

Chapter 61 Begging Attitude

After saying this, Victoria's heart also trembled, how could she think that way?

Even if Maximilian was capable, could he still make so many companies choose to cut off their cooperation with Yunsheng Pharmaceutical?

What kind of terrifying strength would it take to do all this?

So, as soon as Victoria's words left her mouth, she felt that she was over thinking.

Maximilian had a heart thump on the other hand, looked at Victoria's face and tried to explain.

"Victoria, actually....."

"Well, you don't have to explain, I'm the one who's over thinking about it. How could you have that kind of means and strength, you're just a son-in-law that our family recruited in."

Victoria laughed to herself. Every woman wanted her husband to be capable and admired in front of and behind people. But that was just a thought.

What kind of person Maximilian was and what kind of financial conditions he had, Victoria knew very well in her heart.

Maximilian glanced at Victoria, and the corners of his mouth smiled slightly, but he didn't say anything.

It didn't take long for a knock on the door, and Maximilian told Victoria to go back to her bedroom and not come out, after all, she just said that she went out to travel with Leila, so she couldn't show her face.

This guy Franklin, who was arrogant and domineering as always, banged on the door and shouted,

"Victoria, I know you're home, open the door for me!"

Maximilian cleaned up and went over to open the door.

Outside the door, Franklin's face was full of anger as he stared at Maximilian and yelled.

"Maximilian, you dared to hang up on me just now, didn't you?"

"I accidentally knocked it off."
Maximilian chuckled.

Franklin was furious, raised his fist and swung it at Maximilian's face.

"Fuck! You're just a loser married into my Griffith family, how dare you hang up on me, you're looking for a fight!"

Bang! Franklin's punch fell short and was directly squeezed by one of Maximilian's hands fiercely, and then he raised his foot and kicked Franklin in the knee!

Franklin instantly felt the pain, his entire body limped backwards several steps and his entire face became distorted from the pain, following which he fell to the ground on his butt!

"How dare you! Maximilian, how dare you strike out at Franklin, do you not put me, your eldest uncle, in your eyes!"

When Andrew saw this scene at this moment, his eyes were furious as he rushed up.

Maximilian smiled coldly while his eyes staring chillingly at Andrew, and yelled.

"Andrew, it was your son who did it first, if you want to cover him up, you can try doing it to me by yourself."

Andrew's heart trembled when he came into contact with Maximilian's gaze.

The look in this loser's eyes was so scary just now, it was like he was facing a lion that was about to wake up!

That aura was definitely not something that a wimp could show. Hadn't he always been a wimp?

Why was he acting so strong today?

"Maximilian, you've turned against me, how dare you hit me, I'll kill you!"

Franklin got up from the ground at this moment while gritting his teeth and pointing at Maximilian and shouting.

Maximilian simply said indifferently, "If you're here to argue, then please go back."

With that, Maximilian was about to close the door with his hand.

Andrew pushed the door open as soon as he could and said to Maximilian with a cold face.

"Get out of my way. We're here for Victoria, What qualifications you have to talk to us."

Maximilian smiled and said, "Don't you, by now, still understand the importance of the matter?"

Once you lose the cooperation of the Graham Group, what Yunsheng Pharmaceutical and the Griffith family would face, you should know clearly in your heart.

So, if you want to ask Victoria to step in, you better lower your profile."

These words caused both Andrew and Franklin to panic in their hearts, and the anger on their faces slowly froze.

Without Graham Group's cooperation, Yunsheng Pharmaceuticals would have gone bankrupt.

But what qualifications did a wimp, Maximilian, have to dare talk to them like that?

"Shut up! Who are you to say that? We want to see Victoria!" Andrew replied in a deep voice.

"Why am I not qualified? Victoria is my wife, her business is my business, and now that she's gone, I'm in charge of the house."

Maximilian said. "Can you make the decision?"

After hearing these words, both Andrew and Franklin had mocking faces.

Franklin came up to him and snickered.

"Maximilian, do you have any idea how much of an idiot you are for saying that? Is there any part of this family that you, Maximilian, are still in charge of?"

"Besides, everyone knows how Victoria took the contract from Graham Group! I'm laughing at how happy you are to be cuckolded!"

Franklin looked at Maximilian with derision.

The corner of Maximilian's eye chilled and he yanked his fist!

How Victoria got the contract, of course, he knew best, and these words of Franklin were clearly a heartbreaker.

He stepped forward with his eyes cold and sunken while staring hard at Franklin with his eyes showing killing intent!

"You, what do you want? I'm telling you, if you dare to make a move against me, there will be no place for Victoria in the Griffith family!"

