

Chapter 1871

With his previous experience, Fade entered the tomb at a much faster pace.

He quickly passed through the passageways, went through the side tomb, and entered into the main tomb.

As soon as he stepped in, he saw the residual stinking black liquid on the ground. There were also signs of the wooden door and bricks being demolished. It seemed that it was caused by the emergence of the corpse.

Judging from the traces of the black slime, the corpse had probably crawled out from the main coffin.

Upon seeing this, he walked over to the main coffin and started to ponder. "Who is the owner of this tomb? Why did they have to mutate a decaying corpse like that," he thought to himself.

He slowed down and covered himself with a shroud of positive energy. He then carefully walked over to the main coffin.

When he arrived at the main coffin, the lid was already open. He looked inside and realized the coffin was dark and messy.

However, after taking a closer look, he saw something. There seemed to be some bones underneath the black gooey matter.

"What's going on? Did the corpse leave his skull here when it escaped?" Fade was puzzled. "That's impossible. The corpse I fought with had a skull."

"Could it be that there's more than one corpse inside the main coffin!" He gathered his positive energy as he thought of this. He peeled back the black matter and discovered an entire skeleton beneath it.

However, he quickly noticed that there were marks of chopping and heavy blows on it. From the marks on the skeleton, it wasn't left from when the deceased was alive. It was left on it when someone tried to beat the corpse.

"What's going on? He was puzzled for some time. "Someone tried to beat the owner of the coffin after he died? Could it be the doings of grave robbers?" He thought to himself.

However, he shook his head and overruled his guess when he saw the untouched burial objects.

Just as he was puzzled, his eyes suddenly lit up and his gaze fell on the position of the skull.

Inside the skull's mouth was a black plant.

"This is..." He bent down to take a look. He was suddenly extremely excited and overjoyed as he exclaimed softly, "Lunar Poria. It really is a Lunar Poria."

The Lunar Poria was a very precious Yin herb. It had harsh living conditions so it was very rare and difficult to come across.

"I never thought that a Lunar Poria would grow here!" Fade was surprised as he thought to himself.

At that moment, he suddenly thought of something. He looked at the skeleton in the main coffin and his expression changed. "Even if the tomb was suitable for the Lunar Poria's growth, it wouldn't grow in a coffin under normal circumstances, let alone a corpse's mouth!" He thought to himself.

"Therefore, the Lunar Poria didn't grow naturally but was planted by someone."

As he thought of this, he remembered the Ice Lotus being planted in Quin's body. His expression suddenly grew cold.

He carefully plucked the Lunar Poria along with its roots and carefully examined it in his hand. The quality of the Lunar Poria was quite good. However, it wasn't growing well and needed further cultivation.

"Goddess Lunar must be here for this Lunar Poria!" He had already guessed the other party's motive.

He then suddenly thought of another thing. "If the other party was here for the Lunar Poria, then the other party would've known about this matter when the owner of the tomb was buried. That was almost two hundred years ago," he thought to himself.

"Two hundred years, could that person still be alive? Or could they be his descendants?" He guessed.

As he thought about all this, Fade remembered the decaying corpse and suddenly noticed something. "If someone deliberately planted the Lunar Poria in the coffin owner's corpse and used the corpse and feng shui of the Yin Assemble spot to cultivate the Lunar Poria, then the decaying corpse isn't the true owner of the coffin!" He suddenly came to a realization.

"Additionally, they can't be buried together. It's all the more impossible that he would destroy the main coffin just like that," he thought. After all, what he saw was that the lid to the main coffin was already open. The coffin was rotten and there were all sorts of scratch marks on it.

"The Lunar Poria needs a quiet environment to grow. The other party wouldn't want to see the destruction of the main coffin. Additionally, the other party didn't know of this matter. Otherwise, they wouldn't have let the situation stay as it was," he deduced.

According to these bits of information, he started to figure things out as his eyes scanned the burial chamber.

All of a sudden, his gaze swept over in the direction of the side tomb as something flashed through his mind. He suddenly noticed something and quickly rushed to the side tomb.

The side tomb was still narrow and messy with the four tombs in the same spot.

Fade rushed to the four coffins and opened them to check. It was the same as before. There were skeletons in three of them but one was empty.

Combining it with the situation of the main coffin, Fade had a vague understanding of the situation.

Back then, the owner of the coffin had died and someone secretly planted the Lunar Poria seed in him. They purposely chose a Yin Assemble Spot as the burial ground to cultivate the Lunar Poria.

The mastermind had prepared everything beforehand. He buried the owner of the tomb and waited for the Lunar Poria to ripen.

However, he never would've guessed that something like this would happen in the tomb.

For some unknown reason, one of the four people buried with the tomb owner didn't die back then. Instead, he was buried alive in the tomb.

Therefore, when the tomb was sealed, the person who was still alive came out from the coffin and looked around for an exit. In the end, he must've failed.

With hatred in his heart, he came to the main coffin and opened the lid. He destroyed the coffin and even beat up the owner's corpse with vengeance.

That was the reason why there were marks on the tomb owner's coffin and bones.

Although he vented his anger, he couldn't escape his fate and was still trapped in the tomb.

However, his actions spoiled the once sealed main coffin and affected the growth of the Lunar Poria. At the same time, the Yin energy that was meant for the Lunar Poria entered the person that was buried with him.

11:31

As a result, that person mutated into that decaying corpse and evolved into that previous scene.

After straightening his thoughts, Fade returned to the main tomb and looked carefully at the layout of the chamber. He specifically looked under the main coffin.

Sure enough, he noticed that there was a formation in the main tomb to gather Yin energy under the coffin. It was used for the Lunar Poria's growth.

Chapter 1872

The discovery of this formation verified Fade's guesses as he sighed.

At the same time, he grew curious about who Goddess Lunar was. Was she an elder who lived for two hundred years or a descendant of the owner of the coffin?

Moreover, the means of planting a seed in a body reminded Fade of the matter of the Ice Lotus with Quin and the Skull Mob behind it.

At that moment, he was full of thoughts.

As soon as he calmed down, he carefully kept the Lunar Poria and exited the tomb.

He told Hassad and the rest about the tomb's condition. Of course, he hid the matter of the Lunar Poria from them.

Upon hearing his explanation, Hassad was surprised. He never thought that such things would happen in a nameless tomb. He really wanted to go down to investigate but Fade was worried about the matter of Goddess Lunar. Therefore, he had no choice but to stop him.

That night, the group rested beside the tomb in the valley.

Fade sat in his tent as he started to meditate.

During midnight, a night wind suddenly blew past and the leaves on the trees in the valley rustled as if something was going through the woods.

All of a sudden, Fade's eyes flew open as he got up and walked out of the tent. He looked in the direction of the tomb and said, "Someone really came."

"Since you're here, it's meaningless to hide. Come out!" He shouted coldly.

As his words fell, the scene turned quiet without any activity. Even the wind stopped blowing and the night fell into a deep silence.

He shook his head as he saw this. He looked at the woods behind the tomb and sent a wave of energy. "Do you think I'm bluffing? What a joke. I already noticed you long ago, come out now!" He demanded.

The energy cut through the wind and flew towards a huge tree in the woods. With a loud bang, the tree fell and made a huge noise.

Several figures then came out from behind the tree.

The leader was a middle-aged woman in her forties or fifties. She looked vaguely similar to the face in the smoke that Marilyn created.

Next to the woman were four skinny men in black clothes. Their bodies were tense as they glared at Fade with killing intent.

