

Chapter 51 Unbridled!

Behave yourself!

A bottle of wine worthy $10 million with diamonds on the bottle!

The wine of the wine.

At the moment, it was actually for Maximilian?

Lasdun had paid a high price! The big boss behind it was trying desperately to ingratiate himself with Maximilian!

"What..... are you talking about?!"

Laura was instantly confused and got up, looking at Thomas with disbelief, and asked.

"Thomas, are you mistaken? How can this be prepared for this worthless wretch Maximilian? Is your boss confused? It's Travis! Travis is the honored guest."

What's going on here?

Laura also craned her head to look at Maximilian, and found that he looked grim too.

Maximilian looked dreadful at the moment. He glanced at Thomas; did he not understand what he meant earlier?

Travis's face turned red with anger. He stood still, not sure to take the wine bottle or just sit down, as he was embarrassed!

He desperately wanted put on a show in front of the Griffith family, but now with this mess, he had become the most humiliated one tonight.

Maximilian, it was all because of this Maximilian!

Thomas and his boss must have lost their minds?

Such an expensive wine! It was actually for that loser Maximilian?!

That was crazy!

"Thomas, are you sure you're not kidding? Maximilian is a complete loser! In H City, half of the people know that he is the Griffith family's son-in-law, relying on his wife, and he is just a male escort! You give him this wine, does he have a knowledge about the wine? What's the difference between giving him and give it to a dog?"

Travis was holding in a belly of rage, and at this moment, he couldn't suppress it anymore.

Thomas turned his face, his eyes coldly glancing at Travis.

However, this time, Maximilian sneered faintly and said.

"Oh? From your words, Travis knows a lot about wine?"

"Bullshit! I've had drunk more wine than you've had water! Does a shit like you deserve to drink this wine? It's a waste!"

When Travis heard that Maximilian still dared to interject, he instantly exploded in anger, his face turning red!

But, an angry rebuke instantly resounded throughout the entire room!

"Travis, please behave yourself! This wine is, indeed, a gift from our boss to Mr. Maximilian."

Thomas said coldly at this moment, with a little displeasure in his eyes.

Travis shuddered, his face becoming even more suspicious.

Not only him, but also Laura and Marcus were stunned.

Victoria even looked at Maximilian incredulously and asked in a low voice.

"What the hell is going on? You know the boss here?"

Maximilian was in a dilemma, how could he explain?

Cards on the table?

He was the young master of the Dragon Sect and the future Dragon Lord!

He could buy this store in a blink of eyes? But would Victoria and Laura believe it?

It was at this moment that Thomas smilingly interjected.

"Maximilian, great wits have short memories! Last time in front of the city hospital, you helped our boss. Our boss had instructed that whenever you appear in our restaurant, you will definitely be treated with the highest standard, and this room was also given to you for your sake."

As soon as these words were spoken, Laura, who was previously buttering up Travis, instantly changed her face!

She exclaimed groggily, "What? Thomas, this room was given to us for the sake of Maximilian?"

It's not because of Travis?"

What, what the hell was going on here? Travis was also dumbfounded. He had been pretentious from the beginning to the end as the room was booked for his sake!

Shit! In a flash, Travis became annoyed and said angrily.

"Thomas, don't be fooled by a villain, Maximilian, a male escort! How can he have such a honor? He helped your boss? Helped with what? I can't believe it!"

Travis was really pissed off!

Today, how could it be so difficult to be pretentious in front of Maximilian and Victoria!

He was in pain!

Victoria also turned her head, her eyes burning as she stared at Maximilian and inquired.

"Which boss?" Maximilian said with laughter.

"Didn't you see him that day? In front of the hospital, when you were with Leila."

Hearing this explanation, Victoria came to a realization and said

"Oh, that Rolls-Royce....."

Speaking about this, Victoria covered her small mouth, so the old man was the boss of Lasdun.

At the sight of this, Laura was in a hurry and asked.

"Victoria, what's going on? Do you know?"

Victoria nodded and looked at the crowd.

"I know Maximilian did help an old man, I just don't know he was the boss of the restaurant."

Thomas hurriedly said. "Yes, thanks to Maximilian's help that day.

This wine, then, I will leave here for now, and if there is anything you need, just tell me."

After saying that, Thomas left the room.