Franklin was shocked by Maximilian's sudden movement and look!

"If you dare to insult Victoria again, I will make you regret being alive!" Maximilian said in a cold voice as a piercing chill suddenly surged out of his body!

Franklin gulped and moved back a few steps.

"What happened?" At this time, Laura and Marcus came back from outside and saw so many people standing at the door.

"Marcus, your son-in-law of is so powerful, he even dares to hit Franklin and won't let us in!"

After seeing that Marcus had returned, Andrew also let out a sigh of relief, while holding his head high with his hands behind his back and shouting in a deep voice.

In the Griffith family, Andrew was the eldest son, Marcus was only the second son, and because of Maximilian and Victoria's relationship, he had been unappreciated by the Grandpa, and had only been given an outside job.

"Uncle and Aunt, just now Maximilian said that he is in charge of this family."

Franklin also came to strength at the moment and deliberately said.

Upon hearing this, Laura's face instantly sank and she pointed at Maximilian and yelled.

"What do you mean? Are you in charge of this house? Are you crazy? Or have you been bold, you're really getting out of line, it's pissing me off!"

While saying that, Laura was about to find something to whip Maximilian with.

Marcus, who was naturally pulling Laura aside, stared at Andrew with an ugly face and asked.

"What are you doing here, big brother? You haven't been over for two years, so why are you suddenly making a visit today."

At the end of the sentence, Marcus squeezed out a small smile. With these words, Andrew's old face flushed and he said.

"We're looking for Victoria for something."

"Something? What is it? It was clear at the meeting that our daughter was removed from her position as director, what else do you want from her?"

Marcus wondered.

Andrew and Franklin looked at each other, and their throats were clogged without saying a sentence.

Could it be that Marcus was still being asked to help speak up?

At this moment, Maximilian spoke up and said.

"All the companies and manufacturers that worked with Yunsheng Pharmaceuticals cut off their cooperation, and now Yunsheng Pharmaceuticals is at risk of bankruptcy and has to pay about 320 million dollars in damages for breach of contract. They're here to ask Victoria for the Graham Group's contract, and right now, only Graham can save Yunsheng Pharmaceutical."

After hearing those words, Laura froze, while Marcus's eyebrows clustered, and after a brief moment of thought, a smile bloomed at the corners of his mouth.

"If you've come to beg, why are you still arguing? Is this your attitude to beg for forgiveness?"

Marcus looked at Andrew and the others and grinned.

After saying that, he turned around, pulled Laura into the house, and left a sentence, "Maximilian, if they still have this attitude, just drive them away, your mother is not well and can't stand the noise."

"Okay." Maximilian replied.

Chapter 62 He's Changed

Andrew and Franklin, the father and son, had ugly faces at the moment, while staring at Maximilian with hatred, and yelling, "Don't you get out of the way now?"

Maximilian chuckled, and did not say anything, turned around and entered the house, Franklin coldly smiled and followed by raising his steps to go inside.

Bang! The door was closed.

Franklin stood in the doorway, his nose was bleeding from the door hitting him, and he broke into a cursing fit at once while saying "Maximilian! How dare you do this to me, you fucking loser, I won't be able to spare you!"

Andrew, who was distressed by his son, inquired a few words and grunted under his breath,

"This Maximilian, he's really getting out of line."

"Dad, what do you think we should do now? Do we really have to go in there with our heads down and apologize?"

Franklin's heart was not convinced. He felt that he would rather die than apologize to a bitch like Victoria. Andrew shook his head, sighed, and said, "What else can we do now? Otherwise, we wouldn't even be able to get in the door."

For a moment, Franklin fell silent with a chill sinking into his eyes.

Andrew let out a deep breath before ringing the doorbell and shouting in a fairly sincere manner.

"Marcus, open the door, big brother has something to say to you."

A short while later, Maximilian opened the door again and said indifferently.

"Come on in." Andrew squeezed out a smile, but his eyes held hatred.

This revenge, he had to take it back.

When they entered the house, Andrew and Franklin sat straight down on the sofa, and the latter took one look at them and yelled.

"What, we come here for a visit and we don't even get a cup of tea?"

Laura, who was sitting beside Marcus at the moment, immediately glared at Maximilian and ordered.

"Go and pour the tea."

Maximilian answered and poured a few cups of tea for them.

Andrew didn't drag his feet and got right to the point while saying.

"Marcus, what happened just now is my fault for being a big brother, and I make amends to you."

Laura and Marcus both shivered slightly. For so many years, they only saw big brother Andrew act strongly and despise people, when did he give them an apology like this now?

