

Chapter 33 A Surprise

The New Hemp Building!

This 300-meter skyscraper was the tallest building in H City!

You can get a bird's eye view of the entire H City in it, including the Han River.

New Hemp Group was the very owner of this building.

This building, including the New Hemp Group, was a group of companies founded by the most wealthy man in Chuzhou.

In H City, the New Hemp Group was definitely a large conglomerate second to none, and a Fortune 500 company ranked in the top 100, with a powerful background and strength!

In the whole H City, there was no one who didn't want to squeeze their way into this group.

At this time, the antique topmost floor of New Hemp Group, which was also its chairman's office, was completely fitted up in the pattern of the ancient waterfront garden architecture.

It had small bridges over the flowing streams, pavilions and costs a hundred million dollars!

Maximilian stood with his hands folded in front of the large French window, overlooking the night scene and neon of H City, and took out a golden coin carved with a golden dragon and an obscure letter A. He dropped it directly on the desk, and said to Wilfred, who was standing respectfully behind him.

"Use my rights as the Dragon Sect heir to create the largest pharmaceutical research company in H City."

Dragon coin! When this coin was released, the entire world would respect it!

The Dragon coin represented the Dragon Sect. Whoever possessed it can have anyone and any power in the world help him with anything!

Meanwhile, the person who receives this coin can have Dragon Sect do one thing for him.

It was a pass and a symbol. No one knew exactly how many Dragon coins there were released.

Wilfred nodded, picked up the Dragon coin, and respectfully said,

"What you want to do is naturally fine, and I'll arrange for it immediately."

"Be quick. I don't want to wait."

Maximilian said gently.

Wilfred nodded and said, "No problem, but, I would like to ask one more question. Why do you suddenly want to build a pharmaceutical research company?"

"The Griffiths is in the pharmaceutical business, and the medicines developed by our pharmaceutical research institute will be given to it to sell. So the first batch of medicines must be developed as soon as possible."

Maximilian said softly, with a light blooming in his eyes.

Wilfred froze and asked with suspicion,

"The Griffiths? You have never been taken seriously in the Griffiths, and have been bullied by them for four years. Why do you want to do so?"

The Griffith, sooner or later, would realize their stupidity!

With a slight smile, Maximilian said.

"It's not for Samuel, but for Victoria. The cooperation with our medical research institute is naturally in charge by Victoria, and no one else can interfere!"

Wilfred smiled in relief, understanding the young lord's intentions.

"You want Victoria to come to the fore, gain the approval of Mr. Samuel, and then become the candidate for the head of the Griffiths?"

Wilfred asked.

Maximilian nodded and said,

"That's right. In the past four years, Victoria has been sneered at by the Griffith because of me, and has become a disgrace to the family and H City. I have no great ability, and can only do this for her. That's what I promised her. I'm going to take off the label of shame and uselessness for her."

When Wilfred heard these words from Maximilian, tears came to his eyes.

Their young master was simply too good for his lady.

Once Maximilian left the New Hemp Building, Wilfred took out his phone and dialed Dragon Sect's internal line.

"The young master is going to invest in a pharmaceutical research enterprise in H City, and the initial budget is two billion dollars."

On the other end of the line, a sweet female voice answered with great respect.

"Okay, it will be in the account at 9 a.m. tomorrow.."

"OK."

Wilfred hung up the phone and muttered, holding the golden Dragon coin in his hand, raising his eyebrows to see the night scene outside the window.

"Great change will take place in H City."

In the following morning, a big news swept through H City, setting off waves of shock!

The mysterious rich young man surnamed Lee has invested two billion to create the largest pharmaceutical research enterprise in H City and help develop medicine in the city.

As soon as this news was released, the whole city was in an uproar!

Countless related businesses in H City, big and small, paid close attention to this mysterious rich young man, Mr. Lee!

That's awesome!

The city's largest pharmaceutical research enterprise with a two billion dollars investment!

For a while, gossips about the mysterious Mr. Lee was circulating in the streets.

Of course, no one knew his identity and background.

They just knew that he was not local.

In the afternoon of the same day, the mysterious Mr. Lee founded the Topdollars Group and officially launched it.

Relevant high-ranking figures in H City were invited to attend the group's opening ceremony.

With the media scrambling to cover the story, the Topdollars Group became an instant sensation in the city and the focus of everyone's attention.

Countless people were frantically discussing Lee and his Topdollars Group, only to have another big news come!

The Topdollars Group acquired the wasteland in H City's southern suburbs as the base for its pharmaceutical research center!

After the news came out, instantly, property prices in H City's southern suburbs skyrocketed!

Industry insiders and outsiders agreed that it would be the future downtown of H City!

Because of this, pharmaceutical companies of all sizes in the city have visited Topdollars Group to seek cooperation.

With such a large amount of investment, they only need a share of the pie to keep their own company afloat for the years to come.

Laura and Marcus were arguing over the change of the head in the Graham Group, and across from them sat a distressed Victoria.

Maximilian just mopped the floor and listened to their words now and then.

"Victoria, Mr. Lee's investment in the medical research institute is an opportunity for our family. If you can seek it, Mr. Samuel will be impressed with our family and you in the future. Then, we don't need the partnership with the Graham Group. Let it go to Franklin."

Laura was thrilled, and she thought well of it.

As long as Victoria could negotiate a cooperation with the Topdollars, it would be enough for their family to live on for years.

A two billion dollars investment!

Mr. Lee was just too affluent.

Laura didn't know if Mr. Lee really liked that vixen Iris or her daughter.

She was full of joy and planning as she wished.

Marcus sat on the sofa, took a sip of tea, and injected a remark,

"It's not that easy. The Topdollars Group shut its door and declined visitors, and even a few famous pharmaceutical companies in H City were rejected. We have no chance."

Laura was annoyed at hearing this, stomped on Marcus's leg, and cursed.

"Marcus, will you die if you don't splash cold water on my enthusiasm!

I'm just thinking for our family. Our daughter is beautiful and competent, so why can't she go to seek a cooperation?"

Marcus nodded resentfully and stopped talking.

Laura glared at him, continued to smile at Victoria and said,

"Victoria, what do you think?"

Victoria was at a loss and ruffled her hair, saying,

"I want to, but Grandpa and Franklin will never let me go. I'm nothing in their eyes."

Laura also deflated upon hearing that.

Yes, in the eyes of Mr. Samuel, Victoria was nothing compared to Franklin.

How could Mr. Samuel let Victoria get in touch with the Topdollars Group, which had invested a large amount of money for R&D in pharmaceutical industry?

Laura was instantly full of anger, and after looking at Maximilian who was bending down to mop the floor, she scolded him to vent her anger.

"It's all because of you, a punk!

All you can do is mopping the floor every day, loser!"

Victoria looked at Maximilian and helplessly said to Laura,

"Mom, don't be so unreasonable. What does it have to do with Maximilian?"

"Why doesn't? It's because of him that our family is looked down upon by the Griffiths and Mr. Samuel. Thinking about that coquettish Iris, if she really hooked up with Mr. Lee, you just wait to regret it!"

Laura was angry, and the more she thought about it, the angrier she became.

Her son-in-law was a good-for-nothing loser!

At that moment, Maximilian straightened up and said gently,

"Victoria, you can try it out, and it might be a surprise.

As for the Graham Group's cooperation, don't worry, it's still always yours."