

was...

"Victoria, I'm sorry for making you suffer these four years. From now on, I won't allow anyone to look down on you anymore, and Sissi will call me daddy in front of everyone."

Maximilian looked at Victoria seriously.

Victoria was wondering before, but hearing that, she was moved to tears. She had forgotten the grievances she suffered previously.

"Maximilian, it is said that I married a loser, do you know?"

"Everyone says Sissi doesn't have a dad. She's only three years old."

Maximilian held Victoria in his arms and said in a soft voice,

"It'll never happen again. Never!"

The couple and their child looked

Chapter 25 A Sensation Throughout the City

"I...I don't know, either."

Leila was shocked as well.

How did this happen?

The bastard Maximilian had actually prepared the birthday party at Caesar Palace Hotel!

No. Caesar Palace Hotel had been chartered today. How did he prepared for it?

God!

Suddenly, some thoughts appeared in Leila's mind, making her feel dazed immediately.

Maximilian was the mysterious billionaire who had chartered Caesar Palace Hotel, wasn't he?

How could it be possible?

The elevator rose steadily. The excited shouts of the crowd could be heard all the way. The elevator reached the top, the giant blooming crystal white rose that was visible to the whole city.

Pure, elegant, and happy.

At this moment, the women in the crowd on the floor were moved to tears.

It was so breathtaking and happy.

Victoria was still at loss and standing in a daze at the elevator door.

"Leila, what's going on here?

Why do you bring me here?

Did Maximilian ask you to do this?"

Victoria wasn't stupid and instantly thought of something.

But this is Caesar Palace Hotel, and it was already chartered by a mysterious billionaire many days ago.

Leila reacted by now and looked at Victoria with guilt. She said,

"Victoria, I'm sorry. I did not know. It was Maximilian who asked me to bring you here, but I didn't expect..."

Leila was anxious. What the hell was Maximilian going to do?

If they mistakenly barged into another's birthday party and caused the sensation accidentally, they would get into trouble.

Suddenly,

Lovely Sissi pointed to the huge crystal white rose and shouted,

"Daddy. It's Daddy."

Victoria and Leila raised their eyebrows and looked up at the same time. They saw a man in a black suit, standing in that huge crystal white rose palace, playing a violin.

The melodious music rang out, ethereal and gentle, and the notes like a beating genie, were floating in the roof of Caesar Palace, floating in this heaven and earth.

In an instant, the entire crowd of tens of thousands of people fell silent and listened to the music in silence.

Everyone looked up at this crystal white rose. Although they hadn't seen the couple from beginning to end, they had felt their happiness.

Maximilian put down his violin like a knight in a black suit. He walked step by step along the road covered by red rose to Victoria.

Victoria smiled happily. As she kept smiling, tears rolled down from the corners of her eyes constantly.

Looking at them, Leila was moved by the happy couple. She got a new understanding of love.

The couple were indeed eye-catching.

They were so happy!

Maximilian bent slightly and extended his hand to Victoria as an gentleman's invitation.

Victoria gently held his wide warm palm. Maximilian stretched out his other hand to hold Sissi in his arms. Sissi was so happy like a little princess. Then he took them up to the crystal white rose.

While they were walking, red and white rose petals fell throughout Caesar Palace Hotel.

People in the crowd could not see the appearance of the couple, but they all moved to tears in excitement.

At this moment, every women in the crowd undoubtedly became so admiring and envious that they were going crazy.

Franklin and other young people of the Griffiths were naturally there, and they had chosen a position with a good view, but still failed to see the couple clearly.

However, Iris on the side looked at them coldly because from the time the elevator arrived just now, she noticed Leila in the elevator!

She was the best friend of Victoria!

Unexpectedly, she was here, which meant that the woman holding the child in the elevator was Victoria, wasn't she? No. It was absolutely impossible!

Iris believed that it was mistaken identity and she was extremely envious.

Victoria was married to a wimp, and she would be disgraced by the whole city. It was absolutely impossible for her to appear at Caesar Palace Hotel. They would rather stay at home.

In the Crystal White Rose Palace, Victoria had gathered herself, and then she looked at Maximilian seriously and asked him,

"You've prepared all this?"

Maximilian hugged Sissi and turned to Victoria. He knew she would ask him and replied,

"Yeah. But I'm taking advantage of the mystery tycoon. He did not show up, so I contacted the owner of Caesar Palace Hotel and they rented me an hour."

When Victoria heard this explanation, she breathed a sigh of relief. She had thought that Maximilian very happy.

Leila stood aside and secretly wiped her tears. She had been moved to tears from the beginning.

Especially at this moment, she longed for family affection, especially maternal love.

However, she wished Victoria be happy from the bottom of her heart. Although according to Maximilian, he only rented here for one hour, that was enough.

A scene making everyone in the city envious finally came to an end with the magnificent fireworks in the sky.

Maximilian accompanied Victoria and Sissi downstairs, but unfortunately, they were stopped.

"Wow. Hello, Maximilian, Victoria. How are you?"

Franklin suddenly walked to them at this moment, followed by the young people of the Griffiths.

Iris was naturally there, and at the moment she was still staring at Victoria with an angry expression on her face.

She had taken off her black evening dress!

At this moment, Victoria had already changed her outfit to keep a low profile.

"Franklin, what's the matter?"

Maximilian pulled Victoria behind himself and handed Sissi over to her as well.

Franklin put his hands in his trouser pockets and looked at Maximilian with contempt. He said mockingly,

"Well done, Maximilian, how dare you secretly bring Sissi to Caesar Palace Hotel?"

Don't you know what would happen here tonight?"

"It's none of your business."

Maximilian raised his eyebrow and said.

Franklin continued to satirize him,

"Why? Are you angry? Just now, the whole city had witnessed the crystal white rose on the top floor of Caesar Palace Hotel in full bloom as the mysterious tycoon held the birthday party for his daughter, which has caused a sensation in the city.

And, the tycoon's wife has also become the center of attention of the crowd.

How about you, Maximilian?

What did you bring for your daughter? You are here for the meals for free, aren't you? Ha-ha.

At this moment, the young people of the Griffiths laughed at Maximilian and said,

"It's so funny. They have the same birthday. While one was dressed like a noble princess, the other was hiding behind a wimp to have a free meal."

"Victoria, if I were you, I would have long since dumped Maximilian!"

"Hey, Sissi, do you know your father is a loser?"

Why not call me Daddy? I'll go get you a birthday cake."

Ha-ha. At this moment, everyone laughed at them.

Sissi's eyes were filled with tears. She pouted and shouted with a childish tone,

"You bad guys! Daddy is not a wimp. Daddy, Mommy and me were right there in that white rose just now..."

