two of them sent Kai to the plane.

On the way back.

The driver drove in front. Nicole sat there, looking at Julie hesitantly.

“Julie, don’t you want to know what my third brother said to me at the end?”

Julie looked at her. “No.” “Why?”

“Because it must be because he couldn’t bear to tell me. Your third brother is really too clingy. I’m afraid that this passion will suddenly go cold one day. That’s why I’m deliberately giving him the cold shoulder. I want him to calm down.”

Nicole blinked and smiled.

Kai’s worry was simply unnecessary! “I’ll take you to the set.”

Julie said, “I’ll go by myself. You’re busy.”

“I’m not busy. I want to see how the crew is doing too.”

Julie smiled. “Okay, then let’s go. I’m still the producer of the film. There’s an artist from Falcon Entertainment. I’m sure you’ll want to see him.”

Nicole raised her brows. That was great.

It was probably Harvey Sage. He had been in the limelight lately.

Nicole might as well just go and give him a little popularity boost.

When they arrived at the set, Julie went straight to the director to look at the latest progress.

Nicole wandered along and went into the lounge.

“Thank you, everyone. You’ve worked hard...”

The voice was a little familiar, but it definitely was not Harvey’s voice.

Nicole pondered as she pushed the door open. When the person saw her, the volume of his voice subconsciously increased.

“Ms. Stanton...”

It was Fabian.

“Ms. Stanton, did you come all the way here to visit?”

The young and popular Fabian was really starting to have a more mature look.

Fabian originally debuted as a singer and dancer, but after acting for a period, it seemed like he had grown a lot.

Nicole had a good impression of him at first.

However, when she heard that he sold his body to the big shots, her heart could not reconcile that image with the impression of the youthful boy in her heart.

Nicole could not enter nor leave, so she simply smiled and nodded.

“You’re also in this film?”

Fabian nodded. "I'm only in a few scenes. I worked together with the director before, so he called me over to help out."

Nicole raised her brows and nodded.

Fabian had always been very slick, but he gave people a naive and innocent feel.

Nicole smiled. Just as she was about to turn and leave, Fabian called out to her.

"Ms. Stanton..."

He paused and pursed his lips, hesitating to speak. Nicole looked at him. "What's wrong? Just say it." Fabian exhaled as if he was mustering up the courage.

"Ms. Stanton, did I do something to make you unhappy?" Nicole frowned in confusion. "Why do you ask?"

"Although we don't often meet and contact each other, I can feel it. The circle's attitude towards me is very subtle. Although they still look polite as ever, it's much less than before. I heard people in the circle say that Stanton Corporation chose Harvey Sage as their spokesperson. Will he take over all the resources I have?"

Fabian carefully phrased his words and raised his eyes to look at her.

His eyes were pure and child-like, clean like translucent glass.

He asked very straightforwardly without beating around the bush, asking what he wanted to know.

That was because he knew that when it came to speaking in a roundabout way, he was no match for these business people.

Nicole lowered her eyes. Then, she smiled and looked up.

"There's no such thing. Harvey is the spokesperson of Stanton Corporation naturally because he'll attract more attention. It won't affect your development. As long as you work hard in filming and singing, you'll definitely achieve something."

Chapter 1123 Eavesdrop

Although Nicole did not have the same enthusiasm and appreciation for Fabian as she did before, she did not deliberately limit his resources.

Dominic defined his development plan clearly. He would not give up on a cash cow like Fabian just because of his dark history.

They would not take away his resources.

Fabian's tender face carried a hint of confusion.

"But the company is putting all their efforts on Harvey now. My manager just changed, and no one is caring about me. Many of my activities were canceled at the last minute as well..."

Nicole frowned. Her expression changed slightly.

"How can that be?"

She had never heard of this.

However, judging by Fabian's anxious look, he did not seem like he was lying.

She took a deep breath and immediately took out her phone to call Dominic.

Dominic picked up after a few rings.

"How may I help you, Ms. Stanton?"

Chapter 1124 Discussion in Full Swing

The people inside did not notice that someone came in.

The discussion was still in full swing.

“Yeah, if my nudes were spread all over town, I would be too embarrassed to stay in the circle. Although I work behind the scenes, I’d be too embarrassed to go out so soon to meet people...”

“Wasn’t it said on the internet that those photos were doctored? Maybe they weren’t her photos...”

