

Chapter 6 Generous Birthday Party

Inside the Imperial Room, Royal Court Club

Looking at the neon scene on the street outside, Maximilian stood in front of the large French window with his hands behind his body.

Behind him, stood Wilfred Collins, who was bending down and looked very respectful.

"What can I do for you, young master?" Wilfred inquired.

"On the 23rd of next month, it's my daughter's birthday. Make a reservation in Caesar Palace Hotel, and I want to hold a banquet with three hundred tables for the gentry in the city."

A light shone in Maximilian's eyes. He thought that he would fulfill gradually what he had promised Victoria.

This time, he wanted everyone in H City to know that Sissi was his daughter. And Victoria was his wife.

She was the wife of the young master of the Dragon Sect.

Also, the future Dragon Queen of the Dragon Sect.

When Wilfred heard this, he shuddered slightly and said, "Are you sure you want to do this, young master?"

Maximilian looked back at Wilfred and frowned as he asked, "Is it difficult?"

Wilfred smiled, "This is a piece of cake for the Dragon Sect. But the problem lies on the Dragon Queen now. If you act in such a high-profile manner, I'm afraid it will cause the Dragon Queen's displeasure."

The current wife of the Dragon Lord was a ruthlessness woman. Back then, when the young master and his mother were driven out of the Dragon Sect, even the Dragon Lord didn't dare to say anything, which was enough to see how mighty the Dragon Queen was.

Maximilian fell into silence then he said, "I won't care about this or change my requirements. so you have to manage it. If she has any discontent with me because of this, then I won't inherit the Dragon Sect, let alone to do anything for it."

After saying that, Maximilian waved his hand and left the Royal Court Club.

Wilfred bowed respectfully and watched Maximilian leave. It seemed that the young master had changed and become a bit stronger.

Wilfred's black gold cane stroke on the ground, then there came a tall and sexy woman, who was swaying her hip in the doorway.

The woman, wearing a fiery red dress slit to the thighs, with her hair coiled, was extremely charming, and she could win a man's soul with a single smile.

"Wilfred." The woman spoke up with her sweet and sexy voice.

Wilfred ordered,"Do as the young master wishes."

"Yes, Wilfred."

The woman turned around and left the chamber.

The following day, a big news circulated in H City. Everyone in H City was talking about it.

Last night, a mysteriously wealthy man spent a lot of money to make reservation in the Caesar Palace for the whole day on 23rd next month!

As a six-star hotel, Caesar Palace was the most luxurious hotel in H City!

It would cost at least a million dollars for a night!

The mysterious tycoon had ordered Caesars Palace for an entire day, and according to the preliminary estimation, it would cost at least 50 million dollars! And that was just the cost of the venue!

After then, there was another news. The mysterious tycoon who had ordered Caesars Palace was doing so for the birthday of his three-year-old daughter.

With this news, everyone in H City was in shock once again! He was too rich!

Who was the guy! He should spend so much for his daughter's birthday.

For a while, the whole H City was talking about it.

And naturally, there was discussion about it in the Griffith company.

Early in the morning, the employees in the company started a heated discussion.

"Did you guys hear about it? One mysterious rich man has made a reservation in Caesar Palace Hotel for 50 million dollars!"

"I've known about it for a long time. It's said that it's for his daughter's birthday. He is too rich and his daughter is like a little princess!"

"Many people are looking forward to that day on 23rd next month. I heard that three hundred tables of people were invited to the banquet. So if you do the counting in this way, it will cost at least hundreds of millions dollars!"

A group of gossiping employees haven't stopped discussing it all morning.

"If I have the correct memory, it seems that the birthday of Victoria's daughter is also on 23rd, right?"

Someone suddenly mentioned it.

At once, all the employees were silent.

"No way, could it be that it's Victoria who made the reservation in the Caesar Palace?"

"No, you know Victoria's position in the Griffith Family. I might believe you if you say the rich man is Samuel."

"Cut the crap. I've heard that the person who ordered Caesar Palace this

A group of gossiping employees haven't stopped discussing it all morning.

"If I have the correct memory, it seems that the birthday of Victoria's daughter is also on 23rd, right?"

Someone suddenly mentioned it.

At once, all the employees were silent.

"No way, could it be that it's Victoria who made the reservation in the Caesar Palace?"

"No, you know Victoria's position in the Griffith Family. I might believe you if you say the rich man is Samuel."

"Cut the crap. I've heard that the person who ordered Caesar Palace this time is not from the Griffith Family."

Just as everyone was talking about it, Victoria walked into the company and passed through the office.

She wore a slim white shirt and a black professional sheath skirt, with black stockings wrapped around her straight, slender calves. And she put on light makeup and wore a ponytail, which made her look capable and adroit

However, as soon as she entered the office, she felt the strange looks from the employees.

Victoria had also heard about the news. Having glanced at the eyes stared at her, she walked into her office quickly.

Once she got into the office, she closed the door as if she was fleeing from a famine-stricken area. Then she leaned her back against the door, looked helpless.

She wanted to know who, exactly, ordered Caesars Palace on 23rd next month and made her a target again.

Victoria was quite angry. Was the person deliberately putting her into trouble?

It was on 23rd next month.