The atmosphere in the room was, at the moment, dreary.

Travis sat in his seat, feeling like sitting on pins and needles.

Laura, who had been previously bending over to Travis, just smiled at him, not as enthusiastic as before. But it wasn't too bad.

Travis couldn't sit down anymore and left with an excuse.

However, before leaving, he glared hard at Maximilian, signaling with his eyes that he would not let him go!

Since Travis had left, the crowd dispersed.

When he went downstairs to check out, Maximilian first put Victoria and Laura inside their car before turning back to the restaurant.

Thomas had told the reception that the sky room in the sky garden was free of charge.

Just as Maximilian entered the hall, a waiter stood respectfully in the hall and said with a smile on his face.

"Mr. Lee, Thomas and Wilfred are waiting for you upstairs."

Maximilian nodded, hands in his pants pockets, and stepped upstairs.

But, suddenly, a word full of ridicule reached his ears.

"Yooo, isn't this the loser of my family, Maximilian? Why are you here?"

When Maximilian looked up, he saw at the stairway, Iris and some rich guys walking down.

Those two straight and slender legs are indeed men's favorite.

Maximilian frowned and stepped aside to make room for them. He didn't want to have a bit of misunderstanding with Iris right now.

However, Iris wrapped her arms around her chest, setting off her full figure, and sneered.

"Maximilian, how can a poor loser like you come here?"

With a twist of his eyebrows, Maximilian said faintly, "It's none of your business."

Upon hearing this, Iris instantly became annoyed and chided.

"What kind of attitude is that? You're just a male escort of my family, how dare you talk to me like that?"

"Yo, Iris, this is the loser Maximilian you were talking about."

"OK, as you told, and he is really unique, such a dick."

"Oh, he is quite arrogant. Hey, you're Maximilian, how could you talk to Iris in this way?"

Your app use time has reached 5 hours tod... Error

Apologize!"

All at once, the rich guys, who had drunk, cajoled and cursed angrily.

Iris, on the other hand, with a cold smile on her face, looked at the dull-faced Maximilian, patting his cheek, and said.

"Maximilian, how dare you talk to me like this? Are you tired of living?"

Do you really think that by relying on Victoria, I wouldn't dare to do anything to you?"

Maximilian clenched his fist.

Just then, a scolding voice came from upstairs.

"How dare you! Who dares to be rude to Mr. Maximilian!"

Chapter 52 You're Hiding Something From Me

This angry shout startled the guests and waiters throughout Lasdun, and they all turned their eyes over.

Thomas came down from upstairs with brisk steps, seeing Iris with someone, so vulgarly verbally berating Maximilian. He was naturally very annoyed in his heart!

He was an honored guest of the boss!

The most honored guest!

These people, how dare they?

"S..... Thomas."

Several waiters hurriedly stood to the side respectfully.

Thomas walked over, his face chilled as he looked up and down at the arrogant Iris a few times. He turned around, and said to Maximilian with respects.

"Mr. Lee, you're not disturbed, are you?"

Mr. Lee?

The sight of Thomas treating Maximilian so respectfully naturally caused quite a stir in the hall!

Iris was like a cat with fried fur at the moment! Disbelief was full of her face.

Just him, Mr. Lee? He must be kidding!

"Hey, who are you? What's wrong with me talking to the son-in-law in my family like that?"

Who are you to heckle me?"

Iris's temper came up and was very upset.

This middle-aged man in front of her was an idiot, right?

To have such respect for a loser like Maximilian, hilarious!

However, as soon as she said, people around her all looked at her with shocked and frightened expressions.

What? Iris was also confused, did she look horrible?

At this moment, a beautiful rich girl behind her, hurriedly came up, tugged Iris's arm and whispered.

"Iris, you're crazy. He's the manager of Lasdun, Thomas!"

Thomas?

Iris shuddered as her eyes fell on Thomas, instantly, she was not feeling good.

She can't believe he was the manager of Lasdun!

Thomas, the manager, enjoyed high status and position in the catering industry in H City.

However, not many people knew about his another identity.

He was one of the four underground figures in H City, Master Thomas!

Such a man, doing serious business, acts in a low profile, rarely shows up in front of people, and does not usually go forward for important occasions.