Additionally, there was an elder beside the woman. She was none other than Marilyn.

Upon seeing this, Fade looked over and spoke to her. "You really blew the whistle? It seems that it was a mistake to let you go! The person beside you must be Goddess Lunar!" He yelled.

11:31

Marilyn sneered and said, "Of course it was a mistake to let me go. Everything I told you was mostly true except for one thing. I didn't tell you that I'm a relative of Goddess Lunar. We were in cahoots together. She didn't force me to do this."

"Is that so?" Fade looked at her and spoke coldly, "In that case, I needn't show any mercy when I start my killing spree."

"Hmph, kill me!" The witch sneered, "Kid, you have skills but do you think you have any chance of winning now that Goddess Lunar is here?"

"Goddess Lunar? What a joke; it's just a mere lie to deceive yourselves and others. Don't tell me you really consider yourself a Bodhisattva! It's really laughable!" He shook his head and laughed.

She still wanted to speak. However, Goddess Lunar stopped her and said, "Cut the crap. You've foiled our family's plans. Today, you'll meet your doom."

As she spoke, she waved her hand and was about to order the attack.

He spoke and uttered, "Your family's plans? It must be the herb planted in the coffin owner's body!"

"How did you..." Goddess Lunar was shocked. She never expected him to know about this. "Who are you and how did you know..." She asked in disbelief.

Her face immediately changed as she glared at him. "You went into the tomb? You took it didn't you? Where is it? Hand it over right now!" She demanded.

"If you're talking about this, it's really here!" He smiled and took out the Lunar Poria. He even purposely shook it in front of her.

Goddess Lunar gritted her teeth when she saw this. She shouted and said, "Kill him and get the Lunar Poria back."

11:31

The four skinny subordinates then attacked him.

The four of them were obviously not ordinary people. They had quite some skills and were at the late stage of the Black Level. They worked well with each other and with their combined attack, they almost blocked Fade's escape. It was as if it was a definite kill. 1

However, it was a pity that it was only applicable to someone of the same level.

As for Fade, their joint attack was just a joke.

He calmly shook his head and simply struck out with his palm. In a bang, he instantly sent one of the black-clothed men flying.

The man grunted as his body flew out. He then fell to the ground and stopped breathing.

As Goddess Lunar saw this, she was shocked and quickly shouted, "Are you alright! How's your injury?"

However, she didn't get an answer.

Her expression turned cold as she spoke in a deep voice, "Attack with your full strength and kill him!"

As she gave the order, she also attacked Fade.

She held a cold blade and fiercely stabbed at his heart. As she attacked, her figure left an afterimage on the spot.

It was obvious that she was much more powerful than her subordinates. She was at the peak stage of the Black Level and could be considered an expert.

"Kill him!" She shouted.

11:31

She shouted again and killing intent brewed in her eyes.

The three subordinates in black clothes also desperately rushed in to attack Fade.

He didn't even bat an eyelid. He wasn't the least anxious and he just struck out a couple more times with his palm.

"Bang, bang, bang!" Sounds of hitting and beating were heard.

The three remaining subordinates were unquestionably hit and their bodies were sent flying before falling to the ground lifeless.

Goddess Lunar was shocked at his means of instantly killing three people. Fear appeared in her eyes and her movements became hesitant.

However, she fiercely gnashed her teeth with her relentless killing intent. Her blade flashed as she rushed at him.

"Petty tricks!" Fade sneered as reached out with his right hand to grab the dagger in the air.

Goddess Lunar gritted her teeth when she saw this. "You b*stard! You definitely have a death wish fighting me with your bare hands. Die!" She screamed.

"Hmph!"

He snorted coldly and he flipped his wrist. With only two fingers, he gently grabbed hold of the dagger.

At that moment, she felt the dagger slow down and was unable to move it at all.

"How could it be? You..." She was shocked by the situation.

Chapter 1873

Goddess Lunar was quite experienced in battle tactics and immediately let go of the dagger before sending out a wave of energy. She then fiercely attacked Fade's abdomen.

With a loud boom, her energy gathered and fiercely hit her mark.

He didn't wear any form of protection and had blatantly shown his dantian abdomen to his opponent before taking the hit.

"You're done for!" She smiled evilly as she saw this.

However, her expression froze even before she finished laughing.

It was because of the feeling she had when her palm struck his abdomen. The sturdy feeling made her dumbfounded. She felt as if her palm had struck a thick wall of steel and cement.

With such a large amount of positive energy, she couldn't cripple Fade at all. She couldn't even make him budge an inch.

"You..." Goddess Lunar was shocked and tried to retreat.

At that moment, he laughed coldly and grabbed at her. "Is that all you've got? Such a disappointment!"

As he spoke, she tried to dodge but his right hand had already caught her neck as he lifted her up.

"Tell me, who are you, and what's your motive?" He asked coldly.

"I won't tell you even if you kill me, I..." She was unyielding as she struggled to speak.

Without further ado, he flicked his left hand and a wave of energy was sent into her abdomen. It destroyed her dantian abdomen and abolished her cultivation.

"Argh!"

She let out a miserable wail of pain. "My family and ancestors won't let you go for harming me," she swore.

"There's even a family; it seems that there's an organization," Fade said. "Keep talking!"

At that moment, she shut her mouth and wouldn't talk.

"You don't want to talk?" Fade raised his eyebrows and asked. Following this, his left hand reached out and he lightly pinched her, shattering her right arm along with her bones.

At that moment, she was in such pain that she went into frenzied screaming and started to struggle in his hand. However, she couldn't break free from his grip.

Fade's gaze turned cold. "If you don't talk, I'll continue to slowly shatter all the bones in your body," he warned.

"Think about whether you want to talk!" He yelled in a cold voice.

Goddess Lunar was obviously terrified and her body started to tremble.

"My patience is limited. If you don't talk, then I'll start." As he spoke, he was about to act.

Upon hearing this, she was shocked and she quickly shouted, "I'll tell you, I'll speak!"

32

o ahead!" He threw her on the ground and spoke coldly.

She coughed for some time before speaking up. "My name is Dolly Chew. My family is an ancient martial arts family with a legacy of almost three hundred years," she explained.

However, for the past few generations, the Chew family hasn't been developing well and we have waned over the years. Finally, we could only withdraw and settle down in this small land."

Recently, the sects have come out to the secular world and martial arts was becoming viral again. My father felt that it was the chance for the Chew family to rise again as soon as he got the news."

Therefore, he told me something important to our family. Our Chew family ancestor was still alive. He's already more than two hundred years old but he was unable to wake up as he's seriously injured," she spoke in a surprised tone.

"If we want to wake and heal him, we need the Lunar Poria that our Chew family ancestor planted long ago."

"It's just that very few people in our family know about this, let alone the location of the Lunar Poria. Therefore, we could only search through our family scripts and ask the elders of our family. We then got a faint lead on the Lunar Poria and it led us here."

"We discovered this place and were almost sure that the Lunar Poria was in this ancient tomb. However, we never thought that the archeology team would come at this moment and plan to excavate the tomb."

"The Chew family naturally wouldn't want others to gain our ancestors' treasure. As such, we tried to find a way to stop the excavation. This led to the scam of the Temple of Goddess Lunar."

"We were supposed to get our hands on it but we never thought that we would run into you, so..."