Franklin was also sullenly drinking tea with his head down, like sitting on pins and needles, feeling that his family's face was lost.

But, if having to ask for help, it is all that can be done.

"Oh, big brother, what are you doing, we are brothers from a close family and don't talk like from two families, it seems that this time, the plight of Yunsheng Pharmaceutical has given you a lot of pressure, otherwise, you wouldn't have given us such a apology."

Marcus said. He was so happy inside at this moment.

Andrew, who had always been so supercilious, actually bowed down and apologized to him!

He couldn't wait to go out and ask the neighbors to look at this scene right now.

Andrew's old face reddened, he could hear the outside meaning of his second brother's words, but for the sake of the Graham Group's cooperation, he could only speak while braving all rebuffs.

"Little brother, this time, you must help us, if Yunsheng Pharmaceutical goes bankrupt, not only our family but also your family and the entire Griffith family will all be finished!"

Andrew was telling the truth, once Yunsheng Pharmaceutical collapsed. It directly affected the Griffith family's economic lifeline.

By then, their entire extended family would end up with huge debts.

Maximilian, on the other hand, stood silently all the while listening.

It seemed that Grandpa had put a lot of pressure on Andrew, otherwise, he wouldn't have begged so much.

"That won't work, why should I help you guys? How you treated my daughter at the meeting and removed her from her position as the director!"

Laura was narrow-minded and she refused directly with a cold face at the moment.

"Sister-in-law, this matter was ill-considered by Franklin and me. Don't worry, Victoria's position as director will remain hers. However, if Yunsheng Pharmaceuticals collapsed, this director position would naturally be gone. So, I still hope that my second brother and sister-in-law, can speak up for me, do me a favor, and help yourselves too." Andrew said.

Laura twisted her head, looked at Marcus, and thought to herself that what Andrew said was not bad. If Yunsheng Pharmaceuticals was finished, then what was left of the Griffith family?

So, this was a favor that they really had to do.

After thinking for a while, Laura raised her eyebrows, looked at Maximilian unhappily, and asked.

"Where's Victoria?"

"She went out on a trip with that Leila." Maximilian said.

"A trip? A sudden trip?"

Laura frowned and turned toward Victoria's bedroom.

When she entered the room, Laura saw Victoria who was lying on the bed reading a book, and was instantly dumbfounded while asking

"Didn't Maximilian say you went on a trip, why are you still lying here?"

Victoria smiled wickedly and said softly.

"Mom, I didn't go on the tour, Maximilian told me to hide here."

"Maximilian?" Laura raised an eyebrow and instantly understood what Maximilian meant, and said with a smile without good humor.

"You two are deliberately setting a trap for Andrew and Franklin, aren't you?"

That loser Maximilian, he's really something. Doesn't he know that Yunsheng Pharmaceutical is going bankrupt? Playing this little game at this time, is he trying to harm our family? No, I have to go out and teach him a lesson!"

After saying that, Laura turned her head and was about to go out.

"Mom, what are you doing?"

Victoria immediately got up while tugging Laura's hand as she said.

"Can you stop calling him a wimp every time, if it wasn't for him this time, would eldest uncle and Franklin be able to bow down and apologize to you and dad like they did just now?"

Laura was stunned and thought about it and had to agree.

But what could be good came from that bastard Maximilian's idea?

She glared at Victoria and said.

"You are so enchanted by him for helping him with such things. He only knows how to play these tricks and has no real capability. If our family relies on him, it will be over sooner or later.

Victoria, I'm talking with you, you should look for your next family, and do you really want to live with this loser for the rest of your life? I think Travis is just fine."

"Mom, there you go again, I'm not divorcing him, he's my husband, and he's Sissi's father.

Besides, we love each other."

Victoria said.

Laura was furious when she heard this, and all she could think about all day was how to get her daughter to divorce Maximilian so that she could kick that loser out of the Griffith family.

Now when she saw Victoria treating Maximilian in this defensive manner, she was upset in her heart. Was it hard to believe that these two were getting along again?

"Victoria, I warn you, don't get attached to him, you two got married in the first place because of that mistake Sissi made!

A wimp like him is not worthy of being my son-in-law at all, but I want to live a good life, my daughter should at least marry a rich man like Travis, understand?"

Laura gasped. Victoria didn't say anything, she had long had feelings for Maximilian, and after all, they were sleeping in the same room together for four years, and having a love child like Sissi.

Even if Maximilian was a loser and useless, he was still the man she had chosen for herself.

Victoria had this nature, which was unconquerable.

She just couldn't believe that the man she had chosen in the first place would be so unbearable.