So, not many people knew about his another identity, but those who did, were not ordinary people.

Obviously, Iris just didn't know.

At the moment, she was still scowling at Thomas with her eyebrows raised. Although a little alarmed, she was not yet in fear.

He was just a manager of a restaurant. Nothing at all.

However, at this moment, Thomas turned around, his face cold as he looked at Iris, tugged on his suit, and said.

"You're the first in my restaurant to insult my VIPs like that!"

The words carried a threat.

The crowd on the side, hearing this, shuddered in their hearts.

But Iris was a reckless, spoiled and pampered bitch, full of princess syndrome, immediately rebuked.

"What, you're just a manager in the restaurant, what's the big deal? What's wrong with your eyes? That loser behind you is your VIP? Don't be funny, he's just a dog my family keeps, a tail wagging dog. We're your VIPs, we're all from the Sky Garden down here, are you going to offend us for that idiot?"

Iris were arrogant, her arms ringed around her chest, overwhelming.

However, her friends behind her, were all embarrassed, taking a few steps back.

"Iris, stop talking and hurry over here."

One of them, a rather handsome man, was constantly winking at Iris at the moment.

He knew Thomas and was profoundly aware of his identity, but he didn't dare to speak about it now because Thomas was staring at him. That means, no more talking! Iris chuckled.

"What's wrong with you guys? What are you afraid of? I just can't believe it, a small manager, dares to hit me for that loser?"

After saying that, she twisted her face, full of mocking, looked at Thomas and pushed him away, walking to Maximilian and scolded in a commanding manner.

"Maximilian, who the hell are you? What are you doing now, standing in my way? Now, I order you to get down on your knees and apologize to me for the way you just acted! Otherwise, there will be suffering for you, and Victoria will be punished because of you!"

Iris threatened, a trick she had played so many times before.

Whenever she was troubled by something herself, she would come to Maximilian to vent her anger.

Every time, she used the same threatening words.

But, today was clearly different.

Maximilian clenched his hands, chill in his eyes, and shook his head helplessly with a sigh, saying.

"Because of my attitude, I have to apologize to you?"

"That's right!

A trash like you has no business looking up at me squarely, much less treating me that way!"

Iris raised her hand and just threw a slap towards Maximilian's face!

Clap! The sound of a crisp slap resonated throughout the hall!

HISS! Everyone drew in a breath of cold air.

Because Maximilian was standing still, and there was any slap marks on his face.

On the contrary, Iris, who was covering her face at the moment, took a while to come to the reality and angrily shouted towards Thomas who was shaking his hand aside.

"How dare you hit me? You actually beat me up for a loser?"

With a chill in the corner of his eyes, Thomas said, "Since you're in my restaurant, you're my customers. I don't care who you are, if you dare to stir up trouble here, I won't let you go!

Security, blow them out!"

Immediately, a few security guards rushed in and directly rucked that reckless Iris and threw her out.

Several other rich guys also ran out in a hurry like rats crossing the street.

Iris got up from the ground and fell on her butt.

She got up and cursed at the top of her lungs.

"Thomas, you're screwed! I'm the third lady of the Griffith family. How dare you treat me like this? Such a little manager, I'm going to have someone tear down your restaurant!"

Cursing, Iris still wanted to rush up, but she was stopped by her friends on the side.

The handsome rich guy, who was pulling Iris at the moment, shouted.

"You're crazy! Thomas isn't just a manager, he's one of the four underground figures in H City!"

Upon hearing his words, Iris froze in place.

"And tear down his restaurant? With one finger, he can make your Griffith family lose all your fortune!"

The rich boy continued. Iris panicked, her face full of disbelief, and said hysterically.

"What do you mean? Are you kidding? One of the four underground figures of H City would actually beat me up for that trash?"

The rich boy raised his eyebrows, looked down the hall, and shook his head in disbelief as well.

"Maybe, it's really like he said, this is his home court. Disrespect to his guests is disrespect to him. After all, the restaurant is open for business. If rumors say that the guests who come here to eat are scolded for no reason, who else dares to come?"

You unintentionally, almost ruined the reputation of Lasdun. It is not serious for him to throw you out.

If you really piss off Thomas, he'll probably throw you into the H River!"

As soon as she heard this, Iris shivered, and fears claimed her.

