

Chapter 1591

Hearing this, Susie couldn't help but be dumbfounded, and then her face became more and more gloomy. She didn't expect Danica to threaten her by exposing her private life.

"Expose me? Go ahead. I'm innocent. I'm not afraid of your slandering," Susie uttered coldly. "Fade, let's go."

After that, Susie and Fade strode out of the room.

"Susie, I will really expose you. Think about it carefully..." Behind her, Danica shouted with a livid face. But Susie left without looking back.

In the lounge, Danica's face was gloomy. Her expression was very ugly, and Cameron was not very happy either.

Zaydon, on the other hand, put on an indifferent grin and deliberately said, "Danica, your plan didn't seem to work!"

Zaydon was the child of Cameron and his first wife. Although Danica was his legal mother, Zaydon never respected any of his stepmothers.

Danica glanced at Zaydon and held back her anger. She slammed her fist on the table and said, "Let's expose what we found out earlier."

Susie went back to her home with a gloomy face. Then, she contacted the people of Dante Entertainment and told them what happened. She asked the company to prepare in advance to avoid any accusations Dolphin Entertainment might throw at them. Although Susie had already contacted them in advance, she didn't expect Dolphin Entertainment to be so quick. Within fifteen minutes of contacting her company, various stories about her were trending on the web.

All kinds of websites kept posting articles about her and she was trending immediately.

The content of the stories were all negative news about Susie. Susie had a bad character, treated the staff poorly, and kept a gigolo boy by her side. They even mentioned her childhood, how she bullied her peers in school and she started doing drugs when she was in high school. All kinds of topics were brought up and they even provided Susie's photo when she was younger.

Seeing as to how these photos were impossible to get, she knew very well that Danica was the one behind this.

Susie was a popular female singer, and she had always been known for her kindness and gentleness. There was suddenly so much bad news spreading about her and photos that she didn't even know existed. This got her trending in the blink of an eye.

For a time, all kinds of comments rushed in.

Her haters went flying in and they were basically excited to slander Susie.

However, fortunately, Susie had quite a ton of fans and her songs were hits. Thus, she had more fans than haters and all these accusations did not have any solid evidence behind them.

Therefore, many fans supported Susie and began refuting the haters on the net. For a moment the entire internet was a blast.

In the heat of all this, Susie's fans exposed that all these accusations were by Dolphin Entertainment.

For a time, Dolphin Entertainment's official social media account was affected. Even the artists in Dolphin Entertainment were also more or less affected. Their shares dropped by five percent and it was a huge blow to them.

When Dolphin Entertainment saw this, they didn't stop. Instead, they began to accuse Susie even more crazily.

The first wave of accusations still seemed reasonable. The second wave of accusations were just ridiculous.

Some said that Susie had an inappropriate private life and she was having affairs with more than ten men. Some said that she was pregnant when she was underage and some even accused her of getting into Dante Entertainment through inappropriate means.

There was more about how she copied other people's work and used it as hers. How she abused her fans and how she treated her rivals rudely. All of this was brought up in the media.

Following this, Susie's fans once again struck back. They dug up Danica's history and how she was Susie's mother and how she had an affair and left her daughter and husband behind. And after Susie was famous, Danica deliberately tried to have a close relationship with Susie to use her. All of these were exposed to the media.

As soon as the news broke out, The entire media was once again startled. Danica who was initially a small celebrity suddenly became a hit.

However, this fame that she suddenly got was because most of the netizens were furious with her. Danica and Dolphin Entertainment's official social media account blew up. Their shares dropped by another eight percent. The entire Dolphin Entertainment was once again in a state of emergency.

They didn't expect to suffer such a huge loss and they also didn't expect to have Danica's background dug up.

Danica was puzzled after being scolded by the netizens. She tried her best to explain herself.

17:53

In order for her to maintain her reputation, she deliberately hired a group of people to spread rumors about Garvet and how she was forced to leave her family and marry Garvet.

As a result, Garvet who was not related to the entertainment industry, suddenly became a blast in the media.

Various rumors regarding Garvet were brought up.

Some accused him of domestic violence and some accused him of taking advantage of his female students while he was still a lecturer. There were even rumors spreading about how he plagiarised other people's work in his own research paper.

All kinds of negative rumors were brought up and they wanted to strip Garvet of his academic titles.

Reading all of these rumors, Susie was exasperated. She was fine with how they wanted to accuse her but she didn't expect them to even make up rumors about her father.

"This is ruining my dad's academic career! That's it, I'm going to do everything I can to stop her." Susie was frustrated and she got up and strode away.

However, Fade grabbed hold of her and said calmly, "Sister Song, don't worry. Everything will be fine."

"But, my father, he..." Susie was worried about her father.

Fade's eyes sank. He looked into the distance and said, "Sister Song, they can't touch Professor Song. They are going to pay for this."

Although Susie didn't know herself, Fade was certain about Garvet's position. He was conducting research for the military and developing a gene-enhancing drug for them.

17:53

Accusing this kind of confidential talent of the country, Dolphin Entertainment was certainly going to find themselves at a dead end.

Chapter 1592

Inside the president's office of Dolphin Entertainment headquarters, a gloomy and furious atmosphere was emitting from it, making the entire company sink into a tense and silent atmosphere.

Looking at the data reported by her subordinates, Danica's face turned pale. She asked lividly, "How are the rumors spreading? Did we meet our goal?"

"Well, currently, it is looking good. There are people spreading negative news about Garvet, and we will continue to spread more rumors tomorrow to stir up more controversy."

Danica nodded and continued, "Then let's continue. We have to monitor closely and if the effect is not obvious enough, hire more people to spread fake rumors. Do you understand?"

"Yes, I understand. Director Qi, I'll go and do it right now."

Meanwhile, Cameron walked up to Danica, frowned slightly, and said, "Danica, is it really okay to do this? Garvet is a scientist. If the authorities investigate, I'm afraid we will..."

Seeing how Cameron was reacting, Danica forced a smile and said, "Cameron, you don't have to be worried. He's just a scientist, he's nothing. There are hundreds of scientists. It's no big deal."

"What's more, even if they investigate this, it would only trace back to the people we hired. There's no way they can trace it back to us. The police will not waste their efforts on trivial matters like this," Danica uttered.

Cameron nodded. He was the boss of Dolphin Entertainment. It had been years that many of his company's employees used similar methods to exploit their opponents. Thus, he was familiar with this.

However, this time, things were different from usual and Cameron had a bad hunch. That was why he asked Danica this.

Seeing how uneasy Cameron was, Danica stretched out her hand and caressed Cameron's chest. She smirked and said, "Cameron, don't worry. It's going to be fine. After this incident, Dolphin Entertainment will gain popularity and our shares will rise again."

"I hope so!"

Concurrently, a hasty phone call connected, interrupting the conversation between the two.

Danica frowned and picked up the phone on the desk. "What's the matter? Didn't I tell you not to call casually, how..."

There was a panicked voice on the other end of the phone. "Director Qi, it's bad news. The police are downstairs. They're going to arrest us."