Moreover, the more recently, the more Victoria noticed that Maximilian had changed while becoming different from before.

"Mom, don't you think that Maximilian has changed?"

Victoria asked.

Chapter 63 Waiting for Grandpa to Apologize in Person

"What has changed? What can he have to change? he's just a wimp, you still expect him to be some rich kid who is out of his family to experience a poor life? Don't dream, my daughter. Be realistic. What can Maximilian give you? What can he get for me and your dad?"

Laura grunted under her breath.

Feeling that she couldn't talk to her old mother anymore, Victoria reclined on her bed and said.

"I'm not going to divorce him anyway, so if you fancy Travis, then marry him yourself."

What..... As soon as she heard this, Laura was furious and slapped on Victoria's hips twice and scolded.

"You're deliberately trying to piss me off, aren't you? If your mother were younger, I would have married Travis a long time ago!"

While having said that, Laura's attitude softened again, and he advised bitterly.

"Victoria, it's not that mom is forcing it on you, it's just that you have to plan for your future. Do you really want to live your whole life with that worthless thing Maximilian? Even if you're not thinking of yourself, you should be thinking of Sissi. If she is old enough, can she accept that her dad is a worthless loser? What do her peers think of her?"

Victoria covered her head and put the quilt directly over her body.

Laura glared, and exasperated.

"Think about it for yourself, and mom won't rush you, when you figure it out, you'll understand how good mom is to you."

With that, Laura turned her head to leave, but her eyes fell on a beautiful box on the bedroom dresser. What a beautiful necklace!

"OMG, my daughter, is this..... uhis necklace full of real diamonds?"

Laura immediately went over and looked through the exquisite box. The sparkling diamonds were so beautiful!

Victoria hurriedly got up, and when she saw Laura trying to open the box, she immediately rushed over and snatched the box back while saying.

"It's not mine, Leila put it here with me, so don't touch it."

Laura gave her a blank look and said.

"Are you still lying to Mom? You think mom doesn't know? This is the hundred flower fairy diamond necklace, the first sold in all of H City, when staff sent it to your company that has long spread. Ouch, I don't know which rich boy has taken a fancy to my daughter. How wonderful it is!"

Laura's heart was excited. It seemed that his daughter was not stupid while knowing to leave some spare tire for herself.

Victoria hurriedly explained, "Mom, you're over thinking it, I'm returning this necklace."

Upon hearing that it was to be returned, Laura became anxious and said.

"Why do you return it? Are you stupid? Since someone gave it to you, he is into you!

And, to give such an expensive necklace as soon as the first move, can he be an ordinary person?

Listen to Mom and get along with this man."

After saying that, Laura left the bedroom with a smile.

Victoria sat on the bed and stirred her legs in anger, her mother misunderstood again.

Laura went out the door, and also stood at the door and laughed twice when followed by taking out her phone and sending a text message to Travis,

"Travis, I saw that necklace you gave to Victoria, it was so beautiful, Victoria was so happy. You need to ask her out for dinner and chat with her more often."

Following that, Laura walked towards the living room.

And over here, Travis was drinking and chatting with a few friends in the clubhouse when he suddenly received a text message from Laura, and when he looked at the content, he also made a fool of himself.

A necklace? What necklace? The one she gave to Victoria last time, she didn't confiscate it.

Could it be that Laura had misunderstood something again?

Travis smiled and returned.

"Auntie, it's good that Victoria likes it."

In Laura's living room. Instead of seeing Andrew and Franklin, she only saw Maximilian and Marcus.

"Where are big brother and Franklin? Didn't they come here to meet Victoria? Why did they leave?" Laura asked.

Marcus glanced at Maximilian with some fear in his eyes.

The scene at the door just now, where Maximilian showed his strong attitude made his heart palpitate now.

Marcus had never expected that Maximilian had such a fierce side, it was as if he had changed into another person.

This son-in-law, who had been in the Griffith family for four years, always behaved in a submissive manner, so why was he so overbearing today? He even dared to hit Franklin and stop even Andrew.

Moreover, the conversation with Andrew just now made Marcus terrified.

"I let them go, and since they are begging for Victoria, they should have come in a sincere manner to ask for help. Besides, Grandpa hasn't come over himself yet, and he's the one who started it all." Maximilian said faintly.

This sentence, like a thunderbolt, thundered Marcus and Laura out of their souls!

This meant that Grandpa had to come and beg Victoria in person?

This, this was insane!

"Maximilian, do you want to die?"

Marcus stood up in an instant while pointing at Maximilian and scolding him.

"Do you know what you're going to do to our family by doing this? You are out of your mind!"