“That’s only being said to fool others. Did you actually believe that? Everyone in the circle knows that those photos are really hers. There was even a party some time ago for special people to enjoy them! Someone had left the negatives. I have to say, Julie’s figure is really great. Those men couldn’t stop looking at her...”

Nicole did not give them another chance. It would be hard to find a last-minute replacement for their roles, but even if she lost money, she would not continue to use these people.

She was just about to tell them to get lost when she saw a familiar skirt from behind the clothes rack come out. Julie smiled as she stood in front of Nicole.

"Forget it, Lil N..."

As soon as everyone saw Julie's sudden appearance, their expressions instantly became complicated and ugly.

Why was Julie here?

The clothes rack was tall and thick, and the space behind it was used for changing clothes.

If someone was hiding there, it would not be easy to discover them.

Nicole's face turned white. Compared to the women making her angry, she was more afraid that Julie heard what they said earlier.

However, she had not seen it wrongly. Julie was really here. Julie heard everything, even more than Nicole did.

How could Julie endure such unpleasant words?

Nicole took a deep breath and looked away, taking a deep breath.

"I can't just forget it. The circle isn't short of actresses. I'll make them get lost. Their career will be dead from now on. Absolutely no one will talk such nonsense again!"

Hearing Nicole's words, the actresses turned miserably pale.

Especially the female lead and the supporting female lead. They had paid a much heavier price than male actors in order to reach this position today.

They finally managed to get a foothold in this circle. If they were suddenly banned, they would lose everything, and the investors would try every means possible to get back the money they had put into the women because of their mistakes.

The female lead anxiously stepped forward and tried to touch Nicole, but Nicole shook her off.

"I was wrong, Ms. Stanton. Please have mercy. Don't kill my career!"

"Yes, Ms. Stanton, Ms. Nixon. We know that we're wrong. Please don't kill our careers..."

Nicole had made up her mind. If she did not teach them a lesson, sooner or later, this matter would be brought up again by others for laughs.

It was unacceptable!

Looking at Nicole's icy face, they turned to beg Julie. Julie looked at Nicole helplessly.

“Forget it, Lil N. It’s not worth making a big deal out of this.” Nicole’s face was frigid. “If this isn’t worth it, then what will be worth it?”

“The crew’s progress is already very slow. If we change actresses at the last minute, we’ll end up losing money. There’s also tension in the major TV stations. This show will be over if we can’t finish filming in time.”

Julie spoke solemnly.

Nicole said, “That’s simple. I’ll pay for the losses, and I’ll find connections regarding the airtimes. Even if I have to pour buckets of money into this show, I’ll make sure it blows up!”

Then, she glanced at the people coldly, committing their faces to memory.

Nicole turned and left.

They went frantic with anxiousness. Before long, Julie caught up to Nicole.

“Lil N, I’m not even that angry. Why are you reacting so badly?”

Nicole looked ahead without a change in expression.

“I promised my third brother that I won’t let anyone bully you. I won’t allow it even if they only said a few words.”

Julie fell silent for a moment and walked beside her. “When did he ask you to do that?”

“Just before he got on the plane. He said a few words to me alone before he left, and all he talked about was you. He told me to take care of you. If he finds out about this, his reaction will be worse than mine! If you don’t agree with my decision, I’ll tell Kai and let him come back to deal with it.

Julie's eyelashes trembled slightly. After a long while, she finally opened her mouth again and spoke in a slightly cold tone.

"Lil N, don't tell Kai about this. He can't be distracted now."

"Then should I just watch you being bullied? Do you think it was an accident? If this kind of thing happens frequently in the future, are we supposed to endure it again and again?"

Nicole was furious.

Julie suddenly pulled her arm. She looked at Nicole solemnly.

"Lil N, I'm serious. I'm telling you not to do this because I have my own methods."

Nicole paused, her gaze blank. "What methods?"

From the beginning, Julie reacted surprisingly calmly, as if she was at the mercy of others.

That was why Nicole was even more uneasy.

Putting aside the fact that Kai told her to look out for Julie, even if he did not instruct her to, she would not let anyone bully her best friend.

Julie smiled, and there was an imperceptible coldness at the corners of her lips.

"I've been in the business world for so many years. How could I be bullied by a few actresses? There are many ways to get revenge, each of them much better than your impulsiveness. For example, being shunned by the director when shooting a scene, or having their own scandals suddenly exposed. These are all good ways to make it so they're beyond redemption. If you just kill their careers, their fans will feel aggrieved for them and even hold it against you. Why should you ask for trouble?"