After working for a while, Franklin walked in, sat on the sofa directly, looked at Victoria who was burying her head in her work, and sneered.

"Victoria, I guess that you've heard that someone ordered the entire Caesar Palace for his daughter's birthday on 23rd next month."

Victoria didn't pay any attention to Franklin and continued tapping on the keyboard.

Franklin chuckled twice and said,

"Oh, it's ridiculous that someone's daughter spend her birthdays at Caesar Palace on the same 23rd, while others' daughter is stuck in the hospital bed

Suddenly, Victoria's tapping on the keyboard stopped and she said to Franklin with a cold face,

"If you have nothing else to do, please go out."

Franklin shrugged his shoulders, as if he was saying what can you do to me.

"Well, are you pissed off? But who's to blame for that? As the father of a child, someone else celebrate their daughter's birthday with the whole city taking part in, but what about Maximilian?

He doesn't even have the qualifications to celebrate Sissi's birthday properly, right?"

"Get out!" Victoria's face eventually went cold completely then she pointed at the door and shouted.

Franklin got up, and announced, "Victoria, the day after tomorrow is the mid-year summary of the Griffith company. I will drive you out of the company this time!"

After saying that, Franklin put his hands in his trouser pockets and left humming a tune.

After Franklin left, tears fell from Victoria's red eyes. She wiped it and took some deep breaths, and continued to bury her head in the program.

But the more she did it, the more she was agitated! For four years, she could put up with people laughing at her. But she couldn't stand the irony to her daughter.

Finally, smashing the keyboard a little, she buried her head on the desk and huffed for a while. Then she raised her weeping face, taking out her phone and sent Maximilian a short message,

"Maximilian, where are you! I want to see you! Now!"

It was because of him that even Sissy was going to be the laughing stock in others' eyes.

She was only three years old.

Maximilian was at work at the moment. He received the short message when he had just sent off a few rich women who had come to do bodybuilding, and he was a little surprised as he saw the text.

Who made his wife angry again?

"I'm at work. What's wrong with you? I'll be right over to you." Maximilian answered, and after speaking to the foreman Bonnie, Maximilian got on his electromobile and rushed to the Griffith company.

Maximilian just parked his electromobile downstairs of the company, someone walked towards him, with a puff of coldness.

Pop! With red eyes, Victoria slapped Maximilian's face, and then said with sobbing,

"It's all because of you. Why are you Sissi's father? Why are you my husband?"

Faced with Victoria's hysteria, Maximilian froze.

"Victoria, what's going on?" Maximilian asked.

Wiping the tears on her face, Victoria looked coldly at Maximilian and asked,

"Don't you know that yet? Do you know what day the 23rd is?"

"I know. It's Sissy's birthday."

Maximilian replied.

"So do you know what happened in H City today? Everyone was laughing at me and Sissy.

It's also the birthday on 23rd, someone made the reservation in Caesar Palace for the whole day, while you, Maximilian, don't even have the qualifications to celebrate Sissy's birthday!"

Victoria couldn't stand anymore, and then she squatted, crying, "Sissi is only three years old, and why she has to endure the criticism and cold eyes."

Maximilian stood still and looked at Victoria, then he understood.

He clenched his fist and said, "Victoria, do you know who made the reservation in Caesar Palace?"

Victoria raised her eyebrows, got up and looked at Maximilian coldly, saying, "Who? Is that you?"

Chapter 7 You Were not Worthy of it

Looking at Victoria's sad face, Maximilian felt quite uncomfortable, then he agreed,

"That's right. The man who ordered Caesar Palace is....."

Suddenly, a loud shout of a bright male voice beside interrupted Maximilian's words.

"Victoria, there you are. I've been looking for you for ages."

Then a handsome man ran towards them, who dressed in a decent white suit, with a large bouquet of red roses in his hands.

Travis Hart, the young master of Hart Family, was also a second generation rich owning tens of millions of dollars, and ran small company of his own. He was considered as a young talent in H City.

Travis was Victoria's crazy suitor. Even though Victoria was married, he still sent gifts to Victoria or treated her meals from time to time.

However, Victoria refused him every time.

"Victoria, it's for you. I just bought it."

Travis handed the large bouquet of roses in his hand to Victoria, who wiped her tears and smiled, "Thank you, but I can't accept it."

As she spoke, her eyes fixed on Maximilian. When did he ever give her flowers during the four years?

Yeah, it was just a bouquet of flowers, but Maximilian didn't even buy one for Victoria.

Only then did Travis notice

Maximilian, then his face turned ghastly and he sneered,

"Well, it is Maximilian."

How could the wimp that everyone in H City knew about have the qualification to marry a heavenly beauty like Victoria.

Travis's heart was full of hatred for Maximilian.

Maximilian's eyebrows were slightly furrowed, then he glanced at Travis and said,

"Send flowers to my wife again?"

Travis tugged on his tie, and the corner of his mouth curled slightly as he arrogantly responded,

"What are you trying to say? One day, I'll impress Victoria, and you, you don't deserve to be with her."

With that, he turned around and, took out a small, high-grade chamber from his arms like performing conjuring tricks. He opened it, and inside was a diamond-encrusted necklace.

