

Chapter 34 A Piece of Cake

Hearing this from Maximilian, the family, all three of them, stared at him with a strange look.

Was Maximilian crazy?

How dared he say such a thing!

Laura was instantly furious, got up, raised her eyebrows and pointed at Maximilian, scolding him.

"What surprise? Why should my daughter listen to you? You're a loser. Don't mess up! Get out of my way!"

Maximilian sighed helplessly, with his expression slightly depressed.

He couldn't change his mother-in-law's attitude toward him.

For four years, in Laura's eyes, Maximilian was a person hated by everyone, and a trash that everyone could pick on.

Now, the mysterious Mr. Lee was a sweet cake in everyone's eyes, as he seeks to build the largest medical research enterprise in H City.

As long as cooperation with the Topdollars Group was reached, it didn't matter for Victoria to lose the Graham Group.

Mr. Samuel would definitely be impressed with his granddaughter Victoria, and at that time, Victoria's family would also stand out in front of the Griffith's relatives.

But this cooperation was not easy to achieve.

Victoria knew it was difficult.

Laura knew it was hard too.

But even if it was impossible, it wasn't Maximilian's turn give suggestions.

"Don't mop. The sight of you makes me angry, a waste could accomplish nothing!"

Laura was fidgety, especially about the family dinner last night, which was so humiliating.

She was so uncomfortable that she wanted to find trouble with Maximilian to vent her anger.

Victoria got up, glanced at Maximilian who was suffering wrong, shook her head helplessly and went straight into the bedroom.

Maximilian glanced at the closed door, lowered his head and continued mopping the floor.

Almost half an hour later, Maximilian found an excuse to go out and went all the way straight to the Graham Group.

There was no way that the cooperation with the Graham Group would fall into the hands of that bastard Franklin.

Maximilian was just about to step into the Graham Group when a fragrant breeze hit his nose, followed by a sweet 'ouch'.

A lithe and graceful figure was directly knocked onto the ground by Maximilian.

"How did you walk? Don't you have eyes?"

With white V-neck corset and red ultra-short skirt, the lady's straight and slender legs were wrapped in a light layer of black stocking and her feet were in black high-heeled shoes.

A stylish, sexy and domineering lady!

She was fairly hot, with a wasp waist and plump hips.

Her red lips were so attractive that they make men sink at a glance.

Maximilian didn't mean it, hurriedly pulled her up and apologized.

"I'm sorry. Is everything okay?"

Clap!

The lady directly flung Maximilian's hands away and stood up on her broken feet.

The woman screamed, supporting her waist and hip, angrily removed the wide sunglasses from her face, pointed at Maximilian and cursed.

"You're fucking blind. You fucking idiot!"

Then. The two looked at each other and things became bad.

"Maximilian?"

The woman exclaimed with surprise and a look of teasing and mockery.

"Sarah?"

It took Maximilian a moment to respond as well.

Well.

He didn't expect to meet Sarah.

"Shit! I thought it was someone else, but I didn't think it was you, the wimp!"

Sarah was in a bad mood, and patted the dust on her arse with a look of displeasure.

Maximilian could only laugh to express regret and stood awkwardly by the side.

"Maximilian, I still haven't settled my score with you last time at the SPA, while I bumped into you here today. Are you stalking me?"

Sarah stared at Maximilian with an arrogant face and looked at him up and down a few times.

"No, I just came by to have a look."

Maximilian replied.

"Have a look? What do you want to see?"

The expression on Sarah's pretty face changed as if thinking of something and she sniffed with a full open mouth.

"I see. You lied about finding a new boss last time, right? Did you get fired and then come here to apply for a job as a security guard?"

After saying that, she looked at Maximilian with a mocking expression, and her proud and smug look was obvious.

Her looks and movements made

Maximilian feel quite uncomfortable.

"No, I've come to see Graham..."

Maximilian was just about to explain when Sarah gave him a contemptuous look and ridiculed him.

"Alright, get your ass back and don't be a disgrace here. I'm the newly appointed PR manager here, and with me here, you won't be allowed to apply for any job in this company."

Well.

Maximilian was a little confused.

Was Sarah actually the PR manager of Graham Group?

"Why?"

Maximilian asked rhetorically.

Sarah chuckled, wrapping her arms around her chest and said disdainfully,

"Because I despise you. Do you, a loser, still try in vain to apply for a job as a security guard for Graham Group? Who gives you the courage?

Fish Leong?"

Sarah's face was filled with a teasing expression.

Recently, there were many people applying for jobs in the Graham Group.

A trash like Maximilian was impossible to get its job offer.

Dream on!

Maximilian knitted his dashing eyebrows, his face slightly chilled. He didn't want to bother with a narrow-minded, snobbish woman like Sarah.

So, he turned his head and tried to leave.

But that pissed off Sarah.

She saw Maximilian ignoring her, and immediately stomped her feet forward to stop him, and cursed,

"Maximilian, what do you mean by that? How dare you ignore me! I'm telling you, a worthless piece of shit like you will never get into the Graham Group! I don't know what that little bitch Victoria thinks of marrying you. What a disgrace! Oh, it's her comeuppance for making her stinky fools in school before!"