11:32

At that point, Dolly held her breath and paused for a moment before quickly saying, "The Chew family doesn't have ill intentions. We just want to take back what's rightfully ours. As for those villagers, we'll return the money we cheated from them. Please spare our lives!"

Fade sneered as soon as he heard this. "No ill intentions? You're just focusing on minor matters and avoiding important matters instead. Do you think I'll believe you?"

"You said the Chew family is a martial arts family! I think not. It isn't even a complete one! Would an ordinary martial arts family plant a seed in someone's body, and purposely bury the body in a Yin Assemble Spot so as to cultivate the herb?" He questioned.

"Would ordinary martial arts families show Bodhisattva manifesting and bewitching others!"

"If I'm not mistaken, the Chew family has traditions that have been passed on for many years. It's an evil family that bewitches and harms others!"

"Therefore, do you think it's possible for you to say that you have no ill intentions and you want to wash away your evil deeds?" His eyes were cold and his voice serious. He glared fiercely at her.

Dolly's face flushed when she heard this and her expression grew odd.

However, she immediately defended herself and said, "This... This is a misunderstanding. Perhaps our Chew family ancestor harmed others but the current Chew family has never harmed anyone. We're innocent. We..."

"Haha!" Fade wouldn't trust the words of someone like this and he just struck out. With a loud slap, he killed her. Her body then crumbled to the ground without a single trace of life. 2

At the same time, in a small city not far from the ancient tomb. There was an exquisite pavilion in a quiet Chinese style garden. In the pavilion sat a chubby elder wearing a traditional Tang outfit. He was about sixty years old.

The elder had a smile on his face. He was warmly and even respectfully pouring tea for a fifty-year-old man in a green robe.

"Master Loh, please have some tea!" The elder in the traditional outfit said. He respectfully brought the teacup over to the green-robed man.

The green-robed man took the tea and smiled, "You're too polite, Mr. Chew."

"You're welcome. Master Loh, you are an elder of the Flying Dragon Clan. It's an honor to have you visit the Chew family. It's also Finlay's pleasure to serve you tea!" The elder in the traditional outfit was Finlay Chew. He was smiling and his tone was respectful.

Upon hearing this, Jauhar Loh beamed. He sipped the tea and laughed, "This is good tea, very good tea indeed!"

"It's great that you like it!" Finlay smiled and said. He then looked at Jauhar as he cautiously asked, "Master Loh, about my family's ancestor, you..."

Chapter 1874

Jauhar smiled as he listened. "I'll properly take care of the matter since I'm here. You can rest assured, Mr. Chew," he said.

"I've previously mentioned the matters of the Chew family to Master Teng. This time, as soon as that b*stard Fade's matter is settled, he will be able to make some time. He'll then come to help the Chew family ancestor recover," he continued.

"That's great, I'll thank Master Loh and Master Teng in advance." Finlay saluted and thanked him before continuing, "That b*stard named Fade, hasn't he gone to the Flying Dragon Clan to give himself up?"

As he spoke of this, Jauhar snorted coldly. He shouted unhappily, "That b*stard's really detestable. He plotted against and killed Master Guan from the Flying Dragon Clan over in East Coast City. He then left East Coast City as soon as the deed was done. We don't even know where he's hiding!"

"Being wanted by the Flying Dragon Clan is indeed scary. He can hide for now but he can't hide forever!" Finlay said.

Jauhar said, "That's for sure. He's just a b*stard. If he comes to the Flying Dragon Clan to beg for forgiveness, maybe we'll let him live. If he continues to not know what's good for him, he can't blame us for being ruthless."

"That kid has Ernest Company under him. They have connections with Sacred Water Company. It's quite a feat that they can get a bunch of Sacred Water," Finlay said.

As soon as he brought this up, Jauhar's eyes lit up.

Finlay also showed a yearning expression and he spoke beggingly, "If the Flying Dragon Clan obtains the company, could Master Loh please help me get some Sacred Water? The Chew family has been waning for too long. If we can get some Sacred Water, we can..."

"Don't worry, although Sacred Water is precious, it's probably worth nothing. When the time comes, I'll help you," Jauhar replied.

"Thank you very much, Master Loh." Finlay poured another cup of tea and respectfully served it.

Both of them exchange sips of tea before looking at each other. They then burst into laughter.

At that moment, a servant hurried over to the pavilion with a worried face, "Old master, Old Master..."

"Why are you yelling? Can't you see Master Loh here? You startled us with your yelling!" Finlay sharply reprimanded him.

The servant immediately knelt on the ground as his eyes were filled with terror.

"Mr. Chew, there's no need to be mad. You'd better ask him what happened. Maybe it's something urgent!" Jauhar said.

"Quickly thank Master Loh!" Finlay shouted at the servant.

The servant quickly kowtowed in thanks to Jauhar before speaking to Finlay, "Old master, it's not good. Something bad has happened."

"What happened?" Finlay's face sank when he heard this. He then immediately questioned the servant.

The servant replied, "It's regarding Miss Dolly."

"What's wrong with Dolly?" Finlay was nervous when he heard that something had happened to his daughter.

The servant said, "The First Miss encountered an expert when she brought men to the ancient tomb and was killed by the other party."

"What?" Finlay's face drastically changed. "How is that possible? Dolly is an expert at the peak stage of the Black Level. That place is only a small village. How would there be an expert who could kill her?" He asked in horror.

The servant started to sweat as well. "I'm not too sure about this matter. All the news we've got is that the other party is from the excavation team and is very powerful. He killed the First Miss and many of the men she brought with her. Even the item in the ancient tomb was taken by that person," the servant cried.

"What!" This time, Finlay's expression utterly changed and became very unsightly.

One would know that the item in the tomb was the key to their family's ancestor's recovery. It could decide whether the Chew family could make a recovery and strengthen itself.

Without the Lunar Poria from the tomb, even if they had the help of Fabrico from the Flying Dragon Clan, their ancestor wouldn't be able to recover and wake up.

At this rate, half of the family's assets that were given to Jauhar were all for nothing. After all, he was sure that he wouldn't return anything that was already in his pocket.

As he thought of this, Finlay's expression was ugly and solemn. He spoke seriously, "We must find the murderer and retrieve that item."

"Yes!" The servant quickly nodded and left.

However, he thought that his daughter was the second strongest expert of the family. She was only inferior to him but even she had lost. It wouldn't help much even if the other Chew family members went over.

At the thought of this, his face sank and he ordered the servants, "Make preparations, I'll be going over as well."

As soon as he gave the orders, he saluted Jauhar and said, "I'm sorry, Master Loh. There was an accident and I have to leave."

Jauhar spoke, "Mr. Chew, the other party had the audacity to kill Miss Dolly. I may be considered an elder of Miss Chew and I can't let her die in vain. I'll go with you!"

Finlay was overjoyed at this and he quickly thanked him, "Thank you, Master Loh."

Finlay was only at the middle stage of the Earth Level. Although he was confident, he couldn't be sure that he was a match for the person who had killed his daughter.

However, if Jauhar was tagging along, Finlay felt that victory was near.

After all, Jauhar was an elder of the Flying Dragon Clan. Although he was just an outer elder, his cultivation at the initial stage of the Heaven Level and his title of a Martial Arts Master wasn't to be belittled. 1

If a Martial Arts Master personally did the job, the other party would definitely be done for.

Finlay then immediately made preparations and rushed to the ancient tomb with Jauhar and some men.

At the ancient tomb, Fade lit a flame with his fingertips and incinerated the bodies of Dolly and her followers into ashes.

