

Chapter143 He really came

"Bah! Don't make trouble. Move aside and stop your bragging! No one will treat you as dumb if you don't speak. If you dare to say one more word, I'll tear your mouth!" Laura said angrily.

It was not easy to stabilize Humphrey's morale, Maximilian words destroyed everything.

"You can? Can you ask boss Marsh to come here? It's no use just talking nonsense." Humphrey yelled angrily.

"You failed to do it, but I've already told him. Marsh will be here soon." Maximilian said firmly.

"Oh, then, I have nothing to say!" Humphrey took out his mobile phone and said, "My father is the chairman of the EcoTrust Group. As long as my father agrees to help, I'm sure Marsh doesn't dare to refuse us!"

Lucy grabbed Andy and said, "Andy, is this EcoTrust Group tough?"

"Fuck, that's really tough! As a top ten business groups in H City, it is mainly engaged in international trade. I didn't expect Humphrey's family to be so powerful. Like father, like son! I want to follow Humphrey, and learn something from him!" Andy said with a fawning smile.

"Are you still living in the Qing dynasty? Where is the Dragon smell?" Maximilian said.

"You're such a loser. Where do you get so many strange words? Read some serious books. Don't just watch the rubbish on the Internet all day. It will make your IQ down to zero!"

Lucy and other's eyes are bright, as they did not expect Humphrey's family was so extraordinary.

Not only Humphrey himself was a bull in the investment field, his father was also in charge of the import and export business group! What a noble family!

Laura didn't know that Humphrey had such a father before. When she heard about it, she wanted to kick Maximilian to death, and then let Humphrey to be her son-in-law.

She was sure she would live happily ever after she married her daughter in to a family like this, and she can buy any luxury stuff as she wanted! She could also show off in front of friends and relatives!

Humphrey had put on a look that he was powerful but he didn't say, enjoying people's envious eyes. By pressing the dial-up key, Humphrey put his mobile phone to his ear with the handsome action he had practiced thousands of times. At this moment, Humphrey felt that he was back to the peak of his life.

What happened just now was an accident! It was all because he was reluctant to use the power of his family. He just wanted to be an ordinary person, but they had forced him to show his might!

At that moment, Humphrey's inner drama exploded. If he let Maximilian know his inner drama, he would burst out laughter.

"Dad, something unexpected happened to me. I have to ask you to help me." Humphrey said with a smile.

"Just say it. I'll have a meeting soon." At the other end of the phone, a low voice came.

"Marsh's investment company raised money illegally, and my friends put their money in. They want to ask the money back..."

Before Humphrey finished, Humphrey's father frowned on the other side of the phone.

"Why do you meddle in other people's business, Marsh? He's not a good guy. Cutting off his wealth is like killing his parents. Don't provoke them. You can do whatever you want."

"No, it's nothing for me, but to help my friends! I do not mean to cut off his fortune."

"Naive! Don't get involved. If I know you're involved, I will break your leg!"

When his father hang up the phone, Humphrey did not put down his phone.

What was the situation? Why was his father so shameless and angry?

Humphrey slowly put down his cell phone. Laura and the others look at him with hopeful eyes.

"Humphrey, what did your father say?" Laura asked eagerly.

"Oh, oh." Humphrey instantly came up with a lie as usual, "My dad said he would contact Marsh. There's still a process to go, and we'll get news later."

"It seems that there is no problem. Your father is the chairman of EcoTrust Group. Who can refuse your father?" Laura said with a compliment.

When they heard Humphrey's words, they were relieved. They thought it was really settled.

"Humphrey is so powerful. Just now we are just short-sighted. Don't be angry with us and don't mind those words."

Lucy immediately admitted her mistake.

"It's OK. I understand your worries. If I can't take out my money, I will be as worried as you." Humphrey said, pretending to be magnanimous.

"Look at Humphrey's tolerance. A big figure can endure everything! Only a trash like Maximilian will haggle over everything." Lily turned to Maximilian.

"A loser is a loser. There's no way for him to compare with Humphrey. A hero like Humphrey, his hair is thicker than the loser's waist. Poor waste bite off more than he can chew!" Andy also satirized Maximilian.

Humphrey glanced at Maximilian, but he was not in the mood to humiliate him at the moment. Instead, he was thinking about how to deal with the matter in front of him.

Baron looked at Humphrey suspiciously. He didn't believe Humphrey's words. He clearly heard his boss's words and wanted to embarrass Humphrey.

"You'd better not be happy too soon. Our boss is not the one who gives in easily."