However, in her mind, she owed this to Maximilian.

Damned loser, she offended such a dangerous master because of him!

In anger, Iris twisted her head and left as well.

It was just a hiccup not worth mentioning.

When Maximilian returned home, his parents in laws went to bed already. When he sneaked into the bedroom, he gently dragged his bed out from under Victoria's bed.

Clap!

Suddenly, the light in the bedroom turned on.

Maximilian then saw Victoria sitting on the bed. She dressed in a sheer nightgown, waiting for him.

Under the light, Victoria's figure was really charming and sexy. Her fairy-like and jade skin, especially the white collarbone and calves made Maximilian dazed at that moment.

"You are back."

Victoria kept looking at him.

Maximilian unhurriedly made the bed and responded.

"Yep."

"Do you want to explain everything to me about the Graham Group's contract, and the Lasdun?"

Victoria asked.

Maximilian was unfolding the bed in his hands, but inside he was actually panicking like hell!

Did she suspect him now?

"Didn't you say it all owe to Travis, why are you suddenly asking that?"

Maximilian smiled, hiding a hint of panic within himself.

Victoria said, "Maximilian, is there something you're hiding from me?"

Midnight, bedroom, two people were looking at each other.....

Chapter 53 This is the new contract

There was something subtle in the air, and Victoria stared at Maximilian.

However, Maximilian smiled, lay down, and said.

"No, go to bed early, grandpa and Franklin may find troubles with you tomorrow."

Victoria asked as if she was undeterred.

"You have nothing to tell me?"

After a while, Maximilian turned his face and looked at her, smiling.

"No." Victoria nodded and lay down on her side.

Pop. The lights went out.

In the room, there was just the sound of two people breathing evenly.

However, at this moment, Victoria and Maximilian, neither of whom fell asleep, each had their own thoughts in their minds.

"I'm sorry, Maximilian. Just now in the restaurant, my mom lost her temper with you and hit you, I'll apologize to you for her."

In the dimness, it was Victoria's soft voice.

"Ok." Maximilian softly answered and turned his face to the other side, looking at Victoria, who had her back to him. Her delicate figure looked charming under the moonlight.

This woman, he had loved her for four years.

"You've had a hard time over the years because of me."

Maximilian said slyly.

Victoria didn't respond. Resting her head on her hands, a warm smile slowly surfaced at the corner of her mouth as she said.

"Go to bed early. Good night."

"Good night."

Early the next morning.

Victoria woke up early and cleaned herself. She wore a black skirt with a white shirt. Her long, straight legs were wrapped in black stockings, looking charming and clean.

At the doorway, with one hand on the wall, she was wearing her heels. She took the contract and said to Maximilian, who was clearing away the dishes.

"I'm going to the company."

Maximilian looked at her, hesitated for a moment, and said.

"Victoria, you hold the initiative in this cooperation. If Franklin and grandpa want to grab this contract again from you, you can refuse to be the person in charge. As long as you don't sign it, Graham Group won't cooperate with Yunsheng Pharmaceutical. Then, grandpa and Franklin will come back begging you."

Victoria was at the door with an astonished face. She looked at Maximilian and said.

"That's up to me, but thanks for your advice."

Then, she left. Maximilian looked at the back of Victoria and sighed.

After packing up, he headed to the hospital with the lunchbox.

In the Yunsheng Pharmaceutical.

Inside Franklin's office, there were several juniors of the Griffith family sitting at the moment.

"Franklin, what's your plan? If Victoria can't get a new contract with Graham Group today, you're really going to kick her out?"

One of them asked. Franklin stood in front of the large floor-to-ceiling window, his hands in his trouser pockets, an ironic smile on the corner of his mouth.

"Of course, this company, her or me. I just want to drive her out of Yunsheng Pharmaceutical!"

"Franklin, it is not good for us to do that! After all, she is also the granddaughter of Samuel, your cousin."

"Oh, she's not even qualified to be Samuel's granddaughter! If it weren't for her and Maximilian, would our family be spurned and despised?"

"That's right!

This is a shameless couple, it's best to get them out of the company early!"

For a moment, several people murmured with anger.

At the moment, the office door was violently pushed open.

Iris walked in with an angry face. She was dressed enchantingly today, with a red low-cut sliding shoulder bralette and black super short hot pants.