"What? The police are here?" Danica was dumbfounded and immediately said, "Stop them. Tell them that this is a private company and they can't break in."

"Director Qi, but, we..." The person on the phone was in a bit of a dilemma.

But Danica didn't care much about it. She continued, "Stop them. I'll call the reporters we're familiar with right now. Even if they are the police, they can't do anything they want."

17:53

After that, Danica hung up the phone and was ready to dial another number.

Meanwhile, Cameron's face was full of worry, and he said, "The police are already at our doorstep. Is there really something going on? This..."

"Cameron, don't worry, there won't be any problems. Susie must have called the police, so the police came to investigate. It's not a big deal, as long as we..." Danica comforted Cameron while dialing the reporter's number.

But at this moment, a loud boom interrupted Danica's action and the phone in her hand fell from her hand out of shock.

Then, they saw the door of the office get breached open and several men in black uniforms were marching in with serious faces.

Among them, the leader was a man with a flattop haircut in his thirties. His name was Alextor. His eyes swept around and fell on Danica and Cameron. He ordered coldly, "Arrest them."

Seeing this, Danica and Cameron were dumbfounded.

Then, Danica immediately shouted, "You, what are you doing? Who are you? Let me tell you, this is against the law, we..."

Alextor gave a cold snort and glared at Danica. "We're the police. Since you're suspected of violating the law, we are arresting you."

Danica was taken aback and then she saw that they had no logo on their uniform. Thus, she shouted, "You're lying. You're not policemen. We're not breaking the law. You're breaking the law. Let us go, or I'll expose you..."

Upon hearing this, Alextor took out his credentials and showed it to Danica and Cameron. He said in a livid voice, "Look carefully, this is our credentials."

Danica and Cameron took a look at the credentials. When they saw the words "National Security Bureau", they couldn't help but tremble and have a strange look on their faces.

They thought the people arresting them were just ordinary policemen, so they didn't expect someone from the National Security Bureau to come after them. The National Security Bureau was in charge of dealing with national threats.

It was beyond their imagination that spreading fake rumors on the internet would actually make the National Security Bureau take action.

"National Security Bureau, th-this is impossible. You are all fake. Of course, you are actors. Tell me, was it Susie who instructed you to come here, or did someone from Fei Enterprises Holdings Inc hire you? You should stop lying as soon as possible. Otherwise, I will call the police. Pretending to be a policeman is a serious crime..." Danica pretended to be clever and shouted at them.

Meanwhile, Cameron also shouted, "Security, come and catch them!"

With the sound of footsteps, the security guard was about to rush over.

Seeing this, Alextor frowned. He immediately pulled out a pistol and fired directly at the sky. Then he uttered indifferently, "Whoever dares to obstruct us as we conduct our duty, we will kill them on the spot."

This time, the security guards, Danica, and Cameron, were all dumbfounded.

Regardless of whether they were fakes, just from the act of firing a gun right in front of them, it could be seen that they were no match for them.

17:53

For a moment, the two of them shut their mouths tightly and did not dare to speak.

Alextor waved his hand and ordered coldly, "Take them away."

His men immediately took action, directly lifting Danica and Cameron up and stomping down the stairs.

Downstairs, the two of them were handcuffed and stuffed into a black van. Then, the van started and drove out right away.

An hour later, when the two of them got out of the car and stared at the dark gray walls that were hovering over them. They could not help but tremble.

Because Danica and Cameron recognized that this was the Seventh Prison in the northern suburbs of Capital City. It was said that this place was used to confine felons and spies.

The two of them had never imagined that they would actually be brought to a place like this. Furthermore, they had brought them here without a trial.

Chapter 1593

For a moment, they were trembling so badly, and their faces were full of horror and confusion.

"Why, why! This is against the law. I want to see a lawyer. I want a press conference. I want to expose your actions." The fear in Danica's heart rose.

Cameron was really frightened. Looking at Alextor, he said in a trembling voice, "I-I admit it. It was us who hired people to spread fake rumors online. Please, we are willing to be punished. Can you bring us back to the police station..."

"You can't go back to the police station," Alextor said in a cold voice.

"Why?" Cameron was visibly confused. It was just an online rumor. Even if they were caught red-handed, it shouldn't be such a big deal.

Danica by his side was also full of doubts. She never expected the consequences to be so dire the first time she got caught.

Alextor glanced at the two people and uttered indifferently, "It seems that you don't know what you have done this time."

"What did we do? W-we were just spreading rumors online..." The two of them felt uneasy and said.

Alextor snorted and said, "Just a rumor? You guys are looking for death by slandering Professor Song."

"This, why..." The two were still puzzled.

Alextor looked serious and said in a low voice, "Why? I'll tell you why."

"Professor Song is an academician for the biology and genetics department. The National Security Bureau purposely went looking for him and asked him to work for us. Meanwhile, he is also in charge of a top-secret scientific research mission in our country. He is one of the key people in the National Security Bureau and the military."

"Then tell me, what do you think the consequences are for slandering Professor Song?"

Hearing this, Danica and Cameron were completely dumbfounded.

They only knew that Garvet was involved in scientific research, and that he worked in a certain institute and even became a professor in a certain university. Although Garvet's academic status was quite outstanding, in the eyes of business people like Danica, he was nothing, thus she had no scruples at all.

She did not expect Garvet to be a researcher involved in a top-secret research for the country, nor that he was someone the country would strive to protect.

She just made up rumors about Garvet and even if it was just a personal assault, it was still a threat to the country. And thus, the National Security Bureau was here to arrest them.

For a moment, the two of them had beads of sweat dripping down their foreheads. It seemed that they had lost all their strength. Their bodies went soft and they almost collapsed to the ground.

Then, the two were almost unconsciously dragged into a prison cell. In a daze, Danica thought of her former husband, Garvet. She thought of the man who was docile, honest, and incompetent to her impression. She suddenly felt a sense of remorse in her heart.

17:53

However, it was too late. Even if she regretted it now, there was nothing she could do.

.....

As Danica and Cameron were arrested, the rumors about Garvet on the Internet suddenly stopped. Almost all relevant information had been deleted.

Then, Dolphin Entertainment publicly made a statement to apologize and went to the police station to turn themselves in. The truth behind Susie's rumors had also been revealed.

With all this, Dolphin Entertainment also collapsed and no one heard from them since then.

Susie was a little surprised that the rumors stopped so quickly. She didn't expect this at all. She expressed her gratitude to Fade, thinking that all this was secretly managed by him.

Fade knew exactly what happened but he couldn't expose Garvet's identity. Therefore, Fade could only take credit and forced out a smile.

After Susie's matter was dealt with, Fade went back to his school, and life went back to normal.

One morning, Joey and Moore came to Fade's apartment and visited him, saying that they had something to ask Fade and asked if he was free.

After chatting for some time, Fade found that the father and daughter wanted to go and pay a visit to the Luo family. After all Joey's mother, Daisy, was a member of the Luo family.