Nicole's face eased slightly, but she gave Julie a reproachful look.

"Why didn't you say so earlier? If you told me earlier, I wouldn't have been so impulsive. I really thought that you wanted to let them off the hook because you were thinking about the investment poured into the film."

Julie smiled. "You didn't give me the chance to explain and said that you'll kill their careers straight up. Your decisive and domineering method is really the same as your third brother!"

Killing the careers of people they did not like was the most direct and effective method.

Many bigwigs used it before.

However, bigwigs who did not have confidence would not have the face to say so.

Julie had been in the circle for a long time and naturally knew that the investors behind these actresses were not simple. If they rashly killed their careers, it would cause discontent among the investors.

Although Stanton Corporation was not afraid, Julie could not keep using Stanton Corporation as her scapegoat.

Julie had her own methods to solve this problem. Although it was slow, it was very thorough.

Nicole sighed in relief. It was good as long as Julie was not dumb enough to let herself be bullied.

"What's wrong with being domineering and decisive? It works!"

Nicole smiled and walked forward, suddenly feeling enlightened.

Julie followed her and pulled her arm. "Let's go. I'll take you to dinner!"

"Are we having a feast?"

Nicole laughed. "Ever since Clayton went abroad, no one invited me to a feast yet!"

Julie rolled her eyes. "Dream on. The crew will be taking a one-day trip. Of course, we can't miss the crew's packed meals!"

Nicole was speechless. She did not expect that.

Julie really brought Nicole to eat the crew's packed meals.

Fortunately, someone arrived with the packed meals and delivered them right to them.

There was bacon, some vegetables, and pasta. What simple ingredients...

Nicole did not feel that there was anything wrong with the meal, but she really did not have much of an appetite.

After she took two bites, Logan came over to pick her up.

He was a little speechless when he saw this scene. Logan tapped on his phone and walked over. "President, I've ordered some dessert from a Michelin restaurant for you..."

Nicole raised her brows. Just in time, she was just craving some dessert.

However, there were so many people here, so it would not be good if she ate alone, right?

Nicole hesitated for a split second before looking at Logan and instructing, "Order a few more servings for everyone and send them to the crew. Everyone has a share!"

Everyone cheered happily.

They were actually able to eat dessert from a Michelin restaurant?

To the side, Julie let out a sigh. Nicole really was a fool with money.

Nicole did not see those actresses until they left the set. They were probably deliberately avoiding them.

However, it did not matter.

Since Julie had her own plans, she would leave the rest for Julie to handle.

Nicole returned to her apartment at night and felt slightly tired.

She took a bath and came out after changing her clothes. She was just in time to hear the call from Clayton.

Clayton chuckled in a low voice. His tone carried tiredness that could not be concealed.

"I just took time out. I'm afraid I won't be able to rest well if I don't hear your voice for one day."

Nicole's face flushed. Clayton's bluntness was a little overwhelming.

She paused and sat on the sofa before speaking slowly.

"Mr. Sloan, you've changed. You're different from the Clayton Sloan I used to know!"

Clayton's voice was light and gentle. "Do you like it? I only act like this in front of the person I like. Can you get used to it?"

Through the phone, she could feel that Clayton's eyes must be looking into the distance gently.

He carried her in his heart.

That feeling of being tucked away in someone's heart was wonderful and indescribable.

Nicole calmed down and took a deep breath.

"I can."

What she wanted to say was, this Clayton Sloan seemed much more human-like than the Clayton Sloan she used to know.

This kind of feeling was very nice and warm. Of course, Nicole could get used to it.

Clayton was silent for a few seconds, and Nicole's heart raced.

"Is everything going well over there?" "Yup, everything's going smoothly."

Clayton paused. His tone became slightly lighter.

“Nicole, when this project is finished, I want to move my business in Liberty to Mediania. What do you think?”

Nicole’s heart skipped a beat and accelerated involuntarily.

It was not that she did not understand what Clayton’s words were implying. However, she still subconsciously asked, “Why?”

The development in Liberty was always far ahead.

Although the development speed in Mediania was not slow, when it came to stocks and investments, Liberty had always stood at the top of the pyramid.

Everyone wanted to get into Wall Street, but Clayton actually wanted to pull out.

“Because the prospects in Mediania are good and I found a lot of business opportunities...”