"Hmph, I've long seen that she is not a decent woman. I heard that your wife has negotiated the cooperation with our company by having sex with our young master."

"You cuckold don't even know that your wife is having an affair, but are still foolishly staying in the Griffiths."

Sarah said a lot in one breath, all of which were insulting words.

In her eyes, whatever Victoria did was bitchy.

That's how jealous women were!

Maximilian's face suddenly darkened and he shouted in a deep voice.

"Shut up! Sarah, I'm warning you, Victoria is my wife. If you insult her like that again, I'll be rude to you!"

Suddenly, Sarah froze and looked at Maximilian incredulously.

Then she laughed angrily and said to Maximilian with a teasing face.

"What do you mean by being rude to me?"

Maximilian didn't say anything, clenching his fists and expressing his emotions with his look.

Clap!

Sarah slapped Maximilian violently on the face, pointing at his nose and scolding him.

"Shit! Dare a piece of shit like you try to treat me rudely?"

"I'm the manager of the PR department in the Graham Group. In terms of status and position, how can you compare with me?"

"What? Do you think you can be arrogant just because you're the son-in-law of the Griffiths?"

"You're just a dog raised by the Griffiths and Victoria. How can you really think of yourself as a man?"

Sarah cursed like a shrew, which was unpleasant to hear.

Maximilian's expression changed, as he was very angry for the slap he got for no reason at all.

He said, "You're the PR manager. So what? Believe it or not, I'll fire you at the drop of a hat!"

Sarah laughed, almost died of laughter.

Maximilian, the big dumbass, could actually say such arrogant words.

Fire me in a word? Sarah went up and just kicked Maximilian in the knee, cursing.

"You're a loser and you're pretending! Can you fire me? Is it possible that with one word from you, our chairman Mr. Ralphy has to obey your orders respectfully?"

"It's possible."

Maximilian chuckled coldly.

Boo! At once, Sarah couldn't hold back, covering her mouth, and burst into laughter.

Followed by a sarcastic taunt, she said,

"You're really bold, Maximilian, to say such shameless words."

Maximilian didn't bother to talk to her. He directly took out his phone, dialed Ralphy's number, and said in a cold voice.

"Ralphy, get down here right now!"

After hanging up the phone, he found Sarah was looking at himself with an admiring face and a thumbs up.

"Aha ha Maximilian, you're excellent. You're acting the whole thing, aren't you?"

"I'll see if Mr. Ralphy gets down today!"

Sarah really didn't expect that Maximilian, a loser, could actually act out the drama to this extent.

In order not to lose face in front of her?

That's going to be a big joke.

"What happened?"

At that moment, a middle-aged man's voice came over.

The Graham Group's security chief rushed over with a few security guards.

When he saw Sarah in front of him, the security chief's heart just thumped.

Wasn't she the new PR manager?

"Oh, Manager Sarah, you're here. What's going on? Do you need any help?"

The head of security, Teddy, was also a simp.

When he saw Sarah was young and pretty, he started to flatter and please her.

Men all like that.

Sarah immediately stretched out her slim fingers and pointed at Maximilian and said fiercely.

"He hit me and didn't make amends!"

Once hearing that, Teddy took pity on her.

He looked over at Maximilian and scanned him, a man dressed in ordinary clothes and even like a fool.

So, he immediately understood, pointed at Maximilian and shouted.

"What are you doing? Why don't you apologize to our Manager Sarah!"

Chapter 39 Victoria Was Beaten

The crowd all took a deep breath!

They looked so similar!

But how could that possible?

How could Maximilian, a wimp, get on a Rolls Royce and was treated by Max respectfull?

Everyone stopped talking, and their expressions went grim.

"Don't be ridiculous!

That trash, how could he be the young master!"

Travis said indignantly, his eye brows squeezed into a line, and he was very suspicious.

It couldn't be Maximilian.....It was impossible.

"Forget it, let's go back."

Travis said and led the way back, but still took two steps and looked back.

He didn't breathe a sigh of relief until the Rolls Royce left the parking lot, but the suspicion in his heart grew even stronger.

As for Franklin, he had rushed back to the conference room of Yunsheng Pharmaceutical.

At this moment, all the relatives of the Griffiths were present. After all, if something went wrong with such an important cooperation, then a year's profit would be lost.

Samuel was sitting on his seat in a chipper manner, squinting his eyes, and when he saw Franklin returned with a sullen face, he raised his eyebrows and asked.

"What happened?"

"Grandpa."

Franklin bowed and said.

Seeing his look and empty hands,

Samuel sensed a hint of something bad, and asked in a serious, bellowing voice.

"Where's the contract? You didn't offend Mr. Graham, did you?"

When Samuel said this, the eyes of all the relatives of the Griffiths fell on Franklin, full of worry. Especially Andrew, he just boasted in the office of how capable his son was. If the cooperation with Graham Group was messed up by Franklin, then he would be definitely embarrassed!

"Franklin, what's going on? What did Mr. Graham say? What about the contract? Did you put it in the car? Get down and bring it here!"

Marcus said anxiously.

"Grandpa..."

Poof!