17:54

Upon hearing this, Fade immediately nodded and agreed. Then, he drove to the Luo family with the two of them.

Approaching the entrance of the Luo family's manor, Fade was a little puzzled to see that the gate was locked. He got out of the car.

When he approached the gate, he reached out his hand and pressed the doorbell. The doorbell rang from inside the manor.

Fade stood at the door and waited for a while. No one responded, nor did he hear any footsteps coming to open the door.

Suddenly, Fade could not help but frown slightly as he rang the bell again.

After waiting for a while, the inside was still completely silent. Fade was even more puzzled. He reached out his hand and tapped on the wooden door. "What's going on? Did the Luo family go out and no one is at home? But it's impossible! Even if they went out, there should also be servants at home. Could it be..."

Just as Fade was thinking, footsteps sounded from the manor. The thick wooden door opened with a crack, revealing an impatient middle-aged man's face. His name was Frank.

"Who are you? You keep ringing our doorbell. You're so annoying!" Frank stared at Fade and scolded him.

Fade frowned slightly and didn't get angry. He asked, "Excuse me, is the Luo family home? I'm here to visit the Luo family."

"The Luo family?" Frank was taken aback and he replied, "You're too late. This place is no longer the Luo family's manor. Go somewhere else to find them."

"What?" These words shocked Fade. He immediately asked, "How could this be? Doesn't the Luo family live here? Why aren't they here? Where did they move to? What on earth happened?"

17:54

Frank looked at Fade impatiently, waved his hand, and said, "I don't know, I don't know."

Then, he turned around and entered the manor, preparing to close the door.

Fade held the door, preventing it from closing and took out a pile of cash. He said, "This is yours if you are willing to tell me what you know."

When Frank saw the cash, his eyes lit up and his face brightened up. He said to Fade, "I'll tell you. I'll tell you."

"About the Luo family, it happened a month ago. The Luo family's business suddenly suffered a blow, and then they went bankrupt immediately. They mortgaged the manor and moved elsewhere."

"What? The company went bankrupt immediately? How did they go bankrupt so quickly?"

Chapter 1594

Frank scratched his head and replied, "I'm not sure what happened with their business. The only thing I know is that the Luo family's business just went bankrupt within half a month. They were in debt and forced to sell the house."

"This..." Fade frowned deeply and immediately asked, "Who asked you to stand guard here?"

Frank answered, "I'm not sure about this. I was sent by my company and every month I earn five thousand for guarding this place. As for who is the one who asked for this place to be guarded, then I'm not certain about this."

Fade paused and asked again, "Where is the Luo family now?"

Frank shook his head, indicating that he didn't know. But when he saw Fade's frown, he quickly added, "I don't know the exact address, but I heard that they moved to Pinewood Temple."

"Pinewood Temple!" The moment he heard this name, he knew that the Luo family was in quite a bad situation.

Although Capital City was considered one of the poorest states in the country, Pinewood Temple was the place where the poorest in Capital City gathered.

The people who stayed in that place were mostly poor people and even foreign workers.

After asking some more questions, Fade realized that Frank didn't seem to know anything else. Thus, Fade turned around and left.

17:54

In the car, Moore and Joey were curious and wanted to know what was going on with the Luo family. Fade didn't keep it a secret and told them everything, including that the Luo family was currently living in Pinewood Temple.

After driving for almost two hours, they finally arrived at Pinewood Temple.

The moment he entered the neighborhood, he could clearly feel the difference between there and the bustling cities.

The houses in the city were all high-rise buildings and the houses there were all old and wrecked. They were densely stacked together, and various landline cables hung from pole to pole, weaved into a huge net.

Stalls were placed on both sides of the road and all kinds of noises could be heard. The sound of the cars honking and people chatting made the entire place very noisy.

Along the noisy streets, it was nothing like the magnificent cities. Only when he turned back to loo, did he see a high-rise building that was located in the urban area of Capital City.

Fade didn't have the exact address of the Luo family, and he couldn't get in touch with them through the phone. Therefore, they could only wander aimlessly around Pinewood Temple.

Fortunately, Fade was lucky. After a round of inquiries, he actually got some clues. He found out that the Luo family was living in an old house not far away.

After all, the fact was that the downfall of a wealthy family still attracted quite a lot of attention. Hence, everyone in Pinewood Temple was talking about the Luo family.

Fade followed what he had been told and drove to the location. There was an old two-storey building. The walls on it had turned black and yellow. There were large portions of the wall missing and it didn't seem sturdy, like it might collapse at any moment.

17:54

Fade went up and knocked on the door.

After a moment, there was a reply from inside, "Who's there?"

"I'm a friend of Gentro, and I'm here to see him."

"Gentro's friend?" The man seemed to be a little suspicious. After hesitating for a moment, he came over with slow footsteps. With a creaking sound, the door was pried open, revealing a pair of eyes.

"Mr. Chen, it's you!" When the man saw Fade, he couldn't help but exclaim. Then, he opened the door and came out to welcome Fade.

Concurrently, Fade also recognized the person at the door. It was the old master of the Luo Family, Dormer.

Dormer who had an imposing manner and was usually dressed in luxurious clothing was now dressed in plain and casual clothing, and he had a cane that was made out of a tree branch. Immediately, he seemed like he had aged a lot.

"Master Luo!" Seeing the state Dormer was in, Fade immediately rushed up and supported him.

Behind him, Moore and Joey also walked over and were about to enter the room.

Dormer's eyes were filled with warmth when he saw Joey. When he saw Moore, he couldn't help but squint his eyes and size him up. He felt that the person in front of him was somewhat familiar. "This is..."

"Master Luo, let's go in first, then we will talk about it," Fade said and was about to support him into the house.

But meanwhile, a clatter of footsteps echoed, and a scream was heard at the same time. "Master Luo, your son has been beaten up. Hurry and go have a look!"

17:54

"What!" Hearing this, Dormer was dumbfounded. He quickly turned around and asked the man, "What's going on?"

The man was dressed in uniform and he glanced at Fade as he answered, "Your son, Borton, was quarrelling with someone at work. He was beaten up and now his head is bleeding. Go and have a look, quick."

"I-I'll go right away!"

Fade hurriedly supported Dormer and said, "Master Luo, get into the car. Let's go together."

Dormer did not refuse and got into the car.

As they were on the way, Fade chatted with Dormer and roughly understood the situation of the Luo family.

After the downfall of the Luo family, they had no other choice but to move to this place because they were short on cash. Back then they were billionaires, and now they had to live and work in Pinewood Temple.

Because of various reasons, Borton had been in a conflict many times, and this was the second time he had been beaten up this month.

As they talked, the car drove up to the entrance of a logistics company. From a distance, Fade saw a lot of people gathered there. The entire place was bustling and it was chaotic.

The car couldn't drive in, thus Fade had to stop and walk in.

Pushing through the crowd, they came to the entrance of the logistics company. They could see a lot of goods piled up in front of the door and in the warehouse. The staff were dressed in blue uniforms, helping load large cartons into the truck.