Clayton paused. His voice suddenly became low and hoarse as he coaxed her.

“Because you’re here.”

Nicole felt her heart skip a beat, and her whole body froze slightly.

She pursed her lips, suddenly not knowing what to say.

Clayton did not let their conversation turn awkward. He continued in a husky voice.

“When I go back, can you let me meet your family?”

They had only separated for a few days. Clayton thought that he was very used to being alone.

However, after just a few days of not seeing Nicole, every cell in his body seemed to be screaming for her.

Thoughts about missing her grew crazily like vines, wrapping around every inch of his body.

It felt uncomfortable like his heart was being scratched.

Clayton stood in his hotel room, looking out into the distance into the dark night.

The night sky in Europe always looked a little empty and cold.

However, he felt like he was sweating all over. One second, two seconds, five seconds...

Nicole finally spoke hesitantly.

“Sure. If you’re mentally prepared, I’ll take you to meet them.”

"It's settled then. We'll go after this project is finished. You can't go back on your word!"

Nicole could not help but laugh. "Sure. That'll depend on when you manage to finish it."

She knew that Clayton's project would not be on the right track until three to five years later.

Three to five years might be a bit long, but she felt that they should have enough time.

Nicole had to show him hope and thank him for thinking about their future.

Clayton smiled. "Okay, I'll definitely work hard."

After he spoke, he thought about something. "I heard that you hired someone to shop live at major brand stores in Europe before because you wanted to buy something?"

Nicole's face could not help but flush at the mention of that incident.

She did not feel this way before, but why did it sound like she had been stupid when he brought it up?

"What about it?"

Nicole pursed her lips. That livestreamer still messaged her occasionally, asking if she needed any other goods.

Clayton smiled. "It's nothing. I just wanted to say that if you need anything, I'm very happy to help."

She did not expect that Clayton would be willing to run around major shopping malls for her.

It was impossible to imagine that scene.

However, since he liked to run around, she could give him a chance.

Nicole thought about it and coughed.

"I'll send you what I want later. Don't buy the wrong stuff!"

Although the major brands regularly sent their products over, they did not include the tailor-made dresses and cosmetics for her.

Nicole was too lazy to pick the rest, so she gave away most of them to other people.

She preferred the feeling of shopping. Clayton smiled dotingly.

"Yup, I definitely won't!"

Nicole was not sleepy, but looking at the time, it would be dawn at Clayton's side soon.

Clayton would definitely be unable to endure it if he went a full day without sleep.

At that thought, Nicole quickly said a few words and ended the conversation.

She lay in bed thinking about Clayton's words and felt her heart warm up.

Nicole thought it would be another night of insomnia. Unexpectedly, she unknowingly fell asleep.

Early the next day.

Nicole woke up and looked at her email on her phone, replied a few to Logan, and logged out.

She washed up, pulled out her phone, and looked at the headlines that popped up on the screen.

The female lead was in a bad mood and smacked away the packed meal that the assistant handed her to the ground.

The assistant timidly did not dare to say anything.

The female lead stepped forward and pointed to the mess on the ground.

"You eat it! Eat every last bit of it. Don't think about leaving until you finish everything!"

The short clip was less than ten seconds and only had a few sentences, but it immediately rushed to the top of the trending topics.

Followed closely on second place was the name of the show Julie invested in.

The video had been released for less than an hour, and the PR team did not have time to react. The online public opinion was rapidly growing like a storm that was approaching.

The momentum was unstoppable.

[The assistant is human too. Look, that young assistant looks like she's about to cry...]

[What's the big deal about being an actress? Where did this woman get her sense of superiority?]

[That lunch box was filled with food. Why can't a human eat it? Is she saying that the food we usually eat can't be eaten by high and mighty celebrities like them? Hah...]

[She told the assistant to finish it? Don't be so shameless. Get out of showbiz, Sara! The circle will be brought down by people like you!]

Unsurprisingly, everyone on the internet spat at what Sara, the female lead, did. It was simply outrageous.

Reporters called the crew to ask if it was true. The crew only said, "We're investigating it." Was there a need for an investigation?

Were the people blind?

Everyone could see that Sara was just putting on airs! A response like that only made the netizens angrier.

Everyone went to Sara's comment section to curse her. Without exception, they were all sympathetic to the little assistant.

Two hours later.

Sara's company's PR team finally reacted and posted a reply.