Soon after that, he woke Hassad and the others before asking them to leave the tomb site. He told them to find a hotel in a nearby town and stay there.

They had to momentarily put down their archeology work on the ancient tomb.

That was because Fade knew that Dolly had her family to back her up. The other party would soon get wind of her death and would come themselves.

It would be very dangerous if Hassad and the others continued to stay there.

As expected, on the afternoon when Hassad and the others left, Finlay arrived with Jauhar and the rest of the Chew family. They aggressively rushed into the valley where the tomb was.

As they entered, Fade was sitting cross-legged on a huge rock opposite the valley's entrance. He then opened his eyes and looked at the people in front of him. "You're here!" He said.

At the same time, Finlay and the others noticed Fade and they focused their gazes on him.

"Boy, did you... kill my daughter?" Finlay asked in a deep voice.

Fade replied calmly, "Are you Dolly's father?"

Upon hearing this, Finlay's expression changed. His eyes burned with anger as he spoke, "It's you, b*stard. You killed my daughter and stole the Chew family's item. Prepare to meet your doom!"

With that, he immediately took the lead and attacked Fade.

His subordinates beside him also started shouting. Each of them took out a weapon and shouted as they rushed towards Fade.

Chapter 1875

Jauhar was about to help him as he stood beside him. However, when he saw that the opponent was a kid in his twenties, he stood still on the spot.

"It's just a kid, so there's no need for me to move. Finlay can settle it himself! It seems that I've made the trip for nothing," he thought to himself. He simply crossed his arms and casually stood in place.

Finlay fiercely attacked along with his subordinates in a desperate manner.

However, as soon as they reached Fade, they noticed that something was wrong.

An invisible force was blocking them, preventing Finlay and the others from moving even one step forward.

"What's happening?" Finlay struck the invisible shield in front of him. Ripples appeared on the shield but it didn't give way.

"This boy..." He froze before he gathered his positive energy into a virtual sword. He then fiercely pierced at the shield.

"Let's break this shield together," he shouted as he initiated a fierce attack.

However, they could only produce ripples on the air shield with their attacks. They couldn't damage it in the very least.

As for Fade, he was sitting on the rock watching Finlay and the others fiercely attacking. He then spoke, "What's the Chew family's line of business? Also, what's with your family's ancestor?"

"How do you know..." Finlay was stunned as soon as he heard Fade speak of these matters before he started to attack more aggressively.

As soon as Fade realized that he couldn't get any answers, he lightly shook his head. "It seems that you won't talk unless I teach you a lesson," he said.

With that, he stepped off the huge rock.

This small action brought a huge momentum with it. It was like an invisible mountain, ruthlessly pressuring Finlay.

He was instantly shocked and he quickly channeled his positive energy, trying to resist Fade's pressure.

However, the positive energy which he tried so hard to channel crumbled. He didn't even last three seconds.

Finlay vomited blood, and there was terror on his face. He retreated in a flash and shouted at the same time, "Master Loh, save me."

Jauhar, who was watching the show, gave a cold sigh. He then shouted and rushed over with his sword in hand, "Kid, I'm an outer elder of the Flying Dragon Clan, Jauhar Loh."

"Give yourself up now that I've made my move," he demanded.

The sharp sword sliced through the air and sharply pierced towards Fade.

Fade heard the shout and he turned to look at him. He narrowed his eyes and said, "Flying Dragon Clan, Jauhar Loh!"

"It's the Flying Dragon Clan again. It seems like our fates really are well-connected!"

"Brat, what nonsense are you spouting!" Jauhar snorted coldly as his sharp sword pierced at Fade's chest.

"Die!" He shouted with pride on his face.

However, just as his sword reached Fade's chest, Fade gently pointed his right hand and a fierce surge of energy cut the sword in two.

The surge of energy then rebounded along with the broken sword. The force shook Jauhar so hard that his face turned pale and he spat out blood.

"Kid, you... Who the hell are you?" Jauhar was shocked. It was obvious that he never expected Fade to be so powerful!

Fade shook his head and stepped forward. "The head of your Flying Dragon Clan, Fabrico, wants to kill me. Don't you know who I am?" He said.

Upon hearing this, Jauhar's expression changed and he looked at him in shock. "You... You're that young martial art master Fade?" He asked.

"That's me!" Fade calmly replied.

Jauhar's face instantly turned as pale as a sheet of paper. He quickly shouted to Finlay, "Run!"

He then turned around and tried to escape.

Finlay was momentarily stunned before he realized how powerful the enemy before him was.

It must be noted that Fade, the young Martial Arts Master, was someone who could even kill Hebron. In the Flying Dragon Clan, Hebron was much stronger than Jauhar.

Now that Jauhar had escaped, Finlay wasn't even a match for him.

He couldn't care about anything else and turned away to escape.

However, Fade shook his head at their running figures. He said in a calm tone, "Do you think you can escape?"

He then lightly jumped and his figure left an afterimage as he shot out.

In the blink of an eye, two palm strikes could be heard. Finlay and Jauhar laid on the ground as blood spewed out their mouths. They both looked at Fade with terror in their eyes.

He looked at the both of them and spoke coldly, "Now, I'll ask and you'll answer. Understand?"

"Yes, Yes!" In the face of absolute strength, Finlay and Jauhar didn't dare to resist. After all, they knew that the person in front of them killed people like flies.

"First of all, what's up with the Chew family? Dolly didn't know much. Tell me all of the details honestly. I don't want to hear anything altisonant," Fade demanded.

Finlay didn't dare to hide anything and he nodded before briefing him on the Chew family history.

What Dolly had told Fade was more or less the truth. However, the Chew family that Finlay portrayed was far more realistic. The Chew family ancestor wasn't from some martial arts family. He was a wandering Taoist priest who went about cheating others. After that, he learned a little martial arts by chance.

With the help of martial arts, the Chew family ancestor started cheating others more unscrupulously. The Chew family then eventually started to develop and grow stronger.

As he grew stronger, he met more nobles and experts. Soon after that, the Chew family ancestor's strength wasn't worth mentioning. Therefore, he started to think and search for ways to enhance his strength.

The most simple and direct method was to find a teacher and become an apprentice to learn martial arts. One would then practice hard to enhance his own strength. However, the Chew family ancestor was already over the hill and his talent was mediocre so there wasn't any space for improvement even if he trained hard.

At that moment, he had a crooked idea. He went searching for all kinds of folk remedies and evil methods just to enhance his strength.

Among those methods were means of killing a person and absorbing their energy, using human blood to cultivate, and other evil methods such as this. The method of cultivating the Lunar Poria was one of the fruits of his journey.

However, before the Lunar Poria matured, he was attacked by righteous men. In the end, many Chew family members died in the siege. The Chew family ancestor was heavily wounded and went missing. It wasn't known whether he was dead or alive.

In the next two hundred years, the almost extinct Chew family didn't dare to stand out. Instead, they could only slowly develop and look for a chance of survival.

After all this time, the Chew family had started to regain some vitality. It was at this time that the Chew family descendants discovered, to their surprise, that their heavily wounded ancestor was still alive. However, his injuries were too grave and he was far too old. As such, it was very difficult for him to even move.

Chapter 1876

Therefore, the descendants of the Chew family started searching high and low for methods and resources to help their ancestor recover so that he could reemerge.

Nonetheless, the Chew family didn't refrain from using dirty methods throughout the entire process. They harmed many others during this time.