However, meanwhile, most of the workers stopped working and gathered around a pile of scattered goods, as if they were

In front of this pile of scattered goods, Fade saw two middle-aged men in uniforms. One of them had blood on his forehead, and the other was supporting the man and helping to stop the bleeding.

With further inspection, they found that these two people were the sons of Dormer. The person that was bleeding was the youngest son, Borton. The one that was stopping the bleeding was the person who was supposed to be the head of the Luo family, Leroy.

Who would have expected the head of the Luo family and his younger brother to be working as movers carrying goods.

"Borton, are you alright?" Dormer was anxious as he limped over.

When the two of them saw that Dormer was here, they were anxious and they quickly said.

"Dad, why are you here?"

"Dad, we're all right. You'd better leave now."

Chapter 1595

"Wh-what do you mean that you are fine?" At this moment, a cold snort sounded from the opposite side. A burly man in his late thirties strode over and shouted, "You're not going to compensate for ruining our stuff?"

"It was you who did it on purpose. We didn't break your stuff." Borton covered his bleeding head and stared at the man.

The man snorted indifferently and uttered, "What do you mean by 'I did it on purpose'? Are you blaming me?"

While speaking, the man stepped forward, followed by a group of gangsters in their early twenties behind him. They had an imposing manner.

Seeing this, Leroy quickly looked at his younger brother, telling him not to continue. Then, Leroy glanced at the man and said, "Leonid, what do you want?"

The man called Leonid snorted coldly and immediately said, "What do you think? Isn't it obvious enough? Compensate me. You ruined our stuff, so compensate me."

"That's right!" the men behind him echoed.

Leroy's face sank, but he didn't say anything more. He continued to ask, "How much do you want us to pay?"

Leonid turned his eyes, glanced at the pile of cartons scattered behind him, and said, "These goods are expensive stuff. You guys are the ones who ruined it, so you have to pay for it. It will cost you sixty thousand."

17:54

"What, sixty thousand? You're robbing me!" Borton got emotional when he heard the price. "Those cartons of yours are just rotten fruits. How could they be worth sixty thousand dollars? You're abusing me!"

Leonid's face sank when he heard this. He said indifferently, "I'm unpleased now after hearing what you said. What do you mean rotten fruits? These are imported fruits. They cost a few hundred per kilogram. Do you understand? Furthermore, it's ruined. The rule is you compensate three times the value. Do you know the rules?"

Borton still wanted to defend himself, but he was stopped by Leroy. After a moment of silence, he looked at Leonid and said, "It's fine to compensate you, but sixty thousand is just too much. We don't have that much on us now!"

"Humph, if you can't pay up, then leave something behind!" Leonid snorted coldly. He then waved the sharp knife in his hand and took a step forward.

Seeing this, Borton couldn't help trembling in fear.

Leroy immediately protected his younger brother. He glared at Leonid and said, "Leonid, if you chopped off our hands, we can't earn more money for you. This is not a wise choice."

"Is that so?" A faint grin appeared on Leonid's face. After a moment of contemplation, his eyes suddenly lit up and he seemed to have thought of something. "I can let you keep your hands. But you have to compensate me regardless. Therefore, I have a plan."

"What is it?"

Leonid grinned and said, "I heard that you have a daughter and she is still very young and gorgeous. Why not let her accompany me to the club, and I will consider myself compensated?"

The daughter that he mentioned was Borton's daughter, Sandra. He didn't need to further explain and everyone knew what he was going to do.

Borton was well aware of that. His expression changed drastically as he hurriedly said, "That's impossible. You're not allowed to touch Sandra!"

"I don't like listening to you. What do you mean by I can't touch Sandra? I'm giving her an opportunity to pay your debt!" Leonid chuckled.

The followers behind him also chuckled.

"That's right. Our big boss Leonid is doing this out of kindness. Don't let him down."

"And she would earn way more in the club than you guys do working here!"

"There are a lot of bosses in that place. If she really hooked up with a few of them, let's not talk about the debt, because she might even profit from it."

.....

Borton answered firmly, "It's impossible. I definitely won't let you do anything to Sandra."

Leroy also said in a deep voice, "Leonid, don't be too ridiculous."

Hearing this, Leonid's expression sank. He snorted lividly and said, "I've already given you a chance but you refused it. Then, don't blame me for not being polite."

"Beat them hard!" Leonid gave an order, and his men rushed up at once, about to attack Borton and Leroy.

Seeing this, Dormer dropped his cane and stood up. He stood in front of his two sons and said firmly, "If you want to kill them, you should kill me first. I have already lived a long life. It doesn't matter if I die."

After all, with such an old man standing in front of them, they really didn't dare to initiate the fight. If they really killed someone, they would be in trouble.

Leonid's face sank, but then he said in a cold voice, "Old man, do you really think that I don't dare to touch you?"

"I'm not afraid of death. At most, both of us will just die together." Dormer's expression was resolute as he glared at Leonid.

Although Dormer was old, the determined look in his eyes gave off a suppressive aura and it was not any weaker than Leonid's. This kind of aura made Leonid feel uncomfortable and he seemed gloomy. He uttered, "Since you want to die, then don't blame me."

"Let's go!" Leonid ordered, completely ignoring Dormer. He ordered his men to step forward and attack him.

Suddenly, there was a burst of commotion, and the gangsters rushed over.

The surrounding passers-by suddenly became noisy and they took a step back.

Just as the punks were about to beat Dormer up, a voice thundered, "All of you, stop!"

In an instant, the punks felt like they had been struck by lightning. They shivered and their bodies became stiff. They couldn't move.

Then, a young man in his early twenties appeared in front of them.

The man was Fade. At this moment, he stood in front of Dormer and he had a serious expression on his face. He held Borton, handed him a bag of medicine, and said, "Apply the powder on the wound. It can stop the bleeding."

17:54

At first, Borton and Leroy were a little surprised by Fade's arrival, but then they showed excitement on their faces and quickly accepted the medicine bag to express their gratitude.

Meanwhile, Leonid's face darkened. He narrowed his eyes at Fade and said in a deep voice, "Kid, who are you? How dare you ruin my plan."

Fade stared at Leonid lividly. He shouted loudly, "Kneel down and kowtow to apologize!"

"What..." Stunned, Leonid stared at Fade in surprise and asked, "What did you just say?"

"I asked you to kneel down and apologize to Dormer and the others!" Fade stepped forward again, looking at Leonid as he said word by word.

Chapter 1596

Meanwhile, Leonid's expression instantly turned sinister. "Asking me kneel down and apologize? Kiddo, are you dreaming? Do you know who you're talking to?"

"I'll give you three seconds. Get down on your knees right now!" Fade shouted and continued to approach Leonid.

"Brat, do you think you're so cool? You want me to kneel down? I'll break your legs and so that you can kneel in front of me." Leonid snorted coldly, then he picked up an iron stick and threw it at Fade's legs with a ferocious expression.

But before he could make a move, Fade's body suddenly flashed. Then, Leonid felt a heavy sensation on his arm, and a sharp pain followed. His arm immediately bent into a weird shape. The iron rod fell to the ground, and he screamed in pain.