Laura also had a horrified look on her face as she bellowed.

"Maximilian, you fucking piece of shit, you're trying to destroy our family! Since when is it your turn to be in charge of our family? Get your ass out of here and get your uncle and Franklin back!"

What kind of man was Samuel?

That was someone who didn't even care about his kinship, and he would come and beg Victoria personally?

It was a fool's errand!

"Dad and Mom, Grandpa will definitely come over, this matter concerns the survival of the Griffith family.

The Grandpa is more astute than any of you."

Maximilian said, and turned and went into the kitchen to prepare dinner.

Laura, on the other hand, was so angry that she couldn't say anything, and she actually had the feeling that she couldn't see through this trash

Maximilian.

"Marcus, what the hell is going on with this .....? Is he crazy?"

Laura asked in exasperation and hatred.

Marcus shook his head and said.

"I don't know. He is very different today. But, it's done, so we'll just have to wait."

Laura asked with a shiver and some fear.

"Is the Grandpa really coming over?"

Marcus shook his head helplessly and smiled.

"How could Grandpa possibly condescend to come over, it's not like you don't know what kind of person our Grandpa is, at most he'll just have Andrew and the others come over again."

Laura nodded and glared at Maximilian with resentment.

In the evening, after dinner, Maximilian walked into the bedroom and saw Victoria, lying on her bed after bath.

He skillfully took out his toolbox. While he smeared his hands with essential oil, pouring some on Victoria's smooth and tender back as he started the massage.

Victoria enjoyed the SPA massage that Maximilian gave her every week.

"Ah, a little below."

Victoria gave a hum, her expression was really charming.

Maximilian really massaged her with his eyes fell on the phone in Victoria's hand. He smiled and asked.

"You've been watching this concert for a long time, do you want to go to the live concert?"

Victoria put the phone down in her hand and sighed.

"I want to go, this music festival is full of famous foreign musicians and music groups, and even old Mr. Kazuhiro Hisaishi is here.

But these tickets have been speculated to be sky high, it is over 10,000 dollars a ticket and too expensive....."

Maximilian smiled slightly. He knew Victoria always liked to listen to music.

"You're a fan of Mr. Kazuhiro Hisaishi?" Maximilian asked suddenly.

Victoria said with a wistful expression.

"Well, it would be nice to have a picture with him.

But a solo meeting with old Mr. Kazuhiro Hisaishi has been fetching sky-high prices online. Maybe the hundreds of thousands....."

While speaking of which, Victoria couldn't help but feel a little lost.

Maximilian glanced at her phone and made a mental note of it.

Ten minutes later, after having packed his things, Maximilian went outside the house, dialed Wilfred's phone and said.

"Set up a private meeting for me with Kazuhiro Hisaishi, for whatever it costs, and tell him to put off the other meetings."

Whatever you wanted, I would give it to you.

Chapter 64 Impressed

The next morning, Grandpa Samuel went out while leaving the old house and preparing to head to the offspring of his second wife. When this news spread within the Griffith family, everyone was shocked!

It must have been many years since Grandpa was actually going to the second son's house, this was definitely shocking news for the Griffith family!

The status of Samuel Griffith's second wife's offspring was once very high, but since that miserable marriage four years ago, it had fallen to the ground!

"No way, does Grandpa really go to Victoria's house?"

"To do what? Who had inquired about it?"

"That's supposed to be a rumor. Why should Grandpa go there? it's not a nice place."

Several of the Griffith's descendants gathered together while chattering and talking, no one dared to go into detail.

But when they saw the picture of Grandpa Samuel getting out of the car in Victoria's neighborhood, everyone was dumbfounded!

Samuel really went for it!

Accompanied by him, there were several other people, including Andrew and Franklin.

Soon, it also became clear to everyone that for the sake of Yunsheng Pharmaceutical, Samuel had sort of bowed his head this time.

For so many years, Samuel had lived a proud life and had never served anyone, but he had never expected that this time, he had actually bowed down to the second house of the Griffith family.

Marcus and Laura heard news early in the morning, and they were also so shocked that they could not speak for a long time.

They thought that Grandpa would not come. He would just let Andrew and Franklin make another trip, but to their surprise, he actually came here in person.

Yunsheng Pharmaceuticals was now facing internal and external problems; the cooperation of Graham Group was the life-saving straw for Yunsheng Pharmaceuticals and even the entire Griffith family. Samuel understood in his heart that whether Yunsheng Pharmaceuticals could get through this

So, yesterday when Andrew and Franklin went back and said what had happened to them at Victoria's house, Grandpa understood.