However, the ancestor's injuries were too grave and the Chew family was too weak. As such, it was difficult for them to find suitable alternatives for their ancestor to recover. Therefore, they could only use all kinds of methods to delay his time of death up until now.

It wasn't until recently that their ancestor remembered the Lunar Poria. That was why the Chew family searched everywhere and it eventually led to what had happened here.

After hearing this, Fade's expression darkened and he looked at Finlay with killing intent.

Just from listening to him about the process, he knew that the Chew family had killed numerous people, not to mention those whom Finlay didn't bring up.

The Chew family could totally be categorized as heterodox doctrines. During ancient times, they would be a subject of universal condemnation. Based on the current situation, they were absolutely not allowed to exist either.

Upon resisting the urge to kill Finlay, Fade turned his eyes to Jauhar. "The Chew family is here for this. Why is the Flying Dragon Clan caught up in this too?" He asked coldly.

"I... I..." Jauhar's eyes flickered. He looked as if he was trying to avoid something.

Fade shouted coldly when he saw this, "Tell me the truth or die!"

Jauhar was so scared that he shivered before answering, "Don't kill me. I'll talk, I'll talk."

"It's all because the Flying Dragon Clan is too greedy. The Chew family offered us half of their assets and begged Master Teng to help revive their ancestor. I'm representing Master Teng to negotiate, so... It's just that we didn't know that the Chew family were heterodox doctrines. If we knew, the Flying Dragon Clan would've never helped them!" Jauhar explained.

Fade laughed coldly at his explanation. He didn't believe a single word. "You didn't know? The Chew family gave you half of their assets and even told you about their ancestor. You're now telling me that you didn't know!"

"Even if you didn't know beforehand. You should know about the Lunar Temple scam. Why are you still in contact with the Chew family?" He demanded an answer.

Upon being faced with his question, Jauhar's expression changed and he didn't know how to answer.

Upon seeing this, Fade snorted coldly and struck two times with his palm. He destroyed the dantian abdomens of both Jauhar and Finlay. He then picked them up and left the valley in a flash.

In the small town, in the Chew family's backyard.

At that moment, it was all a mess. All of the Chew family descendants were nervously kneeling in front of Fade with fear in their eyes. They were so scared that they couldn't even talk.

His eyes swept over them before he sent out balls of energy and destroyed all their dantian abdomens.

He then left the Chew family manor shortly after.

This time, his target was a quiet forest on the north side of the town where the Chew family lived.

That was where the Chew family ancestor, Castro Chew, had been hiding all these years.

For such an old devil, Fade didn't want him to recover and continue to harm others. On the other hand, his method of planting the Lunar Poria with a human body made him suspicious, and he wanted to ask him some questions.

After running for more than two hours, he finally stopped at a cliff.

Upon looking down at the haze-shrouded cave, he didn't hesitate and jumped down.

At that moment, the sound of the whirring wind could be heard and the haze around him continuously shrouded him.

At that moment, he was searching the mountain wall when his eyes suddenly lit up. He then fixed his gaze on a hole in the mountain wall that was hidden by trees.

"It's here," he thought to himself. He locked onto the location and sent out a wave of energy to position himself before rushing towards the cave.

He immediately saw a cave after passing through the trees and entering the hole.

He stepped in without hesitation.

The cave wasn't too deep. Soon after that, he saw another cave in front of him. The floor of the cave was strewn with all kinds of jade in a formation.

The formation was slowly absorbing the area's universal energy and guiding it to a stone platform in the middle of the cave.

There were several huge stone basins around the stone platform and the basins were filled with dark red liquid. Some of them had been placed there for too long and had started to smell.

An extremely skinny man sat cross-legged on the stone platform.

The man's long hair and beard fell from his head, almost covering his entire body.

He was thin and tall but all there was left of him was skin and bones. He looked like a dried-up corpse as no sense of life could be felt from him.

However, Fade let out a little positive energy and probed at the corpse. He could almost immediately feel that the corpse was still alive. Although his breathing was weak and his heart had almost stopped beating, he was still alive.

"An old fogey who has lived for almost three hundred years!" Fade thought to himself. He looked at the corpse and had a weird sensation for a brief moment.

"What's so different from death if you have to live like this!" He didn't understand and shook his head.

He then gathered energy in his palm and was about to strike at the corpse.

However, just as he attacked, a dark red burst of energy erupted from the corpse and shattered his burst of energy in midair.

"You can still fight!" Fade was surprised as he lifted his eyebrows.

At that moment, the corpse slowly opened its eyes. His lip movements were hard to catch but he spoke in a slow and long voice, "Who are you? What do you want?"

Fade wasn't in a hurry to kill the corpse when he saw this. Instead, he asked him in return, "Are you Castro Chew?"

"Yes!" The corpse answered. "Who are you exactly? How do you know of this place? What did you do to my descendants?"

Fade calmly replied, "They're evil so I killed them all!"

After finishing his sentence, he obviously felt the swing in the corpse's mood. He was a little agitated.

Upon seeing this, he sneered coldly, "It seems that you still have emotions. At least you're still human-like!"

"What are you doing here?" Castro stared at him and asked slowly.

Fade looked at him and said, "You committed too much evil and too much blood is on your hands. I'm here to kill you."

"Kill me!" Castro's mood fluctuated again. He then looked at Fade and asked, "Then why haven't you?"

"Because I have something to ask you," Fade said before he took out the Lunar Poria. "Recognize this?" He taunted.

At the sight of the Lunar Poria, the corpse's eyes rolled as his emotions became even more intense. "I never thought that the thing I planted two hundred years ago would fall into your hands!" He said.

"Take it if you want it!"

Fade raised his eyebrows and said, "Don't pretend to be generous in front of me. Do you think you still have the ability to take back the Lunar Poria?"

11:32

"I don't want to speak nonsense anymore. I'll ask the questions and you'll answer. If I feel that you're worthless, I'll immediately kill you," Fade said coldly.

Chapter 1877

Fade then asked, "Where did you learn the method to cultivate the Lunar Poria?"

As he asked the question, energy surged in his palm as he coldly looked at Castro with killing intent.

"That was from two hundred years ago..." Castro replied slowly.

"I told you. If I have no use for you, I'll immediately kill you. I wasn't joking," Fade's voice was ice cold.

Castro spoke slowly in reply, "Young man, don't be so hasty. I need time to think."

"I learned the method to cultivate the Lunar Poria from a man!"

"Who, who is he?" Fade asked coldly.

"Hextman Liang. You wouldn't know him," Castro said. "He was a constable of the head of the yamen. He returned to his hometown when he retired and gave me the method."

"He said that the yamen used these methods and experimented on death row prisoners. In the end, they got a lot of useful things through this," he explained.

"Go on!" Fade frowned.

Castro continued, "He also told me that the yamen learned the method from a foreign missionary. At that time, there was a lord or big shot who wanted to use the method to raise a bunch of experts belonging to him with the motive to rebel and seize power."

"I didn't know the specific situation. However, based on history books that were later written, the lord didn't succeed. However, at that time, there was a surge in opposing missionaries. Perhaps it had something to do with this," he continued.

"Foreign missionaries! I think the Skull Mob is foreign too." Something flashed through Fade's mind as he took out a piece of paper. There was the icon of the Skull Mob on the paper. It was a symbol of a skull and a sprouting plant. "Do you recognize this?" He asked.

Castro's face changed into a look of surprise when he saw the icon. "It's them. I saw this icon back then. It belonged to those missionaries. I never thought that they still existed," he said.