Once she entered, she grumbled to Franklin, "Franklin, no matter what, today, I will drive Victoria out of the company! I want her to be swept out like rubbish!"

Iris had been angry since last night.

Franklin turned around and looked at her with such a strong anger and asked.

"What's wrong, did Victoria mess with you?"

"It's not her, it's that bastard Maximilian!"

Iris sat on the sofa, clutching her breasts, her face hard as she said.

"Last night, I went to the Lasdun for dinner and actually bumped into that loser Maximilian, who was also there! Just because I scolded him, the manager, Thomas, actually slapped me in front of many people! This revenge, I must take it!"

"Lasdun? Why would that poor bastard go there?"

Franklin was surprised and asked.

"You're saying that Thomas beat you up because of Maximilian? That is impossible. Thomas is one of the four underground figures of H City, Master Thomas, how could he beat you up because of that loser? You're the third lady of Griffith family, it doesn't make sense."

Franklin was fortunate enough to follow his grandfather to Lasdun once, and also learned about Thomas's identity. When Iris thought about this incident, she was furious and told what happened at that time, adding false details to the story.

Several of the Griffith family juniors were furious, saying

"Damn Thomas, he simply doesn't respect our family!

He's just an underground figure, and he really thinks he can go on the stage?"

Franklin also pounded his fist on the desk and said in a deep voice.

"This Thomas, for the sake of a trash, he actually hit you! Damn it!"

"In my opinion, Iris, don't take it seriously. That loser, maybe he just applied for a job as a waiter, how can a trash like him afford to eat at Lasdun?"

Someone interjected. The crowd nodded as well.

It was also at this time that an assistant came in and informed that

"Franklin, Victoria and the chairman are here in the conference room."

When Franklin heard this, he came to life, pulled his suit, and said to several people.

"Let's go, let's go check it out, today, we will make sure Victoria is kicked out of Yunsheng Pharmaceutical!"

Soon there was a silent atmosphere in the meeting room.

Samuel sat in the chairman's seat, eyes sweeping over the crowd, and right beside him sat Andrew and Franklin.

Victoria, on the other hand, was sitting at the end.

In the company, she was supposed to be insignificant. Although she was capable, no one looked up to her.

All this because she married that wimp Maximilian.

Franklin laughed and suddenly got up, directly launching an open attack.

"Victoria, did you get the new contract?"

His eyes fell on Victoria with a playful sneer.

Huh! At once, all the eyes of the crowd all fell on Victoria.

Seeing that Victoria did not say anything, Franklin sneered, directly stepped away, walked to her side, and patted her soft shoulder, mocking.

"Victoria, if you don't get a new contract, then according to what we agreed yesterday, grandpa will kick you out of the company."

When he said that, he looked up, impatiently, at Samuel, and said.

"Grandpa, since Victoria is silent, let's take a stand and revoke her position as director and kick her out of the company."

Aha ha!

Great!

Victoria was finally going to be kicked out of the company.

Samuel's face sank, and his eyes looked coldly at Victoria, who was sullen and silent, and asked,

"Victoria, did you renegotiate with Graham Group yesterday?"

If you don't get a new contract, then I have to kick you out of the company as an example to others!"

"Grandpa, how can she get a new contract? Her last contract, the origin of which was unknown, was due to some dirty tricks. This time, maybe Ralphy is not interested in her anymore."

Franklin sneered at the words, which, at once, caused the crowd to murmur.

Suddenly, Victoria looked up. She had just been thinking about the words Maximilian said before she left home in the morning. How could he know the content of contract? Indeed, this new contract would only take effect if Victoria signed it. Could it be that he peeked at the contents of the contract last night?

Thinking about it, Victoria frowned slightly. Then, she got up and took the new contract out of the folder. Holding it in her hand, her eyes coldly swept over the gloating people, and said to Samuel.

"Grandpa, I've got the new contract."

Chapter 54 I won't agree

Wow!

Instantly, the room erupted in astonished chatter!

Everyone stared at the contract in her hand, their gazes varying.

Franklin sank and he immediately pointed at Victoria and shouted.

"Bullshit! Just you, how can you get a new contract? It must be a fake!"

Victoria turned her head and looked at Franklin with cold in her eyes, saying.