"Boss, are you all right?"

"Fu*k, how dare you touch our boss. You're courting death!"

"Let's go and kill him together."

Leonid's men rushed over and were about to launch a siege on Fade.

However, the outcome was as expected. In Fade's eyes, they were just mere ants. Without even moving his lower body, he emitted energy from his palm and it hit them and directly knocked them to the ground. All of them growled in pain.

17:54

Then, Fade turned to look at Borton and Leroy and asked, "What's going on?"

Meanwhile, when Borton and Leroy saw Fade, they were still quite puzzled. After a moment of being lost, they began to explain what had happened just now.

In fact, the matter was very simple. Borton and Leroy were working in the logistics company. Just now, when they were moving the boxes, Leonid and his men were pushing their cart and they passed by them.

The road was narrow and they knew that Leonid was a well-known gangster in the area. Thus, Leroy asked his brother to slow down and let them pass first.

But even so, when Leonid and others passed by, the car deliberately turned over and brushed against Borton.

Just like this, their goods collided and everything scattered on the ground. Therefore, Leonid and his men surrounded them, asking them for compensation and they even beat up Borton. Then Fade came over and saw everything else.

After hearing this, Fade glanced at Leonid and asked in a livid voice, "Is this really what happened?"

"They're talking nonsense..." Leonid instinctively wanted to refute their statement.

But at this time, Fade uttered lividly, "Tell one lie and I will break one arm of yours."

In an instant, Leonid couldn't help but shudder as fear flashed through his eyes. After all, Fade displayed how powerful his martial arts was and it made him tremble in fear.

"My patience is limited. You'd better tell me the truth before I lose my patience."

Leonid didn't dare to lie. He only nodded and answered in a low voice, "It's true. It's exactly like how he described it."

17:54

Hearing this, Fade's face could not help but sink. He immediately asked, "Why did you guys do this?"

"This..." Leonid paused for a moment. His eyes flashed, and then he replied, "I heard that their family used to have a lot of money. Therefore, I am not pleased with them and I wanted to make money off them."

"You're not telling the truth!" Fade glared at Leonid and he uttered in a cold tone. He waved his arm and a stream of energy slammed against Leonid's other arm.

When Leonid saw this, he was so terrified that his entire body trembled. He quickly said, "No, I'll tell you the truth. I'll tell you..."

But it was too late. The energy in Fade's palm had been released and it broke Leonid's arm. Again, Leonid howled in misery.

"What's the truth?" Fade asked lividly.

Leonid gritted his teeth in pain, but he didn't dare to hide anything. He said with difficulty, "Yes, someone asked us to do this. He asked me to deliberately stir up trouble for the Luo family."

Hearing this, Dormer, Leroy and Borton were all puzzled. They asked in surprise, "Who's after us? Could it be..."

Leonid took a look at Fade, who looked serious, and quickly answered, "It is Director Huang that asked us to do this."

"Who is Director Huang?" Fade asked.

"Director Huang is Warrick Huang. He is the boss of Warrick Real Estate."

Fade was still not very familiar with this name. He turned to look at Dormer and the others. They also frowned and looked confused. It seemed like this name didn't ring a bell.

Fade simply did not care about this and asked directly, "Where is Warrick now?"

17:54

Hearing this question, Leonid seemed to have suddenly thought of something. His face darkened and there was a look of panic on his face. "Th-this..."

"Say it!" Fade snorted lividly.

Leonid did not dare to hide anything and said, "Director Huang went to Goldie Hotel."

Fade was surprised when he heard this but on the other end, Borton and Leroy had a change in emotion.

"What's wrong?"

Borton replied, "Sandra is working at Goldie Hotel."

Leroy added, "Gentro also works there as a waitress."

Fade immediately understood what was going on and quickly said, "I'll head there right away."

Because he was worried about the safety of Dormer and the others, Fade asked Moore to stay behind. For one, Moore could ensure the safety of Dormer and the rest. On the other hand, he could continue to interrogate them.

Fade and Joey drove to Goldie Hotel. The hotel was not a high-class hotel. At most, it was a three-star hotel. But since it was located in Pinewood Temple, it was considered quite a good hotel, given the location.

After parking the car at the entrance, Fade and Joey strode into the hotel.

"Sir, Miss, please..." The waiter came up to them.

Fade took out a five hundred yuan note and said to the waiter, "Where is Gentro and Sandra Luo?"

17:54

The waiter's eyes lit up when he saw the bill, and he quickly said, "A group of bosses just came to have a meal on the third-floor of Cloudview Room and requested Gentro and Sandro to serve them. I'll ask them to come down."

"No need. Just take us there."

Then, the waiter led Fade and Joey to the third floor where the Cloudview Room was.

The waiter raised his hand and was about to knock on the door, but Fade, who came over, had already heard the strange voice echoing inside the room. Suddenly, he frowned, kicked the door open, and strode in.

Seeing the scene behind him, the waiter was directly dumbfounded.

"You can leave now. We will be responsible for the rest." Joey glanced at the waiter and then stepped into the private lounge.

Meanwhile, the people in the room also turned their eyes toward the loud commotion.

Fade's eyes swept over the people in the room, and soon, he caught sight of Sandra and Gentro among the crowd in uniforms.

Chapter 1597

Meanwhile, Sandra was standing next to a middle-aged man in a suit and leather shoes. The man was holding her arm, and her face was flushed red and reluctant. Gentro was furious and wanted to stop him, but he was held back.

Among the guests at the table, Fade unexpectedly found a few familiar faces, including Sandra's former bestie Audrea and Sandra's ex-boyfriend Sinclair.

Seeing this, Fade couldn't help but frown.

At the same time, the middle-aged man stared at Fade with a sullen face. "Who are you? Who let you in?"

Without any hesitation, Fade condensed a stream of energy and emitted it at the hand gripping Sandra's hand. Then, he glared at Warrick lividly and uttered, "Are you Warrick?"

Warrick covered his red and swollen wrist and stared at Fade. In a cold voice, he said, "Who are you? How dare you touch me?"

Fade waved at Gentro and Sandra, motioning for them to come over. He then stared at Warrick and said, "You're the one who sent Leonid to stir up trouble?"

Warrick didn't expect Fade to question him back. He immediately frowned and said displeasingly, "Boy, you're looking for death, aren't you? If you dare to mess up my business, I'll kill you."

While speaking, Warrick was about to wave his hand and call someone over to beat Fade up.

17:54

At this point, Fade snorted indifferently and said, "Before you attack me, you'd better think about the consequences first. Otherwise, it would be too late for regrets."

"B*tch, you dare threaten me? Who the f*ck are you? I..." Warrick roared in anger. He stood up in a flash and was about to attack Fade.

But at this moment, Audrea and Sinclair, who were sitting next to him, immediately stopped Warrick.

"Audrea, Sinclair, what are you two doing?" Warrick looked at the two with a puzzled expression.