"Do you know anything else?" Fade asked again.

However, Castro didn't know much.

Since he couldn't get anything more out of him, Fade couldn't care less as energy surged in his palm. He looked at him and said, "You should die now. I'll give you a quick death on account of your cooperation."

Castro looked at him and asked, "Can I not die?"

Fade shook his head coldly and said, "The innocent people you killed wouldn't agree to it even if I do."

Upon hearing this, Castro closed his eyes and slightly raised his head as if he had accepted his fate. He sighed, "I knew this day would come. It's just that I never thought of this result."

"Do it. I won't resist. I deserved this."

Fade slightly nodded. He was about to fire the energy in his palm and give him a death blow.

However, at this moment, Fade felt a strong surge of positive energy.

Castro then suddenly opened his eyes, with a hideous expression on his face. His positive energy started to surge violently, "Young man, I've held on for so long just to live but you want to kill me. Do you think I'll let you do so?"

The formation in the cave started to surge following his words. Waves of gathered positive energy formed fierce virtual swords and violently attacked Faded all at once.

The blood in the basins gathered in mid-air too and attacked Fade with a smelly and terrifying aura.

"Die, go to hell!" Castro yelled wildly.

Fade was surprised when he saw this. He then said coldly, "Castro, you won't live long even if you exert yourself like that."

"Even if I can't live, I'll bring you down with me," Castro yelled with a savage expression on his face.

For a brief moment, energy surged in the cave. Blood flew everywhere and fierce attacks filled the entire cave.

"Haha, die, go to hell!" Castro laughed maniacally.

At this moment, Fade snorted coldly and struck out with both palms, sending a wave of energy towards Castro. "Do you think you can kill me with those things?" He snickered.

Accompanied with his cold snort, Fade's energy was released and destroyed Castro's energy before directly hitting him on the chest.

Castro was immediately sent flying. His extremely skinny body slammed against the cave wall and slid to the ground.

"I won't... resign myself..." Blood was dripping from his mouth. His eyes were filled with surprise as he glared fiercely at Fade before finally shouting fiercely. A wave of energy then erupted from his body and it destroyed his own body, shattering him into pieces.

At the same time, the energy acted as a fuse and made the chaotic energy in the cave explode. The entire cave instantly exploded.

Fade quickly circulated his positive energy and formed a shield around his body to block the powerful shocks from the explosion.

The cave was quiet once again after the series of explosions had stopped.

He waved his hand to blow away the dust and looked around him. The cave was a complete mess. There were bits of rubble everywhere and the entrance was blocked. There was dust and dissipated blood gas in the surrounding air.

He coughed and blood trickled out the corner of his mouth.

He reached up and touched the blood on the corner of his mouth. "I was still careless. Although Castro was only about the middle stage of the Heaven Level and he was feeble, he was still an old devil who had lived for more than two hundred years. With the power he accumulated over the years, he could actually wound me with a sudden explosion," he thought to himself.

"Furthermore, if he wasn't that feeble and he was at full strength, perhaps he could've gravely wounded me or even killed me with a surprise attack. I have to be more careful in the future," he swore.

Fade reflected on his own behavior.

He then saw a small puddle appearing from under the shattered stone platform. His eyes immediately lit up as he looked overjoyed.

"This... This is Frost Pond Water. It's a liquid of a Yin nature. Although it isn't very precious, it's quite rare. No wonder Castro could live for so long. The Frost Pond Water had worked its magic on him!" He exclaimed.

As he thought about it, he suddenly remembered the Lunar Poria while an idea went off inside his head. "The Lunar Poria didn't grow well because its environment was ruined. However, Frost Pond Water is a good raw material for cultivating the Lunar Poria," he thought to himself.

As he thought about this, he immediately planted the Lunar Poria in the Frost Pond Water. Not before long, he saw the Lunar Poria freshen up.

He then sat beside the Frost Pond Water and started to meditate in order to recuperate himself.

While waiting for the Lunar Poria to grow, he slowly nursed his injuries.

He was recuperating calmly in the cave. However, the current world outside was in an uproar and in chaos.

In the Flying Dragon Clan, Fabrico couldn't reach Jauhar. Therefore, he sent someone to investigate the situation. He then got wind that the Chew family had been annihilated and that Fade had taken Jauhar and Finlay away.

Chapter 1878

Fabrico was instantly furious as he immediately returned to the Flying Dragon Clan before publishing another video on the internet. He demanded that Fade admit to killing Jauhar and come to the Flying Dragon Clan to give himself up and plead guilty.

Otherwise, the Flying Dragon Clan would issue a killing order on him.

Once the video was released, it caused another uproar on the internet.

For the past few days, the battle regarding Fade and the Flying Dragon Clan had started to settle down. However, now, it went viral once again.

The netizens gained more information from the video.

They knew that Fade wasn't hiding in East Coast City. Instead, he went to West River District, which was very near the Flying Dragon Clan. Additionally, they didn't know what happened there. However, they knew that he had killed another elder of the Flying Dragon Clan.

His supporters were extremely excited at this news as they started commenting online. They said that he wasn't a coward and he had already set off for West River District to accept Fabrico's challenge.

However, the other netizens didn't look at it this way. From their point of view, he was still a coward. He dared not answer Fabrico's challenge and he didn't dare to go to the Flying Dragon Clan to face them. He only dared to make sneak attacks on the Flying Dragon Clan members. His actions were totally that of a villain.

After all, in the hearts of the netizens, Jauhar didn't have a feud with him. Instead, he was killed because he was a member of the Flying Dragon Clan. At that moment, he had gone too far.

Both sides had their own views and they caused an uproar on the internet over this matter. However, Fade still didn't respond.

This silence caused the netizens' quarrels to become more chaotic and irritable. There were even private fight appointments going on. The topic became extremely viral.

Just as both sides were in a hot dispute, another video went viral on the internet.

As soon as the video was released, it became the top video in all the largest video websites. It even overpowered Fabrico's video.

That was because the video's content was about the Sacred Water Company.

The video was very crude but the content was very dynamic. There were two Great Tulkus in red Buddhist ceremonial clothes. They called themselves Dalailama and Panchenlama. They went to the manufacturing company of Sacred Water, defeated the guards, and took over the company.

They captured the top management of the company and announced in the video that the Sacred Water Company belonged to them. At that moment, they were taking back the Sacred Water Company.

Sacred Water was arguably the hottest recent topic in the martial arts world. Not only the secular martial artists, but even the disciple from each sect tried to get Sacred Water so as to enhance their strength.

It could be said that everyone in the martial arts world knew about Sacred Water. Therefore, the Sacred Water Company which manufactured it was everyone's point of focus.

Some people had previously investigated the background of the Sacred Water Company but couldn't find any information. There were also some people who personally went to Namuchia Lake in Northern Jusberg to investigate. However, they wouldn't talk or disclose anything as soon as they returned.

In the end, such a mysterious company was taken over by two Great Tulkus and they announced it on the internet. Naturally, it would cause a heated discussion.

Of course, Sacred Water wasn't the only reason the topic was so hot. In the video, some attentive people noticed a detail.

That was the boss of the Sacred Water Company whom the two Great Tulkus mentioned was also called Fade. After that, some people followed the lead and investigated the matter. They were then surprised to find that the big boss of the Sacred Water Company was the young Martial Arts Master who was famous on the internet, Fade Chen.