"Victoria, this is the new collection of Cartier, the Heavenly Fairy Star Diamond Collection. But now I can just afford to buy one of the cheapest among them for six hundred thousand dollars.

When I make more money, I'll be sure to buy you the most expensive one, Hundred Flower Fairy for thirty million dollars."

Travis said it sincerely, and he looked at Maximilian with condescending eyes after he finished.

Even if Travis was not capable enough now, he could buy this necklace for six hundred thousand dollars at least!

But what about Maximilian? He couldn't afford it in a lifetime!

Victoria was a little embarrassed then she said, "Travis, thank you for your kindness, but, I can't accept it, since this..... is too expensive."

Victoria had also heard of Cartier's new diamond necklaces, the Heavenly Fairy Star Diamond Collection, especially the top luxuriously designed Hundred Flower Fairy Diamond Necklace, containing 207 diamonds, which was a cascading diamond necklace. It was of high quality beyond question since it made up of high quality white diamonds, most of which are pear-shaped, and all set in platinum.

Well, women were all interested in that.

The Hundred Flower Fairy Diamond Necklace had been speculated to a high price of thirty million dollars and it was just one hundred pieces per year.

Most of the people who bought this one were from rich and powerful family. What's more, it also required some qualifications to buy it.

That was, a Silver membership with Cartier.

To gain the Silver membership, someone needed to spend 5 million dollars at Cartier!

That was no small number.

Seeing that Victoria had refused, Travis was a bit embarrassed and lost, then he said, "Victoria, I..."

At this moment, Maximilian came up to hold Victoria's hand and stood in front of her, and said to Travis, "My wife doesn't need anything from anyone. If she likes this necklace, I can buy it for her."

Hearing this, Travis was like a cat whose tail had been stepped on, then he exclaimed,

"What do you say? Can you afford one? Maximilian, are you kidding me? You don't know who you are? I'm afraid you can't even afford the one I'm holding which is worth six hundred thousand dollars!"

Maximilian smiled and turned to look at Victoria, then he asked her in a soft voice, "Do you like the Hundred Flower Fairy Diamond Necklace?"

Victoria was stunned, then raised her eyebrows and her hazy eyes fixed on Maximilian. Her pink lips trembled slightly, and she shook her head in a hurry and said, "I don't like it. Let's go."

But the look in her eyes and her hesitation had indicated her inner thoughts.

All women love beauty and diamonds.

That expensive diamond necklace could make her outstanding in the city.

It could even make her the center of attention at the mid-year banquet of the Griffiths two days later!

In this way, perhaps they could win back Samuel's favor and their branch of Griffith wouldn't fall out of favor.

Then, it would also be possible to gain more power for Maximilian. Victoria thought so.

Holding Victoria's soft and cold hand, Maximilian smiled, and then left.

Seeing the two leaving, Travis dropped the roses in his hand with anger and cursed,

"Fuck! Maximilian, what the fuck are you proud of yourself? I will get Victoria one day sooner or later!"

With her eyes back on Maximilian, Victoria shook off his hand and said indifferently, "Well, he has left. You can let me go."

Maximilian giggled and said to Victoria in a serious tone,

"Victoria, wait for me. I will give you and Sissi an unforgettable birthday this time."

Hearing this, Victoria's heart palpitated, "What are you talking about? Grandpa would never approve of you going over for Sissy's birthday. Forget it, I shouldn't have been mad at you. You go home first and I'll go back to work."

Saying that, Victoria turned around and walked into the company with a graceful posture.

Maximilian stood in the doorway, looking at the back of Victoria, who had a good figure and was considered a goddess by many people.

Then he rode his electromobile for the nearby Cartier.

He was going to buy Victoria the Hundred Flower Fairy Diamond Necklace.

Because he had promised her.

Since she liked it, Maximilian would buy it for her, even if it was the moon in the sky!

It didn't take long for Maximilian to arrive at a Cartier store in a nearby shopping mall.

As soon as he entered, Maximilian felt the luxury of the place.

There were various rings, bracelets and necklaces from the diamond collection, as well as the platinum collection.

"Hello sir, what do you need?"

There came a female sales assistant in a black professional sheath dress, tall and elegant, always with a smile on her face as she spoke.

Maximilian looked around and said, "Just look around."

"Yes, sir." When she said that, the female sales assistant kept following Maximilian. Whenever he looked at one, she would give him an introduction.

Then after over ten minutes, Maximilian didn't say what he'd like to buy.

Some female sales assistant beside frowned and discussed it in a low voice.

One of the female sales assistant, with an air of condescension, walked up to Maximilian with her arms around her chest and asked with an unfriendly expression,

"Gentleman, you've been looking around for almost twenty minutes. Do you really want to buy something? Don't make fun of Sapphire."

While speaking, the female sales assistant dragged the one beside Maximilian, who had been watching with him for ten minutes, and rebuked her,

"You are just too ignorant to realize a guy like him cannot afford to buy any of our products."

Then the condescending female sales assistant looked up and down at Maximilian, and commented,

"Look, the sweatshirt and pants he's wearing are all from street stands, and his shoes are fake brand, and everything things on his whole body in total was worth no more than three hundred dollars. How can such a guy can afford our products?

You should learn more from others in the future to be observant, got it?"