Victoria was holding his soft spot, so there was no choice but to make the trip himself.

Although Grandpa was reluctant in his heart, he still condescended to come for the sake of the Griffith family.

Both Marcus and Laura, had long been waiting at the door, and they hurried up to help Samuel when they saw him get out of the car.

"Dad, why are you here in person? If you have something, just call us directly. We'll go over there, there is no need for you to make a trip in person." Marcus laughed.

"Yeah, Dad, you just call me if you need anything." Laura chimed in while squeezing out a smile.

She could make a fuss at home, but was still a wimp in front of Grandpa.

Samuel grunted nonchalantly and said.

"If I don't come, our Griffith family won't even know if we can see the sun tomorrow. Why do you two do all the pretenses here? Where is Victoria? Ask her to come out; I am coming, if she has anything for me to do, just ask."

After hearing these words, Marcus's heart trembled. It was over, and Samuel was holding a grudge.

While thinking, Marcus glanced at Maximilian beside him and said to Samuel.

"Dad, Victoria isn't home. She's out on a trip and shouldn't be back until this afternoon."

With an indifferent look, Maximilian followed Marcus and invited Samuel to his home, while serving tea and water to the crowd.

However, Samuel didn't even look at Maximilian from the beginning.

Because, according to what Franklin said, this loser Maximilian was behind this matter.

"On a trip? Call her and tell her to come back ASAP."

Samuel sat on the couch and grunted under his breath.

"Dad, I'm afraid this..... is a little hard to call her back, and it's not like you can just call her back."

Laura said coyly while glaring at Maximilian.

If he hadn't had the bad idea, would the whole family have to lie with him?

Maximilian, who was on the side, suddenly said.

"She's back already, just wait for a few more minutes."

Suddenly, everyone's eyes were all gathered on Maximilian.

Maximilian's words shocked Marcus and Laura. They were just saying that they had to wait for the afternoon, but now Maximilian said that she would be back in a few minutes.

"Maximilian, are you allowed to talk here? Get the fuck out of here! Victoria was clearly out and didn't come back until this afternoon."

Laura glared angrily at Maximilian, wanting to throw him out right now.

What was his intention?

Cheating on Samuel to his face?

"Dad, don't listen to Maximilian's nonsense, he just said it casually."

Marcus was also frightened and hurriedly said in alarm.

"Humph!" Samuel snorted coldly, looked up at Maximilian, and asked.

"This whole thing is your idea?"

Without denying it, Maximilian said.

"Yes."

"Maximilian, I know you are behind this. Grandpa, listen, he admitted it himself, this guy, he's simply greedy, he must be expelled from the Griffith family!"

After hearing this, Franklin on the side immediately jumped out, while pointing at Maximilian and spewing curses.

The look in his eyes was as if he wanted to eat Maximilian alive.

However, Maximilian only gave a slight sideways glance and said with a cold smile at the corner of his mouth.

"Franklin, now that I'm talking to Grandpa, please shut up."

"What? You told me to shut up?! You're simply rebellious!"

Franklin was so angry that he raised his hand and slapped over.

But Maximilian just kicked directly into Franklin's stomach while staggering him, and said in a cold voice.

"This is not the Griffith family's old house, and since you are here to beg, you must have the attitude of a beggar!"

This scene scared both Marcus and Laura to the point where their liver and guts trembled violently!

Maximilian was getting really reckless!

"Grandpa!" Franklin was in a hurry.

Clap! Samuel slapped Franklin across the face and bellowed.

"You get out of the way!"

Franklin panicked and climbed up with his eyes staring at Maximilian with resentment, as he stood silently to the side.

Following that, Samuel asked.

"Say it, what do you and Victoria really wants?"

Maximilian smiled faintly.

"It's simple, and I won't make it difficult for you. Firstly, all it takes is a nod of your head and an admission of your mistake. Secondly, the position of vice general manager of the company should be given to Victoria, and, the cooperation with the Graham Group is for her, and no one else can interfere in."

"How dare you! Maximilian, do you really think me as the head of the Griffith family is easy to bully? What if I don't say yes?"

Samuel became angry when he heard the first request.

"If grandpa doesn't agree, it's fine. Yunsheng Pharmaceuticals will declare bankruptcy tomorrow morning, the Griffith family will be saddled with huge debts, and everything you have now will be reduced to nothing."

Maximilian spoke as if he were talking about a very common thing.

The words froze everyone in the room for a moment.

Samuel also looked pale and hesitated for a while before he said.

"Okay, I promise you!"

"Victoria, come out." Maximilian saw that Samuel had agreed and shouted directly.