Franklin knelt down directly on the ground and cried out.

"Ralphy took my contract back, he said, he said..."

Seeing Franklin's look, the cane in Samuel's hand knocked heavily on the floor, and he said sternly.

"Come on, what did he say?"

Franklin, scared out of his mind, grunted.

"He said he wanted to reconsider his cooperation with our family, and added that our family wasn't the only one who wanted to cooperate with the Graham Group."

Clap!

Samuel slapped his palm violently on the conference table, blowing his beard and pointing at Franklin as he sternly scolded.

"Bastard! You little bastard! What the hell did you do to provoke Ralphy to say such a thing!

It's a business worthing tens of millions dollars, I... I'll kill you!"

Saying this, Samuel raised his cane and was about to rush towards him, but he was stopped by a few people on the side.

"Take it easy, it already happened. We have to come up with a solution."

"Yes, don't get angry, it's not good for your health. You have high blood pressure and heart disease, don't get angry."

Samuel gasped angrily for a few moments, resumed his seat, his eyes coldly staring at Franklin, and scolded.

"Why don't you tell us what happened during your meeting with Ralphy, and why, exactly, did he suddenly change that?"

Franklin shivered in fear, and with a twinkle in his eye, he hurriedly said.

"Grandpa, I can't be blamed for this. It was that bastard Maximilian who interrupted in this thing!"

"Maximilian?"

The crowd was full of doubts, and Samuel was also very confused about how this matter was related to Maximilian.

"Yes, it's him!"

Franklin said. Then he told him what happened by adding some fake details, "..... when I arrived, I saw Maximilian was already there. He must be angry because we took Victoria's position, and she harbored a grudge and let Maximilian go to find Ralphy. Otherwise, how would Ralphy suddenly change his mind?"

"Well, well! That's good! Maximilian and Victoria!"

Samuel gradually eased his anger at the moment, his face full of chill as he angrily said.

"Call and ask Victoria to come here! Also, tell Maximilian to get here ASAP!"

What a revolt! As the granddaughter and grandson-in-law of the Griffiths, they betrayed us, how outrageous!"

Samuel was really angry in his heart.

The crowd was relieved, as long as it wasn't for Franklin.

As for Victoria and Maximilian, they totally deserved it.

Hearing his grandfather's words, Franklin knelt on the ground with a cold smile on his face.

Oh, Victoria, you were done.

This time, Grandpa would kick you out of the company for sure!

As for Maximilian, let you be fucking arrogant with me! This time I would definitely drive you out of the Griffith family!

Samuel looked at Franklin, who was kneeling on the ground, and coldly said.

"Get up and stand aside."

He also regreted that Franklin didn't live up to his expectation. Their family business must hand over to Franklin in the end.

How could he be so incapable?

Oops, it seemed that they had to cultivate him as soon as possible.

Franklin stood up and obediently stood aside, at this time, the more obedient he behaved, the more he could win favor in Samuel's heart.

Soon, Victoria received a phone call from her grandpa, and he rebuked.

"Victoria, come to the office, now!"

Clap! After saying this, the call was hung up.

Victoria was confused, and Laura, who was still sitting in the living room watching Korean dramas, asked suspiciously.

"What's wrong? Is Samuel looking for you? But he sounded so angry."

Victoria shook her head, indicating that she didn't know why. She got up and cleaned up, changed her clothes, and went out with her bag.

Soon she arrived at the office, and as soon as she entered the conference room, she was startled by the dreary and gloomy atmosphere inside!

Everyone, all of them, stared at her with cold, mocking, angry eyes.

Victoria's footsteps lurched, her eyebrows twisted, a cold sweat seeped out of her forehead, and her heart began to beat faster.

She let out a deep breath, her small white hands clutching to her bag strap tightly before squeezing out a smile, lifting her steps and walking in, bending to Samuel and saying.

"Grandpa, what's going on?"

"Kneel down!" Samuel bellowed angrily, his eyebrows almost crossed and a frightening aura was around him.

Victoria froze, and was quite confused.

Franklin, who was beside him, stepped forward, pointing at Victoria and shouted.

"How dare you! Don't you hear that grandpa let you kneel down?"

Victoria's eyebrows clustered as she glared at Franklin and said in a cold voice.

"Franklin, what did you say to grandpa!"

"Oh, what did I say? You've done all that shit things by yourself and everyone already knows about it! Good for you, Victoria. I didn't expect you to be such a person, betraying our family and the company, just for your pathetic position as a leader?"

Franklin had long thought of the wording, and at this moment, it came out naturally and quickly.

As soon as he said this, relatives of the Griffiths in the entire conference room all sternly blamed Victoria, spewing all kinds of curses and heckling!

Victoria was anxious and faced with so many people accusing her and scolding her, her aggrieved eyes were full of tears.

"I didn't, you guys are talking nonsense, I didn't betray our family, not to mention the company."

Victoria tried to explain desperately, but her weak voice was directly drowned out by the group's rebuke.

At this moment, Victoria looked so helpless and became the target of all people here.

"Kneel down!"

This time, Samuel shouted sternly, his face flushed, and the cane in his hand was raised high, violently hitting Victoria's slender calf!