[Ms. Sara was feeling unwell and accidentally knocked over the lunch box. Since she was busy preparing the script, she asked her assistant to help tidy up the mess. The audio on the video is a fake dub. Please do not believe it.]

After all, it was indeed possible that the audio was dubbed.

However, less than half an hour after the PR statement, a reporter interviewed the assistant who worked in the crew.

“Is it true that Sara is always so arrogant?”

The young assistant’s eyes were still red, but she put on an aggrieved smile. “It’s okay. We’re all used to it.”

Used to it...

Those three words were like a sledgehammer, completely stamping Sara’s name on the list of people who put on airs.

“Did she make you eat that food?”

The little assistant choked and said, “I finished all of it. Please don’t interview me anymore. My mother will be sad if she sees this...”

Need less to say, the interview was like a slap in Sara and her agency’s face.

That righteous statement looked more like a joke of stubborn resistance now.

Once the interview was released, it took less than half an hour for the agency to delete the statement.

The crew also announced that for certain reasons, the female lead in the show would be replaced by someone else.

Sara’s name was plastered on the trending topics, unable to be taken down.

After Sara made the trending topics for acting like a snob, the netizens dug up more dirt on her.

It turned out that she had not been putting on airs for just a couple of days.

Dozens of assistants worked for her before, but none of them lasted longer than three months.

Some of the past assistants came out anonymously to voice their complaints about what Sara did.

When filming, she made her assistant recite lines with her. The assistant would get slapped for every wrong word she said.

[Check who's the investor behind her. Is someone spoiling her?]

[Go apologize to the assistants and get the hell out of showbiz! Is money from acting that easy to earn?]

[It's so hard for ordinary people to make a living. My heart aches for the little assistant!]

The netizens scolded Sara with relish. They only had one purpose, for her to apologize and get out of the entertainment circle.

Sara tearfully came out to apologize and posted a small apology essay to try to salvage the situation.

The netizens did not buy it.

The results came in the afternoon.

A person claiming to be from the crew posted a few photos of Nicole dressed in a low-profile, earnestly eating a boxed lunch while visiting the set.

Nicole ate the food and talked and laughed with the people next to her.

As soon as the photo was uploaded, it quickly went viral.

[Look, Sara. This is what a true celebrity is like!]

[Nicole's net worth is a thousand times yours. Her quality is also a thousand times better than yours!]

[Is Ms. Stanton going into showbiz? We'll support you for sure!]

[So even goddesses eat vegetables? Goddess Nicole, you should remember to eat the drumstick too...]

Stanton Corporation.

Nicole never thought that she would go from watching the show to being involved in the show.

She watched happily as the netizens cursed Sara with gusto.

Even she wanted to go and scold Sara herself.

However, looking at it now, how did her picture reach the trending topics?

Nicole paused. Julie's call arrived.

She narrowed her eyes. Intuition told her that Julie's call must have something to do with the photo online.

She picked it up.

Julie said, "Lil N, did you see your photo?" "You're behind all this?"

Nicole asked bluntly.

Julie had insisted on her staying for dinner with the crew. So, Nicole could not help but make that connection.

Julie was silent for a few seconds before laughing.

“What are you thinking? I wanted to, but I didn’t react that quickly. The people who were present at the time occasionally take pictures and send them to me, so I authorized someone to post it online and hammer that b* tch Sara to death!”

Nicole relaxed and smiled. Even if Julie did not plan it, she uploaded it to the internet.

However, it was fine. As long as it was of help to Julie, Nicole was happy to be used.

“Well, I deserve some credit for this. Remember to thank me well!”

Julie said, “No problem!”

Nicole asked, “But what was the deal with that video of Sara?”

Julie said, “That little assistant found someone to do it. She had been displeased at Sada for a long time. Holding back all that resentment almost killed her. She took the video and came to me, asking me to help her. It was beneficial to me too, so of course, I readily agreed.

Otherwise, how else would it hog the top spot of the trending topics for the entire day?”

Julie had pushed the wave. She was serious.

So, that was it. Nicole pursed her lips. “She deserved it. She’s just reaping what she sowed.”

Julie said, “Yup! It’s like the heavens are helping us!”

“What about the rest? You can’t let off the other women easily!”

Nicole reminded her not to let any fish slip out of the net. Julie spoke in an airy tone.

“Don’t worry, I’m very vindictive. I won’t miss any of them!” Nicole’s lips curled in a satisfied smile.

Good.