The sales assistant named Sapphire bit her red lips and looked at Maximilian. She wanted to say something but she just nodded eventually and answered,

"I know, Vanessa."

Maximilian looked at his clothes, and then he realized it was indeed a bit out of place in such a luxury boutique.

He smiled, and said without caring about it,

"Excuse me, I'd like to see the Hundred Flower Fairy Diamond Necklace."

LOL! Hearing his words, the six sales assistants in the store were all dumbfounded!

"What did you say? You want to see the Hundred Flower Fairy Diamond Necklace? Sir, do you know how much that necklace is now? Can you afford one?"

Vanessa said with her words full of disdain.

She thought it was a joke that Maximilian wanted to see the Hundred Flower Fairy Diamond Necklace!

That's a top-of-the-line necklace that cost over 30 million dollars! There was not a single one sold yet in H City! How can this poor guy buy it?

Maximilian smiled and asked, "I'm the guest after all. Can I see it?"

Vanessa frowned. Their company had rules that they could not to drive away guests, let alone judge their clothing and possessions at will.

Today, Vanessa had violated the rules apparently. But, in this store, no one would snitch or do anything.

Suddenly, a sneering voice came from the doorway, "Yoo-hoo, Maximilian, you dare to come here."

Following the sound, Maximilian saw Travis, who wore a smug and arrogant expression, walked in.

Chapter 8 Whose Name would He Keep

As soon as Travis entered, he looked at Maximilian with sarcasm. How dare the poor guy come to Cartier?

Maximilian frowned slightly, and chose not to pay attention to Travis.

Seeing Maximilian ignore him, Travis was annoyed immediately. Then he walked over and said with coldness, "Well, how dare you come to buy these luxurious jewellery?"

Maximilian said indifferently, "Why shouldn't I be able to see it since it is open for business?"

Huh. Travis sneered,

"Because you're poor. This is Cartier, whose necklaces and diamond rings cost tens of thousands dollars at least.

Do you think you can afford it?"

He was a poor guy, and how dared he pretend to be rich in front of Travis. He didn't even realize his own status!

Maximilian was silent as he wondered if he should show his strength in front of Travis.

And at the same time, that arrogant sales assistant who looked down on Maximilian walked to Travis and said softly with a complimentary smile, "Here you are, Mr. Travis. May I help you?"

Vanessa flattered Travis, as he was a gentry who owned tens of millions of dollars.

No single sales assistant or single woman would not like such a man.

Besides, Travis had bought a Heavenly Fairy Star Diamond Necklace

this morning.

So what a difference between him and Maximilian, who was standing there like a log!

Travis gave a middle finger to Maximilian, and then he said to Vanessa, "I'm coming for the Hundred Flower Fairy Diamond Necklace."

He just couldn't believe that Victoria wouldn't like the necklace. The necklace was the dream of all women!

Upon hearing this, Vanessa and several sales assistants were all shocked and excited, then she said,

"Okay. Mr. Travis, please wait for a moment. We don't have the necklace here, and it is at the headquarter. We will deliver it right now."

She would be rich soon! Travis wanted to see the Hundred Flower Fairy Diamond Necklace, so he would buy it to a large extent. If the first Hundred Flower Fairy Diamond Necklace in H City was sold by themselves, they would not only gain that fame but earn at least a hundred thousand dollars as commission!

Vanessa immediately took out her cell phone and dialed the number of the headquarter.

A few minutes later, Vanessa invited Travis to sit in the shop's VIP lounge area warmly, kneeling to make a cup of good tea,

"Mr. Travis, please wait for a moment."

It was at this moment that Maximilian felt a little angry. He also wanted to see the Hundred Flower Fairy Diamond Necklace, but he was left behind by the sales assistants.

On the contrary, Travis who came later than him was served as VIP.

"I'm also here to see the Hundred Flower Fairy Diamond Necklace. Why do I get no one serving me?" Maximilian said coldly.

He had never liked to be angry, but now, he was a little disgusted.

"Ha!" With a sudden loud laugh and a mocking tone, Travis got up and looked at Maximilian with contempt, then he asked Vanessa beside him,

"He also came to see the Hundred Flower Fairy Diamond Necklace?"

Then Vanessa, with an apologetic look on her face, nodded and said, "Yes, Mr. Travis."

Travis snorted coldly, tugged at his suit, and said arrogantly,

"Someone like him deserves to see it? You know, I'm the VIP who can afford this necklace. Since I'm the VIP, I don't want to be bothered by a dog."

Vanessa understood in a second and immediately bent down to apologize,

"Don't worry, Mr. Travis. I'll drive him away immediately!"

When she said that, she stared at Maximilian with cold and unkind eyes, and said in a malicious tone, "Get out, you're not welcome here!"

If Vanessa offended Travis because of this poor man, then she would regret it bitterly!

However, Maximilian stood still and did not move.

Vanessa was anxious and was about to ask the security guards when Travis suddenly reached out and said,

"Forget it, since he wants to see it, then let him be. After all, a poor guy probably won't see it for the rest of his life."

Well, let Maximilian recognize how expensive the Hundred Flower Fairy Diamond Necklace was. In that case, Maximilian would know the gap between them, and then he would retreat from the difficulties.