"Fake or not, it is easy to identify!"

"Bring it over here and show me."

Samuel spoke up at this moment, with puzzled and excited in his eyes.

He was puzzled that Victoria was able to regain the contract with Graham

Group in such a short time.

He was excited because if it was really a new contract, then the future of Yunsheng Pharmaceutical was promising!

Victoria respectfully handed the contract to Samuel, who flipped it and looked at it carefully. The smile on his face grew more and more. He laughed and said.

"Well! Great, great, great!

This is a new contract, Victoria, well done, you are really my good granddaughter!"

Samuel was very happy at the moment, with the new contract in hand, then he wouldn't have to worry about the profits of Yunsheng Pharmaceutical for the next year.

Maybe, with this opportunity,

Yunsheng Pharmaceutical could rush into the top ten of H City's top of pharmaceutical companies!

Then the Griffith family's status in H City would rise!

But, at this moment, a voice of indignation suddenly rang out!

Franklin rushed over and said hurriedly.

"Grandpa, you shouldn't be fooled by her. In such a short time, how could she regain the new contract with Graham Group? This contract must be a fake!"

"Yeah, fake! Grandpa, don't be fooled by Victoria!"

Iris also stood out at this moment, shouting anxiously.

Originally, she was watching the show, waiting for the moment when Victoria was kicked out of the company and mock her as she want!

However, how could it turn out that Victoria would actually come up with a new contract?

"Yes, Chairman, it is impossible to get a new contract from the Graham Group such in such a short time! I think it is better to identify the authenticity."

"That's right, Chairman, let's take a closer look."

At one point, the company executives, who were all present, spoke up.

The corners of Framklin's mouth tugged, revealing a hideous sneer as he turned his head and said to Victoria, "Victoria, do you know the crime of forging a contract?"

This matter, once it's revealed, it's not you alone who will be punished, but the entire Griffith family! I advise you, you'd better confess it now."

Franklin had already believed that Victoria was the one who had taken a fake contract to deceive everyone.

Because, from yesterday to now, people he sent to guard at the Graham Group said, they hadn't seen Victoria go over at all.

So, where did this contract come from?

It must be a fake!

However,

Victoria laughed, her face condensed, her willow eyebrows raised, and she said, "Franklin, do you want this contract to be a fake so badly?"

These words blocked Franklin, "You! What do you mean?"

Samuel also sank as he pounded his cane on the ground and shouted.

"Well, since you guys doubt this contract, just make a phone call."

"Yes, yes, yes!"

Franklin hurriedly said.

"We'll call him now."

After saying that, Franklin turned around and stared at Victoria with chill and said,

"Go ahead and pretend, I'll see what you can you do when this call goes through!"

Soon, Samuel dialed Graham Group's phone and said with a complimentary smile on his face.

"Hello, is this Ralphy? Oh oh, hello hello, I'm the chairman of Yunsheng Pharmaceutical and the head of the Griffith family, my name is Samuel, I met you at our family's mid-year dinner party."

"Oh, Mr. Samuel Griffith, what is the matter?"

On the other side of the phone, Ralphy looked at Maximilian, who was sitting on the sofa drinking tea, and asked with a smile.

"Ralphy, we received a new contract from your company and want to confirm the authenticity."

Samuel said with a smile, his words complimentary and earnest.

"That contract is real, Samuel, is there anything wrong?"

Ralphy asked rhetorically.

Samuel was stunned and flustered, followed by a hurried excitement, "No more, thank you for your affirmation! We will definitely put forth two hundred percent of our efforts to this cooperation....."

After saying a few words, Samuel kept waiting for the other party to hang up the phone first before he put it down.

The scene had confused the crowd in the room.

Franklin was so anxious that he came up and asked.

"Grandpa, is the contract a fake? I'll get Victoria out now!"

With that, he raised his hand and shouted. Security, get Victoria out of the company, and in addition....."

Clap! Samuel slammed down on the conference table, glared at Franklin, and shout.

"Shut up! This contract is real, Ralphy told me, so there's no need to doubt it."

When he said that, he looked up with doubts in his eyes, but he still squeezed a smile on his face and said to Victoria.

"Victoria, you've done a great job this time." Victoria nodded and said.