Baron was holding a cigarette and looked at Humphrey with disdain. Humphrey was angry, and Baron had to add fuel to the fire.

"Marsh will come later. You can be careful then." Humphrey said casually for the sake of his face.

Baron stunned, pondering, was Humphrey so powerful that his boss would come?

"OK, if our boss comes, I'll be polite to you, and I can kneel down and lick your shoes." said Baron, laughing.

"Then you'll have to kneel down and lick them."

Humphrey regretted what he said before. Where could he find the fuck Marsh? If Marsh didn't come, he would over.

Humphrey didn't want to lose face in front of Maximilian.

Even for a moment, Humphrey was wondering if Maximilian was born to defeat him and why everything would be so difficult when Maximilian was around.

But, a Mercedes Benz S600 came slowly. Baron looked at the license plate and shivered all over. The cigarettes in his mouth fell off. This was indeed Marsh's car! Was his father so powerful?

Baron was surprised, but his face was full of smiles. He patted

Humphrey's arm and said, "Yes, brother, you are really somebody!"

"What do you mean?" Humphrey asked suspiciously.

"Are you going to pretend you know nothing? Our boss is here. Have you seen this car?" Baron pointed with a smile.

Chapter144 Bullish

Inside the Mercedes Benz S600, Marsh's face was full of flattering smile, "Master Connor, let's go down together, and you need to help me make amends to the young lord."

"Young lord doesn't want to let people know his identity. Just call him Mr. Lee, and I won't go down. It's not good to have too many people and eyes on us. Just remember what you need to do. Go."

Connor didn't want to show up at this time.

There were Maximilian's relatives and friends. If they were too respectful to Maximilian, their relationship would be discovered by others. If they were not respectful enough, Maximilian would hold a grudge against him.

So Connor thought about it and stayed in the car to keep things under control.

"Then I'll deal with it first, and then I'll rely on Connor to help me with some sweet words."

Connor closed his eyes and waved his hand. Marsh opened the door and got out of the car. After getting out of the car, Marsh looked at the group, analyzing who Maximilian was.

After taking a look at Maximilian, Marsh immediately turned his eyes. It was because of his ordinary clothes, which was not consistent with the image of the young lord in Marsh's mind.

Was Dragon Sect so powerful? Even if he had to disguise himself, he should at least wear something decent. He shouldn't wear an ordinary shirt.

Excluding Maximilian, Marsh's eyes swept over Andy. Looking at Andy's better street clothing, Marsh shook his head slightly. In the end, Marsh focused his eyes on Humphrey.

In Marsh's eyes, Humphrey was in a Givenchy suit, which fit the imagination. In addition, Baron's expression also affected Marsh's judgment.

Previously, he told Baron to embarrass Humphrey, so Marsh instinctively thought that the person who could make Baron treat him so warmly would not be Humphrey. It was probably the young lord of Dragon Sect who couldn't bear it and hinted at Baron's identity in a low-key way.

After thinking about this, Marsh immediately smiled and sped up his pace towards Humphrey.

Baron had been observing the look of his boss. Seeing Marsh smiling at Humphrey, he immediately complimented Humphrey more.

"Humphrey really has influence. It seems that our boss is really here for you. Let's meet our boss now." Baron immediately said with a flattering smile.

Humphrey was so shocked that he raised his head and straightened his clothes, just like a proud Little Swan.

Although Humphrey wondered why Marsh had suddenly appeared, seeing Marsh's look with a bit of flattery, Humphrey suddenly felt that there might be some changes that he didn't know, since he had bragged and Marsh did come.

But no matter what changed, Humphrey thought it was good for him. At least this time, he was successful. The rest was just false civility!

At this time, Baron's words attracted the attention of Laura and others.

Looking at Marsh striding forward, and looking at Humphrey's posture, which seemed to be welcoming the arrival of a subordinate, Laura and others were elated.

"Humphrey is so powerful. Now that he called the big boss, our money will be returned soon." Laura said in a high pitch.

For Laura, Humphrey's victory was her victory, because she invited Humphrey here!

Lucy and others were no longer hesitant, coming up with the enthusiasm and saying all kinds of nice words to Humphrey.

"Just now, it's my fault. Now, you are really amazing. Humphrey will surely have a bright future and become the richest man in H City."

"Humphrey has so much power, and so much talent. I don't know if you had married. There are many beautiful girls in my family that I can introduce to you."

Laura raised her eyebrows and thought no one could be introduced to Humphrey! If Maximilian was not in the way, Humphrey would have become her son-in-law in the future.