After waiting for a few minutes, Travis got a little impatient and said,

"Why hasn't it been delivered yet? I don't have much time, since I have an important meeting to attend later."

"Mr. Travis, it's already on its way. Please wait for a minute" Vanessa was anxious, too.

On the contrary, Maximilian was not anxious at all, since he had taken off this afternoon.

After waiting for another ten minutes, Travis couldn't stand and then his phone rang, "Hey, Dad. Okay, I got it. I'll be there right now."

Hanging up the phone, Travis's face was ghastly, and then he said to Vanessa, "I'll come back tomorrow."

After saying that, he glanced at Maximilian coldly and left.

Vanessa was also anxious and she went out, shouting, "Mr. Travis, please wait five more minutes."

However, Travis got straight into the car.

There was an emergency meeting at the company and he had to get back in time.

In the shop, Vanessa turned back to the shop in frustration, and then she scolded and abused Maximilian.

And this scene was also captured by Travis in the car. He spent a minute on taking the interesting video.

He thought Maximilian was such a wimp. What a disgrace to men he was!

Then he took the advantage of his relationship with Griffith company and posted the video into the WeChat group of the employees.

And over here, Maximilian who was abused by Vanessa, smiled.

He thought it can cultivate himself by not getting angry with others.

At the same time, a man came in a hurry, clutching a chamber which looked like high-grade and expensive. And there were four security guards behind him to escort the goods.

As soon as he entered, he shouted,
"We were caught in a traffic jam and late for a few minutes. Where are the guests?"

Vanessa showed an unhappy expression and grunted,

"Gone."

The man making the delivery was surprised, clutching the chamber in his hand, and asked,

"So what shall I do? I send it back again?"

"Or what? We can't keep such a valuable here if there was something wrong in our shop."

Vanessa said.

But then, an untimely voice sounded, "I'll take it."

Swish! Everyone looked at the direction of the sound and their eyes all fixed on the unimpressive Maximilian.

wearing a black suit with a sturdy figure walked in.

As soon as he entered, he stood respectfully in front of Maximilian with his hands in white gloves. Then he handed a black card with gold trim to Maximilian!

"Young master, here's what you need."

The man said respectfully.

Young master? The scene and the appellation made the sales assistants shocked!

And the man who delivered the goods, looked back, then he was so frightened that he almost didn't stand still!

"A..... Supreme Black Card!"

The man took a breath and his eyes were filled with horror!

eligible to buy it now?"

Vanessa trembled then she bent down to answer him immediately with respect,

"Yes..... yes....." She was screwed!

Vanessa had offended a client with a supreme black card!

She must take remedial actions! So she immediately cracked a smile and flattered, him

"Sir, would you please....."

As a result, Maximilian directly shook his head to interrupt her words, then he raised his hand, pointing at Sapphire who was still a bit shocked behind the crowd, and said,

"You do it."

"Ah? Well..."

Sapphire walked to Maximilian timidly, and then checked in for him.

The one who owned the black card did not need complicated formalities.

Five minutes later.

"Congratulations to Mr. Maximilian for buying the first Hundred Flower Fairy Diamond Necklace in H City."

Everyone in the store were giving him warmed congratulations.

Maximilian said directly, "Send it to the Yunsheng Pharmaceutical of the Griffith Family."

Sapphire nodded, then she asked, "Keep the signature with Maximilian?"

Chapter 9 Doing Whatever He Could to Achieve His Goal

Whose name would he keep?

Maximilian thought about it and said,

"Please just deliver the word that someone will give her a lifetime prosperity and make her the happiest woman in the world."

Hearing these words, Sapphire was touched a lot.

Maximilian was so nice to that woman who was so happy to be his wife!

After saying that, Maximilian left with the admiring and adoring eyes of the crowd.

Vanessa didn't rush to Sapphire until Maximilian had left, then she flattered Sapphire,

"Sapphire, please take me along. I want to see what Mr. Maximilian's wife is like, and he should buy her this necklace. I guess she must be a heavenly fairy woman."

Sapphire smiled and said, "I was just about to ask you to come with me."

Then they left in pairs.

At this moment, all employees of Yunsheng Pharmaceutical were discussing the a video heatedly.

The video was none other than the image of Maximilian being reprimanded by the sales assistant at the Cartier Bountique. Maximilian in the video looked humble and poor.

"Damn! Victoria's husband is too much of a poor guy."

"A great laugh! A wimp like him should go to Cartier."

"Yes, he's a disgrace Victoria is so unlucky to marry such a loser."

Such voices could be heard all around the company. Maximilian was more notorious instantly in the Griffith company.

Victoria walked in through the front door at this moment and she frowned when she saw the messy scene.

She walked to an employee, and then she saw the video. She felt quite embarrassed and her face got ghastly.

"Vic..... toria."

Someone found Victoria and called her. Then the crowd dispersed in a hurry, returning to their position.

Victoria's face turned so red and she wanted to find a crack in the ground to hide herself.

Maximilian! Maximilian again!

Why did he keep embarrassing her!
Victoria stomped her foot and walk towards her office.

But, suddenly, two women in professional suits came up to the reception and shouted,

"Excuse me, who is Miss Victoria?
There is a delivery for you here."

Only now did Sapphire realize that it was Victoria Griffith that the necklace was to be delivered.