Audrea and Sinclair quickly glanced at Fade, then looked away and said in a hurry, "No, don't fight with him. You can't beat him. He's Fade!"

"Fade? Which Fade?" Warrick didn't recognize him at first, but his eyes lit up and he remembered who Fade was. He looked surprised. "Fade, the Fade from the Stealth that is highly skilled in martial arts?"

Audrea and Sinclair nodded. "That's him."

Concurrently, the faces of the other guests seated at the table all changed. They looked at Fade, and their expressions became uneasy.

To say the least, anyone who could eat at the same table as Warrick, Audrea and Sinclair were surely the rich people of Capital City. Compared to ordinary people, they were definitely considered wealthy.

But in Fade's eyes, they were not even worth mentioning.

After all, they were already familiar with how powerful Fade was. As for the previous destruction of the Chiang family and the

Ding family, it was enough to show what Fade was capable of.

Facing such a big shot, they were considered mere ants.

Therefore, the entire room fell into complete silence. No one dared to speak in front of Fade.

Seeing that none of them dared to speak, Fade took the initiative to speak, "Audrea and Sinclair, seeing that the Luo family is in such a critical state, I don't expect you to help them. But you are deliberately making more trouble for them! What is the meaning of this?"

Their faces changed, and they wanted to explain, but they were at a loss for words.

"Mr. Chen, I didn't..."

"Mr. Chen, I was just kidding. I didn't mean that."

.....

"Just kidding?" Fade snorted lividly. He glared at Audrea and Sinclair and uttered in a cold voice, "Now do you want me to make jokes with you two?"

"This... no..." Their faces turned pale. They didn't know how to react. After all, the entire family was nothing compared to Fade.

Meanwhile, Warrick, the eldest one, said calmly, "Mr. Chen, I've been hearing your name for a very long time now. Today's matter was just a misunderstanding. We are trying to help them."

"Trying to help them?" Fade's eyes turned cold as he stared at Warrick. "You are forcing Sandra to drink with you and this is helping them?"

Warrick's eyes flashed and then he explained, "Mr. Chen, you've misunderstood. We know that the Luo family is in a critical state now and we purposely came here to help them."

"For example, we specifically invited Sandra and Gentro over to serve us so that we can tip them. After all, they are stubborn and they won't accept money if we just gave it to them. Thus, we had to think of such a plan to help them."

Warrick explained, interrupting Audrea, Sinclair and the others, but they all agreed with his statement.

"Yes, yes, yes. That was our plan."

"We're here to help. After all, we're friends."

"We also feel very sorry for the downfall of the Luo family."

.....

Fade was not interested in listening to their nonsense anymore. He stepped forward, appeared in front of Warrick in a flash, grabbed Warrick's collar, pressed him against the table, and snapped, "I don't want to listen to your nonsense. Tell me, who ordered you to do it?"

"Th-this..." Warrick's expression flickered a little.

Fade was not polite at all. He directly picked up a wine bottle and smashed it against Warrick's left hand and crushed his finger. Warrick let out an agonizing howl.

"If you don't tell me within three seconds, I'm going to keep smashing." Fade's tone was indifferent.

This time, Warrick was truly terrified. He cried, "I'll talk, I'll talk. It was the Chiang family who instructed me to do this."

17:54

"Chiang family? Faxon's Chiang family?"

Warrick nodded and said, "Yes, it's them. After the Luo family's downfall, the Chiang family almost took over more than seventy percent of the Luo family's properties and they distributed it to everyone in the industry. They asked us to target the Luo family and make them suffer."

"We did this in order to please the Chiang family. We were not the only ones who did this. Previously there were even people who did it publicly."

Meanwhile, when Sandra and Gentro heard this, their expressions darkened. They seemed to have thought of something and their eyes revealed a strange expression.

"The Chiang family!" Fade squinted his eyes, and then his eyes were cold, as if he was going to teach Warrick and the others a lesson.

Just as Fade was about to make his move, Gentro stepped forward, gently pulled Fade's clothes, and persuaded him, "Brother Chen, there's no need. We are not hurt."

Beside him, Sandra added, "My dad is injured. I want to go back and take a look."

Chapter 1598

Since that was the case, Fade decided not to spend any more time on them. He snorted indifferently and warned, "I'm going to be frank here. Listen carefully, the Luo family is under my protection. Whoever dares to touch the Luo family, I'm not going to let them go."

"Go back and tell everyone in the industry, tell them to mark my words."

After that, Fade and Joey left the hotel with Gentro and Sandra.

An hour later, when they returned to the Luo family's small house, a group of people sat around an old table eating simple dishes and chatting.

Fade and the others listened attentively and figured out what happened to them through this period of time.

It turned out that after Fade defeated Faxon and won the Martial Arts Convention, the Chiang family's attitude toward the Luo family was not very good. After all, Fade had a close relationship with the Luo family.

Besides, after the matter of Daisy marrying into the Chiang family blew up, the Chiang family barely remained on good terms with the Luo family, apart from the latter showing kindness to the Chiang family from time to time.

However, everything changed after the incident at Dragon Mausoleum.

The Dragon Mausoleum incident was planned by the Chiang family to lure Moore out and to snatch his treasure and kill him. However, their plan failed but Fade and Moore were the ones that took the treasures back. They even killed two of the Chiang family's early-stage Heaven Level martial artists, Harold and Raleigh.

Especially for Harold, back then, news about Daisy and Moore's relationship had spread like wildfire in Capital City and they had been the laughing stock for more than two decades. This was an utter disgrace for the Chiang family and they had always kept it in mind.

Initially, Harold wanted to personally kill Moore and regain his pride.

The outcome was exactly the opposite of what he had expected. Instead of killing Moore, he was killed by Fade, who had a good relationship with Moore.

Back then, when this matter spread back to the Capital City, all of the wealthy families in Capital City discussed the matter that happened two decades ago and the Chiang family was definitely not pleased with it.

After the Dragon Mausoleum incident, Moore and Fade did not return to Capital City right away. Instead, they stayed at Zobery District and Southzobe City for some time.

But this matter had already spread in Capital City. The Chiang family was once again a trending topic in the city. Everyone discussed how Harold lost to Moore and now, they were also discussing how Fade had killed Raleigh.

This kind of heated discussion showed everyone how vulnerable the Chiang family was and they were exasperated.

Therefore, the Chiang family vented their anger on the Luo family with whom they had been displeased with for a long time. They used all kinds of means to suppress the Luo family, from martial arts to literature to business.

17:54

Although the Luo family was also considered a big family in Capital City, facing one of the hidden families, they were no match for them and they immediately lost to them.

The Luo family finally ended up in Pinewood Temple and this was where Fade found them.

After hearing this, the anger in Fade's heart rose, and he couldn't wait to rush into the Chiang family house to teach them a lesson.

However, Dormer stopped Fade and advised him, "Fade, don't be impulsive. Come to think of it, this kind of life is not all that bad."

"The Luo family used to be rich, but we had to be careful and timid. Now that we don't have money, we can do whatever we wish. The important thing is we can live happily together."