"Keep your hands off Humphrey. Humphrey won't take a fancy to those mediocre girls."

As a warning to the old sisters, Laura glared at Maximilian fiercely, wondering that she would handle him later. She must take today's opportunity to drive the loser out of his house!

Maximilian didn't see Laura's eyes. Instead, he looked at Marsh in disbelief. He didn't know what was going on. Did Connor do something wrong?

After a little thought, Maximilian helplessly shook his head. As long as they can get the money back, he just let the rest go.

Marsh had come up to Humphrey and reached out his right hand.

Humphrey put on airs, gently shook Marsh's hand, and then immediately released it, obviously disdaining Marsh.

At this moment, Humphrey didn't care what Marsh came for. He wanted to hold his own posture anyway. He thought this would scare Marsh and made it easier for him to do the rest.

Marsh didn't mind. Instead, he thought to himself, this momentum and attitude was the right one. Ordinary people couldn't do it.

"This is our boss, Marsh. Boss, this is..."

Baron wanted to introduce Humphrey to Marsh, but Marsh remembers Connor's advice, shook his hand and said, "You don't have to introduce him. I know who he is."

Since Marsh knew Humphrey, Baron immediately shrunk and retreated behind Marsh.

Baron felt the scene was strange. Marsh told him to embarrass Humphrey just now, but he respected Humphrey at this moment, like dealing with his own father. Was Humphrey so powerful? Or did he have Marsh's Achilles' heel?

When Baron was puzzled, Marsh had pulled Humphrey to him and said,

"Brother, I didn't expect that your family also invested money in our company. I just hurt your family by mistake! If I knew about it earlier, I would have put your money into the account long ago. I guarantee you I'll compensate you. Wait and see." Marsh said and patted his chest.

If he wanted to make the young lord happy, he couldn't just refund the money according to the general condition. He should not only refund the money with interest, but also share more interest with him!

Humphrey eyebrows picked happily. This was just perfect, and Marsh was so nice.

"Marsh, you are really nice. In that case, let's do it quickly. After that, we won't disturb you anymore."

Marsh was thinking about how to disturb the interest. Maybe he had to disturb him once more!

He did this just to get connected with the young lord. It seemed that he was not satisfied. Maybe he needed to make more efforts!

Chapter145 Mistake

Laura was so happy. She reached out her thumb to praise Humphrey. Then she stared at Maximilian and said, "You trash, look at Humphrey. If he doesn't help me, how can we get our money back? Just now, you are still bragging. Think about how to make amends after!"

It was Laura's idea to take advantage of the opportunity to humiliate the underdog. Maybe she could humiliate Maximilian and pushed for a divorce.

Lucy looked at Maximilian contemptuously, and said frivolously, "Everything needs a comparison! You're so much worse than others. I think Laura wants to change her son-in-law. Don't get in the way! It's good for her to get rid of you ASAP."

Maximilian clenched his fist, then loosened his hand and lowered his head in silence.

"Oh, the loser is not happy. You should be a beggar and find a beggar as your wife! You're here to pull a long face at us. Looking for a fight?" Andy rolled up his sleeves and said.

Lily spat at Maximilian's feet, and then said, "Sisters, you haven't got the money yet. Don't drop the ball at this time. Listen to what Humphrey and Marsh say, and teach this loser a lesson later."

Their attention turned to Humphrey and Marsh.

Marsh had made up his mind to turn bad things into good ones no matter what. It didn't matter to pay more in order to meet the young lord.

"Don't worry, Mr. Lee. I will do a good job. I will not only pay the interest in full, but also give you a little surprise."

Humphrey frowned and felt cool in his heart. Mr. Lee, you were not here to tear down the stage, were you?

Baron's scalp exploded. He rushed to Marsh's ear and said, "Boss, he is not Mr. Lee. His name is Humphrey."

"Oh?"

Marsh was puzzled for a moment, and felt that Humphrey looks familiar, "The man who just called you, was it Humphrey?"

"Yes, boss, you asked me to tell him that if he wanted the money back, let him talk to you." Baron said carefully.

Marsh immediately felt remorse. It must have been his misjudgment of the situation at that time. The young lord of Dragon Sect must have changed his name in order to hide his identity. But no matter what his name was, as long as he was the young lord of Dragon Sect, he would spare no effort to flatter him!

Laura and others also began to murmur the sudden twists and turns.

"What's wrong, Laura? How can he call Humphrey Mr. Lee? It can't be Marsh's mistake?"