Victoria, who had been hiding in the bedroom, walked out at this moment.

Franklin immediately pointed at her with his face full of confusion, and shouted

"You, didn't you go out for a trip?"

Maximilian chuckled and muttered.

"Idiot." Samuel also looked at Franklin and shook his head helplessly.

When Victoria came out, she first bent down for Grandpa and said.

"Grandpa, I'm sorry, this....."

Samuel knocked his cane heavily on the floor tiles in his hand, got up, and said.

"You don't have to tell me you're sorry. It's me, your Grandpa, who should be sorry."

After saying that, Samuel really gave Victoria a slight bend of apology in the sight of the crowd!

"Victoria, it is me who has wronged you and made you suffer.

The position of vice general manager of the company is yours from today, and you should work well with the Graham Group and don't let me down."

Everyone was dumbfounded.

Until the Grandpa left with the people, Laura and Marcus were still in a daze.

For his part, Maximilian smiled and said.

"Then, I'll go to work first."

Victoria looked at Maximilian who was about to leave and suddenly shouted,

"Wait, thank you!"

Without saying anything, Maximilian turned his head and left.

Laura then was awake while tugging Victoria's hand and asking incredulously.

"Victoria, Samuel just apologized to you, right?"

And, the position of vice general manager is really for you?"

Marcus sat on the sofa and laughed loudly.

"Yes, yes! We are finally going to rise!"

Victoria nodded her head with hmm, Laura smiled from ear to ear and looked at Maximilian who left and said,

"I didn't expect it, but thanks to that loser Maximilian this time. I've really changed my mind about him a bit."

"Mom, you don't have to keep scolding him."

Victoria said.

"Okay, mom won't say anything again. I'm happy today. I'll ask Maximilian to buy some groceries back."

Laura said while taking out her phone and dialing Maximilian's number.

But, soon, the bathroom rang.

Upon hearing this, Victoria turned around and walked in, rummaged through the dirty clothes and pulled out Maximilian's cell phone and returned to the living room while saying.

"Mom, Maximilian left his phone behind, I'll go get it for him."

As he was talking, a ring was in his hand, it was a text message alert.

The sender's name was Wilfred.

Just while reading the first few words.

After the concert, with Kazu Hisaishi .....

Wilfred?

Why did that name sound a little familiar?

While thinking, Victoria tapped on the contents of the text message.

Chapter 65 Vienna Concert Hall

Suddenly, a figure barged in.

Maximilian panted and looked at the phone in Victoria's hand, reached out and naturally took it over while laughing.

"I forgot my phone."

Victoria turned back, gave Maximilian a blank look, and said,

"Mom asked you to come back tonight with some groceries."

Maximilian nodded in response.

"OK!" Following that, he asked, somewhat uneasily.

"The phone, you didn't look at it....."

Upon hearing this, Victoria stuck one hand on her waist, twisted Maximilian's ear with the other, and scolded.

"Maximilian, what do you mean?"

You suspect me of peeking at your phone?

I don't care about your stupid phone, besides, do you really have secrets in it?"

When Maximilian saw this angry look of Victoria, the corners of his mouth curved slightly and said.

"No, no....."

Huh! Victoria pretended to be angry and showed Maximilian his white eyes, turned her head and walked away, while saying.

"I'm angry."

Maximilian looked at Victoria's back as she left, and let out a sigh of relief in his heart as he looked down at the contents of his text message.

After the concert, a single meeting with Mr. Kazuhiro Hisaishi had been arranged at the largest concert hall in H

City, Vienna.

Maximilian replied,

"I'll go see how the concert is set later."

After all, he was Victoria's favorite piano virtuoso, who was internationally renowned, and the arrangements and furnishings of the concert hall had to be of high specification and class.

It was a gift for Victoria.

After all these years, he had never given Victoria any decent gift.

After leaving home, Maximilian first went to the hospital to play with Sissi for a while, and then he went to the Supreme Beauty SPA Saloon to sort of meet with everyone and made arrangements for work.

He was the boss of the SPA Saloon, and she didn't need to do anything by himself.

Then he made a trip to the Vienna Music Hall to see what had been arranged by Wilfred.

The Vienna Concert Hall, which was considered the largest music showroom in H City, had concerts every month, and those who came here were usually the dignitaries and celebrities of H City.

That was why it was also known as a gathering place for the rich.

A lot of young girls who wanted to find a sugar daddy would keep watch at the door of the concert hall and stuck up for any rich guys or big bosses or whatever they saw.

Maximilian rode his motor bike all the way to the entrance of the Vienna Concert Hall, which, at first glance, was really not a general classy Concert Hall.