These two hot topics accumulated and instantly boosted the video to the first place.

At the same time, discussions about Fade became hot on the internet.

Some said that he was very powerful; he wasn't even thirty years old but he had such a huge industry and could affect the whole martial arts world.

Nonetheless, there were others who said that he was too silly. If he didn't have the ability, he would only be toiling for others' benefits no matter how good the product was. The Sacred Water Company being taken over was the best example.

For a brief moment, his supporters and those who opposed him started another round of an internet debate battle.

As for Fade himself, he was unaware of the carnage outside as he was recuperating in the cave.

His silence only amplified the voices of the netizens who opposed him.

After all, they could explain that he refused to respond to Fabrico's challenge as he wanted to concentrate on his cultivation. However, it was difficult for him to explain when he did not take any action when his own company had been taken over.

At that moment, his supporters grew quiet and were pressured by those who opposed him.

Even many of his supporters start to grumble. They were thinking about whether he was really scared and went into hiding. Otherwise, he wouldn't be indifferent when his company was being taken over.

As the heated discussion on the internet went on, it grew closer to the date set for Fade to plead guilty.

On the Flying Dragon Mount, Fabrico gazed in the distance with his hands behind his back. He asked coldly, "There's still no news on that b*stard?"

"No, Master Teng!" His servant answered.

"Could that b*stard really be scared and has made up his mind to hide?" Fabrico was doubtful as he frowned.

Upon hearing this, his servant spoke, "Master Teng, we didn't find anything on Fade. However, we discovered some news regarding some people close to him."

"People close to him? Speak, what news?" Fabrico asked.

The servant replied, "The archeological team that was with Fade in the valley some time ago. The team is currently in a small town not far from there. They didn't leave for the past few days."

11:33

"I've heard that there's a young girl named Yankee Meng among them and she seems close to Fade. If we capture..." The servant explained.

He didn't continue but Fabrico got the idea. He narrowed his eyes and pondered before speaking, "If that's the case, bring her here. Yankee should have leads on Fade."

"Yes, Master Teng. I'll send someone to capture her immediately," the servant said.

Fabrico corrected him and said, "Not capture, invite. We just have some questions for her. Remember, the Flying Dragon Clan is a righteous clan, we must pay attention to our actions, understand?"

"Clan head, I understand! We're inviting her, not capturing her," the servant laughed and saluted.

Fabrico waved his hand and said, "That's all; it's good that you understand. You're dismissed!"

"Yes!" The servant saluted and left.

Chapter 1879

As for Fade, he had no idea how long he had been cultivating in the cave.

The Lunar Poria finally matured as the Frost Pond Water was fully absorbed. He immediately consumed it and refined the Lunar Poria. He then learned an ultimate move called the Frost Lunar Chop. It was very powerful and could send out an ice-crescent energy blade.

As soon as he consumed the Lunar Poria, Fade had found five extreme Yin herbs and had completed half his goal of the nine herbs.

These five herbs were respectively the Nine Leaf Ice Flower, the Ice Lotus, the Frost Plum Blossom Fruit, the Blood-clotting Bell Herb, and the Lunar Poria.

With the help of the five herbs, Fade had learned five different ultimate moves which were the Blazing Vision, Ice Lotus Flame, Frost Plum Blossom Mark, Blood Devil Ring, and Frost Lunar Chop.

Each of these ultimate moves were unique in their own way and provided him with a variety of attack methods.

However, he didn't have to use the ultimate moves to finish off his opponent most of the time.

He familiarized himself with the Frost Lunar Chop before checking his own body. His injuries had healed a long time ago. He then sent out a few balls of energy and shattered the rubble blocking the cave before rushing out.

As he returned from the mountains, he changed his clothes and cleaned up before going to town. He was prepared to meet Yankee and the others.

However, after arriving at the hotel they agreed on, Fade couldn't find them. He called them but their phones were turned off and no one had answered.

"Could it be that I delayed for too long, causing Yankee and the others to return after being impatient?" He guessed.

At that moment, a janitor looked curiously at Fade. "Are you a reporter?" The janitor asked.

"No, why do you ask this?" He was curious.

The janitor replied, "You aren't! That's true though. Reporters wouldn't come at such a late hour. It's already been a few days and you wouldn't have come to interview now."

"Interview? Did something happen here?" Fade had an ominous premonition.

The janitor looked at him with surprise and said, "You didn't know what happened here! The news has spread on the internet and you still don't know?"

"The internet!" Fade frowned and immediately took out his phone and started to surf the internet.

After a brief moment, his face darkened. A wave of anger washed over him and anger burned in his eyes. "Flying Dragon Clan, Fabrico, you've crossed the line," Fade angrily said.

"If there's anything you want to talk about, you can come at me but don't you dare approach those who are close to me." Fade gnashed his teeth and said, "Since you have a death wish in mind, I'll grant you your wish."

11:33

With that, his figure shot out as he created a gust of wind. He then disappeared from the hotel.

The janitor only saw a blur. The next thing she knew was that she couldn't see anyone anymore.

Her eyes were full of surprise. She couldn't help but rub her eyes, "What's going on? Were my eyes blurry? Where is that man? Why is he gone?"

.....

A few hours later, Fade appeared at the foot of Flying Dragon Mount in casual clothing.

He was surprised as he looked at the bustling crowd at the foot of the mountain. "Why are there so many people?" He asked.

Upon hearing this, someone in the crowd laughed, "Brother, what are you saying? The Flying Dragon Clan is distributing elixirs and they're even accepting disciples. Of course, there are a lot of people here."

"Distributing elixirs, accepting disciples? Is the Flying Dragon Clan having a celebration?" Fade continued to ask.

The bystanders looked at Fade with an odd expression. "You really don't know anything?" The bystander asked.

"I'm from another city. As such, I'm not clear about certain matters," Fade answered.

The other party replied, "Today is the deadline that Master Teng had set for Fade to plead guilty. However, it seems that he was scared and dared not come over."

"However, the ceremony can't be canceled. Therefore, Master Teng changed the battle into a celebration. They're celebrating the prestige and invincibility of the Flying Dragon Clan," another explained.

"Those who go up the mountain to congratulate them have a chance to get elixirs and herbs that the Flying Dragon Clan's distributing. If you're lucky, you may even be spotted by one of the masters of the Flying Dragon Clan and be accepted as a disciple. You can say it's a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity. As such, there would naturally be a lot of people," the bystander explained.

"I see. Thank you very much!" Fade thanked him. He then increased his pace as he went up the mountain.

At the same time, his expression and heart were ice cold. "What a man. Fabrico wants to use my fame to popularize the Flying Dragon Clan's name and accept disciples at the same time," he thought to himself.

"It's a good plan. However, since I'm here today, your plan is destined to fail."

With a cold snort, Fade further increased his pace and shot up Flying Dragon Mount.

Just as Fade was walking on the path, a group of young men and women in gorgeous clothes were walking up the mountain step by step. Their faces were flushed as they gritted their teeth.

It's just that they had to take a rest with every step and their pace was incredibly slow.

"I can't take it anymore. I can't do it. I can't walk anymore," a chubby young man panted and refused to move.

A handsome man with sharp eyebrows and bright eyes beside him frowned when he saw this. "Elmon, this is the test that the Flying Dragon Clan has set for us. If we can't even pass this stage, we can't even dream of being chosen as disciples. Hurry up and get up. Let's continue walking," the handsome man said.