"It should not be mistake. Humphrey isn't a nobody. Could it be Marsh's slip of tongue?"

In the murmur of the crowd, Marsh gave out a hearty laugh, "Ah, it is just a misunderstanding. It's my slip of tongue just now. Look at my mouth. It does not work well after drinking some wine."

Laura and others immediately felt satisfied and began to laugh. Humphrey breathed a sigh of relief, patted Marsh on the arm and said, "Drink less during working hours. It's easy to miss something if you drink too much."

"Yes, you're right. I'll definitely stop drinking at noon in the future. What, Baron, you can process with their accounts and finish the work later."

"Okay boss."

Baron took out his mobile phone and asked Laura and others to report all the account information. After registering, he went to Marsh and said, "Boss, it's all done. Do you want to pay according to the plan?"

Marsh had made two plans before. Those people with strong identity and background would be paid all the principal and interest according to the commitment made at the time of fundraising. People with identity and background but were not powerful enough would be paid with the principal and one-year bank interest.

As for people who have no identity and background, they would receive nothing no matter how much trouble they made.

"I'll pay you three times the amount of the principal. That is my apology to you."

When Marsh finished it, he winked at Humphrey, indicating that I did it well, Young lord, Ok?

Humphrey was stunned, and then he became happy all of a sudden. Unexpectedly, Marsh gave him face as well as a big favor.

"Thank you, Marsh. Please finish it as soon as possible."

Humphrey was worried that Marsh would change his mind and urged

Marsh to pay quickly. As long as the money arrived in Laura's account, Humphrey would be able to find trouble with Maximilian!

Laura and others were ecstatic. They didn't expect such a happy ending. They not only got the money back, but also got a lot than the interest they deserved. It was just pennies from heaven.

"Marsh is really great, and Humphrey is also great. He has done everything well as he promised."

"Thank you Humphrey. If it weren't for Humphrey, we wouldn't know how worried we will be. We were so anxious just now."

"We're going to have a dinner for Humphrey in the evening. Laura, do you want to invite Victoria to accompany Humphrey?"

Laura and the group of old sisters chattered excitedly.

Marsh looked at the excited Laura and others and thought that it was well done. The Young lord must feel his sincerity.

"Haha, all right. What, Humphrey? Why not come to my car. Master Connor is also in the car. Let's just have a talk together."

Marsh warmly invited Humphrey, but Humphrey was a little muddled. He covered his head and didn't know who Master Connor was.

What was going here? He was just called as Mr. Lee. Now Master Connor was here. What the hell was going on?

Seeing that Humphrey didn't move, and he looked a little bit wrong, Marsh had a bad feeling in his heart.

"What's wrong? Master Connor is waiting for you."

Marsh said tentatively, his eyes fixed on Humphrey, observing Humphrey's reaction.

Laura and others were suddenly solidified, and they realized that something was wrong.

Maximilian suppressed his laughter and looked at Humphrey. He already knew what was going on in his heart. Marsh just mistook Humphrey as Maximilian.

But Maximilian didn't say anything, and just watched the play and waited to see Humphrey's face.

"Who are you talking about?"
Humphrey tried to intimidate Marsh with his arrogance. As long as he could cover Marsh for a while, Humphrey was ready to withdraw.

Marsh said faintly, "Don't you know Mr. Connor?"

Chapter 146 Slap

Marsh's phone suddenly rang. He took his phone out to see who was calling and immediately turned around to pick it up, "Mr. Davies, what's wrong?"

"Are you a fool? What have you done?" Conner yelled.

Conner waited in the car for a long time, feeling weird about not seeing Marsh call Maximilian. Therefore, he called Marsh to ask the reason.

Marsh finally realized that he had misunderstood Humphrey for the real young lord.

"I am...talking with them about refund."

"Fuck, I want you to show respect to the young lord, not the others. The man who is standing behind your left is the young lord of the Dragon Sect. Don't get it wrong this time. This is your last chance. If you still can't handle this properly, then you will be finished!" Conner shouted and hanged up the phone.

When Marsh looked at Humphrey again, his expression changed completely.

Laura held Humphrey's arm and asked, "What's going on, Humphrey? Who is Mr. Davies?"

"Don't worry, aunt. Maybe something goes wrong during communication." Humphrey could only lie.

At this time, Marsh already came to them in anger. He glared at Humphrey and shouted, "You fucking liar. How dare you pretend to be Mr. Lee and lie to me? You're such a trash!"