Fade knew exactly why Dormer said this. This was because he was afraid that Fade might suffer a blow from the Chiang family.

Fade didn't say much and nodded, but in his mind, he secretly decided that he had to deal with this grudge with the Chiang family. After all, even if they did not vent their anger out on the Luo family, the Chiang family would definitely not let Fade go after he killed Raleigh and Harold and even defeated Faxon.

After they were done talking about this, Moore and Joey changed the topic and asked about the past.

Dormer, who was very dissatisfied with Moore for abducting his daughter, seemed extremely close to Joey. The other Luo family members were also very enthusiastic about Joey and Moore and they chatted with each other politely. It seemed that they were a family.

In the lively atmosphere, only Gentro's eyes seemed a little lonely and depressed. Although he still had a gentle smile on his face, his eyes, which glanced at Joey from time to time, revealed the disappointment in his heart.

When Fade saw this, he thought of his schooling days when Gentro was pursuing Joey, and he couldn't help but sigh.

It turned out that the saying "To love someone like your own brother or sister" was really suitable for Gentro's situation.

Previously, Gentro still had a tiny glimpse of hope of pursuing Joey. But now that Joey was related to him, it was impossible for him to pursue her anymore.

After chatting for a while, it got dark. Fade and the rest were about to leave.

Originally, Fade wanted to arrange a better place for them to stay, but Dormer refused and said that they were accustomed to this place.

In the next two days, Fade and the others visited them a few times and he had arranged places for them to live and jobs for them. They even hired a lawyer to look into getting some of their properties back.

Moore and Joey came to visit them more frequently and their relationship with the Luo family quickly got closer. They treated each other like a family.

One afternoon, Joey, who had returned to school, suddenly came to look for Fade and said, "Fade, let's go to the airport tomorrow!"

"Why do we have to go to the airport?" Fade seemed puzzled.

"It's to bid farewell to my brother."

"What? Your brother is leaving? Am I leaving?" Hearing this, Fade was even more confused.

17:54

Joey rolled her eyes at Fade and answered, "I'm not talking about you. I'm talking about Gentro."

"Oh, Gentro!" Fade came to his senses and immediately said, "Gentro is leaving. Where is he going? Why is he leaving?"

Joey replied, "Gentro is going to study abroad in Micovia. He'll be leaving at ten in the morning."

"Study abroad?" Fade was a little surprised.

Joey explained, "This was what he had initially planned. After graduating in Capital City, he wanted to go to Micovia to further his studies."

"However, due to what happened to the Luo family recently, Gentro was forced to put his studies aside. But now, since we have helped the Luo family through their crisis, Gentro brought up studying abroad again."

Chapter 1599

"Oh, so that's how it is! Has all the paperwork been dealt with?"

"Everything has been dealt with. All the documents have been dealt with even before the downfall of the Luo family. But previously, due to the downfall of the family, they didn't have the money to afford it thus he didn't mention it. But now the Luo family has taken back two of their companies and they have the money, therefore he wants to go abroad to study ."

"Don't worry about the fees. If they are short of cash, just tell me, I'll pay off the rest. But..." Fade stuttered.

He had something on his mind and Fade was about to open his mouth, then he shut his mouth again.

"Fade, what's wrong?"

Fade shook his head with a smile and replied, "It's nothing!"

He did not speak what was on his mind. The reason why he chose to study abroad at this specific moment was not just because they could afford it, it was partially because of his feelings toward Joey.

Back in their schooling days, the rumor regarding Gentro pursuing Joey was well known. But due to the fact that Fade and Joey's relationship with the Luo family were gradually falling apart from Joey's identity getting exposed, Gentro could only bury his feelings in his heart.

But now, the Luo family was no longer in a critical state, and in addition to Joey and Moore's return, Joey's identity as his cousin was confirmed.

And seeing that all of these things were certain, Gentro could only lock up his feelings. Therefore, the best he could do now was to go as far away as possible, so that he could cool down and forget about his feelings.

Fade could understand Gentro's decision and he didn't mind seeing him going abroad. Hence, he nodded to Joey and said, "Alright, then I'll accompany you to the airport to send Gentro off."

"Sure!" Joey responded and then went back.

.....

The next morning, Fade, Joey, Leroy and Sandra accompanied Gentro to Capital City's airport.

Everyone had reluctance in their eyes. Sandra handed the bag over to Gentro and said, "Gentro, Grandpa prepared this food for you. You can eat it on the plane."

"Alright. Sandra, take good care of Grandpa," Gentro instructed, and Sandra nodded.

Then, Gentro came up to Leroy and he had a smile on his face as he said, "Dad, I'm leaving then."

Even though Leroy had always been calm and composed, tears welled up in his eyes. He didn't say anything but held his son in his arms and said, "Take good care of yourself. If you do face any trouble, just call me. No matter how far it is, I'll rush over there no matter what."

"Dad, don't worry. I will take good care of myself." Gentro smiled and gave his father a tight hug.

Then, Gentro came up to Fade again, scratched his head, and said with a smile, "Brother Chen, seeing you, I'm really at a loss for words. There are so many things on my mind but I don't know where to start. The only thing I have to say is thank you."

After that, Gentro solemnly bowed to Fade.

When Fade saw this, he patted him on the shoulder and said with a smile, "You don't have to be so polite with me. When you reach Micovia, you must study hard. Just call me when you encounter any trouble. I'm always here for you."

"Yes!" Gentro smirked and nodded, and then he came to Joey.

Her face was familiar but she had a completely new identity. Gentro was puzzled and he didn't know what to say to her. His gaze was complicated.

Fade knew that Gentro had a lot he wanted to talk to Joey about, hence he winked at Leroy and Sandra and said, "That shop seems promising. Why don't we take a look at it."

Leroy and Sandra understood Fade's meaning and quickly agreed. The three of them left together.

Gentro and Joey were the only ones left on the spot.

"Gentro, I-I..." At this moment, Joey was a little bit nervous. For a moment, she didn't know what to say to Gentro.

Seeing this, Gentro flashed a warm smile. He said to Joey, "Joey, my love for you has never changed."

"What, I..." Joey didn't expect Gentro to be so bold. For him to confess to her so suddenly, she couldn't help but be puzzled.

Gentro stared at how puzzled Joey was and couldn't help but chuckle. He then winked and said, "Don't be nervous, I'm just joking. The love that I mentioned is the love between family members. We are cousins now, so of course I love you."

As he spoke, Gentro reached out his hand and gently patted Joey's head.

Feeling the warmth of his palm, Joey reached out and hugged him. Then, Joey whispered while Gentro was still taken aback, "Brother, can I address you as my brother now?"

A complicated look flashed in Gentro's eyes, but he finally nodded and answered seriously, "Of course, I'm your brother. I'll always be your brother, you can address me as you brother whenever and wherever."

"Brother!" Joey let out a soft cry, and her eyes were tearing up.

Gentro smiled and gently patted Joey's back, ready to loosen his arms.

But at this time, Gentro's eyes inadvertently saw a flash opposite them.