"Grandpa, it's all right. It is my responsibility as a part of the company. On the contrary, someone has been suspicious of me and tried to throw me out of the company several times."

Hearing these words, Franklin, who was furious on the side, reached out and chided.

"Victoria, what do you mean?!"

"That's enough!"

Samuel's face chilled as he glared at Franklin, the latter hurriedly shrank his head and moved to the side.

Then, as if thinking of something, Samuel picked up this contract and tossed it directly to Franklin, and said to Victoria, and also to the crowd.

"Well, from today on, Franklin will be in charge of the cooperation with the Graham Group."

Upon hearing his words, the entire group in conference room froze, not daring to breathe!

Samuel actually stole Victoria's credit in such a dignified manner and gave it to Franklin?

Franklin was also stunned, like riding a roller coaster, he instantly reached heaven, hurriedly clutching the contract and said excitedly.

"Thank you grandpa, I will not let you down!"

Samuel nodded, his eyes full of expectation as he looked at Franklin and said.

"Work hard, you are going to take over the company and the Griffith family in the future, gain more experience and contacts."

"Grandpa, what do you mean by that? I took this new contract, so why did you give it to Franklin again?"

Victoria was also confused, followed by anger, gritting her teeth fiercely and clenching her fist.

She was close to tears of anger and aggravation.

She didn't understand why Grandpa always gave her achievements to Franklin.

Was she not his granddaughter?

Samuel looked back at Victoria and said with a cold face.

"You've worked hard too, go home and get some rest."

After saying that, Samuel was about to leave.

Franklin, on the other hand, was looking at Victoria with a face full of ridicule and mockery, and that smug look made Victoria uncomfortable.

"I..... I don't agree!"

Suddenly, Victoria clenched her fist, gathered enough courage and shouted out loudly.

She thought of Maximilian's words as she left the house that morning.

Maximilian, I hope what you said was true.

This was the first time she had disobeyed Samuel's orders, and the first time she had contradicted him in front of so many people.

Chapter 55 Victoria's Aggressiveness

"Victoria, what did you say? You don't agree? Oh, it's decided by me. I'm in charge, your opinion does not matter!"

Franklin sneered with arrogant in his eyes.

Victoria still wanted to fight with him? daydreaming!

He Franklin, was the first grandson of the Griffith family, the future of the Griffith family.

Samuel had always valued boys over girls, and in his mind, he had already taken Franklin as his heir.

Yunsheng Pharmaceutical, in the end, would definitely be handed over to Franklin.

A contract with Graham Group was just the springboard for Franklin and let him gain experience.

This was something Samuel had thought about long ago, and that was why he was so determined.

At this moment, hearing Victoria's objection, Samuel turned back. His eyes coldly looked at Victoria as he said.

"How dare you! Are you in charge of this company, or me? You're really getting unruly, did you learn it from Maximilian?!"

In Samuel's eyes, Victoria was originally his beloved granddaughter, talented and beautiful. She could have married a local gentry in H City to make a marriage union.

However, who would have thought that four years ago, she actually got pregnant out of wedlock with Maximilian, causing the Griffith family to lose a chance to be promoted to the top-class gentry in H City!

Because of that incident, Samuel still held a grudge.

Since then, he lost his hope for Victoria.

As the saying goes, where the needle goes, the thread follows. His granddaughter married to a loser, what benefit could he get?

What was more, because of that damned Maximilian, the Griffith family was momentarily became the laughing stock in H City.

"No, Grandpa. I don't care what you think of me, I won't agree to this! I got the contract. Why do you have the right to just hand it over to Franklin, Grandpa? I object!"

Victoria clenched her small fist, gritted her teeth, and looked at Samuel very seriously.

Clap! As a result, Samuel raised his hand and threw a slap at Victoria's cheek, chiding him

"Ungrateful! You dare to talk to me with that attitude now? Who taught you that? Isn't it that Maximilian!"

Samuel was about to explode with anger.

The granddaughter he raised, how dare she talk to him like that.

Did she still have any regard for him as her grandfather?

Victoria covered her face, tears in her eyes, and looked at him very stubbornly.

She was not convinced! She was just unwilling to submit!

The company executives on the side all looked at each other, not daring to make a sound.

At this moment, Franklin saw that Victoria had been slapped by Samuel, and he was so happy that he added fuel to the fire.