Then Maximilian, the famous wimp of H City bought the necklace?

But how could he be a loser since he could afford such an expensive necklace?

At this moment, seeing the high-class and exquisite chamberes they were holding, the employees burst out!

Were they the employees of Cartier?

Besides, the chamberes they were holding were set with gold trim and small particles of diamonds, which was so sparkly.

"Wow, the chamber is worth a fortune!

I can't believe it's gold trim and fine diamonds!"

"Victoria, it's your delivery. Who send it for you? It seems to be worth a lot!"

"Yes, Victoria. Open it and take a look. It is delivered by the employee of Cartier, so it must be worth a lot!"

Then there were noise and excitement among the crowd, and some had already taken out their phones and started recording videos.

Victoria was usually genial in the company, so everyone treated her as if she was a friend.

Victoria was also perplexed at the moment, wondering who would send something to her.

And it looked like something expensive.

She stepped forward and made sure it was for her before carefully opening it in front of the crowd.

The moment the chamber was opened, the entire office seemed to be filled with the sparkling glow of diamonds!

Everyone, at that moment, was all wide-eyed and open-mouthed with shock and envy!

After long-time silence, there was a heated discussion in the office!

"This..... is the Hundred Flower Fairy Diamond Necklace?!"

"Oh my God! This Necklace is limited version, which costs over 30 million dollars!

And it requires more than just money to buy it!

This must be the first one in H City....."

"How extravagant it is, embedded with so many diamonds! Victoria, you're too lucky..... Who sent it?"

The entire office was in an uproar. Many women were envious and men were lowering their heads and sighing. It was too extravagant! Who could it be from?

Victoria was also astonished. She looked at the necklace in front of her, which she had learned about last time. but she didn't want to buy it on account of their financial status, and she just looked at it several times in the store.

"Excuse me. Who asks you to send this necklace?" Victoria realized it and asked anxiously.

It was too expensive for her to take!

However, Sapphire bowed slightly and smiled, saying, "Miss Victoria, we are not at liberty to disclose this, but he asked me to bring you a message that he would give you a lifetime prosperity and make you the happiest woman in the world."

After saying that, Sapphire and Vanessa turned around and left.

Everyone in the office was silent, while the female employees were all envious.

"Victoria, you're so lucky! Is it from some noble man who has a crush on you?"

"Yes, Victoria. The words that he would give you a lifetime prosperity and make you the happiest woman in the world melt my heart. How nice it would be if it was given to me."

When Victoria heard this, she was also moved, and she even thought of Maximilian.

However, she dispelled the thought quickly.

Could it be Travis?

Meanwhile, the event soon reached Franklin's ears.

"What? Someone gave Victoria the Hundred Flower Fairy Diamond Necklace?"

"How could it be possible?"

Victoria was in the vice president's office, her face ghastly and looked agitated.

Thirty million dollars!

How extravagant it was! It was the first Hundred Flower Fairy Diamond Necklace being sold out!

Even he, Franklin, didn't have the gumption to do so.

"Franklin, you have heard it. What should we do now?"

At this time, the office door was opened and Iris, who was dressed in a cool and fashionable outfit, barged in.

She wore a red bare midriff and a black leather skirt, which highlighted her white, slender waist and a pair of white legs to perfection.

Franklin glanced at her and said with an unhappy face,

"What a good tactic Victoria has. Which rich young man has she leaned on?"

The day after tomorrow was Griffith's mid-year summary meeting and the Griffith's banquet, so Franklin would not allow Victoria to be a surprise hit!

"Do you think it could be Lewis family that gave that little bastard the medical equipment at the hospital last time?"

Iris asked suspiciously.

Franklin paced back and forth and said, "It's possible. I didn't expect that Victoria is actually such kind of disloyalty woman! She is cheating!"

A coldness flashed at the corner of Iris's eyes as she sneered,

"How about we tell Maximilian, the wimp? His wife is blatantly cheating on him. I'm afraid he's going to be quite angry to vomit blood when he finds out."

"Yeah, let's tell Maximilian." Franklin said, then he sent a message to tell Maximilian about this matter. And then, he sat on the couch, "For this mid-year party, we definitely can't let Victoria steal the limelight. We have to find a way to make grandpa completely disappointed with her and make her lose face at the party the day after tomorrow."

Iris nodded and responded,

"That's right. Griffith doesn't need a member like Victoria at all. It's enough to have me and you."

Franklin smiled and had an eye contact with Iris,

"By the way, investigate about the Lewis family and get more details."

Maximilian had received the text message from Franklin, and deleted it after glancing at it.

Inside the conference room, Yunsheng Pharmaceutical Company of the Griffith family.

Samuel was sitting in the chairman's seat, with a butler standing next to him.

"Grandpa, the company's performance has been terrible lately. I've looked into it and found that there are serious problems in Victoria's marketing department. She has to be responsible for the loss due to lack of big orders for over three months."

Franklin launched an attack against Victoria directly, and stared at Victoria with a cold smile at the corner of his mouth.

"Oh, I think she is just not capable of that position, and she might as well quit and go home to take care of her daughter, in order not to hinder Yunsheng Pharmaceutical."