After scolding him, Marsh raised his right hand angrily and slapped Humphrey on his face.

SLAP! The slap sound was so clear and loud that it surprised Laura and the others.

Laura was wondered why Marsh's attitude had changed dramatically within such a short time.

Lucy and the others were down in the dumps upon seeing this.

They were delighted for the extra money promised; however, the situation changed suddenly, and they might even lose their principle.

“You fucking piece of shit! How dare you lie to me? Do you know who I am? No one could end intact in the H city if he lied to me!”

When Marsh was scolding, Baron already held Humphrey. Marsh slapped him many times and beat him like a drowned mouse.

“Marsh, don’t bully me. My father is Theodore! He will teach you a lesson if you keep on doing this!” Humphrey tried to fight back by mentioning who his father was.

“What the fuck is Theodore? If he dares to lie to me, I will beat him heavily as well. Do you think I can be deceived easily? The most intolerable thing for me is your pretending to be Mr. Lee.”

Everything Marsh did was to show Maximilian that it was Humphrey’s fault to pretend to be him. And the truth was Marsh was really good at acting.

“He didn’t deceive you. It was you who mistook the young lord for someone else. How can you beat him because of your mistake?” Laura yelled at Marsh.

Both Humphrey and Laura were involved in the same case. Hence, if Humphrey lost his face, so would Laura.

Moreover, Humphrey and Marsh had already fallen out. If she blamed Marsh for beating Humphrey, she could have excuse for getting a refund.

After yelling, Laura hinted Lucy and the others that they were on the same boat and had to stand for each other. Lucy and the others immediately knew what she meant. They rushed to Baron together and defended Humphrey.

Then all of them shouted at Marsh at the same time.

“You are such a jerk! How can you hit him? When are you going to give is the refund? That’s our money!”

“Why are you so aggressive? What’s wrong with Humphrey? He just wanted to help us get our money back? What’s wrong with you? Treating us as nothing?”

“Come on, girls. Tear up this guy’s mouth! We can’t let him go easily. Let’s put an end to this!”

Laura brought her friends to scratch on Marsh’s face and body like a bunch of fierce cats. Marsh became more irritated. He slapped Laura, who was the leader, on the face.

SLAP! Marsh slapped her twice, making her spinning for two rounds.

Maximilian, who was delighted to see Humphrey get beaten, heard Laura’s voice and rushed to her in a hurry.

It was a serious thing for his mother-in-law to be beaten due to his carelessness. However, Maximilian was a bit happy to see her get slapped because he was always bullied by her.

“Stop! How can you slap her?”

Maximilian yelled.

Marsh was suddenly stupefied. Seeing the real young lord, he hurriedly stopped his action and pretended a smile awkwardly.

“Well, I am so sorry. I was too impulsive and angry when seeing this guy pretending to be you.”

Marsh kept on bowing when talking, which made Laura and the others confused. Laura covered her right cheek and looked at Marsh blankly, and then Maximilian.

She felt really weird. What was going on? How could Marsh be so respectful to Maximilian? He was nothing but a trash. Marsh, on the other hand, even looked down on Humphrey’s father.

Besides, it was Marsh who called Maximilian Mr. Lee. It seemed that he was coming for that Mr. Lee, but he mistook him for Humphrey.

What happened before flashed in Laura's mind like a fast-forward movie.

Laura became more confused after that and didn't know what was going on exactly.

"Mr. Lee, don't be mad. It is me who was unable to recognize you in the first place. I am so sorry for delaying you."

Seeing Maximilian remain silent, Marsh was so desperate that he wanted to kneel down for him. However, he could only keep on bowing and begged for his mercy.

"You dare to beat my mother-in-law. Just come up with a way. How are we going to deal with this?"

Chapter 147 Apologize to Maximilian

Marsh was in a trance, staring at Laura, whose cheek was swollen. He had just beaten the young lord's mother-in-law. What could he do? Stabbing himself? Breaking his leg?

Cold shivers ran down Marsh's back.

"I am so sorry. I didn't realize that she was your mother-in-law. I will slap myself for your forgiveness. If you don't stop me, I will never stop."

After saying this to Laura, Marsh raised his hands and constantly slapping himself.

SLAP, SLAP, SLAP!

Marsh used all his strength to slap himself with earnest.

Humphrey couldn't stop touch his swollen cheek and glancing at Maximilian. He couldn't figure out when Maximilian had such a great power.

Everyone present was surprised, because Marsh, who was fierce and arrogant, was subservient at this time.