As the thing flashed, he felt a gust of wind come straight at them. Then, he saw a bullet fly straight toward Joey's back.

In the blink of an eye, Gentro's expression changed, and he shouted, "Joey, be careful!"

Joey was dumbfounded and she felt a strong force pull her away as Gentro pushed her behind him.

Then, with a thud, Gentro fell forward and he pressed against Joey on the cold chilly ground.

"Gentro, brother, what's wrong?" Joey exclaimed. Then she felt a warm liquid flow down her body. She reached out her hand and felt it, she saw that it was the color of blood.

Joey was taken aback and quickly got up from the ground. When she saw a bullet hole right in the middle of Gentro's chest, she couldn't help but be dumbfounded. "Brother, are you okay? You..."

Meanwhile, Fade and the other two, who were standing on the other side, heard the commotion and rushed over.

In fact, Fade had already realized that something was wrong the moment the bullet was shot. Thus, he rushed over in a flash.

However, the sniper was too fast and he was too far away. Even if Fade was quick, the moment he rushed over, Gentro had already collapsed on the ground into a pool of blood.

"Dial the emergency number!" Fade shouted at Joey. Meanwhile, he glanced in the direction where the gunshot came from and then he shot out a wave of energy.

Chapter 1600

A burst of energy shot out. The speed was incredibly fast and it hit a window on the tenth floor of the hotel opposite them. Then, Fade vaguely saw a dark figure fall to the ground.

That was likely the sniper. But meanwhile, Gentro was bleeding profusely and his face was turning pale. His positive energy was gradually weakening and Fade immediately inserted his positive energy into Gentro to stabilize his condition. As for the killer, Fade could only temporarily let him off the hook.

When Fade finally performed first aid, Leroy and Sandra finally sprinted over and only then did they realize what was happening. Seeing that Gentro was covered in blood, they were so anxious to the point where they wanted to tear up.

Fade's face was solemn. He desperately inserted his positive energy into Gentro in an attempt to protect his heart and veins. A few minutes later, Fade, who looked gloomy, breathed a sigh of relief. He looked at the rest and said, "Don't worry. With me here, Gentro won't die."

Hearing Fade's words, the few people's expressions relaxed a little. However, Fade did not say everything that was on his mind. Although Gentro was no longer in a life-threatening situation, but even Fade was not certain when Gentro would regain consciousness.

At this moment, sirens rang and the ambulance arrived. A group of people helped Gentro into the car and then quickly rushed to the hospital.

In the hospital, Gentro was sent to the emergency room for surgery.

The other members of the Luo family also received the news. They rushed to the hospital one after another and waited anxiously outside the surgery room.

At the same time, Fade strode a little further away, took out his mobile phone and made a phone call. "White Claw, help me investigate a killer. He uses a sniper rifle. About an hour ago, he was on the 10th floor of the Starry Hotel opposite the airport, and the window of the hotel was broken by me. I should have injured the killer and I want his whereabouts as soon as possible."

"Sure, Mr. Chen!" On the other end, White Claw responded immediately and sprinted into action.

White Claw was initially a member of the Skull Mob, and he was familiar with assassinations. In addition, he was quite skillful. He had reached the peak stage of Earth Level and he seemed like the perfect candidate to carry out the investigation.

Two hours later, in the hospital, Gentro was pushed out of the operating theatre. A group of people immediately gathered around. They looked expectantly at the doctor and asked, "Doctor, how is Gentro doing?"

Looking at the crowd, the doctor sighed softly and said, "Fortunately, when he was injured, the first aid was done perfectly and he is no longer in a life-threatening situation. However, he is now unconscious and we are not certain when he will wake up."

"H-how is this possible?" Leroy almost collapsed to the ground.

Sandra covered her face and began to tear up.

As for Dormer, he was silent at this very moment and then nodded to the doctor to express his gratitude. Then he uttered, "Gentro is very lucky to have his life saved. Stop crying all of you, we have other things to attend to."

17:55

Then, Dormer came up to Fade with his family members and expressed his gratitude.

Fade had a serious look and said, "Dormer, I'll definitely find out what happened to Gentro. I'll get to the bottom of this."

At this moment, Fade's cell phone rang. Looking at the caller ID, it was from White Claw. Fade immediately picked up the phone.

After hanging up the phone, Fade glanced at the crowd and said, "I have some clues. I'll have to go out now."

Before leaving, Fade had already asked Moore to come over to protect them and also comfort Joey.

Back then, the killer was likely targeting Joey, but Gentro saw it and pushed Joey out of the way and thus, he was shot.

In such a situation, Joey couldn't help feeling guilty, and she was in despair. She sat at the corner for a long time and didn't say a single word for the entire time.

"Joey, it's not your fault. I'm going to catch the killer." Fade patted Joey's head, and his eyes were determined.

.....

Half an hour later, Fade appeared in the hotel opposite the airport.

Standing in front of the broken window, Fade glanced out and he could see a large space in front of him.

Beside the shattered glass that was found on the ground floor of the hotel, Fade also saw a thick pool of blood. Those were all the clues he could get.

White Claw quickly told Fade the clues that he found. "The killer is likely a professional and he is very skilled at using firearms. The hotel records show that he used a fake identity when he registered for the room, and the only thing I could conclude out of this is that the killer is in his thirties and he is a local."

17:55

"Although he destroyed the surveillance footage, maybe because he was in a rush, he was caught on one of the footages. According to the footage, his waist seemed to be injured and he had lost quite a ton of blood which affected his movement."

"However, once he left the hotel, it was not that easy to find any footage with him. So, I..."

Hearing this, Fade frowned and said, "I don't want to listen to the process, so just get straight to the point."

White Claw's expression changed, and he quickly replied, "According to the rifle he used, the clue that I've gathered points toward a killer named "Havel Loh". He is well known for firearms dealership in Capital City's underground world, and he is the only man selling these kinds of firearms."

"Where is Havel now?" Fade asked.

White Claw immediately opened the map and answered, "This is the exact address of Havel. Havel himself is not a martial artist but he has a ton of subordinates under him and with my current strength, I'm not capable of marching in. So..."

Fade glanced at the map and uttered lividly, "Take me there. I'm going to find Havel."

"Alright!" White Claw knew that he did not perform his job well this time, thus he was anxious and he nodded his head and immediately sprinted into action.

Half an hour later, the two of them appeared at the entrance of a shooting club.

Although the shooting club used fake guns and rubber bullets, this was still quite surprising as this country strictly didn't allow firearms. Yet, they were able to operate a shooting club, indicating how powerful they were.

Fade strode straight into the club with White Claw. The receptionist immediately came up to them with a smile and said, "Hi, how can I help you? The club provides..."

Before the receptionist could finish speaking, Fade interrupted the receptionist in a cold voice and said, "I want to see your boss, Havel."

"Want to see my boss, this..." The receptionist was a little dumbfounded and then said apologetically, "Sir, I'm sorry. Our boss is not here. He has gone out. When my boss comes back, I..."