Iris sat down and glanced at Victoria with disdain, then continued to manicure her nails.

Franklin stood up at this moment, walked to Victoria, pressed her delicate shoulder, and said.

"Victoria, if I were you, I would have resigned a long time ago. How dare you continue to lead the team in the company since your marketing department has such a terrible performance?"

Or you want our Yunsheng Pharmaceutical to lose money?"

In order to suppress Victoria and make her a fool of herself at the party the day after tomorrow, Franklin was doing whatever he could to achieve it at this moment!

"Grandpa!" Victoria got anxious and tried to explain, "The recent decline in Marketing performance is due to....."

What else could it be because of?

The marketing department was not performing well and several old clients had all left.

Victoria had had someone secretly inquire about all of this, and found that it was caused by Franklin!

As a result, Samuel directly raised his hand to interrupt Victoria's words and said with a cold face,

"Victoria, don't explain. If you want to continue to serve as the director of the marketing department, prove with practical actions that you have the ability to do so, instead of shirking your responsibilities!"

Franklin smiled and said,

"Grandpa is right. Now there's a new Graham Medical Equipment Group in H

City, which a big listed company. If we can have a cooperation with it, we will gain the order which is worth 50 million dollars!"

"Really?" Samuel was excited at the moment!

An order which was worth 50 million dollars could be equivalent to Griffith's business for a year. Franklin smiled and said,

"Really, grandpa. The Graham Group is one of the largest companies in our country. I just heard the news that they are recently looking for a powerful pharmaceutical company in H City for cooperation. Why not let Victoria have a try? As long as she can get the cooperation with Graham Group, she can make up for her mistakes made earlier. If not, I think, there is no need for her to hold the position as the director, and she may as well get out as early as possible."

Samuel nodded and looked at Victoria, "Victoria, what do you think?"

Victoria bit her red lips and was panic. Griffith was only a second-rate family in H City, and it's pharmaceutical company ranked just outside the top ten in H City. It did not have enough strength to cooperate with a large group like Graham Group.

Victoria had noticed the Graham Group earlier before, so she was clear that they were not qualified to cooperate with Graham Group at all!

Because, Graham Group had already selected the top three pharmaceutical companies in H City and were in the negotiation stage.

"Victoria, are you scared? That's fine, you can just announce your resignation now."

Franklin sneered and satirized.

Iris also followed on the side and said.

"Victoria, if I were you, I wouldn't continue to sit here if I didn't have such ability."

Victoria clenched her fist tightly. She knew that the task was impossible to complete, and this was Franklin's means of suppressing her.

So, after a moment's hesitation, she got up and said, "Grandpa, I've decided to resign from....."

But, suddenly! Just as Victoria was being treated coldly by the crowd, a discordant voice sounded,

"Victoria, promise him!" Hearing the sound, the crowd saw Maximilian who was expressionless, standing in the doorway of the conference room.

"Maximilian?!" Victoria watched Maximilian walking towards her with a smile on his face.

Chapter 10 Pride and Honor

The appearance of Maximilian made the faces of all members of Griffith in the conference room ghastly.

"Maximilian? How did you get in here? Don't you know where this is?

Get the hell out of here right now!"

Franklin instantly pointed at Maximilian and shouted angrily.

This piece of shit who was nothing was unqualified to be in the Griffith company!

Even less qualified to be in this room!

"How did he, the wimp, get in here. Isn't it a disgrace?"

"Yeah, he should let Victoria agree it. He is actually getting Victoria into trouble. Such a stupid man."

"How dare he boss around here."

For a while, relatives of Griffith as well as the company's senior executives were finding fault with Maximilian in the conference room and their words were filled with contempt and disdain.

"Why are you here?" Victoria was a bit panicked at the moment, but she was even more angry than that. Maximilian shouldn't have come.

However, he wore a gentle smile as he walked towards Victoria.

He had never given her anything and never helped her during the past four years.

Everyone despised him, while Victoria was the only one who stayed by his side.

Even if Victoria was harsh with him and was angry with him, Maximilian didn't take it seriously.

Because Victoria was his wife, who was also his past and future.

He used to be useless and put Victoria under attack.

He would inherit the Dragon Sect and give Victoria a lifetime prosperity.

Maximilian stepped forward and stood beside Victoria, saying seriously,

"Victoria, promise him the collaboration. It would be yours!"

Looking at Maximilian's determined eyes, Victoria was into a trance for a while. She felt it seemed that Maximilian had really changed and what he said would come true.

"Haha! It's a real cracker. What did you say?"

Maximilian, what do you think this place is?

This is the Griffith company. You can't just blabber on about here!

Get the hell out of here!"

Franklin said angrily.

Maximilian never had a place in the Griffith family. How dare he come to the company and tell them what to do?

"Grandpa, look at Maximilian! He dares to meddle in the affairs of our Griffith company."

Iris also wore a cold face at the moment and she would like to kill Maximilian with her slanted black eyes.

Samuel's face got ghastly and he looked at Maximilian with great displeasure as he said in a cold voice,

"Get out!"

As a man outside their family, who had disgraced Griffith in H City should not meddle in the affairs of the Griffith company.

What was his intention? Want to encroach on the assets of the Griffiths?