It was grand and luxurious.

The shape of the whole Vienna Concert Hall was built in the form of an inverted sailing ship, with a majestic atmosphere and an overall pattern of squared lines, dominated by gold and complemented by silver, for a luxurious look.

There were also two golden statues of angels on either side of the door, while holding musical notes, making it the kingdom of heaven.

And at the main entrance to the Vienna Concert Hall was golden granite carved semi-human sculpture, pure gold, of the architect Ma Pingtian, the top international architect, who designed and built the Vienna Concert Hall in the first place. He created a design work in every three years, each of which was admired by millions and vied to be bought.

And this Vienna Concert Hall was the finale of Ma Pingtian's work.

Therefore, whoever was able to hold concerts in Vienna Concert Hall, meant unquestionable reputation and fame.

Even the tickets to the concerts in Vienna had become a status standard for H City's upper class celebrities.

Maximilian stood in the doorway, looked at the statue for a few moments, and said with a faint smile at the corner of his mouth.

"I can't believe it's this old man's design work, that's boring."

He thought back then, Ma Pingtian was chasing after Maximilian to build a building for him.

Maximilian disliked his daily visits at that time and casually took out a few hundred million and handed it to him to build a villa in the mountain.

Being able to build a villa for the young master of Dragon Gate was the lifelong wish of many master architects.

Maximilian laughed to himself, and the situation was different now.

Following that, he lifted his steps toward the hall.

"Hello, sir, the concert hall is temporarily closed to the public."

At the door, a young and beautiful female receptionist was dressed in a pale gold uniform with a white and gold embroidered silk scarf tied around her neck.

Maximilian was stunned, looked at the woman in front of him, and said with a slight smile.

"I've come to find someone."

"May I ask which one you are looking for? I'll help you with that."

The female receptionist was polite and didn't look at Maximilian differently because he was dressed plainly.

"I'm looking for your....."

Maximilian was just about to speak when a sexy woman walking up to the entrance of that main hall in a huff interrupted his next words.

She was dressed in the same pale gold uniform, except the silk scarf on her neck was red embroidered with orchids.

She was good looking and well built, but with an arrogant frown.

Those heels stepping on the granite tiles made the sound of "Toot toot."

The sound of the voice, he could hear that it came with anger.

"Katherine, what are you doing, haven't I already informed that the concert hall is temporarily closed to the public and no one is allowed to come in?!"

The woman with a haughty posture and cold-eyed air, wrinkled her brows and swept a glance at Maximilian who was in front of her, then she pointed at the female receptionist and yelled.

"Matilda, this gentleman says he's looking for someone."

Katherine's face was tinged with fear, as she explained with a panicked expression.

Matilda was the foreman of this group of female receptionists in the Vienna Concert Hall. She was arrogant and usually very harsh to everyone while always calling out to everyone.

She would take it out on everyone if she was slightly displeased.

As soon as she heard Katherine's words, Matilda immediately shot an icy look toward Maximilian with her willow eyebrows twisted and she said suspiciously.

"Who are you looking for? Who is this guy? He's dressed like a loser. It's a stall, right? Such a poor bastard, and he's coming to the Vienna Concert Hall to find someone? Oh yes, it should be the folk who came in to help move things."

"Hello, my name is Maximilian and I'm looking for you....." Maximilian smiled and spoke.

"Okay, okay, I get it, no one needs to know what your name is, just come with me."

Matilda directly waved her hand to interrupt Maximilian's next words, twisted her head and gave Katherine a fierce glare when she pinched the tender flesh on her arm with her upper hand and said.

"You keep an eye on the gate, don't let in any junk, if you spoil the concert the day after, there'll be hell to pay!"

Katherine rubbed his arm with his eyes filled with tears, kept bending his head down and saying sorry, and glanced at Maximilian with her spare light while smiling faintly at him.

Maximilian also smiled politely at her while thinking, this girl, not very old, was polite to people, and had a soft and sticky nature.

Without much thought, Maximilian followed Matilda in front of him and walked up toward the inner hall of the concert hall.

Maximilian couldn't help but just look at her back a few more times, with the range of the hip jerking...

What a beauty she really was.

"What are you looking at?!"

Suddenly, Matilda in front of him turned around with her face cold and disgust as she glared at Maximilian.

"Ah? No, no..... I'll just take a look....."

Maximilian was a little embarrassed.

He was found out by people.

Matilda wrapped her arms around her chest and coldly snorted while saying.

"Ha ha, I've seen many migrant workers like you. They are used to petty theft, and their eyes are also sneaky. If you look around again, I'll find someone to dig out your eyes!"