Baron was more perplexed. He had never seen his boss so obedient.

Baron moved his fingers slightly, wondering whether he should slap himself as his boss did. If he kept on remaining silent, maybe he would be scolded afterward.

Laura and the others were also amazed. They looked at Marsh like a flock of dumb ducks, full of questioning marks in their minds.

Looking at Marsh, Laura didn't feel released, but bashful, and then she became angry. What Marsh did was for Maximilian. However, she was the one who always looked down on him.

Everyone knew she had ill-treated Maximilian.

Laura thought she was good at distinguishing whether a person was powerful or poor.

“Stop it!” Laura shouted at Marsh.

Marsh was dumbfounded. Although his face was already swollen, he still thought it wasn't enough.

In order to show his loyalty to the young lord, this punishment was far from enough.

“What? Is...is that enough? I can still do this until you are satisfied. You don't have to worry about me. I can afford the medical bill on my own. I sincerely apologize for you.” Marsh said this when glancing at Maximilian.

Maximilian was looking at Laura with a weird smile, as he knew why she was angry.

“I told you it’s enough. Just give us the refund and you can leave now!”

Laura was getting more and more angry.

“Are you fucking dumb, Baron? Ten times, refund them ten times as I mentioned. Now!” Marsh shouted.

“Yes, boss.”

Baron lowered his head and didn’t dare to look at Marsh. He immediately took out his phone and called the finance department to transfer the money.

Lucy and the others were so shocked that it took them a long time to react, and they all looked at Maximilian in surprise.

“Your son is so powerful. He can deal with the thing with just a few words. That's...that's awesome."

Lucy admired Maximilian hypocritically.

They used to treat Maximilian as a useless man, but now it was hard for them to change their mindset immediately when he was in the spotlight.

Therefore, Lucy could only admire him awkwardly after he successfully got their money back, ten times as their principles.

Humphrey's expression was complicated. He looked at Maximilian when frowned, "How did you...how did you do this? Why Mr. Lunn was so afraid of you?"

Humphrey was embarrassed. He didn't dare to come close to Maximilian, but hid behind a group of old women. He was waiting quietly to find out why Maximilian was so powerful.

Laura felt terrible when seeing everyone was showing their gratitude for Maximilian.

If it was solved by Humphrey, she must be pleased. However, it was Maximilian who did this successfully, which made her disgusted as if she had eaten a turd.

If Marsh paid with other things instead of money, she must leave without laying an eye on him. She felt so awkward in front of everyone.

The more powerful Maximilian was, the more terrible she felt.

“It is nothing. One of my classmates is good at socializing and he is in charge of the finance business in H city. And he happens to be the superior of Mr. Lunn, who was in charge of investment companies.”

Maximilian made up a lie. Suddenly, Lucy and the others looked at him with disdain.

“A loser will always be a loser, and nothing can change it. You can only bully people by flaunting other’s powerful connections.” Andy muttered.

Andy showed a complaining expression after saying this. Why Maximilian knew such a powerful classmate and showed off in front of everyone? He was much better than this loser. Why couldn’t he get to know such a classmate?

“What are you talking about?”

Maximilian looked at Andy coldly.

“I said you are just relying on others to show off your power! Without your classmate’s help, you are nothing but a loser. You’re a dirty mouse in the rotten mud!”

Andy was jealous of him.

“Oh, Mr. Lunn, just return their principle, and that is enough. They have no relation with me.” Maximilian said calmly.

“Ok, I will do as what you order.” Marsh was as obedient as a docile dog.

Andy froze. It was then he realized his mother-in-law’ money was actually depended on Maximilian.

Lucy was so anxious that she yelled at Maximilian, “What are you doing, loser? Do you know how much money it will be? Why didn’t you let him give it to me? That’s my compensation. Mine!”

Lucy, who thought she was going to get millions of dollars, was more that furious and shouted angrily at Maximilian.

Maximilian smiled and didn’t say a word, but he looked at her as if he was watching a clown show.

“Aunt, you have to understand one thing. Without Mr. Lee, you couldn’t even get a penny back. If you keep on being rude to Mr. Lee, you won’t even get your principle.”

Marsh was defending Maximilian like a loyal dog. As he stood by him with his swollen face and glared at Lucy.

Lucy suddenly figured out the situation. She was too impulsive to yell at Maximilian. She should slap her son-in-law to apologize for Maximilian.

“Andy, apologize to Mr. Lee.”

Lucy’s face was turning red because of anger and stared at Humphrey.