"Grandpa, I think Victoria just ignores you, why don't we take her director position and put her down to the grassroots of the marketing department? So she can properly learn something and suffer for a few years? Then, she will know how good you are to her, grandpa."

"That's right, grandpa, I think Franklin is right, she is relying on your preference over her during these past years to be so reckless! She should be sent to the grassroots and be properly honed."

Iris followed and fanned the flames, her eyes full of mockery and smugness.

Samuel thought about it, and the cane in his hand also hit the ground heavily as he said in a cold voice.

"Just do as Franklin said. From today on, remove Victoria's position as director and demote her to the first line of marketing department!"

"Grandpa!" Victoria was so aggravated that tears came out of her eyes immediately.

These two bastards, Franklin and Iris, were simply beating her ruthlessly when she was down!

"Stop talking about it and come back to me when you've admitted your mistake!"

Samuel shouted, turning around to leave.

Just at this time, the phone on the table in front of Victoria vibrated. She picked it up and glanced at it. She saw a text message from Maximilian,

The agreement of the contract is valid only with your signature.

Victoria, come on, be brave, don't let Franklin and Grandpa get you down, you can do it!

Seeing this text message, Victoria secretly gritted her teeth, and then, suddenly, she raised her head.

She didn't know where she summoned all the courage and shouted,

"Grandpa, I want you to take a close look at this new contract! There is a clause on it. If anyone but me signs the contract and is in charge, this contract will be voided and the Griffith family will lose its cooperation with the Graham Group!"

HISS! The crowd in the meeting room were shocked, and they looked at Victoria incredulously.

Samuel trembled as he hurriedly gestured for Franklin to open the contract and read it over again.

Franklin was also anxious in his heart. After a quick glance, he did see that clause, pointed it out to Samuel, and shouted.

"Grandpa, look, this must be an additional condition from this bitch! She aimed at taking sole control of the company for a long time, and she simply did not think about you and the whole company! What does she take the Griffith family and Yunsheng Pharmaceutical for? Is it her springboard?"

Franklin exploded with anger and turned his face to give Victoria a bitter scolding.

"Well, Victoria, I didn't expect that you to be so scheming! Say, did you strike some kind of unspeakable deal with Ralphy? How could this clause be in the contract?"

Damn it! This damned Victoria, looking soft and weak, was so calculating!

She was just, just a thot! Iris also pointed at Victoria angrily and cursed.

"Victoria, you are my cousin, I don't want to be in the same group with you anymore!"

When Samuel saw the contents of this clause in the agreement, he sank and raised his eyebrows, his cold eyes staring intently at Victoria as he asked.

"What do you want?" Franklin was not stupid, he was able to develop Yunsheng Pharmaceutical to such a big scale, and he naturally had his own strength.

Victoria wiped tears from the corner of her eye, glared coldly at Franklin, pointed at him, and said to Samuel,

"First, for the cooperation with the Graham Group, I should be the one in charge, and he is not qualified to interfere!"

"You're delusional! You are simply..... just dreaming!"

Franklin was so angry at the moment that he was incoherent, tugging on Samuel's arm and saying.

"Grandpa, you mustn't listen to her! She's trying to seize power. Once you let her achieve her goal, then Yunsheng Pharmaceutical will probably fall into her hands in the future!"

Samuel knitted his brows, glanced at Victoria, and said with a sigh.

"Okay, I agree." Hearing his words,

Franklin fell in the swivel chair, losing his hope. The hatred in his heart for Victoria became even more intense.

Then, Victoria suddenly said in front of everyone.

"Second, I want you to apologize to me and Maximilian, for your actions yesterday! Franklin, you'll be the first to make the apology. Grandpa, you have to apologize to us too."

When she said that, Victoria secretly squeezed her fist, full of sweats.

She was also panicking inside, just feeling her heart racing and her calves trembling.

Calm down, you must calm down!

Victoria, you can do it, you're in control now!

Believe in yourself, and believe in Maximilian!

HISS! Instantly, dead silence fell over the room!

Everyone's eyes widened as they stared at Victoria in disbelief.

Was she crazy? How dare her make such an outrageous request!

It was enough to make Franklin apologize, she actually presumed to make Samuel apologize to her and that wimp Maximilian?