However, Maximilian ignored Samuel, but he looked at Victoria seriously, holding her delicate hand and saying, "Trust me."

It was his words that made Victoria have an impulse to turn around and she said to Samuel,

"Grandpa, I promise you."

Saying that, she turned around and stared at Franklin with an arrogant and icy eyes.

"Franklin, don't you just want to drive me out of Yunsheng Pharmaceutical? Fine, I promise you. If I can't get the cooperation of Graham Group, I will resign!"

"Victoria, think it carefully. It can be about your own development, as well as the development of our Griffith in the next few years."

Samuel said,

Victoria responded with determination, "I've made the decision."

Hearing her words, a cruel sneer appeared at the corner of Franklin's mouth as he said,

"Well. Victoria, you have promised and everyone present today can testify for you. Then don't back out."

"Certainly not. But if I take the cooperation with Graham Group, what about you, Franklin?"

Victoria asked suddenly, as if she was confident.

She didn't know why she suddenly said that. Perhaps it was the courage and confidence that Maximilian had given her.

One must live with dignity.

"As long as you can take the cooperation with Graham Group, I won't compete with you the position of vice president in the company, and you just take it!"

Franklin laughed coldly, and his eyes were full of tease.

She just asked for the moon that she should want to take the cooperation of Graham Group!

"OK!" Victoria agreed, then she held Maximilian and left the conference room directly.

It was only after they had left that a heated discussion broke out in the room.

"Victoria really overestimated her strength that she wants to cooperate with Graham Group. I'm afraid that she will have to resign this time."

"It is because of Maximilian who interferes with it. What a good husband he is."

"He is just a god-for-nothing who thinks he's capable of something. I'd like to see how he can help Victoria get the contract."

Samuel wore a cold face, and then he knocked the cane in his hand and said, "All right, the meeting is over!"

Victoria and Maximilian returned home.

Laura, Maximilian's mother-in-law, suddenly rushed up and gave him a slap, scolding him,

"Why did you go to the office today? And how dare you dare make agree to a bet with Franklin? You're pushing Victoria into the fire!"

Maximilian froze and was just about to open his mouth to explain, when Laura continued to chastise him, "Get out."

Maximilian had no way but went into the kitchen to clean up the dishes.

Victoria looked at Maximilian's forlorn back and grumble.

"Mom, what are you doing? It was me who agreed to it, and it has nothing to do with Maximilian."

"How it's possible? Do you think I'm stupid? I've heard all about it that he barged into the conference room and made you say yes, and now you're defending him?"

Laura was so angry that she gritted her teeth and wanted to smack Maximilian!

Looking at him busy in the kitchen.
Yuck, a lifelong worthless crap!

Are you out of your mind? How dare you follow the advice of that punk!"

Laura reprimanded, poking Victoria's forehead.

Victoria was also sad. She was just so angry at that moment, and Maximilian encouraged her to do so, so she had agreed.

But, now after thinking it over, she found that it was completely self-defeating.

How could Graham Group possibly work with Griffith?

"Mom, please leave me alone for a minute."

Victoria went into the bedroom and snapped the door.

Laura stomped her foot in anger.

Glared at Marcus who was still reading the newspaper on the sofa, she scolded, "You just have been reading newspaper all the day. Our daughter is about to be thrown out of the company and our family will become poor soon!"

Marcus moaned and said,

"Don't be so anxious. Things will eventually sort themselves out. Let the young people settle their own affairs. Besides, it's not likely that our daughter can't live without the company."

"What are you babbling about? Could it be that you don't want the old man's family fortune anymore?"

When Laura heard this, she became anxious and angry, "Marcus, we've been married for so many years and all we have is this small house with just three rooms. While both your elder and younger brothers live in villas!

How could you are like the wimp Maximilian, who don't fight for anything. It really pisses me off!"

After saying that, Laura went up to hit him, and Marcus had to passively defend, then he said, "Stop it! I'm wrong, is that okay?"

A moment later, Maximilian walked into the bedroom holding the water for washing feet. Looking at Victoria lying on the bed, he said softly, "Victoria, I've got hot water for you."

Victoria got up, whose eyes were red. She looked at Maximilian, and asked seriously,

"Maximilian, you lied to me today in the conference room with that words, didn't you? What will Sissy do if I don't have a job? What about your mother?"

Victoria's eyes were already clouded with tears.

She hated herself for believing in Maximilian's words, and now, it was too late to regret.

Hearing those words, Maximilian felt warmed.

It turned out that she had always remembered his mother, and she was still as kind as ever.

His mother, who had always been in poor health, spent a lot of money, which was given by the Griffiths.

Now, with his mother running a small business at their old house, Maximilian would go back every few days to visit his mother.

While thinking, Maximilian helped Victoria remove her shoes and socks, cupped her feet which were like white jade, dipped them into the water, and said softly,

"Victoria, I never lie to you. You'll get the contract."

When he said this, an incomparably powerful aura surged out of him. He looked at Victoria seriously, wiping away the teardrops from the corners of her eyes.

"Victoria, it's my fault that I make you suffer a lot in the past. But please believe me. I won't make it happen in the future, never again."

"I'll give you, and Sissy, a bright future that everyone will envy!"

"At that time, everyone in H City will be proud and honored that you are my wife!"