The fat man named Elmon panted and waved his hands. "Zodren, I really can't walk anymore. I'll forgo the benefits of the Flying Dragon Clan," he said.

Zodren frowned when he heard this and was about to say something.

At that moment, a young girl with long hair beside them sat down and panted as well. "I can't walk either. Zodren, why don't you go up alone!" The girl said.

Zodren forced a smile and said, "Lovena, it's not far from the Flying Dragon Clan's main hall. We've already come this far, do you really want to give up like that?"

"Zodren, I don't want to give up either. It's just that I really can't walk anymore." She stiffly sat on a rock as she sweated profusely.

Elmon spoke up and said, "Zodren, you're the most powerful one out of the three of us. You have the best hope. Go on, don't let us slow you down."

Zodren's lips moved and he wanted to say something.

At that moment, he saw a figure coming towards them. The figure trod lightly and he was going forward at an extraordinary speed. He had just seen him about a hundred meters away but he had reached them in the blink of an eye.

"This guy is fast," Zodren sighed as his eyes lit up. He put out his hand to stop the figure and spoke, "Hey, wait a minute!"

Fade was walking when the other party suddenly stopped him. He instantly frowned and asked him coldly, "What do you want?"

Chapter 1880

Zodren raised his eyebrows and said, "I want you to do me a favor!"

Then, without waiting for Fade's agreement, he pointed at Elmon and Lovena who were lying by the side. He spoke to Fade and said, "They're my companions and they can't walk anymore. I see that you still have energy and you can walk quite fast. How about you carry my companions up the mountain?"

"When it's done, I'll give you ten thousand yuan!" Zodred confidently looked at him.

Fade looked at him like a fool when he heard this. He took a look at Zodren before turning to leave without a single word.

Zodren's face darkened when he saw this and he stepped forward once more. "Hey, I'm talking to you. Didn't you hear me?" He stopped Fade and said.

Fade glanced at him before replying coldly, "I'm not interested! Find somebody else."

"Oh, you can talk!" Zodren smiled before he looked at Fade brimming with confidence. "You feel that it's too little? I'll increase the price, twenty thousand yuan," he said.

Fade spoke coldly, "I said I'm not interested. I have something to do. You'd better not disturb me or I won't act politely."

"You're quite arrogant for a kid!" Zodren pouted, "Things were actually going to end like this. However, since you're so arrogant, I must make you stay and see what you're capable of!"

11:33

Fade frowned at this and he coldly looked at him, "I'd advise you not to look for trouble!"

"Brat, you..." Zodren was extremely arrogant.

Elmon, who was beside him, spoke up and said, "Zodren, let it go. I still have strength. I can walk by myself."

However, Lovena pouted and spoke, "Elmon, you can still walk but I, a girl, can't walk anymore."

Zodren immediately forced a smile when he heard this. He spoke to her and said, "Lovena, rest assured, I'll definitely bring you to the peak and get the Flying Dragon Clan's elixir."

Soon after that, he turned to look at Fade. His expression was proud and smugly said, "Name your price. How much do you want?"

Fade frowned and said, "I already said it. It's not about the money."

"Hehe, there isn't anything that can't be solved with money." Zodren sneered. "You still think it's too little! Name your own price!" He demanded once more.

Lovena spoke up as well. "I see that you're dressed in rags. Therefore, you're not from a rich family! You've come up the mountain so you're definitely here for the Flying Dragon Clan's elixirs or to be accepted as a disciple," she said.

"Since that's the case, I can tell you we know an outer steward of the Flying Dragon Clan. When the time comes, maybe one sentence from us could benefit you."

"Now you're willing to help, right!" Lovena looked at him proudly when she finished speaking. It was as if she had seen through him and felt that he would definitely agree.

However, she never expected him to laugh coldly when he heard her offer. "Elixirs? Accepting disciples? Let me tell you, I've come to the Flying Dragon Clan to kill someone!" He yelled.

"To kill someone!" Lovena's expression changed to one of shock.

Zodren, beside her, had an expression of disbelief. He pouted and sneered, "This is the Flying Dragon Clan. You've come here to kill someone, are you kidding? From my point of view, you won't even get the chance to attack and will be killed by the masters of the Flying Dragon Clan. Who do you want to kill?"

Fade snorted coldly, "I want to kill Fabrico!"

"Fabri..." Zodren chewed over the name and he suddenly remembered something as his face changed. His expression was even more exaggerated. "Fabrico Teng, the head of the Flying Dragon Clan? Did you say you've come to the Flying Dragon Clan to kill their head? What a joke," he sneered.

Fade didn't care about him. His face darkened as soon as he saw this. He took a step back and was about to leave.

However, Zodren stopped him. "Hey, I didn't let you leave. Who gave you permission to leave? Stop right there!" He demanded.

Fade's body shuddered and a wave of energy surged from him. The energy shocked Zodren as he stumbled and fell to the ground.

Fade then followed the mountain path and quickly went up the mountain.

"Brat, how dare you hit me. I..." Zodren was furious as he shouted while glaring at the mountain path. However, Fade's figure could no longer be seen.

Lovena helped him up. "I think that guy is a maniac. He actually said something about killing Master Teng. He's definitely courting death," she sneered.

As for Elmon, he was still staring at Fade's leaving figure. His face constantly changed as he mumbled, "Maybe... Maybe he's telling the truth. That man seemed familiar to me. I think I've previously seen him somewhere."

"Hehe! Elmon, even a stranger seems familiar to you. Isn't it too much of a coincidence!" Zodren sneered.

"I'm telling the truth, I feel as if I've seen him somewhere! I just can't remember it now..." Elmon tried hard to explain but Zodren and Lovena had expressions of disbelief. They were obviously not taking his words seriously.

Elmon shook his head and didn't say anything else. Instead, he got up and continued walking along the mountain path.

At the same time, the entrance of the Flying Dragon Clan main hall atop Flying Dragon Mount was crowded. It was bustling with people everywhere.

The members of the Flying Dragon Clan were preparing all kinds of elixirs and herbs. There were even examiners preparing for the selection of disciples.

On the other hand, other than those who came for the elixirs and disciple selection, there were a bunch of reporters with professional equipment taking pictures. Some reporters even interviewed the Flying Dragon Clan's disciples on various clan matters.

This change was overseen by Fabrico as a promotional event.

The Flying Dragon Clan had suffered heavy losses in the East Coast City disciple selection as a result of Fade's intrusion. Not only did they not manage to recruit a disciple, an elder of their clan was killed and they had lost their dignity. Many martial artists saw them as a joke.

As such, Fabrico published two videos with regards to the matter. It caused a heated discussion on the internet and it instantly became viral.

It skyrocketed the Flying Dragon Clan's fame and made them an internet sensation. It attracted many people to come to the Flying Dragon Clan for elixirs and disciple selection.

Having seen the benefits, Fabrico went further and directly invited professional media staff to fully broadcast today's event on the internet.

That day was the deadline that Fabrico had set for Fade to plead guilty. If Fade was to come, Fabrico would be able to kill him on the spot, showing his true strength and the power of the Flying Dragon Clan while repairing their damaged reputation.

If Fade didn't come, that day's event would go viral on the internet, increasing the Flying Dragon Clan's fame.

In short, broadcasting this event was a win-win situation for him.

There was a possibility of Fade arriving and defeating him in person. However, it seemed totally impossible. As such, Fabrico soon forgot about it.

As time went by, the number of people on the mountain increased. More and more online audiences began to watch the live stream.
